TO THE ELECTORS OF THE TOWN OF NAPANEE

I have decided not to enter a three-cornered contest for the office of Mayor, believing that it is impossible for a selection by a majority of the voters in such an election.

It is my intention to retire temporarily from municipal politics. I take this opportunity of thanking those electors who have supported me so well in the past five elections for Council. I hope that my services have been satisfactory, and that I may at some future time be able to serve you.

J. M. SIMPSON.

J. E. Robinson—Nominated by G. H. Switzer and H. L. VanLuven.
Mr. Robinson being the only nominee, was declared elected.

PUBLIC MEETING

The Town Hall was filled to capacity on Monday night, and the usual enthusiasm prevailed. The nominations closed at 8.30, and a public meeting was held to give those nominated an opportunity to address the electors.

Mr. W. A. Grange acted as Chairman.

J. M. Simpson, Chairman of the Finance Committee, was the first speaker. He explained to the electors the financial standing of the town. Although last year's Council spent considerable in the way of improvements, its deficits were lower than last year's, and the debenture debt was taking care of itself through the revenue from the Utilities and other sources. Mr. Simpson also spoke on the coming election, and as he was the oldest member in the last year's Council, he asked for the support that the electors had given him in the past.

Arthur S. Kimmerly was called on next and, being Chairman of the Street Committee, gave an account of the expenditures incurred in repairing and building the streets of the town and connecting links. He also gave the electors a full account of the work that was done on several of the streets. He also stated that if elected he would serve the town in the best of his ability.

Mr. W. M. Howitt was called on next, and spoke of the elections in the past few years, and pointed out the prospects of Napanee. Mr. Howitt said if elected his slogan would be a better lighted front street and economy. He asked for the old support that he received in past years, and would serve the town in the best of his ability.

George J. Tustin was called on next, and thanked the electors for the support he was given in the past elections, and stated that the Reeveship needed a man in a position who could give his whole time to better the interests of the town.

C. A. Wiseman was called upon next, and spoke on the financial standing of the town, and his slogan, if elected, would be economy. As he was nominated for both Councillor and Reeve, he said he was undecided as to which position he would run for.

J. G. Daly was next to be called on, and being Chairman of the Town Property Committee, read an account of the expenditures of the town in regard to repairing its property. He stated that, if elected, he would serve the electors and ratepayers to the best of his ability.

Mr. W. H. Dunbar also spoke of the interest shown in the past election, thanked those who nominated him, and declined to run.

Messrs. E. O. Ungar, Chas. Loucks, Geo. Paul, H. Fitzpatrick and W. Perry also addressed the meeting.

EIGHT KILLED IN CAR AT CATARAQUI

Eight persons riding in a closed car bearing a Vermont license plate were instantly killed at the crossing at Cataraqui at 1.30 p.m. Monday, when the automobile was struck by a Canadian National Railways train. There were no survivors of the crash.

Eight people were killed, the license number on the car, which was a Chevrolet coach, was Vermont 25-520, while on the cylinder head of the car was the number 345,463.

The party were driving westward and the car was struck with a terrific impact, being carried for a considerable distance on the front of the engine, while the mutilated bodies of the victims were scattered along the right of way for about half a mile. Here and there were pieces of clothing and other belongings of the occupants of the car.

The train was eastbound from Toronto to Montreal, the engineer being J. Whelan.

The dead have been identified as Alexander Dupuis, Cornwall, Ontario, formerly of Proctor, Vermont, on his way to Perth where he was to take up residence; Edgar Rivet, Cornwall; Mrs. Dupuis and Mrs. Rivet, and two boys and two girls, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Dupuis.

Thomas Burtch, who lives in the vicinity of the crossing, was apparently the only eye-witness of the accident.

"I could see the train coming," said Mr. Burtch, "and I also saw the car. I noticed the driver of the car apparently put on the brakes and the car slowed down until it seemed to be going not more than fifteen miles an hour when the crash came."

Engineer Whelan stated that he did not see the car until the moment of the crash.

TOM WILSON.

Discoverer of Lake Louise Lives to See Monument to Himself.

Not long ago a sixty-ninth birthday was celebrated by an old-timer who knew Canada in the days when it was almost a different world from the world of to-day—and partly, an undiscovered one.

Tom Wilson, earliest white guide in the Canadian Rockies, whose relief-portrait in bronze adorns a huge boulder at Yoho Camp, B.C., is the discoverer of lovely Lake Louise. Explorer, railwayman and "honorary Indian" (he is honorary chief of two Indian tribes), he was present when the last spike was driven into the C.P.R. transcontinental line—a spike of gold, driven by Donald A. Smith, afterwards Lord Strathcona.

"After Mr. Smith had hit the spike the last tap," Tom Wilson tells, "there was a moment of impressive and embarrassing silence, but this strain was broken when the conductor of the westbound train shouted, 'All aboard for the Pacific!' This broke the tension and cheers followed."

His own account of the discovery of Lake Louise is engrossing.

"It happened in August, 1882," he tells. "I was prospecting alone with three canoes to carry my stuff in the British Columbian Rockies, picking my trail as I went. Late one afternoon I happened on an encampment of Indians whose lingo I spoke. They were friendly and I decided to pitch my tent near their tepees overnight. After supper as I sat with the Indians before the camp fire talking, I heard a distant rumbling which I took to be a snow-slide, and spoke about it to the chief. He told me it was from a mountain above a little lake. Once during the night I was awakened by another avalanche.

"In the morning, before taking the trail, I told the chief I would like to see that lake, and he volunteered to go with me. The distance was only about five miles from the encampment.

"I will never forget that morning when after dismounting and climbing to the rimrock, I stood looking down on this beautiful body of water, rippling with an emerald sheen in the morning sunshine. Then and there I christened it 'Emerald Lake.' Afterwards, however, it was renamed in honor of Princess Louise, wife of the Marquis of Lorne, who was then Governor-General of Canada."

TO BOOST PINE-PLANTING.

Ontario Plans to Plant 20,000,000 Trees Annually.

Undeveloped and potential forest wealth of the Province of Ontario is officially placed at $600,000,000, according to a statement made by Hon. William Finlayson, Minister of Lands and Forests, during the course of a lecture delivered before the Royal Canadian Institute, Toronto.

Mr. Finlayson gave some other figures which indicate that the forest industry in Ontario is easily in second place, agriculture being first, the industry in the aggregate a greater asset and producing a greater annual output.

The average return to industry from forest products of all kinds, manufactured and sold, said Mr. Finlayson, is $125,000,000 per annum. In addition the industry has an annual payroll of $25,000,000 and the Province of Ontario derives an annual revenue in fees and dues of $5,000,000.

"An industry with that much in capital investment and producing revenue to that extent," said the Minister, "is our second greatest source of wealth and therefore deserves great consideration.

"In the past we were so wealthy in timber that we have never made any attempt to formulate, until quite recently, a business policy that would conserve and foster our resource. On the other hand we cut and burnt good timber lavishly.

"Now, however, we are trying to get the people of the province interested in forest preservation.

"The means adopted to this end include distribution of young trees in old Ontario and replanting in new Ontario.

"Last year in old Ontario 10,000,000 young trees were distributed and planted and we hope in the course of the next five years to increase this annual new planting of pine to 20,000,000 trees.

"In New Ontario we are now trying to establish a forestry policy that will perpetuate the timber and pulpwood resources of the north."

DISCOVERER OF AUSTRALIA

Spanish Captain First Saw Fringe of Island Continent In 1606—Had Many Disappointments.

Through the courtesy of Dr. Rosenbach of New York, says an article in the London Times, we are able to impart interesting information regarding Pedro Fernandes de Quiros, the discoverer of Australia.

The documents which have recently come into Dr. Rosenbach's possession came to him from a private source in a South American city.

The document with which we are more particularly concerned is a commission given by Captain Pedro Fernandes de Quiros, in which he names the sailing masters, Manuel Noble and Gaspar de Gay, to command the ships San Pedro and San Pedro y San Pablo, about to proceed "on the discovery of the unknown austral regions of this South Sea, by order of the King, our Lord." The commission is dated Lima, July 27, 1605.

Quiros (or Quiroz) was born about 1565, and followed the life of a common sailor in his youth. Later he became a sea notary, and still later a pilot. He accompanied Mandana on his last expedition, and on the death of Mandana it fell to him to navigate the expedition to Manila, and later to Mexico.

While engaged in the voyage of discovery with Mandana he conceived the idea that a great southern continent existed, and, returning to Spain in 1595, after having made fruitle attempts in the Vice-regal Court at Lima, he was there able to convince the ruling powers of the feasibility of his plan. He went to Peru, where he arrived in April, 1605, with royal letters directing the viceroy to furnish him with ships and men.

He was ably seconded by the viceroy, Count de Monterey, and on December 21, 1605, set sail. It is related that on leaving the harbor of Callao his pilot came to him and asked him to lay down a course. Quiros asked the pilot in what direction they were then headed, and on the pilot answering him, Quiros told him "Let her go on as she is; God will take us somewhere."

The expedition discovered the Islands which fringe the coast of Australia, and, the two small ships becoming separated in a storm, Quiros returned to Mexico, while the other ship went to Manila. Quiros, landing in Mexico, was coldly received by the crown authorities, but succeeded to make his way to Spain, where he landed with only a few coppers in his pocket, which he gave to the first beggar he encountered.

His experiences and sufferings during the years which followed, when he tried to convince the royal authorities to fit out a new expedition, were very similar. In 1613 he secured the desired permission.

Instructions were given to the new vice-roy of Peru, Prantseo de Borja, to despatch him on his arrival in Peru. Quiros accompanied the viceroy and, being taken sick with fever, died in Panama in 161', thus possibly escaping many disappointments, of which he had already had so many. It will be seen, therefore, that while Captain Pedro Fernandes de Quiros came within sight of the great Australian continent, and actually discovered the outlying islands, he never reached the continent itself.

Unearth a Fiji Village.

An ancient underground village, complete with streets and houses, has been discovered near the storm-swept village of Skail, on the mainland, in the O-kneys.

Prof. V. Gordon Childe, of Edinburgh University, who has partly excavated the village, described the discovery as being unique in Western Europe.

Several huts have so far been unearthed, with paved floors, stone shelves, and even a bronze dagger of early Christian period lived and died.

The streets, roofed over with great stone slabs, are no more than four feet high, but a skeleton of a woman 5 feet 6 inches in height has been discovered.

Will War on Porpoises.

The Minister of Fisheries, Quebec, is planning a war of extermination against porpoises off the coast of Gaspe and along the north shore of the St. Lawrence. Its main feature will be the offering of inducements to fishermen to capture porpoises and the provision of facilities to try out their oil, salvage their skins and perhaps utilize the carcases as fertilizer.

TO RECOVER HELIUM.

Texan Laboratory Is the Coldest In the World.

The "coldest spot in the world," created through the engineering genius of the United States Bureau of Mines, will supply fuels and gas for giant dirigibles of the future with helium, says a Canadian Press despatch.

The new Government plant under construction at Soncy, eight miles west of Amarillo, Texas, will recover helium from the natural gas of the Amarillo field by cooling it to a temperature of 300 degrees below zero. At this temperature all the constituents of the natural gas, except the precious helium, are liquefied, permitting it to be drawn off as gas and compressed into tank cars for shipment.

Because of the extreme low temperatures necessary for the operation of the process adopted by the Bureau of Mines for its new plant, the laboratory has been called "the coldest spot in the world." At the low temperatures to be maintained there, atmospheric air will be liquid, carbon dioxide and mercury will be solids, lead and copper will take on the properties of steel, and rubber will be as brittle as glass. In comparison, such temperatures as are found at the North Pole would be unbearably hot.

The cost of production of helium in the new plant will be brought down to but a few cents a cubic foot, which is relatively cheap when compared with the rate of $2,000 per cubic foot for less than 100 cubic feet before the World War.

Helium has been looked upon by experts as the only safe gas with which airships can be inflated for flight.

The prized helium, announced to investigators by a bright yellow line when viewed through the spectroscope, was found in limited quantities in several smaller fields, but the greatest discovery so far is the Cliffside structure of the Amarillo field just west of Amarillo.

EAU DE COLOGNE.

Very Interesting and Romantic Story Told of This Toilet Water.

Behind the name of this well-known toilet water lies a very interesting and romantic story. It dates back to the time of Louis XV. of France, whose troops then occupied Cologne.

One day, the burgomaster received a present of perfumed water from a nun, who had been given the "recelpt" by a fair Italian woman, Paula Feminis, whom she had befriended till she died. It was the only thing the poor woman had to give, and, so she said, was the invention of her dying father, who had worked it out in prison. The sister made some of the "perfumed and healing water," and her present was so much approved of by the burgomaster, and the French general, who had been worrying him about the smells of the city, that it was first known as "eau de Paris," or "Paris water," and the nun was kept busy making it for the French. Many more thus earned was given to the poor, but after her death the perfume became a money-making one and the name was finally changed to eau de Cologne.

Some years after, however, an Italian, named Johann Maria Farina, arrived on the scene and claimed to be the inventor of "Cologne water." It was he who set up the shop, which has since become famous, but though the question as to the originator constantly crops up, the only thing that is certain is that the perfume was an Italian and not a German invention.

UNDERGROUND ROADS.

Interesting Scheme to Relieve Traffic Congestion in Paris.

The municipal council of Paris, France, has evolved an interesting scheme to relieve traffic congestion. Architects have been called on to present plans for a system of underground roads. There will be footspace for pedestrians and inset parallel tunnels containing moving carpets for the rapid transmission of goods from one part of the city to the other.

It is easier to think of electrically driven automobiles passing through such underground thoroughfares than to figure out how the fumes from hundreds of ordinary cars are to be carried off. Nevertheless, the idea even in its inception is worth noting and as a result of the practical study being given the question by the architects a valuable contribution to solving the problem of urban traffic should be made.—Christian Science Monitor.

Eighty-Nine Years Wed.

The oldest living married couple in the world is said to be found in Semlin, a little village in Serbia. Documentary evidence proves that Demetrina Filipovcic and his wife, Zivana, were already married and living in the village, where they had spent their childhood days, in 1839. Demetrina was then over twenty-one. He is now fully 110, and his wife is 107.

The couple have lived together for 89 years, and are now surrounded by numerous children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. Both are in excellent health and in the enjoyment of all their faculties.

Chiefs Still Rule.

In the more distant islands under the French administration at Tahiti natives retain the authority of their hereditary kings and chiefs.

To Lay Dust.

Calcium chloride is now used for laying dust on outdoor surfaces, such as polo grounds, tennis courts and aviation fields.

A Beaver's Lungs.

Beavers have lungs large enough to hold an air supply for several minutes, which enables them to swim under ice.

$100.00 In Prizes For Best Letters

The Dr. Williams Medicine Co. Offer Twenty-Eight Prizes in a Letter Writing Competition.

Some years ago the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., of Brockville, Ont., offered a series of prizes to residents of Ontario for the best letters describing benefit obtained through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Hundreds of letters were submitted in this competition, and yet there must have been thousands of other users of the pills who did not avail themselves of the opportunity to win a prize. To all these another letter-writing competition is offered. Thousands have benefited through the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills whose cases have not been reported. These will furnish the material for letters to be written in this contest. There is no demand upon the imagination; every letter must deal with facts and facts only.

THE PRIZES

The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., of Brockville, Ont., will award a prize of $25.00 for the best letter received on or before the 26th day of January, 1929, from residents of Ontario, on the subject: "Why I Recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." A prize of $15.00 will be awarded for the second best letter received; a prize of $10.00 for the third best letter, and 25 prizes of $2.00 each for the next best 25 letters.

THE CONDITIONS

The benefit derived from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills described in the letter may be in the writer's own case, or that of some one in the writer's home.

More than one case may be described in the letter, but every statement must be literally and absolutely true.

Every letter must be signed by the full name and correct address of the person sending it. If it describes the case of some person other than the writer of the letter, it must also be signed by the person whose case is described, as a guarantee of the truth of the statements made.

The writer of each letter must give the name and date of the paper in which he or she saw this announcement.

Fine writing will not win the prize unless you have a good case to describe. The strength of the recommendation and not the style of the letter will be the basis of the award.

The Dr. Williams Medicine Co. shall have the right to publish any letter entered in this contest, if they desire to do so, whether it wins a prize or not.

The contest will close on January 26th, 1929, and the prizes will be awarded as soon as possible thereafter. Do not delay. If you know a good case write your letter NOW. Observe the conditions carefully or your letter may be thrown out.

Address all letters as follows:

CRUEL OX GOAD.

French Villagers Are Throwing Them Away.

An interesting campaign has been pursued with good result's in the French newspaper Le Matin. It appears that in those parts of France where oxen are still used for many purposes a particularly unpleasant kind of goad has lingered through thoughtless habit. At the end of a piece of wood is a sharp nail and this is employed to prod the animals. Not only is it cruel and quite unnecessary, but it injures the hide, writes the Paris correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor.

M. Louis Forest has denounced the employment of such goads in a series of excellent articles. Reports are now coming in which show that in everything which characterizes the true fish and separates it from other classes, as reptiles, birds and mammals, the whale resembles the last and differs from the fish. It is as essentially a mammal as a cow or a horse, and simply resembles a fish externally because it is adapted to inhabit the same element; but it is no more so than a camel is than it is a bat (because adapted to pass a great part of its existence on the wing) nearly related to a bird."

UKRAINIANS' CLUB.

Society's Aim Is to Educate People to Become Canadian Citizens.

Ukrainians of Toron.o recently opened their own club house.

Formerly belonging to the Salvation Army, the building was acquired in 1927, and at a cost of $20,000 remodelled and redecorated so as to provide facilities for the culture' work of the organization, in addition to the usual appurtenances of a club the building contains an auditorium large enough to hold five hundred persons, a large stage at the rear end of it, a hall in the basement, a library and men's smoking and ladies' rooms.

The society was established in Toronto in 1917 and came here in 1925, and since tha' time has rented public halls for meetings, and its activities have been restricted for want of suitable accommodation.

There are about seven thousand Ukrainians in Toron.o and the society, a hundred strong, intends to promote their welfare by educational courses and, for the women, instruction in domestic work. The hall will be used as a school-room where adults will be taught English; they will be urged to use the library; and the girls and boys will be encouraged to join clubs.

Emphasis is laid on the importance of Ukrainians being naturalized, and it is one of the objects of the society to educate them to become Canadian citizens.

Another object is to foster the study of Ukrainian music and dancing, for which purpose a choir and orchestra were formed in 1923 and a performance of native dancing was given by eighty Ukrainians at the Canadian National Exhibition, a feature of which is the staging of the Ukrainian choir.

One Chance In 88 Billion.

Thousand-to-one shots have come off before now, but it took Argue, Manitoba, to produce the successful one-chance-in-a-million. says the writer of the "Western Round" column in the Manitoba Free Press. R. B. Somerville, of that village, the Kenora Examiner reports, shipped a carload of No. 2 Durum wheat in Canadian Pacific car No. 423,871. This was on September 20. Eleven days later, on October 1, more of the same farmer's wheat left the Argue sta ion in the same freight car, which had made its trip to the head of the lakes and returned like a homing pigeon to its former destination. Railway statisticians worked out the probability of such a hazard turning up. It worked out to one chance in thirty-six billion.

Tobacco Yield High.

Production of tobacco in 1928 totalled 40,976,572 pounds from 62,158 acres, as able to at census the Province of Ontario presented for 52,065,959 pounds from 82,654 acres; Quebec 8,245,225 pounds from 19,258 acres; and British Columbia 164,700 pounds from 116 acres.

CAMDEN VIII. W.M.S.

The December meeting of Camden VIII. W. M. S. was held at the home of Mrs. E. A. Hannah, with a very good attendance, considering the prevalence of grippe throughout the community.

The Devotional exercises were conducted by the President, Mrs. B. Close, after which Mrs. R. J. Wilson reading the leaflet "Life as a Stewardship". The interesting leaflet on Chapter IV. of "Through the Darkness", was read by Mrs. Thomas Wilson, and proved very interesting since we remember the visit of our Strathcona Rally of Miss Campbell of Chissamba, who is one of the missionaries referred to in the study.

The minutes of the last meeting, together with several communications, were read and discussed. The roll was called and offering received.

As this was the last meeting of the year, reports were then asked for. The Recording Secretary reported ten regular monthly meetings held during the year, with an average attendance of 23, and two special meetings. For our Easter thankoffering service the ladies of Enterprise W. M. S. kindly effectively presented a religious drama, entitled "The Challenge of the Cross". Our Autumn thankoffering service was held in Croydon Community Hall, on Sunday evening, Dec 2nd, at which our Past District Superintendent, Mrs. Wesley Wagar, delivered a very thoughtful and inspiring address. Special music was prepared for each of these services, and our society feels grateful to all those who assisted to make our meetings a success.

The Treasurer gave a report of our financial standing, and as we have not yet reached our allocation, it is earnestly hoped that each of our ladies will contribute another dollar, thus enabling us to report our allocation for 1928 raised and forwarded before the books close on January 10th.

The Supply committee reported a bale of clothing and bedding valued at $9.60 sent during the year.

Mrs. B. J. Wilson, in a few well chosen words, conveyed to Mrs. Almore Hyland the sincerest sympathy of the society in the sudden loss of her brother. After singing three verses of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again", the regular meeting was closed, and Mrs. Close then asked our Past President, Mrs. Wilson, to conduct the election of officers for 1929. The following were duly elected:

President—Mrs. Bashford Close.

1st Vice President—Mrs. Ross McGregor.

2nd Vice President—Mrs. R. J. Wilson.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Almore Hyland.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. Thomas Wilson.

Press Secretary—Mrs. Thomas Wilson.

Treasurer—Mrs. Samuel Doupe.

Assistant Treasurer — Mrs. Bert Lochhead.

Supply Committee—Mrs. W. J. Haggerty, Mrs. E. A. Hannah and Miss E. A. Reid.

Mite Box Secretary — Mrs. Adam Fingland and Mrs. H. King.

Associate Helpers Secretary — Mrs. R. J. Wilson.

Missionary Monthly Secretary—Mrs. Almore Hyland.

Strangers Secretary and Sick Committee—Mrs. T. Wilson, Mrs. Ross McGregor and Mrs. R. King.

Temperance Secretary—Mrs. Bashford Close.

Mrs. Samuel Doupe kindly invited the Society to meet at her home on January 3rd, for the first meeting of the new year. The Lord's Prayer in unison, brought the meeting to a close.

Annual Concert.

The annual concert which had to be postponed when the schools were closed before Christmas holidays, will be held in the Collegiate Gymnasium and Assembly Room on Thursday and Friday, January 3rd and 4th. School opens on Thursday, January 3rd, and those in charge of the different items on the program are hoping that every boy and girl will be present on the opening day. The parents and other friends of the school have always supported the annual concert in the past, and their patronage is looked for this year again in spite of the adverse conditions which the pupils have had to work.

Christmas Social Evening.

The annual social evening given by the pupils to the ex-pupils of the school was held on Thursday evening, 20th December, in the Assembly Room. The Social Committee had decorated the hall very tastefully, and the colour-ful hats and other novelties added to the effect. While the attendance was smaller than usual, everyone present enjoyed the evening, several remarking that it was the most successful in the history of these events. During the evening, the different universities represented gave their college yells, while all joined in that of the N.C.I. Refreshments were served by the girls of the school, after which dancing was resumed until nearly twelve o'clock, when the evening was brought to a close.

Athletics and Inter-School Activities.

Principal L. S. Beattie attended a meeting in Cobourg on Saturday, December 15th, at which a Central Ontario Secondary School Association was formed along the same lines as those of Eastern and Western Ontario, for the purpose of promoting and supervising inter-school activities in the schools between Napanee and Oshawa. BATTLE OF THE BROOK

Oliver G. Pike, F.Z.S., Tells How the Kingfisher Escaped From the Sparrow-Hawk.

Years ago, when I was a boy, a stream ran through beautiful and fertile meadows; on its banks were orchards, and along one side for several hundred yards there was a dark wood, in which, in the spring, we always heard the nightingale. Now a great suburb covers those once pleasant slopes, but the little brook still runs gaily on, and in places there are a few trees and clear green patches on its banks, writes Oliver G. Pike, F.Z.S., in Tit-Bits.

Birds, and in fact all wild creatures, cling to their old haunts as long as it is possible. The beautiful kingfisher manages to survive in this crowded suburb.

My experience of this bird is that, if undisturbed, he will enjoy the company of man. For as long as I can remember, a pair of kingfishers have made their nest on the banks of this brook every year. The water is not deep; the average depth would be about one foot, and in hot weather parts of it dry up altogether; but the kingfishers and their young manage to find sufficient food.

The young are always driven away in the autumn by their parents, to find fresh feeding grounds; for the kingfisher, like many of its feathered friends, is very jealous of its preserves. When the young are reared and able to look after themselves, there is no love shown them by their parents. They must clear off and shift for themselves.

One autumn morning the kingfisher was having a pleasant time. He had found a small pool containing plenty of fish. He had captured and swallowed four, and was sitting on a sheltered twig, preening his feathers. When satisfied with his toilet, he sat with his feathers ruffled, his eyes partly closed, no doubt waiting while his large meal digested. Now and again he nearly dozed right off, but it is never really safe to give up watching.

Suddenly he sat bolt upright, and like a flash disappeared under the water. He was only just in time, for as he left the twig a great shadow seemed to flash by. The little branch on which he had been sitting was broken right off, and that alone showed how near had been his end. Instantly the small bird was up and out of the water, flying like a bright green arrow down stream.

Now we could see the cause of this commotion. Coming down from the sky, that big shadow again appeared, and we saw that it was a sparrow-hawk on the lookout for his morning meal. He had seen the bright little bird resting on the branch and thought it an easy prey, but he soon found that his breakfast would be difficult to obtain. But he made another attempt and struck again.

The kingfisher timed his stroke to perfection, and at the right fraction of a second dived. The hawk, losing his balance, was carried on, and that gave the kingfisher time to double back. He passed us with the enemy close behind, but once more he dived, and the life was saved. On the third attempt he again came near us, and as he passed a few stones and loud shouts drove away the hawk, and our little friend disappeared round the bend of the brook.

AMUSED NATIVE CHIEFS.

Water Taps Proved Great Attraction to Africans.

The native African chiefs of Nairobi, who visited the camp of the Prince of Wales found much to interest and amuse them, but the water taps proved the greatest sources of attraction.

It was their delight to handle and fondle its bright brass tap, and to turn the water on and off, while their mystified dusky retainers stood around in an admiring circle.

When a mischievous young chief, unknowingly imitating the prank of thousands of small boys, passed his thumb against the opening of the tap he caused the water to squirt in a jet into the faces of those next to him, the joy of the onlookers knew no bounds.

Though ginger beer and fancy cakes tickled the palates of the chiefs, it remained for the camp water taps to send them into ecstacies of wonder.

RE COUNTY MINUTES

"I held it true, whate'er befall:—
I feel it when I sorrow most;
'Tis better to have loved and lost
Than never to have loved at all."

Tennyson's "In Memoriam" XXVII.

In the recent session of the County Council two motions were "loved and lost"—or at least they were "lost". Their obituary was published in full in last week's Napanee newspapers, with an exhortation to the public to demand "statements from their representatives" regarding their attitude toward said motions.

Both those motions I helped defeat for the following and other reasons:—

The first motion was an attempt to take the scalp of County Road Superintendent, Anderson. To blame him for all that was not quite satisfactory in County road matters in recent years, I did not think was just. He was acting under orders; he did what he was told to do. For twenty-two years he has been the servant of the County in the matter of roads; and one result of that long service is that Mr. Anderson has a most admirably intimate knowledge of every curve,—and well nigh of every rod of the County roads of Lennox and Addington. True the County has paid him to acquire that knowledge, none the less that knowledge is an asset of value to the County, of which asset it would have deprived itself had this motion carried. Experience is the best of teachers. It would not have been wise, in my opinion, for the County wantonly to throw away this acquired knowledge, which was always within call; nor would it have been British fair play for the Council to make a scapegoat of its Road Superintendent, and to kick him out into the wilderness, damnified, not only with his own shortcomings, but also with the sins of commission and omission of all the Special Commissions on Roads of recent years.

Altho' possibly not all the members of recent Road Committees could claim to be "experts", they were all men of mature years, and—more or less—sound judgment. And they had also an engineer from the Highways Department ever ready to give them expert counsel.

The contract system is producing something worth while to show for the money spent. If the man working for a contractor does not give a fair day's work for his wage, he soon loses a job, whether he and his friends have votes or not. Under the old abandoned methods, appropriations of the County road moneys were made to each local municipality, to be expended under the eye of the local Reeve. This way may have been popular with some; but it did not always build good roads. And even a suspicion of any attempt to return to it, would at once put in peril of cancellation the Highways Department's subsidy of fifty per cent. per annum.

Motion No. 2 starts off with a reference to what it calls an "Excessive County Rate". But we cannot have good roads without cost. In Ontario we have not as yet the old Egyptian method of producing "bricks without straw". As to having a Roads Committee of three rather than of five, that experiment this County tried in 1925. There was then at least not less dissatisfaction with the results, than in any year since.

For my part, I cannot approve of the plan of having the Roads Commission composed of men that are not members of the County Council. The members of a County Council have the honour—and it is an honour—to have been chosen by their fellow ratepayers. Enjoying that distinction, the Reeves and Deputies ought not to wriggle from under the responsible task-work involved. Suppose, for a moment, the man from the South and the man from the North, and the Warden compose the Special Committee on Roads —one a member of the Council and directly responsible to the ratepayers, and two who are neither. Are those who are not Reeves necessarily made of better clay? Are the Reeves to thrust their lawful hands into the ratepayers' pockets, take the levy therefrom and hand it to non-elected men, saying, "You lay out this wealth, we are not fit?" Then the Reeves could stand aside, with idle hands in their own pockets; and with whatever was being done, find fault—helplessly. Those whom the people honor by electing them to public office,—whether it be School Trustees, Reeves, or Members of Parliament,—should do the duties, as well as enjoy the honors. If they shirk their trust, the public can reach them at the polls. The Dominion Parliament, to relieve themselves of the pestering of office-seekers, abandon the duty of selecting the lesser officials upon a Civil Service Commission. And the Commissioners have been in a position repeatedly to throw monkey-wrenches into the working machinery of responsible Governments. The country has recently been agitated by a resultant scandal. A nameless penny-a-liner in a once great newspaper has had the effrontery blatantly to accuse a sworn Minister of the Crown of malfeasance, and of dishonesty. It seems to be the theory of some that all "politicians" are base and unfit; and that they grow worse with age. But it may be that Heaven will save us from the rule of Scribes and Pharisees.

LIGHT ON THE PAST.

Berbers Were Not the Original Inhabitants of Morocco.

From Rabat, Morocco, comes a report of the discovery of cuneiform writing dating back to the sixth century before the Christian era. The MSS. tending to show that the Assyrians or the Medes conquered and colonized Morocco, has been found. It is stated, by Capt. Odinot, a French explorer, twenty-two miles north of Fez, the Sultan's capital.

The inscriptions, which were discovered in subterranean galleries in the mountains, resemble in many respects the Babylonian writing found at Ur in Chaldea. Capt. Odinot believes that the inscriptions prove that the Berbers were not the original inhabitants of Morocco, but that the modern Moors are the descendants of the Assyrians, Medes and Persians and great war-like nations of Biblical times.

PICTURE PUZZLED CRITICS.

Artist Asked That Picture Be Hung Right Side Up.

Modernistic and futuristic art sometimes puzzles even the art critics.

For three weeks "The Fossil Hunter," an example of modern art by Edwin Dickinson of Provincetown, Mass., hung in a choice position at the international exhibition of art at Pittsburgh, Pa., while thousands wondered what the maze of black and blue-print, as it appeared to the untutored eye, was intended to be.

Officials connected with the exhibition, as well as the critics, apparently understood the picture perfectly, so no one asked questions.

But imagine the embarrassment of the officials and critics when Dickinson wired a demand that his picture be hung right side up instead of sideways.

RICHMOND.

For Reeve—Chas. Anderson, Wesley Kimmerly, Stewart Mowers, Alf. McCutcheon, Robt. W. Paul, M. H. Sexsmith, Dr. A. C. Tummon.

For Councillors—Adam Scott, Fred Jackson, Elijah A. McQuaig, Donald Fitzpatrick, Milton Young, Harry Oliver, Milford Dupre, W. A McLeod, Claude Aikenbrack, Jas. Haggerty, Stanley Sexsmith, H. S. Windover, Christie Hartin, Harold McCaul, Walter File, Wellington Craig, Joseph Tate, Capt. A. S. Hudson, Fred Armstrong, John Belton, Stewart Mowers, M. H. Sexsmith.

The following resolution was moved by Mr. Stanley Sexsmith, seconded by Capt. Hughson, that whereas our esteemed Reeve and Warden, A. C. Tummon, 1928, has intimated his desire to be relieved of the duties of Reeve of the Township for 1929, and whereas, as in the opinion of this nomination meeting in session assembled that it would be a severe loss to Richmond Township for the said A. C. Tummon to retire at the present time; therefore be it resolved that this nomination meeting, in session assembled, do hereby request A. C. Tummon to remain in office for another year, and that those nominated for the office of Reeve be respectfully requested to drop out of the running, giving same to A. C. Tummon by proclamation. The vote was taken, which was almost unanimous.

ODESSA

The Christmas tree and entertainment held in the Town Hall last Friday night by the United Church Sunday School was a great success. It had a fair attendance and the concert was fine. The tree was well filled with gifts for the children and grown-ups. This annual event is always looked forward to with a great deal of interest.—The many friends of Mrs. E. O. Clark will be pleased to know that she is well and spending the winter with her son, Gladwin Clark, and Mrs. Clark, in Huntington, West Virginia. Since she left, nearly three years ago, she has spent part of the time with her son, Reginald Clark, Chicago. — Last Saturday about noon the home of Herbert Hegadorn narrowly escaped being burned. When the odor of smoke alarmed the family they looked outside and discovered smoke coming through the shingles near the chimney. It was thought that the fire had been there some time smouldering, as the fires had been running rather low during the warm weather. Considerable damage was done in cutting the roof and the siding. Only for sufficient help and prompt action the home would undoubtedly have been destroyed.—School closed last Friday and the teachers left for their respective homes: Miss Jacques, Woodstock; Mr. Cordick, Perth; Miss Leatherland, Inverary, and Miss Anglin, Kingston. — Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Swift and daughter, Catherine, spent Christmas with Mrs. Swift's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gleason, Almonte.—Mrs. Eddie Clark has returned from spending the past year with her daughter, Mrs. Reid, at Chilco, B.C. She spent the week-end with Mrs. Stanley Sproule, and after visiting relatives and friends expects to move her furniture to Toronto, where she will make her home. Her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Clark, has a position there and will be with her.—Mrs. Charley Timmerman has returned from visiting her brother, Samuel Winter, Yarker. Their brother, Fred Winter, Minneapolis, was also there, and visited with them. Mr. Winter left to spend Christmas with his daughter in New York. — Mr. Joseph Sproule is recovering from his resent illness at the home of his nephew, Stanley Sproule. — Mrs. George Oldman, Napanee, visited her sister, Mrs. Wm. Sales, last Thursday. — Miss Gladys Topliff, Pickering, is spending her holidays with her father, W. E. Topliff.—Miss Zita Kenyan, Toronto, spent the week-end and Christmas at B. L. King's.—Fred Sproule, Toronto, spent Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Sproule.—Mr. and Mrs. David Marshall and son, Graham, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brant, Toronto, also Mrs. Edith Mathews, Rochester, spent the week-end and Christmas with Mrs. T. C. Graham. — Charley Hamm, barrister and solicitor, Toronto, spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Hamm.—Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Aylesworth, Madoc, were also their recent guests.—Mr. and Mrs. Charley Bell and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Sharpe, Bath, were guests of the former's daughter, Mrs. Wesley Sharpe, at the Dominion, for Christmas Day. — Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCormac, of St. Catharines, are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Bond.

Columbia, a Great Icefield

The extension of 980 square miles made to Jasper national park, Alberta, in 1927, brought the Columbia icefield within national park boundaries. This giant icefield, one hundred and twenty-five miles in extent, which is the mother of more than a score of glaciers, is surrounded by a galaxy of giant peaks and represents the very climax of the scenic and alpine features of the Rockies.

OBITUARY

Dr. Chas. E. Wilson.

Contracting influenza following a prolonged illness, Dr. Charles E. Wilson, formerly of Napanee, died at the residence of his brother, John F. Wilson, 471 St. Clarens Avenue, Toronto, on Friday, Dec. 28th, 1928, in his 51st year. The deceased was born in Napanee, was the youngest son of the late Uriah Wilson, a former M.P. for East Hastings. He was educated in the public schools and at Toronto University. At the outbreak of the Great War he was very active in service and went overseas with the medical corps. He contracted asthma and other ailments with the result that he had been an invalid since his return to Canada. He was well known in military and fraternal circles, and held high rank in the Masonic Order. At one period he was chief medical officer of the Ancient Order of Foresters. Three brothers survive, John F. Wilson, Toronto; James A. Wilson and U. M. Wilson, County Crown Attorney, Napanee.

OBITUARY

Arthur Percy Scott.

On the morning of December 3rd, 1928, there passed away at his home on the Seventh Concession of Ernestown, Arthur Percy Scott, third son of the late George and Mary Scott, in his forty-eighth year.

The deceased had been ill for several months, and although at times his sufferings were great, he bore them bravely and patiently. During his long illness he was lovingly cared for by his wife and family. Medical skill and loving hands did all in their power to relieve him of his sufferings until he was called to the Great Beyond.

The late Mr. Scott was a man widely known and respected. He was a great lover of sport, especially baseball, and during his young manhood he was considered an exceptionally good amateur player.

With the exception of a short time spent in Western Canada, he had resided in the neighborhood all his life.

Those left to mourn a kind and loving husband and father are his sorrowing widow, formerly Miss Edna Robinson, one son, Bert, and five daughters, Helen, Mary, Dorothy, Verna and Leah, all at home. He is also survived by two brothers, Geo. on the homestead, and Harry, of Neilburg, Sask., and two sisters, Lillie, of Vancouver, B.C., and Mrs. Geo. Whitely, of Montreal.

The funeral, which was held at his home on Dec. 5th, was attended by a large concourse of friends and neighbours who gathered to pay their last respects to one who by his neighbourly acts had endeared himself to them. The service was conducted by his Pastor, Rev. T. H. P. Anderson, who preached a very impressive sermon. At the close of the service the remains were taken to Cataraqui for interment. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful and included a pillow from Mrs. Jas. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Hamilton; wreaths from Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Whitely and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Scott; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. England, Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. W. Whan and Mr. and Mrs. H. Weiwmark, Smiths Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Allenbrack; Ladies' Aid, Camden East; Mission Circle, Camden East; Trustees and S. S. No. 22, Ernestown; sprays, Mr. Geo. Riley and family; Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Hyland and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Peters; Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Woodcock, Harrowsmith; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Higgs, Napanee.

Again the schoolboy outgrows his clothes. Publishing circles report an expenditure by the Family Herald and Weekly Star of close upon a quarter million dollars for huge new printing presses to cope with their fast-growing subscription list. At their present low subscription rate of three years for $2 one is prompted to ask "How long before they outgrow that one?"

NAPANEE BEAVER

NORSE NAMES IN SCOTLAND.

Possible to Tell From Which Parts Emigration Came.

Prof. Breazer, of Oslo University, in a lecture at Edinburgh University, commented on the striking fact that the majority of the place-names in the Shetlands and Orkneys were of Norse character. A scrutiny of the old Norse farm names revealed certain types of names which had been most used in the Shetlands, Orkneys, Caithness and the Hebrides. Names in Norway were not only chronological, but also indicative of the social position held by the families in Norway. Further, their geographical limit was sharply defined, and for that reason it was possible to conclude from which parts of Norway the emigration was greatest.

This proved to have been the southwestern coasts of Norway (Aader, Rogaland), and the northwestern (More). In the Aader coast districts in recent years a number of farm sites which had been examined proved to have belonged to an older Iron Age, and seemed to have been deserted in the seventh or eighth centuries. They were usually situated in districts which were no longer cultivated. In all probability a number of these remains were relics of the emigrants.

BRAW LADDIES.

Toronto Only City In British Empire That Has Two Kilted Regiments.

There are probably only a very few people in Canada who know that Toronto can boast of a very unique distinction in its military establishment. Although very often seen by the inhabitants it will be news to most people that it is the only city in the British Empire that has two separate kilted regiments, writes Jas. Kinneburgh in the Toronto Star.

Not even in Scotland can such be seen for although in that old land there are instances of separate battalions of the same regiment in one city yet two separate regiments are unknown in any one city.

Each regiment is affiliated with a home unit, the 48th Highlanders having the Gordon Highlanders and the Toronto Scottish having the London Scottish as the parent establishment.

Using the St. Lawrence.

Ocean steamship passengers using the St. Lawrence route in 1928 numbered approximately 30,000 more than in the year before, with every sign showing a gain. A total of 2,189 passengers crossed the Atlantic last season between this country and European ports, as compared with 168,563 for the 1927 season, owing an increase of 29,606 for 928. The westbound figures are more than double the eastbound carryings, being 126,142, as compared with 115,637 last season, while those outbound numbered 62,046, compared with 52,926.

A GOLDEN "WHITE ELEPHANT"

Canadian National Railway Valued at $1,600,000,000.

Sir Henry's first year in charge of the Canadian National Railway was the year 1922, says the Montreal Herald. Even in that first year the system showed a small profit on operating account. Here are the surpluses during his term of office:

Year	Operation Surplus
1922	$ 2,889,731
1923	20,430,649
1924	17,244,251
1925	22,264,414
1926	46,483,192
1927	42,112,976
1928 (estimated)	50,000,000
Total	$211,423,193

These figures, however, do not tell the whole story. In 1920, with a deficit of over $20,000,000, the system was a veritable white elephant. Every passenger carried and every pound of freight moved cost so much to the taxpayers above the charge imposed. Two years later, in 1922, however, when the earnings approached $3,000,000, the system had attained a value of $60,000,000, basing this estimate upon money being worth 5 per cent. On the same basis of valuation the system is worth today $1,600,000,000.

Verily Canada's white elephant has become a golden pachyderm.

BUSINESS PORT ONCE MORE.

Harbor of Queensborough, England, Active After Ten Years' Idleness.

The harbor of Queensborough, which has been lying derelict since the war, when it was used as a submarine base, has been reopened as a commercial port, says the London Daily Mail.

Its charter dates from the reign of Edward III., and it is claimed that from the manufacturers' and shippers' point of view it is the cheapest port in the United Kingdom.

Under the charter and subsequent parliamentary acts it enjoys immunity from the dues on shipping and charges levied under the Port of London Act.

The maximum charge for a vessel receiving or delivering a cargo or part of a cargo within the harbor is eight shillings.

Sir Hugh Bell, the ironmaster and colliery owner, addressed an informal assembly of business and railway chiefs at the port. He visualized the time when Queensborough would be able to deal with 1,000-ton cargoes in twenty minutes or less.

HAS UNIQUE PENSION

Founded Because King Charles Hid In Oak Owned by Recipient's Ancestor.

A pension, which dates back nearly 300 years is still being paid to Dr. Francis E. Wilker, associate professor of English of the University of British Columbia. The story of how £9 5s. 6d. is paid to him as a share of the token of gratitude from King Charles II. of England for a rescue from the Roundheads, was recently told by Dr. Walker, writes a Vancouver correspondent.

In the year 1651, it appears, Mrs. Elizabeth Pendrell Yale, from whom Dr. Walker inherits his pension, lived with her five brothers on the Pendrell property at Boscobel in the Midlands. She was unmarried at this time, living a quiet life and little expecting that she would be the means of peforming a service to the King of England.

Charles was at this time trying to make his way to France, to escape the Roundheads, who were scouring the country for him. He had been carrying on a warfare against Cromwell and had been defeated at the battle of Worcester. While the Roundheads searched the country for him, Charles came to the Pendrell home. Elizabeth, who had never seen the "King" before, was naturally excited. When he told her why he was there and that he must be hidden from his pursuers, she called her five brothers and they discussed the question of hiding Charles in some dark corner of the house.

This, however, was deemed an unwise move as they knew the Roundheads would look in the house first. At last a hiding place was decided upon. In the garden there was an old oak tree with a heavy trunk and unusually thick branches. Here it was decided was a place where "King" climbed into the tree and there he remained for a whole day while the pursuers passed and repassed beneath. After dark he climbed down and disappeared into the night.

Charles did not forget the kindness of Elizabeth and her brothers and when he became King of England in 1660 he awarded them all annuities in perpetuity. Elizabeth's share was £50 and during the years which have elapsed since, this amount has become distributed among the succeeding members of the family, so that Dr. Walker's share is quite small. This money the doctor spends on books.

Dr. Walker recently returned from a visit to his ancestors' home in England. Here he was given two little green shoots taken from what is said to be the tree in which Charles II. hid.

BUY LESS U.S. COAL

Canada No Longer Entirely Dependent on U.S. Anthracite—Using Coke, British Anthracite, Etc.

The great change that has overtaken the anthracite market in this country is described in the second progress report of the Dominion Fuel Board. The report covers the period from 1922 to 1928. In 1922 the people of Ontario and Quebec were worried as to whether they could get enough fuel to keep them warm during the winter. Now the fuel companies are fighting for business. The report says:

"The disturbing conditions in 1922 were the extent to which the people of Ontario and Quebec had come to depend upon United States anthracite for domestic purposes; the general belief that this was the only available fuel suitable for this purpose; the limited reserve available in the United States, estimates as low as 35 years' supply having been made; the growing cost of the fuel; the interruption to supplies that had been experienced in 1902-3, at various times during the war and again in 1922, and the consideration by Congress of legislation that would place an embargo on the output of anthracite.

"In 1928 an altered situation exists," says the report. "There is now a superabundance of both foreign and native fuels for all purposes. Coke, British anthracite, low volatile coals, and fuel oil are strong competitors of American anthracite in the household fuel trade, and the range of Alberta and Maritime coals is being extended through special provisions to Ontario and Quebec. Though still using large quantities of American anthracite, we are no longer entirely dependent on this fuel, the producers of which are now finding here to retain a declining market, as they are in their own country."

A comparative table of the fuels used in domestic heating in Ontario and Quebec in the two years under review follows:

Imports of American anthracite: 1922, 4,753,873 tons; 1927, 3,073,032 tons.

Imports of British anthracite: 1922, 207,282; 1927, 720,203.

Coke consumer for domestic heating: 1923, 270,000; 1927, 812,000.

Low volatile coals: 1923, 180,000; 1927,386,000.

After describing the investigations undertaken by the Fuel Board, the preface says:

"Although the use of alternative fuels has contributed to a reduced dependence upon American coals, the problem of Canada's complete fuel independence is still unsolved. The geographic handicap consequent on the location of our largest markets far from our great producing fields, but in close proximity to those of the United States, is one difficult to overcome.

"The Dominion Fuel Board cannot assume as its function the formulation of a national fuel policy, for this is a prerogative of Government, and any such policy, so far as it concerns complete fuel independence, must be determined largely by questions of national expediency, based, however, upon the most complete and accurate knowledge of all technical and economic facts obtainable. The board is endeavoring to secure and correlate these facts.

"The most important point still to be determined is the cost of transporting coal to Ontario and Quebec from Alberta and the Maritime Provinces, and to the Board of Railway Commissioners has been assigned the duty of determining this point by actual test.

"All the available technical data having been secured, the economic aspect of the problem has to be faced, and on this aspect great diversity of opinion has prevailed.

"Manifestly, coal cannot be hauled 2,000 miles from Alberta to Ontario at a cost lower than that of carrying it 500 miles to the same market from Pennsylvania and Virginia. Nevertheless, it has been maintained that the advantages to Canada of increased use of her transportation facilities, increased output of her mines, and consequent greater employment of labor, would more than compensate for the difference in transportation costs. The problem is one on which economists hold strongly divergent views, and on which the board is seeking further light."

"HURRY UP, GEORGE."

Quaint Little Story Is Being Told of King George.

A quaint little story is being told concerning an incident that occurred at the Duke of Devonshire's Yorkshire home.

The King frequently stays there on his way to Balmoral, and on one such occasion recently he encountered the duke's little granddaughter, Arabella Mackintosh, as he went down to breakfast one morning.

He stopped to speak to her and asked her what her name was.

"Arabella," she said simply, adding: "What is yours?"

"George," replied the King.

"Well, George, you had better hurry down to breakfast," said little Arabella, "cos granny will give you no end of a scolding if you're late."

Britain's Many Beacons.

The demands made by aviators are turning Great Britain into a land of lighthouses, each lighthouse flashing out its Morse signal for the benefit of aircraft flying by night or through fog. Pilots will carry code books enabling them to note their positions from the signals of the beacons.

The Neon light at Croydon has been so successful that similar beacons are to be placed at intervals along the main air routes, the landing grounds having the more powerful lights.

SERVICE AND ABILITY

Canada's Minister to Japan Example of Capable Business Man Giving Talents to His Country.

George Washington Stephens, Canada's Minister to Japan, is with Joseph Flavelle and Vincent Massey, the outstanding example among Canadian citizens of a successful business man who is ready and willing to devote his time to public service, says the Toronto Star Weekly.

Mr. Stephens, perhaps, is best known as a Montreal business man who for several years was chairman of the Montreal Harbor Commission. This was his first public service and he discharged it with such ability that the Canadian Government has never permitted him, since then, to return to St. James street. He is least known, perhaps, as a linguist and student of foreign affairs. Yet he speaks English, French, German, Italian and Spanish fluently—which is remarkable in a business man—and keeps abreast of public opinion in all these countries. Perhaps it was this accomplishment, coupled with his reputation as a business administrator, that caused his selection for the difficult post of chairman of the Saar Commission.

The Saar is a little valley taken, temporarily at least, from Germany by the Allies. Its population is German and French. Stephens found that all his arts of conciliation were needed to hold the scales evenly between them, for although technically he was only the chairman of the commission of three, yet, in fact, he was virtually in sole command. Of the other commissioners, one was French and the other German and they seldom were known to agree upon any question affecting the administration of the valley.

Five years in the Saar greatly enhanced Stephens' reputation and, by the same token, greatly improved the economic position of the little valley he had administered. Stephens returned home to Canada for a rest and perhaps a resumption of business. Premier King, however, had other plans for him and now he is to enter upon a career of diplomacy which may well involve great services to his country.

He goes to Tokio as the first Canadian Minister and he will not only be given charge over the entire trade of Canada with the Far East, including China, the Malay Peninsula and India, but he will also have to deal with a problem which has frequently threatened the peace of the world and which has all but dotted the statesmanship of the Empire.

His great task is to carry out the Oriental exclusion policy of this Dominion, without offending the national pride of the Japanese, Chinese and the natives of India, and thus sowing the seeds of racial hatred and future wars. It is a task which will require all his talent and ability, but it is confidently expected in Ottawa that he will meet with the same success that he has done in the past.

BRITISH GUIANA FOR SALE

Crown Ownership Simplifies Matter to Prospective Vast Resources.

As yet the nation of Venezuela has thought very little in terms of industry, or forest products. The American Tree Association says that her largest cities, especially the capital, Caracas, compile a vast quantities has been the result of the coast and alone navigable the valuable species have been cut out, but a wall is by interior remains. So far that people has, Venezuela has got so far not about planning any thing for the future or restricting in any way the nation's timber exploits. So far the spirits friendly to forests have prevented those forces of accessibility, sparse population, climate and fear of disease and the white man out of the tropical areas.

But because of the great natural resources possessed by Venezuela, widespread exploitation of her forests is bound to come, and when it does come Venezuela will learn, as other nations have learned, that it is much easier to destroy her forests than to reforest them.

Much more happily situated in regard to her forestry future is the colony of British Guiana. This, the only British colony in South America, resembles the Orinoco "section of Venezuela in that a great part of its area is covered with a thick, dense, unbroken carpet of timber growth, but, unlike Venezuela, she has already begun to think in terms of making her timber wealth perpetual. Fortunately all of British Guiana's forests are under the ownership of the crown, and the colony has no problem of private ownership or private exploitation. It is unhampered in putting into effect whatever forest policy may seem most wise.

According to several years ago British Guiana established a Department of Forestry, now under the leadership of a British forester, with wide experience in India and Australia. The foresters there have gone about their problem in a plan-wise and logical way, realizing that these forests represent one of the most valuable resources the colony possesses. They have mapped off these sections which give promise of having early commercial importance, and each year they are sending crews back to estimate the amount and kind of merchantable timber they contain.

British Guiana is fortunate, too, in having large areas of valuable timber growing directly along the banks of streams that are navigable by ocean-going vessel. This is going to mean that much of the timber will be loaded directly on ships for export without expensive handling and rehandling.

CAMDEN EAST W.M.S.

The regular meeting of Camden East W. M. S. met at the home of Mrs. George Black, on December 12th, with our President presiding. Hymn 204 opened the meeting, followed by the repeating of the Apostles' Creed in unison. Another hymn was sung, followed by a prayer for "The Unspeakable Gift", led by Mrs. Dickson.

Roll was called, ten members responding. Minutes of last meeting were read and adopted. Meeting was then open for business. It being the day for the election of officers, it was moved and seconded that a ballot be cast to leave all the old officers in place for the coming year. A few other matters of business was discussed. Collection was taken amounting to $1.12. A reading was given entitled "The Call of Nation", also a reading "Why I Want to Join the Missionary Society".

A familiar hymn was sung, followed by "God Save Our Gracious King", remembering him in his illness.

Prayer by Mrs. Sherlock closed the meeting. Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Stewart, on January 9th.

ANNUAL MEETING OF SELBY W. M. S.

The December meeting opened with the President in the chair. Hymn 85 was sung and a number of members led in prayer. The devotional leader was taken up by Mrs. Dudgeon. She read for us the Christmas lesson, and spoke on "How Does the World Recognize a Christian?" Minutes were read and adopted. Business followed. Mr. Foley was to be consulted as to having a Sunday night service for the W. M. S. before the year was up, at which the Treasurer was asked to report on the year's work.

Mrs. Foley being in charge of the election of officers, first called for reports from the retiring officers, which were most satisfactory.

Mrs. McLeod was asked to look after the Mission Band dues, and the Press Reporter was urged to report frequently from our Auxiliary.

The selecting of a Programme Committee was placed in the hands of Mrs. W. J. Winter.

The Systematic Givings were given charge of Mrs. S. Pringle, and the Missionary Basket, in care of Mrs. Amey.

WEDDING BELLS

Lamont—McCabe.

A wedding of interest to many Napanee people took place in Belleville, at Christ Church, on December 18th, 1923, by Rev. W. C. Clark, when May Lamont, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lamont, of Yarker, was united in marriage to Gordon McCabe, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. McCabe, South Napanee. The bride's going away gown was tan crepe with hat and shoes to match. On their return they will make their home in South Napanee.

OBITUARY

John VanAlstyne.

One of Napanee's oldest residents, in the person of Mr. John B. VanAlstyne, passed away on New Years Day, after a brief illness of pneumonia. Deceased, who was nearly 88 years of age, was unusually smart and active for a man of his age.

The funeral was held from his late residence, Thomas St., on Thursday afternoon, conducted by the Rev. A. J. Wilson, owing to the illness of his Pastor, Rev. W. P. Woodger. Six grandsons of deceased acted as pallbearers. Interment took place in Riverside cemetery.

There are left to mourn three sons and two daughters, Charlie, of Napanee; R. W. and Harold, of St. Catharines; Mrs. Fred Shepherd and Mrs. Walter Cousins, of Buffalo.

Mrs. John Shangraw.

Death once more visited the community of Harrowsmith, and has taken from the home of John Shangraw, his wife, Annie Mary, who passed away on Sunday, Dec. 30th, after an illness of five days, due to pneumonia. Deceased was a highly respected resident of her community, and was of a kind and cheerful disposition, a good friend and neighbour, and a devoted wife and mother. She was always ready to give a helping hand in time of need, and sickness, and will be greatly missed by the community. Mrs. Shangraw was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Fitzgerald, Centreville, and was born in Centreville, June 7th, 1903, and passed to rest at the age of 25 years and 6 months.

She was married to John Shangraw on February 9th, 1927. She is survived by her husband and a daughter, Naydene Grace, age 5 years, a son, Kenneth Lavern, age 2 years; a brother, George Fitzgerald, of Sydenham. The funeral service was largely attended at the home, and was conducted by Rev. Mr. Mackenzie, of Yarker, on January 1st. Among those who attended the funeral were Mr. J. Fitzgerald, Mr. F. Fitzgerald and Mr. W. Fitzgerald, all of Madoc, and Mr. J. Davy, of Ponty Pool. The beautiful floral tributes included wreaths from Mr. Shangraw and children and George Fitzgerald, Sydenham, and a wreath from Mr. Milton and Mr. Oliver Shangraw, and Mrs. E. Whitty, Sydenham; a wreath from the L.O.F. and a wreath from the L.O.L. (532) of Colebrook; a bouquet from Mrs. W. Shangraw, of Colebrook, and Mrs. S. Freeman, of Yarker. The pall bearers were Earl Warner, Carmen Ashley, Wm. H. Kerr, Stanley Babcock, John Brown, Stanley Freeman.

ODESSA

Among the Christmas visitors were Douglas Bell, Montreal, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bell; Mrs. Morrison, Deseronto, with her daughter, Mrs. Morden Vrooman.

Miss Marian Cairns, of Wyandotte, Michigan, spent the week end and Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cairns.

Albert Judge, Burford, spent a few days with his mother, Mrs. Jas. Judge.

Mr. and Mrs. George Freeman, of Sydenham, spent Thursday with the former's sister, Mrs. Lewis Snider.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cunningham have returned from spending the week end and Christmas with relatives in Morrisburg.

Mrs. Ralph Benjamin left last Friday to spend a couple of months with her sister, Mrs. Arthur Briden, Minneapolis.

A very happy Christmas Day was spent at the home of Mr. H. J. Smith, when there was a re-union of the Watts family. Mrs. Watts had her three daughters, Mrs. H. J. Smith, Mrs. W. Jenkins and Mrs. J. Ostinger, Kingston, and two sons, Walter, of Elm Creek, Manitoba, and Charley, of Rochester. Mr. Ostinger and son, Russell, and daughter, Miss Bessie, were also present from Kingston, Mrs. Walter Watts and daughter, Doris, Elm Creek, and Mrs. Charley Watts, Rochester. It has been a great many years since the family has had the great pleasure of being together at their old home on this occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Watts left Wednesday for their Manitoba home, intending to visit the former's nephew, Carl Ecclestone and family, Hamilton, en route.

The nomination for the Municipal Council held in the Town Hall on Monday, was very interesting, and the large hall was well filled by men from all over the Township.

At the school meeting Robert Cairns was again elected for trustee. The staff of trustees are: Nelson Smith, Stanley Sproule and Robert Cairns.

STRATHCONA

We are having some fine winter weather at time of writing, and the Christmas has almost disappeared from this vicinity. Almost every home was visited.—Miss Muriel Wilson, of Napanee, spent the holiday season at her home here.—Mr. R. Jordan, of 97 Hazelton Ave., Toronto, has been visiting at Frank Tompkin's.—The Public School re-opened on Wednesday with Miss McGuire and Miss Fluke, of Newburgh, on deck.—Mr. George Miller, of Campbellford, has been visiting with Mr. Harold Hoare. — The young folk of the village have been skating on the old reservoir. — Mr. Gordon Baker has been on the sick list for the last couple of weeks.—Mrs. McKinnon, Napanee, visited recently at Mr. Robt. McCarvey's.—The January meeting of the Mission Circle will be held at Mr. Wilfred Wilson's, on Friday evening, at 8 o'clock. All members and visitors cordially invited. — Mr. Will Shirrey went through an operation for appendicitis on Monday, and at time of writing is doing as well as can be expected.—Mrs. B. Finder spent a few days recently at Moscow. — Sunday School next Sunday at 1.30 p.m. Don't forget the books.

For a tight cough we recommend Rexall Bronchial Syrup. Pleasant and safe to take. 50c. a large bottle, at Wallace's Drug Store.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

THOSE ELECTED IN NAPANEE WERE:—MAYOR, W. M. HOWITT; REEVE, GEO. J. TUSTIN; COUNCILLORS, CHAS. N. LOUCKS, JOHN G. DALY, GEO. W. PAUL, J. H. FITZPATRICK, E. O. UNGER, C. A. WISEMAN.

The largest vote in the history of the town was polled at the Municipal Election in Napanee on Monday. The weather was very unfavorable, the morning being stormy and blustery, and the roads were very slippery. Keen interest was shown in the contest for the Mayoralty, which in no small measure accounted for the large vote. Mayor-elect Howitt defeated Mr. Kimmerly by 23, the plurality showing in no small degree the closeness of the election. Charles N. Loucks headed the poll with 789 votes, the largest number ever given a candidate for Councillor in the town. Mr. Daly, who had to carry the new Town Hall on his shoulders, emerged second on the list with 697 votes, and is to be congratulated on the manner in which the electorate stood behind him, as he received 40 more votes this year than in 1928.

Following are the returns:

V. Cowling	142	85	67	66	62	422
Wallace B. Perry	39	76	60	85	94	354

The first six Councillors are elected.

Mr. W. A. Grange, our genial Town Clerk, officiated at the compilation of the returns, and after that duty had been completed he called upon the candidates to address the electors.

Mayor-elect Howitt, who was called upon first to address the electors, said he had very little to say. The election had been conducted in a fair and square manner. He hoped to get the support of the citizens generally in conducting the business of the Council during the ensuing year. He did not expect any reduction in taxes this year, and closed by thanking the citizens for the vote given him.

Mr. Kimmerly said it was his lot to stay at home. The election had been a good scrap, and he would assist Mayor Howitt in any way he could. He also thanked ex-Councillor Simpson for dropping out of the race and giving him a show. He had no grievance, and thanked the electors for the support given him.

Councillor Loucks could not express his thanks and appreciation in words for the magnificent vote given him. He hoped his work during the year would prove worthy of the confidence reposed in him.

Councillor Daly appreciated very much the large vote given him, and he promised to put forth his best efforts during the year in the interests of the taxpayers and the welfare of the town. He said we could not expect much reduction in taxes this year. He closed by wishing the citizens generally the Compliments of the Season.

Councillor Paul had been before the electors in the past in the capacity of a defeated candidate. He was proud of the splendid vote given him, and gave all the credit to his friends for the support they gave him during the contest. He would do his very best to safeguard and further the interests of the town.

Councillor Fitzpatrick was very grateful for the confidence reposed in him by his friends and the electors generally. He would do just as he had promised, and trusted that his work in the Council during the year would not be a disappointment to his supporters.

Councillor Ungar was very proud of his election. While his stock had gone down on the market since a year ago, still he was thankful to all who supported him. He strongly invited the ratepayers to attend the meetings of the Council during the coming year.

Councillor Wiseman thanked those who voted for him, but stated that it goes to show that a candidate should have an organization, which he did not have. He had done a little canvassing in his own ward, but outside of that the vote given him was unsolicited personally.

The defeated candidates, Messrs. Cowling, Toppings and Perry, were not present when called upon to address the electors.

Ex-Councillor Simpson was present and briefly addressed the gathering. He had been asked by several why he had dropped out of the Mayoralty contest, as he had declared at the nomination meeting that he would be a candidate. After giving the matter due consideration the next day he felt that a representative could not be chosen wisely in a three-cornered fight, and therefore had dropped out. He said he would be a candidate for the Mayoralty for 1930.

Reeve-elect Tustin thanked the electors very much for giving him the high honor of representing them as Reeve during the coming year by acclamation, and said he would endeavour to look after the welfare of the town in a businesslike manner.

The meeting closed by all standing and singing "God Save Our King".

BERNICE MILLIGAN.

BRITISH LIFE-SAVERS.

Coasts of Old Country Now Boast Fleet of 207 Lifeboats.

"It is extraordinary how little the average man in the street knows about the wonderful life-saving service which is going on every day, and has been going on every day for 104 years, and has been responsible for the rescue of over 61,600 lives," writes George T. Shee, secretary of the Royal National Lifeboat Institution, in the London Daily News.

"Our coast is the busiest coast in the world, and it is a dangerous coast. The Royal National Lifeboat Institution was established in 1824. At that time there were on the coast some 30 lifeboats, the fruit of private benevolence, without permanent support, public or private, the crews without organization or training or reward.

"To-day the coast is guarded by 207 lifeboats, of which 69 are motor lifeboats, the latest product of the development of science in boat building and engine construction; 87 are self-righting lifeboats, and 51 are of the non-self-righting type, of her the Watson or the Liverpool kind, each boat being selected by the crew after careful examination by a deputation appointed by them.

"Something like 2,000 men are trained to man these boats, and another 2,000 men—and women—are trained to launch them. They are volunteers, but the Institution rewards them for every launch in which they take part, whether it is successful or not.

"It compensates them for injury, and if they lose their lives it provides pensions for the widows and dependent children and relatives.

"It has been the steady aim and policy of the Council tee of Management to give the men who risk their lives in this noble service the best instruments of life-saving that science can devise and money can supply, and the public has ever been generous in its support of an undertaking in which the very best qualities of our race are expressed and expressed, not in one supreme effort, as in war, but in a constant year-to-year, day-and-night output of heroism, endurance and humanity.

"The lifeboatmen of Britain," concludes this writer, "have given back to Britain thousands of lives, and have given an example of trained, organized and heroic effort in the service of humanity which has been and is, a model to every lifeboat service in the world."

GOLFING ON A VOLCANO.

Sport Enthusiasts Construct Courses In Peculiar Places.

Enthusiasm for sport has impelled lighthouse-keepers to construct golf courses on two of British Isles' islets. One is on Bardsey Island, where the three keepers get enjoyment and health from playing over its nine holes.

The roof of a London parish hall has a cricket pitch, a tennis court, goal-posts for football and hockey, and also a bandstand, while a world-famous West-end store has a miniature golf course on its roof.

Situated on top of Adelaide House, London, is an eighteen-hole putting green 220 feet above a street level. In close proximity is a large school with a cricket pitch on its roof.

Honolulu possesses one of the world's queerest sports grounds in the Hole-in-One Golf Club, with its nineteenth hole tee on the edge of a live volcano; while an equally strange golf course is that at Jinja, on Lake Victoria, over which the Prince of Wales recently played. The hippopotamus is such a frequent visitor that balls may be removed from its tracks without penalty.

A nine-hole putting course in a New York recreation ground, with bunkers and hazards consisting of broken drain-pipes, old gas fittings, and so on, takes some beating for queerness.

MATCH-MAKING MARVEL.

Machine Turns Out Twenty-Four Million Matches Per Shift.

A new match-making machine capable of turning out twenty-four million matches per shift is to be introduced into England. In one chain of operations a green, unseasoned log of box or aspen straight from the forest is transformed within an hour into matches, counted in boxes with printed covers, and packed in cases ready for shipment.

Each match is square, with advertisements on two sides—printed as part of the productive process.

One million match-books per day are produced by another machine. Strips of veneer are fed automatically into the machine, which cuts, prints, and turns out the matches in books lined under an advertising cover. There is an advertisement on each match.

Home-Made Hooked Mats.

The purchase of home-made hooked mats and rugs from rural districts in the Maritime Provinces, and the sale of the same to summer visitors, has become quite an industry. Several Digby mat buyers recently returned from a buying trip with upward of 2,300 mats and rugs from Prince Edward Island, while another gathered 562 from the rural parts of New Brunswick. The Nova Scotia industry runs a close second, and annually, most of them going to United States points. Some of these mats are worth hundreds of dollars.

"SPRUCING UP" SUBJECTS

Afghan King Sets Example of Sartorial Perfection and Gives Chiefs New Raiment.

The first thing that made the Afghans sit up and take notice, following King Amanullah's return from his long visit to Europe, was his summons to the head men of all the villages. The chiefs, obeying, came to Kabul in their best clothes, consisting of flowing robes, turbans, rope shoes and baggy red trousers. There were 700 of these picturesque fellows gathered in the royal courtyard when Amanullah appeared on a balcony, immaculate to dark gray frock coat, white vest, grey striped trousers, white spats, patent leather shoes, yellow gloves, cane and grey top hat, says the Baltimore Sun.

The tribesmen stared in amazement at their monarch, who stared back with the smile of a man who knows that he knows what's what. The chiefs, the whole 700 of them, were then directed to file past what corresponds in Afghanistan to the army quartermaster's department and here they found the real surprise of the party.

Each giant Afghan was handed first a frock coat, then trousers, hat, boots, etc.; in fact, a duplicate of their king's gorgeous outfit. And as he gathered his stuff together, like a rookie getting his first issue, the chief was marched off to where 100 tailors waited ready to fit and cut and baste the clothes.

And while they were waiting for the final fits along came a greater surprise. Every manjack of them was ordered to repair to a barber and come back clean shaven; this little touch showing that the king had had his eye on Americans as well as Englishmen, when deciding to dress up his children. Finally, washed and shaved and dressed up, the chiefs and were given a three-day party intermingled with Rotarian-like discussions on improving the kingdom along "service" lines. The police had a busy time keeping the frock-coated warriors from sitting down on their haunches on the grass and in the streets and thereby spoiling the new finery.

The next thrill the visitors were treated to was a sight of their women-folk—and everybody else's women-folk—running around town by the king's orders, unveiled. But take it all in all, they had a great time—until the king took their clothes away at the conclusion of the party.

As the monarch explained to his disappointed subjects, this make-up would have to be kept in the best of condition. Otherwise, with all the good intentions in the world, a village headman was quite likely to go out goat herding or head hunting or some similar Afghan sport in his new clothes and get them all spoiled. Eventually, promised Amanullah, horse-business suits, golf suits and overalls would be distributed for purposes of work and play. For the present the ceremonial clothes would be kept in Kabul so that they would be in shape for "big doings" when the chiefs came into town for that purpose.

TRADE WITH RUSSIA.

Has Fallen Off $1,000,000 In Last Twelve Months.

Canada's trade with Russia has fallen off $1,000,000 in the last twelve months, but there is no likelihood at present that diplomatic relations will be reopened with the Soviet, the Toronto Star learns on good authority.

There have been no further negotiations along this line since Canada followed Great Britain's lead in May, 1927, and broke off relations with Russia.

F. C. T. O'Hara, Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce, expresses the opinion that the breaking of relations had not affected the Dominion's trade with Russia very much but could not state why the Dominion's sales to Russia had gone down by $1,000,000.

There are Russian consular agents in Canada, the Star was told by the officer of the external Affairs Department as itrade matters are dealt with by Russian office in New York. There is nothing to prevent Canadians and Russian trading with each other, and it is reported that Russia made heavy purchase of wheat in Canada not very long ago.

BUGE COPPER PLANT.

Rhodesian Company to Spend Twenty Million Dollars.

The Roan Antelope Copper Company in northern Rhodesia is embarking on a huge construction and development program involving an expenditure of no less than £4,000,000 during the next two or three years. When completed, this company will take high rank in the list of the biggest copper producers in the world.

A crushing and treatment plant of 5,000 tons per day capacity, together with a large smelter, is now being designed in London and construction work is to start immediately. The grade of the ore that the mine is estimated at from 3.5 per cent. upward, so that when the new scheme is in swing the copper output annum should be not less than 50,000 tons of blister yielding a net profit of nearly one million pounds.

Influenza's Victims

Left Weak, Miserable and a Prey to Disease in Many Forms.

One of the most treacherous diseases afflicting the people of Canada during the winter months is influenza. It almost invariably ends with a complication of troubles. Its victims suffer with alternate fevers and chills, headaches and backaches. It leaves them an easy prey to bronchitis and pneumonia. Indeed, the deadly after effects of influenza may leave the victim a chronic invalid. You can avoid influenze entirely by keeping the blood rich and red by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. If you have not done this and the disease attacks you, you can banish its deadly after effects through the use of this great blood-building, nerve-restoring tonic.

Here is proof of the power of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills over this trouble. Mr. P. H. McMullen, Belleville, Ont., says :—"Some years ago, following a severe attack of influenza, I was left in such a weak condition that my friends thought I would not get better. I developed nervous indigestion, and my blood got thin and watery. In this weakened condition I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and these did what all medicine had failed to do — brought me back to health and strength. I can honestly say I think them the best blood builder and nerve tonic known, and I shall always praise them."

You can get the pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

REDUCE BUFFALO HERD AT ELK ISLAND PARK

Another Instance of Canada's Success in Bringing Back the Buffalo

A gratifying feature of Canada's adventure in bringing back the buffalo is the way in which the different herds continue to multiply and to expand beyond the capacity of their once ample grazing ranges. The case of the main herd at Wainwright, Alberta, in which there was an increase from about 700 head to 17,000 head in eighteen years has often been cited. This year 1,088 young buffalo were sent from Wainwright to the Wood Buffalo park near Fort Smith, Northwest Territories, and of the herd at Elk Island park, two hundred animals have been slaughtered and their carcasses and hides disposed of commercially. That two hundred Buffalo could be disposed of without wiping out the entire herd at Elk Island park will surprise most people who have not closely followed this experiment. Nor is this surprise to be wondered at. When the original herd was purchased from Michael Pablo, speedy action had to be taken to receive them. Seventy miles of stout wire fencing, such as encloses the Buffalo park at Wainwright, could not be erected overnight and the first shipment received from Montana was placed in Elk Island park, a fenced 4,000 acre enclosure, fifty-nine square miles in area, about 37 miles northeast of Edmonton. As soon as the fencing at Wainwright was completed the shipment was moved to the Buffalo park but about fifty head which could not readily be rounded up were left at Elk Island to roam with the deer, wapiti, and other animals there. These few animals throve like those at Wainwright and this summer a survey showed that the fifty buffalo had increased to about eight hundred. This number, considering the other animals in the park, was felt to be beyond the grazing capacity of the area and the disposal of two hundred was deemed advisable.

Unexpectedly keen interest has been shown by citizens in the fact that nutritious buffalo meat in limited quantities and a few choice robes and heads are from time to time available but attention is chiefly centered in the success achieved in bringing back the buffalo in the prairie regions and in the establishment of a great herd in the far north where the one-time lord of the plains will play a large part in the development of Northern Canada.

OBITUARY

Little Master Glen Mowbray.

We extend the deepest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Mowbray, in the loss of their infant son, Glen Oliver, age 4 months, who died on Wednesday, December 26th, of double pneumonia and pleurisy. Besides his sorrowing parents, the babe leaves one sister, Miss Oretta, and three brothers, Masters Delbert, Joe and Stanley, also his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Shaver, at home, and Mrs. Ida MacDonald, Point Anne. The funeral, which took place from the parents' home on Friday, Dec. 28th, at 10 a.m., was largely attended by sympathetic friends and neighbours, interment taking place in Riverview cemetery, Napanee. Rev. Joe Pope officiated. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. The pall-bearers were Masters Dorland Empey, Jimmy Shapley, Clinton Toppings and Wilfred O'Sullivan.

BAY CIRCUIT WEST W. M. S.

The December meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of Bay Circuit West was held at the home of Mrs. C. B. Parks on the second Wednesday of the month.

The meeting opened with the Christmas hymn, "Joy to the World." Mrs. Newton Parks read from Isaiah and Luke of the prophesy and fulfillment of the birth of Christ. The President, Mrs. J. B. Gould, gave the Society $25.00, making herself a Life Member. Rev. Mr. Beckel expressed the grateful appreciation of the Society to Mrs. Gould for her generous gift and untiring services during the past year. Mrs. A. C. Parks was elected President and Mrs. Gould Vice President, with all other officers re-elected.

Rev. Mr. Beckel then gave a very interesting talk on the 3rd chapter of "Drums in the Darkness".

After the close of the meeting Mrs. C. B. Parks gave to the members copies of the Gospels in large type for the older people, and attractive bindings for children. One or more copies were gladly accepted by each member.

THE NORTH AMERICAN DATUM — ITS MEANING

Harmony Promotes Efficiency in Triangulation of North American Continent.

The measurement of the continent of North America is not merely a scientific mensuration of so much territory, but provides a striking object-lesson on the amity of nations. In the highly technical work of geodetic measurement, it is obvious that in North America for the highest results in economy and efficiency one basis or system should be used by the countries interested, namely, Canada, the United States, and Mexico; and it is mainly owing to Canada's attitude that this desirable end has been brought about.

The United States had adopted as the basis for their geodetic work the formula of Clarke, the English mathematician, and had fixed upon Meade's Ranch in Kansas as the initial point which most fully approached ideal conditions from a geodetic point of view. It was quite within the rights and abilities of the Dominion to establish a datum of her own, but, as individual systems would lead inevitably to discrepancies at the international boundaries, the Geodetic Survey of Canada decided to accept the datum established by the United States as described above. Had this not been done, North America would have been in the same plight as Europe, where the selection of a different datum by each nation has rendered any work in connection with comprehensive continental surveys enormously difficult and exceedingly and unjustifiably expensive.

Therefore the term North American Datum is used to designate the condition of harmony with resultant efficiency in the scheme of triangulation by means of which the continent is measured. Thus, it may be said that triangulation is based on the North American Datum when it conforms to Clarke's calculations of the size and shape of the earth, and is joined to or linked up with all the triangulation which emanates from Meade's Ranch By this arrangement the officers of the geodetic surveys of Canada, the United States, and Mexico co-ordinate their activities with resultant advantages not only in time and labour but also in international goodwill.

HOW HONEY MAY BE USED

(Experimental Farms Note)

Honey, once the world's only source of sugar, is still the best and purest of Nature's sweets. Not only is honey a sweet, but it is also a valuable energy producing food, and as such, deserves a place on the daily menu of every Canadian home. It is especially good for children because it satisfies their natural craving for sweets and also supplies the necessary energy for their play or work.

Honey is the nectar of flowers, gathered and modified by the honey bee. Approximately it consists of 85 per cent invert sugars, 18 per cent water, small quantities of mineral matter and volatile oils. Honey varies in color and flavour according to its source, but all is of equal value as a sweet or food. All Canadian honey granulates sooner or later, depending upon the proportions of the invert sugars present. Unfortunately, granulation is often taken as a sign of adulteration. This, however, is not the case, as granulation indicates purity and does not in any way affect the quality of the honey.

Honey may be used in many ways, the most common way being as a spread or for dessert. Tons of honey are now being used in the manufacture of bread, cakes, cookies, etc., and many a housewife has found that when honey is used instead of sugar in the making of such articles, a better flavour is produced, and that the product will keep fresh and moist for a much longer period. Honey mixed with peanut butter or cheese also makes an excellent filling for sandwiches, and as a sweetener for cereals, fruit drinks, ice cream, etc., it is unsurpassed. Honey can also be used instead of sugar for preserving fruit and in the making of candies, and will impart a flavour all its own. In almost any recipe that calls for the use of sugar, honey may be wholly or partially substituted and the palatability and food value of the product increased by so doing.

Dominion Apiarist.

Honey Ousts Glycerine?

Belief that honey will take the place of glycerine in the industrial world has been expressed by S. H. Kelty, assistant professor of entomology at Michigan State College. Kelty based his prediction on the fact that honey and by-products of the hive already are being used in the manufacture of dozens of articles.

"People are beginning to realize more and more the value of honey," Kelty said. "Its value lies not only in its usefulness as a food, but in other qualities that are just becoming known. Manufacturers of shaving cream, rubber goods and lotions have substituted honey for glycerine in their products with good success."

"Money matters," runs a headline in a contemporary. We quite agree — it does.

NUMBER "3011"

Second of the Two Largest Passenger Locomotives In the British Empire Is Ready.

No. "3101" is the second of the largest passenger locomotive in the British Empire to be turned out by the Angus shops within two months. Recently, twenty-five hundred men, all of whom had made some contribution to her design or construction stopped and looked up from their tools as the woman was christened. For them, as they took as much pride in her, each one of them, as did the office boys and stenographers who swarmed the platform of Windsor Station, Montreal, when "3100" made her appearance.

The largest passenger locomotive in the British Empire! In speaking to the layman, those gentlemen who have been so busy are very apt to draw attention to this feature. Size is impressive. One might rather too, when Canadian Pacific officers and employees speak with enthusiasm and justifiable pride of them, that a war between the locomotive departments of the railways of the world had just been terminated by an overwhelming victory for the Canadian organization.

This is hardly the case. As a matter of fact, while the size is a consideration in locomotive design, it is by no means the primary consideration, and while the mechanical departments of all railways watch with considerable interest the development of other lines, the problems of the different roads with respect to power requirements are so different as to leave no ground for comparisons of efficiency. The "3100's" are the largest passenger locomotives in the British Empire, but to the designers and the operating departments of the road, this is incidental. What is more important is the fact that they have succeeding in producing a locomotive capable of efficiently carrying out what is required of it under all conditions, at the same time keeping within the weight and other limitations placed upon it by road-bed gauge and other conditions. They have broken ground in several features, which have required the courage of their convictions, and theirs is the gratification of the successful pioneer.

While the design and construction of the "3100" was no one man's job, to one man fell the job of reducing the requirements to a final analysis, coalescing the many ideas and forming one which would embody the whole. "My job," he says as he looks with satisfaction and affection at the photograph on the wall.

C. H. Temple, whose final and crowning achievement after forty-four years of service with the company was the creation of this mechanical giant, sat in his office on the tenth floor of Windsor Station. He was Chief of Motive Power and Rolling Stock. The Angus plant was five miles away. He visited the plant occasionally so that the various parts conformed to his ideas and he received daily detailed reports on construction progress, but until the moment of the great thrill, when the turning of the great wheels for the first time proved that the combination of a hundred theories was workable, his main vision, one which pierced the steel shell, was through blueprints and drawings through logarithms and tables which featured the thousandth part of an inch and observed a unit of this and that which were vitally interesting to him but not very comprehensive to the lay mind.

MEN DO WOMEN'S WORK

Bandsmen of Africa Have Their Peculiar Customs.

Like most African tribes, the Barotse have their peculiar customs. Some of these customs are referred to by A. W. Stirke, Native commissioner, Northern Rhodesia, in his recently published book "Barotseland."

The Barotse "Kotla," or Parliament, it may be stated without making any invidious comparisons, "sits daily." There is also the "Chief's Privy Council, the "Sikalo," which sits in two shifts, by night and by day. Privacy is carried almost to extremes, since "conversation is held entirely in whispers."

In the Parliament the "junior member of each division speaks first," and the "Ngambela," or Prime Minister, winds up the debate. Arguments is signified by clapping hands. When a matter is settled "word is sent to the chief, who sends word back by the same man as to his approval or otherwise." In the event of disapproval the Prime Minister "goes to the chief and explains of matter and urges his acceptance of the ruling of the Kotla." It all sounds like our own parliamentary manoeuvres in the time of, say, George III.

"Triplets," says Mr. Stirke, "are very rare and are considered bad. One is killed and two left alive, the reason being that the mother has only two breasts."

The usual division of labor between the sexes is reversed among the Alunda tribe. "These people will often admit they are the slaves to their womenfolk," says Mr. Stirke. "The average Lunda woman's daily work is fishing, which they do by wading along the shallow streams, pushing a large wicker basket in front of them. The Alunda men use the hoe as well as the axe and tend their gardens, grind meal and porridge, plaster their huts, and do all the work that is generally considered as fit only for African tribes to be women's work only."

If very close relatives in Barotseland greet in addition to shaking and kissing hands, they "spray each other with spittle." Men seldom eat with their wives, as a man so doing is considered greedy, on the principle that being stronger than his wife he will partake the largest and best portions."

A remarkable fact about the Barotse language is that it is to-day an "almost artificially manufactured tongue which had come into existence during the last fifty years—Sikolo's. The real Sirezi or Silyei language—which the original Bechwana invaders of a hundred years ago brought with them—is, Mr. Stirke says, "gradually dying out, and to-day is known to but a few of the blood royal, sons of indunas (officers of state) and the like."

ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL

Third In Direct Descent to be an Expert in the Field of Speech.

Bell and telephone and the radio loud speaker of to-day are links the stalwart figure of Alexander Graham Bell, the Scottish-Canadian whose genius laid the foundations for the perfection of these two wonderful electrical instruments.

In her recent book, "Alexander Graham Bell," Catherine Mackenzie tells us that Alexander Graham Bell "inherited the telephone. Indeed, the chapters relating to his father, Alexander Melville Bell, and his grandfather, Alexander Bell, give new proofs to those who need them of the basic truth of the theories of heredity." Alexander Graham Bell was third in direct descent to be "an expert in the field of speech."

Around Alexander Melville Bell's theory of "visible speech" George Bernard Shaw wrote his play "Pygmalion." And in 1860 Melville Bell and his brother David published "Bell's Standard Elocutionist," which in all years since "has never had a rival" and remains "the last word on the subject." From the time he was a very little boy, Alexander Graham Bell listened eagerly to his father's and grandfather's theories, which indirectly were to bring about his invention of the telephone; the invention also of the photophone and the modern phonographic record.

Mr. Bell was one of the first believers in aerial flight and carried on many experiments in it even before the year 1896, concentrating later on a device for getting a flying machine off the water and bringing it back to water again, which had the ultimate development in the American seaplane. Most of these experiments were made at Beinn Bhreagh, the manorial Bell home in Cape Breton.

And in 1908 he became a self-appointed committee of one to advance aviation in America. "And advance it he did." He even believed and prophesied that airplanes would one day wing across the Atlantic! But this, to his contemporaries generally, was simply another proof, to be accepted regretfully, of the illusive tendencies of advanced age.

In the story of Alexander Graham Bell's work in behalf of the deaf ("which indeed should have its own book"), viewpoints of his life are opened which many readers of this biography will not have found before. Miss Mackenzie dispiates the popular fallacy that it was on account of the deafness of his wife—heroine, as he the hero, of a romance than which in all fiction is none more charming, and few as life-long—that Mr. Bell invented the telephone. However, his wife's and his mother's deafness, she thinks, could not have been without influence. The reader will agree with her that the work of Alexander Graham Bell, "that every child who is deaf should have full opportunity of being educated on the pure oral system to speak and to read on lips," should make the name famous as an educator "even if he had done nothing else."

CHAPLAIN OF TRAMPS.

Minister Has "Who's Who" of English Weary Willies.

Rev. J. P. Bacon Phillips, of Burgess Hill, near Brighton, a former rector of Crowhurst, Sussex, is the self-appointed chaplain of the tramps of the Brighton road, writes a correspondent of the London Mail.

He knows them all and has compiled a "Who's Who" of the road with Cuckfield and Brighton. Mr. Bacon Phillips, who is 72 years of age, told me:

"I have gone out on to the high road daily for several years to look for and help these tramps, and my experience has shown me that 80 per cent. of them are well worth assisting.

"I do not preach to them. I chat and smile with them and console them. At a wayside coffee stall I always insist that they have a cup of tea, and for pipe-smokers I carry a supply of cherry-wood pipes and some tobacco.

"I keep a careful note of names, descriptions and general particulars of every tramp. Some are never seen again, others frequently appear in my notebooks.

"The young tramp of to-day is a nuisance. The roads are too full of men of from 18 to 20 years of age."

First Fountain-Pen.

Who invented the fountain-pen? Lewis Waterman was a late comer in the field when he applied for a patent in 1883.

Excavations in an Egyptian tomb dating back more than four thousand years, according to the journal of the Patent Office Society, revealed an early form of fountain-pen. The primitive instrument consisted of a section of reed of the diameter of a lead pencil, about three inches in length and mounted on a long piece of copper.

The nib of the pen was cut away to a fine point like an ordinary quill pen. The narrow tube of the reed served to hold in reserve a small quantity of the writing fluid, whatever it may have been.

Making Rail Smoother.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has just completed tests, with success, of a process for increasing the smoothness of railway travel and at the same time lengthening the life of the rails. By means of this process the rail is hollow ground, the rails connect are fused by electric arc welding, which melts the rail to a depth of one-fifth of an inch and fuses thereon a deposit of 5 per cent. nickel steel, which is almost 50 per cent. harder than the rail itself.

Sheep-Raising In Quebec.

The growing interest in sheep-raising among the farmers of Quebec is leading to the establishment of many new flocks.

There are now 18,000 bison on reserves in Canada.

A Problem For Young Mothers

Stomach troubles cause most of the distress of babyhood and childhood, and are the greatest problem that a young mother has to solve. The treatment for these digestive disturbances that make baby peevish continually and disturb his sleep must be quick and effective, and, above all, perfectly safe.

The absolutely safe treatment for disturbances of the stomach and bowels is found in Baby's Own Tablets. Thousands of mothers have had their problem solved through them. They are guaranteed to be free from all injurious drugs and cannot possibly do harm to even the youngest baby, and always do good.

Baby's Own Tablets regulate the stomach and bowels; banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and promote that health-giving sleep which is so necessary to the welfare of the baby or growing child. The Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25c. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

RAIN FALL IN 1928 WAS OVER AVERAGE

Year Just Closed Was Second Wettest in Last 39 Years.

The year 1928 was the second wettest year in the past 39 years, according to a statement issued by F. W. Baker, official weather observer at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. Total precipitation was 42.88 inches, which was only exceeded in 1893, when 42.94 inches was recorded. The yearly average for Ottawa is 34.60.

During the past six years, this average has always been exceeded. Just last year was exceptionally wet and similar characteristics were observed in July, August, September and October. The total rainfall for these months was 25.42 inches, as compared with the average for these months of 15.79 inches.

DENBIGH

(For last week.)

The two weeks' special meetings in the Matawatchan United Church, on the Denbigh Mission field, were most successful. Over forty young and old, made definite decision and united with the church. Rev. P. A. Scott, minister in charge, was ably assisted by Rev. H. C. and Mrs. Brown, Evangelists, Newboro', who rendered most effective services. The powerful appealing sermons were heart-searching and convincing, while the solos and duets of the Evangelists, accompanied by the violin in the hands of Mr. Brown, contributed much to the success. Mr. and Mrs. Brown are to be commended for their safe, sane and effective methods, and were heartily invited to return in the near future. All praise and glory rightly belongs to God, the giver of very good and perfect gift. The meetings will not soon be forgotten.—At the recent Official Board meeting, Rev. and Mrs. Scott were given a hearty invitation to return for the seventh year.—The Ladies' Aid, organized a year ago, reported a very successful year at their December meeting, having raised upwards of three hundred dollars. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—President, Mrs. P. A. Scott, re-elected. Vice President, Mrs. Chas. Stein. Secretary, Mrs. K. G. Adams; Treasurer, Mrs. Anna Lane. They decided to hold a box social Valentine night.—The mild weather of the past few days has about destroyed the previous excellent sleighing. Autos are now running as usual.—Dr. Adams is a very busy man these days, owing to the Flu epidemic at Matawatchan. Church services have been withdrawn.—The Christmas Trees and entertainments in the United and Lutheran Churches were most enjoyable and successful.—Mrs. Anna Lane entertained for Christmas dinner Rev. P. A. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Petzold and Masters Eathel and Gerold, also Mrs. John, Sr.—Mr. Aubrey Lane, student at North Bay, is spending the holidays with his mother, Mrs. Anna Lane.—Miss Horne, teacher of the Denbigh School, has been engaged and Miss Kennedy has been engaged to fill her place.—Miss Katie Belle Stuart, teacher of Denbigh Public school, is spending her vacation at her home in Douglas.—Rev. P. A. and Mrs. Scott were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rodgers, for Christmas supper.—Mrs. Geo. Smith has removed from the Reddick house to Mr. E. W. Petzold's house, formerly the home of Mr. and Mrs. Petzold, Sr.—Born, on Nov. 28th, to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. John, Jr., a son.—Born, on Nov. 29th, to Mr. and Mrs. William Warlick, a daughter. — Miss Stuart provided an excellent program for last day of school, which was much enjoyed by the visitors. Mrs. Dr. Adams acted as chairman. The scholars were made happy by the many presents of Miss Stuart, who had the Christmas tree loaded. She also provided a delicious lunch for all the scholars after the programme. Miss Stuart is an excellent teacher and much appreciated.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Benjamin Badgley.

There passed to her eternal rest on Friday morning, Dec. 28th, one of Marlbank's most esteemed residents, in the person of Mrs. Benjamin Badgley, in her 55th year. The deceased had been in failing health for a number of years. Mr. Badgley predeceased. She leaves to mourn her loss, besides her sorrowing husband, two sons, Ernest, of Hartford, and Ross, of Niagara Falls, and five daughters, Mrs. A. Laveck, of Moscow; Mrs. P. Toupah, of Yarker; Mrs. W. Hayes, of Colborne Bay; Mrs. S. Carons, of St. Catharines, and Miss Evelyn, of Toronto.

The funeral was held on Sunday morning from the home in Marlbank to the Roman Catholic Church at Erinsville, of interment and burial in the R. C. cemetery at White Lake.

Last year gas killed four thousand, nine hundred and fifty-four persons. Thirty inhaled it, nine hundred and twenty-two lit matches over it, and four thousand stepped on it.

An author of 18 has had his first novel banned by the public libraries. We hope that he won't let this early success turn his head!

All-Metal Light Airplane.
The first all-metal light airplane to be manufactured in Canada is being turned out by the Reid Aircraft Ltd. and has stood up satisfactorily under tests. It is designed for the use of training schools, private owners and transportation companies, where economical transportation of single passengers or an equivalent weight is required.

Saves $60,000,000 a Year.
By substituting aircraft for infantry in Iraq Britain has saved at least £18,000,000 a year. In 1921 the garrison comprised thirty-three battalions, costing £20,000,000 a year. Now there are five R.A.F. squadrons, costing less than one-tenth as much.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. (Rev. Dr.) Wilson.

Mrs. Elizabeth Barr-Wilson, wife of Rev. Dr. J. P. Wilson, B.A., B.D., passed away on Saturday afternoon, at her late residence, Bridge St., Belleville, following an illness of about two weeks duration. Mrs. Wilson, who was in her 70th year, was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Palmer, of Shelbourne, pioneer residents of this district.

Before coming to Belleville about eight years ago, she lived in Toronto being the widow of the late Dr. John Barr, M.D., who for many years was Conservative member for Dufferin in both the Local Legislature and the Federal House.

Mrs. Wilson had been closely affiliated with the United Church of Canada, being formerly a Methodist. She was always public-spirited and supported liberally every good cause. Being a woman of rather a retiring disposition and although a comparative new-comer to Belleville, and one who travelled extensively, yet she has made a host of friends in Belleville by whom she will be greatly missed.

Mrs. Wilson leaves to mourn her loss—her husband, Dr. Wilson; her nieces, Mrs. Norman Trebble, Ottawa, Mrs. Thomas J. O'Flynn, Shelbourne, Mrs. (Dr.) Cameron Wilson, Napanee, Mrs. (Rev.) H. Frost and Mrs. J. G. Robinson, of Cleveland.

BIRDS' NESTS

Ornithologist Tells How Wild Birds Construct Their Homes—Frail and Lasting.

"If you do not believe it is quite a task to build a bird's nest, try it," says E. H. Forbush, former Massachusetts state ornithologist, and an authority on wild life, in an article prepared for the Associated Press.

"See if you can build the simplest kind of nest of twigs or sticks in the crotch of a tree," he says, "and if you succeed, notice how long it remains there before the winds blow it away.

"Herons and doves build mere platforms of sticks, so frail that often you can look through the interlacing twigs from below and see the eggs; yet these frail domiciles will withstand the storms of two or three winters. The reason for this is that the birds do not pick up rotten sticks from the ground, but break sound twigs off the trees, and then so interlock them that they hold together.

"The most primitive nest that can be built is a mere hollow in the sand. Common terns, or mackerel gulls as they are called by the fishermen, which nest in colonies of hundreds, and when the nesting fever comes on, each prospective mother bird chooses her spot and turning 'round and 'round, makes her little webbed feet fly, throwing out jets of sand in all directions, and so in a few minutes most of them have formed the little hollow that is to receive their eggs.

"But some, not so gifted with such primitive accommodation, gather grass or seaweed and, working with bill, breast and feet, soon have constructed a very warm and comfortable nest.

"Most wild ducks build a warm thick nest of grass, lined with down from their breasts, and usually well concealed under bush or tree or in rank grass or other vegetation. When the eggs have been laid, the mother bird plucks more down from her breast, and rolls it together in the form of a little blanket, attached at one side of the nest. Then when she leaves the eggs, unless suddenly startled, she spreads this carefully over them, thus concealing them and keeping them warm.

"Some birds shape their nests with mud which, drying, keeps out the cold wind. The robin's nest is composed largely of mud, lined with grass. In lining it the mother bird works the grass into place with her feet as she sits in the nest, and turning around she works behind her feet while smoothing up the opposite side with her breast.

"The eaves swallow flutters down over some muddy spot, picks up a dab of mud in her bill, works it over with the saliva of her mouth and plasters it under the eaves of a barn or under some shelf on a cliff and, clinging there, holds it with her breast until it dries, then brings other mouthfuls until she has made a little curved shelf on which she can stand.

"Then her mate brings more mud or both birds bring it until the nest assumes the shape of half a cup. Some of these eaves are rooted over and shaped like a retort, with a bottle-neck entrance; they then are lined with grass and feathers."

HUGE CALIFORNIAN DAM.

Fourth Largest Dam In the World Is Being Put Across the Mokelumne.

The fourth largest dam in the world is being constructed across the Mokelumne river, in California. Three large gangs of laborers are working in three shifts to save 1,000,000 people, living in nine cities on the eastern shore of San Francisco Bay, from the danger of water famine.

The new dam is to be named after a former governor of California, Dr. George Pardee, who has been chiefly responsible for the East Bay's new waterworks. The Pardee dam will complete the scheme, which will have cost $70,000,000.

Containing 700,000 cubic yards of concrete, the dam will hold back enough water for 2,000,000 people and will develop enough power to pump the water over the hills to arid areas beyond, whose people were in constant danger of water famine. The other three larger dams are the Assuan, on the Nile, the Arrowrock of Idaho, and Muscle Shoals of Tennessee.

"Apaches."

The apaches of Paris received their name in a peculiar manner. About a quarter century ago, Buffalo Bill took his Wild West Show to Paris, and the inhabitants of that metropolis saw real Indians for the first time. The latter were feared because of their fierce appearance, and were called "appash" in the French language. After Buffalo Bill and his savages had departed, there were numerous hold-ups and murders in Paris, and the ferocity of the crimes was associated in the minds of Parisians with the American Indians who had recently visited them. Newspaper reports dubbed the cruel murderers "apaches," and the name has endured to the present time.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear Daddy, Gordon Storey, who died on January 6th, 1925.

What is home without a father?
What are all the joys we meet?
When your loving smile no longer seen
For your love remains with us.
For you were the kind of father,
Your loved ones would never forget.
2ap —Daughter Elizabeth.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving memory of Mother, Mrs. Harvey Bradshaw, who died January 9th, 1919. Also of Grandma York, who died January 19th, 1926.

Ten years ago, dear mother,
When we stood beside your bed,
Our hearts were sad and broken,
When we saw that you were dead.

You were always true, dear mother,
Through the years you struggled on,
And those dear hands that worked so hard
Made our home, that now is gone.
2ap Daughter Lottie and Father.

The Bell Telephone Company and its Bill in Parliament

THE Bell Telephone Company is bringing before parliament this session a Bill regarding its authority to seek new capital.

No grant or subsidy from parliament is involved. It is entirely a matter of authority to offer new shares for purchase by investors, from time to time in the future as new capital is required for the growth of the system.

There are three reasons why the telephone company is asking parliament for this authority. Each of these reasons is important.

the first reason

The telephone system cannot extend to meet the growth of the country unless there is a steady supply of new capital year after year.

IN a progressive country like Canada the telephone system never stands still. Each year there are thousands of new telephones in new homes and offices.

For the next five years the definite needs which the system is under public obligation to meet mean spending over $120,000,000 in new plant.

Year after year, in good times and bad, new money is needed for more telephones if the system is to keep pace with the country. And of this money a great part can be supplied only through the purchase of new shares by investors.

the second reason

Necessary plans cannot be made unless there is assurance that money may be obtained in the future to complete them.

IN the telephone business it is essential that plans be made for years ahead.

There must be cables and conduits and central exchanges before new telephones can go in. To wait until people are clamoring for service is too late.

Such projects in the past have been undertaken because the company has been confident of securing money from investors to put the new equipment into full service.

But if the company is not able even to approach investors, its assurance vanishes and to prepare for the future becomes impossible.

The telephone system does not need, and will not seek, all the seventy-five million of new capital provided for in its amendment now, nor next year, nor the year after.

It may not need it all for a good many years. But it does need now the assurance that it will be able in the future to go into the market for new money when it is required.

the third reason

The company's present authority to seek new capital is almost exhausted.

WHEN the telephone company began in 1880 it had authority to sell shares to investors up to half a million dollars, but with the growth of the system this authority has been extended by parliament.

This has happened, on an average, every eight years since 1880. The last amendment by parliament was in 1920. Another amendment is necessary now because, of the seventy-five million of shares set in 1920, less than ten million now remain for the company to offer to investors.

With over $120,000,000 to be spent during the next five years—a substantial part of which must be provided by sale of new shares—this margin of less than ten million represents neither the steady supply of new capital nor the assurance of the future which the company must have to serve the public with efficiency.

IF there had not been an amendment in 1920 with the right to raise new capital, Ontario and Quebec today would be struggling with a telephone system so hopelessly behind public requirements that all branches of business would suffer.

The telephone company does not want that state of affairs to prevail eight years from now. The Bill is to prevent it.

BOXING FOR HUSBANDS.

Red Indians of South America Have Pugnacious Women.

Not only does the girl in some districts of Indo-China make the proposal, but with her also lies the initiative for divorce. When divorce occurs, the wife retains the home, the children, and one-third of the property.

Even more favored is the girl of the "maternal kinship" tribes of Assam. She proposes, and if the man accepts the marriage takes place and the husband must live with his wife's people. The wife may divorce her husband when she pleases. She not only keeps the children and her own property, but her divorced husband's property as well.

If a husband divorces his wife he must still surrender his entire property and the children to her.

The girl of Bonda Porjas, in Southern India, resorts to a severe test when selecting a husband. The chosen man has to accompany her into the jungle, where she applies fire to his bare back. If the pain draws a yell from him he is rejected. She takes him only if he suffers in silence.

In Borneo, among the Kalabit tribes, it is always the woman who conducts the courtship. It is the custom, too, if a marriage is celebrated between a Punan man and woman, for the husband to leave his own family and join his bride's people.

Very pugnacious is the courtship conducted by the young woman of the Cherotí and Ashluslay Red Indians of South America. She courts the selected youth at dances, and if a rival enters the field she settles the issue by fighting her with punchers made of bone or with tapir-skin boxing gloves.

CHAPELS IN HOTELS.

New York Hostelry First to Have Retreat for Meditation.

A medieval traveller setting forth on a long journey found at the wayside a chapel for meditation and prayer, or at a monastery found an inn as well as spiritual sanctuary.

Modern business has now taken a leaf from the past. A simple ceremony recently in one of the leading hotels of New York spelled the first of the "meditation chapels" which are to be built in all the hotels of this chain, operated by a former Canadian.

The doors of the chapel will never be closed. It is an exquisite little sanctuary, a beautiful and cloistered retreat in a great metropolitan building. It has been designed for worshippers of all faiths.

Commenting on the innovation, the president of the hotel corporation said, "I don't think so much of putting Bibles in the rooms—not to speak with any lack of veneration for the Bible—but, I believe, rather, that a hurried, harassed and weary person, as most of us are these days, needs a retreat like this where he may worship his own God in his own way.

"The chapel has been planned to provide a retreat of peace and beauty for Roman Catholic, Jewish or Protestant worshippers—or those of any other faiths. For this reason, we have consciously and carefully avoided including the symbol of any particular faith.

"These chapels will be placed in all the hotels of our system and in any other building which I may happen to control."

ETHER WAVES.

Travels Through Air a Million Times Faster Than Sound.

Sound travels through the air at the rate of one mile in five seconds. Ether waves have a velocity a million times greater.

Big Ben can be heard to strike four miles from Westminster. Owing to the difference between the speed of wireless and air waves, in many parts of London it may be heard to strike twenty-two times when the 11 a.m. time signal is being broadcast from Daventry—through a loud-speaker and through the air. There is an interval of 4½ seconds between each stroke of Big Ben.

At one mile, the first two strokes by wireless would be heard before the first by sound waves, and after the last by wireless two would arrive though the air. At four miles, five would be heard by wireless before the first by sound waves, and the last by wireless would be followed by five carried by air waves.

Flowers on Icebergs.

The top of an iceberg is the last place one would look for a garden, or indeed any sort of vegetation, but strangely enough, plants blossom and flourish upon these mighty glaciers.

The reason for this is the fact that very often icebergs are formed when the berg is at rest. This moss decays and forms a crude kind of earth. Birds fying across deposit dandelion and buttercup seeds; and soon almost what might be termed meadows come into being on the top of the glaciers during the brief northern summer.

The brilliant red poppy grows everywhere among the ice and snow during that period of the year.

Make Roads from Rubbish.

Salt Lake City has splendid roads that have been built of rubbish. The material is levelled by means of a drag — stoves, baby carriages, bedsteads, etc., being placed by hand.

The dump is then rolled with a 15-ton steel roller, which so smashes everything that it packs even more easily than dirt as a foundation for a screened gravel surface.

Monument to St. Francis.

A very beautiful monument to St. Francis of Assisi has been erected in the ancient cemetery at Milan, Italy. St. Francis was the founder of the religious order of the Friars Minor, usually styled the Franciscans. He was known for his simplicity, amiability and extreme beauty of character and was noted for his love of nature.

In the past, scores of thousands of buyers seeking the greatest dollar-value, have purchased Plymouth—on the basis of simple comparison and contrast with other cars in its price range.

At these new lower prices, the contrasts that Plymouth presents—in all-round economy of operation and upkeep, combined with full-size, weatherproof hydraulic 4-wheel brakes, modern engineering, impressive power and performance—are even more conclusive, even more emphatic of the Chrysler management's determination to give quality and value far in advance of anything else in the lowest-priced field.

This most significant reduction in Plymouth prices is thus in keeping with Chrysler ideals, while passing on to purchasers the benefits that accrue from hugely increased production.

See the Plymouth! Drive it—and try to match it in quality and value. We believe you will find these new low prices remove Plymouth further than ever from any other offering in the greatest motor car market.

A CLOCK PLOT.

Employes of Naples Arsenal Steal Ancient Bronze Clock.

Few clocks can have had an adventure such as that which recently befell the ancient bronze clock of Naples Arsenal.

This building is being pulled down to make room for a wider road. The clock, which has marked the comings and goings of generations of arsenal workers, was taken down and carefully locked up in one of the rooms which had not yet come under pick and axe. Its final home was to have been St. Martin's Museum.

When the day came for its removal to the museum, the authorities discovered that the ancient timepiece had vanished. The police found that the thieves were three men employed in pulling down the building. Piece by piece they had dismounted the clock and taken it to a local dealer in antiques, who had driven a bargain with a collector for its speedy removal to America.

The plot was discovered in time. All the pieces were found, and are have been put together again.

All Done by a Pigeon.

Returning home to Philadelphia from his vacation, Robert Ranaford opened his front door and pushed on the light. Such a scene of destruction met his eyes, that he hurried to the nearest drug store to call the police. Two answered the call and with drawn revolvers and cautious steps, searched the lower part of the house for vandals. They found nothing but confused wreckage. Upstairs they found lamps overturned, bureau search pulled off and in the bathroom, bottles broken on the tiled floor. In the back room they discovered the culprit—a very tired and very hungry pigeon asleep on the bedpost.

When it was assured that no valuables were missing, it was concluded that the bird had sought shelter in the fireplace chimney and had been unable to find its way out again.

Electric Rock-a-Bye.

An amusing example of misplaced ingenuity in the ranks of the inventor is furnished by a recent patent which seems to demand an up-to-date electrical version of the old "Hush-a-bye, baby," nursery rhyme.

The device is intended for moving a perambulator to and fro, and comprises an electric motor adapted for connection to the lighting supply of a room, operated by means of gears and a crank, and a connecting rod of adjustable length secured to the handles of the perambulator.

Ancient Observatory.

A prehistoric astronomical observatory, which it is estimated was constructed in 1181 B.C., has been unearthed at Buetzow (Mecklenburg). The observatory is in the form of circles of stones, which served for the observation of the annual circuit of the sun and also as a calendar.

CAR HAD VERY NARROW ESCAPE

The Cataraqui level crossing of the Canadian National Railways came within an ace of being the scene of another fatal accident on Thursday, when John B. McGall, tobacconist, of Kingston, figured in the near accident. He was returning to Kingston from Peterboro, and owing to the icy condition of the highway, in making the turn at the village of Cataraqui he slowed down the speed of his car to about 15 miles an hour. At the same time he heard the whistle of the C.N.R. train No. 14 in the distance and decided to stop some distance from the crossing so that he could see the speed with which the train passed the crossing. The pavement was slippery and Mr. McGall had to practically "feel his way" along cutting down the speed of the car to about ten miles an hour. When several hundred feet from the crossing, he applied the brakes, with the intention of stopping entirely, but to his surprise the car kept sliding along the road.

Immediately he turned the car so as to go to the side of the road, but the car kept on going sideways, towards the crossing. Shutting off the ignition and making almost a superhuman effort, Mr. McGall was able to jam the front wheels to one side so that the car slid into the ditch at the side of the road, a drop of some three feet.

Now You Can Get Delivery On The Famous "Four-Twenty" ROGERS Batteryless RADIO

Only $165 Complete (except Speaker)*

The Biggest Value in the Whole Field of Electric Radio

IT would have been nice, of course, to have had a Rogers in time for the Holidays—but even some of the folks who ordered sets early were disappointed this year. The flood of orders from those who wanted Batteryless Radio was more than the Rogers factory—even with its enlarged facilities—could cope with, temporarily. Now, however, you can get delivery on practically any of the new, 1929 Models—including the famous "Four-Twenty" Model shown above.

This Model "Four-Twenty" Rogers is, just as our headline states: "The biggest value in the whole field of electric radio."

The model that preceded it was first introduced to the public in 1926 and outsold all other electric sets in 1927 at $225! The present price of $165 is only possible because of Rogers greatly increased production and you can rest assured that if any other comparable electric radio could be sold at this price you would soon hear about it.

Ask Us To Show You . . .

Test this famous model as to distance, selectivity, volume, tone-quality (any way you wish) in your own home at our expense. If it doesn't perform to your entire satisfaction send it back. If it does—and it will—we'll make it easy for you to keep it.

I Would Not Like to Be Without Them

Says Ontario Man of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mr. N. Shafer Used Them for Pains in the Back Caused by Severe Colds

Kitchener, Ont., Sept. 10th, Special)—During the winter months colds and chills double the work of the kidneys. It is therefore necessary to strengthen them and safeguard yourself against serious results. Dodd's Kidney Pills are a reliable Kidney medicine.

Mr. N. Shafer, 31 Irvin St., Kitchener, writes:—"I have used Dodd's Kidney Pills on different occasions and found them very effective for pains in the back caused by severe colds. I keep them on hand all the time and whenever I feel the need I take them until the pain leaves. I am past fifty and would not like to be without them."

Your health, strength and vitality depend upon the condition of your blood, for it is through the blood that every part of your body is nourished. Pure blood coursing through the body carries to the different organs the nourishment they need to keep them healthy.

MAD MILLIONAIRES

"Coal Oil Johnny" Spent $8,750,000 —Gambler Threw Away Fortune Bestowed on Beautiful France.

Having won a few thousand francs at the Casino in Cannes recently, Charles Channel, of Chicago, stopped to a hotel balcony and threw over a fistful or five- and ten-franc notes.

Surprised pedestrians scrambled for the money, and the street was a seething throng of milkmen, waiters, cab-drivers, street-sweepers, and servants. When the supply of small bank notes was exhausted the fifty- and hundred-franc notes began to come down. By the time 40,000 francs had been dropped the scene had become almost a riot.

About this time Herman Tetras, a waiter, was giving a $1,250 dinner at a hotel where for years he had been employed. It was celebrating his new fortune of $1,125,000, the result of speculation.

Sixty years ago John W. Steele—"Coal Oil Johnny"—went about with bank-notes pinned to his coat and trousers. In his apprenticeship days as a spender he would pay $1 for a shine and $10 for a shave. He is supposed to have spent $5,750,000 in less than two years.

"Coal Oil Johnny" was catapulted into his millions through a succession of wells looked like sad misfortunes. His parents died when he was a child. He was adopted by an aunt and uncle, the McClintocks. His uncle died when Johnny was twelve. His aunt was a poor widow until she discovered that her humble home was perched above oil wells.

Then money came in so fast that the widow McClintock had little time to change her mode of living. She stored it in safes and continued her housework. While trying to hasten a fire with a dash of oil one morning, she was burned to death. Johnny was twenty. He found $625,000 in cash in one safe, and his property gushed every time a drill was sunk.

When he was twenty-one he sold his oil well for $1,250,000. With an acquaintance, Seth Slocum, and two shabby haversacks, stuffed with money, he set out. Because a hotel clerk offended him, Johnny leased the hotel for a day, paying a few thousands from a greasy haversack. His first act as proprietor was to sack the clerk. His second was to place a large placard outside announcing open house with food and wine free.

He would buy a jewellery store's supply of diamonds and give the brooch. Johnny bought the cab for $3,500 and was driven around the block. Then he gave the cab back. His champagne bills became public scandals.

In less than three years the young oil king was at the end of his tether. He lived to be an old man, and he never earned more than $2.50 a day.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

Two Englishmen were out riding in India when suddenly there dashed out from the jungle a native running for his life, hotly pursued by a large leopard.

"He's making a race of it," remarked one of the Englishmen. "D'ye think you can spot the winner?"

"The winner," came the dry retort, "is spotted."

The Terror of Asthma comes like a thief in the night with its dreadful throttling, robbing its victim of breath. It seems beyond the power of human aid to relieve until one trial is made of that remarkable preparation, Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. Then relief comes with a rush. Life becomes worth living and, if the remedy be used persistently, the disease is put permanently to route. Take no substitute.

She (after spending the evening with the neighbors): "I think the Smiths are an ideal couple — they think alike about everything."

He—"Yes, I noticed she always thinks first."

Miller's Worm Powders are a prompt relief from the attacks of worms in children. They are powerful in their action and, while leaving nothing to be desired as a worm expellant, have an invigorating effect upon the youthful system, remedying fever, biliousness, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, and other ailments that follow disorders caused by worms in the stomach and bowels.

After Jimmy's tooth had been taken out, he held up his hand and said eagerly to the dentist: "Give it to me, please."

With a smile, the dentist wrapped the tooth in paper and handed it to Jimmy.

"But what are you going to do with it?"

"Take it home and cram sugar into it and watch it ache!" was the reply.

Only the uninformed endure the agony of corns. The knowing ones apply Holloway's Corn Remover and get relief.

Recognized as a leading specific for the destruction of worms, Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator has proved a boon to suffering children everywhere. It seldom fails.

One little boy had returned home after being out for dinner, and his mother said:

"I hope when it comes to extra helpings, that you had manners enough to say 'No'?"

"Yes, mother, I said 'No' several times."

"You did!" exclaimed his mother proudly.

"Yes, Mrs. Blank kept asking me if I had enough."

It Bids Pain Begone.—When neuralgia racks the nerves or lumbago cripples the back is the time to test the virtues of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Well rubbed in it will still the pain and produce a sensation of ease and rest. A trial of it will establish faith in it.

For Scalds or Burns.—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is a standard remedy for the prompt treatment of scalds and burns. Its healing power quickly soothes the pain and aids a speedy recovery from the injury. It is also an excellent remedy for all manner of cuts, bruises and sprains, as well as for relieving the pains arising from inflamation of various kinds. A bottle in the house and stable saves many a doctor's and veterinary's fee.

A man who was city-bound on a street car was accosted by the conductor as follows:

"Well, sir, I hope you arrived home safe last night."

"Why, of course I got home safe; why shouldn't I?"

"Well, it's like this. While you were in this car last night a lady got in and you offered her your seat."

"What of that? Whilst I recognize the equality of the sexes, I nevertheless also recognize that the age of civility is still alive."

"O course, sir, just as you say, but I thought it a little peculiar as only you and the lady were in the car at the time."

ERNESTTOWN WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The December meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Leo Crowe, with such a crowd in attendance that the resourceful hostess had to improvise seats by bringing in boards and putting them across chairs. Mrs. T. G. Creighton, 1st Vice President, presided, and Mrs. Willie Kelly was appointed Secretary Treasurer, taking the duties of Mrs. Gordon Young, who is spending the winter with her mother in Florida. The business part of the meeting was followed by a humorous recitation, excellently given by Mrs. A. C. Shaw. Miss Goring, who so kindly came up from Kingston, gave us a very fine address on pioneer days in our own immediate neighbourhood, telling us the interesting story of the barter of Amherst Island in the early days. Mrs. Sidney Sproule, of Odessa, gave a unique demonstration, that of making French pastry, and we must say it looked well she did it, and also how delicious the tarts were. They truly were the variety that melts in the mouth. A vote of thanks was tendered Miss Goring and Mrs. Sproule for the very interesting parts they took in our programme.

The January meeting will be at Mrs. G. B. Sharpe's, the roll call being Hints that makes a man easy to live with". The demonstration is "A well balanced evening meal for four", with Mrs. Irwin Sharp and Mrs. Harry Mott in charge.

The debate, "Resolved, that a hundred acre farm is better for a boy than a College education". To be debated by Mrs. Fred Lawrence and Miss Mildred Seeley and Mrs. Leo Crowe and Mrs. Prichard.

A very pleasant and successful social evening was held early in December, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Sharp, who proved themselves delightful host and hostess.

CAUSES A VACUUM

C. B. Howdell, A.R.I.B.A., Tells Why Explosions Occur During a Tornado.

Following violent windstorms in which great property damage is done, eyewitnesses have been known to relate that some buildings actually seemed to explode during the gale. By many these recitals have been accepted as the products of distorted fancy during a crisis. However, science now tells us that explosion of buildings actually does occur in some types of atmospheric disturbance.

Charles B. Howdell, A. R. I. B. A., writing for the Yorkshire Post, remarks that "a tornado is a wind storm with a very, very rapid rotary motion," in which "the swirling or twisting motion produces a vacuum," or a state close to nothingness. Hence, the explosion of buildings at or near the suction force of this vacuum. Mr. Howdell is writing in the Post to explain queer freaks of the recent gales in the Old Country, and sets forth, in part, as follows:

"Every one knows that the normal air pressure is just under fifteen pounds per square inch, or roundly a ton per square foot. Incidentally, each one of us goes through life with a constant load of fourteen tons, due to air pressure. We do not experience inconvenience, because this pressure permeates our whole system.

"Under ordinary conditions, buildings, inside and out, are subjected to the same atmospheric pressure, in addition to the various loads which they are designed to carry. A rapid and excessive change of any of the condition will cause damage to those parts not strong enough to withstand such an attack through changed conditions.

"The passing of a tornado produces unexpected explosions. Plate glass windows are blown outward, but inward. The facts are that the tornado produces a vacuum; the air pressure on the outside is removed for the moment.

"The plate glass window in the path of the 'twister' is suddenly subjected to an inside air pressure of anything up to one hundred tons. Naturally it gives way. The air inside is released, and so there is an explosion. A terrific draught is produced, and immediately models and millinery are wafted into the street, in a more or less dishevelled condition.

"Ordinary office and house windows in their turn have to withstand an inside pressure or explosive force of 20 or 30 tons. They fall. Window boxings, frames, sashes, glass and blinds float out into the street and add their quota to the wreckage already littering the pavement.

"It will thus be seen that the devastating forces let loose by the momentary and local vacuum produced by the occasional tornado are much more destructive and dangerous than the direct 'blows' of an ordinary windstorm.

"If such storms become frequent in the country, architects and engineers will be called upon to design roofs against 'inward pressure outward'."

MUSEUM IN CELLAR.

Ancient Musical Instruments Stored Under Royal College of Music.

Hidden away in an underground saloon below the Royal College of Music, South Kensington, is one of London's little-known museums.

It is a museum of ancient musical instruments, telling the story of melody-making throughout the centuries.

Few trouble to see this interesting collection, though many of the exhibits, in addition to their historic value, are veritable works of art.

In one case is a guitar said to have been presented by Mary Queen of Scots to her minstrel and favorite Rizzio.

It is of tortoiseshell with ivory mother-of-pearl and ebony inlays, and its ten tuning pegs of fleur-de-lys shape betray a French origin.

One of the gems of the collection is a clavycytherium, or upright spinet, which dates from the end of the fifteenth century, and is believed to be the oldest keyboard instrument in existence.

It is of Italian origin, and its woodwork is decorated with the carving and painting of mediaeval masters.

Jelly-fish Mystery.

Where do the jelly-fish that are to be found swimming about in the huge fresh-water tank which houses the large Victoria Regia lily in the Botanical Gardens, London, come from? They were first observed in 1880 and their appearance was a mystery.

For three years they inhabited the tank, and then, in 1883, they disappeared as suddenly as they had come. It was thought at first that the draining of the tank for six months in the years explained the mystery, for no jelly-fish like being out of water.

Now, after an absence of forty-five years, the jelly-fish are once more swimming in the tank in which they were first found. This family of jelly-fish has never been found at any other place except Regent's Park.

Britain Shows the Way.

Britain has held the speed record for the Atlantic trip ever since the Atlantic, Sidney Sproule, of Odessa, gave a unique demonstration, that of making French pastry, and we must say it looked well she did it, and also how delicious the tarts were. They truly were the variety that melts in the mouth. A vote of thanks was tendered Miss Goring and Mrs. Sproule for the very interesting parts they took in our programme.

COAL UNDER OPTION.

Areas Said to Contain 210,000,000 Tons of Bituminous Coal.

Dr. H. A. Baker, Newfoundland Government geologist, who spent several months examining coal areas on the west coast of the colony, estimates there are 210,000,000 tons of bituminous in this district recently options by International Paper Company to the St. George's Coal Fields Limited.

These deposits are located in the vicinity of middle Barasois river, Bay St. George and close to tidewater. The coal areas were originally held by Hon. Philip Cleary and contained about fifteen square miles. For some years previous to 1914 they were held under option by Lord Joicey and later reverted to the crown. In the fall of 1914 they were staked by Thomas J. Freeman, who organized the St. George's Coal Fields Limited. The company did considerable development work, uncovering several of the outcrops along the middle Barasois. In 1927 some three thousand feet of drill holes were put down under supervision of the president.

At present every pound of coal used by International at its giant paper mills at Corner Brook, Bay of Islands, is purchased from Canadian and United States producers. Thousands of tons are consumed annually and should the company's expectations be realized, on further development of the Freeman areas, a tremendous saving in operating expenses will result.

During the winter months shipment of paper by river from Corner Brook is at a standstill owing to drifts blocking the port. The directors of the company are considering plans for the erection of termini at Port aux Basques, which would give free access to the sea practically all the year round.

CANADA'S NET DEBT.

National Debt Reduced Nearly Hundred Million In Eight Months.

Ten years after the war Canada paid interest on a staggering war bill to the extent of over a hundred and seven million dollars in the eight months from April to October of 1928. In that same period, however, the national debt has been reduced by nearly a hundred million.

Revenue from taxation applied as war measures brought in during the eight months nearly fifty millions from excise taxes, over fifty-five millions from income tax and nearly a million and a half from other war taxes. The expenditures that can be directly attributed to the war exclusive of interest on war debt include pensions of $24,361,977, soldiers' civil re-establishment $4,220,957.

The net debt of the Dominion has been steadily decreasing since 1924. It was enormously increased in 1920 but then the increase grew less yearly until in 1925 the tide turned.

Since 1925, $160,943,483 of war loan bonds in the hands of the public have been redeemed from the surpluses out of ordinary revenues. Last year alone $53,000,000 had been redeemed.

The bulk of the revenue still comes from customs and excise duties. The customs in the eight months yielding $146,206,914, which included $42,508,872 excise. In the last complete fiscal year the customs and excise revenue was $214,386,715, income and business profits taxes $57,-527,078, excise taxes $90,222,931. The excise taxes were highest in 1924 when $120,676,275 was collected.

ANTHONY ETRICKE.

Left £1 a Year For Tomb's Upkeep Which Is Still Paid.

Amongst the many curiosities to be found in Wimborne Minster, in Dorset, is the quaint tomb of Anthony Etricke, the first recorder of Poole, and the magistrate who committed Monmouth after Sedgemoor.

He was for some reason offended by the Wimborne people, and so made a vow that he would not be buried in their church or out, under the ground or over. To carry this out he cut a niche in the wall and placed his big coffin with the date 1693 inscribed thereon, believing he should die in that year. He did not die, however, until 1703, when he was buried in the chosen spot in such a way that his body was neither above the ground or below, in the church or out. The date 1703 was then written over the other in gold.

He left £1 a year for the tomb's upkeep, which is still paid.

Horses' Convalescent Home.

What becomes of the overworked horses of London? Some of them find their way to Welbeck Abbey as the guests of the Duchess of Portland. The sight of a horse struggling with a load beyond its strength is too much for a sincere lover of animals.

The duchess often stops and buys a stray overworked horse in the street, and sends it to her rest home in the Midlands, where some of these animals are to be found frisking about the fields fit and fat and strong, and ready for work again.

Plants That Get Lit Up.

A German gardener has discovered a plan for injecting phosphorous into plants, thus making them luminous at night. The experiment was demonstrated at the Berlin flower show, when a large number of cacti, of all shapes and sizes, were inoculated, and that as the luminous quality concentrates in the spines, they appear to be dotted with brilliant points of light that radiate in the darkness like glowworms.

ENJOYABLE BANQUET

One of those delightful gatherings which tend to knit the happy relationships existing between the management and staff, was exemplified on Thursday evening, December 27th, when Mr. C. A. Wiseman, the well known Chevrolet and Oakland dealer, tendered a dinner to his staff, their ladies and a few invited guests in the showrooms of his garage.

The showrooms were beautifully decorated with Christmas trees and streamers, which, combined with the very prettily arranged tables laden with an appetizing menu, provided a delightful setting for a most enjoyable dinner, to which all did full justice.

There were in all about forty present, and the dinner being concluded a very jolly evening was spent in contests, games and music.

About twenty years ago Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wiseman and son came to Napanee. It is of interest to note that Mr. Wiseman introduced the Chevrolet automobile to this territory and as a dealer appointed by General Motors of Oshawa, attained such marked success that he was compelled to seek more spacious and modern buildings which now stand as one of the most up-to-date and well equipped garages between Toronto and Montreal, and a credit to the town.

The banquet was greatly appreciated by the staff and guests, and their appreciation was voiced by giving Mr. and Mrs. Wiseman three rousing cheers, and singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow", at the close of the evening's festivities.

OBITUARY

John Fish.

John Fish, formerly of Napanee, passed away in Windsor, on Monday, Dec. 31st, after undergoing an operation. The remains were brought to Napanee, to the home of his sister, Mrs. Patsy Culhane, and the funeral service was held at St. Mary Magdalene Church, on Thursday afternoon.

Deceased was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Levi Fish, and was born in Napanee forty-eight years ago.

The deceased was in the employ of Messrs. J. F. Smith & Son, in Napanee, for many years, later going in business for himself. His widow and family are left to mourn. A brother, Lewis, and sister, Mrs. Culhane, reside in this town.

THE WORLD FAMOUS WESTMINSTER GLEE SINGERS

A musical triumph unsurpassed by any company of singers that has visited Napanee in many years was achieved by the Westminster Glee Singers in their magnificent program which were given in the auditorium of Grace United Church on Saturday, December 29th, afternoon and evening. The concerts were held under the auspices of the U. E. L. Chapter I.O.D.E., and the attendance although not as large as it should have been, was very gratifying, there being about two hundred present in the afternoon and possibly four hundred in the evening.

The organization is one of the most remarkable of its kind ever heard on this side of the Atlantic, and the concerts were indeed a revelation as to what can be accomplished by an association of all male voices. The company consisted of eight men representing tenor, alto and bass voices, also seven boy sopranos. The delightful combination of boy sopranos with the more mature notes of the altos and tenors, and a solid foundation of deep bass, made the event one to be long remembered by the music lovers of Napanee.

The voices are individually fine and exquisitely blended, and under the skilful direction of Mr. Edward Branscombe, achieve magnificent results. The encores were frequent and the applause and reception which the members of the company received were well merited.

OBITUARY

William Rankin.

William Rankin, former Police Magistrate for the Town of Napanee, passed away on Thursday evening, in the Kingston General Hospital. Mr. Rankin had been in the Kingston Hospital for several months, and a few days ago was brought home to Napanee, but the illness of Mr. Rankin necessitated his return to the hospital. Mr. Rankin came to Napanee a number of years ago from Cobourg to take the position of Chief of Police of Napanee. He held this office for several years and on the death of the former Police Magistrate, Mr. Jas. Daly, he was appointed Police Magistrate of Napanee, which office he held until the appointment of the late G. F. Ruttan as County Magistrate, when Mr. Rankin retired. Deceased was a member of Union Lodge A. F. & A.M., which body took charge of the funeral, which was held on Saturday in St. Mary Magdalene's Church. Surviving are his widow, who is in poor health, and one daughter, Mrs. Hawley, of Toronto.

George Whittington.

George Whittington, a former well known resident of North Fredericksburgh, but who has for some years made his home in Napanee, died at the Campbell House, on Monday of last week. The late Mr. Whittington for a long number of years conducted the brick and tile business in North Fredericksburgh, and previous to that was a farmer at Empey Hill. Two sons, Messrs. Grant and Bruce Whittington, remain. The funeral took place on Wednesday.

—A very pleasant surprise was given Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Henderson, at their home in Camden East, when a party of fifteen, composed of their three children with their families and Mrs. Henderson's only living brother, Mr. George Perry, of North Bay, arranged to have New Year's dinner with them. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson were taken completely by surprise. The occasion was a Birthday party also, as F. H. Henderson, their younger son's birthday was on that date.

—The Christmas services on Christmas Day at St. Mark's, Deseronto, passed off well. The decorations were in excellent taste, the flowers on the altar lovely. The music was good and filled with the triumphant spirit of this glorious season. The stupendous thought that the Christ-Child was being worshipped and adored in Sacrament, Hymns and Anthems in millions of churches all over the world, in mighty Abbeys, Cathedrals and magnificent Parish Churches to the humblest Church on Prairie, Veldt and Bush, brought that grand thrill which must always fill the heart of every loving Christian man, woman and child on the birthday of our Blessed Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

Rev. A. J. Wilson opened the proceedings with prayer.

Mayor Howitt's Address.

Napanee, Ontario,
January 14th, 1929.

Gentlemen,—

Following the custom of my predecessors as Mayor of the Town of Napanee, I wish to present to you, at this, the first meeting of the Council, my observations in respect to the trust that the ratepayers have seen fit to put in our hands for the year 1929.

In the first place, I wish to congratulate you upon your election and the seal of confidence the ratepayers of the Town have placed upon you in asking you to manage the affairs of the municipality for the coming year. That you, by your votes, placed upon your successors in office the affairs of the town with a consciousness of public service efficiently and economically performed.

The several Standing Committees have, I believe, been well chosen, and I would suggest that each committee do at once meet and acquire a knowledge of the specific duties devolving upon each of you respectively, having regard, not only as to the work done in previous years, but also in respect to the work that must be done this year. I would also impress upon you that as our tax rate is high and as a goodly amount of our expenditures are already fixed, you must not lightly undertake any work involving large expenditure without most careful consideration and especially I would point out to the Streets and Town Property Committees that you must cut your expenditure to the minimum if we are to finance the year at a reasonable mill rate.

Few towns of our population are so well kept and presentable as Napanee, and we must keep it sanitary and wholesome, but for the next three or four years, at the end of which time, some of our debentures will have been fully paid, we must not lightly undertake any further improvements entailing large expenditures.

Our Town Hall has been made a credit to us and our permanent pavements are a satisfaction to ourselves, but should also be a perpetual invitation to the surrounding country and to tourists to visit us and trade at our well equipped stores and factories.

As our tax rate is well laid out, well distributed, and should be a source of great pride and except for small expenditures on the Wallace Park and Springside Park, should not require this year any substantial outlay.

You must bear in mind also that we are starting this year with a very considerable overdraft. This was caused by an unexpected expenditure to properly complete the Town Hall. There are also some unsettled financial matters with the County, which, I trust, the Reeve will be able to equitably adjust with the assistance of the Finance Committee.

In conclusion, I would admonish you to study carefully our rules of procedure so that our meetings may be conducted quickly, harmoniously, and in a businesslike manner.

Yours, &c.,
W. M. HOWITT,
Mayor.

Moved by Reeve Tustin, seconded by Councillor Fitzpatrick, that His Worship's address be received and filed, and that the local press be requested to print the same. Carried.

Communications.

From the Ontario Municipal Association, re Bills that will come before the forthcoming session of the Ontario Legislature, and asking the Council to become a member of the Association. Ordered filed.

From Satin Finish Hardwood Flooring Co., Toronto, re payment from 1 to 11 p.m., of Wednesday, January 23rd, a radio programme over CKGW, Toronto, would be dedicated to the Town of Napanee, and asking the Council to send up any talent they wished to supply the programme.

Moved by Councillor Wiseman, seconded by Councillor Fitzpatrick, that Mayor Howitt and the Finance Committee be empowered to co-operate with the Rotary Club in regard to the above radio programme, with power to act. Carried.

From W. J. McCoy & Co., asking to be appointed auditors for the town. Ordered filed.

From Ontario Good Roads Association, re their annual meeting to be held in Toronto the latter part of February, and asking the Council to appoint delegates to attend the meeting. Ordered filed.

From William Maracle, also from Frank Babcock, asking to be appointed caretaker of the Disposal Works.

Moved by Councillor Daly, seconded by Councillor Wiseman, that William Maracle be appointed Caretaker of the Disposal Works for the year 1929, at the same salary as last year. Carried.

From A. MacGregor, also from W. H. Roe, asking to be appointed Auditor for the ensuing year.

On motion the above two communications were laid on the table until later in the evening.

By-Laws.

BATH

A play, "Cranberry Corners", was given in the Masonic Hall, on Friday evening, Jan. 4th, in aid of the Public Library.—Miss Henrietta Davy, who suffered a paralytic stroke recently, is not showing much improvement.—Mr. E. J. Horne suffered a fracture of his arm, when he fell on the icy road near his home.—Mr. Kenneth Morrow, his mother, Mrs. D. H. Morrow, and his sister, Miss Edna Morrow, suffered from shock and bruises, when their car left the icy road, west of the village, and fell down a bank, over one of the bank, totally wrecking the car.—Mrs. Graham, of Pickering, Ont., is spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Harold Calver.—The flash occurred on Monday evening of an aged and highly respected lady, who resided a few miles west of the village, in the person of Mrs. Elizabeth Dennee. Funeral services were held in the Roman Catholic Church, on Thursday morning, at 10.30 o'clock, with the Rev. Father Lacey officiating. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the community.—Mr. H. D. Wemp, sub-Collector of Customs here, is being removed to the Kingston office; Mr. Collupy taking over the work of the customs office.—Mrs. Geo. Stevenson will now be librarian in the absence of Mr. Wemp.—Mrs. Earl McClelland is seriously ill.

THE LATE GEORGE W. GIBBARD

On Saturday morning Napanee lost one of its most prominent and public spirited citizens, when Mr. George Gibbard, President of The Gibbard Shops, Ltd., passed away. Mr. Gibbard was a comparatively young man, just in his prime, and it looked as though he might have many years of active life before him. But death came and cut short his busy, effective career.

Mr. Gibbard was born in Napanee November 26th, 1864, the only son of William Thomas and Annie Eliza Gibbard, and the grandson of John Gibbard, the founder of the business of John Gibbard & Son, in the year 1836. This business has continued all through the years on the site of the first factory. It has changed its name twice, first to that of the Gibbard Furniture Co. of Napanee, and later to that of the Gibbard Furniture Shops, Limited.

The late Mr. Gibbard entered the business with his father, at the age of eighteen years, and six years later assumed control, and at the time of his death was President of the Company. During this period the business has developed to not only one of the oldest but one of the largest furniture manufacturing industries in the Dominion.

One of the outstanding features in the success of the business has been and is the continued loyalty and co-operation of the employees, as in many instances through successive generations. The loss sustained in the passing of Mr. Gibbard has been very clearly manifested by the many tangible expressions of love and devotion of the present employees.

Mr. Gibbard, although a busy man, found time for public service. For fifteen years he was a member of the Napanee Board of Education. Through his efforts a branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses was established at Napanee, and he was also instrumental in forming the Napanee Rotary Club, and was its first President. He was a member of the Executive of the Chamber of Commerce of Napanee. His fraternal associations included, among others, membership in the A. F. & A. M., I. O. O. F. and C. O. F. In politics he was a staunch Liberal, and a member of the Ontario Club, Toronto. In religion he was an active Methodist and Unionist, a member of the Official Board of Grace Church, one of the founders of which was his grandfather, John Gibbard. To local and provincial Religious Educational work and to special Missionary enterprises, he contributed generously. As a member of the new Albert College Board, his deep interest was very practically expressed.

The deceased leaves as his immediate family, his wife, Marguerite Hall; his son, Ernest, and daughters, Marjorie, Betty and Jean; three sisters, Mrs. Manly Cryderman, Edmonton; Mrs. Charles Robertson, Prescott, and Mrs. Percy Laidley, Napanee.

In the passing of Mr. Gibbard, Napanee and community loses a man whose place will be hard indeed to fill. His organizing genius combined with a deep interest in the welfare of the town and community made him a veritable, power for good. He was a man of strong characteristics, with marked gifts which enabled him to lead men. He was always on the side of what he deemed best. He gave liberally to every good cause, and never spared either his time or money to help forward that in which he believed.

In Grace United Church, the Rotary Club, the School Board, and the United Church of Canada, he filled a place of leadership that will be difficult, if not impossible, to fill.

Not only in his time and talents only to organized social welfare, but in ways too numerous to mention he was helpful and generous to those in need, a helping hand, and many men and women and little children of all classes and walks of life in the community will grieve the passing of Mr. Gibbard as a real friend. The many floral tributes received from all over Ontario was an indication of the widespread and drawing circle of his contacts which Mr. Gibbard had made in his social, political, business and religious activities.

To his immediate family and relatives the community expresses its sincere sympathy.

The funeral was held from his late home, Dundas street, Tuesday afternoon, at two o'clock. The service at the house was of a private nature for the family and immediate relatives. It was conducted by the Pastor of Grace Church, Rev. W. P. Woodger, assisted by Rev. C. E. Cragg and Rev. C. W. Bishop, Principal of Albert College. After prayer by Dr. Bishop, Mr. Archibald Wiseman sang "There is a Land", Rev. Mr. Cragg and Mr. Woodger spoke personal words of comfort to the bereaved and read Whittier's "When on My Day of Life the Night is Falling".

Mr. Gibbard's S. S. Class of young men carried the flowers to the waiting hearse. The pall bearers were men who either as employers or business associates had been closely related to Mr. Gibbard—Messrs. Fred LaSalle, Roy Moore, Edgar Moore, Arthur Goodge, J. H. Moffat and Jack MacPherson. They gently bore the casket to the hearse, and the cortege moved to the church, and proceeded down Dundas street to Grace Church.

Grace Church was filled an hour before the time of the funeral. The employees from the factory met the cortege from the house and followed the remains into the church, where the centre of the auditorium had been reserved for them. The Town Council, the School Board and the Official Board of Grace Church were all present and occupied places reserved for them.

The service at the church was deeply impressive. The platform beside the Pastor of the Church were Dr. Bishop, Principal of Albert College, and three former Pastors of Grace Church, Rev. E. N. Baker, Principal Executive of Albert College; Rev. C. E. Cragg, of Oshawa; and Rev. A. J. Terrill, of Almonte.

"We Would See Jesus" was sung by the Choir and congregation. This was followed with prayer by Dr. Bishop. Scripture was read by Mr. Woodger, and Mr. Reginald Wiseman sang a solo. Brief words of appreciation were spoken by the former Pastors. Dr. Baker, who had been pastor 42 years ago and who baptized Mr. Gibbard, brought regrets from Rev. J. P. Wilson, also a former Pastor, who was unable to attend because of ill health. He spoke of the many generous and kindly qualities in the life of the deceased.

Mr. Cragg pointed out four qualities in the life of Mr. Gibbard which had made him a man of outstanding worth. First, his deep interest in the welfare of all his men; second, his deep sympathy with those in trouble and suffering; third, his loyalty to the church, and fourth, his service to the whole community.

Mr. Terrill spoke of Mr. Gibbard as a strong restless mind that thought things through, and was thought of the joys and sorrows of many people and conditions.

Mr. Woodger summed up in brief, affectionate terms all that Mr. Gibbard had meant to the church, and with a note of optimism that he believed would have been that of Mr. Gibbard himself, he called on those now living to carry on his unfinished work.

The place which Mr. Gibbard occupied in the choir and official board of the church was evident by the large number present, Mr. Farnsworth, Mr. Pope of Selby, Mr. Beckel, of Bay Circuit; Mr. Anderson, of Newburgh; Mr. Seymour, of Morven, besides all the clergy of the town.

After the service the cortege reformed and proceeded to Riverside cemetery. All the employees, along with the Town Council and Board of Education followed on foot, while hundreds of others went by car.

During the time of the funeral all the business houses in Napanee were closed and the whole town's business ceased in respect to one of their loyal and public spirited leaders.

NEWBURGH

Mr. Robert Tate, an aged resident of this place, was taken to the hospital at Kingston, suffering from a complication of diseases.

Mrs. William Weese, of Wesley, visited with Mrs. J. S. Yeomans on Thursday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Orison Benn and children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Bowerman.

A recent issue of the Whig-Standard contains an account of the death of Mrs. Blanch Taylor Hudson, which took place at her home in East Syracuse, N.Y. Mrs. Hudson was a daughter of the late Joseph Taylor, and resided in Newburgh many years ago.

The Newburgh Dairy Company held its annual meeting in the hall on Thursday afternoon. The officers of last year continue to transact the business for the coming year.

Miss Marie Gannon has returned to her home in Toronto, after visiting her cousin, Miss Marjorie Sutton.

Mr. Max Miles has returned from Detroit, where he spent two weeks.

The regular monthly meeting of the W. M. S. of the Free Methodist Church was held in the church on Wednesday. In the absence of the President, Mrs. Bray took charge, and a very profitable meeting was held.

Rev. C. F. Johnston, of Woodlawn, Penn., will be the special preacher at the District Quarterly meeting in Kingston from January 24th to 27th, in the Free Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wartman were at Moscow on Monday, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Patterson.

Our sympathies are extended to Mrs. W. W. Adams in the death of her mother, the late Mrs. Pillar, whose death occurred on Thursday afternoon. A short service was held at the house on Saturday morning, after which the remains were conveyed to Russell by train, where interment took place. The deceased lady was a member of the Anglican Church, and was held in high esteem by a large circle of friends, who regret to hear of her passing.

The Woman's Missionary Auxiliary of the Newburgh United Church met on Wednesday afternoon, January 9th, at the home of Mrs. Hanes. In the absence of the President, the Vice President, Mrs. John Wartman, took charge of the programme. The devotional was sung and the Lord's Prayer offered, after which the business for the day was taken up. Mrs. Johnston and Miss Paul volunteered to prepare the programme for the February meeting. Miss Eliza Paul was appointed Assistant Strangers' Secretary to help Mrs. Durfee. The hymn, "Joy to the World," was sung and prayer was offered by Miss Paul, after which Mrs. Wartman read the Dominion Leaflet on Stewardship, in which the giving of time, strength, skill, money and all of life was stressed. Mrs. Johnston conducted a questionaire on the Blue Book, which showed some of the work done in the different schools, hospitals and city missions of the dominion. A hymn was sung and prayer offered after which social time was spent over the tea cups, where all enjoyed pleasant intercourse. The ladies thanked Mrs. Hanes for her kind hospitality, and the meeting closed.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Walter Lasher.

There passed away on Saturday, January 5th, 1929, after a short illness at her residence, near Roblin, Mrs. Walter Lasher, aged 59 years, daughter of the late Mrs. Mary Ann Yeomans.

Mrs. Lasher was a true Christian character, always a loving, faithful wife and a kind gentle mother. She leaves to mourn her loss, besides her sorrowing husband, one daughter, Mrs. George Hay, Belleville; and three sons, Roes, Herkimer and Fred, Roblin; also two sisters, Mrs. John Circuit, Switzerville, and Mrs. Amos Storey, Newburgh, and one brother, Mr. Charles Yeomans, Mission City, B.C.

The funeral was held on Monday afternoon in Selby United Church, conducted by Rev. A. E. Oliver, Pastor of Roblin United Church.

Mrs. Blanche Taylor Hudson.

The funeral of Mrs. Blanche Taylor Hudson, who died on Monday, December 31st, 1928, took place at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, at her home, 602 West Manlius street, East Syracuse, Rev. Isaac C. Swift, retired, officiating, and burial was made in Woodlawn cemetery. Mrs. Hudson was a native of Newburgh, Ont., being the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Taylor, and had a wide scope of friends in Napanee and vicinity. Her death was due to a stroke which she suffered on Nov. 2nd. Deceased who had resided in East Syracuse forty-four years, is survived by her husband, William E. Hudson; a daughter, Mrs. Lewis Manzer, of Liverpool, N.Y.; three sons, Carl R. and Keith P. Hudson, of East Syracuse, and Ross M. Hudson, of Syracuse, and two sisters, Mrs. Ella Myers, of Rome, and Mrs. Harry E. Parfs, of Rochester, N.Y.

AGATE

Works of Lapidary's Art Come Down Through Ages from Earliest Civilization.

"Petrified wood" is in most cases "agatized wood" and is thus a variety of agate. Its formation is similar to the process producing the agate amygdules, but it usually occurs in beds of volcanic ash. In past ages vast quantities of the fine volcanic dust drifting down like snow have buried forests of upright and fallen trees in dense, tightly packed volcanic, says Nature Magazine. Sealed away from the air, the wood has decayed very slowly. Infiltrating waters burdened with their load of silica derived from the surrounding ash have made of each microscopic cell of the wood a tiny amygdule-like series of agate layers.

The result is a perfect preservation of the structure of the wood. The ash wears away and leaves the landscape dotted with fallen trunks or upright stumps of forest monarchs transformed to bright colored agate and jasper.

The history of these gems is woven closely with the love of ornament and superstition of primitive peoples. The Sumerians, the earliest inhabitants of Mesopotamia, first used them for cylinder seals, signet rings and beads. Sicily and Egypt, in ancient times, regarded them as capable of healing wounds inflicted by spiders and scorpions, Pliny relates in his Natural History.

The Magi of Persia used the agates for stopping the storms and hurricanes and changing the course of rivers, the magazine points out. One kind made athletes invincible; others helped pearl divers. As ornaments, the stones were used for beads, scarabs, rings and figures by the Persians, and Pliny mentions a beautiful stone possessed by the great Pyrrhus, on which, it was said, nature had carved the Nine Muses and Apollo holding a lyre.

Oriental nations used these gems for signet or finger rings, getting their best ornaments from the workmen of Limodra and later from Cambay. The "cat's-eyes," so-called, were used for money in some localities. The art of coloring was crudely practiced on this continent at an early date.

Mahomedans regarded the stones as marvellous—they would stop the flow of blood, they thought, and increase the supply of human milk during nursing time. China, in the past, held agate next to precious jade in its esteem and believed that the stones were the transformation of the blood of departed spirits. Agate urns or vessels have been found in old tombs and it is recorded that in 662 A.D. an agate vase, three feet high, was sent by the country Fokhara as a gift to the emperor. Hairpins, fish hooks and snuff bottles are made from the mineral. More recently it has been the snuff bottle and [illegible] which they bear testimony. [illegible] were known to the ancients under essentially the same names by which they bear them today.

A LONG TUNNEL.

Spain Plans Tunnel Under Gibraltar Strait — Engineers Go To Africa to Study the Project.

Madrid.—The long cherished and often-expressed desire of King Alfonso of Spain for a tunnel beneath the Straits of Gibraltar, to link Europe and Africa by rail, has been brought measurably nearer with the announcement last week that a commission of technical experts had left for Algeciras to study the project for several months.

Should the commission report favorably, the government would begin immediately the construction of the tunnel, which must be at least eight and one-half miles long.

The announcement also said that only Spanish money and Spanish contractors would be used to accomplish the engineering feat.

Whether or not the Rock of Gibraltar, the British stronghold guarding the entrance to the Mediterranean, will be pierced is not yet known, but it is likely that a way will be found to select a site beyond the British territorial confines.

Previous estimates of the cost ran as high as 250,000,000 pesetas (about $40,500,000), but this sum appears slight in comparison to the strategical value and economic importance the tunnel would command for Spain. While the project would consume at least six years, it would ultimately cut rival the German dream of a Berlin-to-Bagdad railway, for it would connect with the French Sahara railroad, now under construction, and with the Cape-to-Cairo railway.

The road would open a new outlet for the interior wealth of Africa, permit travellers to take a train at Cape Town, South Africa, and go through to Paris or to Constantinople or to Tokio.

Belgium, France, Great Britain and, of course, Spain and Portugal, would immensely benefit, for shipments from their Colonial possessions in Africa could be freighted direct with a great saving in time.

The problem facing the engineers lies not so much in the length of the straits or the fast currents prevailing, but rather in the depth ranging from about 310 meters to 390 meters at the best sites.

While the straits proper call for only eight and one-half miles of tubes the tunnel itself may have to extend for about thirty-three miles.

EMPEY HILL.

The regular monthly meeting of the Empey Hill W. M. S. was held at the home of Mrs. W. Pinney, on Wednesday evening, Jan. 2nd. Owing to so much sickness there was a small attendance. The meeting was conducted by the new President, Mrs. Wilbert Winters. After the regular business was concluded, a social half hour was spent, followed by refreshments.—The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid was held on Tuesday evening, January 8th, at the home of Mrs. H. Kimmerly, with a large number of members and visitors present. The new President, Mrs. O. E. Ashley, presided. After the regular business, a contest was held, which was enjoyed by all. Refreshments were served by the ladies. The two societies are to hold joint meetings during the remainder of the winter, the next one being held at the home of Mrs. Wilbert Winters, on Tuesday evening, Feb. 5th.—There is a lot of sickness in the neighborhood.—Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Russell spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Roy Stafford.—Mrs. Wm. Jackson, Selby, spent a few days with her mother, Mrs. M. J. Winters.—Mrs. Ira Pinney is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Roy Meath.—Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Ashley and Mr. and Mrs. A. Pinney motored to Kingston on Wednesday.

ENTERPRISE W. M. S.

The annual meeting of the W. M. S. of Enterprise was held at the home of Mrs. Dan Wagar, on Dec. 12th, the President, Mrs. H. A. Carscallen, presiding. After the devotional exercises, the reports were given, showing good work done and progress in all lines.

Mrs. Carscallen, after two years of faithful service as President, asked to be relieved, and very unwillingly her request was granted.

The officers for 1929 are as follows:

President—Mrs. H. A. Carscallen.

Vice President—Miss Carrie Jackson.

Second Vice—Mrs. Reuben Dopkins.

Treasurer—Mrs. Harry Bunt.

Recording Secretary—Miss Libbie Reid.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Geo. Nelson.

Associate Helpers Secretaries—Mrs. Mellow and Mrs. Elmore Hubbs.

Missionary Monthly and Literature Secretary—Mrs. Geo. Nelson.

Strangers' Secretary — Mrs. Harry Jackson.

Mission Band Leaders—Mrs. H. A. Carscallen and Mrs. Geo. Dopkins.

Flower Committee—Mrs. Ard Jackson and Mrs. Clayton Brown.

On June 9th, 1930, the W. M. S. met at the home of Mrs. Harry Jackson, for the regular monthly meeting, with a goodly number in attendance.

The meeting was opened with devotional exercises by the President, Mrs. H. A. Bunt. The minutes of the last meetings were read and approved. The Treasurer read a report, showing an increase from last year in our offering.

Our President, Mrs. Bunt, gave a reading "The Home Former". The key note was how to use our blessings and opportunities of the New Year, followed with a Questionaire on the annual report. Mrs. Nelson and Miss Salisbury agreed to arrange where we hold our next four meetings.

The meeting was closed by repeating Adepah.

Had Terrible Trouble With An Aching Back

Ontario Lady Used Dodd's Kidney Pills

Mrs. C. Mason Gladly Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills.

London, Ont., Jan. 15th, (Special)—If we could show you the actual proofs, results attained in thousands of cases suffering from Kidney Trouble, Rheumatism, Backache, etc., it would convince you that Dodd's Kidney Pills are an excellent kidney remedy. One more tribute showing the efficacy of Dodd's Kidney Pills comes from Mrs. C. Mason, 723 Queens Ave., London, Ont. She writes:—"A few years ago I had trouble with my kidneys. A friend advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, which I did, and they surely relieved me. I would gladly recommend them to anyone. I had terrible trouble with my back aching. Six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills relieved me."

Other sufferers of backache tell of pains relieved and health restored through the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. They act directly on the Kidneys. They strengthen the kidneys and put them in shape to strain the impurities out of the blood.

A HIGH GRADE MASH IS LESS EXPENSIVE TO USE IN THE LONG RUN

The Hens Lay More Eggs And Are in Better Health

The average poultryman would undoubtedly find it to be more economical and more profitable to use a good commercial mash put out by a large, reliable manufacturer than to attempt mixing his own.

This is no pipe dream, for it has been proved many times. In a recent issue of the American Poultry Journal, Frank L. Platt, Editor, tells in an editorial of a visit to a poultry farm where two pens of White Leghorns were fed a home-mixed egg mash and two other pens in the same house of the same age and quality received a high-grade commercial mash. The home-mixed mash was the common college formula, consisting of equal parts of corn meal, ground oats, wheat bran, wheat middlings and meat scrap.

Briefly, the birds on the commercial mash ate 7½ less feed, laid 1½ dozen more eggs per bird, weighed ¼ pound more per hen, and were in better health. The answer is easy as to which of the two mashes was the more profitable. A good commercial mash may cost more than some cheap mash, but it is well worth the difference.

Manufacturer Has Advantages

The larger feed manufacturers have many advantages over the individual poultryman when it comes to building formulas, buying ingredients, and mixing them together. Some companies maintain a poultry experiment farm where you may find a dozen or more feed experiments under way almost all the time. College-trained men are in charge of the experimental work. In some of the more recent findings in nutrition the feed manufacturers have led the way.

They have their own laboratories and chemists analyzing each ingredient as it arrives at their mill. The quality and percentage of proteins, carbohydrates, fats and minerals in their feeds are the same from one season to another. The large quantities in which each ingredient is bought puts them in a position where they can get lowest prices and insist upon quality goods.

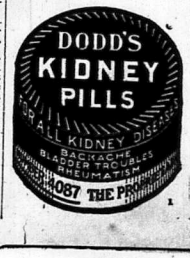
Large machines do the mixing. No poultryman can do as good a job mixing feed by hand as the feed manufacturer can do with the assistance of machinery. Besides many regrind the mash so that every mouthful is the same whether taken from the top of the sack or from the bottom.

Change in Ration Hurts Production

The trouble with mixing your own mash is getting the same quality of ingredients each time. To-day the quality of a certain ingredient may be extra good, for example, the percentage of protein in meat scraps runs high, while next time all you can get is a low-protein meat scrap. You are also likely to have difficulty in getting all of the ingredients called for in the formula. A change in the ration we all know interferes with the egg production of the flock.

Difficulty in getting the ingredients has also very markedly limited the variety used in most of the home-mixed mashes. Experts recommending a simple formula appreciate that it is not the best mash but know it to be superior to oats or corn and water. True enough, but a good commercial mash has been demonstrated to be superior to a simple home-mixed ration.

If you are doubtful that it pays to feed a good commercial mash, there is only one way to convince yourself. Select one of them and feed it to your hens for six months to a year. Now is a excellent time to start. In feeding a commercial mash be sure to follow the manufacturer's feeding directions. They have made a thorough study of the feed and know just how the best result may be obtained. Keep careful record and at the end of the six months or the year you will be in a position to judge the economy of a good mash.



THE BEGGAR OF CARCASSONNE

W. G.—In Manchester Guardian. He is worth the definite article, for besides being the most interesting exhibit in the place he has a function of his own. His is the altar where one sacrifices a few pence of disillusionment. As you turn up from the Route Nationale you are in a twentieth-century atmosphere of blue smoke, heavy grey dust, and roaring cars. The bastion of the château, frowning coldly watchful, like a hostile gendarme. You swing to the right over a bridge and through an archway, and the thirteenth century swallows you up. Before you rises a street, cobbled, steep, and narrow, so that if you take your handlebars as near as you dare to the wall your sidecar mudguard will brush the aprons of the gossips who sit at their doorsteps across the way. Darkness is falling, and lamp and candle show shifting patches of yellow light on stone walls in murky interiors. Ridges of stone stand up, a yard apart, from the cobbles, where the horses of Simon de Montfort scrambled for foothold as their riders spurred up to the château. Probably you will follow that street as it winds, doubles, ascends, drops, and insinuates itself between two gable ends into the tiny six-by-four Place de l'Eglise. Then a swallow-tailed waiter will materialise out of an hotel disguised as a castle, and the thirteenth century will vanish. You would have done better to do penance handsomely where the beggar sits at the gate, and then turning your sacrilegious motorcycle round, ride off to where you might watch the silhouette of the city against the sunset.

The Beggar Knows His Customers.

The beggar appears to realize his mission. He graduates his supplications accurately according to the rank of the almsgiver. To limousine folk he is tremulously pathetic, pushing back his sparse grey hair, dropping his eyelids, and turning his face up so as to get a good light on his wrinkles. People in open cars he accosts confidently, as one gentleman touching another. This method, it appears, succeeds equally well with the young sprig of nobility in the clamorous sports model, the commercial traveller in the miniature two-seater, and the bulky bourgeois taking out his little wife and sallow baby in the scarred Ford. From pedestrians he demands charity for the love of God with a hint of severity. He keeps the true orderly-room manner for motor-cyclists. The beggar occurs throughout France, as a scientist would say, in a pure state and evenly distributed. His appearance and disposition are coloured by his environment. On the steps of cathedrals he borrows a kind of debased religious ecstasy from the associations of the fabric, he patters prayers into the face with one eye on you and the other on his patron saint, as if he were appraising your value at the last centime. As a rule the older the church the older the beggar. There is a withered crone sitting outside the castle at Chinon who looks old enough to remember the coming of Joan of Arc. Half a franc will purchase from her a blessing which will last till you scowl at Farshot. The beggar at the amphitheatre at Arles has a heavy jowl and a cruel eye, and his leering scowl suggests that he is gloating over the details of the Last Restaurant Secutor tie. He gives no blessing, which is probably as well, for even the least disposed recording angel would hum and haw over a testimonial from such a quarter. At Marseilles the beggars are sturdy, with a lean, keen, salt-water look about them, the look of men who are hungry for other things than food. But the beggar at Carcassonne, notwithstanding the changes of demeanour dictated by circumstances, preserves that dignity which we associate with butlers and ambassadors—and that in spite of his spectacular trousers, which we must suspect to be an article to excite compassion.

Carcassonne Neither Dead Nor Alive.

He is an untouched ruin. The architects who go up and down seeking what they may restore have overlooked him. They might have washed the dirt out of his wrinkles, trimmed his nails, crammed him into a new pair of trousers, and exhorted the poor wretch, in the great name of Viollet-le-Duc, to look as young as possible. He would then be as unconvincing as his background. A stone Barbizon like Carassonne, once the first shock of surprise at finding it complete has passed, excites the sensation which Gulliver found so unpleasant. Not that a mediaeval town has no business to be alive, but Carcassonne, like Poe's patient who was hypnotised in articulo mortis, is neither alive nor dead. It is painfully clean and orderly, like a museum exhibit, and all its fifty-three towers, with their guard-houses, spectators, and other fripperies, stir the soul less than a Roman coin or stone unearthed from beneath a city street. It is a line-created bulle; ploughed up at Naseby. The function of a ruin is to be ruinous, to say "Was," not "This is". The restorer has held Carcassonne from decay, but the embalmer's is an odious art. Towers and curtains, like sceptre and crown, should tumble, or they can be made equal in the dust with the best of us. The mossy battlement, the gaping wall where the pine has taken root, the staircase choked by grass, the grass-grown breach where men with whooped hair and coats hacked and thrust at men with ringlets and blue coats—these are the silvery hair and gracious wrinkles of age.

Restoration Not Romance.

If you persist in entering the city you will be charged 1 franc 50 for a Barmecide feast. Stone walls do not a castle make. The pageant is too substantial. It has false teeth, it is true, but it is in the supple grin of the hotel-keeper, not the smarl of the tenant. Besides, they are a false set. You go in expecting romance, and instead you find a splendid piece of work on mediaeval fortification, handsomely bound and clasped, with no dog-eared leaves or grease spots or anything to show that it has ever been used. Even where a page has been torn out—that bastion which was pulled down to build a factory—the excision is carefully concealed. The best thing to do is to throw a fortune to the beggar, who will catch it in his cap without loss of dignity, and then ride a mile to the east and wait for the sunset.

THE W.M.S. OF GRACE UNITED CHURCH.

The W. M. S. of Grace United Church have closed a very satisfactory year. New members have been added, and a feeling of interest has been evinced throughout the year.

In November Mrs. Woodger extended to all the ladies of the Church an invitation to meet at her home the guest of Miss Hambly and Miss Tamiko Marnyama, from Japan. The meeting was both a pleasure and an inspiration.

The December meeting was one of special interest, and the ladies of the Finance Committee were well repaid for their efforts in trying to bring the finances up to the objective. Over one hundred dollars were contributed, bringing the total almost up to the year before.

The first two chapters of the Study Book have been reviewed and enjoyed.

Mrs. Woodger was greatly surprised when presented with Life Membership Certificate and Pin by one whose name was withheld, and expressed her appreciation in fitting words of thanks.

The officers for the year 1929 are as follows:—

Hon. Pres.—Mrs. S. C. Denison.

President.—Mrs. P. Hooper.

1st Vice Pres.—Mrs. A. Kitchen.

2nd Vice Pres.—Mrs. R. J. Smith.

3rd Vice Pres.—Mrs. J. Oliver.

Rec. Secty.—Mrs. S. Hamilton.

Asso. Secty.—Mrs. Symington.

Treasurer—Mrs. J. Frisken.

Miss. Supt.—Miss Reddick.

Miss. Band Supt.—Mrs. Woodger.

Associate Help Secty.—Mrs. R. J. Loucks.

Supply Secty.—Mrs. L. M. Hall.

Stranger Secty.—Mrs. M. B. Judson.

Press Secty.—Mrs. J. B. Stalker.

Corresp. Secty.—Miss Edwards.

Literature Secty.—Mrs. A. E. Paul.

Pianist—Mrs. Seymour and Mrs. Reddick.

Study Book—Mrs. J. B. Stalker.

LUCK.

Let cynics talk and poets prate.
And preachers sermonize,
There's but one roadway for the great,
One pathway for the wise.
Despite the luck that's good or ill,
One gets nowhere by standing still.

Who would have wisdom books must read,
The skilful hand must toil,
Who looks for flowers must plant the seed
And dig and rake the soil.
And who would have a decent name,
Must keep himself from deeds of shame.

Though some inherit lands and gold,
And fortunate are they,
They still must work their wealth to hold
Or it will get away.
And luck or good have never found
Those talents buried in the ground.

The fish are caught within the sea
And never on the shore.
A poor man he will always be
Who never tries for more.
This truth exists and always will:
One gets nowhere by standing still.

All that stands between some people and the top of the ladder is the ladder.

Only $325 COMPLETE

—And It's A Genuine
Rogers-Batteryless!

TO get a genuine, brand-new, 1929 Model Rogers-Batteryless Radio in a beautiful High Boy Cabinet in figured walnut for only $325 is in itself a real value.

But when, incorporated in that same cabinet, is one of the newest type phonographs with electric "pick-up", amplified by radio tubes and reproduced through a powerful cone speaker —with volume, quality and tonal depth found only in phonographs selling for more than this entire combination . . . And when you consider that this is a Rogers product, using the famous guaranteed Rogers A/C Tubes, with four years of proven performance behind it . . . And that this marvelous instrument gives you all that the best radio or best phonograph can give you for only $325—it IS a sensation!

Don't Fail To Hear It . . .

Ask us to demonstrate this wonderful combination instrument—the newest idea in radio. No attachments to connect, no connections to change, no bother or fuss. Now it's a radio—click!—and it's a phonograph—click! —and it's a radio again. Convenient terms, if desired.

THE ISLAND OF THE STAIRS

Being a True Account of Certain Strange and Wonderful Adventures of Master John Hampden, Seaman, and Mistress Lucy Wilberforce, Gentlewoman, In the Great South Seas.

By CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY

Copyright, 1922, by Cyrus Townsend Brady

PROLOGUE.

Here's a tale of the sea and the treasure isle, of long hid gems and bad men's guile, of perils on land and wave well met, 'spite storm and mutiny's awful threat.

The way of a man with a maid is told as they voyage the seas in quest of gold—the man so brave and the maid so fair. For her sake naught he will not dare.

From English fields to south sea shore their path they follow while billows roar, but it leads them safe to their goal at last, with their love and their treasure tightly clasped.

CHAPTER I.

Wherein I Bait the Duke Over the Dead.

I CANNOT say that I was greatly surprised when I stumbled across the body of Sir Geoffrey in the spinney, which is not for a moment meant to convey the impression that I was not shocked. I had expected that Sir Geoffrey would come to some such sad end; therefore I say that I was not surprised. But as I stood over him in the gray dawn, looking down upon him lying so quietly on his back with the handsome, silver mounted, ivory handled dueling pistol which had done the damage still clasped in his right hand I was fascinated with horror.

Sir Geoffrey had carefully put his bullet through his heart. It was less disfiguring and brutal, less hard on those left behind, less troublesome, more gentlemanly. His sword lay underneath him, the diamond hilt protruding.

I guessed that he was glad enough after all, that the end had come, for there was not that look of pain or horror or fear which I have so often seen on the faces of the dead, but his features were calm and composed. He had not been dead long. As I bent over him I noticed that he had something in his left hand. A nearer look showed it to be an envelope. I drew it away and saw that it was addressed to Mistress Lucy. Thrusting it in the pocket of my coat, I rose to my feet.

At that instant I heard steps and voices. Now I had nothing on earth to fear from anybody. The death of Sir Geoffrey was too obviously a suicide for any one to accuse me even if there had been any reason on earth for bringing me under suspicion. The letter which I carried in my pocket addressed to Mistress Lucy would undoubtedly explain everything there was to explain. Something, however, moved me to seek concealment. I am a sailor, as you will find out, and can act quickly in an emergency by a sort of instinct.

Sir Geoffrey lay on the side of the path through the spinney, and beyond him the coppice thickened. The path twisted and turned. From the sound of the footsteps I judged that men were coming along it. I instantly stepped across the body and concealed myself behind a tree trunk in the leafy foliage of the undergrowth. I could see without being seen and hear as well.

I did not expect that any of the guests of the castle would make their appearance at that hour. The foot steps stopped. Two men, one of whom I had been pointed out to me as Baron Luffdon, in the lead, followed by an other who was strange to me, suddenly appeared. A voice which I recognized as Luffdon's at once exclaimed in awestruck tones:

"By gad, he's done it! Here's a pretty affair!"

"Oh, I don't know," said the second; "it might be worse!"

"Worse for him? Great heavens, man, he's dead!"

"Worse for us."

"What d'ye mean? I don't understand."

"He might have shot himself before we reached him."

"Oh, I see!"

The two stepped a little nearer. The first speaker, Lord Luffdon, one of the young bloods who had been having high carouse with Sir Geoffrey for the last week at the castle, bent over him.

"Well," continued the drawler nonchalantly—as for me, I hated them both, but the latter speaker the more, if possible, for reasons which you will presently understand—"this relieves me greatly."

"What do you mean? After such a night as we had to come upon—this is enough to unsettled any man."

"Pooh, pooh, man; you're nervous!"

"Well, I don't know how it relieves you. And after all's said and done, Wilberforce was a gentleman, a good player and a gallant loser."

"And you got it, at least most of it."

"Patience, my friend; you had your share."

"I don't know but I would give it back to have poor old Geoff with us once again," said Luffdon, with some heat.

"That is a perfectly foolish statement, my buck," returned the other. "Somebody was bound to get it. Wilberforce has been going the pace for years. We happened to be in at the death, that's all."

"Well, how does it relieve you, then? Do you think Wilberforce would have attempted to get you to support him?"

The drawler laughed.

"Of course not. This"—he pointed to the dead body—"is proof enough of the spirit that was in him. But, of course, I cannot marry the girl now."

"You can't?"

"Certainly not. Her father a bankrupt, a suicide"—

"But the castle and this park?"

"Mortgaged up to the hilt. Speaking of hilts"—he stooped down and, daintily avoiding contact with the corpse, drew from the scabbard the diamond hilted sword—"this belongs to me. It's worth taking. You remember he staked it last night on the last deal."

"Good God, man," protested the first speaker, "don't take the man's sword away! Let him lie with his weapons like a gentleman."

"Tut, tut! You grow scrupulous, it seems. We will provide a cheaper lodge of his knighthood, if necessary."

"And about the girl?"

"'Tis all off."

"You will have some trouble breaking your engagement with her, I am thinking."

"Not I. To do me justice, the girl has the spirit of her father. A whisper that I am disinclined to the match will be sufficient."

"Aye, but who will give her that whisper?"

"We will arrange that some way. Truth to tell, I am rather tired of the mint. She bores me with her high airs. She does not know that she is penniless and disgraced. And as for her good looks, 'tis a country beauty, after all."

Boots Iodized Throat Tablets (containing Iodine, Carbolic Acid Mentholeter), are unequalled for sore throat or as a preventative of diseases originating in the throat. 25c. a box at Wallace's.

NAPANEE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

On Tuesday, January 8th, the first meeting of the Women's Institute was held, with a large attendance. Mrs. Hagh, in her usual capable manner, conducted the business. Mrs. Haggarty, once more, in a very admirable paper, reviewed the news of the day. Of special interest to all was a travelogue around the world as told by Mrs. J. W. Robinson. Beginning at New York, from where the ocean liner sailed, with bands playing, and crowds cheering, she described her experiences in such a graphic manner that every one in the audience imagined they too were taking the trip of 28400 miles during the months of January to April. The first port of call was the Madeira Islands, with its linens so dear to the housewife's heart. A short stop at historic Gibralter was followed by Island trips to places of unusual interest in the countries of Southern Europe, and also Egypt, in Africa, India, Java, China and Japan, affording the merry an opportunity to view many places of interest in ancient history and modern industry. In mid Pacific, the port of call was the tropic Hawaiian Islands, so dear to the heart of all tourists. A trip through the Panama Canal, for which the toll was $10,000, brought the touring party to Cuba. A few more days' sail ended the world's cruise, when the liner again docked at New York, after a four months' trip with twenty-six ports of call.

Mrs. Robinson's vivid description of each place of interest was supplemented by many humorous experiences. Her narration of her visit to Monte Carlo and the journey into the African desert, where the party spent a night at the home of a wealthy sheik, gave each one present an echo of the thrills she experienced. The time was all too short to describe a globe encircling cruise, and the ladies owe Mrs. Robinson a debt of gratitude for her wonderful address.

Arrangements were then made for the ever popular Mother and Daughter banquet to be held on January 31st. A very attractive programme with a Department speaker, is being prepared.

OBITUARY

Miss Sara McGuin.

The many friends of Miss Sara McGuin were shocked to hear on Thursday morning, January 10th, 1929, that she had suddenly passed away that morning. She had been in her usual health until the evening before, when she complained of not feeling very well. A Doctor was summoned, but he did not consider her case serious, but in the early morning she was taken suddenly worse and passed away. She was the older daughter of Mr. F. Q. McGuin, and formerly resided at Morven and Napanee, but a short time after the death of her mother, she moved to Philadelphia, to reside with her sister, Mrs. J. C. Perry, who survives her. The remains were accompanied to Napanee by her nephew, Mr. Fred Perry, and niece, Mrs. Kathleen Perry Ashton, and interment took place in the family plot at Morven. Rev. Mr. Seymour, of Morven, conducted the burial service.

NAPANEE BEAVER

SOME GOOD BARGAINS IN USED MOTOR CARS

By J. V. McAree.

It has been argued that dollar for dollar a man gets better value for the money he spends in an automobile than for anything else he buys, and it is also a fact that pound for pound a motor car is cheaper than tub butter. We have heard it said that there are no bad cars any more, that there are merely some cars that are better than others. The same remark has been applied, with a good deal of optimism, to whisky. Writing in Collier's, Walter Davenport suggests that the best value of all may be found in used cars. We pause here to salute the genius who invented this phrase to describe a second-hand car; it has meant hundreds of millions to the industry. A second-hand car suggests something almost as undesirable as a second-hand mattress or a second-hand toothbrush, but a used car, somehow or other, conveys the suggestion of a trained car, a car that has been deftly and smoothly broken in almost a refined car, not a bounder still smelling of the enamel hardly dry upon the metal work. Well a new car becomes a used car as soon as the new owner takes his seat, slams the door and steps on the gas. If he paid $2,000 for it, and drives it around the block it becomes worth—to the dealer from whom he has bought it—about $1,500.

Bargains in Used Cars.

But it may still be worth $2,000. Certainly it is just as good for all purposes, except sudden re-sale, as it was when he was writing his cheque for it, but its market value has declined this much because it is a used car. This suggests, as Mr. Davenport argues that a man may pick up a better bargain in a used car than in a new car. So far as value to the dealer is concerned, a car has depreciated in value between 30 per cent. and 40 per cent. after a year of normal wear. But it has not been driven more than from 10 per cent. to 15 per cent. of its normal possible milage. Therefore if you buy a car at from 60 per cent. to 70 per cent. of its usual cost after it has been in use for a year you are buying between 85 per cent. and 90 per cent. of its original mileage. That is obviously a bargain, and is not the sort of bargain that is to be had in any new car. Speaking generally, the person who buys used cars from a reputable dealer is just as likely to be satisfied at the end of the year as the man who buys a new car. Statistics collected on this point by a large Detroit manufacturer showed that 85 per cent. of purchasers of used cars were satisfied while only a few claimed that they had been the victims of misrepresentation by dealers.

Dealer's Reputation Important.

There is no longer anything to be apologetic about in buying a used car, for a banker mentioned by Mr. Davenport buys two used cars a year for $3,500 each which cost a year earlier $5,000. But it is much easier to be fooled when buying a car whose history is unknown. There may be hidden deficiencies unsuspected by the dealer who buys the car and therefore not communicated to the purchaser. Should this happen in a new car the purchaser has redress, but if the used car is not guaranteed for a certain length of time it may be difficult to locate the responsible person. Therefore, the writer says, that the greatest attention should be paid to the reputation of the dealer, and this being satisfactory, it is a wise thing to spend $10 for the advice of a motor mechanic who will spend a couple of hours examining the car to be purchased. He can give it a thorough examination in that time and can at least assure his client if he is getting value for his money. If the dealer is not cordial to the mechanic, a wise move is to go to some other dealer.

The Engine is the Car.

The main thing one is buying in a car is an engine. The least important things are enamel, paint and upholstery, yet it is these non-essentials that are likely to impress the unsophisticated purchaser, just as it may be the flower holder that charms his wife and makes her forget to count the wheels. Another important point to observe is whether the frame has been knocked out of alignment as the result of an accident. Too much play of the front wheels is a suggestion of worn axles. Run the car in reverse and slow it down. Then listen to clicks from the rear end. Cars that growl and chatter behind the buyer's back are to be avoided. Start the engine, advises Mr. Davenport. Then plunge the accelerator down all the way. The engine will race. Then, as suddenly, release the accelerator. As you do this, place the palm of your hand on the top of the gear-shift rod. If the rod vibrates or wobbles freely you are feeling piston slap, which means that the cylinders are too large. Not too much attention should be paid to the speedometer, for it is quite possible to doctor up these important little devices so that they will show whatever mileage is desired.

Used Car Problem.

It is estimated that only about one-tenth of the sale of motor cars sold in the United States last year, and we presume the same percentage would apply to Canada, were what is known in the trade as clean deals. That is to say, deals in which no other car was traded in. That provides one of the great problems of the business, both for the manufacturer and the dealer. The latter must be very cautious in what he allows for used cars, and knows that if he allows more than 40 per cent. of the value of the new car for the old he is looking for trouble and menacing the five per cent profit which the new car should yield. Some manufacturers, on the other hand, knowing what a great percentage of the dealer's business involves used cars, will deprive a dealer of the agency if it should be proved that he misrepresented a used car, even if it should not have been a car of this manufacturer's make. In some places dealers unite to buy old and almost worthless cars and scrap them rather than have them running about the streets spoiling the sale for more valuable cars, and perhaps, because of their unsatisfactory performances, spoiling possible customers for any kind of used car.

THE MORNING PASSES

By Rowland Cragg
In Manchester Guardian.

With the first early passing footsteps Shamus uncurled himself from his corner at the foot of the stairs, stretched himself, and settled again with his head on his paws. He knew the footsteps, knew to expect them; all was well. He dozed lightly, Presently there were others, also known and to be expected, but the sound of them brought him sharply to his feet, alert, ears pricked. It was the man from the end house, whose clothing carried scents that always attracted the dog. The man was a corn dealer, a fact beyond Shamus's comprehension, but he did know that about his clothing were the scents of horses, of grass, of hay, something that suggested open spaces and clean, fresh air. The man moved down the street with haste—he was late,—and something of his urge was sensed by the dog. He padded restlessly to the closed door, listening uneasily until the sounds died away.

It was time now, he knew, that his own household should be moving. At a run he went up the stairs, crouched at the closed door of the bedroom and breathed loudly through the narrow opening at the bottom of the door. There was a yawn; he snorted heavily through the opening. A laugh, and a voice "Hullo, old alarm clock; on time again." Together man and dog padded to the bathroom, but the dog remained outside. Bathrooms, he had learned, were no places for dogs, for doors had an unpleasant habit of closing of themselves, imprisoning the explorer. They were, therefore, to be avoided.

Shamus and His Dog Friends.

There were occasional times when the master took his old hat off the rack in the hall. A hat shapeless from exposure to rain and sun and wind, and all the weather that blows. When that happened there was tumult and racket and all manner of noises, and great times in the open to follow. With undying hope Shamus watched his master each morning, hope that slowly oozed away as if out at the end of a dropping tail when another hat was taken. Then it was he would abruptly turn, enter the drawing room, and from a chair watch the form of the man disappear down the street. Half an hour later he was free to set out for adventure. The mornings were always promising. There was a change that the Cairn terrier might escape the servants in the big house in the next street and have an hour or more of freedom. Failing him there was a bull terrier of questionable ancestry with whom he has established friendly relations, and a young Airedale, awkward and disproportionate of leg, was but one of half a dozen other dogs to be encountered.

It was the Cairn, perky in his freedom, whom he met, and together they made for the field where houses were fast springing up. Here was newly sawn wood with an alluring scent, there were breakfast scraps from the workmen, shells of houses in which to play a glorious game, and beyond was a shallow brook where they could trace a sometime presence of water rats, though they never glimpsed these wily people. Still, it was great fun to splash about the water, to lie in the shallows, to dry themselves in strenuous rough and tumble work in the fields afterwards. It was play that tired the Cairn soon this morning, and with a tail that told of weariness he made for home.

A Friendly Call on Baby.

Shamus, drifting homeward also, found a warm spot in the sun in his own gate, and, stretching himself along the pavement, kept an eye on the street. He knew, when a door banged, that Mrs. Mason was starting out on her shopping. She was one of the inhabitants of the street he endured, and stolidly suffered her when she stopped and patted his head. He was more interested in what was happening across the way. It was a perambulator that came poking out of a gate, with a nursemaid, and he strolled across to meet them. His forepaws were on the side of the vehicle, his ears pricked. There was a laughing crow, a tiny hand, grasping air, dropped on his cold nose, and the little fingers sought to close on it. He licked them, his tail wagging, until the girl shooed him off. He padded back to the gate. Presently the street was empty. The clink of trowel on brick was the only sound in the quiet air, and it soothed him. The sun was warm. He dropped his head on his paws and slept.

Shamus Resents Intruders.

What little drift of wind warned him that his enemy was coming would have registered nothing to human senses, but it brought the dog instantly to his feet, teeth baring, hair rising, legs held stiffly. As if on stilts, he moved along to where a lean brown dog was emerging from a narrow entry into the street, a dog which moved stealthily, which is not the manner of honest dogs, and blancing about it furtively. There had been encounters between the two, beginning with a fight of which the street still talks. The postman is the best authority to quote. He tells the story vigorously and with appreciation.

"Aye, it wor a reight fight, an' all," he will explain. "I saw it all, an' wouldn't ha' missed it. Shamus had joined me, as he allus does, an' when we'd gotten to his gate there wor that brown cur digging up bones in the garden."

From which it would appear that the brown dog had committed the unforgivable and unforgettable sin of raiding another's treasury.

"Well," to quote the postman further, "Shamus rolled him over i' no time. They brake through t' fence into t' next garden, fought across t' entry and into t' next garden, and a toothree more, and finished i' t' parson's garden seven houses off. Then t' brown 'un went, and could hardly turn t' corner, he wor going that fast."

Dinner Time in Dogland.

There was no fight this morning; the brown fellow had too good a start, and seeing it was hopeless Shamus returned. On his way back he caught a fresh scent, and had his cat well treed when footsteps sent him flying into the street again to meet his master. Together they entered the house. Shamus flung himself across the hearth, his posture suggesting weariness, but eye and ear alert. The noise of plates told him that the midday meal was served. He rose and shoved a cold nose semindfully against his master's hand. A well-spent morning.

NORTHERN CARIBOU CHANGING HABITS

Are Increasing Rather Than Decreasing in Numbers Count Tolstoi Believes.

Fires and the slow creeping in of civilization are responsible for the changes in the habits of the immense herds of caribou that roam the Barren Lands according to Count Ilia Tolstoi, grandson of the great philanthropist and writer, who reached Winnipeg over the Canadian National Railways after nearly five months in the wilderness of the North West Territories. Count Tolstoi was in charge of the expedition sponsored by the American Museum of Natural History to study the migration of the caribou. He was accompanied by Horace Ashton and W. J. Casel, photographer. When Count Tolstoi and Mr. Casel reached Winnipeg from The Pas with them was George Yandle, Arctic trapper, who has not seen civilization for fifteen years, his first reaction to it was a pair of fancy spats with zippers.

"The caribou of the Barrens have made more changes in their habits in the past three years than they have done for a century," Count Tolstoi said. Some scientists and old timers were of the opinion that the herds were decreasing, but he believed that they were increasing. They were moving farther away in their great sweeping circles; on this trip he saw herds numbering thousands of heads but the big herd did not come within the ken of the explorers. Count Tolstoi strongly advocates the use of airplanes for the study of caribou migration.

The party left Winnipeg for the North on August 14th and went from Sturgeon Landing a thousand miles by water as far as Reindeer, Neultin and Windy Lakes; ninety-seven portages were necessary.

The return was made with dogs bought from the Eskimo. "Wonderful animals these Eskimo dogs," said Tolstoi, "I am taking five of them back with me to New York. We did 800 miles with them in, about a month and after two days rest made the 49 miles from Sturgeon Landing to The Pas in seven and a half hours." There were no misadventures on the long trip into the wilds.

The most humorous incident was probably the reception of 18 Eskimo trappers in the small tent and a debauch of raisins and chocolate.

Count Tolstoi, who came to America to study animal husbandry at Ames Iowa has no ambitions in literature. "I dare not with a name like mine," he says. He likes the outdoors and hopes to give his life to exploration and particularly the study of animals. Some day he hopes to get back into the Barrens to spend two or three years studying the fascinating caribou.

"I believe there are great possibilities in them," he says. "They are as tame as sheep and should be easily domesticated. We were able to obtain excellent motion pictures of them."

NEW STAMPS ARE ISSUED BY CANADA

Canada's new pictorial stamp issue was completed when the four larger denominations went on sale Tuesday. The stamps are stated by post office officials to be regarded by philatelists as the finest produced in any country. Each section of Canada is represented. The one dollar stamp carries a picture of the Parliament Building and is significant of the central part of the country. For the Maritimes the 50-cent denomination shows the schooner Bluenose winning the international fisherman's race. The Quebec Bridge appears on the 12-cent stamp. The Prairies are typified in the 20-cent stamp by a picture of a western wheatfield. The ten-cent stamp bears a representation of a mountain in British Columbia with totem poles on the border.

The lower denominations carry the Kings head. All numerals are larger than in previous issues. The stamps are stated to be among the finest examples of the engraver's art. Under the microscope the windows in the Parliament Buildings may be counted, and figures of horses in the British Columbia stamp, though much smaller than a pin head, are replete with detail.

The Bell Telephone Company and the Northern Electric

THE relationship between the Bell Telephone Company and the Northern Electric Company is direct and definite. It consists of:—

1. ownership—the telephone company controls the Northern Electric by owning 51 per cent of Northern Electric shares.
2. contract—the telephone company has a contract with the Northern Electric by which the latter sells equipment to the telephone company at favorable prices.

The telephone company thus has direct control of its source of supplies. Without control there would be constant risk of being forced to pay high prices for apparatus or of being unable to secure consistent standard of equipment.

If either of these conditions prevailed the result would be higher rates or poor service for telephone users.

Apart from this protection there are two definite results secured. These are: first, dividends; second, low prices.

1. dividends from Northern Electric

THE Northern Electric has developed from a small beginning to an outstanding Canadian success.

In 1928 its total business was more than $25,000,000 which is four times its business in 1914.

48 per cent of this total was with the Bell Telephone Company. 11 per cent was with other telephone companies and 41 per cent was in general electrical business in Canada and abroad.

In all this total of success the Bell Telephone Company participates as majority shareholder. 51 per cent of all dividends paid by the Northern Electric have come back to the telephone company's revenues.

In the fifteen years since the Northern Electric was incorporated the telephone company has received from it in dividends over two-and-a-half million dollars.

These have contributed to operate the system in place of equal sums subscribers would otherwise be called on to pay.

The dividends paid by Northern Electric represent an average annual return of only 5.7 per cent on the capital stock, surplus earnings having been devoted consistently to extend plant and equipment.

2. low prices from Northern Electric

THE contract between these two companies stipulates that the prices which the Bell Telephone Company pay for equipment shall be as low as, or lower than, the lowest prices paid to Northern Electric by its other customers.

The other customers of Northern Electric include every telephone system of importance in Canada and business from them has been secured in open competition with British and American manufacturers.

It is thus the lowest price level of this competitive business which governs the prices paid by the Bell Telephone Company.

The Board of Railway Commissioners in 1926 made a detailed inquiry into these prices and their judgement was that "—the agreement and supplementary agreement which govern their relations are distinctly advantageous to the Bell Telephone Company."

Proof of this is seen in comparing costs of building the telephone system and rates paid by subscribers with those of other systems.

The average cost of building other systems in Canada, England, Brazil and the United States has been $257 per telephone. The cost in Ontario and Quebec has been $189 per telephone, or 17 per cent less than the average.

And the rates which telephone users pay in Ontario and Quebec are the lowest in the world for comparable service.

A large factor in obtaining these low costs and low rates has been the arrangement and relationship between the Bell Telephone Company and the Northern Electric Company.

No home where asthma is present in the least degree should be without this great remedy.

An American was prowling around a Scottish churchyard. His eyes caught an epitaph. "Lord, she was thin."

"Say, sexton, what d'ye think of that?" he asked.

"That's all right, sir; the sculptor went over near the edge of the stone and did'na leave room for the 'e'."

Miller's Worm Powders, being in demand everywhere, can be got at any chemist's or drug shop, at very small cost. They are a reliable remedy for worm troubles and can be fully relied upon to expel worms from the system and abate the sufferings that worms cause. There are many mothers that rejoice that they found available so effective a remedy for the relief of their children.

He went to the club, leaving with his wife a lady friend whose activities as a scandal-monger were well-known in the neighborhood. When he returned he poked his head round the door and said: "That old cat's gone, I suppose?" There was a most dreadful silence, in which he encountered a stony glare from the lady in question; then his wife said sweetly, "Oh, yes, dear; I sent it to the cat's home in a basket the first thing this morning."

A man mortgaged his home to buy an automobile. Then he went around and tried to mortgage the car to get money to build a garage.

"How are you going to buy gas?" curiously inquired the man of whom the loan was asked.

"Well," replied the other slowly, "if I own a house, a car and a garage, I should think any dealer would be willing to trust me for gas."

A Remedy For Earache. — To have the earache is to endure torture. The ear is a delicate organ and few care to deal with it, considering it work for a doctor. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil offers a simple remedy. A few drops upon a piece of lint or medicated cotton and placed in the ear will do much in relieving pain.

A young lady from Paris was visiting New York, and one day she wanted to buy an eponge pour la bain—a bath sponge—and she inquired of her hostess how she should ask for it in the shop.

"Ask," her hostess said, "for a big bath sponge to take home with you."

So the young lady visited a fashionable drug store and walked up to a good looking young salesman, and smiled prettily and said:

"Ef you please, will you kindly take me home and geeve me a beeg sponge bath?"

The Many Purpose Oil.—Both in the house and stable there are scores of uses for Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Use it for cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, the pains in rheumatism and sciatica, sore throat and chest. Horses are liable very largely to similar ailments and mishaps as afflict mankind, and are equally amenable to the healing influence of this fine old remedy which has made thousands of firm friends during the past fifty years.

A teacher in a local Sunday School was testing her scholars' knowledge of the Ten Commandments. Coming to the last one. "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house; thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's wife," the teacher asked:

"Can anyone tell me why Moses wrote down house before wife?"

"Because a house is harder to get," replied one of the boys.

Thousands of Mothers Use No Other Medicine

Baby's Own Tablets Are The Ideal Remedy for Babies and Young Children.

Canadian mothers are noted for the care they give their little ones—the health of the baby is most jealously guarded and the mother is always on the lookout for a remedy which is efficient and at the same time absolutely safe. Thousands of mothers have found such a remedy in Baby's Own Tablets and many of them use nothing else for the ailments of their little ones. Among them is Mrs. Howard King, of Truro, N.S., who says:—"I can strongly recommend Baby's Own Tablets to mothers of young children as I know of nothing to equal them for little ones."

age, exhibiting his own blade as he spoke and making as if to draw it.

"No," said I, master of the situation as I meant to be, "there will be no more fighting over the dead body of Sir Geoffrey. You and Lord Luffdon can settle your differences elsewhere."

"On second thought, there will be no further settlement," said Luffdon, regaining his coolness and thrusting back into its scabbard his half drawn blade. "His grace and I are in too many things to make a permanent difference between us possible."

"I thought so," I replied.

"By gad," laughed Luffdon, "I like your spirit, lad! Who are you and what are you?"

"The late gardener's son."

"Do they breed such as you down here in these gardens?"

"As to that I know not, my lord. I am a sailor. I have commanded my own ship and made my own fortune. I come back here between cruises because I am devoted to"—

"The woman?" sneered the duke. And I marveled at the temerity of the man, seeing that I could have choked him to death with one hand.

"Mention her name again," I cried, "and you will lie beside your victim yonder!"

"Right!" said Luffdon approvingly.

"I come back here because I am fond of the old place; it is my home. My people have served the Wilberforces for generations. Their forbears and mine lie together in the churchyard around the hill yonder. You can't understand devotion like that," said I, turning to the duke, "and it is not necessary that you should."

"And indeed what is necessary for me, pray?" he sneered.

"That you leave the place at once."

"Without speech with my lady?"

"Without speech with any one. There is a good inn at the village. I will take it upon myself to see that your servants pack your mails and follow you there at once."

"I will not be ordered about like this!" protested the duke.

"Oh, yes, you will," said Luffdon. "The advice he gives is good. We have nothing more to do here. Don't be a fool, Arrester. You have got everything you wanted in this game, and it is only just that you should pay a little for it. What's your name, my man?"

"Never mind what it is."

"Are you ashamed of it?"

"Hampdon."

"Hampdon, you may not be a gentleman," said Luffdon, "but by gad you are a man, and here's my hand on it!"

He had played a man's part so I clasped it.

And so they went down the path, leaving me not greatly relishing my triumph, for I had to tell Mistress Lucy all that had happened.

The scarlet of my lady's riding coat as she galloped up the tree covered road attracted my attention. I quickened my pace, and as I arrived at the steps of the hall at the same instant. She was alone, for she had evidently chosen to ride unaccompanied.

I stood silent before her with that curious dumbness I generally experience when first entering her presence, while she drew rein sharply. She was a little thing compared to me—indeed, small compared even to the average woman, but in one sense she was the biggest thing I had ever confronted. I was almost afraid of her! I who feared nothing else. What she thought of the ways of little moment to her.

It was Mistress Lucy's regular habit to take a morning gallop every day. It was that usual custom that caused her to look so fresh and young and beautiful, that put the color in her cheek and the sparkle in her eye.

She nodded reflexively, yet kindly, to me. It was her habit, that careless kindness. When she was a little girl and I had been a great boy we had played together familiarly, but that was long since over. Then she looked about for a groom. The steps that led to the terrace were deserted. Sir Geoffrey of late had grown slack in the administration of affairs on account of his troubles, and no one was present. Mistress Lucy stared at me, frowning.

CHAPTER II.

Wherein I Break the News.

"MASTER HAMPDON," said Mistress Lucy at last, "since nobody else seems to be about, suppose you attempt the task."

She loosed her little foot from the stirrup and thrust it out toward me. I am nothing of a horseman. I was very early sent to sea, and I have a sailor's awkwardness with horses. Naturally, I did not know how a lady should be dismounted. I stepped over to her, seized her about the waist with both hands, lifted her bodily from the saddle and set her down gently on the gravel. She looked at me very queerly and gave a faint shriek as her weight came upon my arms. Indeed, I have no doubt that I held her tightly.

"I dare say there is not a man among my father's friends or mine who could have done that, Master Hampdon," said she smiling a little and looking flushed and excited.

"'Tis no great feat," said I stupidly enough. "I have lifted bigger"—

"Women!" flashed out Mistress Lucy, slightly frowning up at me.

"Things," I replied.

"I'll assure you," she said, "I have never been dismounted that way before. However, you always were stronger than most men, even as a boy. There seems to be no ground about. The pitch is wretchedly served. Will you force my horse to the stables?" she asked me.

There was a certain flattery to me in that request. If I had not shown her how strong I was in all probability she would have thrown me the bridle and, with a nod toward the stables to indicate her wishes, would have left me without a word.

"Have you seen my father this morning?" she asked as I paused before her.

As luck would have it, while she spoke a sleepy groom came round the house. I flung the reins to him, bade him take the horse away and turned to my lady.

"Madam," said I, my voice thick-ening and choking, "I have seen your noble father this morning."

There was something in my voice and manner, great shield fool that I was, that instantly apprised her that something was wrong. With one swift step she was by my side

"Where?"

"In the spinney."

"What does he there at this hour?"

"Nothing."

"I don't understand."

"Sir Geoffrey,"— I began racking my brains what to say next and how to convey the awful tidings.

She made a sudden step or two in my direction, then turned toward the coppice, her suspicions fully aroused.

But now I ventured upon a familiarity—that is, I turned and caught her arm.

"I will see him myself," she began resolutely.

"Madam," said I swiftly, "you can not."

"Master Hampdon," she said, "something dreadful has happened."

I nodded.

This was breaking it gently with a vengeance, but what could I do? She always did twist me around her little finger, and I was always more or less helpless before her. I admit that. I am still, for that matter, although she will not have it so.

"What is it? Is my father—what is he doing in the spinney? He never rises at this hour!"

"Mistress Wilberforce," I said, "you are of a brave stock, and the time for your courage is now."

"Is my father dead?" she asked, after a sudden, awful stillness.

I nodded while she stared at me like one possessed.

"Killed in a duel?" she whispered as she put my head.

"Mistress," said I, "he died by his own hand."

"Oh, my God!" she cried, clapping her hands to her face and reeling back.

I caught her about the waist. She had no knowledge that she was held or supported. Of course, all her interest and attention were elsewhere. She did not weep or give way otherwise. She was a marvelous woman, and her self mastery and control amazed me, for I knew how she had loved her father.

"When? Why?" she gasped out.

"I was early awake," I answered—and I did not tell her it was my habit to see her gallop off for that morning first—"and I heard a shot in the spinney. I hurried there and found Sir Geoffrey"—

"Let us go to him."

"No," said I. And I marveled to find myself assuming the direction as if I had been on the deck of my own ship, "that you cannot. It is no sight for your eyes. I was coming to the castle to tell you and to send the servants to fetch him. Meanwhile you go into the hall and summon your women and"—

"I will do what you say, Master Hampdon," she whispered very small, very forlorn, very despairing. "My father! My dear, loved father!"

She turned, and I, still supporting her, we mounted the steps of the terrace. Suddenly she stopped, freed herself and faced me.

"Lord Luffdon and the Duke of Arcester," she explained, "they are staying at the castle. They must be notified."

"Madam," said I, "they already know it."

"And why, then, have they left the duty of telling me to you? Where are they? Summon them at once!"

"They are gone," I blustered out, my rage at the duke retiring.

"Gone!"

"Having won everything from Sir Geoffrey they have left him alone in his death!" I retorted bitterly.

"Impossible!"

"I ordered them off the place," I said bluntly.

"You?" she flashed out imperiously. "And who gave you the power to dismiss—my father's friends?"

"I heard what they said, being hidden myself."

"And what did they say?"

"It concerned you, mistress."

"The Duke of Arcester," she promptly began, "is my betrothed husband. I will hear no calumny against him."

"Madam," I said, "your engagement is broken."

"Broken!" she cried in amaze.

"The duke declared himself too poor to marry the penniless child of a disgraced man—his words, not mine, believe me."

She turned so white and reeled so that I caught her again. I even shook her while I cried roughly:

"You must not give way."

"It is a lie, a dastardly lie!" she panted out at last.

"It is God's truth," said I. "He repudiates you."

"No man could be so base," she persisted. "He swore that he loved me."

"I would it were otherwise, madam, but he is gone, leaving that message for you."

"And he made you his messenger?"

I volunteered."

"Why? Why?"

"Because he is a low coward."

"And you stood by and let him insult me, your patron's daughter, your mistress?"

I told her what had happened in the spinney.

"In all that," she said in a certain strained way, "you acted as a loyal servitor of the house, and I thank you."

"I am to give orders to have his baggage sent to the inn at once," said I.

"And Lord Luffdon?"

"He came to your defense as if he were still the gentleman he had once been. But he goes hence with his friend. His baggage will also follow him."

"I will attend to that for them both," said Mistress Lucy, growing strangely and firmly resolved again, and even I could guess the tremendous constraint she put upon herself. "Steward Arcester. I am well rid of him and of his companions. Summon the servants to bring my father's body to the castle. I suppose the crowner will have to be notified."

"Yes," said I; "I will attend to that."

"Of all my friends," said she ironically, "you seem to be the only one left, Master Hampdon."

"I have been your faithful servant always, Mistress Lucy," I answered as I quelled her into the hall.

I delivered my little mistress to her woman, who came at my call, and then I summoned the butler and steward and told them what had happened. In a moment all was confusion. They brought the body of Sir Geoffrey back to the castle, which was no longer his. As the duke had said, it was mortgaged to its full value. Everything that he could get his hands on had been sacrificed to his passion for play.

After the inquest and after a due interval for decent respect for the dead

there was a great funeral, of course, during which what little ready money there was available was of necessity spent. The gentry came for miles around. Even Luffdon was there in the background, although Arcester had the decency to keep away. I was there, too, finding a place among the upper servants of the household. I had met other trouble having their origin in weak, watery blood.

The splendid results following the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is shown by the case of Mrs. Lucy A. Cushing, a former resident of Kempt, N.S., now living with her son at West Bethel, Me. Mrs. Cushing says: "I have no hesitation in strongly recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. For years I was a great sufferer from indigestion. Always after eating I suffered from pain in my stomach and other distressing symptoms that accompany this ailment. I tried different doctors while residing at my old home and also at West Bethel, but without getting relief. I was advised by a friend to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did so and I must say that I am feeling very grateful ever since to the good friend who gave me the advice. I soon found the pills helping me and by the time I had taken nine or ten boxes I was completely restored to good health. Though I am now in my 76th year I am feeling as well and smart as I did at 35, and am enjoying life once more."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Stomach Restorer

Good Advice From One Who Had Suffered Much

Discomfort after eating, gas pains in the intestinal tract, pains around the heart, sour risings in the throat called heartburn, are common symptoms of dyspepsia. It is a condition often neglected until it has done permanent harm, yet the treatment is simple. The great contributing cause to this trouble is thin blood. Good blood and plenty of it is required by the stomach to function properly. If the blood is thin the stomach becomes sluggish, food lies undigested, gas forms causing pains, often around the heart. Instead of getting nourishment from the blood the system gets poison. The proper treatment is to enrich the blood, and there is no other medicine can do this as promptly or as effectively as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The sole mission of these pills is to make new, rich, red blood, which reaches every organ and nerve in the body, and thus not only banishes indigestion and dyspepsia, but also all other troubles having their

BEATING THE TRAIN AT THE CROSSING

These who are tempted to drive recklessly over railways should read, mark and learn a short paragraph contained in the report of Hon. Frank Oliver to the Railways Commission concerning grade crossing fatalities.

"In nearly every instance inquiry has disclosed that recent fatalities have been caused by attempts by motorists to beat out the locomotive."

This report was made after careful study into the circumstances surrounding crossing accidents. Despite all safety first propaganda astounding carelessness is still shown daily. Joy riders are not diminishing, nor are there any statistics in evidene giving hope that the man at the wheel is realizing the tragic fact that lack of care not only imperils his own life but the lives of other trusting human beings, who, believing in his skill and ability, have entrusted their safety to him. It is incomprehensible how motorists will persist in trying to "beat the locomotive." Innumerable instances are in evidence as to the tragedy of such folly. Coroners' juries are constantly bringing in verdicts that much greater care ought to be exercised by those issuing driving licenses. Obviously there must either be laxity on the part of many officials of the rules guiding them, or the rules themselves must be inadequate. There must be nofcessation of effort on the part o organizations which preach care on the part both of drivers and pedestrians

Frances Nickawa Dead Noted Reciter and Singer.

Frances Nickawa, the Cree Indian reciter and singer, died at Vancouver, B.C. She was married seven years ago to Russell Mark, an Englishman, and they travelled and gave concerts together, Mr. Mark playing her accompaniments. Miss Nickawa was a skilled interpreter of Pauline Johnson's poems, and she toured Australia and England, giving recitals. She belonged to the Northern or Wood Cree Indians, and her early education was received at Norway House, Northern Manitoba, where she was born.

Miss Nickawa will be remembered by many in Napanee, having given a couple of recitals here.

Annual Collegiate Concert.

The annual concert which has been postponed twice, will be held in the Collegiate Gymnasium and Assembly Room on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week, at 8 o'clock. The program in the gymnasium will consist of calisthenics, dances, Indian club swinging and apparatus work. In the Assembly Room the musical part of the program will be presented by the Orchestra and the Glee Club, while the Dramatic Club will present "The Pound of Flesh", selected from the play "The Merchant of Venice".

Basketball.

On Friday evening last the local Collegiate boys were defeated in their opening basketball game by Albert College. The score, which was 15-9, is a fair indication of the class of basketball played, and which made the game a very interesting one to the spectators. The visitors played a defensive style of play which proved invincible to the Napanee boys. The teams were very unevenly matched in weight and height, and while the Napanee defense did excellent work, the forwards were unable to work the ball through the opposing defense who were taller and heavier. The failure of the taller boys of the school to turn out for basketball has weakened the chances of the Napanee team against heavier opponents. The line up for Napanee was :—

Guards—Eastine and McFadden.
Centre—Kinkley.

Plans are under way to have local talent supply the programme, arrangements being in the capable hands of Mayor Howitt and Councillors Daly, Paul and Wiseman. A five minute address on the beauties and desirabilities of Napanee will also be given. All radio fans are invited to listen in on this programme.

AYLSWORTH RE-UNION

In the year 1788, Bowen Aylsworth, one of the United Empire Loyalists, settled on the farm granted to him by the Crown. This fine old homestead of 200 acres is situated about three miles north of the historic Village of Bath, in the Township of Ernestown, in the County of Lennox.

This farm has always since been owned by descendants of this patriot, Bowen, by being passed down through successive generations, until today it is owned by David Aylsworth, of Napanee, with his son, David Fraser Aylsworth, occupying it.

Bowen married Hannah Perry, and fifteen children were born to them. Many of these and their descendants have scattered throughout Canada, and some of them to the United States.

Recently some of the descendants met at the home of David Aylsworth, in Napanee, when it was decided by those present to hold an Aylsworth and connection reunion some time during next summer.

In order to promote and organize this reunion an "Aylsworth Reunion Association" was formed, and the following officers were appointed:

Honorary President—Hon. Sir Allen Aylesworth, K.C., K.C.M.G., Toronto, Ont.

President—David Aylsworth, Thomas Street, Napanee, Ont.

Secretary—Fraser Aylsworth, Madoc, Ont.

Advisory Committee—David Fraser Aylsworth, Bath, Ont.; Morley Aylsworth, London, Ont.; Dr. Ralph Aylsworth, Trenton, Ont.; W. R. Aylsworth, Reeve Kingston Township, Cataraqui, Ont.; Mrs. Emma Burris, "Yellow Gables," Napanee, Ont.; Mrs. William Deroche, Napanee, Ont.; Mr. B. George Hamm, Odessa, Ont.; with power to add.

OBITUARY

Mrs. John Lowry.

One of Napanee's best known and much respected residents passed away on Friday last, in the person of Mrs. John Lowry, at the advanced age of 84 years. Although the deceased had been in poor health for a number of years, her illness was of the short duration of ten days only.

The late Mrs. Lowry, whose maiden name was Connolly, was a life-long resident of this town and county. Her husband, who predeceased her about five years ago, was prominent in municipal affairs, he being a member of the Council for many years, then Reeve, and was then elected Mayor for two terms.

The late Mrs. Lowry, who had a host of friends, was a faithful member and attendant at Trinity United Church. She leaves to mourn her loss one son, Joseph, of Montreal, and two daughters, Mrs. William Burns, New York City, and Mrs. E. J. Pollard, of Napanee.

The funeral service was held at the family residence on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. James Gonu.

After an illness of but two days God called to her rest on December 27th, 1928, one of Selby's oldest citizens, Katherine Pile, beloved wife of James Gonu. Had she lived until February 8th Mrs. Gonu would have been ninety years old, but in spite of her advanced years she was able to care for her own house to the last, and had never used glasses, even for reading or sewing. Less than a week before her death she and her husband went to the home of their daughter, Mrs. F. L. Amey, to spend the rest of the winter. On Tuesday Mrs. Gonu was taken ill with influenza, and in spite of loving care she passed away two days later. While of a retiring disposition Mrs. Gonu was a most interesting conversationalist, and delighted in talking of the old days when she came to the thriving Village of Selby over sixty years ago. Mrs. Gonu is survived by her husband, a daughter, Mrs. F. L. Amey, Selby; and a son, Charles, of Bell Rock. Two sons, William and John, predeceased her several years ago. She also leaves three brothers, Dr. A. J. Pile, Amelliasburgh; Charles, Wellington; and Stanley at the old home, Switzerville Road. The funeral service was held at the house by the Rev. H. W. Foley, of the United Church.

Norma Joycelyn Frizzell.

Deepest sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Frizzell in the loss of their daughter, Norma Joycelyn, aged ten months, who died on Friday, January 4th, 1929, of chronic bronchitis. Besides the sorrowing parents the babe leaves eight uncles and seven aunts, also one grandfather. The funeral was held from her parents' residence on Saturday, January 5th, at 2 p.m., and was largely attended. The remains were placed in the vault for interment next spring. The pallbearers were Messrs. Patrick Whalen, Patrick Way, Tommy Hinch and Martin Shea.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Volney Woods.

One of the saddest deaths recorded here in some time, occurred at three o'clock Friday morning, Jan. 11th, 1929, when Marjorie C. Meyers, beloved wife of Mr. Volney Woods, of Roblin, passed away to the Great Beyond.

The deceased, who was 28 years of age, contracted a severe cold a few weeks ago, which later developed into pneumonia. During the past week she was attended by three nurses, and everything that human agency could do to thwart the dread disease was done, but of no avail.

The late Mrs. Woods was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meyers, and was born at Hawley, which is about seven miles from Napanee.

A few years ago her parents, disposing of their farm, came to Napanee to reside, and shortly after the deceased went to New York to train for a nurse. After graduating she returned later to Napanee, where she followed her chosen profession with much success until her marriage to Mr. Woods, a few years ago. Since her marriage she, with her husband, resided in Roblin.

Her death has cast a gloom over the whole community, she being full of life and beloved by a wide circle of friends. She was a member of Napanee Chapter, No. 151, Order of the Eastern Star and was always ready to assist in every way the social activities of the Order.

Besides her bereaved husband and parents, she leaves to mourn her loss an only sister, Agnes, to whom the sympathy of the entire community is extended.

The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meyers, Bridge street. Although the funeral was of a private nature the home was filled with relatives and friends from Napanee, Hawley, and Roblin. About twenty members from Napanee Chapter, No. 151, Order of the Eastern Star, were present. A very appropriate and feeling service was given by Rev. A. H. Oliver, of the Roblin United Church. The floral tributes were beautiful, representing the relatives, friends and fraternal societies. Following the service the cortege proceeded to Riverview cemetery, where the interment took place.

James Stark

A former well known and highly respected resident of Napanee passed away at his home in Mitchellton, Sask., on Tuesday morning, January 8th, 1929, after an illness of eight weeks of pneumonia.

Deceased, who, with his family, resided in Napanee for many years, went West in 1909 and homesteaded. He made such a success of his venture that two years later his family followed out there, and they have successfully carried on farming until at the present time they have about 1,000 hundred acres of land, two-thirds of which is under cultivation.

The remains were brought to Napanee on Saturday last, accompanied by his sons, William and Robert. A short service was held at Masters & Tierney's funeral parlors, after which the casket was placed in Riverside vault, interment taking place on Monday afternoon.

Deceased, who was in his sixty-ninth year, leaves a widow and two sons, William and Robert, to mourn the loss of a kind and loving husband and father.

The many friends of the family in Napanee and vicinity extend sincere sympathy to the bereaved ones in their irreparable loss.

Peter Windover.

There passed peacefully away at his home in Marlbank, on Friday, Nov. 30th, in his 71st year, Peter D. Windover. Deceased had been ailing for some time past, and was a great sufferer, although he was able to be around by times until the past two months. Besides a widow, he leaves one daughter, Mrs. F. D. Knoll, of Marlbank; also three step-children, Mrs. A. Busby, of Port Colborne; Raymond Young, of Port Colborne, and Fraser Young, of Strathcona. The funeral took place at West Plain United Church, on Sunday, Dec. 2nd, which was conducted by Rev. Mr. Oliver, and was largely attended.

COLLEGIATE ANNUAL CONCERT

In spite of the heavy rains on Thursday and Friday evenings, the gymnasium and assembly room of the Collegiate were well filled at each performance of the annual concert. Those who attended felt well repaid for the inconvenience caused by the disagreeable weather, as every number of the long program was well given.

In the gymnasium, the girls, under the tuition of Miss McLaughlin, gave a number of excellent dances. The "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" and the "Irish Lilt" were done in suitable costumes, while in the other numbers the girls were dressed in the Collegiate blue middy and skirt which is fast gaining popularity at the school. The club swinging by the senior girls was much appreciated. The boys' gymnasium class, with Mr. Barley as instructor, gave an exhibition of calisthenics, tumbling and apparatus work which received hearty applause. The boys are more or less limited in the type of work they can give in the gymnasium, and while most of it had been seen in the preceding years, the audience appreciated the enthusiasm which the boys displayed.

In the Assembly Hall, the program was musical and dramatic in character. The Orchestra retained its reputation for providing high class music under the capable leadership of Mrs. Wilson. The boys' chorus of the Glee Club rendered two selections of a comic nature which contained pleasing harmony. The major part of the program was given up to the presentation of three scenes from "The Merchant of Venice," under the direction of Miss White, the cast were word perfect in their parts, and displayed real dramatic ability. Munro Beattie, as Shylock, gave a wonderful interpretation of the revengeful Jew, while Shirley Colclough delighted the audience with her striking presentation of Portia. Both these parts were long and heavy, and the presentation of both roles showed histronic ability rarely equalled by amateurs. Gordon MacGregor, as Gratiano, won warm applause by his splendid comedy acting, while Ernest Sexsmith was a typical Antonio. Dorothy Wilson as Nerissa, Albert Herrington as Bassanio, Tom Webb as Salanio, Maurice Kinkley as Salarino and William McFadden as Tubal and the Duke rounded out the well balanced cast which have not been excelled for some years. Edith MacMorine gave the narrative connecting the three scenes. The scenery added much to the play and great credit is due Miss Grange and the stage committee. Mr. Chas. A. Gates, of Kingston, supplied the costumes and make-up which gave a real period setting to the plot of the story. The programme and the names of the pupils taking part follows :—

COUNTY COUNCIL

R. J. CAMPBELL, REEVE OF KALADAR, ANGLESEA AND EFFINGHAM, ELECTED WARDEN

Council met in the Council Chamber, in the Court House, on Tuesday afternoon.

Rev. W. G. Swayne, Bath, opened the session with prayer.

Mr. R. J. Campbell, Reeve of Kaladar, Anglesea and Effingham, was unanimously elected Warden for 1929.

His Honor Judge Madden installed the newly elected Warden, after which Mr. Campbell thanked the Council for the honor conferred upon him and his municipality, and hoped with the hearty assistance of the members, to faithfully discharge the duties of the office.

Congratulations were offered to the new Warden by ex-Wardens Johnson and Tummon, and the members of the County Council.

Moved by Messrs. Tummon and Clark, that the Reeves of North Fredericksburgh, South Fredericksburgh, Ernestown and Richmond, Mr. Carscallen submitted figures to show that a considerable saving would be made by appointing but three members. Lost.

Mr. Carscallen asked for the years and nays.

Yeas—Messrs. Carscallen, Miller, Judge, McLaughlin, and Smith—5.

Nays—Messrs. Aylesworth, Both, Campbell, Clark, Elliott, Hitchins, Loyst, Johnson, Tummon and Tustin—10.

On motion the Warden and Reeves of Richmond, Sheffield, Napanee, and Adolphustown, were appointed a Committee to take up the claim of Mr. McCutcheon, for damages.

On motion the treasurer was instructed to have the Grand Jury room put in condition for use as a committee room during sessions of Council.

Council adjourned.

TOWN COUNCIL

Council Chambers,
Napanee, Jan. 21st, 1929.

Council met in regular session on Monday evening, Mayor Howitt presiding.

Members present—Reeve Tustin, and Councillors Loucks, Daly, Wiseman, Fitzpatrick, Dilger, Paul.

The minutes of the last session were read, and on motion were confirmed.

Communications

From the Carters of Napanee, asking that they be given some protection from outside competition.

Moved by Councillor Loucks, seconded by Councillor Ungar, that the above matter be referred to the Market and Police Committee, to report to the Council at its next meeting. Carried.

From D. Chambers, applying for the position of caretaker of the Town Hall. He explained to the Council that he was out of work, with the exception of looking after the fire truck, and that if he had other work, such as caretaker of the Town Hall, he could carry on.

Moved by Councillor Paul, seconded by Councillor Ungar, that the above communication be left in the hands of the Fire and Water and Town Property Committees, to report. Carried.

From J. M. Simpson, asking damages for injuries sustained by Mr. Benj. Johnston, through falling on an icy walk.

On motion the above communication was referred to the Streets Committee, to investigate and report.

Reports

Councillor Daly, Chairman of the Finance Committee, reported that the programme for the radio concert over CKGW, Toronto, from 10 to 11 o'clock on Wednesday evening, January 23rd, had been completed. Those taking part will be Misses Mary Daly and Mary McGrath, and Mr. Reginald Wiseman. There will also be a five-minute address.

Councillor Daly further reported that two weeks from tonight he will bring in a statement to the Council of the condition of the finances of the town, and asked the committees to go easy on expenditures until that report is presented.

On motion the report was adopted.

Councillor Ungar, Chairman of Streets, reported that they had encountered some trouble with surface water during the late storm, but the expense had been light.

On motion the report was adopted.

Councillor Loucks, Chairman of Fire and Water, reported that he had intended to have a statement of the requirements of the fire brigade for 1929 to lay before the Council at this meeting, but, owing to illness, he had been unable to do so. He would present same at the next meeting.

On motion the report was adopted.

Councillor Paul, Chairman of Printing, By-Laws, and Parks, reported that he had received a price of $150 for 250 copies of the minutes of the Town Council in pamphlet form, which could be handed around at the close of business for the year.

Moved by Councillor Paul, seconded by Councillor Daly, that the minutes of the Town Council be printed in pamphlet form. Carried.

Councillor Wiseman, Chairman of Town Property, said he would have a report for next meeting.

Reeve Tustin, Chairman of Market and Police, reported everything very quiet. He referred to the matter of a place for the carters to stand, and said that Mr. Aselstine complained that the carters would not stay on the east side of the Campbell House yard, and if they did not do so they would have to find a new stand. Mr. Aselstine also asked for the rental fee of $30.00 for last year.

Moved by Councillor Paul, seconded by Councillor Fitzpatrick, that the matter be referred to the Market and Police Committee, with power to act. Carried.

Councillor Fitzpatrick, Chairman of Light and Social Welfare, reported that he did not know there were so many poor people in the town. He thought there should be some employment arranged for all able bodied men such as opening up the stone quarry. As far as the lighting system is concerned, he had made a complete survey and thought the town was well lighted, with the exception of Dundas street.

On motion the report was adopted.

Moved by Councillor Paul, seconded by Councillor Daly, that the matter of employment, referred to Councillor Fitzpatrick's report, be referred to Streets and Social Welfare Committee, with power to act. Carried.

A by-law appointing Mr. P. Gleeson as a member of the Board of Education, was given its several readings, signed, sealed, numbered and finally passed.

Councillor Wiseman asked what the town's liability is as to slippery streets, which was answered by the Clerk.

Accounts.

The following accounts were ordered to be paid :

TOWN COUNCIL

Council Chambers,
Napanee, Jan. 21st, 1929.

Council met in regular session on Monday evening, Mayor Howitt presiding.

Members present—Reeve Tustin, and Councillors Loucks, Daly, Wiseman, Fitzpatrick, Dilger, Paul.

The minutes of the last session were read, and on motion were confirmed.

Communications

From the Carters of Napanee, asking that they be given some protection from outside competition.

Moved by Councillor Loucks, seconded by Councillor Ungar, that the above matter be referred to the Market and Police Committee, to report to the Council at its next meeting. Carried.

From D. Chambers, applying for the position of caretaker of the Town Hall. He explained to the Council that he was out of work, with the exception of looking after the fire truck, and that if he had other work, such as caretaker of the Town Hall, he could carry on.

Moved by Councillor Paul, seconded by Councillor Ungar, that the above communication be left in the hands of the Fire and Water and Town Property Committees, to report. Carried.

From J. M. Simpson, asking damages for injuries sustained by Mr. Benj. Johnston, through falling on an icy walk.

On motion the above communication was referred to the Streets Committee, to investigate and report.

Reports

Councillor Daly, Chairman of the Finance Committee, reported that the programme for the radio concert over CKGW, Toronto, from 10 to 11 o'clock on Wednesday evening, January 23rd, had been completed. Those taking part will be Misses Mary Daly and Mary McGrath, and Mr. Reginald Wiseman. There will also be a five-minute address.

Councillor Daly further reported that two weeks from tonight he will bring in a statement to the Council of the condition of the finances of the town, and asked the committees to go easy on expenditures until that report is presented.

On motion the report was adopted.

Councillor Ungar, Chairman of Streets, reported that they had encountered some trouble with surface water during the late storm, but the expense had been light.

On motion the report was adopted.

Councillor Loucks, Chairman of Fire and Water, reported that he had intended to have a statement of the requirements of the fire brigade for 1929 to lay before the Council at this meeting, but, owing to illness, he had been unable to do so. He would present same at the next meeting.

On motion the report was adopted.

Councillor Paul, Chairman of Printing, By-Laws, and Parks, reported that he had received a price of $150 for 250 copies of the minutes of the Town Council in pamphlet form, which could be handed around at the close of business for the year.

Moved by Councillor Paul, seconded by Councillor Daly, that the minutes of the Town Council be printed in pamphlet form. Carried.

Councillor Wiseman, Chairman of Town Property, said he would have a report for next meeting.

Reeve Tustin, Chairman of Market and Police, reported everything very quiet. He referred to the matter of a place for the carters to stand, and said that Mr. Aselstine complained that the carters would not stay on the east side of the Campbell House yard, and if they did not do so they would have to find a new stand. Mr. Aselstine also asked for the rental fee of $30.00 for last year.

Moved by Councillor Paul, seconded by Councillor Fitzpatrick, that the matter be referred to the Market and Police Committee, with power to act. Carried.

Councillor Fitzpatrick, Chairman of Light and Social Welfare, reported that he did not know there were so many poor people in the town. He thought there should be some employment arranged for all able bodied men such as opening up the stone quarry. As far as the lighting system is concerned, he had made a complete survey and thought the town was well lighted, with the exception of Dundas street.

On motion the report was adopted.

Moved by Councillor Paul, seconded by Councillor Daly, that the matter of employment, referred to Councillor Fitzpatrick's report, be referred to Streets and Social Welfare Committee, with power to act. Carried.

A by-law appointing Mr. P. Gleeson as a member of the Board of Education, was given its several readings, signed, sealed, numbered and finally passed.

Councillor Wiseman asked what the town's liability is as to slippery streets, which was answered by the Clerk.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

Soulful Lady—"There are times, Mr. Simply, when I feel convinced I was on earth in ancient Egypt."

Young Mr. Simply—"Well, I say, y'know, it's jolly rare for a girl to joke about her age like that."

The most obstinate corns fail to resist Holloway's Corn Remover. Try it.

Mrs. Brown rejoiced in her first banking account. When she was paying in for the first time she came to the word "specie" on the slip. She thought for a moment and then entered against it—"Female"!

All mothers can put away anxiety regarding their suffering children when they have Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator to give relief. Its effects are sure and lasting.

Jack—"How did you come to marry a girl you didn't particularly care for?"

Tom (gloomily)—"I attribute it to the fact that she wanted me worse than I didn't want her."

Stop the Cough.—Coughing is caused by irritation in the respiratory passages and is the effort to dislodge obstructions that come from inflammation of the mucous membrane. Treatment with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil will allay the inflammation and in consequence the cough will usually stop. Try it and you will be satisfied.

A grammar school boy handed in the following composition on "Cats": "Cats that's made for little boys to maul and tease is called Maultease cats. Some cats is reknrnized by how quiet their purs is and these is named Pursian cats. The cats what has very bad tempers is called Angorie cats. And cats with deep feelin's is called Feline cats. I don't like cats."

Its Quality Sells It.—The fact that so many thousands of intelligent people continue to use Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil speaks volumes for its healing efficiency. Ever since it was first introduced it has grown steadily in public favor, owing entirely to its manifold usefulness in relieving and healing sickness. As a specific for cuts, burns, scalds, and various inflammatory pains its record is beyond reproach.

Senator Borah, discussing an unsatisfactory answer that had been made to a charge of corruption, smiled and said:

"It reminds me of the English butler. His employer said to him:

"Heuston, I bet you've been at my Scotch."

"Hexcuse me, sir," said Heuston, in his haughty way. "Hexcuse me, but I don't bet."

Miller's Worm Powders were devised to promptly relieve children who suffer from the ravages of worms. It is a simple preparation to destroy stomachic and intestinal worms without shock or injury to the most sensitive system. They act thoroughly and painlessly, and though in some cases they may cause vomiting, that is an indication of their powerful action and not of any nauseating property.

Brandon was almost broken-hearted about his heavy losses on the Stock Exchange, but he found there was plenty of sympathy for him at the club.

One member was particularly kind. "Cheer up, old chap!" he cried. "You mustn't worry too much about a little bad luck. Come along to my office in the morning and I'll give you a few pointers."

Brandon, however, was not easily cheered.

"Very kind of you," he began, "But it isn't pointers I'm after; it's retrievers."

Relief From Asthma. Who can describe the complete relief from suffering which follows the use of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy? Who can express the feeling of joy that comes when its soft and gentle influence relieves the tightened, choking air tubes? It has made asthmatic affliction a thing of the past for thousands. It never fails. Good druggists everywhere have sold it for years.

The family doctor had called in a famous physician to hold a consultation. The sister of the patient made up her mind to find out exactly what they had to say about the case, so she secreted herself behind the curtains in the room in which the doctors were to talk the matter over. The two medical men came in and carefully closed the door behind them, and the woman behind the curtains overheard the following conversation: "What do you think of her?" asked the family doctor. The great physician replied: "I think she is the ugliest woman that God ever made." And the family doctor said: "Oh, but you haven't seen her sister."

OBITUARY

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Dennee.

Fortified by the rites of the Holy Catholic Church, and surrounded by a loving family, there passed to her eternal reward on January 7th, 1929, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Dennee, in her eighty-ninth year, and since her marriage a life-long resident of South Fredericksburgh.

The late Mrs. Dennee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Donnell, was born at Lindsay, Ont., but at an early age moved with her parents to Kingston, where her father taught languages. She resided there until her early marriage with the late John R. L. Dennee of Bath. Death claimed her devoted husband sixteen years previously, and she leaves to mourn a kind and devoted mother, two sons and six daughters, Mrs. F. Duffy, of Hamilton; Mrs. C. D. Brown, of Napanee; C. J. Coy, of Syracuse; Miss Helena Dennee, of Syracuse; Misses Ethel and Josephine, at home; Mr. Eugene Dennee, of Kingston, and Mr. John Dennee, at home. Another daughter, Sister Mary Veronica (Maud) predeceased her mother some years ago.

The funeral took place from the family residence on Thursday, January 10th, to St. Lucy's Church, Bath, where Requeim High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Lacey, of Deseronto.

The high esteem in which the deceased was held was evidenced by the many spiritual and floral offerings and kind sympathy extended to the family. R. I. P.

New Health For Tired-Out Women

Found in the Rich, Red Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make.

Anaemia comes on gradually, beginning with langour, indisposition to exertion, irritability and a feeling of fatigue. Later comes the palpitation of the heart, headaches, frequent backaches and often disturbed indigestion and an inability to obtain rest at night. Cases of this kind, if neglected, become more serious, but if taken in time there is no need to worry. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which are free from any harmful or habit-forming drug, are just the tonic needed to remedy this wretched state of health. These pills actually make the rich, red blood that stimulates and strengthens every organ and nerve in the body. Thus strength and activity return, the appetite improves and restful sleep is had. What Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can and will do is shown by the case of Mrs. D. B. Fanning, Seal Harbor, N.S., who says:—"I was in a badly run-down condition. I was pale, my appetite was very poor, and the least exertion would leave me completely tired out. In fact I was hardly able to do much work about the house. I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after taking a few boxes can truthfully say I had gained greatly in health and strength and was able to go about my work with no sign of the former weakness. I cheerfully recommend them to all others who may be in a run-down condition."

You can get the pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

63,669 CANADIANS DIE FROM GREAT WAR

Plaques and Scrolls Issued to Next of Kin Reveal Total.

A total of 63,669 Canadians lost their lives either during the great war or died subsequently from causes directly attributed to war service. This is disclosed in the figures of plaques and scrools that have already been issued from the Department of National Defence, Ottawa, to the next-of-kin of the nation's fatal war casualties. It is more than ten years since hostilities ceased; yet many of those plaques remain unissued, while thousands of war medals continue to repose in the department unclaimed. This situation is not peculiar alone to the Great War; for of 11,900 Canadian Service medals not yet delivered to their owners about 10,000 are for the Fenian Raids of 1866 and 1870, and for the Red River Rebellion of 1870. It is pointed out by G. J. Des Barats, Deputy Minister of National Defence, that only those who received the bounty in connection with the Fenian Raids are entitled to the medal.

With regard to the Great War, the department has issued 376,787 British War medals, 221,624 Victory medals and 73,943 stars (the 1914-1915 star). There remain unclaimed 60,992 War medals, 36,439 Victory medals and 1,789 stars. Additional to these, there are 75 decorations that have not been delivered, including one Distinguished Conduct medal. The others are Military medals and foreign awards.

To the mothers and widows of deceased soldiers there have been issued 60,195 Memorial crosses.

From time to time the department has sought to get in touch with those former service men who are entitled to these medals but who have not yet received them. Postcards are sent to the last given address, urging the men to apply to Ottawa for their medals, but in thousands of cases it is indicated that the men have moved and their present whereabouts are unknown.

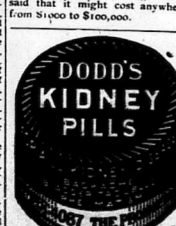
USING THERMITE ON ST. LAWRENCE

Burning out of the ice on the St. Lawrence River will be attempted by Dr. Howard T. Barnes with whom the Government has made an agreement, according to an announcement from the Department of Marine and Fisheries the purpose being to free Montreal harbor from the grip of winter earlier than usual, and to prevent the flooding of the country between it and Sorel.

"While the work will be necessarily only in the form of an experiment, its results may be far-reaching," a statement issued from the department says. "The Government is prepared to pay the costs of the work."

While the winter has been comparatively mild up to the present, and the danger from flooding when the ice jams on fast ice towards the sea is consequently less than during 1928, the effects of Dr. Barnes' experiments will be to prove the practicability of further and future thermite "ice burning."

The work will be under the personal supervision of Dr. Barnes. No estimate of its cost was made by the department, although it was said that it might cost anywhere from $1000 to $100,000.



DO YOU WANT ORGANIZATION?

Bath, Ont., R.R. No. 1, January 14th, 1929.

To the Milk Producers, Patrons of Farmers' Dairy, Napanee District.

Gentlemen,—You are aware that the Farmers' Dairy has instituted a campaign for milk of a higher standard, and you are also aware of the demands now made. Perhaps you have or have not realized that this is just the thin edge of the wedge, and more regulations are sure to follow. We are only a short time away from the tuberculin test and rigid herd inspection. Now all these things are only in line with the progressive sanitary measures demanded by all large fluid milk consuming centres. It will be futile for us to blame the Farmers' Dairy, but we can rest assured that unless we, the producers, adopt measures and organization to protect our rights, we will get inadequate renumeration and find ourselves with greater investment, more labor to perform and higher costs. The individualism of the past is useless, our personal protests are unheeded, and a large percentage of dissatisfaction exists over tests and prices.

There is only one way we can effectually guard our rights, and that is organization, but the problem is to organize. We will be forced to organize finally, for all else is organized with which we deal, so why delay. A start has to be made in all things, so I have taken the responsibility of urging you now.

Do you want organization? If so, will every producer who reads this, write me his views. If sufficient desire is shown, I will proceed to arrange and call a meeting in the Town of Napanee. The situation now rests with you. Tell your neighbor and have him write too.

It is not my desire to malign the Farmers' Dairy in any way, but to so organize ourselves as to have some control of prices in relation to cost.

Respectfully submitted,
W. L. HAIGHT,
Bath, Ont.

ADOLPHUSTOWN W. M. S.

The January meeting of the W. M. S. of the U. E. L. United Church was held at the home of Mrs. John Magee, on Thursday, January 10th. This meeting was to have been held at the home of Mrs. Davis, the first week in January, but owing to illness in the family, had to be postponed. The new officers for this year were installed and took charge of the meeting. The officers are:—

Supt. Mite Boxes—Mrs. R. Carr.
Secty. Temperance Education—Miss Audrey Rutlan.
Press Reporter—Miss Margaret Magee.

The meeting opened by singing of a hymn, after which Miss Annabel Magee read the Scripture lesson.

The matter of the sacred drama, entitled "The Challenge of the Cross", was discussed, and was decided to be given later, when the community have recovered their health. Mrs. A. C. Davis and Miss Margaret Magee were appointed delegates to the Convention to be held in Trenton. The Study Book, "Down in the Darkness", was omitted, as Mrs. (Rev.) Plant, who had charge of it for this month, was unable to be present.

Mrs. Blake Humphrey then sang a solo very sweetly, after which the following Bene diction, to meet on February, at the home of Mrs. John Duffett. The hostess served refreshments and a generous offering was received.

"Well, at least, I can say I'm a self-made actress."

"Don't bother to apologize, dear. I'd just make the best of it."

CHINA FLAPPER REFUSES ORDER

Chinese girls thus far have disregarded the government's suggestion that they economize in the matter of dress.

If the authorities had their way all the women and girls would adopt a uniform of black skirts and plain jumpers, but, so far as North China is concerned, the campaign started by the Soothernors has made little or no headway.

Individuality in dress is a sign of progress, the 'flappers' contend, and they go ahead spending as much as their pocketbooks will stand silks and flesh-colored cobweb stockings in their effort to keep up with the fashions.

The old-time cloth slipper has been replaced to a large extent, by the leather sandal, cut in western style and usually flat-heeled. Manequins and "super flappers" are about the only ones here to attempt to wear high heels, which do not fit the average Chinese foot.

One of the most conspicuous toilet additions adapted from the west is the colored silk and lace handkerchief which smart Chinese girls carry at all times and which invariably matches the color of the dress.

Out here in the East, too, the girls and women are endeavoring stenuously to keep their slender figures. As a rule, it seems, Chinese girls do not take on weight quite as readily as do their American and European sisters, when a Chinese woman becomes fat, the popular "tubs" dress is not at all becoming and this serves as another incentive to her to retain her slender figure, regardless of her longing for cakes and pastries.

The Chinese mother takes pride in helping to make her daughter appearancen as slight and graceful as possible With this aim in mind, girls between tea and twelve years old are kept tightly bandaged by their mothers until thy reach maturity

Being a True Account of Certain Strange and Wonderful Adventures of Master John Hampden, Seaman, and Mistress Lucy Wilberforce, Gentlewoman, In the Great South Seas.

By CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY

Copyright, 1922, by Cyrus Townsend Brady

"You seem to be a man of sense, Master Hampden," he whispered, drawing me apart after it was all over, "and I noticed the way Mistress Wilberforce looked at you when she first came in. I have still unspent some of the proceeds of our last bout at the table with her father that could be conveyed to the lady, and—"

"She would burn her hand off rather than accept anything," said I promptly.

"You speak with authority?" he asked, looking at me strangely.

"I have known her from a child," said I, "and her father before her. It is not in the breed to take favors, and—"

"But this is restitution, although we won it fairly. Sir Geoffrey was the most reckless and even the most foolish gambler I ever played with. We took advantage of that, but there was no cheating, so, as I am a gentleman."

"Under the circumstances, then," said I, "there is nothing further to be said."

"But what will the poor girl do?" he persisted.

I shook my head. I did not know how to answer that question, for I did not know what she would do. Nevertheless I was touched and pleased with his interest. The man had some good in him still. Association with such a scoundrel as Arrester had not yet wholly ruined him.

"It is too late to make reparation now, although the wish does you honor, my lord."

"Well, Hampden, if you have a chance to tell her what I wanted," he said, "please do. I should do it myself," he continued, "only since her repudiation by that blackguard Arrester she will not admit me to speech. If I were a bit younger and not so confoundedly in debt I would marry the woman myself."

"She is meet for a better man, my lord," said I, exactly as I had answered the duke.

He looked at me curiously for a moment and then laughed loudly.

"Doubtless," he said, "you may tell her that too."

With that he turned on his heel and walked away, and I saw no more of him. I stood about on the terrace until the last of the gentry had gone. My lady spoke to me:

"Master Hampden," she began wearily, "will you come into the house? Master Ficklin, the lawyer, is here waiting to go over my father's papers with me. You have stood by me manfully, your people and my people have been—" she stopped a moment. "Friends," she added, "for 500 years. I have no one else with whom to consult. Come with me."

CHAPTER III.

In Which I Deliver a Letter.

THE GEOFFREYS will, as Master Ficklin read it, was a simple affair. It left everything, of which he died possessed, to his daughter. Unfortunately, he died possessed of nothing. The document was mere waste paper. Everything was mortgaged, every family portrait even. Mistress Lucy appeared to have no legal right to anything in or out of the castle, save the clothes she wore.

"The point is," Mistress Lucy said, as Master Ficklin bowed deferentially toward her, "that I have nothing?"

"Nothing from your father, madam."

"But my mother's estate?"

"I regret to say," said Master Ficklin, "that most of it has been converted into money and lost by your father. There is left in my hands, madam, only a matter of some £2,000, out of interest, which you, being now of full age—"

"I was eighteen on my last birthday."

"Exactly, so that it is at your present disposal."

"What hope is it in?"

"It is invested in consols."

"Can they be realized upon?"

"Instantly."

"To advantage?"

"Most certainly."

"I thank you, Master Ficklin, for your provident care of my little fortune. It is most unexpected," she faltered.

"Believe me, Mistress Lucy, it is a happiness to do anything for you," said the old attorney, rising and gathering up his papers and bowing low before her. "You may command me in every way, and I shall be glad to serve you in any capacity."

"Thank you, Master Ficklin," said Mistress Lucy; "you touch me greatly, but I need nothing at present. My father made me an allowance and generously paid it. It was a generous one, and, living alone as I did, I did not spend it. I have a few hundred pounds in my own name at the bank, and with that for temporary use and my mother's legacy I shall lack nothing."

"But where will you live, Mistress Lucy?"

"It matters little," she answered listlessly.

"My sister and I," said the old attorney, "live alone in the county town. The house is large. If you would accept our hospitality until your future is decided we should be vastly honored."

"I accept your kindly proffer most thankfully," was her reply. "I have been invited to various homes here and there in the county, but I prefer to go to you."

"Good," said Master Ficklin briskly. "That is settled then. I am empowered by those who hold the mortgage to tell you that the pictures of your father or mother or anything strictly personal they waive their claim to."

"Thank you," said Mistress Lucy, "I shall take but small advantage of their generosity."

"I know that," answered Master Ficklin, "and now I will return to the town. If you will be ready about 6 o'clock" (it was then about 2) "I will return and fetch you to our home."

"I shall be ready. Goodby."

The little lawyer bent over her hand and left the room. I sat dumb and silent during the whole interview, although I had listened to everything with the deepest interest. As usual, it was she who broke the silence when we were alone again.

"Master Hampden," she began, "to what a sorry pass am I reduced! What shall I do now?"

"My lady," said I, "the sorriest part of the pass to which you have been brought is that you have in me such a poor counsellor, a rough sailor, but one who would, nevertheless, give his heart's blood to promote your welfare, or do you any service."

Now, as I said that I laid my hand on the breast of my coat, and as I bent awkwardly enough toward her—I could not even bow as gracefully as the little attorney just departed—I felt the paper which I had taken from Sir Geoffrey's hand and which I had entirely forgotten in the hurry and confusion of the days that had followed his death. I stood open mouthed with surprise and shame at my careless forgetfulness, and stared at her.

"What is it?" she asked, instantly noting my amaze.

"I am a fool, madam, a blundering fool," said I, drawing the paper. "here is a letter addressed to you which I should have delivered at once." I continued, extending it toward her.

She tore open the envelope as she spoke and drew forth a letter, unfolded it and there dropped from it a little piece of parchment which I instantly picked up and extended to her, but she was so engrossed in the letter that she did not see my action and paid no attention to my outstretched hand.

I looked at the parchment I held in my hand. It was evidently the half of a larger sheet which had been torn in two. The right half was in my possession. A glance showed me that it was a part of a rudely drawn map apparently of an island, although both the other half of that I could not be quite certain. It was lettered in characters which were very old and quaint, and some figures in the upper left hand corner gave a latitude. The outlines of the map and the letters and figures were all very dim and faded.

My lady's letter was a short one. for she looked up from it presently, her eyes filled with tears, the first I had seen there, and for that reason I was glad she should enjoy this relief. I suppose the fact that she was so alone and had no one else indowed her to confide in me. At any rate she extended the paper to me.

"Read it," she said. "'Tis my father's last word to me."

I took it from her, and this is what I read:

"My Dear Lucy—As an ancient king of France once said, 'Everything is lost but honour,' and that expression is too tedious. I have speculated, gambled in the bourse, I have lost my fortune, I have lost my honour. Stop! Stop! Do not curse me for a coward. I have not lost my honour. But everything has gone wrong. You are penniless. Even your mother's fortune, of which she foolishly made me trustee, has followed my own. Master Ficklin may save something from the wreck. I hope so. I can do no more, and perhaps—nay, certainly—the best thing I can do for you is to leave you. May God help you alone I cannot. Your shamed and unhappy father,

GEOFFREY WILBERFORCE.

Post Scriptum.—The last thing that I possess is this scrap of parchment. It has been handed down from father to son for five generations. The tradition of it is lost, but there has always been attached to it a singular value. Perhaps some day the missing part may turn up. At any rate, of all that I had had this is what is left. Should you marry and have children pass it to them. A foolish request, but I am moved to make it as my father made it to me. G. W.

I read it slowly. It was not a brave man's letter. I liked Sir Geoffrey less then than ever before. Some of the ancient awe and reverence I felt for the family went out of my heart then.

"Here," said I, "is the inclosure to which your father refers."

She took it listlessly, but as her glance fell upon it her face brightened.

"Why," she exclaimed, brushing aside her tears, "I have the other half. It came to me from my mother. When she died, five years ago, she gave it to me with much the same account as my father gives. I have never shown it to any one—never mentioned it even."

"Why not?" I asked.

"I scarcely know. It was valueless. I attached no special importance to it. But now, now—"

"It is a miracle," I said, "that the two pieces should have come together in your hands."

"I don't yet understand what it all means," she said, "but"—

"Meanwhile," said I, "may I respectfully suggest that you get the other piece and let me look at it."

"You!" she flashed out in one of those sudden changes of mood, sometimes so delightful and sometimes the reverse.

"I am a seafaring man, as you know, mistress," said I humbly, "and I am accustomed to study maps and charts

"It is an island!" she exclaimed.

Perhaps this may contain information vital to your fortunes which I can decipher more easily than another."

She nodded and went rapidly out of the room. In a few moments she came back with another piece of parchment. I placed them side by side, and the torn and jagged edges fitted into each other perfectly. I and laid them on a table and we bent over them in great excitement—excitement on my part caused by her proximity rather than by the faded, yellow sheepskin.

"It is an island!" she exclaimed.

"Yes," said I.

"Where is it?" she asked.

I pointed with my huge index finger to the figures in the upper left hand corner and the upper right hand corner which respectively latitude and longitude.

"That will tell us exactly"

"Are you can find it?"

"If it is there when the figures say I can as easily as I can find the park gate yonder."

She looked at me with a certain amount of awe. "Why, that is wonderful!" she exclaimed.

"Not at all. It is done by seamen every day."

"Have you ever been there?"

"No," said I. "I have crossed the south seas several times, but I have never chanced upon that island or, in fact, sailed anywhere near that latitude or longitude."

"But you know where it is?"

"Exactly, and if I had my great

ANNUAL MEETING OF V. O. N.

The annual meeting of the Napanee Branch of the V. O. N. was held on Thursday evening, January 17th, in the Public Library.

Policing are the officers for 1929 :—

Hon. President—Mrs. F. F. Miller.
President—Mrs. Geo. Switzer.
1st Vice President—Mrs. W. H. Millsap.
2nd Vice President—Mrs. W. Smith.
3rd Vice President—Mrs. Geo. Gibbard.
Secretary—Mrs. C. B. Creighton.
Treasurer—Miss Mary Leamy.
Conveners.
Women's Finance Committee—Mrs. C. I. Mayhew.
Men's Finance Committee—Mr. J. M. Stevenson.
Relief Committee—Miss Josephine Leamy.

Report of Secretary for 1928.

During the year we held eleven regular meetings, with an average attendance of twelve.

We are very fortunate to have Miss Lauder as local nurse in charge, whose efficient work is greatly appreciated.

In April a Guest Tea was given by the Order. At different times throughout the year members opened their homes for several tables of Bridge which added to our funds. In July a large Bridge party was put on at the Golf and Country Club House, from which the proceeds were very gratifying to the committee. The usual Tag Day was held on the second day of the Fall Fair.

By the energetic work and influence of Miss J. Leamy a Carnival was put on in November at the Armouries. Through the generosity of members of various societies in helping in the booths and in donations, a splendid amount of money was cleared.

The Relief Committee has lessened the suffering throughout the town. Sewing meetings are held each Monday afternoon at the Town Hall.

The annual meeting of the Board of Governors held at Ottawa in June was attended by Mrs. Geo. Switzer, our President, who brought back a very helpful report.

The Child Welfare Clinic is a very important branch of the Nurse's work, and has been fairly well attended each Thursday afternoon. Since a room has been provided for these meetings in the Town Hall, we hope for a better attendance.

The thanks of the Committee are extended to the Town Council and Board of Education for the annual grants; to the local press for generous help and co-operation at all times; to all organizations and individuals who have contributed money, whether in large or small sums; indeed, to any and all who have helped us by their interest and support, we give cordial thanks.

ILA CREIGHTON, Secty.

BEAVER SANTA CLAUS FUND FINANCIAL STATEMENT

The Beaver takes pleasure in presenting herewith a statement covering the activivities of the Santa Claus Fund for the year 1928. Mr. A. MacGregor has audited the books and his attestation to their correctness is appended.

This fund which has been sponsered by the Beaver for a number of years, has grown into importance with the passing seasons. Many children would miss the joys of Christmas season were it not for the money that the friends supply, and for the devoted and interested work of the women who, under the direction of Miss Leamy, survey the town and prepare the parcels. If those who have given to this fund could have seen the eagerness with which the parcels were awaited and received on Christmas Eve they would have been amply repaid.

As the years pass the work becomes more systemized, and a careful record is kept of all who receive help. Every application is personally investigated and all deserving receive their share of the benefits of the fund.

This past season the Beaver assisted 60 families, and gave a Christmas Stocking with useful and warm articles to 167 children. The individual gifts have been acknowledged through the columns of the Beaver. The amount of materials purchased and distributed are as follows—

Meat, lbs	240
Mincemeat, lbs	60
Flour, lbs	200
Beans, lbs	124
Peas, cans	60
Tomatoes, cans	60
Potatoes, pks	60
Onions, lbs	180
Cabbage, heads	60
Butter, lbs	60
Christmas Stockings	167
Toys	167
Caps and Hats	47
Mittens, pairs	40
Sweaters	40
Hose, pairs	139
Knit Dresses	4
Scarfs	4
Trousers, pairs	9

The Financial Statement which follows shows a slight balance to the credit of the fund. The balance is spent during the January sales when many bargains are possible, for the purchase of material for next season.

Financial Statement

Cash on hand from 1927	$167.67
Receipts, 1928	294 61
Total	462.28
Expenses, 1928	274.02
Balance on hand	188.26
Total	462.28

Statement of Auditor
Napanee, Jan. 21st, 1929

I hereby certify taat I have examined the books of the Beaver Santa Claus Fund and checked over all receipts and expenditures.

I have found them accurately and well kept, vouchers, for all expenditures, and the amount on hand agree. with the balance as shown on the bank book today.

CAMDEN EAST

Mr. Stanley Tompkins, of Manitoba, arrived at his home here and found his father and mother seriously ill. Dr. Huxtable is attending them, and Miss O'Barn as nurse. — The congregation meeting of the United Church was held in the United Church hall on Wednesday evening of last week. Reports of last year's work by the various branches of the church were brought in.— The heavy down pour of rain on Friday night last was so severe that it flooded most every cellar. Mr. J. Burns, a farmer who resides on the old Nimmo farm, lost sixteen head of cattle, the water coming in such a rush into the stable. He went to feed them in the morning as usual and found them all drowned. Mr. Burns has the deepest sympathy of the community in his heavy loss.—A baby boy has come to stay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Jeffrey. Congratulations.—Mr. P. E. Histed had the misfortune to lose his barn by fire, on Thursday morning. The barn was not far from the house. Much sympathy is extended to the family in their loss. Mrs. William Edgar has been engaged for the past week in nursing Mrs. G. Jeffrey and baby.—The Ladies' Aid of the United Church will serve an oyster supper in the Church Hall, on Friday night, Jan. 25th. Everybody come and enjoy a first class supper.

ODESSA

Ralph Benjamin received word that his brother, Harry Benjamin, had passed away at his home, 2021 Larkin Avenue, San Francisco, California, where he had lived for a number of years. The deceased was the youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Benjamin, and will be remembered by many. Besides his family in San Francisco, are left to mourn his loss, three sisters, Mrs. Darien and Mrs. Brown, Alexandria Bay, and one in Watertown, and one brother, Ralph Benjamin, Odessa.—Daley Boyce has purchased the Sidney Sprowle residence and property recently vacated by Fred Benjamin, who has moved in the Morrison home.—Rev. Mr. Linstead has moved from the Morrison house to the G. W. Lucas cottage on Church St.—Ezra Babcock, Wilton, has moved in the William Frink cottage on Educational Drive.—Mrs. Frank Ellison is spending a few days with her father, Mr. Barney Wood, who is seriously ill.—The mercury dropped to 15 degrees below last Monday morning, the lowest of the season.

YARKER - COLEBROOK WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The regular meeting of the Yarker-Colebrook Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. C. Amey, on Wednesday, Jan. 16th, with thirty members and five visitors present.

The meeting opened by singing the Ode, followed by the Institute creed. Secretary's and Treasurer's reports were then read and approved. A number of letters were then read from the shut-ins, who were remembered at Xmas; also from those who were remembered during their illness.

It was decided for our Institute to accept Camden East's invitation to their meeting at Mrs. Black's, on Friday, Feb. 1st. Plans were then made for a two weeks' course to be taken in February, on "The First Aid". The roll call was well responded to by "Current Events" by all. A reading by Mildred Hamilton was then given, "Unfortunate Bess", which was enjoyed by all. Mrs. McKnight then favored us by another reading, "His Last Hymn".

The programme was then brought to a close by another reading by Mildred Hamilton, "My Folks Think I Sing". "God Save the King" was sung, and a very dainty lunch was served by the hostess and Social Committee, after which a social half hour was spent.

The next meeting is to be held at Mrs. D. H. Smith's, on the first Wednesday in February.

"Breathe your cold away" with Vapure. This is now a recognized specific for prevention and relief of colds and grippe. Just a few drops on the handkerchief, inhaled frequently, and the cooling, soothing effect is at once obtained. 50c. a bottle, at Wallace's.

CAMDEN EAST PRESBYTERIANS

The annual business meeting of the Presbyterian congregation at Camden East was held on Wednesday evening, the 16th inst. Mrs. Guy kindly lent her home for the use of the congregation for the purpose. The meeting was largely attended, practically all the members being present. Reports were heard from the committees associated with the various branches of the church's work, and showed the work to be effectively and satisfactorily accomplished.

The Treasurer's report disclosed that after all obligations had been met for the year, such as salary, general upkeep, repairs, budget, synod and Presbytery dues, besides voluntary offerings to missions and other benevolences, and notwithstanding the fact that in a number of cases the amounts given were in excess of that which was allocated to this congregation, yet there was a substantial surplus to form a credit balance with which to begin the new year.

Resolutions were passed, tendering the sincere appreciation and thanks of the congregation to all those holding office for real and diligence displayed, and the efficient way they had lent their services to the church's work and interest.

When the business programme was concluded, the ladies served refreshments, and the last hour was spent socially.

W. M. S. OF GRETNA AND ANDERSON

The W. M. S. of Gretna and Anderson held its first meeting of the new year at the home of Mrs. Will Baird, on Thursday afternoon, January 10th, with an attendance of fourteen members. The President, Mrs. Elmer Aikenbrack, opened the meeting by singing the Doxology, after which Rev. J. E. Beckel led in prayer. After singing the hymn, "O God Our Help in Ages Past", the Scripture lesson, the 95th Psalm, was read by Mrs. Amos Hambly. The devotional leaflet, entitled "Stewardship of Life", was read by Mrs. Arthur Dean. The Secretary read the minutes of the last meeting. This was followed by the Treasurer's report, which was very encouraging. Everyone present was delighted to hear that our allocation of $145.00 had been reached. The President had each officer read her own special duties for the coming year, after which she offered a short prayer. Mrs. P. Parrs read the President's message from the Missionary Monthly. Mrs. Will Joyce read from the Monthly "The Decision of a Cirreat People". This was followed by a hymn. Mr. Beckel explained the chapter in the Mission Study Book entitled "Bubbling Springs in Bie". The meeting closed by repeating the Mizpah. Mrs. Baird served a very dainty lunch. A vote of thanks was rendered to the hostess for her hospitality.

Childhood Ailments

Can Be Quickly Banished With Baby's Own Tablets.

The ailments of childhood are many but nine-tenths of them are due to one cause and one cause only—a disordered condition of the stomach and bowels. To quickly banish any of the minor ailments of babyhood and childhood the bowels must be made to work regular and the stomach must be sweetened.

No other medicine for little ones has had such success as has Baby's Own Tablets. They banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers; correct diarrhoea and colic and promote healthful sleep by regulating the functions of the stomach and bowels. Concerning them Mrs. L. M. Brown, Walton, N. S., writes :—"I cannot speak too highly of Baby's Own Tablets as I have found them excellent for childhood ailments."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The sale of Hunt's Chocolates was well over the million dollar mark last year! What a wonderful testimonial to the quality of this delicious confection! Hunts arrive fresh each week, at Wallace's, Napanee Agents. 60c. a lb. for the Chocolates, 50c. for the family box.

"BOB WHITE" SHOULD BE ON NO SHOOTING LIST SAYS MINER

Jack Miner's sanctuary has become known mostly through the wild geese which visit here, but equal interest has been given by Mr. Miner to the study of song and insectivorous birds By dissecting their crops and stomachs he has been able to find out the most valuable birds to the farmer and country as a whole.

It was he who years ago helped put the mourning dove on the song and insectivorous bird list, which means no shooting. And he now is making an effort to have the "Bob White Quail" placed on the same list when he knows of their value. But, as Jack Miner is a friend of the hunter, he feels that Hungarian partridge should be brought in and liberated to give the hunter the sport he had shooting quail.

To give the public an idea of the value on the mourning dove he found one dead in front of his home in summer, which hit a telephone wire as it was coming in to roost and, noticing its crop full, he sent it to Professor L. L. Snyder of the Royal Ontario Museum of Zoology at Avenue Road and Bloor street, Toronto, who dissected its crop and following is what it contained:—8,533 seeds of the three seeded mercury weed seed; 30 seeds of ragwood; 3 small grovel.

Mr. Snyder also reports there was no doubt the same amount in its stomach but as it was ground up it couldn't be counted.

Later on in the season Jack Miner found a quail dead, four weeks old to the day. It was also sent to Mr. Snyder and its crop contained the following :—1 small spider, 1 harvest spider, 1 leaf-hopper, 1 plant bug, 1 cricket, 2 small crickets, 2 moth caterpillars, 1 nymph of bug, 1 small beetle, 2 hymenopterous insects, 2 ants, 9 pins, insect eggs, 30 small grovel, 9 wheat grains, 45 seeds of three seeded mercury, 238 seeds of black night shade, 28 seeds of green foxtail, 8 seeds of old witch grass, 38 unidentified weed seeds.

Jack Miner points out that this is digested every twenty-four hours Thus, can any one estimate the value of the mourning dove and quail to the farmer?

BATH WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The regular meeting of Bath Institute was held at the Library, on Monday afternoon.

The meeting opened by singing the Ode and repeating the Lord's Prayer, after which the minutes were read and adopted. Owing to illness, many of our members were unable to be present, but of those present, all were busy with New Years resolutions and helpful suggestions.

Mrs. A. P. Young was present and gave a wonderful paper on "Home Management". In it was something for all to carry home. What a blessing the home is in the community and she stressed how truth, faith, loyalty and honesty started in the home and was strengthened by the Church and work of community.

The meeting closed by singing the National Anthem.

The February meeting will be held at Mrs. Coglon's, on Feb. 11th, when all are welcome. The programme will be one well worth your presence.

MARKING HISTORIC SITES IN CANADA

Cairns and Tablets Commemorate Early Events and Persons—Preservation Work Carried On

The National Parks Branch of the Department of the Interior, on the recommendation of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada, carried out considerable work during last summer in marking historic sites of national importance, in commemorating the public services of a number of outstanding personages, and in preservation work on certain historic ruins. Twenty-two historic sites or places commemorative of historic events were remarked throughout the Dominion. Cairns and memorials carrying bronze tablets were erected in Nova Scotia, Quebec, Manitoba, Alberta and British Columbia, while tablets were affixed to the walls of public buildings or to pillars in public places in the provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba and British Columbia.

In addition to the marking of these sites and places, considerable preservation work was done on the ruined walls of old Fort Chambly and to several massive stone structures at Fort Lennox, both in Quebec. The major portion of the original lands comprising the site of Fort Louisbourg, Cape Breton, Nova Scotia were acquired with a view to future development of this site as a national historic park.

THE GRADING OF SEEDS

For the past five years the trade in farm and garden seeds has been regulated and carried on according to the regulation of the Federal Seeds Act, which has provided for the proper grading of all classes of seed sold to the growers. Changing conditions, more particularly in the production of cereal grains, has made it necessary that the Act be amended in certain particulars in order to conform more nearly with present day requirements. The Act with the changes has been issued as Acts, Orders and Regulations No. 24 of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

The development of the production of seed classed as "Registered" has led to the providing of extra grades. In the original act this class of seed was covered in two grades only, namely, "Registered" and "Extra No. 1". These have been changed to "Registered No. 1", "Registered No. 2", and Registered No. 3", all of which are thoroughly reliable for seed purposes, but the two lower grades have been provided to take care of pure varieties of seed damaged in appearance by weather conditions without impairing its vitality. By this modification large quantities of perfectly good seed, that would have otherwise been lost to commerce, has been preserved.

Another change provides for the refusal of the Minister to issue a license for new varieties of cereals of inferior quality.

The Act, among other things, names the many varieties of the weeds that are regarded as noxious in the interpretation of the Act.

The Bell Telephone Company and the American Company

THE relationship between the Bell Telephone Company of Canada and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company consists of:—

1. stock—the American company owns thirty-one per cent of Bell Telephone Company shares.
2. contract—the Bell Telephone Company owns a contract by which the American company supplies research products and other services on a sliding scale of payment.

The stock relationship has existed since the Canadian company began in 1880. One-third of the $400,000 needed to form the company was not available until the American company agreed to provide it.

The contract was made in 1923 to put dealings between the two companies on a definite business basis. It may be terminated at the end of 1932 if the Canadian company so desires.

effect of stock relationship

THE telephone system in Ontario and Quebec today is owned by 15,200 shareholders. Of these, 95 per cent live in Canada and own 62 per cent of the total shares.

The largest individual holding is 1510 shares which is one quarter of one per cent of the total. The average individual holding is 27 shares, which yield an income of $216 a year.

The Bell Telephone Company is thus a great enterprise which has become thoroughly democratized and to this the American relationship has contributed two definite advantages:

First, it has been a source of new money for development. The American company, as a shareholder has never failed to respond, in good times or bad, when money was needed to extend the system to meet public demands upon it.

Secondly, it has been a safeguard against exploitation. Attempts on the part of promoters to secure control of the telephone system have failed because the American holding of the company's shares has been in the hands of men who are interested in the telephone business for the progress of the industry and not for its financial exploitation.

effect of the contract

THE Bell Telephone Company has secured three chief advantages by the contract of 1923:—

First, it obtains all products of the Bell laboratories, which are the largest industrial research laboratories in the world, with a staff of five thousand. No single company could hope to support such an organization. It is possible only by co-operation of many associated companies.

One example of research work is the "loading coil" which has eliminated the need for heavy wires increasing in size with distance. This has saved millions of dollars. Similar discoveries have saved other millions for the telephone user and given him a better telephone. The research clause of the contract alone more than balances the contract fee.

Secondly, the Canadian company has rights to the use of all inventions. The American company now owns more than 5,000 patents essential in every phase of telephone operation. The contract gives the Canadian company use of these patents and places the American company under obligation to take out Canadian patents on any new inventions the Canadian company wishes.

Thirdly, the contract gives the Canadian company a steady supply of reports and statistics regarding new operating methods under trial by the associated companies of the American system.

Dangerous experiments are thus avoided. When the Canadian company makes a change in method it is to a well tested method and the services of specialists from the American company are available, by contract, to assist in making it. An example of this is the change from manual to dial system.

Both in the stock holding and in the contract provisions Canadian telephone users are protected and assisted by the relationship with the American company.

chart of the south seas here I could put my finger upon it and show it to you."

"What," she asked, pointing with her own dainty finger in her turn, "is that ring around the island?"

"That will be a coral reef, I take it. They usually are broken at some point so that ships can sail within, but here is a complete circle inclosing the island. There seems to be no entrance anywhere. 'Tis unusual and most strange."

"Perhaps the man that drew it made a mistake."

"I think not. The map has been made by a seafaring man, that is plain."

"I see, and the island itself is a circle," she said, bending to inspect it more closely.

"Yes," said I, "and it is like no island that I have ever seen, for here be two great rings like a gigantic wall and a hill or something of the sort in the middle." I bent lower over the chart. My eyes are unusually keen, and I saw a word written on the outside of the island proper and between it and the coral reef. "See," said I, "the word 'Stairs'."

"Stairs!" exclaimed the girl in amazement. "Did you ever see stairs on an island?"

"No, I have not, but these may be some natural means of ascent."

"It is most strange and meaning less," she said. "You have been a faithful, devoted servitor, Master Hamilton, and I have no hesitation in telling you all I know. My mother and father were distantly related—that is, they were descendants in the fifth generation from two brothers."

"Exactly," said I. "Your father's note says this parchment has been in his possession for five generations, and evidently it was in the possession of your mother's people for the same time. Who was the father of these two brothers?"

She thought a moment.

"Sir Philip Wilberforce was his name. He was—"

"A sailor?" I exclaimed.

"Yes, he voyaged in distant seas in Queen Elizabeth's time. Geoffrey and Oliver, his sons, quarrelled over his property after his death, and—"

"There you have it. They divided his fortune and tore the parchment apart, it being thought valuable for some reason and each kept half."

"That is the tradition as regards the fortune, and it may account for the parchment."

"What next, madam?"

"The families drifted apart and gradually died out until Sir Geoffrey and my mother were about left of their respective lines, and without knowing the relationship they met and married and I"—she faltered and put her hand over her face—"am the only one left of the family, of either branch."

"Now, here," said I, detoutly, for I fully believed what I said, "are the workings of Divine Providence. The parchment came from old Sir Philip, it was torn by his sons and the pieces came not together until in you the ancient lines were united."

"Yes, but what does it mean?" she asked, turning to the table again. "There is writing on the back."

CHAPTER IV.

Wherein We Decide to Go Voyaging.

"LET'S put the two pieces together and take them to the light and see if we cannot decipher it," said I. "Mistress Wilberforce," I continued, "I have the sailor's premonition that we are on the track of something that will greatly better your fortunes." And I read:

"In ye yeare of our Lorde, 1500 I, Philip Wilberforce, Kt., of ye countie of Devon, being ye captaine of ye good shippe Scourge of Malice, didde take ye grate Spanishe galleon Nuestra Senora de la Concepcion, after a bloodie encountre, wherein mine own shippe was sunke. Ye lading of ye galleon was worthe morbe thande, millionnes of pounds esterling, I take ye. Withe manie jewelles and stones of price, pieces of eight and bullione, together with ather Spanishe gaddes. Being blowne to ye southe and weste manie dayes in a grate tempeste, ye galleon was caste awaye on Ye Ilande of ye Stairs. Wee landed ye tresor and bidde yt in ye walle. Alle my menne being in ye ende dead ye natives came over ye seas in their grate canoes and tooke me, being like a madde manne. Godde mercifullie preserving my life, I escaped fromme theire and at last am reduce safe intoe mine owne sweet lande of Englande once more. Toe find ye mouthe of ye tresor cave, take a bearing alonce ye southe of ye three Goddes on ye Altar of Skulles on ye middel hille of ye Ilande. Where ye Ilne strykes ye Kircle in ye walle with ye bigge tumme tree bee three hoals. Climbe ye stones, enter ye center one. Yt is there. Lette him that wille seek and finde."

When I had finished reading we both stopped and stared. There was much in it, of course, that we could not possibly understand. We could only comprehend it fully if we were lucky enough to stand beside the "Stone Gods" on the island itself. Still the general purport was sufficiently clear. Sir Philip Wilberforce had evidently concealed a very considerable treas-

"I must go and get ready to go to Master Ficklin's in the town," she said softly. "You know the house."

I nodded.

"Come to me there tomorrow and we will talk further about the project."

When we broached the subject to Master Ficklin the next day at his house, he would not hear of it. He examined the parchment with interest, but pooh-poohed the idea because, forsooth, it had no legal backing and was couched in the phraseology of the sea rather than in the dry verbiage of the law. He pointed out that he had only succeeded in saving this last £2,000 of my lady's fortune because he had skillfully concealed its existence from Sir Geoffrey. He asked pertinently what would happen to her when all was gone and she had found no treasure, the very existence of which he affected to disbelieve.

A very hard headed, practical person was Master Ficklin. I had stern ideas of duty, too, and Master Ficklin's good sense ever appealed to me. Yet when did mere good sense ever appeal to a woman against her wish? My lady had the gambling instinct, too—I wonder she did not have it stronger, since 'twas in her blood!—and she would fain challenge fortune.

The end of it was she made over her £2,000 to me without requiring me to give any bond, which Master Ficklin would fain have insisted upon and which would have been embarrassing indeed for me, for my bond would have been my own capital, which I was going to enter in the enterprise in secret. I had saved up that money with no one knows what foolish dreams. I realized those dreams would come to naught. I had no one dependent upon me. Brother or sister I never enjoyed, and father and mother were both dead. What need had I for money? Let her have it whose need was great and whose desire was greater. I might have bargained for a share of the treasure did we find any, but I scorned to do it. I would give all and expect nothing for it.

At any rate, not being in any hurry, although I was frantically urged by my lady, who could scarcely possess her soul in patience before she began her treasure hunting, I looked about a good deal in order to get just what I wanted. Finally from a merchant of Plymouth I purchased a stout little ship of three hundred and fifty tons burden called the Rose of Devon, which had been engaged in the West Indian and the American colonial trade.

It was my first design to have gone as master of her myself, and my lady would fain have had it so, but after reflection I decided it were better to have a much older man than I to command so long as she went as a passenger, and so I engaged a worthy seaman, one Samuel Matthews, old enough to be my father, with whom I had often sailed; in fact, the man under whom I made my first cruise. I did engage myself as mate, however, and I even tried in vain to induce Master Ficklin and his sister to go with us.

It seemed proper in venturing among islands filled according to common report with savage peoples to provide for fighting. Therefore, after consulting with Captain Matthews, whom I fully acquainted with the entire project in all its details, I shipped a crew of thirty men and I provided in the equipment plenty of muskets, pistols and cutlasses, with the necessary powder and ball, and in addition a small brass cannon which I mounted on the forecastle. Nor did our cargo lack means for friendly trading and barter should such be found practicable.

Naturally the unusualness of these preparations attracted attention, and Captain Matthews and I were overwhelmed with applications from adventurous men who desired to make the voyage, surmising that it was after treasure of some sort.

I left the work of engaging the crew to Captain Matthews. He had as boatswain a seaman named Pimball, in whom he placed great confidence. He was a villainous looking man with a white scar running from his left eye across his cheek, caused by a cut he had received in some fight, and the line of white showing against the bronzed, weather beaten cheek he sported did not improve his appearance. But that he was a prime seaman was evident. Captain Matthews seemed to have great confidence in him.

To anticipate, when we boarded the ship I liked the crew not much better than the boatswain. I will say this for them, however, that a smarter, quicker set of seamen never hauled on brace or laid on yardarm. It was not their skill or strength or courage that I did not like, but they were not the kind of men I would have sought for a ship of my own, and the presence of my lady and her maid, a worthy woman, a long time servant at the castle, who had elected to follow her fortunes, made me timid, yet I was not unusually apprehensive. I had a sublime confidence in my own ability to deal with any man or any group of men.

I did not stint the outfitting of the ship, and when I finished, having left nothing out that either my own or Captain Matthews' experience or imagination could suggest, I was the owner of our joint funds enough to pay the wages of the officers and of the men out and back and no more—that is, allowing a year for the round voyage. The lines of the Rose of Devon were unusually good. She had a reputation for being a speedy boat, and that was more than enough. It was my purpose to go around the world with her rather than retrace our course about Cape Horn after we reached the island, if we ever reached it, so we staked everything we had on the future. If my lady had had the least knowledge of the value of ships she would have seen how little we bet £2,000 had gone, but she was as guileless as any other woman on that subject, and Master Ficklin was not much better. I lied to them both with a good grace and with an easy conscience. It was for her sake.

CHAPTER V.

Wherein the Duke is Marked in Farewell.

BUT one thing strikes me as worthy to be chronicled before we embarked. When all was ready and everything aboard, I went back to Master Ficklin's in Tanstock, which was an easy day's journey from Plymouth sound, where the Rose of Devon lay, to fetch my lady and her maid. Master Ficklin's house was a somewhat large one and was surrounded by a walled garden, perhaps two acres in extent, which ran back from the house to a little brook which bounded the village.

Master Ficklin was at his office, although it was yet early in the morning when I called, intending to fetch my lady to Plymouth by coach, a special coach which I had engaged, by the way. His sister said that Mistress Wilberforce was in the garden and that she had company. She offered to show me to her presence, but I said I knew the way and could go there myself. I did not like the word company overmuch since her fine friends and more or less forgotten her.

I passed through the hall, out of the back door and into the garden. I stood a moment, hesitating, wondering whether after all I had the right or the privilege to break in upon such company as she might be entertaining, a scream which came faintly from the end of the garden decided me.

I broke into a run and in a few moments came upon my lady struggling in the arms of a man. What man, you ask? The Duke of Arvesterl. He had his arms around her, and although he was no great shakes of a man, he was much stronger than the slight girl he was grappling with. He held her tightly by the waist with one hand and with the other was trying to turn her head so that he could kiss her.

I was upon them before they realized my arrival. I grasped the duke by the collar of his coat with my left hand and with my right I fairly tore him away from my lady.

"Thank God, you have come!" she cried, reeling and staggering, her face flushed, her hair disheveled, her dress in disarray.

I heard that much and then the duke was upon me. Gritting his teeth and swearing frightful oaths he got to his feet—I had thrown him prone—dragged out his sword and rushed at me.

"You dog!" he cried. "You have balked me before and you interfere now. I have had enough of you and the world has."

He did not intend to give me any chance to defend myself apparently. My little mistress screamed. I heard her call my name and I suppose she thought I was done for, but sailors are proverbially quick witted, footed and handed, and I was not the least alert of seamen. I was wearing a banger, a heavier weapon than the duke's dress sword, but its weight was a matter of no moment to an arm like mine. I stepped aside as he lunged at me, drew it, and the next moment our blades clashed in earnest.

Now, I am a good fighter and no mean fencer. I can cross blades with any one on earth. My swift play must have looked to the duke as if I were surrounded by a wall of steel. Therefore he realized at once that his only chance lay in the energy and rapidity of his fence. Lunge succeeded lunge with lightning-like speed. I will admit that I was hard put to it for a time. It was with the greatest difficulty that I parried, but my lord was not built for the continuance of such violent exercise. Sweat came into his eyes, his breath grew less swift, if not less vicious, in their intent. After a few moments I saw that I had him. It was now my turn to attack. Something of the fury of my Saxon ancestors suddenly filled my veins. I beat down his defense by a series of terrific blows and finally shivered his sword. He stood before me panting, weaponless, yet, to give him his due, more or less undaunted. I raised my own blade.

"Would you strike a defenseless man?" he cried haughtily, still not blanching.

"You had no scruple in attacking a defenseless woman," I replied. "Nay," I thundered as he made a sudden motion, "stand where you are. What I shall do to you depends upon what I think. If you move I swear to you that I will beat you down like the dog that you are."

I was amazed afterward at my temerity in so addressing a duke, but you will understand my feelings. Without taking my eyes off of him I next addressed myself to my lady.

"Will you tell me now, Mistress Lucy," said I softly, "what this man purposed or said? I can see what he tried to do, but what was his meaning and intent?"

"He—he—wanted—me to go with him," faltered my lady.

"He renewed his offer of marriage?" I asked, with a sudden sinking of heart.

"No," whispered the girl.

"My God!" I cried. "Did you dare to"—

"Why should I marry a penniless baggage?" he sneered.

"I shall remember that you will remember," I said quietly, although I was blazing inside, "all the days of your life what you tried to do—the insult that you put upon this lady."

"Would you kill me?" he cried, as I stepped nearer to him.

"No," said I, "that would be too quick and easy an end to your punishment. I will not my mark upon you.

RUIN TEETH.

Modern Luxuries Have Played Havoc With Aboriginal Teeth.

Civilization has brought some blessings to Alaskan natives — and some curses. One of the worst is that modern luxuries have played havoc with aboriginal teeth. This opinion was expressed by Dr. B. C. Larue after a summer spent on the Martha Angeline, medical boat of the U. S. Bureau of Education. Dr. Larue treated 2,000 natives at the many points where the ship stopped along the Yukon river.

"Among the old bucks and squaws little attention was required," the dentist said. "They can gnaw jerked caribou and dried fish as vigorously as ever until their teeth work down to healthy gums."

The Martha Angeline has taken medical attention to the Eskimos and Indians along the Yukon river for the last three summers. A dentist was added to the staff for the first time this year.

The advent of the boat was a great occasion along the river. The news travelled by native "telegraph" and Indians and Eskimos flocked to the river in large numbers. For hundreds of miles along the tundra of the lower Yukon Indians camped all summer waiting for the boats. Many were not reached because of lack of tle.

LETTER OF SYMPATHY

Napanee, Jan. 17th, 1929.

The African Methodist Episcopal Church of Canada laments the passing out of the late Mr. G. W. Gibbard, of Napanee.

We hereby extend heartfelt sympathy to his wife and each member of his household and friends.

He was a man of calm wisdom and general discretion, who was always ready to help the poor and distressed. His long spent years of sympathy and generous support to the cause of the coloured Church in Canada, and many other valuable deeds of philanthropy stamp him as a soul that Heaven needs. In the green fields of Eden will be his happy lot, but like the little leaven that leavens the whole loaf; his life will be as seed sown in good ground that bringeth forth its fruit in its season; and bids life work on.

To you, Mrs. Gibbard, family, and town, his loss is irreparable, but your loss is Heaven's gain. The loss of individuals, so dear, teaches us how great must be your grief. We only trust that you will be borne up under Christian fortitude and that the Heavenly balm may rest upon each member of your household. His voice echoes back "Be of good cheer, fear not for it is the Lord, thy God that goeth with thee."

(Sgd.) REV. WM. F. SEAY,
Presiding Elder and Superintendent,
Episcopal Head,
205 King Street, East,
Chatham, Ont.

CAMDEN EAST W. M. S.

The first meeting of the new year for Camden East W. M. S. was held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Stewart, on January 8th, with the President in the chair.

The meeting was opened by singing two verses of Hymn 25, then all repeated the Lord's Prayer in unison, after which the remainder of the hymn was sung. Sentence prayers were then offered by members of the Society, for thankfulness for blessings of the past year, looking forward to the coming year for guidance and help.

Minutes of last meeting were read, followed by roll call, ten members responding. It being the first meeting of the year, old members renewed their membership; one new member joining with us. A familiar hymn was then sung.

Mrs. Robt. Lewis gave to us the second chapter of "Drums in the Darkness" out of our study book.

All joined in singing a Missionary hymn, "The Morning Light is Breaking", and prayer by our President closed the meeting.

The hostess served delicious refreshments. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Chas. Histed, on February 13th.

ST. ANDREW'S ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of St. Andrew's United Church was held on Friday evening last. In spite of the bad weather, a good attendance was present. Reports were received from every organization, and the work of the past reviewed.

To the Boards and Committees it was one of the most satisfactory meetings in the history of the church. The reports showed all the committees and organizations in a vigorous and enthusiastic condition, and while finances are not always an indication of real worth, yet in church work they indicate something of its condition. Altogether for all purposes St. Andrew's raised $8155. Of this amount $1600 were given to work outside the local congregation. One of the gratifying features of the meeting was the fact that every organization in the church gave decidedly to work outside the local church. Six hundred dollars were expended on decorations, and a good working balance was found on the right side of the ledger.

The congregation commented on the loss of Mr. Went, the Treasurer, by death, and on the loss by removal from the community of Mr. Laughland and family, who had taken a vital interest in the church and community life.

Mr. McPherson continues as Treasurer of the church, while Mr. Montgomery and Mr. C. B. Creighton were elected to fill vacancies on the Board of Managers.

LADIES' AID OF GRACE CHURCH

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid of Grace United Church was held on Thursday, Jan. 17th, in the Sunday School Rooms. After devotional exercises conducted by the minister, Rev. W. P. Woodger, the President, Mrs. Stanley Wales, asked for the various reports. The names of 135 members were found recorded on the roll. The society started the year with a balance of $219.97, and raised during the year $1075.75. With an expenditure of $767.04, the books were closed with a balance of $528.68. But immediately this balance was reduced by a generous vote of $300.00 to reduce the debt in connection with the renovation of the Sunday School Room. The ladies decided to change the name from the "Ladies' Aid" to "The Woman's Association", in conformity with the terminology of the Manual of the United Church of Canada. The minister then presided over the election of officers, which resulted as follows:

Hon. Presidents—Mrs. R. J. Smith and Mrs. W. P. Woodger.
President—Mrs. Stanley Wales.
1st Vice President—Mrs. F. H. Card.
2nd Vice President—Mrs. A. Kitchen.
Treasurer—Mrs. W. E. Vine.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY, TRINITY CHURCH

The Women's Missionary Society of Trinity United Church, Napanee, have just closed another successful year's work. At the recent annual meeting favourable reports were read from all Committees, the Treasurer's report being particularly encouraging, as it showed a very substantial increase over the amount raised last year, and also an increase over the amount raised by the Society in any previous year. A nice sum was realized for supply work, and an interesting and valuable Christmas Missionary box was sent to a distant point.

The Reddy Helpers' Class of the Sunday School made their customary generous gift of a Life Membership Certificate, the recipient this year being Mrs. Percy Vine.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—

President—Mrs. S. L. Daly.
1st Vice Pres.—Miss Alma Thompson.
2nd Vice Pres.—Mrs. A. Fellows.
Rec. Secty.—Mrs. H. L. VanLuven.

Nominating Committee—Mrs. D. B. Wilson, Mrs. Trenouth, Mrs. Switzer.

WEDDING BELLS.

Thompson—Owen.

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Saturday, January 19th, 1929, at one o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Thompson, 556 Brock St., Kingston, when their eldest daughter, Pauline Estelle, was united in marriage to William Edward Owen, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Owen, of Ottawa. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George A. Brown, of Chalmers' Church. The bride was given in marriage by her father, and looked very sweet in a frock of Independence blue georgette crepe, embroidered in deeper blue with silver hose and shoes to match, and carried a shower bouquet of pale pink carnations. Immediately after the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served. The happy couple left amid showers of confetti and good wishes on the evening train for Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo, the bride travelling in a black seal coat, with hat, gloves and shoes to match. On their return, they will reside in Cornwall, Ont., where the groom has a position with the "Detroit-Frigidaire" people. Many beautiful gifts were received from friends in New York, Philadelphia, Ohio, Johnsonburg, Pennsylvania, Toronto and Kingston. Their many friends wish them bon voyage through life.

An All Canadian Enterprise That Merits Your Support

For years people of Ontario have been looking forward to the time when they could get coal from our own mines in Alberta and thereby assist in the developing of our own fuel supply and keep our money in Canada.

This happy day is here. Freight rate adjustment has been made. Shipments of Alberta Coal started January 15th and trainloads are rolling East and will continue until July 15th. Apart altogether from the patriotic appeal, however, you will find that it has advantages never before experienced. It gives quicker, more lasting heat, less ash, no clinker. Perfect for furnace, stove or open grate. You save money—and have complete heat satisfaction. Remember, that ALBERTA COAL is used almost exclusively to heat Western Canada homes which are 90% frame construction and where storm windows are practically unknown and where temperature often drops to 50° below zero. Isn't that proof of the heat producing qualities of ALBERTA COAL?

Your Coal Dealer either has Alberta Coal or can get it if you insist upon it. Call him now.

HOCKEY

Belleville 1, Napanee 0.

In one of the fastest games played in the Napanee arena in some time the Maximite Battery team, of Belleville, disposed of the home crew in the second game of the Bay of Quinte League on Tuesday evening of last week by a score of 1-0. There were thrills aplenty for the spectators and there was excitement provided for every minute. The rink was well filled for the engagement, and Napanee trotted out a smart team and all hopes of taking the Maximites into camp. Napanee had suffered a previous defeat at the hands of Trenton, and the locals were considered the weak sisters of the league. The Maximites were forced to take a patched up line-up to Napanee, but all of the boys turned in particularly good games.

Faced with defeat the home squad threw all their reserve forces into the game in the dying minutes and the Belleville goal was menaced, but they managed to hold the attacking members off until the final bell. On the occasion the puck deflected off Helper's stick and struck the goal post.

Alex. Weir scored the only goal of the game from a mix-up fifty-seven seconds before the bell rung to complete the second period. In the third spasm both teams lost some excellent chances to score. LeSage, in goal, turned in a splendid game for the locals and saved some shots that were labelled goals. Jimmy Naphin and Bentley teamed up on the defence and both rushed and blocked well. They were always dangerous. Detlor, Johnston and Wilson completed a nice forward line and gave Curry plenty of anxious moments.

Weir and McGuire worked well on the defence, with Hedger relieving them at intervals. Henry Canning, of the Juniors; Duranleau, a Montreal lad attending the Ontario Business College, and Bert Houston, of Tweed, rounded out a smart forward line while George Simpson, of he Juniors; Doyle and Hedger were the alternates. Following is the line-up:

Belleville — Goal, Curry; Defence, A. Weir and McGuire; centre, H. Canning; wings, Duranleau and Houston; alternates, Simpson, Hedger, Doyle.

Napanee — Goal, LeSage; defence, Naphin and Bentley; centre, Detlor; wings, Johnston and Wilson; alternates, Wilson, Stern, Bentley.

Umpire—Ray Heeney, Belleville.

On motion, Messrs. W. Merle Sills and Sid. C. S. McKim were re-elected as Auditors for the year 1929.

At a meeting of the Directors, held immediately following the annual meeting, Mr. A. C. Parks was re-elected President, and Mr. Albert Hartman was re-elected Vice President.

Always carry with you a box of Meloids, the little black English Throat Tablet, in the tin box. They're wonderful for the throat, almost instantly relieving a tickling cough. 25c. a box at Wallace's.

DESMOND

Our minister, Rev. Mr. Bunt, is attending Winter School, at Cobourg. Mr. Howard Scarf, of Queen's, gave us a very inspiring address in the interests of Ontario prohibition, on Sunday. —Our annual oyster supper was held in the school house on Friday night when about fifty enjoyed the social evening.—Miss Bernice Huffman was taken to Kingston on Saturday, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis. Bernice's many friends hope for a permanent recovery to health.—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Milsap and Freda, of Napanee, attended the oyster supper and visited at Mr. R. G. Quinn's and Mr. Wm. Hannah's.—Miss Mona Drew, N.C.I., visited over the week-end at her uncle's, Mr. Geo. Drew, were we are glad Mr. Drew is able to be around again, after an attack of pleurisy.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Keech are rejoicing over the arrival of a very fine little daughter.—Mrs. J. Amey, we are glad to say, is convalescing, after a prolonged attack of the flu.—Mrs. Frank Switzer visited her brother, Mr. Claude Jackson, in Kingston, on Sunday.—Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Paul, of McDowell, Sask., and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Paul, Switzerville, visited at Mr. H. F. Bell's, on Wednesday.

NAPANEE GOES ON THE AIR FROM CKGW

Napanee went on the air last Wednesday night. The concert given by the Napanee artists, under the auspices of the Satin Finish Hardwood Flooring Co., was of a very high order. Miss Mary McGrath, Miss Mary Daly and Mr. Reginald Wiseman, were the soloists, and Mr. Howitt, the Mayor, gave a brief address on the town and its possibilities.

The town received more publicity in this way than it could have done in any other, and judging by the communications sent up, the programme created a very favourable impression.

The Satin Finish Co., in writing to their agent here, Mr. Jewell, said:—"We listened in to last night's concert, dedicated to Napanee, and you sure had some response from citizens listening in. We believe the telegraphic and telephonic messages will be greater in number than any evening since we started to broadcast."

The announcer, too, told the Mayor that they had never received so many responses on any programme of that sort.

Since returning, letters have continued coming to Mayor Howitt. Here are a few samples:—

From New York City: "Just heard your talk, will be in Napanee around June 26th. Hope to see your beautiful town at that time."—J. Coughlin.

From River Forest, Ill.: "Dear Mayor Howitt—I heard your talk over the radio this evening, and I want to tell you that I received a very favorable impression of your town. We have relatives and friends in Napanee last fall, and what you said about its beautiful scenery was not in the least exaggerated." W. Goldy.

First Presbyterian Church, Branchville, N.J.: "Dear Mayor Howitt—I am sending a line to let you know I heard you over the radio last night. You must have a fine town. I was born in P.E.I. and listen in to Canadian stations whenever I can get them. Napanee must be a nice place around. Thanks-giving time." Roy J. Stewart.

Derry, New Hampshire: "Mayor Howitt—Dear Sir, I heard your talk over the radio. As you spoke of the motor camp site I thought you should have called it the "friendly town." We stayed at that camp July 27th, 1927, and found it a very pleasant place. We are living in C. C. Culbertson, Citrus fruit grower.

Altogether seventy-four telegrams, telephone calls and letters were received. Of these thirty-two were phone calls. Thirty-three communications came from Napanee and vicinity, nine from Toronto, eleven from other parts of Canada, and twenty-one from the United States. The most distant point in Canada to report was Halifax, and from the United States messages were received from as far distant as Alabama, Indiana, and Florida, besides the bordering states. These letters and telegrams are a fine testimonial to the work done during the next two days by applying to Mayor Howitt; after that they will be turned in to the Satin Finish Hardwood Company.

The reception was remarkably good and Napanee was fortunate to have this opportunity of placing its advantages before so large an audience.

ORIGINATOR OF NAPANEE POULTRY DAY PASSES

J. F. SMITH DIES IN TORONTO

J. F. Smith, of Napanee, who had for the last few months been visiting his son, Gerald, in Toronto, contracted flu recently, and owing to his advanced years was unable to combat it successfully. On January 22nd he finally passed away.

The remains were brought to Napanee for burial and were interred in the Riverside cemetery on Thursday, Rev. W. P. Woodger conducted the service in Grace United Church.

Mr. Smith was born in Morven on August 13th, 1846, and moved to Napanee about forty years ago, and opened a grocery store in the building now occupied by Frank Mellow. During his long business career he was considered one of Napanee's most reliable business men.

In 1872 he was married to Catharine E. Anderson. Of this marriage there survive him four children, Frank L. of Vancouver, B.C., Fred W., of Portland, Oregon; Dr. Charles E., of Saskatoon, Sask., and Mrs. Albert E. Beck, of Napanee.

In 1897 he married Laura V. Fralick-ton. Of this marriage two children survive, Rowena, now Mrs. Boyce, of Hamilton, and Gerald, in attendance at Osgoode Hall, Toronto.

In addition to the above there survive him a brother, John Smith, of Creston, B.C.; Miss Maria Smith, a sister, and his brother's wife, Mrs. E. M. Smith, of Mill Street, mother of Dr. H. W. Smith, Napanee.

The deceased was a life long member of Grace Church, to which he contributed his time and his talents freely.

Perhaps his greatest legacy to the life of Napanee was Poultry Day. About thirty years ago he began contracting with the farmers in the community, who were to bring their dressed turkeys to him on a certain designated day in the fall. Later a buyer from outside of the town heard of this and competed with Mr. Smith for the turkeys. Then others came and so developed one of Napanee's most outstanding businesses.

Rum, Honey, and Tamarac Balsam is splendid for sorethroat and colds. 25c. for a generous sized bottle, at Wallace's.

WILTON

The radio broadcast for the Town of Napanee last Wednesday evening was enjoyed and very much enjoyed by several Wilton listeners.—Mr. and Mrs. Stinson Carr and Mr. and Mrs. Joslin and Miss Woods spent Wednesday evening last with Mr. and Mrs. Archie Simmons.—Mrs. Stinson Carr and Mrs. Earl Perry were in Toronto last week, as delegates to the W. M. S. convention.—The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved ones of Mrs. N. A. Asselstine, whose death took place on Monday morning last. The funeral was held on Wednesday, with burial at Violet cemetery.—The remains of the late Mrs. Dana Laughlin of Odessa, were placed in Wilton vault on Thursday last.—Howard Marshall's, of Kingston, spent Sunday with Mr. W. B. Storms.—The W. M. S. are holding a social evening at the home of Chas. Connors this (Wednesday) evening.—Mr. Stanley McNeill and family spent Sunday in Harrowsmith.—Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Simmons and Russell spent Sunday evening at Mr. Don Thompson's, at Odessa.

ODESSA

Last Wednesday night the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Moore, of Switzerville, arranged for a variety showerin the Town Hall. There were many handsome and useful gifts, and a very delightful time was spent in the social dance. The music was furnished by the Odessa Orchestra. Delicious refreshments were served by the ladies.—Last Friday night a number of young men arranged for a social dance in the Town Hall. Considering the disagreeable weather the attendance was very good. The music was furnished by the Fishers Orchestra, Kingston, and a very enjoyable time was spent until the small morning hour. Dainty refreshments were served by the ladies.—The annual meeting of the Ernesttown Agricultural Society was held last Monday afternoon, in the Town Hall. All interested were very enthusiastic in making the meeting a success.—Mrs. Peter Hubble, of Plainfield, is visiting her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Hamm.—Miss Myrtle Wallace, of Wolfe Island, spent a few days with her aunt, Mrs. Winslo Tolles.—Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Day and daughter attended the funeral of Mr. Stinson, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Cairns last Sunday.—Mrs. W. C. Jenkins has been spending the past week with friends in Kingston.

ROBLIN

The work of redecorating the United Church is now completed, and it will be opened again on Sunday next, Feb. 3rd, when services both morning and evening.—The many friends of Mrs. Dan Richmond will be sorry to learn that she was laid last Monday on a bed of sickness, breaking her hip. We hope for a speedy recovery.—Mrs. Dan Richmond is improving, after her recent illness.—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Kimmett and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Kimmett attended the funeral of the late J. F. Smith in Napanee on Thursday last.—Mrs. A. M. Telford is teaching in our school in the absence of our teacher, Miss Carmen, who has been ill since Christmas and unable to return.—We are sorry to lose Mr. and Mrs. L. Stewart from our midst, he having accepted a position near Perth. Mr. Arthur Breech, of Lena, is taking his place here.—Mr. and Mrs. S. Waddell visited at Mr. Chas. H. Kimmett's on Sunday.

NEWBURGH

Miss H. M. Paul, J. N. Wartman, Mrs D. Vandervoort and Mrs. (Rev.) Anderson attended the W. M. S. Presbyterial held at Trenton on Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

Mrs. (Rev.) Anderson was elected for the third year President of Napanee North Section of the Presbyterial.

The Sunday School of the United Church expressed their best wishes to Mr. T. A. Dunwoody on the occasion of his 78th birthday—Sunday last—when he gave his birthday box offering to the Missionary Fund.

The song service in the United Church on Sunday night was very much enjoyed by a large congregation.

Mrs. C. Wagar is visiting friends on the Napanee Road.

Mr. Bowerman spent the last week at Sillsville.

Mrs. Detlor, of Arden, is with her sister, Mrs. Asker, Newburgh.

Messrs. Percy and Kenneth Watson, of Schneectady, called on their aunt, Mrs. J. S. Yeomans, on Friday. They were enroute to Deseronto to bury their brother, the late Harold Watson, who died on Thursday of pneumonia.

Mr. James Kimmerly, of Napanee, spent a few days with Mr. James Farley.

Senator T. C. Brown, of Schneectady, called on his sister, Mrs. Yeomans, on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Stone spent a very pleasant evening at the home of Mr. Harvey Snider.

Mr. McLeod spent a few days with his daughters, Mrs. Stone and Mrs. Holden.

Mrs. Orr returned to Toronto, after spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Adams.

Mrs. Elizabeth Varty, widow of the late David Varty, recently passed away, a victim of flu, followed by pneumonia. Mrs. Varty resided near Erinsville for a number of years. The past few years have been spent in Toronto, where her son, Stanley, and two daughters, Bernice and Addie, reside. Arthur Varty, a son, is a resident of Tweed. A daughter, Mrs. A. York, resides in Markdale.

At the January meeting of the Masonic Order, Mr. Charles Welbanks was presented with a jewel in recognition of his membership of fifty years.

Mrs. Yeomans and Mr. Jim Yeoman attended the funeral of the late Harold Watson, at Deseronto, on Saturday.

The librarian would like to have all the books brought in, as we are exchanging with Camden East.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Craig, of Morven, visited at Mr. James Wales', on Sunday.

Mr. L. C. Huffman, of Moscow, called on Mr. and Mrs. Ward Wartman on Monday.

Mrs. Bray, Mrs. G. Wartman and Mr. Stanley Rains were in Kingston over the week end, attending the District Quarterly meeting of the Free Methodist Church.

On Thursday morning, November 22nd, 1928, the community of Wesley received a shock, on learning that Claude, eldest surviving son of Solomon S. Clancy and Charlotte Wartman Clancy, had passed away, in his eleventh during the early hours of the morning. He lived his short life in the neighbourhood of Wesley, and Mt. Dec. 31st, 1893. He was a general favorite with all who knew him. Honest, upright, kindly, ever ready to respond to the call of need, he shared the respect of all. So patient under affliction that he was not thought ill as an invalid an honored member of I.O.L. No. 736, and best of all ready to answer "Here am I", when the Master called.

The funeral services were held at Wesley Church, where he was a member, by his Pastor, Rev. T.-H. P. Anderson, who based a comforting and appropriate address on "Now I know in part; then shall I know." I Cor. 13 12. The floral offerings were beautiful and profuse. Interment took place in Newburgh cemetery.

He leaves to mourn the loss of a dutiful son and affectionate brother, his father and mother, also two sisters, Mrs. Aylmer Hyland, of Lena, and Mrs. Edgar Salisbury, Ottawa; and two brothers, Austen, of Detroit, Mich., and Walter, at home. One brother, Dunk, predeceased him in 1912. Mr. and Mrs. Clancy and the family have the prayerful sympathy of the entire community.

The following were elected to office in the United Sunday School, on Thursday last:—

Superintendent—Mr. T. J. Cook.
Assistants—Mr. W. W. Adams and Mr. M. Vandervoort.
Secretary—Miss M. Welbanks.

No Medicine Like Baby's Own Tablets

For Either the Newborn Babe or the Growing Child.

There is no other medicine to equal Baby's Own Tablets for little ones—whether it be for the newborn babe or the growing child the Tablets always do good. They are absolutely free from opiates or other harmful drugs and the mother can always feel safe in using them.

Concerning the Tablets, Mrs. John Armour, R.R. 1, South Monaghan, Ont., says:—"We have three fine, healthy children, to whom, when a medicine is needed, we have given only Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are the best medicine you can keep in any home where there are young children."

Baby's Own Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the stomach and bowels; banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fever and make teething easy. They are sold by medicine dealers or direct by mail at 25c. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PRUNING TO MAKE STRONG FRUIT TREES.

The loss entailed each year by the breaking down of fruit trees is in a large measure avoidable if proper care is taken in the early years of the tree. A great deal of the damage is a result of poor crotches or a poorly shaped head, caused by the standards of strength. Unfortunately, when judged by the standards of sanitation, the open centre tree is perhaps a trifle better than the modified leader type, which is the type we are going to talk about.

The modified leader system consists in allowing the central leader to grow to a height of four or five feet, or even more if a high headed tree is desired. Along this central leader branches are selected to form the main framework of the tree. Probably not more than six will be kept and these will be well spaced around the leader to get a well balanced head. As soon as the uppermost branch has been selected, the leader is cut off at this point. This gives a tree with a central axis for about five feet, with branches radiating from it, which makes a stronger tree than the old open centre or vase-shaped tree which is frequently seen.

A word about selecting branches for the framework. Some branches tend to grow upwards at a very sharp angle to the main stem. This sharp angle makes a weak crotch and such branches should not be selected. Try to get branches which are forming more of a right angle to the main stem. This can better be accomplished when the selection is made from branches two years old. Very young branches have not adopted their real angle of growth and it is difficult to make a proper selection.

Was Always Ailing Never Felt Well

Health Restored Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"I am one of the many who have found new health through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills," says Mrs. Everitt Dowe, South Nelson, N.B. "For some years I never felt well, and at times was so weak that I would be confined to bed. At the very best I was in an ailing condition and found it difficult at all times to do my housework. I was subject to headaches, poor appetite, breathless at the least exertion, and very pale. Before Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended to me I had tried several medicines, but without any good results. I had become completely discouraged and felt that I would always be an invalid. A friend strongly urged me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and finally I consented to do so, but without much hope that they would help, where other medicines had failed. But in this, to my joy, I was mistaken. I had not been taking the pills very long when I knew they were helping me. As I continued their use I found my appetite improving, I slept better at night, and my strength was gradually returning. I continued taking the pills for several months, when I again found myself a well woman, and I believe that had it not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I would to-day be a helpless invalid. The pills have since been taken by others in our family, with the same beneficial results. I strongly urge every weak woman to try this grand health-building medicine."

OBITUARY.

Mrs. David Varty.

Mrs. David Varty, who lived for many years on the homestead at White Lake, near Marlbank, passed away January 13th, at her home in Toronto, after a brief illness, from pneumonia. Deceased, formerly Elizabeth McAdam, was very well known in the Tamworth and Marlbank district, a very estimable lady, beloved by all with whom she came in contact.

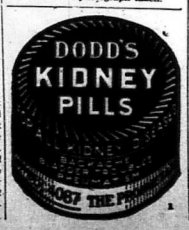
About fifteen years ago the family moved to Owen Sound, where Mr. Varty passed away a few years later. Recently they have resided in Toronto, where deceased made many friends, both in the church and in the district where she lived. She was a member of Simpson Ave. United Church, and of its well known Bible Class. Rev. Mr. Greenslade, Pastor of the church, conducted the service at the home, on Tuesday, Jan. 15th, the remains being laid to rest in St. John's cemetery, Norway. The floral tributes were numerous and very beautiful. Mourning their great loss are two sons, Arthur, of Tweed, and Stanley, of Toronto; also four daughters, Mrs. Arley York, Marlbank; Mrs. Robert Smith, Schenectady, N.Y.; Misses Addie and Bernice, at home; also nine grandchildren, three great-grandchildren, two sisters and five brothers.

BATH

Mr. H. D. Wemp left this week to take a position in the Customs House, Kingston.—Mrs. Fred Creighton, of Hawley, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Loyst.—Reeve Loyst is attending County Council sessions at Napanee.—Mrs. Sibley, of Boston, Mass., who has been at the home of her aunt, the late Miss Henrietta Davy, for the past few weeks, has returned home.—It is with great regret that we record the death of two esteemed citizens, and one well known here, although residing about four miles west of the village. On Thursday, January 17th, after a few weeks' illness, Miss Henrietta Davy passed away. Funeral services were held in St. John's Church on Saturday afternoon, January 19th, at 2 o'clock, Rev. W. G. Swayne officiating. Interment was made in St. John's cemetery. Two sisters, Mrs. Geo. Johnston and Mrs. Macnee, of Napanee, and one brother, Albert, living near the village, survive. On Friday, January 18th, there passed away in Kingston General Hospital, after a brief illness, Mrs. Edith Laird, widow of the late Charles Laird. Funeral services were held in the United Church on Sunday, at 1 p.m., the Rev. S. Dixon officiating. Interment was made in the United Church cemetery. Besides her aged father, several brothers and sisters, eleven sons and two daughters mourn her loss. On Tuesday, Jan. 22nd, Mr. Thomas Ruttan, who resided a few miles east of the village, passed away, following an illness of a few weeks' duration. Funeral services were held in St. John's Church on Thursday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, Rev. W. G. Swayne officiating. Interment was made in St. John's cemetery. Two daughters and two sons survive.—The sympathy of the community is extended to those bereaved by the passing of these citizens.

Wife—"But, dear, in this photograph you haven't a single button on your coat."

"So you've noticed at last! That's why I had the photograph taken."



WISE AND OTHERWISE

We have been reading the comments of the British press on the President's Armistice Day speech, and when Calvin goes on his good-will tour of Europe, we guess he'd better take the whole fleet.

A Prime Dressing for Wounds.—In some factories and workshops carbolic acid is kept for use in cauterizing wounds and cuts sustained by the workmen. Far better to keep on hand a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It is just as quick in action and does not scar the skin or burn the flesh.

"Got anything snappy in rubber bands?" asked the boy from the big town.

"No," said the salesgirl sweetly, "but we've got something awfully catchy in fly paper."

Muscular Rheumatism Subdued.—When one is a sufferer from muscular rheumatism he cannot do better than to have the region rubbed with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Let the rubbing be brisk and continue until ease is secured. There is more virtue in a bottle of it than can be fully estimated.

Dear Old Lady—You'll pardon me, young man, but you do look tired.

Young Man—Yes, madam, I'm studying for a doctor.

Dear Old Lady—It's a shame! You ought to let the doctor study for himself!

Protect the child from the ravages of worms by using Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator. It is a standard remedy, and years of use have enhanced its reputation.

"Do you claim that your wife dragged you down to this awful plight?"

"Yes, lady; she's the cause absolutely."

"And how did she ruin you?"

"Well, it's lookе this. I got 'er three good jobs and she lost them all by 'er 'igh-'anded ways."

If one be troubled with corns, he will find in Holloway's Corn Remover an application that will entirely relieve suffering.

Wife—"Don't you think I have put too much salt in the soup, dear?"

Model Husband—"Not at all, darling, there is, perhaps, a little too little soup for the salt, that is all."

Many infants are infested by worms which cause great suffering, and if not promptly dealt with may cause constitutional weakness difficult to remedy. Miller's Worm Powders will clear the stomach and bowels of worms and will so act upon the system that there will be no recurrence of the trouble. And not only this, but they will repair the injuries to the organs that worms cause and restore them to soundness.

A former vicar of a country parish was a gentleman distinguished for his learning and for the position he took at Cambridge. One day a visitor to the village got into conversation with one of the parishioners, and the talk turned to the vicar.

"Your clergyman," said the visitor, "is a very able man. Why, he is a Wrangler."

"I never heard that," was the reply by the villager, "but his mind is."

Choked For Air. Some little irritant becomes lodged in the bronchial tubes, others gather, and the awful choking of asthma results. Nothing offers quite such quick and positive relief as Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. The healing, soothing smoke of vapor penetrates, clears the passages and gives untold relief. It has behind it years of success. It is the sure remedy for every sufferer.

A newly-married woman was shopping and was determined that the grocer should not take advantage of her youth and inexperience.

"Don't you think these eggs are very small?" she said, cruelly.

"I do," answered the grocer, "but that's the kind the farmer sends me. They are fresh from the country this morning."

"Yes," said the shopper, "that's the trouble with those farmers. They're so anxious to get their eggs sold that they take them out of the nest too soon!"

MODEST VIOLETS DEFIES CHEMISTS

Manufactures of synthetic perfumes, who, in attempting to keep at home the 100 million dollars America spends annually for scents, have equalled or improved upon the odour of the rose, the lily and other blossoms by chemical methods but the modest violet thus far has guarded its secret from all scientists.

This is disclosed by Prof. Marston Taylor Bogert of Columbia university in an interview on the synthetic perfume industry.

"Each flower has a chemical formula which in almost every case can be reconstructed exactly," continued Professor Bogert, "but the violet contains some element which has not yet been successfully analyzed. Chemical reproduction of perfumes resulted from our inability to produce perfumes from flowers as cheaply as France, with its low cost of labour. Our chemists evaluated that hundreds of substances with individual odors may be composed of the same elements, so the problem was to discover how many of each element there were in each. No one has yet done this successfully with the violet."

Professor Bogert explains that chemical perfumes are often better than natural because chemical contents of soil, conditions of weather and advancing seasons cause variations in the scents of flowers, while the chemical formula remain constant. Even some of the greatest French perfumers, he added, are turning to chemistry for the finer products now obtainable in Paris.

ENTERPRISE

(For last week.)

On Thursday evening, Jan. 10th, the annual "At Home" of the United Church congregation was held in the Sunday School Rooms, with a large crowd in attendance. After the reports of the different societies and organizations of the church were given, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Vannest were called to the platform, and the following address was read by Mr. Bert Jackson, and a purse presented to them by Mr. Grover Wagar.

Dear Friends,—

'Tis sweet to be remembered,
And a pleasant thing to find,
That, though you may be absent,
You still are kept in mind.

In the onward march of time, changes are bound to occur. But sometimes these changes come about with almost startling suddenness, and we are obliged to stop to consider as to whether or not we have been rightly informed. So was it with us, when the news spread that you were leaving our midst to take up your residence on a larger farm in another community.

And now as the time of your departure draws near, we realize more and more just what our loss is going to be. The community loses a splendid neighbor, the Trustee Board a valued member, the choir a splendid voice, and the Sunday School a highly esteemed superintendent. And we are not forgetful of the days when you, Mrs. Vannest, in the capacity of school teacher, guided the thoughts and inspired the ideals of many who to-day are taking their places as valued members of church and community.

It is little, wonder, therefore, that we shall miss you, but we know that what is our loss will be the gain of another community, and we hope and trust that that same hearty loyalty in church and community which has marked your sojourn here may be manifest in your new home.

And now as a tangible expression of our love and regard for you, we ask you to accept this purse. Invest the contents in what way you think best, and may it ever remind you that

'Tis sweet to be remembered,
And a pleasant thing to find,
That, though you may be absent,
You still are kept in mind.

Signed on behalf of the Church and community.

H. A. BUNT.
WILSON DOPKING
WILBERT JACKSON
GROVER A. WAGAR.
H. A. CARSCALLEN.

Mr. Vannest very ably responded in a few well chosen words the thanks of he and Mrs. Vannest and appreciation of the kind thoughts and deeds of their friends and their regret at having to leave the church of his childhood.

her brand as a coward. Everybody who sees you will ask you about it, and you can explain it as you will. Two persons at least will know what the mark signifies, my lady and my self."

He stared at me absolutely unconprehending, but before he could make a move I caught him around the breast pinioned both his arms to his side and then I deliberately shortened my sword, holding it by the blade, and cut two long, deep gashes in his left cheek. He struggled and shrieked horribly as I did so, and my lady screamed as well, but I held him close until I finished.

"Now," said I to Mistress Lucy, "before I release him, one more speech! Did—did he kiss you?"

"No," answered Mistress Lucy faintly.

"Good!" I continued grimly. "Had he done so I would have marked the other cheek."

He was a handsome man, but those two scars roughly criss-crossed would never be eradicated, for I had cut deep with deliberate purpose. After that I released him, and he staggered away spitting blood, his cheek bleeding a horrible looking object.

"That will be a lesson to your grimy," said I, "that to insult an honest woman I have no doubt there are many who would rejoice to see you now."

"I will have the law on you. I will have your life," he muttered out.

"You can have anything you want," said I recklessly. "I am your master with the sword and with everything else. Now go!"

He turned and staggered away and that was the last I saw of him. I heard later that he had the devil's own time explaining those marks. He proclaimed that they had been inflicted by a madman, which was nearly the truth, but in some way the story leaked out, and I should judge that my vengeance for the insult to my lady was as adequate as anything could be.

"I am come to take you to the ship," I said to her. "We must get there tonight to sail with the beginning of the ebb tomorrow morning."

"I am ready," she said, putting her hand upon my arm.

We went into the house and from there to the coach, with her maid and her baggage, after making her farewell to her kind hostess. In the evening we got aboard the ship, where I saw her safely bestowed in the comfortable cabin I had arranged for her and for her woman. When day broke and she came on deck we were under way for the Island of the Stairs. The great adventure had begun.

* * * * * * *

I pass over the events of the next six months, but not because they were uninteresting. Oh, no. One could not sail from Plymouth, England, to the south seas, touching at Madeira, the Canaries, Rio and Buenos Aires and rounding the mighty and fearsome Cape Horn, without seeing many things of interest and participating in scenes as dangerous as they were exciting. But I am not writing a book of travels.

We were drawing near to the island we sought, according to the calculations of good Captain Matthews and myself, when something happened.

I had brought it on myself I realized, but that made it no more bearable. Indeed, I was mad, mad all through; outraged in dignity, humiliated in self-respect, and were it not foolish to speak so of a man of my years and sturdiness I should say I was broken in heart.

My mistress had been so kind to me that I had dwelt in a fool's paradise. I awoke to realize that she had not forgotten the difference between our stations. I had forgotten it in these long months at sea. By heavens, the sight of her was enough to make a man forget anything if he loved her as I!

There! The secret is out, but I make no doubt you guessed it long before. But she had not. There was no mirror in the cabin, but I could well guess that the sight of me was not sufficient to prepossessing to make any woman forget. Yet she had been so kind. I was her only confidant or companion in the ship. I had forgotten. I had endeavored to keep the gap. I had fondly hoped that the one thing in me that was truly great—my passion for her—would lend me safety by her side. I did not see how she could fail to comprehend it, though I did try to disguise it.

Well, that love of mine, it had not brought her nearer. On the contrary, it had put me under lock and key. And here I was, shut up like a criminal in my own cabin in her ship, to mine, for that matter. Come to think of it, that moment I believe love has completely disappeared. I could swear—and can to this day, for that matter—the fierce, burning flush of color to her cheek where I had kissed it; the fire of rage and surprise mingled which sparkled in her eyes. The Duke of Arcester I had marked for life for less than this. I recalled in shame. I hardly recollected the fierce blow of her hand upon my face. That was nothing. But I was insane. All the potent devotion of years, all the restraint of the long voyage, had come to naught.

There was plenty of bright starlight on deck. She had stepped out from the dark shadow of the spencer, and I had followed on her heels. The first night watch had not yet been called, and the men, idled about the decks waiting the boatswain's shrill whistle, had noted it all. I can see their swift leering, laughing faces even now.

As it was, I drew myself up and waited while she sent for good old Captain Matthews and, controlling her emotion, imperiously bade him stow me below as a prisoner in my cabin. He didn't relish the job, but went about it forthwith. Indeed, I did not wait for further orders after her look and glance. I stalked below as haughtily as you please. It was her ship, as she had said and as she ever faintly believed, and had it not been, who could deny her anything? Not I, forsooth. I could steal a kiss, but not bark her will. And here I was the mate of the Rose of Devon, and but for my own renunciation I had been her captain, engaged in this wild goose chase, this foolish search for treasure, for so it seemed to me then, locked up below like any mutinous dog at the behest of a woman that I could have broken between my thumb and finger. And after all I had done and sacrificed for her too.

Come to think of it, I had always loved her, ever since those days when I, the gardener's boy, had been her faithful and devoted slave. And through the long years when I had been for voyaging in distant seas I had kept her memory fresh and sweet and true. Although I had been in many rough places I had seen life from the enemy side, and the common jot of a sailor of my day had been mine.

There are no better manners in marrow seas or broad than I. I had worked my way up through the forecastle to the quarterdeck. I had a natural gift for figures. I could take a sight and work out a position as well as any book taught navigator, and I had been a great reader too. My private cabin was ever crowded with books. Much of my earnings were spent that way. I had writ enough to choose good books, too, and perseverance enough to study them well.

I knew more than she—oh, much more—about everything but the manners of good society, and I had at least learned something of good manners in her company since her father's death. My shipmates used to laugh at me for being a book-driver—a worm they were wont to call it. Well, they didn't laugh very long. There was nothing physical for which I now stand noble for any man. I was over six feet high and built in proportion as I could, muscled and alive, held the wheel of the best ship in the fleet on stormy

CHAPTER VI.

Wherein My Lady Is Placed in Great Peril.

NOW I was a prisoner. I could I didn't feel that blow on the cheek, but as I thought on it it fairly seared me. I hated her. I hoped that—no, I might as well be honest with myself. I didn't care how she treated me, how disdainful were her words, how unjustly she punished me, I loved her. I couldn't help it, I didn't want to help it. I would kiss the deck plank she hallowed with her footsteps.

There was another side to my confinement, and I presently took thought on that. I swear that I was not thinking of myself, but of her. I was ever thinking of her. I could see dangers that beset her as perhaps no one else could and my confinement added to her peril. She didn't realize that; nobody aft on the ship realized it. There was a peril, imminent, menacing, about to break. I feared.

You see, the fact that we were treasure hunting had got about. I had not thought much of the crew, including the villainous looking boatswain Plunkett. We had shipped a lot of smart seamen, about the average in quality and above the average in smartness, I decided as the days had passed with nothing happening, but Plunkett had signed some I could wish had been left ashore.

Her presence on the ship, too, was a mystery. Alone in the little Rose of Devon with thirty men. By evil mishap the maid she had brought with her had died after a brief illness two weeks out. Captain Matthews and I were for turning back, but she said no, she would go on. We had lost too much time already and her all was embarked. We were now plowing the blue waters of the Pacific, and I, mate of the ship and the only other officer to be trusted, locked up!

We were nearing the latitude and longitude of the island. Suppose the men rose in mutiny! I ground my teeth in rage. The men liked me well enough, and I had been particular to keep them in good humor, passing over many a skimp for her sake that I would have fathered with a blow had she not

EVERLASTING FLOWERS

Homes that do not have the advantage of flowering bulbs during the winter months can be brightened by the use of one or more of the varieties of flowers that retain their colour when dried. There are several kinds of these flowers, and all of them easily grown in ordinary garden soil. Bulletin No. 66 of the Department of Agriculture, at Ottawa, entitled "Annual Flowers", names eight kinds of annual plants that are useful for this purpose. Of each of these there are a number of variaties yielding flowers in many beautiful colours, most of these described in the bulletin, one can readily make wise selections when determining which to grow.

The bulletin contains many other classes of plants suitable for such purpose as edging beds, screens for hedges, climbers, cut flowers, foliage plants, plants that grow in partial shade, and those that are drought resistant. It also includes a number of uncommon annuals possessing real merit.

This work is the result of many years of experimentation and study with thousands of varieties of annuals grown in plots, beds and borders at the Experimental Farm at Ottawa. Copies are available at the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

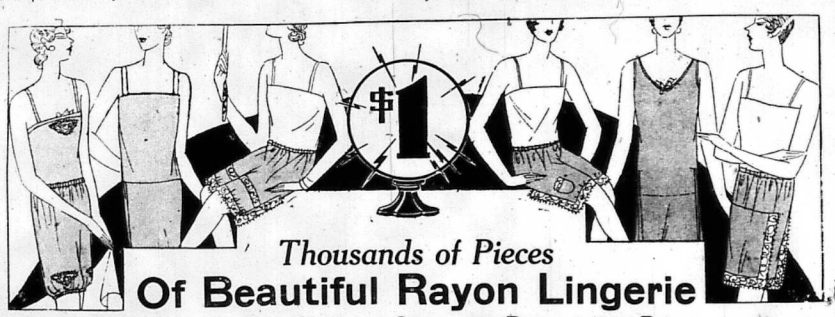
Watch the papers—listen in on your radio for the daily announcements—inspect our windows—learn of the startling Broadcast Sale features scheduled—they follow in rapid order—each one a triumph of economy. Be at the doors at the stroke of 9 o'clock Friday!



Thousands of Pieces

Of Beautiful Rayon Lingerie

Bought for Our Chain of Stores at Remarkable Prices

A buying achievement that only an organization such as ours could hope to undertake. Thousands of pieces of filmy rayon lingerie from a well known maker—bought right and sold right. Included are shadow-proof opera top slips with double-stitched hems; lace-trimmed pettinickers; rayon bobbettes with appliques of fine ecru lace; lace-trimmed vests to match; fancy step-ins with tight cuffs, elaborately trimmed. The shades are the wanted ones and a few of them are peach, maize, flesh, helio, and crabapple. The rayon is a notable quality, firm, lustrous, and exquisitely sheer. The Broadcast Sale presents this signal offering as a feature among features on Friday! Be here at 9 a.m., and share in this dramatic saving. Broadcast Sale, garment..... 1.00 1.00

100 Pieces Rayon Vests or Bloomers

BRAKES

Are possibly the most important part of a car owner's service requirements in this age of four wheel brakes, especially since many of the larger centres are taking drastic police action on the careless offender. In view of this fact we are inaugurating a service whereby you can get your brakes

INSPECTED

Free of charge and a card showing each month that you have had them tested.

Our mechanics are specially trained for this testing and adjusting service and our equipment is the most up-to-date in this territory.

Why not take advantage of this opportunity to have your brakes inspected every month to show the police a card when they stop you.

Don't forget, the Brake Test and Inspection is absolutely

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear mother, Samantha Clark, who passed away one year ago to-day, January 23rd, 1928.

The midnight stars are gleaming
On a lone and silent grave,
Beneath sleeps a dear one
Whom we could not save.
Her weary hours and days of pain,
Her troubled nights are passed;
Her ever patient worn out frame
Has found sweet rest at last.

WEDDING BELLS

Love—Barnard

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, January 23rd, 1929, at the manse at St. James' United Church parsonage, Peterboro', when Anna Elizabeth, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Love, Yarker, was united in marriage to Desmond James, second son of Mr. Albert and the late Mrs. Barnard, of Peterboro'. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Dudgeon. The bride was gowned in navy georgette crepe over rose flat crepe, while the bridesmaid, Mrs. Harold Baunon, wore sand liberty crepe, and Mr. Harold Love, Yarker, acted as groomsman. Immediately after the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served at the Dominion Hotel, and later the happy couple left by motor for Yarker, where they will spend a short honeymoon. On their return they will reside at the Routly Brand apartments, Charlotte Street, Peterboro'.

"CRANBERRY CORNERS".

On Friday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the Town Hall, the C. O. T. S. Class of Grace United Church will present the four-act comedy-drama. This drama was given by this group of players some weeks ago and many failed to gain admission. It is a good play with a laugh from start to finish, and is acted in an artistic and dramatic way by the clever caste. The proceeds of this play are to go to the Beaverdams Claus fund. This fund has had many unusual demands upon it this year, and needs the help which this play will afford. The Beaver is deeply grateful to Grace Church, which has always been sympathetic and generous to this fund. It is hoped the general public will patronize it well. The admission is 35c. for adults and 25c. for children. This is an opportunity to have a good wholesome evening's fun and contribute as well to a deserving cause.

Wife—"Don't you think I have put too much salt in the soup, dear?"

Hen Husband—"Not at all, darling, there is, perhaps, a little too little soup for the salt, that is all."

DORLAND

There are still quite a number ill, but all are reported to be gaining. Dr. Willoughby made several visits in the neighborhood last week. S. S. No. 2 was closed; owing to the illness of the teacher, Miss F. Crews. — Messrs. H. John and I. Steel are spending a couple of weeks in Denbigh.—The sympathy of the community is extended to Messrs. Fred and Robert Wilson in the death of their father, the late William Wilson, Kingston. — All the radios were tuned in for the Napanee programme on Wednesday evening, and the listeners were delighted when the reception proved so clear.—The sharp electric storm on Friday afternoon was something of a surprise. The weather for the past week has been a continued series of changes. A few have tried the ice to Picton, but sleighing is still rather thin. — Mr. A. C. Davis is taking a two weeks' course in Kemptville Agricultural School. — Mrs. A. C. Davis attended the meeting of the Belleville Presbyterial, held in Trenton last week. — Two of our enterprising young men have joined the ranks of the married. Mr. J.V. Prout and Miss Hattie Huff, of North Adolphustown, were married in Napanee on Wednesday, and Mr. Edward Gallagher and Miss Margaret McCrudden, of South Fredericksburgh, were married in Belleville on Saturday. The best wishes of everyone are tendered to the happy couples. —The United Church congregation was very glad to see Rev. J. A. Plant in the pulpit, after his recent illness.

been there. Captain Matthews had complained once or twice of my laxity, but I knew things that he didn't, and I had done what I deemed best for her. I pledge you my word that I didn't care a farthing for the treasure. I had never given it much thought. I grew to believe in it less and less as we got further from home and if I had been stronger for my duty and weaker in my love I would have dissuaded her from the voyage, following Master Fickle's lead.

Now, that she was poor and alone neglected and forgotten, I had enjoyed a foolish dream that I could be a companion to her—a life shipmate—for the captain was a rough, plain old sailor. What a fool I was! And yet if I had worked in some way as I had intended. We had been thrown into closer intimacy by the loneliness of her position and my faithful and, until that night, most unobtrusive, self effacing devotion.

I suppose it never entered her head that I could presume to love her, consequently she was less careful than she had been otherwise, and that very night when I had poured out my desolation to her she had had no words with which to meet it. I thought her silence was consent. I saw now that it was amazement. I seized her in my arms like the brute she must have thought me, lifted her up and kissed her full on the lips and then on her averted cheek. Atwater, the black guard, could have done no worse. I will never forget how she stigmatized me. "Mate, coward, low born." I don't believe she had rallied at that second dark spell so fiercely.

Well, I didn't care what she had called me. Her safety, her life, her honor demanded that I be released. That was the paramount concern.

I listened. I thought I heard a foot fall in the outer cabin. Could she be there? I suppose that I had been back ed up for perhaps an hour. Aye, on the instant the bell forward struck three. We kept man-of-war customs at her fancy. The sound came to me faintly as I listened. Half past 9. She could not have gone to her berth yet. She must be there in the great cabin. I ventured to call.

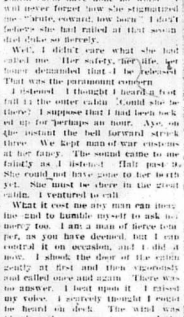
What it cost me any man can guess. The task to humble myself to ask her mercy too. I am a man of fierce temper, as you have deemed, but I can control it on occasion, and I did at last. I stood, the door of the cabin gently at first and then vigorously and called once and again. There was no answer. I beat upon it. I cursed my valor. A servant thought I ought be heard on deck. The wind was blowing, the sea was heavy, and the ship was unbelievably lively. The straining, the creaking, the groaning of the timbers would have prevented such a noise as I made from attracting attention unless some one were in the cabin.

But all in vain. No heed was paid to me, and yet I could swear that somebody was there. I don't know how exactly, but I was conscious of her presence. Perhaps because I was so in love with her that I could always tell whether she was about. I ran to this day.

It made me madder than before to go thus unheeded. I was on the point of giving over my endeavor, but I thought of the peril in which she stood.

"Madam," I whispered softly, and then more loudly, "Madam!"

I did not venture to say any other



I Called Again, and Yet a Third Time.

name. I called again, and yet a third time, and then for the last time with the full power of my voice. I heard a movement outside and then a voice—beloved, blessed voice, even when it raised me.

"Well, sir?"

The words came to me through the partition. She was there, then, as I had deemed. She had been there all the time, trying me.

"I would fain have a word with you." I answered, putting everything else by and speaking most entreatingly and with a humility I did not also feel.

"I desire no speech with you," was her cold and measured answer.

I could hear her turn as if to move away.

"Think of my long and faithful service," I urged, "and of your gracious friendship for me, often expressed."

"You yourself forgot it tonight."

"For God's sake," I cried desperately as I heard her go, "just one word."

"An apology? Do you beg forgiveness?"

"No—yes—anything!" I flushed in confusion.

"I will not listen. I wish to enjoy you of the enormity of what you have done, the grossness of your presumption. I will give you time for quiet reflection, sir."

"I am convinced already," I urged hurriedly.

"So easily?" she mocked.

"Madam, if you love life and honor I pray you hear me. It is not of myself I think, but of you. You are in grave peril," returned I with the ol bore refractoriness.

"What peril?"

There was a note of alarm in her voice in spite of her effort to be indifferent. It seized upon its promise eagerly.

"The men of the ship—they are not what they should be. Captain Mat thews is alone. Pimbali is a villain I believe but"—

"And is this the plea on which you seek enlargement?"

"That is the only plea."

"You did not discover this danger until I locked you up, did you?"

"I tell you that it is not for myself I fear, but for you," I persisted.

"And was it for that you insulted me on the quarterdeck before the men? I will hear no more. It is a foolish plea. The men are devoted to me and"—

"For God's sake, Mistress Lucy," I cried, but this time she was gone.

I heard the door of her cabin shut violently. There was no help for it. Well, I must devise some way unaided, for I must get out for her sake. The cabin was lighted by an air port closed by a deadeye. I measured it, drew back the thick glass and examined the opening, although I knew it was a fu tile proposition. A slender boy might have slipped through, but not a man such as I. My mighty thews and shoulders and great look required a door, and no small one either.

The wind had ceased blowing hard outside, and some spray came in through the port as the waves slapped the side of the ship. I closed and se cured it. There was nothing to be gain ed there. I must seek some other way.

I was not weaponless. Nobody had thought to search the cabin, and a brace of pistols which I always kept loaded and ready for no emergency were locked securely in my chest. My hanger hung at the side of my berth. The door was a strong one. It was locked and barred without. I might have broken it down; I could have done so if I had had space enough in which to run and hurl myself against it. I might even have kicked it to pieces with my heavy sea man's boot. Certainly I could easily have blown the lock off with my pistol, but any of these endeavors would have roused the ship.

I had one other hope. If Captain Matthews should come to the cabin I would appeal to him. For the rest I determined not to sleep that night. Some strange foreboding possessed me.

We were near the latitude and longitude of the island we were seeking, if indeed there were such an island as was thought to be, and I reasoned that the men would argue now and I would be a good time for an outbreak, especially since I was removed. Would it come that night? Would it come at all? Was I mistaken in the men?

I have often wondered why women were made, and since they were made, why men should be such fools about them. Here I was helpless just because I had snatched a kiss from one. And now that I am in the mood for confession, I might as well say that I fully rejoiced in that kiss.

Well, whatever it happened, I had the memory of that kiss. She would never forgive me. Of course there was absolutely no hope that she would return my suit, even in her poverty. She was not for such as I, and if there was anything in this old buccaneer's punishment, if there was an island and if she did get the treasure, why, the world would be at her feet again. And I, like the fool I was, was helping her to get it, to bring it about. I was mad, aye, mad, with impotent helplessness that night.

I sat there in the dark, no light being vouchsafed to me, and the lights in the outer cabin not having been lighted for a long time. The wind rose and rose. The ship was pitching mad ly. My room was on the starboard side of the cabin, and presently I heard all hands called to reef the topsails Captain Matthews was alert and ready, of course. Presently he put the ship about, and with the curves of her I see she was steadier. There did not seem to be any especial danger in the weather, and for that I was thankful.

I must have dozed. I was awakened by the last echoing of the bell forward. I didn't know what time it was, because I didn't know whether I had heard it begin to strike, but I could count three couples, which meant that it was 11 o'clock at least. I didn't know, of course, that it was eight bells, midnight, until the watch on deck swain came to me through the bulkhead that separated the cabin from the quarterdeck:

"A-a-all the port watch!"

I could hear the men below grumbling and cursing as they turned out. They had evidently been sent below to the hammocks after the order had been reefed for a couple of hours in. I could hear scraps of conversation.

"Now?"

"Kill him!"

"This is the best time!"

"The old man's alone!"

What I heard filled me with dismay. I picked up the pistol and pointed it at the lock in the door. I had made up my mind, come what might, to blow off the lock and get free. Before I could press the trigger I heard a call on the deck above me, a shot, a rush of feet, a scuffle, a groan, a fall!

The Bell Telephone Company and its financial policy

IF given authority by parliament, the Bell Telephone Company will issue new shares of stock over a period of years, at intervals and in amounts depending on the expansion required to serve public demand.

The new shares will be offered for purchase by shareholders and the price will depend on the management's judgment of conditions.

This method is the exact procedure by which the company has built the present telephone system in Ontario and Quebec.

In forty-eight years the telephone company has neither suggested nor received a government subsidy.

In forty-eight years it has never split its stock, nor issued shares that were not fully paid for at par or more.

In forty-eight years it has never been exploited for the benefit of either individuals or groups, although it is now one of the largest institutions in the country.

has met double obligation

IN choosing and following this financial policy the management of the company has had constantly in mind the double obligation of those who operate a public utility.

There is, first, the obligation to the users of the telephone system to give them proper service at lowest possible cost. And, secondly, there is the obligation to the owners to protect their property and pay them a fair return on the money they advance to build the system.

These two obligations have been scrupulously fulfilled.

Service has been given by steadily extending the system from a few hundred telephones in 1880 to over 700,000 now in use. The company is spending over $27,000,000 this year to extend and improve the system further and has made plans to spend over $120,000,000 in the next five years.

And this service has been given at low cost. The rates paid by telephone subscribers in Ontario and Quebec are the lowest in the world for comparable service. The Board of Railway Commissioners has officially acknowledged that they are more reasonable than other rates in Canada.

The 15,300 owners of the system receive a fair return, but not more than a fair return. The company's policy has handed out no "melons" nor extra dividends.

A test of this is the actual experience of a shareholder who bought Bell Telephone stock on the market fifteen years ago at $145 and has since taken advantage of every opportunity to buy new shares as they have been offered.

His annual return today, on the money he has paid for his shares, is less than seven per cent. To be exact it is 6.9 per cent.

in the national interest

THE management does not favor any change in its policy, because:

1. the record of the company's policy in efficiently fulfilling the obligations to both users and owners justifies its continuance.
2. if, however, the financial policy of public utility companies is to be fixed by parliament it should be made applicable to all such companies rather than to single out one company which does not deserve special restrictions.
3. a change in policy is not in the national interest; it means that Canadian investors will be attracted to put their money into numerous American utility companies with which the telephone company is now competing for new capital and where it is the recognized practice to offer new shares to stockholders.

The present policy of the company safeguards future expansion of the telephone system by retaining support of reliable investors, and promotes the national interest of Canadians in Canadian development.

EMPHASIZING its value leadership, making it plainer than ever, are Plymouth's new lower prices representing savings of $15 to $40 on popular models.

Plymouth quality has not been changed in the least—it remains the same fine quality which has given this car an international repute for economy of operation and upkeep.

In the lowest-priced field, Plymouth is still the outstanding full-size car giving ample room for five grown-ups; it is still the only car near its price equipped with weatherproof hydraulic four-wheel brakes; it is still the one big buy at its price combining modern engineering improvements and performance with modern style and luxury.

See the Plymouth. Compare it, try to equal it among cars selling under $1000—and inevitably you will rank it first and foremost in every element that determines true motor-car value. 302

A Chrysler Motors Product

Plymouth offers typical Chrysler performance, being Chrysler-engineered and including such modern improvements as weatherproof hydraulic four-wheel brakes, high-compression L-head 45 h. p. engine, rubber engine mountings, aluminum alloy pistons, torque reaction neutralizer, full pressure-feed lubrication.

Why We Like ALBERTA COAL

"I have been a user of Alberta Coal for some years and I take pleasure in recommending its use to all my friends. When you get to know how to regulate your furnace when using Alberta Coal and the proper sizes to order from your dealer, you will find that you will prefer to it any other fuel, American Anthracite included. You will have a quicker heat, a longer heat. No bone, stone or slate, less ash and no clinkers. From actual use I have become a strong believer in Alberta Coal for Ontario homes."

Robert A. Scott,
535 Patterson St.,
Peterborough, Ont.

"I have used this coal for many years in the West and can find no coal in the Ontario market to equal it for kitchen range. It is also very satisfactory for furnace use."

H. A. Bruce, Esq.,
Stratford, Ont.

"I have my supply of Alberta Coal in for the winter. I tried it last winter and found it satisfactory."

M. J. Carter, Esq.,
Lindsay, Ont.

Gentlemen—
I got a ton of Alberta Coal from—and am very pleased with results. The best coal I have ever used, and I hope you will keep up the supply. I own a——— furnace and also an annex to gas stove and get all the heat I require. Let us boost Canada. Thanks
Wm J. Armstrong
Toronto

Why YOU Will Like It!

ALBERTA COAL will save money on your fuel bill. Heats quicker. Is more lasting. Less ash. Clean to handle. Perfect for stove, range or grate. And you will like the idea of using coal from our own Canadian mines.

Hundreds of voluntary testimonial letters, a few of which are reproduced in this advertisement, prove better than our statements, that ALBERTA COAL is your guarantee of complete heat satisfaction.

At last, ALBERTA COAL is available to the people of Ontario. Large shipments are here. Your dealer either has it or can get it for you if you insist upon it.

COUNTY COUNCIL

R. J. CAMPBELL, REEVE OF KALADAR, ANGLESEA AND EFFINGHAM, ELECTED WARDEN

Council met in the Council Chamber, in the Court House, on Tuesday afternoon.

Rev. W. G. Swayne, Bath, opened the session with prayer.

Mr. R. J. Campbell, Reeve of Kaladar, Anglesea and Effingham, was unanimously elected Warden for 1929.

His Honor Judge Madden installed the newly elected Warden, after which Mr. Campbell thanked the Council for the honor conferred upon him and his municipality, and hoped with the hearty assistance of the members, to faithfully discharge the duties of the office.

Congratulations were extended to the new Warden by ex-Wardens Johnson and Tummon, and the members of the County Council.

Moved by Messrs. Tummon and Clark, that the Reeves of North Fredericksburgh, South Fredericksburgh, Bath, Richmond, Ernestown, Amherst Island, Napanee, Newburgh and Denbigh, constitute a committee to select the Standing Committees.

The Special Committee appointed to strike the Standing Committees, reported as follows:

Finance—A. C. Miller, Chairman; G. A. Aylesworth, Secretary; Geo. J. Tustin, G. M. Loyst, A. N. Hitchins, E. J. Judge.

County Property—J. S. Johnson, Chairman; Geo. J. Tustin, Secretary; A. C. Tummon, J. W. Clark, J. B. Elliott, Chas. Both.

Roads and Bridges—J. W. Clark, Chairman; J. B. Elliott, Secretary; A. C. Miller, J. S. Johnson, A. C. Tummon.

Education and Printing—A. B. Carscallen, Chairman; G. A. Aylesworth, Secretary; E. J. Judge, Frank Smith, F. M. McLaughlin.

Police—Geo. J. Tustin, Chairman; J. W. Clarke, Secretary; A. N. Hitchins, A. C. Miller, A. B. Carscallen, G. M. Loyst.

Agriculture—E. J. Judge, Chairman; Frank Smith, Secretary; A. N. Hitchins, Chas. Both, A. B. Carscallen, F. M. McLaughlin.

The Warden is to be a member of all the above committees.

Special County Road Committee—Appointed under Highway Improvement Act, R.S.O., 1927, Chap. 54, Section 12. Sub. Sec. 4—J. W. Clark, Chairman; J. B. Elliott, Secretary; A. C. Miller, J. S. Johnson, A. C. Tummon.

On motion the report of the Committees was adopted.

The Committees then retired one at a time to elect their chairmen and secretaries.

Messrs. Carscallen and Smith introduced an amendment, that the Roads Committee consist of three members, and be elected in open Council, and consist of the Reeves of Camden, Ernestown and Richmond. Mr. Carscallen submitted figures to show that a considerable saving would be made by appointing but three members. Lost.

Mr. Carscallen asked for the yeas and nays.

Yeas—Messrs. Carscallen, Miller, Judge, McLaughlin, and Smith—5.

Nays—Messrs. Aylesworth, Both, Campbell, Clark, Elliott, Hitchins, Loyst, Johnson, Tummon and Tustin—10.

On motion the Warden and Reeves of Richmond, Sheffield, Napanee, and Adolphustown, were appointed a Committee to take up the claim of Mr. McCutcheon, for damages.

On motion the caretaker was instructed to have the Grand Jury room put in condition for use as a committee room during sessions of Council.

Council adjourned.

Wednesday.

The minutes of Tuesday were read and on motion approved.

The Clerk presented the report of the Warden and Clerk of orders given on County Treasurer since December session. Report adopted.

Mr. Tummon moved, seconded by Mr. Hitchins, that the County Roads Superintendents and County Solicitor be added to the Special Committee appointed to consider the claim for damages of Mr. Alfred McCutcheon.

A communication from the Ontario Good Roads Association announced date of their annual convention, and asking for the County's annual fee. Also a communication, announcing the annual conference of the Ontario Road Engineers in the same week. Laid on table.

A communication from the Napanee Board of Education, notifying the Council of the resignation of Messrs. Wiseman and Laughland from the Board. Referred to Education and Printing Committee, with Reeve Tustin added to the committee.

Mr. Carscallen introduced a by-law to appoint School Trustees for Napanee Collegiate Institute and Newburgh High School, which was read a first time.

On motion of Messrs. Tummon and Miller, the Special Roads Committee was requested to submit their 1929 roads programme at this session.

On motion the Council will attend the Good Roads Association meeting in February.

The Clerk made a statement in reference to the amount deducted from the Napanee Board of Education's requisition of 1928 and the action taken by the Board to inforce their claim.

Mr. Aylesworth, who has gone into the matter thoroughly, explained the stand taken by the Education Committee of last year.

On motion of Messrs. Loyst and Elliott, the County Solicitor and Mr. Aylesworth were appointed to present the County's case before the County Judge on the appeal of Napanee Collegiate Institute in reference to their requisition.

The committee to which was referred the damage claim of Mr. Alfred McCutcheon, reported that Mr. McCutcheon would accept $300.00 in full settlement, and advise the Globe Indemnity Company to settle the claim. Report adopted.

Council adjourned for the benefit of committees.

The Roads Committee presented a roads programme for this year, but could not give figures of cost.

Their recommended construction is 2¾ miles of amiesite on each of the roads on which amiesite has already been laid: also 2¾ miles on Road No. 7, from Storms' Corners South. Grading will be continued on the roads ahead of the amiesite in order that further stretches will be ready for permanent paving another year. $50,000 was recommended for maintenance of roads. The report was laid on the table until Thursday morning.

Mr. Carscallen moved, seconded by Mr. Judge, that in the opinion of the Council the proper maintenance of County Roads would effect a saving in expense, and recommend to the Roads Committee that such an outfit be purchased. Carried.

On motion the accounts of A. C. Tummon, Floyd Sweet, be paid.

A telegram from the Globe Indemnity, re McCutcheon claim, was laid on the table.

Council adjourned.

Thursday.

On motion the usual grant of $15.00 was made to each Women's Institute in the County.

On motion the usual grant of $600.00 was made to the poor schools in Denbigh, Abinger and Ashby, and Kaladar, Anglesea and Effingham.

On motion the Warden and Clerk were authorized to sign all necessary orders for payments between sessions.

A letter from the Globe Indemnity Company, re McCutcheon claim, disclaiming any responsibility or negligence on the part of the County in view of the evidence presented to the Company. If the County or Mr. McCutcheon have any further evidence, the Company would further consider the claim. On motion Mr. McCutcheon will be sent a copy of the letter from the Globe Indemnity Co.

A claim from Bernard Hopkins, for damage to car on County Road No. 13, in Sheffield.

Messrs. Judge and Smith presented a motion, asking the Special Roads Committee to change their report re amiesite roads to read 2¾ miles from the end of the present amiesite road at Newburgh, 2 miles on the road toward Camden East, and ¾ of a mile through Newburgh village. Also a further mile of grading on the Camden East road ahead of the amiesite. Motion carried.

The report of the Special Roads Committee was adopted.

A motion by Messrs. Miller and Loyst, that the report of County Roads Committee be amended to read "Road No. 7, from Storms' Corners read 4¾ miles of amiesite instead of 2¾ miles. Motion lost.

Mr. Loyst asked for the yeas and nays.

Yeas — Messrs. Aylesworth, Loyst Miller and Smith—4.

Nays—Messrs. Both, Campbell, Carscallen, Clark, Elliott, Hitchins, Johnson, Judge, McLaughlin, Tummon and Tustin—11.

Mr. Runions, District Representative Ontario Department Agriculture, addressed the Council in reference to the work of the Department, outlining a portion of the programme of this year. Mr. Runions also asked the County to make a grant of $50.00 to the Belter Fair at Belleville.

Mr. Saul, Camden East, addressed the Council in reference to the error that has been occurred in the proceedings of the Council in 1928, in reference to the road leading south from Camden East.

Council adjourned.

Friday.

Moved by Mr. Tummon and Clark, that whereas the Department of Public Works have rendered this County an account for $62,653.62, representing 20% of the cost of Provincial Highway in 1928, and whereas the additional cost made necessary by the cutting of Bobliss hill, the County respectfully requests the Department of Highways to amend the account by deducting $12,653.62 from the account rendered. Carried.

The account of the Highways Department for work on Provincial Highways, construction $293,356.64, and maintenance $19,911.47, County's share 20% $62,653.62, payable in six months, was read and filed.

On motion the Warden and Clerk were authorized to forward to the Department of Highways the petition of the County for their roads grant, $135,004.14.

Committee services of Messrs. Tummon and Elliott, re Floyd Sweet, $23.00 and $12.00, were ordered paid.

Council passed a By-law, appointing School Trustees. For Newburgh, Geo. H. Slade; for Napanee, J. M. Simpson for one year, and E. J. Pollard for three years.

On motion, the County's membership in the Good Roads Association was ordered paid, and twenty-five seats were requested reserved for the deputation at the annual banquet.

A By-law to borrow $100,000.00 for current expenditure was put through its various stages and finally passed.

A By-law, appointing Mr. G. A. Aylesworth a member of the Board of Audit, was finally passed.

A By-law, appointing F. W. Barrett High County Constable, was finally passed.

A By-law appointing C. H. Lapum County Auditor, was introduced and passed.

Mr. Alf. McCutcheon again appeared before the Council in respect to his claim for damages.

Mr. C. H. Lapum, County Auditor, presented the Auditors' report for 1928, which was read and adopted.

On motion the Renwick child was placed with Mrs. Wm. Alcombrack at a cost to the County of $3.00 per week.

Council adjourned.

A communication from Mr. Jas. Lang, Deputy Minister Agricultural Department agent at Napanee, expressing his thanks for the courtesy extended to the Council during his sojourn in Napanee, was read and filed.

A letter from the Institute for the Blind, asking for a grant, was read. A grant of $100 was made to the Institute.

A letter from A. R. Davis, in reference to U. E. L. historic spots, especially the old Methodist Church and Hay Bay, asking the County Council to make a grant to start improving the grounds surrounding the church and the McDonald cairn.

On motion the County Clerk was instructed to prepare a deed from Mr. Davis to the Township of Adolphustown of the McDonald plot, when the Township Council and the County Council will take steps to improve the property for a park.

On motion the Hotel Dieu Hospital, Kingston, was given the usual grant of $500.00.

Mr. M. R. Reid presented the annual report of the Inspectorate of Frontenac North and Addington. Report adopted.

Moved by Mr. Judge, seconded by Mr. Aylesworth, that whereas the public schools at Moscow and Yarker have been carrying on 5th class work, the County should make a grant to duplicate the Government grant.

Mr. Corkill was heard in reference to above motion.

On motion the letter to ex-Warden Tummon from the Highways Department, re T. V. Anderson, was read and ordered printed in the Minutes.

A copy of Order-in-Council, reverting a portion of highway in Richmond, near Deseronto, to the municipality, was read and filed.

Correspondence, re Petworth bridge, was read and filed.

Reeve Aylesworth was heartily congratulated on the occasion of his seventy-third birthday by resolution and singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow", to which Mr. Aylesworth made a suitable reply.

Inspector Corkill explained the regulations governing Fifth Form work in Public Schools.

Pollard, $15.15; J. D. Mayhew, $2.00; Jackson Press, $5.95; Jackson Press, 28c.; Picton Collegiate, $77.46; Deseronto High School, $55.77.

The following accounts were referred to Committees:—

Templeton & Son, $76.50; Dr. Oldham, $5.00; Sydenham High School, $119.00.

The Streets Committee of Napanee and the Special Roads Committee of the County Council held a joint session in the Town Hall, on Friday evening to consider the paving of the connecting links of County Roads in Napanee.

Saturday.

Moved by Mr. Judge, seconded by Mr. Miller, that whereas considerable damage to sheep, cattle and dogs has been caused by the setting of snares, and many complaints have been made to the game wardens about same, we would ask our representative, Hon. W. D. Black, to co-operate with us, and have the statutes amended to provide for prohibiting the setting of snares, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Speaker of the House of Assembly, Toronto.

Moved by Messrs. Carscallen and Judge, that the matter of the unpaid taxes by Napanee, and the paving of the connecting links be laid over until the March session.

Copies of Letters, re T. V. Anderson.

December 13th, 1928.

Mr. R. C. Muir,
Chief Engineer, Municipal Roads,
Department Public Highways,
Toronto, Ontario.

My Dear Sir:—On December 4th, 1928, at our County Council Meeting, a resolution was introduced by Messrs. Carscallen and Judge, censoring Road Superintendent Anderson, and requesting his resignation, such resolution to be defeated by majority of 10 to 5. The writer would very much appreciate a letter from you stating whether our department are satisfied with the services rendered by Mr. Anderson during the past 22 years, as this County and the Department of Public Highways are in my opinion, partners in the matter of road improvement in our County.

A reply at an early date would be greatly appreciated.

Yours very truly,
(Sgd.) A. C. TUMMON,
Warden, Lennox and Addington.

Toronto,
January 16th, 1929.

Dr. A. C. Tummon,
Warden of Lennox and Addington County,
Selby, Ontario.

My Dear Warden:—

We have your letter of recent date with respect to Mr. T. V. Anderson, County Road Superintendent, and it was with regret we learned of the resolution put forward at the last session of the County Council, asking for the resignation of Mr. Anderson.

In our opinion, Mr. Anderson has been a faithful servant to the County of Lennox and Addington, and he has always had the County's interests at heart in carrying out his duties.

As Engineer in charge of this Branch of the Department, it is a part of my duty to meet the Road Superintendent in all the municipalities, and I may say that on all occasions when I have met Mr. Anderson, I always found him most conscientious and willing to carry out his duties in the best interest of the county and ratepayers at large.

Personally I do not think that a change in your Superintendent is required at this time and I am very pleased to hear that the resolution was turned down by a large majority.

I trust, therefore, that the services of Mr. Anderson will be retained.

Yours truly,
R. C. MUIR,
Chief Engineer of Municipal Roads.

THE THIRD EMPIRE FORESTRY CONFERENCE

The good effects which the Empire Forestry conferences are having in encouraging a stock-taking of the wood capital of the Empire and in bringing out the most successful methods of forest management are becoming increasingly evident. The first conference was held in England in 1920, the second, upon the invitation of Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, was held in Canada in 1923, and the third has just concluded its sessions in Australia and New Zealand. Mr. E. H. Finlayson, Director of Forestry, Department of the Interior, who has recently returned from attendance at this conference, found much in the proceedings that will be of value to Canada and to the other parts of the Empire. As was the case in the previous conferences the meetings were not all held in one place. Thus, starting at Perth in Western Australia, all the states were visited and the stands of timber and methods of lumbering, regeneration, and forestation were carefully studied. The main meetings were held in Canberra, the federal capital.

Australia's native trees are practically all hardwoods, that is broad-leaved trees. This constitutes a distinct contrast to Canada where soft-wood trees, also called needle-leaved trees, predominate. There are over 400 species of gum tree in Australia and the wood of these trees, although called "hard" ranges from timber as soft as some of our poplars to trees much harder than anything we have in Canada. While many of the gums are used as structural timber, Australia imports a good deal of softwoods from abroad—chiefly from the Pacific coast of North America. In general the same remarks apply to New Zealand. Since there are practically no coniferous trees in Australia and as trees make rapid growth in the antipodes, both Australia and New Zealand have gone in for planting extensively, using for their operations several of the pines, some Douglas fir, and a limited amount of larch.

Speaking broadly Australia and New Zealand have given more attention to planting than Canada but less to the protection and development of the stands of native trees. The details of forestry problems are very different in Australia from those of Canada or the British Isles but all will turn out in the conferences gained much information for use in their homelands. The fact was impressed upon all that the Empire has an adequate supply of hardwoods but that a shortage of softwoods is definitely approaching. As Canada is the Empire's "softwoods storehouse" the duty and opportunity of Canada in this connection are readily seen. Besides the Director of Forestry those who went from Canada to attend the conferences were: Mr. D. Roy Cameron, Associate Director of Forestry, Department of the Interior; Dr. J. M. Swaine, Associate Dominion Entomologist; Mr. F. J. Zavitz, Deputy Minister of Forestry for Ontario, and Mr. P. J. Caverhill, Provincial Forester for British Columbia.

CAMDEN EAST WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The January meeting of Camden East Women's Institute held at the home of Mrs. W. Dunn, on the evening of the 11th, was well attended by members and visitors despite the bad roads and severe storm.

The meeting opened in the usual way, with fourteen members and several visitors present. Members answered roll call by each telling of the Christmas gift she liked best.

The minutes were read and adopted, the Secretary read several letters of thanks for flowers and fruit sent to ill folk recently. Then, too, there were letters relating to courses and classes given by the Department, and the series of lectures given annually.

It was decided to have the class in "Home Nursing" as soon as an instructress is available.

Application was also made for a speaker for the "Summer Series" of lectures held in May and June. This is a talk by an able speaker on some interesting topic which with the date will be announced later. Mrs. A. Salsbury has offered her home for this occasion.

The business meeting was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

All were now free to enjoy the various forms of amusement provided by the Old Time Social which followed. Many enjoyed the dancing and card games, while little groups seemed to be enjoying a real visit, and still others listened to radio concerts. About midnight a delicious lunch was served, after which games, etc., were resumed 'till about 2 o'clock, when all reluctantly prepared for home, each having had a real jolly time. We all unite in extending our thanks to the hostess and her family.

The next meeting will be at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, February 1st, at Mrs. Black's home. Yarker Institute is providing the programme for this meeting.

DEPUTATION RE HYDRO SERVICE

A meeting of those interested in Rural Electric Service by the Hydro Electric Power Commission on Highway No. 2 appointed a deputation, consisting of Mr. Chas. Hambly, ex-M.P.P. for Lennox and Addington, and Capt. A. S. Hughson, to await on the Government in Toronto, and petition them, that at the coming session, to pass the necessary legislation, to lower what is known as the service charge to the rural consumers and to amend the present regulation demanding a twenty (20) year contract.

The present rates for hydro service to the rural population is so high that under average circumstances it is almost prohibitory, and agriculturists of Central Ontario feel that the time has arrived for the Government to come to their rescue, as power on the farm is now a necessity, not a luxury.

BAY CIRCUIT WEST W. M. S.

The W. M. S. of Bay Circuit West held its first meeting of the new year at the home of the President, Mrs. J. C. Parks, on Wednesday, Jan. 23rd. The President opened he meeting by singing the Doxology and another hymn, after-which Rev. J. E. Beckel led in prayer. The Scripture lesson was then read by Mrs. Dr. Hough. The Secretary read the minutes of the last meeting. This was followed by the Treasurer's report, which was very encouraging. We then had a report from three Heralds. Mrs. Beckel gave a reading entitled "Mrs. Brentz' New Committee" which was very interesting. The devotional leaflet "Jesus Standard of Greatness", was read by Mrs. F. Parks. This was followed by a hymn, "Hark the Voice of Jesus Calling". Mr. Beskel explained the chapter "Bubbling Springs in Bie" from the study book, "Drums in the Darkness". The meeting was closed by prayer.

Refreshments were served, and a vote of thanks was tendered to the hostess for her hospitality.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. P. Huyck.

TRINITY CHURCH CONGREGATIONAL MEETING

The annual congregational meeting of Trinity Church was held on Thursday evening, January 24th, when reports were presented, showing the work of all departments of the church. The amounts raised were reported by the various Treasurers as follows:—Committee of Stewards, $6360.00; Missionary and Maintenance, $1778.42, the books of this fund being left open until the end of January to complete subscriptions; Ladies' Aid, $1016.20; Women's Missionary Society, $608.62; Mission Band, $72.00; Sunday School, $493.98; Ready Helpers' Class, $149.98; Mission Circle, $76.00; the total amount raised being $10,554.30.

The session composed of fifteen members, was elected to serve for the two years, and the Committee of Stewards to hold office during the year 1929.

Eighteen members have been received into the church during the year, and the church has lost by death seven members, and by removal to other towns, ten members.

Mr. Chas. Vandervoort reported for the Mid-Week Bible Class and showed that there had been a marked increase in the attendance, the average since the first meeting in September being sixty-nine.

The ladies of the church, under the direction of Mrs. Fred Henderson, served refreshments to the gathering at the close of the meeting.

OBITUARY

Mr. Thomas Ruttan.

In the death of Mr. Thomas Ruttan, which took place at his home at Bath, the community has lost a widely known and esteemed citizen.

Mr. Ruttan was in splendid health until three weeks ago, and while at his morning work was taken suddenly ill. He was faithfully attended by Dr. H. S. Northmore, assisted by Dr. Connell, of Kingston, and Dr. Wilson, of Napanee. All three doctors decided favourable for his recovery.

The late Mr. Ruttan, who was in his 74th year, was born at Bath, the youngest son of the late Richard Ruttan, and came of United Empire Loyalist stock.

The citizens will regret to learn of his death, he being a good neighbour and highly esteemed by all who knew him. His wife, Mary Ann Pedmond, predeceased him seven years ago. He leaves to mourn the loss of a loving father, two sons, two daughters, and a niece, William, of Bath; Arthur, of Amherst Island; Maggie, of Bath; Ida, of Niagara Falls, N.Y., and Stasia Dwyer, at home, who nursed him through his recent illness, giving him every attention; also a brother, George, of Detroit.

The funeral services were held at St. John's Church, Bath, conducted by Rev. Mr. Swaine. The remains were laid to rest in the family plot beside his parents.

ERNESTTOWN W. I. COMEDY

The play, "Miss Molly", which was put on at the Masonic Hall, Bath, on Jan. 24th, by the above Institute, was a decided success, being played to a full and responsive house.

The comedy, which was clean and interesting, was filled with smoothness and vim and provoked a great deal of mirth throughout the evening. The characters were all well taken. Mr. Wm. Chaplin as Reginald Peters, the crabbed old misogynist, was excellent in his "million dollar opera voice". Mr. Bert Smith was an amusing darkey and Mr. Edgar Thompson made an ideal artist. Molly was acted with much grace by Mrs. Edgar Thompson, and Mrs. Fred Hamm made an acceptable Annie, Reggie's twin sister. Mrs. Bert Smith was admirable as Cissy Saunders, a good sport and friend to all, and Mrs. Wm. Chaplin did some splendid work as Pearl White. Though the part of Lady Rhoda Minton was a small one, it was well taken by Mrs. Milton Thompson.

OBITUARY

Thomas Henry Bell.

On Saturday, January 18th, 1929, at Hay Bay, there passed away an almost life long resident, in the person of Thomas Henry Bell. Deceased, who was in his eighty-first year, was the last surviving son of a large family born to the late Catherine Joyce and William Bell, both of County Armagh, Ireland. From the age of seven he had made his home in North Fredericksburgh with the late William Joyce, well known to the older residents of the locality. In 1890 Mr. Bell married Lydia M. Hambly, who predeceased him by eleven months. He leaves one son, William, and two sisters, Mrs. Smylie Thompson, of Shannonville, and Mrs. Hugh Goodfellow, of Toronto.

For a number of years previous to his death he had been a patient sufferer, and for the last few months was confined to his bed. He was a member of the Bethany United Church and when able was regular in his attendance and faithful in its support.

The funeral service was held on Monday, January 21st, conducted by his Pastor, Rev. James E. Beckel, the large gathering of relatives and friends and the beautiful floral wreaths showed the esteem in which the deceased was held.

Miss Elizabeth Sharpe.

Miss Elizabeth Sharpe, a very highly respected person and one whose life had been spent in the vicinity of Odessa, passed away on January 9th, at the home of her niece, Mrs. Champ Smith, with whom she had lived for a number of years. The deceased was a very good living woman, and always ready to assist in all good work and will be greatly missed by her many sincere friends. A private funeral was held from her late home and the service was conducted by Rev. G. McQuade, Pastor of the United Church. The remains were taken to Cataraqui and interred in the family plot. Remaining are two brothers, Thomas Sharpe, Salmon Arms, B.C., and James Sharpe, Turtle Mountain, Manitoba. She had reached her seventy-ninth year.

CAMDEN VIII. W. M. S.

The January meeting of Camden VIII. W. M. S. could not be held at the home of Mrs. Samuel Doupe, as had been announced, owing to the serious illness of Miss Marion, who has since passed away, and on the afternoon of January 24th the meeting was held at the home of Mrs. R. J. Wilson.

At the request of the President, Mrs. B. Close who had just recently returned from Kingston, where she had spent several weeks with her brother, Mrs. R. J. Wilson took charge of the meeting and conducted the opening exercises with singing, prayer and Scripture reading of 2 Cor. VIII. chapter. The devotional leaflet "Stewardship is the Soul of Religion," was read by Mrs. Harold Brown.

The minutes of December meeting were read and confirmed by Mrs. Close.

The programme study for the meeting was a questionaire based on the third Annual Report of the United W. M. S., endeavoring to familiarize us with the great work being done by our Society, both at home and abroad, making each one feel that ours is a work worth while. The work in the home fields was reviewed, but owing to lack of time some of the questions on foreign work had to be passed over.

It was suggested by Mrs. Thomas Wilson and agreed to that we start at once a travelling basket. Each one is asked to donate some article and to bring it to the next meeting, which is planned to be held at the home of Mrs. Aimore Hyland on the afternoon of February 7th.

Moved by Mrs. Adam Fingland and Mrs. Hyland that a letter of sympathy be sent to Mrs. Doupe.

The roll was called, each one responding with a Scripture quotation beginning with the letter "F". Attendance 14; offering $2.70. With the singing of "The Morning Light is Breaking", and a closing prayer by Mrs. Wilson, the meeting was closed, after which Miss Edna Wilson served a very dainty lunch.

PILES GO —or Money Back

Piles or hemorrhoids can be removed, without an operation or any inconvenience, simply by correcting the cause of this dread disease. DAIRYING PRODUCTION OF CANADA

The total estimated production of milk in Canada in 1927 is estimated by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics at 13,060,000,000 pounds as compared with 12,407,000,000 pounds in 1926. The total number of cows milked in 1927 was 2,257,000 as compared with 2,332,000 in 1926. The number of milch cows on farms in 1928 is again slightly less than in the previous year, but it is expected that the milk produced in 1928 will not vary greatly from the total for 1927. The average milk production per cow as reported by the census of 1921 has been used and the total estimate of milk production arrived at.

The production of milk by provinces is (in pounds) as follows: Prince Edward Island, 178,564,368; Nova Scotia, 525,412,334; New Brunswick 403,614,618; Quebec, 4,657,161,966; Ontario, 5,128,278,311; Manitoba, 660,449,500; Saskatchewan, 1,049,216,124; Alberta, 781,633,312; British Columbia 294,911,760.

The distribution of the total milk produced amongst the different descriptions of dairy products is placed as follows, the quantities being expressed in pounds of milk: Butter, dairy 2,225,530,000; creamery, 4,143,077,150; Cheese, home-made 4,652,670; factory 1,546,237,368; miscellaneous factory products 297,416,913; consumed fresh or otherwise disposed of, 4,854,908,192.

Production of butter and cheese (in pounds) in 1927 was as follows: Butter, dairy 95,000,000; creamery, 176,978,947; total 271,978,947; Cheese, home-made 415,417; factory 138,056,908; total 138,472,325.

The total value of all dairy products is estimated to be $253,736,605 for 1927 as compared with $249,710,007 in 1926. Taking the items for Canada separately, the values for 1927, with the corresponding values for 1926 in brackets, are as follows: Dairy butter $30,435,121 ($28,252,777); creamery butter $65,709,936 ($61,753,380); home-made cheese $70,654 ($80,240); factory cheese $25,522,148 ($28,807,841); miscellaneous factory products $18,879,235 ($17,767,271) and whole milk $113,119,361 ($113,048,548).

Within the last few years, the trade in dairy products with the United States has assumed considerable importance. In the fiscal year ended March 31st, 1919, the exports of dairy products from Canada to the United States, in terms of total value, represented only 8.4 p.c. of the total dairy exports. This proportion has increased until in 1927-28 it amounted to 32.1 p.c. Cream is the largest item in those exports at present. In 1918-19, the exports of cream to the United States amounted to 485,015 gallons, and the exports of milk to 827,973 gallons, increasing until in the year 1926-27 the exports of cream were 4,495,917 gallons and of milk 4,886,445 gallons. In the fiscal year 1927-8, some falling-off is shown, the amounts of cream being 4,016,961 gallons and of milk 3,624,794 gallons. The exports of cheese to the United States rose from 150,000 pounds in 1918-19 to the high figure of 14,000,062 pounds in 1926-27. In 1927-28, the exports to the United States amounted to 12,533,500 pounds.

Complete details as to dairy production are shown in the Monthly Bulletin of Agricultural Statistics for December 1928. Copy of this may be had on application to the Dominion Statistician at Ottawa.

Presentation and Address

On Tuesday evening, Jan. 29th, 1929, about seventy-five friends of Mr. Arthur Keech gathered at the home of Mr. R. J. Wilson, Ont., to spend a social evening and bid farewell to Mr. Keech ere he took his departure from their midst, to take a position with the Company as operator at Robilndale. He was presented with a purse of money, and the following address:—

Enterprise, Ont.,
January 29th, 1929.

Dear Art.—We have learned with great regret of your intention of relinquishing your duty as Agent of the C.P.R. at Lora, and we have met here to-night to spend a few hours of social intercourse together.

We wish to express in some degree the esteem with which we regard you and our administration for your kindness and courtesy shown to us as immediate neighbourhood and to the community at large. Nothing has been asked of you that you have not done so nobly and willingly, and we feel sure that you will make as many friends in the community to which you are going.

As you will not be far away, we shall expect to see you real often, and we shall welcome you tto our homes and social gatherings at any time. And now as a token of our esteem we ask you to accept this remembrance, also our best wishes for your future success and happiness.

Signed on behalf of your many Reidville friends.

JOHN H. WILSON.
HUGH J. FINGLAND.

Although completely taken by surprise, Arthur responded in a few well chosen words, thanking the people for their many kindnesses he had received during his two and half years' stay in the community also for the support that had been given him on behalf of the Company.

The evening was brought to a close by the ladies serving lunch, and all singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow".

Rheumatic Pains Due to Thin Blood

Relief Comes Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

The most a rheumatic sufferer can hope for in rubbing something on the swollen, aching joints is a little relief, and all the while the trouble is becoming more firmly rooted. It is now known that rheumatism is rooted in the blood, and that as the trouble goes on the blood becomes still further thin and watery. To get rid of rheumatism, therefore, you must go to the root of the trouble in the blood. That is why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have proved so beneficial when taken for this trouble. They make new, rich blood which expels the poisonous acid and the rheumatism disappears.

There are thousands of former rheumatic sufferers in Canada, now well and strong, who thank Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that they are now free from the aches and pains of this dreaded trouble. One of these, Mrs. W. F. Tait, McKellar, Ont., says:—"I am one of the willing ones to tell you of the great benefits I received from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After lying in bed for seven weeks suffering untold agony with inflamatory rheumatism, relief finally came through the use of this medicine. I could not move in bed only as they lifted me, and I could only sleep when opiates were given me. The medical treatment I was taking seemed of no avail. Then I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and soon I began to get relief. After taking six or eight boxes the rheumatism was banished and I have never felt better in my life. It is several years since this happened and I have had no return of the trouble since. I may add that I recommended the pills to two of my friends who were suffering with rheumatism and the pills were equally effective in both cases."

Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for anaemia, rheumatism, neuralgia, indigestion or nervousness. Take them as a tonic if you are not in the best physical condition and cultivate a resistance that will keep you well and strong. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50c. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

TALKIES IN COLOR TO TEACH SURGERY

Talking films, which show, in actual colors, a surgeon performing an operation and reproduce his voice as he lectures on its technique, have achieved such success at the New York Post-Graduate Medical School and Hospital that an international demand for their use has been created, the hospital announced.

The films, which have recently have been developed under the direction of two professors of the Post-Graduate Medical School and Hospital, will be exhibited soon before medical groups in this city, Boston, Philadelphia and Montreal, and also will be shown next summer to the International Clinic of Plastic Surgery in Paris, as well as before medical audiences in England Belgium and Holland. They recently were exhibited by Dr. J Eastman Sheehan at the Pan-American Medical Congress in Havana.

"The film method of teaching as demonstrated is said to be more effective, in many instances, than the clinic and operating room demonstrations hitherto used," states the hospital's announcement.

"Thus far the films developed at the Post-Graduate Medical School have been used principally to demonstrate the technique of skin grafting, reconstructive surgery to restore use of various members of the body crippled by accident or disease, especially crippled fingers, and the correction of nasal disfigurement.

"The ability to produce the actual colors on the screen, according to Dr. Sheehan, is determined by taking alternate images through two lenses, one of which receives the image through a filter in which red is tempered by yellow, the other in which the blue dominates, but also with an admixture of yellow, thus covering the spectrum as relates to the three primary colors.

"These images are projected through filters of the same values, again through two lenses, co-ordination of the filters on a revolving disk, assuring from an ordinary reproduction that is measurably perfect."

MORVEN

On Wednesday, January 23rd, was held the funeral of the late Mrs. Cummings. Long life had certainly been granted her as she had passed the century line. We sympathize with all who shall miss her.—Rev. Mr. Seymour delivered an excellent sermon on Sunday evening from the subject "The Cross of Jesus".—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rawlinson, Oshawa, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Baird spent Sunday with Mrs. A. Mills.—Mr. George Fralick, accompanied by Messrs. A. N. and S. Fraser, G. H. Clark and F. Vandeboncoeur, spent Thursday at Picton, attending the annual Poultry Show.—Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Miller and family, Kenmore, spent Sunday at Mr. W. H. Milling's.—Mrs. Wm. Close and baby, Leon, spent a few days visiting Mrs. Wm. Wilbert.—Mrs. Gloyn overcast our community upon learning of the passing away of Mr. E. Hansen, Waukegan, Ill., beloved husband of Sadie A. Purdy. Our sympathy goes out to the bereaved wife and daughter.—Mr. Charles Saunders has returned, after a year spent in the West.—Mrs. Clarence Wilson, of Kingston, spent Sunday at Mr. Henwood's.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

The latest trouble of the former Kaiser is that his exuberant brother-in-law, Alexander Zoubkoff, has decided to become a clown. It looks as if the new recruit of the family has caught the Hohenzollern yearning for the centre o fthe stage.

Internally and Externally It Is Good

The crowning property of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is that it can be used internally for many complaints as well as externally. For sore throat, croup, whooping cough, pains in the chest, colic and many kindred ailments it has qualities that are unsurpassed. A bottle of it costs little and there is no loss in always having it at hand.

The inspector had just returned from the Isle of Man and was examining the girls' class in geography.

"Can you tell me what island there is off the English coast which from its name you would judge to be inhabited by people of the male sex only?"

"Please, sir," replied a girl promptly, "the Scilly Isles."

A Power of its Own.—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has a rubile power of its own. All who have used it know this and keep it by them as the most valuable liniment available. Its uses are innumerable and for many years it has been prized as the leading liniment for man and beast.

"John, I wish you would breakfast in the breakfast nook."

"Well, ain't I?"

"No, you've got one foot in the kitchenette."

Nearly all children are subject to worms, and many are born with them. Spare them suffering by using Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator, an excellent remedy.

"I can't have whistling at the table, Mr. Slocum," said the boarding-house keeper.

"I thought you said yesterday you liked to hear a man whistle at his work?" replied the boarder, as he made another ineffectual attempt at cutting the leg of a three-year-old turkey.

Why suffer from corns when they can be painlessly rooted out by using Holloway's Corn Remover.

The new theory of nations for maintaining peace is a new peace treaty for every cruiser, and as many cruisers for each country as the leader in the race is building.

Miller's Worm Powders prove their value. They do not cause any violent disturbances in the stomach, any pain or griping, but do their work quietly and painlessly, so that the destruction of the worms is imperceptible. Yet they are thorough, and from the first dose there is improvement in the condition of the sufferer and a cessation of manifestations of internal trouble.

A Londoner took an American to see "Hamlet".

"You sure are behind the times here," remarked the American. "I saw this play in New York four years ago."

Nights of Agony come in the train of asthma. The victim cannot lie down, and sleep is driven from his brain. What grateful relief is the immediate effect of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. It banishes the frightful conditions, clears the passages, and enables the afflicted one to again sleep as soundly and restfully as a child. Insist on the genuine at your nearby druggist.

The raw recruit was thirty seconds late on the morning of his first dress parade, and later on had to report at the orderly-room.

"I am exceedingly sorry, sir," he apologized, "but I woke rather late, and there were only ten minutes for me to dress."

"Ten minutes!" roared the angry officer. "Why, I can 'dress comfortably in less than ten minutes!"

The recruit shifted his weight from one leg to the other.

"Yes, sir," he said innocently. "But I had to wash, sir."

My Friend Has My Everlasting Thanks

Says Ontario Man Who Took Friend's Advice and Used Dodd's Kidney Pills

W. L. Cattral Suffered Greatly With Lame Back

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 5th. (Special) —"Two years ago I was troubled with a lame back," writes Mr. W. L. Cattral, 447 Cambridge St., Ottawa. "A friend advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and I did. After taking the second box I was completely relieved. I always keep a box on hand in case of a relapse. My friend has my everlasting thanks."

That Mr. Cattral's trouble came from his kidneys is evidenced by the relief he got from Dodd's Kidney Pills. They are purely and simply a kidney remedy. Many persons suffer periodically with backache, and, as middle age approaches, the disturbances in severity. Rest may give temporary relief, but Dodd's Kidney Pills do much more than this. They strengthen the weak kidneys and remove the cause of the pain.

Obtainable from all druggists, or The Dodds Medicine Co., Ltd., Toronto 2, Ont.

CHAPTER VII.

Wherein I Bargain For a Woman.

WHAT had happened I could well guess. Captain Mat thews had been attacked by the mutineers, and thereafter the rest had got him. My first impulse was to dash open the lock of the door and rush to his rescue, but wiser counsel prevailed, and I did nothing. I am, I think, somewhat cool headed in a crisis, and surely this was one. I could wait. A loaded pistol was better than an empty one, and to deal with me they would have to come to me for whatever purpose they might entertain, either to murder me at once or release me. In either event I could do more then if I rushed into the fray now. I could not help Captain Mat thews. I was sure that whatever his purpose they might entertain for no little usefulness would be in abeyance until they had settled with me.

I listened with every nerve strained to the utmost. I also waited most anxiously for the opening of the after cabin door, which was but one, but I waited in vain. Then I heard the sound of the hatch being opened, and I knew that the mutineers had gained the deck. Then I heard the sound of the hatch being closed, and I knew that the mutineers had gained the deck. Then I heard the sound of the hatch being closed, and I knew that the mutineers had gained the deck.

"The first man," I hissed out, "gets a bullet."

she must have been in a sound sleep indeed, for the door did not open. Evidently she had heard nothing.

It was not an easy task, but I judged it best.

Fortunately I had not long to wait, for in less time by far than I have taken to tell it the hatch was opened and the heavy booted men clattered down the companionway. The key was in the lock outside, and I could hear them turn it. I loosened my sword, which I had slung by its belt around my waist, picked up the two pistols, sent my back up against the side of the ship and made ready for whatever came.

The door was pushed open abruptly, and I saw the cabin was crowded with men. At least half the crew were gathered there, and it was a little cabin, the Rose of Devon being but a small ship. The rest, I guessed, were on watch. I could not see the best swain. Evidently he had the deck. The vessel couldn't be left unwatched on such a night as this and in such a sea, and he was the fittest man to take charge of her. The steward had lighted the cabin lights, several of the men carried lanterns which they had brought from the forepeak, and others had drawn their sheath knives. There was plenty of illumination to show their villainous faces.

They were surprised to find me so prepared, and I gave them no time to recover.

"The first man," I hissed out, "that steps across that threshold without permission gets a bullet through him!"

"We mean you no harm, sir," spoke out one who seemed to be a ringleader, a man rated as boatswain's mate, whose name was Gibby.

"What are you doing here?" I asked, "in the cabin at this time of night?"

"Softly, softly, sir," replied Gibby; "we are here to ask questions, not to answer 'em."

"What do you mean?" I cried.

"We are masters of the ship."

"Captain Matthews?"

"He will captain no more ships on this or any other seas," answered Gibby, with truculent emphasis.

Now, it rose in my mind to shoot him then and there, murderous brute that he was. If I had been alone perhaps I would have done it without reckoning the consequences to myself, but I had another to think of. Unless craft stood me in good stead her case was hopeless. And had as Gibby was, Pimball was the chief villain.

"Serves him right!" I broke out with well simulated heat. "He disrates me and locks me up here just for stealing a kiss from a maid, and"—

"Spoken like a man of spirit, Mister Hampdon!" cried Gibby. "What did I tell ye, mates; he's with us!"

"With you!" said I, lowering my hold on the pistol, but taking good care to keep ready. "I am with you all right. What do you propose? I am sick of the treatment I received, mind you."

"We want that treasure for our selves."

"And you shall have it, provided I get me mate with the other men," I answered, somewhat startled by their words, for this I had expected.

"We will share and share alike. In every way," answered Gibby.

I think, indeed!

"But if you are" came from the two voices of the men.

How I longed to clutch him by the throat and choke him. My temper rose again, but this time, as before, I managed to keep it down, but with immense difficulty, as you may suspect.

"Come into the cabin, Mister Hampdon," said Gibby, "and we will talk it over."

"Wait," said I. "Who is in command of you?"

"Why, Mister Pimlatt, the bo'sun," answered Gibby.

"Very good," said I. "I must talk with him about the future. Do you go on deck, Gibby, and send Pimlatt below, and he and I with the rest of you will soon settle this matter."

"All right," answered the boatswain's mate, turning to the company. "Pimlatt can talk; him and you can come to terms, I make no doubt."

Now I couldn't allow myself to hesitate for the thousandth part of a second. Ostentatiously I shoved one pistol into the belt that hung at my right side, the other I dropped carelessly into the pocket of my coat, and as Gibby clattered up the ladder, I walked fearlessly, to all appearances, out of the berth and into the cabin, the men giving back respectfully enough to leave me gangway.

"Now, what is it that you propose, Master Boats'n?" I began, sitting down at the cabin table, while the rest ranged themselves about it, some standing, some sitting on the transoms at the sides, as Pimlatt came lumbering into the cabin.

"We know," began Pimlatt insolently, without further preliminaries, "that this ship's cruisin' for treasure. We know all we'll git out of the cruise is what we signed for an' nothin' else. We're made a good guess that the treasure is hereabouts, and we mean to have more than our wages. We're goin' to have our share of whatever's found that we're after."

"So you shall," I said, "I am with you in that. I want something more than my wages too."

"What's this woman anyway?" broke out another. "Why should she get it all? She's a mere girl."

"You have said right, mates; who and why indeed?" I answered smoothly, marking him down for my vengeance when my turn came. "Now, what are your plans?"

"We want that there map or chart that you have been seen readin' in your cabin," said Pimlatt.

It was in a little bag around my neck. I reached down, pulled out the bag, took the torn parchment from it and threw it on the table. There was not the least use in my pretending ignorance or in refusing to give it up. They could kill me and take it any way.

"There," said I coolly, "you have it."

Pimlatt picked it up.

OBITUARY

George Murphy.

There passed away on Friday, January 11th, 1929, at the Ford Hospital, Detroit, George Murphy, formerly of Tamworth, aged 44 years and 6 months. Some four years ago George went to Detroit, started to work in the Ford plant, where he took sick, and was sent to Ford Hospital, and remained there until his death. The body was sent home, and the funeral was held at Tamworth, after which the remains were placed in the vault for interment in the spring. He leaves to mourn his loss two brothers and three sisters, Will, of Tamworth; John, of Point Anne; Mrs. T. R. Brawley, of Brooklyn, N.Y.; Mrs. F. Lott, Tamworth, and Mrs. J. W. McDonald, Tamworth.

OBITUARY

Late Edward Hansen.

Word was received in Napanee, conveying the intelligence that Edward Hansen, of Waukeegan, Ill., had passed away. The deceased had been in ill health for some time, and was well known here, he having married Miss Sadie Purdy, of Morven, about six years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Hansen were frequent visitors at the home of Mrs. Hansen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Purdy, formerly of Morven, now residing in Windsor. The deceased, who had charge of a men's wear store in Waukeegan, was highly esteemed by his friends in this district. Mrs. Hansen has two brothers, J. R. Purdy, of Dearborn, Mich., and Howard Purdy, of Windsor.

ODESSA MISSION CIRCLE

The annual meeting of the Odessa United Church Mission Circle was held in the Sunday School room on December 7th, with the President, Mrs. Roy Hartman, in the chair.

The programme was short, owing to the election of officers. Mrs. Hartman, after two years of faithful service as President, asked to be relieved. We also would like to mention the very active work of Miss Geraldine Fraser, who asked to be relieved of the office of Recording Secretary, and who has filled that position so well ever since our Circle was started.

The officers for 1929 are as follows:
Mission Superintendent—Mrs. Courtland Snider.
Assistant Superintendent: — Mrs. Clarke Boice.
President—Miss Helen Card.
Vice President—Mr. Fred McQuade.
Recording Secretary — Miss Helen Sproule.
Corresponding Secretary—Miss Doris Cairns.
Treasurer—Mr. Lester Hogle.
Pianist—Miss Winnie Cairns.

On January 11th the Mission Circle met at the home of our President, Miss Helen Card, with a good number in attendance.

The meeting opened with a hymn. Minutes of last meeting. Miss Thora Emberley gave us a very interesting reading, after which Miss Ruth Cairns favored us with a piano solo. We were very pleased to have Mr. Vernon Reid with us, who also gave a reading. After the programme the social half hour was spent in games and contest. At the close the hostess served a dainty lunch, and the young people enjoyed a very pleasant evening together.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Ruth Cairns, on Friday evening, Feb. 8th. Programme Committee, Thora Emberley, Doris Cairns and George McQuade. We invite all our young people, and we hope for a good start for the new year.

CAMDEN EAST WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The February meeting of Camden East Women's Institute was held on the first Friday, at the home of Mrs. Geo Black. Seventeen members and thirty-six visitors were present. Roll call was answered by a recipe for "Sandwich filling". Three new members joined us.

Minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Correspondence, consisting of letters of thanks and applications for the Home Nursing Course were read. On motion the application for the course was filled in, and business closed for this meeting, to allow our visiting sisters—about thirty in number—of Yarker-Colebrook Institute to present their programme.

Mrs. Boyce, President of Yarker-Colebrook Branch, was called on to take charge of the remainder of the meeting. After a brief talk she called on the following artists for their selections on the programme:—Mrs. Freeman and Mrs. Hawley, instrumental duet; Mrs. Shangraw and Mrs. Hall, vocal duet; Mrs. R. Jackson, paper on "Happiness and Right Living"; Mrs. Percy Galbraith, an instrumental solo; Mrs. Reed, vocal solo; Mrs. Galbraith, monologue.

This was a programme of high order revealing a great store of talent; and to say that it was much enjoyed, expresses it much too mildly. With talent such as they have in their Institute they should be able to put on excellent concerts.

At the close of the programme all sang the National Anthem.

A social half hour, during which lunch was served, brought to a close a very pleasant meeting.

Our next meeting is at the home of Mrs. A. Robinson, on the evening of March 1st.

Buy Hess' Stock Food in the 100 lb. drum, or the 25 lb. pail! It comes considerably cheaper that way ($12.00 a hundred or $3.50 a pail). The value of Dr. Hess' Stock Tonic is absolutely unquestioned by the dozens and dozens of farmers in this community who have tried it out and who enthusiastically recommend it to their neighbours. It also comes in smaller packages. (65c. and $1.30). at Wallace's, Napanee Agents.

DORLAND

Everyone is enjoying the delightful bright winter weather. Crossing at Glenora is now safe, and wheeling is good on all roads. — Roy Milman suffered a serious accident on Saturday while assisting in sawing wood on the farm of Mr. John Magee, where he has been employed for the past two years. He stepped on a small rolling stick and fell, striking his left arm near the shoulder on the running saw. A terrible gash was inflicted in the thick flesh. Fortunately the bone escaped injury, although the muscles were severed. Dr. Hall responded to the call promptly and dressed the wound, putting in over twenty stitches. Mr. Milman was accompanied to Kingston General Hospital by Messrs. Lawrence Magee and James Bird.—Read Engineer Chalmers has a number of men and teams hauling ballast from Allen's pit onto the front road.—Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Church, of Milford, were recent guests of her sister, Mrs. Andrew Magee.—The epidemic of mumps is still in the neighborhood. — Mr. Lawrence Magee and mother were in Napanee on Thursday, attending the funeral of the late R. J. Delong.—A few have been hauling logs to Murphy's sawmill at Hay Bay. — Mr. A. C. Davis has returned from Kemptville Agricultural School.

Farm journals, Government Representatives, and stock men generally, advise the use of Sabadilla Powder for lice on cattle. We may add that local farmers who have tried it out, claim that Sabadilla is far and away the best louse powder known. Sold and recommended, at Wallace's.

MacTavish of Belleville conducted service in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday.

Will It Help Business To Mark Time?

By 1934 Ontario and Quebec will need a million telephones and the Bell Telephone Company wants new money to provide them.

The company does not want any money from Parliament. It only wants permission to try to sell new shares to investors.

The investors will supply the money if they are allowed to. If they are not allowed to, the telephone system must mark time.

In 48 years the telephone company has never suggested nor received a government grant; it only asks freedom to take farther part in Canada's progress.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH W. A. NEWBURGH

A most successful monthly meeting of St. John's Branch W. A. was held at the home of Mrs. Ross Dougan, on Tuesday, Jan. 22nd. The meeting opened with Litany and member's prayer. Roll called. Minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. The Secretary being absent through illness, Mrs. Dougan kindly read the reports of the December and January Diocesan Board meetings held at Kingston. Miss Bell, Treasurer, gave the financial report, which was most gratifying. All pledges being met and much work accomplished during the year just closed. Owing to much illness among the members, election of officers was postponed until the February meeting, when all members are requested to be present. A work meeting was arranged for and was held on January 30th, at the home of Mrs. Chas. Walker. Sixteen were present, work planned, and finished. Meeting was closed with prayer by the Rector, Rev. R. W. Spencer.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. M. Vandervoort.

CAMDEN EAST PUBLIC LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

The Camden East Public Library Association held its annual meeting in the Library Room on Saturday evening, January 26th. A goodly number of interested members were present, which resulted in a very successful meeting. These members showed a keen interest in the welfare of the library, and all are determined to make this a most successful year.

An exchange of books is under way with Newburgh Library. This will furnish new reading material for a time. Then, in the course of a week or two, a case of forty or fifty new books will be in circulation. There, we hope, will induce new members to join the association.

The following members were elected to form the Board to carry on he business of the library:—Mrs. Saul, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. A. M. Hinch (Treas. Librarian), Mrs. A. Robinson, Mrs. T. Allore, Mrs. H. Robinson, Mrs. G. Smedley (Secretary), Mr. G. Riley, Mr. A. Dickson, Mr. A. Salsbury (President), Mr. R. W. Longmore was made Honorary President of the Board.

The hearty co-operation of all in the community is needed to help the library carry on. The first thing necessary is money, and as the Inspector of Libraries writes: "There are a number of sources of procuring money for an Association Library, but the first and primary method should be the membership fees. Try to increase the membership. The fee should be at least one dollar a year for each adult member. The library cannot be expected to carry on on a smaller amount—it is a matter of less than two cents a week."

Think of it! A chance to read one hundred and two books for the small sum of one dollar.

Will those desirous of aiding the library respond as soon as possible with their fees, which are due the first of each year, and so give the Board a fair start towards reaching its aim of making this year the best in the library's history?

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Row, of Upper West Water street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marion, to Howard A. Tryon, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Tryon, of this city, formerly of Detroit.

Announcement was made of the coming marriage at a luncheon given by Mrs. Row this afternoon, at the Elmira Country Club. Covers were laid for twenty-seven at the daintily appointed table, decorated with roses and lighted tapers. Miss Virginia Brown, of Olean, N.Y., was an out-of-town guest.

Miss Row, who writes the Mary Anne column for the Star Gazette, is well known in Elmira society, and her many friends extend best wishes.

Mr. Tryon, with his parents, came to Elmira from Detroit recently to reside. He is a prominent golfer and last summer won the Strathmont Cup Tournament at the Elmira Country Club. Mr. Tryon is a member of Detroit Golf Club, the Providence Golf Club, the Biltmore Golf Club, Rye, N.Y., and others. No date has been set for the wedding.—Elmira Star Gazette, December 28th, 1928.

Miss Row is a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Allen.

A few drops of Vapure on the handkerchief and inhaled almost instantly relieves head colds, and besides it is a valuable aid in preventing "Flu". Sold in 50c. bottles, at Wallace's.

WILTON W. M. S.

The January meeting of the Wilton Women's Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. John Carr, on Wednesday, January 16th, with a large attendance. With the President presiding, the meeting was opened by the singing of Hymn 240, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus", after which Rev. Mr. McQuade led in prayer. Owing to the fact that on the first December meeting was to have been held, at the home of Mrs. F. Sharpe, the epidemic of the different reports proved very interesting, especially the one received from our Stranger Secretaries, Mrs. J. Carr and Mrs. B. Mills.

Our Auxiliary was only too glad to assist the W. C. T. U. in the launching of the "Mirror Campaign". The pledge of this campaign is "I hereby pledge myself, daily, to pray for Prohibition and to vote as I pray." This pledge is written on a small card, which is to be placed in our most used mirror.

The delegates elected for the Presbyterial were Mrs. Stimson Carr and Mrs. Earl Ferry.

The following officers were elected for the coming year :—

President—Mrs. A. W. Babcock.

1st Vice President—Mrs. S. Carr.

2nd Vice President—Mrs. F. Sharpe.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. Ida Parrott.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. O. Henderson.

Temperance Secretary — Miss G. Wallace.

Stranger Secretaries—Mrs. J. Carr and Mrs. B. Mills.

Treasurer—Miss G. Asselstine.

Superintendent of Associate Helpers and Mite Boxes—Mrs. J. E. Miller.

Superintendent of Christian Stewardship—Mrs. W. Amey.

Press Reporters—Misses R. Conners and H. Babcock.

Organist—Miss E. Emberley.

Rev. Mr. McQuade closed the meeting with prayer, after which a dainty lunch was served by the hostess, and the social half hour which followed was enjoyed by all.

The very efficient work of the officers and the good attendance during the past year, proved the deep interest taken in missions by our Auxiliary.

The February meeting will be in charge of Mrs. W. Amey, Superintendent of Christian Stewardship, and will be held at the home of Mrs. J. E. Miller.

GRACE UNITED CHURCH HOLDS ANNUAL CONGREGATIONAL MEETING

The annual Congregational Meeting of Grace United Church was held on Wednesday evening last, with the minister, Rev. W. P. Woodger, presiding. After devotional exercises, Mr. C. A. Wiseman was again elected Secretary.

Reports given by Mr. Stanley Wales for the Auditors, showed :—Amount raised for Local Church Revenue, $3937.22; for Missionary and Maintenance Fund, $2838.37, and for S. S. Renovation Fund, $891.58. Mr. F. L. Hooper reported for the Sunday School an enrollment of 445, average attendance of 330, and receipts $362.93, besides $250.00 for the Missionary Fund. The Adult Bible Classes, through their respective Presidents Mr. J. W. Hambly, Miss V. Hall, Mr. Escott Rose, and in the absence of the President of the A. O. T. S. Class, Mr. J. B. Stalker, reported $666.69 raised. The total receipts for the Woman's Association (Ladies' Aid), given by Mrs. S. Wales, were $1238.72. Miss Marjorie Thompson, for the Young People's League, reported as to the character of meetings held and in prospect, and receipts as $61.74. The Minister reported Sacramental offerings $92.00; Upper Canada Bible Society $47.63; Young Worshippers' League $31.05. The Woman's Missionary Society, through Mrs. Hooper, gave receipts $377.54; the Mission Circle, through Miss E. J. Vanalstyne, $107.77, and the Mission Band, through Doris Knapp, $137.06. The indebtedness in the Sunday School Renovation Fund, through a generous contribution of $300.00 from The Woman's Association, and $200.00 from the A. O. T. S. Class, has been reduced to $1285.52. This balance will be wiped off during the current year. The membership of the Church stands at 404, and number of families 220. Baptisms 12, marriages 19, funeral 24.

Election of members for vacancies on the Boards of the Church then resulted as follows :—To fill two vacancies on the Trustee Board, Mr. Stanley Wales and Mr. John Fraken. To fill the unexpired term of the late George W. Gibbard on the Committee of Stewards, his son, Mr. G. Ernest Gibbard was appointed. This was done amidst expressions of sorrow at the death of Mr. Gibbard, and of desire to perpetuate the long succession of Gibbard connection with Grace Church, and of confidence in the son's worthiness to carry on the tradition. The election of members to the Session and Committee of Stewards, groups of which are elected for three year terms annually, resulted : For the Session, till January, 1932, E. R. McCabe, D. E. Ming, Geo. Robeson, F. E. Sills, G. Sills, Harold Thompson; for the Committee of Stewards, till January, 1932, J. M. Boyce, W. Johnson, Christie Keller, Chas. N. Loucks, O. S. Reddick, Fred Russell, Sr.

Before the formal opening of the meeting, the Sunday School Orchestra furnished music under the direction of Mrs. Ida Parrott, and during the evening Mr. Bert Seymour rendered a baritone solo, and Mrs. B. Seymour and Mrs. Ida Parrott gave a duet. After the business part of the evening was concluded, the ladies served refreshments.

ALBERTA COAL
Keeps Frame Houses in Western Canada Warm at 40° Below Zero

In Western Canada where the temperature reaches extremes below zero, and homes are largely of frame construction without storm windows, the coal used is from Alberta mines. It gives absolute satisfaction under the most severe conditions.
In Ontario homes where ALBERTA COAL has been given a trial, the following results have been obtained:
An actual saving of money
More lasting
No clinkers, no slate, less ash
Clean to handle
Gives absolute satisfaction in furnace, range or grate.
On January 15th shipments of ALBERTA COAL started eastward to all points in Ontario. If your dealer hasn't got it in stock, he can get it if you insist upon it.
Use ALBERTA COAL not only because it provides complete heat satisfaction at a saving of money, but also because you will be helping to develop Canada's own fuel supply.

In FULL SIZE, In ECONOMY In Original Style and Beauty

WITH savings up to $40 on the most popular body styles, Plymouth now looms up more sharply than ever as the greatest dollar value in the lowest-priced field.

Quality and luxury of equipment are unchanged. All the big-car size and roominess which set Plymouth apart in its price class—all the rugged construction and inherent economy of Plymouth's high-compression engine—all its unique Chrysler style and beauty—come to you intact—but at substantially lower cost.

We could quote endless evidence of Plymouth's greater value—readily seen in such features as weatherproof, hydraulic 4-wheel brakes, full-pressure lubrication, body impulse neutralizer and impressive Chrysler power and smoothness.

But we must ask you to drive the new Plymouth—for a complete revelation of the overflowing measure it provides in luxurious, low-cost transportation.

Only in this way can you realize what the unparalleled engineering and manufacturing resources of Chrysler have achieved in producing a quality car for the greatest of all motor car markets.

For Mothers of Young Children

Mothers are quick to praise anything which brings health and comfort to their little ones — any medicine that will make the baby well and keep him well will always receive hearty recommendation from the mother. That is why Baby's Own Tablets are so popular. Thousands of mothers throughout the country, not only use them for their own little ones but are always delighted to be able to recommend them to other mothers. Thousands of mothers have proved Baby's Own Tablets to be without an equal in relieving their little ones of any of the many minor ailments which arise out of a derangement of the stomach and bowels. Baby's Own Tablets are the ideal laxative — easy to take but thorough in action. They banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers; expel worms and make the teething period easy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BELLEVILLE PRESBYTERIAL

The third annual meeting of the Belleville Presbyterial of the Momen's Missionary Society of the United Church of Canada was held in Trenton United Churches on Wednesday and Thursday, January 23rd and 24th, with one hundred and twelve accredited delegates in attendance. All the Secretaries gave splendid reports of the year's work, and handed out many useful suggestions for the delegates to carry home to the various Auxiliaries.

Miss Jessie Weir, of Central India, was the main speaker, and she pictured the wonderful change that India is undergoing at the present time, and pleaded for more workers to carry on.

Mrs. J. L. Ross, of Bloomfield, gave an interesting talk on the subject, "Our Task as W. M. S. Workers". "The Quiet Half Hour", taken by Mrs. E. Farnsworth, of Belleville, was an inspiration.

The President, Mrs. S. C. Gay, gave a splendid address and said she was thoroughly convinced that this is the most important work in the world today, as it was planned by God himself.

An "In Memoriam Service" was held for those who have passed to their reward.

Rev. W. D. Harrison brought greetings from the Presbytery, and Holy Communion was solemnly conducted by Revds. Harrison, Jones, Brethen and White. Mrs. M. E. Wilson was in charge of the election, and the two Pastors installed the new officers. Rev. Mr. Jones said that next to homemaking this was the greatest task for women to engage in. At the Executive meeting the following items went through:—

1. As requested by Branch the names of Mrs. W. H. Hicks, Mrs. T. H. P. Anderson, Mrs. F. L. Hooper, Mrs. J. L. Ross and Mrs. E. Farnsworth were submitted to receive literature and be available to speak when needed.

2. Sample copies of "Missionary Monthly" are to be sent Presidents of Auxiliaries who haven't any subscribers, with a request that they form a club.

The following officers were elected for 1929:—

President—Mrs. S. C. Gay.

Vice Presidents.—

Madoc Section—Mrs. W. H. Hicks, Tweed.

Napanee North—Mrs. T. H. P. Anderson, Newburgh.

Sun Life Policyholders To Receive Special Bonus

In addition to regular dividends in 1929 of approximately $17,500,000

Office of the President,
MONTREAL, January 8, 1929

To Our Policyholders:

We have just completed another wonderful year, with profit earnings never before equalled. Our Directors have therefore inaugurated the principle of allowing a Special Bonus on maturing participating policies. The basis for 1929 may be summarized as follows:

On policies ten years in force, maturing by death or (on 'reserve dividend' policies) by the expiry of the reserve dividend period, a bonus of 10 per cent of the reserve, increasing yearly to 15 per cent on policies in force twenty years or longer; on endowments, at maturity, a bonus of 10 per cent of the face value of policies ten years in force, increasing yearly to 15 per cent on policies in force twenty years or longer.

Details will be given in the forthcoming annual report.

This special bonus is in addition to, and independent of, the usual annual profit distribution, the scale for which, for the ninth consecutive year, will again be increased.

We congratulate our members on this happy announcement. It has been made possible only by the large profits earned on the securities selected for the investment of the Company's funds.

As ninety-five per cent of all surplus earned by the participating assurances accrues to our policyholders themselves, they enjoy practical mutuality, combined with the enterprise and stability of stock management. The effect of this combination is evidenced by the results.

T. B. Macaulay,
President.

LADIES' AID OF TRINITY CHURCH

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid of Trinity United Church was held on Wednesday, January 23rd, in the ladies' parlor.

After devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. H. Pawson, the reports of the year's work were presented by the Recording Secretary, Treasurer and Convenors of Committees.

All these reports showed another successful and encouraging year's work.

The total receipts amounting to $1616.26, were raised by a systematic cash canvas of the ladies of the congregation and a chicken dinner and concert.

The most important undertaking of the year was that of renovating the dining hall kitchen and pantry of the church, the cost of which was $385.00. The total expenditure amounted to $788.29, leaving a cash balance of $227.91.

The election of officers resulted as follows:—

Honorary President—Mrs. W. F. Hall
President—Mrs. Alpine Woods.
1st Vice Pres.—Mrs. Arvis Kimmerly.
2nd Vice Pres.—Mrs. Fred Henderson
Recording Secretary—Mrs. J. E. Robinson.
Assistant Secretary — Mrs. Frank Herrington.
Treasurer—Mrs. W. J. Shannon.
Convenor Parsonage Com. — Mrs. Frank Allison.
Convenor Church Property Com. — Mrs. D. B. Wilson.
Convenor Visiting Com.—Mrs. Geo. Perry.
Convenor Flower Com.—Mrs. H. Creighton.
Convenor Church Decorating Com.—Mrs. C. H. Vandervoort.
Convenor Social Committee — Mrs. Frank Boyes.
Convenor Charitable Com.—Mrs. S. C. McKim.

Christ Church (Anglican) Tamworth

At its first meeting on 31st January, the new selected Vestry, composed of two representatives of every organization, unanimously passed a resolution recommending that the erection of a Parish Hall would be in the best interests of the church. A committee was formed consisting of the Rector and Wardens to secure estimates at once of the cost of building a hall 36 feet by 72 feet.

The proposed site of the hall is the west half of the present site on which the church stables now stand. Of the many needs of the hall, the outstanding ones are adequate accommodation for the Sunday School, and a home for the young people and church organizations.

As the financial state of the church is in a sound condition and every department shows a credit balance, it is felt by the Vestry that this year will be the most suitable time for the work of building. Plans are therefore being drawn up, and it is hoped that the work will be started within a very short time.

The past year's financial report showed the Parochial income to be $2736.27. All debts and obligations were met in full; and two new organizations were formed—a Ladies' Guild at Marlbank, and a Girls' branch of the Woman's Auxiliary at Tamworth.

This will not interfere with regular skating. The boys are playing faithfully and deserve real support. 6c

Royal Signatures.

A friend of The Beaver called at the office one day this week and showed us a unique collection of Royal signatures, which he had secured from members of the Royal family. These appeared on the original letterheads, and in many cases had the Royal seal on them. Among these he showed us were Queen Victoria, Princess Louise, Duchess of Argyle, Princess Mary, Viscountess Lascelles, Her Royal Highness Princess Victoria, Prince Arthur of Connaught, and Princess Beatrice. Strange to say there were all legible. The English write plainly.

OBITUARY

Mrs. S. J. Pillar.

One of the most highly respected residents of Newburgh, in the person of Mrs. S. J. Pillar, passed peacefully away, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Adams, on Thursday, Jan. 10th, 1929. The deceased lady, in her eighty-second year, born in the County of Carleton, and was a resident of Newburgh for the past twenty years. Her husband predeceased her twenty-five years ago. In religion she was a faithful member of the Anglican Church. A short service was held at the house on Saturday morning, by her Clergyman, Rev. Mr. Spencer, who spoke from the words "The souls of the righteous are in the hands of God". The remains were then taken to Rosehill by train, where the regular funeral service was held in St. Mary's Church on Sunday, Jan. 13th, of which she was a former member, and was largely attended. The officiating Clergyman was the Rev. Mr. Weigar. The deceased was loved by all who knew her, and leaves to mourn her loss, one brother, Mr. Andrew Fitzpatrick, Russell; one son, Mr. N. W. Pillar, of Napanee, and two daughters, Mrs. Orr, of Toronto, and Mrs. Adams, of Newburgh. The floral tributes from Newburgh and Russell were beautiful.

Wm. McLaughlin.

Mr. Wm. McLaughlin, well known among Napanee's younger citizens, passed away at his home on John St., on Saturday morning. Mr. McLaughlin has been ailing since the New Year from pernicious anaemia, so that there was no hope for his recovery from the first. Gradually growing weaker as the disease progressed, he finally succumbed on Saturday.

Mr. McLaughlin was the son of the late Ephraim McLaughlin, who predeceased him by about a year, and Mrs. McLaughlin, the ticket agent for the C. P. R. in Napanee. Mr. McLaughlin at the time of his death was employed as Express Agent at the station.

He was just in the prime of life and had all along been a keen athlete and intensely interested in the athletics of the town and vicinity. At the time of his death he was the President of the town Hockey Club. He was as well a member and active worker of the Oddfellows' organization, to which he devoted a good deal of his time.

There survives him, his wife (formerly Miss Grace Oliver), Napanee, his mother and two sisters.

The funeral was held from his late home on Monday afternoon, the service at the house was of a private character. The Oddfellows and the Garrison Club in uniform escorted the body to St. Andrew's Church, where a public service was held. Mr. Caldwell and Mrs. Weigar rendered "Jesus Lover of My Soul" as a duett. The hymns were the same as were sung at his father's funeral a year ago. Mr. Wilson spoke of Mr. McLaughlin's life and athletic activities, and spoke words of comfort to the sorrowing wife and family.

After the Church service the Oddfellows conducted their funeral rites, and the procession re-formed and proceeded to Riverview cemetery, where interment was made.

The bearers were Wm. Galt, Wm. Hunter, W. S. Wilson, A. Kimmerly, Albert Graham and Fred Knapp.

The sympathy of the community goes out to the bereaved, particularly to the wife to whom Mr. McLaughlin had been married a little more than a year.

—The February meeting of the Wilton Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. Byron Ruttan, on Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 12th, at 2 o'clock. Roll call, "Some superstition I cherish". Please note change of time, from evening to afternoon. Everyone welcome.

—The Conway Women's Institute will hold its February meeting at the home of Mrs. Alex. Sills, in the evening, February 12th. Dr. Northmore will address the meeting, giving good advice as he always does. There will be a Candy contest by the members. Prize for the best half lb. Maple Cream. Roll call, "Your Favorite Salad".

—At a meeting of representatives of the three United Churches on Sunday afternoon last, it was unanimously decided to invite the Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church to hold its annual session this year in Napanee. It is expected the invitation will be accepted. The Conference will likely be held during the last week in May. Over four hundred delegates will be in attendance.

—The Wilton Women's Institute are holding their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Bert Scouten, on Thursday afternoon, February 7th. This promises to be a very interesting meeting, as several papers are being prepared; also a good musical programme with community singing. The Roll Call will be "Easy Desserts". Would the ladies kindly remember to bring their favorite needle and thimble to be used in the button-hole contest.

"CRANBERRY CORNERS"

On Friday evening last, at the Town Hall, the play, "Cranberry Corners", was presented by the A. O. T. S. Class of Grace Church, for the benefit of the Beaver Santa Claus Fund. A splendid audience was in attendance, who appreciated to the full extent the fine performance. The Grace Church Orchestra played most attractive music before and between the acts, and added just that finished touch to an entertaining evening.

Mr. Reginald Wiseman kindly came from Kingston to assist, and sang four songs with his usual artistic interpretation. Mr. Wiseman possesses a very beautiful baritone voice, and the audience appreciated the treat he afforded them. Mrs. Harold Denison also sang "Just a Wearyin' For You", in a remarkably sweet soprano.

The play itself was a difficult four-act drama, and the cast was most aptly chosen, each succeeding in portraying the character assigned him in a most life-like manner. J. W. Thompson and F. B. Elliott were splendid as the two political opponents, who enjoyed an argument on all occasions; Mr. Stalker showed real dramatic ability in his final scene as he told the pathetic story of his misfortunes; Mr. Arthur Moore made a splendidly suave specimen of a worldly man; J. P. Smith and Mrs. C. Denison created a great deal of amusement over their love affairs; Mrs. R. Loucks made a very attractive French maid; Mrs. A. Moore was inimitable as the talkative Mrs. Mcllin, and kept every one in a gale of laughter; Mrs. C. Loucks was an excellent prototype of the stylish city aunt; Mrs. Peacock, on the other hand, made a charming country aunt; and Mrs. Knapp and Mr. Peacock were delightful as the young lovers and introduced the romantic atmosphere which always creates interest. In fact, the entire play was well acted, and most entertaining.

A vote of thanks was proposed by the Rev. A. J. Wilson, as chairman of the Santa Claus Fund, and seconded by Chief Barrett, as secretary, and most emphatically carried by the audience.

OBITUARY

Mr. David McClew

The sudden death of Mr. David Mc- Clew on Tuesday last, removed from this community a well known person- ity. Mr. McClew was in his 70th year, having been born in Glasgow, Scot- land, on September 9th, 1859. He was the son of David and Margaret Mc- Clew, his father being one of the largest shipowners in Glasgow at that time. After graduating from the University of Glasgow, he came out to Canada as a young man in the year 1886.

He first located at Deseronto as manager of the Deseronto News Co. operated by the Rathbun Co. His literary talents are well known through his connection with many newspapers throughout the Province. He was for some time editor and manager of "The Glengarrian", at Alexandria. While living in Deseronto he made a wide circle of friends, and in 1899 mar- ried Margaret Henriette Pille, a daugh- ter of the late Thomas Gibbs Pille, the first Collector of Customs at the port of Deseronto, and formerly of Barba- does, B.W.I. He was Secretary of the Deseronto Horticultural Society and was largely responsible for the success- ful flower shows held during his resi- dence there.

In recent years he lived in Napanee and was a valued member of the staff of The Daily Tea Co. He was a care- ful student of current events and a gentleman with a wide range of know- ledge gained by extensive reading. He also kept continued his association with the newspaper profession, and was for a number of years the Napanee correspondent of the Kingston British Whig. He was also an interesting contributor to the local papers, and correspondent for the Toronto Mail and Empire and the Toronto Globe. In this capacity he rendered valuable service to the community in having matters of importance in Nap- anee and vicinity faithfully reported to the metropolitan press.

He was a member of St. Mary Mag- dalene Church, and a citizen whose loss is felt very keenly by his many friends. Besides his widow, he is sur- vived by a brother and two sisters in Scotland.

MR. AND MRS. THOS. CHAMBERS

On Friday, February 1st, 1929, a number of people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Chambers, of Big Creek, to celebrate the birthdays of both Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Chambers come on the same day. The five children, Mrs. John E. Joyce, of Deseronto; Edward Chambers, of the same place; Wil- liam, of Big Creek; Mrs. Wm. Fitchett, of Napanee, and John, with whom his father and mother live), together with their families, came to enjoy another birthday with their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Chambers, aged 89 and 85 res- pectively, have lived at Big Creek over half a century. Mr. Chambers himself has been and raised there. Mrs. Chambers coming from Bethany at the time of their marriage, some 54 years ago. Mr. Thos. Chambers was one of the five trus- tees of the Lutheran Church, and was always actively engaged in church work. After greetings, the friends along with their Pastor, Rev. Rowe M. Seymour, of Morven, and his family, Mr. and Mrs. William Shane, of Morven, relatives, sat down to a birthday dinner. The table was laden with all good things, from roast chicken to birthday cake, and certainly displayed a keen interest and enthusiasm on the part of Mr. and Mrs. John Chambers, to make this day a memorable day in the history of these pioneers who have made a wonderful contribution to the community. We wish them many happy returns of the day, and may their years of borrowed time be full of joy and happiness and the blessing of God.

ODESSA

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Moore, of Swit- zerville, visited last Sunday with the latter's father, John O'Neil.—Mr. and Mrs. Philander Rose, Westbrooke, spent Friday the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Smith.—Rev. and Mrs. Dixon, Bath, Rev. and Mrs. Daniel Mc- Connell, last Thursday.—The ice har- vest has started, and the quality of the ice is considered very fine.—The skat- ing on the mill dam and lake seems to be great amusement for the young people.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wrooman have returned from spending a few days with their brother, Mr. Torbay.—Mr. and Mrs. Babcock, Napanee, Babcock, and Mrs. Babcock, Wilton, and also visited other friends. —Mrs. Chas. Hagerman has returned from spending the week end with her sister, Mrs. Elmer Amey, Ernestown.— The concert on Saturday night, given by Ted O'Day's Hawaiian Troubadors, in the Town Hall, proved to be a great success. The large hall was filled (every seat taken), and all were de- lighted with the entertainment. There were many Odess selections on the different musical instruments, and the dancing and vaudeville acts added var- iety and amusement enjoyed by all.— Last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Wes- ley Sharpe delightfully entertained a number of her relatives and friends at her home, the Dominion House. There were four tables of Five Hundred in play, besides others. Delicious re- freshments were served by the hostess. The prizes were won by Mrs. Shelly Denyes and Mrs. Fred Wrooman.

The Women's Missionary Society held their December meeting on Jan. 23rd, and reports from the Secretary and Treasurer were read, and the books were audited by Mrs. Stanley Sprcule and Mrs. Nelson Smith, and found correct. Mrs. W. J. Ramsay, of Newburgh, spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. Kenneth Weese, Centreville.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Pero visited at Mr. Storey's, on Sunday evening.

The Mission Circle are holding a Valentine entertainment on Thursday evening, in the United Church School Room. They will present a Missionary pageant, "The Blue Bowl", and other program. They have secured gorgeous Chinese costumes to appear in as they present the pageant. This promises to be very interesting and entertaining.

Mr. Walter Brown, a very old resi- dent, is very poorly. Mr. Brown was eighty-nine years old on Feb. 1st of this year.

Mr. Robin Fluke spent last week in the village with his mother, but re- turned to Chaffey's Locks this Monday.

Mrs. Detlor, who has been visiting with her sister, Mrs. W. S. Baker, left last week to visit her daughter, Mrs. Samuel Winters, at Empey Hill.

The Domestic Science Course being given under the direction of Miss Evelyn Shortreed, of Guelph, on Food Values, Laundering, Household Ad- ministration, House Planning and De- coration, also Sewing in charge of Miss P. Ramage, twenty-five or thirty ladies and young women are taking advantage of this Course, and are full of interest and enthusiasm. Next week there will be a Course on Home Nurs- ing and First Aid, in charge of Miss M. McMillan. The Agriculture Course conducted by Mr. A. D. Runions, the Agricultural Representative, assisted by J. A. Goldie, B.S.A., is proving very interesting to the young farmers of this vicinity.

The annual meeting of the New- burgh United Church was held Thurs- day night, Feb. 7th. This congrega- tion cannot be regarded as stood either financially or numerically, but there is very little material within its bounds left unworked, in any sense as the various reports indicate. The meeting was presided over by Rev. H. P. Anderson, the Pastor. After de- votional exercises, the business was proceeded with. This consisted of reading minutes of last annual meet- ing and receiving reports from the of- ficers of the different departments of work. These reports indicated a busy year and one of advancement. The main funds for which the congrega- tion is responsible are for local work and the Maintenance and Missionary Fund. For the first the congregation raised $1696.48, and for the latter $650.00. The congregation voiced its appreciation of Rev. Mr. Anderson and his good wife, for their indefatigable and successful labours, by a motion and standing vote. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson both spoke of the pleasure they have had in their work on account of the hearty co-operation and good spirit manifested by the congregation in all its departments of work. The meeting closed with "Blessed Be the Tie That Binds", and the Benediction.

The regular monthly meeting of the W. M. S. of the Free Methodist Church is being held this Wednesday evening, in the church.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Rogers were in Kingston on Saturday, called on their daughter Myrtle, who is convalescing after an operation for appendicitis.

Miss Bernice Keverend was at Belle- ville during the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Lucas and family, of Napanee, were visitors with Mr. J. N. Lucas and family, on Sunday.

The W. M. S. of the United Church met at the home of Mrs. Johnston, on Wednesday last. Mrs. (Rev.) T. H. P. Anderson, the President, presided. The question in the Blue Book was answ- ered by Mrs. Ramsay, Mrs. Dunkwood, Misses Keough and Yeomans. Mrs. John Wartman and Miss H. M. Reid gave interesting reports of the recent Presbyterial at Trenton.

The Ladies' Aid gave a Tea on Wed- nesday evening, in the basement of the church. Rev. Mr. Anderson was chairman, and presided over the follow- ing program:—Instrumental music by Miss McNeely; vocal solos, Miss Marie Brooks and Estelle Pere; reading by Miss H. M. Paul; an address by Mrs. J. Wartman, on her experience as a hospital nurse. Refreshments were served by the ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Geroe spent part of Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. S. Weese.

Mrs. S. Shier and son, Bob, spent the week with friends here.

The League of Tuesday evening was in charge of Mrs. Anderson. The les- son was read by Mr. Anderson, after which Rev. Mr. Anderson gave an ad- dress. Then followed a short program, as follows: Duet, by Misses Marie Ram- say and Miss Marie Brooks; recitation by Mr. John Yeomans; instrumental music, by Ruth Lucas and Miss Juanita Wartman.

Mrs. Ward Wartman spent the week end at Moscow with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Patterson.

Mrs. R. Lillie has returned from a week's visit at Murvale, with her daugh- ter.

The Day of Prayer will be observed on Friday. The service will be held in the United Church in the afternoon.

Those 5c. and 10c. Wallpapers at Hooper's, are great value.

ROBLIN

Roblin United Church of Canada was re-opened on February 3rd, after hav- ing been closed for a few weeks on account of re-decorating the interior. The morning service was well attended and the public worship at 7 p.m. had a full house, with splendid music and singing. The pastor's sermons were both in keeping with the services.

ADOLPHUSTOWN W. M. S.

The W. M. S. held their February meeting on Wednesday, the 6th, at the home of Mrs. John Duffett, with an attendance of eleven. President, Miss Hattie Magee, occupied the chair. The Devotional exercises were in charge of Mrs. Ross Humphrey, and the meeting opened by singing hymn, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past", after which Rev. Mr. Plant offered prayer, all joining in repeating the Lord's Prayer. The Scripture lesson, Psalm 95, was read by Mrs. R. Humphrey, and hymn, "Blessed Assurance, Jesus is Mine", was then sung. Rev. Mr. Plant kindly acted as organist. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved. In the absence of the Treasurer, Miss A. Magee, the Treasurer's report was given by Miss M. Magee. Several of the members have already paid their fees for he coming year.

The Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. R. Humphrey, read a communication from Miss A. Thompson, asking that our Auxiliary be responsible for a quilt, as in other years. The members are asked to each donate a block. It was decided to secure suitable cotton and pledge cards from the Temperance Secretary, and to undertake the mirror campaign. The matter of the annual report book was then discussed and decided to make a purchase. Rev. Mr. Plant at this junction favored us with a solo, "God Will Take Care of You", which was greatly appreciated.

Mrs. A. C. Davis, delegate to the Presbyterial, held in Trenton, gave a comprehensive report of the convention. She gave us a very interesting account of the address on "India", given by Miss Jessie Weir. The work which was accomplished last year makes us feel very optimistic for this coming year. Miss L. Carr gave a most interesting chapter from the Study Book, on the habits and lives of the native Africans, which show the great need of the gospel in their lives. The roll call was responded to by a verse pertaining to "love". The offering was received, and the meeting adjourned to meet at Mrs. Geo. Rattan's, in March. The hostess served dainty refreshments.

Nervous Indigestion As a Result of Flu

A Severe Sufferer Overcame This Trouble by Taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

No ailment of recent years has proved so treacherous as has the Flu. The disease itself is bad enough, but the after effects is where the real danger lies. The Flu leaves behind it a weakened body, impoverished blood, shattered nerves and an impaired digestive system. Too much stress cannot be laid on the importance of rebuilding the blood and strengthening the nerves during convalescence. Until the blood is built up there can be no recovery of health and strength. the one sure blood-builder is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Start a treatment of them to-day and see how soon you show signs of robust health again.

Among the many victims of the terrible Flu epidemic of 1919 was Mrs. Irving Maxwell, of Bancroft, Ont. Read what this lady has to say concerning what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for her:—"After an attack of the Flu I was left in an extremely weak state. My blood was impoverished; I was seized with indigestion and stomach trouble; my nerves were shattered and nothing my doctor gave me seemed to help me in the least. I continually grew weaker and weaker till finally I lost all control of my nervous system. My mother, who had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with good results for anaemia, strongly advised me to give them a trial. I did so, and after using three boxes I noticed some improvement. I persisted in the treatment and by the time I had used seven boxes I was fully restored to health again, and although I am a mother of six children I am now able to do all my work around the house and feel as well as ever I did in my life before. What these Pills have done for me they will surely do for others."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic, not a stimulant. They build up the blood and are a specific for such troubles as indigestion, rheumatism, women's ailments and the general worn-out feeling that affects so many people. They are sold by all medicine dealers or direct by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MOSCOW WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The February meeting of the Moscow Branch of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Henry Reid, on Thursday afternoon, February 7th, with a very large attendance, as well as a number of visitors who were warmly welcomed by the President.

Several letters of appreciation from sick and shut-in residents of the community for fruit and flowers received during illness, were read, as well as a very interesting letter conveying New Years greetings to the branches from the District President and Secretary.

Much interest was taken in the discussion regarding necessary supplies for a destitute family which resulted in a motion to purchase two pairs of blankets and other articles essential for their needs.

It was unanimously agreed to entertain a speaker during the Summer Series of lectures sometime in May or June.

Two valuable papers were given, one by Mrs. Frank Jackson, of Enterprise, which proved that Mrs. Jackson had made a thorough study of poultry in the capable manner in which she handled her subject. A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Jackson for giving her time and valuable experience so willingly for the benefit of others.

Mrs. E. Cline's paper on "The League of Nations", was no less instructive and interesting. As a subject on which we are all eager and anxious to be more familiar with, Mrs. Cline's paper was received with interest.

The meeting on March 7th will be held at the home of Mrs. S. King.

Lunch was served, after which the meeting closed with the National Anthem.

Quite a number of young and old, members of the United Church, Moscow, motored to the Parsonage at Yarker, on Wednesday evening, Feb. 6th, and gave Rev. G. T. McKenzie and his daughter, Isabel, a surprise. Games were indulged in, a nice luncheon served, and all report having a nice social time.

CANADIAN RAILWAYS

Canadian railways carried more freight and earned larger revenues during 1927 than in any previous year according to the annual report just issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Despite an increase over the 1926 revenues of $18,142,828, the net operating revenues were less by $12,678,375 due to heavier operating expenses.

The average number of employees increased from 174,266 in 1926 to 176,238, and the total pay roll, amounting to $287,067,047, was larger than for 1926 by $14,892,478.

Out of a total of 41,840,550 passengers carried over 3 billion passenger miles, 14 were killed in accidents. Six of them were in collisions, 5 were killed getting on and off trains, and 3 were struck at stations. Injuries of all kinds to passengers totalled 438. During the year 106 employees were killed in train accidents and 24 in other railway accidents. Other persons numbering 248 were fatally injured, the majority of them being trespassers and 73 of them persons in automobiles which were hit by trains at highway crossings.

WISE AND OTHER WISE

Our New Year's wish assumes this form:—
Would that some one would find a rule
Whereby in winter we'd be warm
And in the summer we'd be cool.

The Oil of the People.—Many oils have come and gone, but Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil continues to maintain its position and increases its sphere of usefulness each year. Its sterling qualities have brought it to the front and kept it there, and it can truly be called the oil of the people. Thousands have benefited by it and would use no other preparation.

"I don't see why you call Perkins stupid," said one student at the "shop" to the other. "He says a clever thing quite often."

"Exactly! He doesn't seem to realize that it should be said only once."

Sores Flee Before It. — There are many who have been afflicted with sores and have driven them away with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. All similarly troubled should lose no time in applying this splendid remedy, as there is nothing like it to be had. It is cheap, but its power is in no way expressed by its low price.

An expert has figured it out that the electrical energy developed by five million persons, all taking at once, would keep just one incandescent light going. That helps to understanding of how little illumination comes from most conversations.

Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator will drive worms from the system without injury to the child, because its action, while fully effective, is mild.

A couple of country visitors in the Strangers' Gallery of the House of Commons were trying to recognize the representative of their constituency. "I can't distinguish him," said one. "I am not surprised," replied his companion. "He can't even distinguish himself!"

Corns are painful growths. Holloway's Corn Remover will remove them.

Smith John had just received his income tax assessment notice, and in reply sent the following letter to the authorities:

"Dear Sir.—I have received yours of to-day's date, and after reading carefully through all the literature, have decided not to join your society."

Worms in children work havoc. These pests attack the tender lining of the intestines and if left to pursue their ravages undisturbed, will ultimately perforate the wall, because these worms are of the hook variety that cling to and feed upon the interior surfaces. Miller's Worm Powders will not only exterminate these worms, of whatever variety, but will serve to repair the injury they have done.

The best man was doing his best to make the groom brace up. "Where's your nerve, old man?" he asked. "Why, you're shaking like a leaf."

"I know I am," said the groom. "But this is a nerve-wracking time for me. I've got some excuse to be frightened, haven't I? I've never been married before."

"Of course you haven't," soothed the best man. "If you had you'd be a good deal more scared than you are."

Like a Grip at the Throat. For a disease that is not classed as fatal, there is probably none which causes more terrible suffering than asthma. Sleep is impossible, the sufferer becomes exhausted and finally, though the attack passes, is left in unceasing dread of its return. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is a wonderful remedial agent. It immediately relieves the restricted air passages as thousands can testify. It is sold by dealers everywhere.

The herculean efforts which the average man finds necessary to meet his expenses will enable him to sympathize with the gentleman in the following story:

A judge, after passing sentence, always gave advice to prisoners. Having before him a man found guilty of stealing, he started thus:

"If you want to succeed in this world, you must keep straight. Now, do you understand?"

"Well, not quite," said the prisoner; "but if you will tell me how a man is to keep straight when he is trying to make both ends meet, I might."

He Strained His Back Doing Cement Work

Ontario Man Used Dodd's Kidney Pills and Got Relief

Mr. Harold Ward Took the Remedy His Mother Used to Use.

London, Ont., Feb. 12th, (Special)—"As I have got such wonderful results from taking Dodd's Kidney Pills, I think it only right to tell you about it," states Mr. H. Ward, who resides at 220 Dundas St., London, Ont. "About a year ago I strained my back while doing cement work. I went to two Doctors, also to a clinic for examination, and after taking the medicine given me by each of them. I felt the pain just as bad. Then I tried rubbing liniment on, but to no avail. I remembered my mother used Dodd's Kidney Pills for pains in the back, so I got some. After taking two doses I felt much better and before I had taken the whole box I was feeling as well as ever. After getting such good results at so small a cost, I will never be without a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills in the house."

Mrs. Hald—"What do you think are the greatest inventions of man?"

Mrs. Cole—"The stories he tells when he comes home at night!"

MODIFY CLOSE SEASON ON BEAVER IN NORTH

Canada's native population in the Far North is dependent on the fur bearers and other wild animals of that region for supplies of food and clothing. Wild life matters in the Northwest Territories are administered by the Department of the Interior and for a number of years Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, has been following closely the effect that the rapid disappearance of the fauna of the North is having on the welfare of the natives. The introduction of high-powered fire-arms and the constantly increasing demand for furs have been largely responsible for the losses among the more valuable wild life, and the growing scarcity has been a matter of deep concern to the Department.

In recent years there has been more intensive hunting and killing of beaver in the Mackenzie District of the Northwest Territorigs, and consequently their numbers have been reduced, so much so that early in 1928 it was deemed advisable to declare a close season on beaver to prevent its complete disappearance from the district. Acting, on the authority of an Order in Council passed in February, 1928, the Minister of the Interior declared a close season for three years from October 1 of the same.

During the months of July and August a serious epidemic of influenza broke out among the natives along the Mackenzie river and it was impossible for them to secure the necessary supplies of food and clothing for the oncoming winter. As the beaver is represented as constituting an important factor in the native food supply, Hon Charles Stewart recommended to the Governor in council that he be allowed to modify the terms of the close season so that heads of Indian families or half-breed families living as Indians be allowed to take not more than ten beaver each before May 15, 1929. The recommendation was concured in and any settled Indians or half-breeds may secure their quota anywhere in the Mackenzie District outside of Wood Buffalo park on the southern boundary.

In order that no trafficking in beaver pelts will result from the modification, the pelts must be sealed rendered to an officer of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who is empowered to issue an order on a local trading company for twenty five dollars worth of supplies for each pelt received. The pelts will be turned over to the Department of the Interior to be disposed of to the best advantage.

After May 15 of this year beaver will be fully protected until October 1931. This respite from the intensive hunting of recent years will undoubtedly be a great aid in re-establishing this valuable fur bearer with resultant benefits to the natives of the Mackenzie District.

Would You Build A House Without A Roof?

You won't start to build a house unless you know you can finish it. The Bell Telephone Company tries to be equally sensible.

The company does not need all its $75,000,000 of new capital now but will spread its issue over years to come.

But it does need the assurance that, when equipment is started now for future telephones, money can be obtained to finish the job.

By 1934 Ontario and Quebec will need a million telephones. These telephones cannot be ready unless central exchanges and other equipment are started now.

THE ISLAND OF THE STAIRS

Being a True Account of Certain Strange and Wonderful Adventures of Master John Hampden, Seaman, and Mistress Lucy Wilberforce, Gentlewoman, In the Great South Seas.

there?" asked Pimbull.

Now, of late I had changed my mind, why, I know not, but I had yet it would not do to tell them that.

"I am sure of it," I cried, "gold, silver, jewels, God knows what. Every thing to make us rich forever."

"And what do you reckon the gaine of it all to be?"

"Oh, several millions of pounds," I answered lightly as if the treasure was so great that a million more or less was of no moment.

"Hurrah!" cried out one old seaman, and the cabin on the instant was filled with wild cries, lustful brutal shouts.

As the sound partially died away I heard the door back of me open. Now, I had purposely so placed myself as to be between the crowd and the door. The door was opened but a little way. I was conscious that she was awake, and at least was listening.

"You are the only navigator among us, Master Hampden," began Pimbull, after the men got measurably quiet again, "and if you are with us, you will take the ship there to that island. We'll get the treasure aboard, sail away and sink her on the South American coast and then every man for himself with all he can carry."

"Am I to be captain?" I asked.

"There'll be no captain. Every man for himself, I say, but me and the bo'sun's mate, Silsby, will take the watches in turn. You'll navigate the ship and whatever is necessary for our safety we'll do at your order. Is it understood?"

"Yes," said I, "under one condition."

"We make no conditions," said Pimbull darkly, "we are masters of the ship, remember, and this is our last word."

"It is not mine," said I composedly for I had yet the hardest part of the bargain to drive.

"Well, it's got to be," said Pimbull menacingly, starting toward me with the marlinspike he carried.

"Now, my friend," said I, "we might just as well understand each other. You can kill me if you want to. It would be easy enough, but when you have killed me you have killed your last chance at the treasure. You don't know what latitude or longitude we are in now. There lighted one of you that knows enough to take a sight or to sail the ship to the island. You are completely helpless. My life means the difference between treasure and no treasure to you. You are smart enough to see that."

"He speaks right," said an old sea man at the back of the crowd.

"There speaks a man of sense," said I. "Therefore you will hear my conditions and accede to them."

"Heave ahead," said Pimbull roughly enough, evidently not liking the situation, but failing utterly to see how it could be amended since I completely held the whip hand of them all.

"First I stipulate is very simple. First of all, I am to have my full and equal share of the treasure with the rest. I am to be treated exactly like the others in the division, and my life and liberty, which are just as valuable to me as to any of you, are to be treated with respect, as I respect those of others."

"Why, we told you that in the first place," growled out the boatswain. "If that's all you've got to say"—

"The woman?"

"Ah, the woman!" said Pimbull slowly.

"What had you proposed to do with her?" I asked.

"Why—er—I—er," the man faltered. He actually did not dare to say what had been in his mind, and I've no doubt that my pistol never looked bigger than it did when I quietly laid my hand on it.

It was probable that the others had not as yet decided what was to be done with her, whatever Pimbull may have planned. I took advantage, therefore, of their hesitation and pushed the matter to a speedy conclusion.

"Well," I said quickly, "I want her for myself." Did I bear a groan in the cabin back of me? If I did, I could not afford to hesitate. I could not let them hear. "You saw how she treated me," I cried, raising my voice and banging on the table. "She struck me. She had me imprisoned. I want her to be given over to me alone."

"But"—began Pimbull, not relishing the abandonment of this prize which he had evidently marked for his own.

"I tell you what it is, mates," said I, disregarding him and addressing the rest directly, "I am a poor man and the treasure, or my share of it, means a great deal to me, but revenge means

"You take the woman, we take the treasure."

much more. You give the woman to me and I will divide my share of the treasure among the crew."

"Well," began Pimbull uncertainly, but the sentiment of the crew was palpably against him.

"Don't be a fool, man," cried the man who had spoken before. "Give him the wench."

"Aye, let him have her," cried a second.

"He'll bring her to her knees," said a third.

"Stop it," I cried, doubling my fist—this was no assumed rage either, for my blood was boiling. "This is my own affair."

The men fell back. They forgot for the moment their advantage in numbers.

"Well, that is agreed at last," said Pimbull, reluctantly enough. "You take the woman, we take the treasure."

"Agreed," said I.

"Is that right, mates?" he asked of the rest.

"Right-o," was the answer.

"It's all settled, then," said I, "but no"—

"Bring out the gal, then, and let us see her," suddenly began one of the men, stepping forward.

The door back of me was thrown open wide and she stepped out into the cabin. How I thrilled to see her, erect, fearless, more beautiful than ever. The men recoiled, and I stepped back myself.

"I have heard all," she cried. "You murderous villains, to have killed my captain and seized my ship, and you—you dared for me and to have bought me like an animal, a horse, a dog—oh, if I had a weapon!"

CHAPTER VIII.

Wherein I Make All Clear to My Little Mistress.

MY pistol was still in my hand, and she made a clutch at it, but I was too quick for her. I caught her by the wrist.

The spell she had cast upon us by her sudden entrance, her beautiful presence, her proud, brave demeanour, was broken by that touch. The men laughed. The remembrance of that laugh makes my blood boil even now.

"I wish you joy of her," said one.

"You will have a time taming her," cried a second.

"Ah, you think so?" I cried, determining to carry out the deception to the bitter end and to leave no chance for the least suspicion to arise. I seized her by the shoulders, secretly praying God to forgive me for what I was about to do, and shook her violently back and forth. It was easy enough. A baby in my hands would not have been more helpless. "Silence, you fools!" I cried as the men began to laugh again, and then to her: "You belong to me, woman. Do you hear? I've bought you. I am your master now, and you shall learn it. Do you understand?"

ARE YOU A PUG PUP?

A Movement has been started in the Old Country with the object of arousing public opinion in favour of tidy roads and an unlittered landscape. The members of this organization, who are known as "Pug Pups," bind themselves not to leave glass, paper, tins, cigarette or candy wrappings, orange peel, banana skins, or any other litter lying about. Originally founded by a family in Cheshire, the movement is said to be spreading rapidly throughout the country, and to number its adherents by the thousands. We have considerable need of a good many active "Pug pups" here.

SEVEN INJURED WHEN OMNIBUS TURNS TURTLE

Seven of 30 passengers were injured on the Toronto-Hamilton highway Thursday when a large bus of the Gray Coach Lines Limited, skidded and overturned in a ditch near Filman's curve this side of Burlington.

Mrs. Norman Walker, wife of a physician of Kingston had one arm broken, and is in St. Joseph's Hospital here. Two of her fingers were also badly cut. Others who received cuts, bruises and sprains, but were able to proceed were: F. I. Johnston, Brantford; Joseph Kelly, 405 Bay street North Hamilton; Mrs. M. Hart Napanee; Mrs. M. Babcock, Napanee; Miss Edith Brant 333 Catherine street Norah Hamilton, and Thomas Clyde, 51 Boon Avenue, Toronto. They were given first aid by Dr. Dingle of Burlington.

The bus was driven by M. C. McManon:

As the heavy vehicle was negotiating Filman's curve, the wheels skidded and it careened into a ditch and overturned. Most of the windows on one side were broken.

Passengers were badly frightened and several received cuts from showering glass and their efforts to extricate themselves.

Several accidents have occurred at Filman's curve since the highway was constructed.

Local officials of the Gray Coach Lines, Limited, discounted the accident, and said it was not serious. Only three passengers received minor injuries to their hands, it was stated and these were due to their own failure to retain their presence of mind. Officials further denied that any doctor had been called or that the bus had overturned. They said the driver gave first-aid treatment to the three injured passengers, and the bus was hauled back to the highway and proceeded under its own power to the terminal here.

—To sufferers of rheumatism, gout, sciatica and neuritis, and uric poisoning, I have a real remedy, certain in results, and quick relief. A harmless and drugless mineral remedy. Call or write MRS. W. M. HENDERSON, Napanee, R.R. 1. 3-8tpf

MOSCOW

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. H. Reid, on Thursday, the 7th inst., and was very largely attended by the members and many visitors. The programme was much enjoyed. Mrs. Cline gave a splendid paper on the League of Nations. Community singing. Several correspondence were read, and a most interesting and helpful talk on Poultry Raising by Mrs. Frank Jackson, which was much appreciated. After singing the National Anthem, a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess and committee in charge. The March meeting will be held at Mrs. S. King's.—Mr. E. Drew spent Saturday in town.—Miss Marion Young, of Sillsville, is visiting at Mrs. R. E. Aselstine's.—The farmers are taking advantage of the good sleighing to draw their annual supply of wood.—Quite a number attended the party in Yarker, on Wednesday night, at the parsonage.—Mrs. Hartman, of Napanee, is visiting Mrs. Cline.—Mrs. Wheeler, of Tamworth, spent a day at Major Amey's.—Miss Lottie Asselstine is visiting her sister, Mrs. Wilson.—We were pleased to hear that Mr. A. Ender is progressing favourably after his recent operation in Kingston Hospital.—Mr. Everton VanLuven spent Thursday and Friday in Kingston.—Measles and whooping cough are prevalent in the neighborhood.

Smith John had just received his income tax assessment notice, and in reply sent the following letter to the authorities:

"Dear Sir,—I have received yours of to-day's date, and after reading carefully through all the literature, have decided not to join your society."

TAMWORTH

The regular meeting of "Busy Workers" Mission Band was held at the home of Freada and Jean Wagar, on Saturday, February 19, with an attendance thirteen and three visitors. The meeting opened by singing Hymn number 429, followed by Scripture Reading by leader, Miss H. E. Reid. Hymn 426, followed by prayer. Minutes and Business of last meeting read and discussed. Jean Wagar and Helen Marshal were appointed to canvas Palen Branch. A report from the Travelling Basket was received and proceeds of $9.75 reported. Doris Chapin, Leona Huffman, Freda Wagar and Gerald McLaughlin gave very interesting readings. Mizpah Benediction and National Anthem closed a very interesting meeting. Mrs. Wagar served a delicious lunch and members then dispersed. Meeting of March to be held at Mrs Smith Gilmour's.

Mrs. Wagar and daughter Muriel of Hamilton are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Clare Wagar this week.—Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Wagar and Mrs. Ed. Bradshaw motored to Belleville Sunday, February 2nd.—Miss Grace Beckstead entertained those who took part in the play, The Road to the City, last Thursday night.—Mr. Jim Wallace spent a couple of days in Perth last week.—We are glad to redort Mrs. Mabel Mouck slowly gaining after a severe illness.—On Thursday night, February 14th, a New England Valentine Supper and Programme.—The play entitled "The Road to the City" given by the Y.P.U. on Wednesday last, proved very successful. The attendance was good and all the actors took their part well. Mr. Reid, who substituted for another player and had only a short time for preparation, made an excellent impression. Lighting and stage effects were very cleverly managed, adding much to the effectiveness of the entertainment.—Rev. I. N. Beckstead attended a meeting of the Ministerial Association in Napanee, on Monday.—United Church services will be held on Sunday next, morning, afternoon and evening at Marlbank, Reidville and Tamworth.—The Women's Day of Prayer for Mission Service will be held at 3 o'clock, on Friday afternoon in the League Room of the Church. All the ladies are requested to attend.

CAMDEN VIII. W.M.S.

The February meeting of Camden VIII W. M. S. was held at the home of Mrs. Elmore Hyland on the afternoon of February 7th, 1929. Mrs. Close presided, and conducted devotional exercises, using hymn "How Sweet the Name of Jesus Sounds," repeating in unison of Ps. 23, followed by prayer and scripture reading 2 Cor. chapter 9. The devotional leaflet, "The Partnership," was read by Mrs. Elmore Hyland. The prayer following was taken by Mrs. Wilson.

The fifth and sixth chapters of the study book were reviewed by several ladies, and proved very interesting.

The offering was taken and roll called, each one responding with a scripture verse beginning with the letter I.

The minutes of the January meeting were read and declared correct.

Several communications were read, the first being a letter from Mrs. Way urging that temperance study be included in the programme of the meetings. By a unanimous vote we recorded our acceptance, and our Temperance Secretary was advised to send for 35 pledge cards, so that a "Mizpah Club" may be formed. Mrs. Hyland read a letter from our Presbyterial Supply Secretary, advising us that our allotment of supply work is clothing for old people and children. It is hoped that those having clothing to spare will kindly bring it to some of the meetings before August, that our bale may be ready when called for.

Our missionary travelling basket, so carefully prepared by Mrs. John H Wilson, and bearing on its cover this message:

"As this little basket
On its way does roam,
It asks you each to give it
A welcome to your home.

"Please put in the cover
As we're sure you will,
Choose the nicest article
And then pay up your bill.

"Before the basket leaves you,
To travel on its way,
Drop a little present in
To make your neighbors pay."

got away with a good start, several donations being placed therein, and the first purchase from it being made by Mrs. Hyland, Sr., who is over 80 years of age.

Agreed that we keep the day of prayer, February 15th, by holding a prayer service at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. B. Close.

Mrs. Adam Fingland extended an invitation to hold our March meeting at her home on March 7th.

The singing of "The Morning Light is Breaking," and a closing prayer by Mrs. R. J. Wilson, brought the meeting to a close.

VIOLET WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The Violet Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Bert Scouten, on February 7th. The good assembly of ladies were made welcome by our hostess, and enjoyed a very profitable afternoon.

The meeting opened with Community singing, followed by the roll call on Easy Deserts. Several cards of thanks and responses were given, which shows the appreciation of our work in Christmas cheer and remembering the sick. Several matters of business were attended to. It was decided to hold a short course in Home Nursing as soon as an Instructor could be obtained.

The prevalence of illness in our homes in the past month has taught us how essential it is to have a better idea on caring for the sick.

Mrs. Macmorine then gave a paper on Current Events. She pictured some very impressive scenes of "The Sinking of the Vestris"; also the thrills of aircraft witnessed by Lady Drummond Hayes, when the airship, in which she was the only lady passenger, took a nore dive oceanwards.

A reading was given by Mrs. J. McCormick, entitled "Why Worry?"

Miss Laura Page favored us with a piano solo "Sabbath Chimes".

A paper on "Prevention of Goitre" was read by Mrs. Fred Sharpe. This paper, which was an excellent one, was prepared by Mrs. E. A. Wright. Mrs. Wm. Sager gave a very true paper on "The Value of Self Control".

A very pleasing piano solo was rendered by Mrs. E. A. Wright. A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Bert Scouten and Mrs. Ford Scouten for their splendid hospitality.

The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. McDonald. It will take the form of St. Patrick's "for the wearing o' the green".

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad and loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Patrick Murphy, of Beaver Lake, who died on the 1st day of February, 1924.

Five years ago, dear mother,
When we stood beside your bed,
Our hearts were sad and broken,
When we saw that you were dead.
You were always true, dear mother,
Through the years you struggled on,
And those dear hands hat worked so hard
Made our home, that now is gone.

SILLSVILLE LADIES' AID.

The monthly meeting of the Sillsville Ladies' Aid was held on Thursday last, at the home of Mrs. Herb White. There were about twenty-five present. The President presided, and after the opening devotional exercises, the Secretary's report was read, and regarded as satisfactory. There was much enthusiasm over the autograph quilt which was started some months ago, and is now nearing completion. After the transaction of the regular business lunch was served by the hostess, and the meeting was closed by the Mizpah benediction.

MARLBANK

A very pleasing event took place on Friday evening, February 1st, when Mrs. W. G. Burd threw open her home to entertain the members of her Sunday School class of girls. The mothers of the young ladies of this class were also present and a delightful social evening was spent. The most important feature of the evening was a sumptuous and dainty supper, to which about twenty guests sat down. After supper the following numbers made up an interesting programme:—Vocal solos by Misses Nina Kimmett and Kathleen Allen; readings by Misses Viva Badgerly and Bernice Somerville; recitations by Miss Edna Marlin and Mrs. W. G. Burd; instrumental solo by Miss Jean Asselstine, and duet by Miss Jean and Mrs. Robert Asselstine. A merry contest then followed, and appropriate prizes were given, the winners being Mrs. E. Badgely and Miss Kathleen Allen. Consolation prizes were also awarded to Mrs. Gertie Allen and Miss Marie Somerville. Games and social intercourse concluded a very enjoyable evening. A vote of thanks was given the hostess and "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow" was sung by her guests before their departure.

CEDAR DALE

Who said Cedar Dale was dead? It was just taking a rest.—A number of our young sports took in the dance at Mr. Elliott Wagar's, on Friday night last, also the dance at Mr. Edward Fowler's, on Monday evening.—Mr. and Mrs. George Kelly spent last Sunday evening at Mr. and Mrs. Joe Burns'.—Mr. R. J. McMullen spent last Sunday at Mr. Thos. Carroll's.—Mr. Joe Burns and Mr. John Cavanaugh called on friends in Canaan. — Messrs. John and Leo Kelly passed through this vicinity on Sunday last, and spent the day with their uncle, Mr. Paddy Kelly. — Mr. Ashley Spratt sports a Chevrolet coupe. — Miss Jennie Oderkirk, of Canaan, spent a few days last week at her sister's, Mrs. Leslie Haggerty.

CENTREVILLE

On Tuesday evening, February 19th, a highly recommended play, entitled "The Road Back", will be held in the Town Hall, at Centreville. Good orchestra in attendance.—The Ladies' Aid of Centreville held a business meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Doupe on Thursday evening last.—Mr. and Mrs. J. Doupe spent Friday evening at Herb. Milligan's.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Milligan were at Stan. McKeown's, on Sunday evening.—Mr. and Mrs. B. Weese were at Fred Milligan's, Wednesday evening.—All are glad to see Mr. George McKeown around again, after his recent operation.—Rev. Mr. McConnachie, of Springville, will occupy the pulpit of the United Church on Sunday, Feb. 17th.

eases ended in death! So a recent Canadian investigation showed. These were not cases of infectious diseases — of consumption — of typhoid! They were cases where a person had sustained some slight injury — a cut, a burn, a wire-prick — and where the wound, being thought not serious enough for careful treatment, had been neglected. Blood-poisoning and death resulted.

When you or your children sustain any injury, ensure against infection by applying Zam-Buk. This balm soothes the pain, stops bleeding, and by destroying all germs prevents blood-poisoning, etc. Hence no time need be lost from work or pleasure by those who use Zam-Buk. All dealers, 60c. box.

SIGHT LIKE RIFLE ON SEAGRAVE'S CAR

Major H. O. D. Segrave, first racer ever to drive an automobile faster than 200 miles an hour, arrived from England on the Majestic Wednesday at New York to attempt to regain the world speed record at Daytona Beach, Fla.

With him he brought his new car, known as the Golden Arrow, which has a sight on it like a rifle to help the driver hold to a straight course.

The race against time will be held between the 1st and the 15th of March. The present record, established by Ray Keech in April of last year, is 207½ miles an hour.

Major Segrave said that the nine-mile beach at Daytona, where the race will be run, is two miles longer than he needs. He said he will need three miles to attain maximum speed. The course on which he will be clocked is one mile long, and it will take him three miles to come to a halt.

The racer had a party of 14 with him, Captain J. S. Irving, designer of the Golden Arrow and of the major's former record-holder, the Sunbeam, which had an official speed of 203.79 miles an hour. Seven of the 14 were mechanics who will groom the Golden Arrow for its record-breaking flight.

The Golden Arrow is 27 feet, eight inches long, with a wheel tread of five feet. It has a 12-cylinder 900 horse power airplane motor. Low gear speed is 81 miles an hour, and second speed 160. The tires are guaranteed to last 15 seconds at 240 miles an hour. The fuel is a distillate so refined that it is almost the equivalent of alcohol, but with the explosive quality that alcohol lacks. The radiator is packed with cracked ice.

As airplanes have surfaces so constructed as to lift them into the air the Golden Arrow has planes on each side built so as to keep it on the ground during the race.

Major Segrave said he had made his usual insurance arrangement to cover him for this race. The policy is for $ 25,000, is good for two days after he notifies the company that he is ready for the race, and the premium is $1,750 a day.

Besides the Golden Arrow, Major Segrave brought from England the speed boat Miss England, which he said he had never been able to test thoroughly abroad because of fog and other weather conditions. He will give it a thorough tryout while in this country, and if the results are satisfactory will challenge the world mile record held by Gar Wood with his Miss America VII.

"THE ISLAND OF THE STAIRS"

could have done it, too, if I had not come in in the nick of time.

I stared at her for a moment and then reached forward and tore the plaited strands out of her hand and from around her neck and threw them to the deck. It was evidence to me of the deepness of her despair that she had attempted such a thing. It showed me for one thing the exact sense of my acting. I had convinced even her of my villainy. I realized with a sudden pang.

Hard as I stared at her, the glance that she shot back at me in intensity of not expression, mirrored my own. I never want to see such loathing, such contempt, such scorn on a human countenance again. It cut me to the heart.

"A moment," she said wildly, "and I had done it, traitor!"

"Nay, nay," I protested, "I am a true man."

"You bargained for me; you bought me!"

"I was not in earnest," I cried, but she interrupted me in a perfect tempest of outraged feeling.

"My God!" she burst out. "Why didn't you stay away a little longer? You dog! You vile, low!"—

But at that I found voice again, for I was getting angry myself, my temper naturally being fiothe the sweetest, save ordinarily when she was concerned.

"Hear me," I interrupted in turn.

"Not a word."

"But indeed you must," I persisted stepping within her cabin and carefully closing the door after me. "It is your welfare alone that I seek. I think you should have known that."

"After the insult on the quarterdeck last evening?" she asked coldly.

"Madam," said I, controlling myself again, but with added difficulty, "your unworth is not with kisses, but with"—

"What?"

"Life and"—

I hesitated.

"What else? Speak on!"

"Your honor," I said stonily, whereat she stared at my face, doubtless stern enough in all conscience.

What I had to say concerned us both so deeply that I cared not what she said, and perhaps that closed cabin into which I had penetrated was the likeliest place for privacy in the whole ship. I could by no means be overheard, so I determined to speak freely in a way not to be misunderstood.

"I mean you no harm. Can you not see it?" I burst out. "It was all a play."

"A play!" she panted. "The murder of the captain, the mutiny of the men, the seizure of the ship, the going up the chart, your purchase"—she drew herself up. God, she was a brave little thing—"of me," she continued, "with your share of the treasure—was that a play?"

"Part of it, madam," said I, stung by her words and stabbed again by the thought that she could ever have believed me capable of such baseness, who had loved her, worshiped her and—but for that fleeting moment when I had kissed her—had ever treated her with such humble consideration. "I bought not you."

"What then?"

"The right to live and serve you, the right for you to live unharmed and"—

"And what?"

"And be served by me with no thought but for your safety and happiness."

She stared at me in deep consternation, her brow furrowed. I had wit enough to be silent and let the speech work.

"Have I wronged you?" she asked faiterlingly at last.

"What would your fate be if you were left to that murderous rabble of the deck yonder?"

She shuddered as I pressed the thought home to her.

"You should have known me better," I continued reproachfully, "than to have suspected"—

"But your insult to me this very night on the quarterdeck?"

"Is a man to be condemned beyond pardon who has served you truly because he snatches a kiss in a moment of madness and forgets it when your life and honor tremble in the balance?"

"I do not think even you could forget that ever," she said, and I could not fathom exactly her purpose in that remark.

Did she not want me to forget it? Or would she have me remember it? But this seemed like trifling. I turned away bitterly, but she caught me by the arm instantly.

"What are you about to do?" she began. "Don't abandon me now. I believe in you. I see now why you did it. It was to save me and help me. What would I do, what could I do without you? I am"—she hesitated; it was hard for her proud spirit—"I am sorry," she finished.

"Say no more," I answered, looking down at the little hand on my sleeve, my soul thrilling to her words and touch. "No harm shall come to you save over my dead body, and that is not enough for me to promise. I mean to extricate you from this peril."

"But is it possible?"

"I think so; I pray so."

"You are one against so many."

"I have one ally in the ship, you forget," said I, smiling at her, relieved and thankful to see her in her right mind again and awake to the truth and my real feeling toward her.

"And that is"—

"Yourself."

"A feeble helper," she rejoined, smiling in turn.

"We shall see."

"And will you forgive me for having misjudged you?" she asked pleadingly.

"Gladly."

"My hand on it, then," she said, holding out her little palm which I swallowed up in my large one on the instant, standing silent as must fool-ing it the while.

"And are you not sorry that you kissed me?" she faltered at last.

"No," I answered firmly enough—being a plain man I have always felt compelled to tell the truth—except, perhaps, when her interests were at stake—"I am not sorry." But as she swiftly tried to draw her hand away I added, "I promise you I won't do it again, and you will forgive me, I know. Meanwhile we have much to plan. We may be interrupted any time and we had best get at it."

I released her hand and she faced me calmly enough.

"You don't know how much safer I feel when I have you to depend upon," she said.

How my heart leaped at that assurance and I saw that she had indeed forgiven me.

"I shall leave everything to you, Master Hampden," she continued. "Do you tell me what to do, and I will do it."

"I know you will. I could not ask a braver, better second," I answered heartily.

At that moment I heard a step on the ladder. Somebody was coming. Quick as a flash I realized the part we had to play in public. I balled my fist and struck the bulkhead savagely. I suppose I must have changed my expression as well, for in her surprise she screamed faintly.

"That's it," I whispered, "scream again, louder, louder."

"What do you mean?" she asked in incomprehensible amazement, in this crisis my wits working quicker than hers.

"There is somebody outside. We have a part to play. I am abusing you and you are fighting," I whispered swiftly. Then louder, fairly shouting at her indeed, I cried, "Down on your knees, wench. You will find that you have met your master now."

I made some sound of scuffle and she did indeed scream loudly. In the midst of the commotion the door was tried, but fortunately I had turned the key.

"Who's there?" I shouted, and to my help whispered, "Beg for help!"

Entering into the spirit of the game and smiling at me, since there was none but I to see, albeit she infused strange terror in her voice, so that I was amazed myself, she cried at the top of her voice:

"Help! Help!"

I in turn called louder yet:

"Silence, woman!" and struck the bulkhead again.

Finally turning to the door I opened it a bit, and there stood one of the younger seamen.

"What want you?" I began sternly and stormily. "I don't care to be disturbed just now."

"You are wanted on deck. It is just dawn. Land has been sighted, and there's a heavy sea runnin'. I'mbail an' Glibby want your counsel and advice what's to be done."

"Umself," said I. "I will be with you in a moment. Tell them I have yet a word or two to say to this woman here."

The man turned on his heel, passed through the cabin and climbed the ladder to the deck.

"Now," I said quickly, thrusting one of my pistols into my little mistress' hand, "we can talk no longer this time. I am going to do my best for you, and if I fail here is a weapon. You know what to do with it."

"Shall I use it on them?"

"No, less," I answered grimly, "on yourself if it comes to the worst."

"I understand," she said, paling a little.

"Lock the door when I go out, and on no account open to any voice but mine."

"I shall remember."

"And keep up the acting," I said. "Whimper and cower away whenever we are seen together."

"I shall not forget," she said, standing very straight, looking at me bravely, her eyes shining.

"And now goodby!"

I turned away, but she caught me by the shoulder. She extended her hand rather high. I was not too dumb not to understand what she wanted, and so I bent and kissed it, and it was no light kiss of gallantry, but I pressed my lips passionately against the little hand.

"May God keep you," she said as I turned away, breathing the "Amen" I dare not speak.

I heard the key turn in the lock behind me, and with a heart full of misgivings in spite of my stern and resolute purpose, I came out on deck again.

KEEP YOUR BABY HAPPY AND WELL

Every mother wishes her child or children to be well and happy; to be bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked boys and girls. No mother, though, can expect her children to escape all the ills of babyhood and childhood, but she can do much to help them fight the battle for health.

All prudent mothers constantly keep at hand the means of aiding their little ones when sickness comes suddenly—as it generally does in the case of children. In every home where there are infants and young children Baby's Own Tablets should be found. Read what Mrs. Mary Hill, Centre Dummer, Ont., says concerning these Tablets:—"I am the mother of six children and would not be without Baby's Own Tablets. They are a wonderful medicine for little ones."

Baby's Own Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach and thus break up colds and simple fever, banish constipation and indigestion and allay the irritation accompanying the cutting of teeth. They are absolutely safe and are pleasant to take. The Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA

The record of steady, substantial growth which characterizes the history of The Mutual Life Assurance Company of Canada has been well maintained by the 59th annual report of the company's policyholders which was submitted at the annual meeting held at the head office at Waterloo, Ontario, on Thursday, February 7th. The figures for 1928 contrasted with those of one decade ago show a remarkable achievement. The ratio of progress during the past year is therefore very gratifying.

All records for surplus earnings were surpassed in 1928, the figures showing the substantial sum of $4,888,816 under this head, as compared to $4,501,287 in 1927, an increase of more than $387,000. They amounted to $49.84 per $1,000 of assets. A liberal scale of dividends is thus assured as surplus earnings in The Mutual Life of Canada, after adequate contribution to the company's reserves, are distributed among the profit-participating policyholders.

Dividends paid to policyholders in the past year, including a special extra dividend of approximately $700,000, amounted to $4,752,509, an increase of more than $1,100,000 over the previous year.

In the past decade Mutual Life Assurances in force have more than trebled. In 1928 new business paid for amounted to $57,072,790, exceeding the amount written in 1927 by $7,291,698. This achievement brings total business in force of The Mutual Life of Canada to the sum of $422,795,453, a net gain of $36,080,000 over the previous year.

Another striking feature of the report is the growth of the company's assets, which now stand at $88,899,366, as compared with $34,756,726 ten years ago, the increase for the year being $8,856,023.

Surplus funds and special investment reserves now stand at the substantial figure of $11,853,826, insuring the continuance of liberal dividend distribution.

That the management of the company's affairs has been farsighted is shown by the rate of interest earned on the Company's investments, which, at 6.36%, has been well maintained in the face of steadily declining interest rates. New investments during the year exceeded $12,000,000. The reduced expense ratio of 14.27% shows again the Company's strict adherence to its traditional policy of sound economical operation.

WAR-TIME EXPLOITS OF HOMING PIGEONS

By J. V. McAree

What part the English racing homer played in the World War is admirably set forth in "Pigeons in the Great War" by Lt.-Col. A. H. Osman, editor of The Racing Pigeon, London. No man is in such a position to tell the story as Col. Osman since he was in charge of the carrier pigeon service, and in fact established it. It was Col. Osman who had much to do with averting a kind of St. Bartholomew's Eve, for all pigeons in England shortly after the war broke out. The German spy fever was in the air, and it was feared that the Germans had established lofts in England in peace time which would be turned secretly to war purposes and that military information of the greatest importance would be sent to Germany by means of the pigeons. There was also a general feeling that people should not be occupying themselves with such imbecile hobbies as the cultivation of pets when the Hun was at the gate, and that the birds in any event would assume corn that could be put to much better use. The general massacre was averted, but to make sure that there were no birds in England that would return to Germany, police visited all racing pigeon lofts and compelled the owners to give all birds their liberty or cut their wings. This naturally resulted in the loss of many valuable birds.

Fanzier's Patriotic Response.

Col. Osman, an editor of the most important racing pigeon paper in England, was naturally concerned and his representations to the authorities not only averted more drastic measures but led to the establishment of the messenger pigeon service, at first for the navy, then for the army and finally for the air force. An appeal was sent out to the leading breeders in England who one and all replied by putting their lofts at the disposal of the government, refusing all remuneration. Birds from these lofts, and especially those along the coast had their first service with the trawling fleet which was equipped with wireless. They were released with messages concerning mines or submarines and proved extremely useful, being responsible for the saving of many lives and the destruction of at least one U boat. As soon as the pigeon arrived at its loft the message was removed from its leg or tail and immediately telegraphed to headquarters at London.

Pigeon Won V. C.

Pigeons had proved their usefulness in the trawling fleet before they were employed in France, and here perhaps they did their most important work. Special mobile lofts on motor trucks were fitted up for them, and here they were bred. Once accustomed to their new lofts they would pick them out certainly as though they were flying to an ordinary building, and we are told that the percentage of returns was probably more than 99. No important messages were lost through the failure of pigeons to return, for when urgency demanded two pigeons were sent with duplicate messages, and one invariably got through. One of these birds was actually awarded the V. C. It is known in the records as 2709, a hen with the forces fighting at Menin Road in October, 1917. Early in the afternoon she was despatched with a message to divisional headquarters nine miles in the rear. She was brought down by enemy fire, and remained out in the rain all night. The next morning she sufficiently recovered her strength to struggle back, staggered on the floor of her loft and died before the officer could remove the message holder from her leg.

Notable Citations.

In looking through the official notations of various birds, painstakingly collected by Col. Osman, we find such phrases as "Liberated from seaplane in difficulties, the message carrier being the means of saving the lives of pilot and observer....Arrived home through thick mist with message. Landed through engine trouble being towed by T B D 92....The lives of pilot and observer of a seaplane were saved as the result of a message brought in by this bird....The last bird to be liberated from a total wreck 190 miles at sea on a dark, stormy December night, with a 30-knot wind dead against him. He arrived at the loft with message early next morning....Liberated 160 miles from land at 6.30 p.m. in darkness and fog, and reached the station in good time....Seaplane crashed about ten miles from base and this bird though almost drowned returned in time for assistance to be sent.... Has completed 146 active service patrols—Returned wounded in back....The first news came from the message carried by this pigeon with the result that the crew of six were saved after being on the water three days....Flying continuously for eighteen months in all weathers."

Used as Spies.

Among the birds thus honorably listed were some from the lofts of King George, who wrote expressing his gratification. We learn from Col. Osman's pages that at the front hundreds of these birds were taken up by airplane at night and dropped in little individual parachutes over occupied French and Belgian territory. The hope was that some friend would find the little basket, take charge of the bird and send out what information was indicated. This happened in many cases and much valuable news came thereby to the British headquarters. It is well that the memory of these plucky little warriors should be kept green, and Col. Osman is to be congratulated on having so competently performed his task.

STARVATION PERIOD FOR CHICKS

(Experimental Farms Note)

Experimental work carried on at the Poultry Division, Experimental Farm, Ottawa, to determine the amount of time that should elapse between the completion of the hatch and the giving of first feed, has shown some interesting results.

An experiment carried on during 1925 gave rather indefinite results but showed no greater mortality on feeding after twenty-four or thirty-six hour periods than when the birds were starved for a longer time.

A continuation of this experiment during 1926 showed the greatest gain in weight up to three weeks of age to be made by chicks fed twenty-four hours after the completion of the hatch. The weight gains decreased gradually until forty-eight hours after which point decrease in weight gains was more marked. Mortality was equal for all lots excepting that fed in which lot there was a slight increase.

This experiment was again continued during 1928. In this case the greatest gain was made by the birds fed sixty hours after finishing followed by those fed seventy-two, twenty-four, forty and ninety-six hours after hatching respectively. Mortality was equal and greatest for the birds fed forty and seventy-two hours after hatching with those fed sixty and ninety-six hours next in order. There was no mortality amongst those birds fed twenty-four hours after hatching. In no case did the birds starved until ninety-six hours after hatch compare favourably with the earlier fed lots.

The results obtained to date would seem to indicate that chicks may be fed as early as twenty-four hours after hatching with no harmful results either upon weight gains or mortality. It is just possible, however, that there is a happy medium in the neighborhood of from thirty-six to forty-eight hours after hatching. These results seem to indicate that, the fact that chicks will go as long as one hundred hours or more before receiving their first feed is to be looked upon more as a fortunate circumstance which permits of shipping over great distances rather than the best method of husbandry.

NAVAL HERO IS NOW COMMANDER

London, Eng., One of the most thrilling episodes in the whole naval history of the war is recalled by the appointment of Rear-Admiral Edward Evans to command His Majesty's Australian Squadron, effective March 18th next. Evans, commander of the destroyer "Broke" achieved wide renown for his part in the checkmaking of a raiding German destroyer patrol when for probably the only time in the war there was hand to hand fighting at sea.

In 1917 German destroyers patrols made frequent raids on Dover Straits in support of their submarines. On April 20, the raiders, who had been proving somewhat troublesome, did not escape easily. The system of British patrols had been changed since a German attack in March. There were two patrols and one of them consisted of the "Broke," Commander Evans and the "Swift," Commander A. Peck. The German force consisting of the 2nd Flotilla, which comprised their best and fastest boats, was in two sections. One went off to the South and appeared off the French coast. The other of about six boats hugged the northern shore and fired at the English coast off Dover in an aimless sort of way. The night was dark, and at 12.45 a.m. they were on their way home about 3 a.m. East of the South Goodwins on an easterly course when they were sighted on the port bow about 600 yards off by the "Swift" and "Broke", steering an opposite course. There was no challenging. The "Swift" fired a torpedo, put her helm hard-a-star-board and attempted to ram, but passed through the enemy's line and went off in pursuit of the raider. The "Broke" fired a torpedo, turned hard to port and crashed into G42. the third boat in line. A hand-to-hand fight ensued in the darkness with German boarders, who were driven back by the intrepid gun's crew led by Midshipman Donald Gyles. The "Broke's" engines were disabled by a shell, but she shook herself clear and completed the destruction of another destroyer G85. The reserve division which had put to sea from Dover, only arrived in time to help to pick up the German survivors. This ended the raid of April 20 which made the "Broke" and commander Evans famous, and with the exception of two ineffectual sorties on April 25 and May 2, when the Germans shelled Dunkirk and Ramsgate, stopped such ventures for nearly a year.

Rear-Admiral Evans will now have under his command the two new 10,000 ton cruisers H. M. A. S. Australia and H. M. A. S. Canberra; the light cruisers adelaide and Brisbane; the seaplane carrier Albatross and flotilla leader Anzac, two submarines being completed and small destroyers. He is 48 years of age, a native of New Zealand.

What One User Found Out After Getting to Know Alberta Coal.

Minnie, Ont.

There are several reasons why I like Alberta Coal.

First: It is all coal and when it starts to burn it goes like Hell Bottomet, and does not die out if you forget to turn the draft on.

Second: I don't have to shake the furnace to pieces or use the poker for a stone crusher.

Third: If I place a lump about the size of half a brick on the coal bucket at night when retiring, I have always a fire in the morning.

Fourth: If I were host to a hungry—just give the folks after partaking of my chops on the fire and there you are.

This is my opinion on Alberta Coal and you can use this letter in any way you think best.

(Mrs.) C. H. VINT.

It is our duty to acquaint you with the TRUE facts about ALBERTA COAL—facts gathered from the actual experiences of thousands of homes in Ontario, and particularly throughout Western Canada where extreme cold temperatures prevail.

ALBERTA COAL has all the advantages listed above; and, in addition, remember that by using it you are helping to develop one of Canada's great natural resources. You may employ it with equal success in furnace, range or open grate.

"Star" Members Entertained.

Over thirty-five members of Napanee Chapter No. 151, Order of the Eastern Star motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Bradshaw, Strathcona, on Thursday evening, where a delightful two hours was spent in progressive euchre. The party was augmented by a number of visitors and a jolly evening was spent by one and all. Lovely prizes were donated by the host and hostess; Mrs. Harold Benson, of Regina, winning the lady's prize, and Mr. H. W. Huffman the gentleman's prize. The playing concluded at 11 o'clock, after which a social hour was spent, and delicious refreshments served. The members were warm in their praise of the fine hospitality shown by Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw, who were the recipients of a hearty vote of appreciation.

Sleighing Party.

On Friday night "The Trinity Steady Goers", accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Geo. Knox, entertained Mrs. Frank Mills and her class to a sleighing party. After driving for two hours they were then taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Neely, who had kindly thrown their home open for the party, and where young and old are always assurred of the heartiest welcome. After a few games and refreshments being served, Mrs. Knox extended a vote of thanks, and presented Mrs. Neely with a small gift of appreciation on behalf of the class. Mrs. Mills, speaking for her class, presented the driver, Mr. L. VanLaven, with a remembrance. Mr. Neely spoke a few kind words. After all singing "For they are jolly Good Fellows", all departed for home.

WEDDING BELLS

Craig—Allen.

A pretty wedding was solemnized in the Church of the Nazarene, Sacramento, California, on Wednesday, January 30th, at 12 o'clock, by the Rev. J. W. Young, the contracting parties being Rev. James P. Craig of Sacramento, and Miss Edna Allen, formerly of Camden, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Allen, Yarker.

Miss A. J. Wartman, the bride's aunt, escorted her to the altar. After the ceremony, the bridal party, with a number of friends, returned to the home, where a buffet luncheon was served, and a pleasant social time was enjoyed for a few hours. The costume of the bride was of a cocoa shade throughout. She was the recipient of a number of useful and pretty gifts.

The newly weds left on an afternoon train on their honeymoon.

DELEGATION RE HYDRO RETURNED

Mr. Chas. W. Hambly, ex-M.P.P., and Capt. A. S. Hughson, who were appointed as a delegation, by the ratepayers on the Napanee-Desoronto Highway to interview the Minister, The Honourable J. R. Cook, Toronto, re Hydro services for farmers, returned Wednesday.

The Honourable Mr. Cook appreciated the spirit of the visit and went thoroughly into the question of rural power, explaining the present situation and the intention of the Commission in the future. Their objective is to have Hydro in every rural home, and in fact it may be mentioned, that in a number of Western townships, there is Hydro in more homes than telephones.

A meeting of those concerned in this matter will be called in the near future, when a full report from the delegation will be given.

BUYING ANGLIN BUS LINE

It is reported that negotiations which have been under way for some time are now practically completed whereby the Colonial Bus Lines, of Montreal, will take over the Anglin Bus Service, which has successfully conducted a motor bus service between Belleville and Kingston for several years.

With the acquisition of the Anglin Bus Service the Colonial Company will control the entire bus service between Montreal and Belleville and it is understood will put on a daylight line of motor busses between Montreal and Toronto early in the spring besides continuing the local service now existing between the various communities.

The Anglin Bus service between Belleville and Kingston has proved very successful and a great convenience on account of the excellent service maintained at all times, and the citizens of Belleville, Kingston and all towns on the route will regret to lose from the route Mr. Anglin who has always been the soul of courtesy and ready at all times to go out of his way to oblige patrons.

It is expected that the deal will be finally closed within a few days and that the transfer, will be made on March 1st.

HOCKEY

Napanee Defeats Kingston L.C.S.'s 7-0.

Napanee met the Kingston Locomotives in an exhibition game here on Monday night, and chalked up another win. The locals were well supported, and showed a fine brand of hockey. Napanee had the edge on the visitors from the face-off, scoring 4 goals in the first. Both teams played hard in the second period and neither scored. In the third period the locals tallied 3 more.

The R. M. C.'s of Kingston, will play the locals on Wednesday night, and from all accounts it will be a real hard game. The local boys are playing good hockey, and are looking forward to having good support.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The inaugural meeting of the Napanee Board of Education was held in the Council Chamber, in the Town Hall, on Thursday evening.

Present — Messrs. Alpine Woods, Chairman; J. H. Craig, C. A. Walters, J. M. Simpson, Judge J. E. Madden, J. E. Miller, J. M. Thomson, Dr. Willoughby.

Since the elections in January, one member of the Board, Mr. G. W. Gibbard, passed away, and Judge J. E. Madden was elected in his stead.

Mr. Alpine Woods was again unanimously elected as chairman, and Mr. J. G. Fennell as Secretary-Treasurer.

The Special Committee appointed to strike the Standing Committees reported as follows :—

Management—J. W. Robinson, C. A. Walters, P. Gleeson, Judge Madden.

Property—J. L. Boyes, E. J. Pollard, J. E. Miller, J. H. Craig.

Supply—J. M. Thomson, Dr. Willoughby, J. M. Simpson.

Finance—J. L. Boyes, J. W. Robinson, J. M. Thomson.

In the election of Mr. Alpine Woods as Chairman of the Napanee Board of Education, an honor has come to one who has served the community faithfully and well for many years. For the past sixteen years Mr. Woods has been Chairman of the Board, and he retires upon his seventeenth year with the esteem and confidence of the citizens and his colleagues on the board. Probably nowhere in Ontario will there be found a chairman who has presided at a Board of Education for seventeen consecutive years.

The report of the Inspectors of the Vocational School held in the Collegiate, was presented and adopted.

The report of the V. O. N. nurse for 1928 was presented and adopted.

Messrs. J. E. Miller and C. A. Walters were appointed a Special Committee to report upon the Collegiate grounds.

Principal L. S. Beattie presented his report, which was adopted.

A motion was adopted prohibiting smoking in the Collegiate Institute at any public or private functions held in the building.

Mr. W. J. Trenouth, Principal of the Public Schools, presented his report, which was adopted.

Board adjourned.

TAMWORTH

We are having excellent weather at time of writing.—The funeral of the late Mrs. Wm. Richmond, of Grieves' Corners, was held here on Sunday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, at Christ's Church, and was largely attended. Rev. Mr. Morgan spoke from Psalms 39 : 1.

—Mr. Chas. Stevens spent the week end at his home near St. Catharines.

—Miss Mae Foster, of Belleville, spent the week end with Miss Marion Richmond.—Mr. S. Wagar and daughter, Fern, spent Saturday in Napanee.

—Miss Mae Foster, Miss Marion Richmond and Orval Richmond took tea with Mrs. Esther Pringle, on Sunday night.—The regular meeting of the United Church W. M. S. was held on Tuesday night, Feb. 12th, at the home of Mrs. V. R. Crich. There were sixteen members present, and a very interesting meeting was held, with the President, Mrs. (Rev.) Beckstead in the chair. Miss Hattie Reid made the chapter in the Study Book very interesting, and gave a clear outline of the urgent need of, money and talent in Africa and other places. Arrangements were completed for a Valentine Tea, which was given on Feb. 14th. An excellent supper was served to a very good crowd, and a nice sum of money was realized. After the supper was over, there was an excellent program of duetts, quartettes, solos, recitations and a comic dialogue. The crowd dispersed, feeling that the W. M. S. of Tamworth knew what they were doing when they advertised a supper and programme.—On Friday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, in the League Room of the United Church, was held a very interesting and instructive service of Prayer, by the W. M. S. ladies of the United and Anglican churches here, it being the World's Day of Prayer for Missions. The two Auxiliaries united, and the meeting was a decided success. The topic was "Echoes of a solo sung very nicely by Mrs. (Rev.) Morgan; also a very interesting paper on "Peru", read by Mrs. W. G. Richmond. The ladies dispersed, feeling greatly benefitted for having spent the hour together.—We are glad to see Mrs. Philip McKim home again, after spending a couple of months with her daughters in the United States and Smiths Falls.—Mr. Frank York spent two days in Stoco this week.—The services of the United Church will be held next Sunday at 11 o'clock, and Sunday School at 2.30 o'clock.

Marshmallows, fresh from the makers, at Hooper's Drug Store.

SELBY

The recent snow fall made the roads rather difficult for cars, but they have been ploughed out and are in a very good condition at present.—A number have been laid up from town for their summer needs.—On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. S. D. G. Winter cordially opened their home to the Y. P. S., and over forty took the opportunity to attend. Messrs. Geo. Price and Bill Frisken kindly furnished their teams and sleighs for the occasion. After the business part of the meeting was over, the remainder of the evening was spent in games, contests and music after which the girls served refreshments. All joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," and departed, having spent a most enjoyable evening.—The play, "Cranberry Corners," given in the United Church on Wednesday, was well attended. About sixty dollars was realized.—The W. M. S. met at the parsonage on Thursday afternoon, at which the annual Day of Prayer was observed.—Mrs. Durland Mostchen was a recent visitor at Wr. H. A. Wood's.—Mrs. C. Lockridge spent a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Jack Grange.—Mr. and Mrs. Russell Price, Wesley, visited at Mr. W. Doidge's on Wednesday, and attended the play.—Mr. Randall McQuaig had the misfortune to break his arm while cranking his car.—We all hope for a speedy recovery.—Mr. and Mrs. John Belton, of Forest Mills, spent one day recently at Mr. Jas. Mowers'.—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Genu, of Bell Rock, visited at his sister's, Mrs. F. L. Amey.—The many friends of Miss Ethel Redner will be sorry to learn that she passed away on Friday, after an illness of a few months. The funeral was held from the home of Mr. Schuyler French, Napanee, on Monday.—Mr. Ralph Winter, of Flint, Mich., has been spending his holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Winter.—Miss Nina Kimmett, Shannon, is visiting her cousin, Miss Mary Dudgeon.—Mrs. Purcell, of Colebrook, spent the week-end at her brother's, Mr. John C. Hudgins.

Kruschin Salts, with the free package, at Hooper's Drug Store.

MORVEN W. M. S.

The regular monthly meeting of the W. M. S. was held on Wednesday, February 13th, at the home of Mrs. Geo. Clark. The meeting opened by Hymn 202, after which all repeated the 23rd Psalm. Minutes of the last meeting were read, and Auditors' report was given. Hymn 156; reading by the President, Mrs. G. Fralick; prayer by several of the members; duett by Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Frank Bird, which was enjoyed by all. Heralds, India, Mrs. Jackson; Orientals, Mrs. Lund; Indians, Mrs. Campbell; Individual, Mrs. G. Clark; Temperance, Mrs. Seymour. Mrs. Seymour then gave a splendid report of the Presbyterial held in Trenton. Hymn 162, and the meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

CAMDEN EAST

A highly respected resident of this place in the person of Mr. Peter Tompkins, passed away early on Saturday morning. The deceased was in his about two months. The family have the sympathy of the community in the loss of a father.—Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Connoly, of Yarker, spent Thursday evening the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Jeffrey.—Mrs. Sarah Connoly, of Yarker, spent a few days the guest of Mrs. M. McWilliams.—Mrs. Albert Warner took dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Histed, recently.—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Black spent Sunday evening of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Parrott, at Switzerville.— The many friends of Mrs. W. Stewart are pleased to hear that she is recovering, after an attack of the Flu.—Mrs. Geo. Scott visited her mother, Mrs. W. Stewart, who is ill at time of writing.—Mrs. E. Sherlock is spending a few days at the home of Mrs. E. Sexsmith, Bicknell's Corners.—A number from here attended a meeting of the Sunshine Club, in the United Church Hall, on Friday night last, and report a very pleasant time.—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Galbraith and daughter, Ruth, spent a day last week in Napanee, on business.—Mrs. J. W. Galbraith, a former resident, was renewing old acquaintances in the village, recently. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Jackson, and baby, of Toronto.—Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Histed and children, of Deseronto, spent Sunday afternoon with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Histed.—The W. M. S. held their February meeting on Wednesday, the 13th, at the home of Mrs. Chas. Histed, with an attendance of fifteen. The President, Mrs. Sherlock, occupied the chair. The meeting opened by singing hymn "How Sweet the Name of Jesus Sounds", after which Mrs. Dickson offered prayer. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved. A splendid report was read by Mrs. (Rev.) Anderson, on Missionary work from Trenton Convention, which was appreciated by all present. At the close a social half hour was spent, and a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Chas. Histed and Mrs. R. Lewis.

SILLSVILLE

Last Wednesday evening about sixty neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Charters met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Young to bid them good-bye before starting their new home at Streamstown, Alta. After a few favorite old songs were sung, Mr. and Mrs. Charters were presented with a handsome silver tea service and a very suitable address was read by Miss Madaline Young. Mr. and Mrs. Charters thanked their neighbors, and assured them that the same hearty welcome which had always been in the old home for all was cheerfully extended in the new one for all who could visit their way. Mr. and Mrs. McLean are moving to their new home, the Charters homestead.—Miss Florence Gilbert, who is successfully operated on in Kingston for appendicitis some few days ago, is now isolated at the hospital, having developed mumps. — Our school has again opened, and nearly all the children are in attendance.— Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Young have had the misfortune to have their new home destroyed by fire, which would make $500.00 per annum. Mr. Chalmers would not accept this offer, and is closing his repairs. Councillor Loucks said that they had agreed with Mr. Chambers to pay him the regular $2.00 per hour, plus 50c. per hour while engaged at a fire, and let him have the free confessions above referred to for looking after the truck. Mr. Chambers would then be free to take a position any place in town. On motion the report was adopted.

Councillor Wiseman, Chairman of Town Property, recommended that no change be made in the caretaker of the Town Hall at present. The town pump had been broken off by a runaway team and the committee had instructed a new one. The new floor in the lobby of the Town Hall was becoming badly marred, and asked the Council if they would advise putting in linoleum. On motion the report was adopted.

Mr. Tustin, Chairman of Market and Police, thought the by-law re carters should be amended or rescinded. He would have a new by-law to present to the Council at the next meeting. On motion the report was adopted.

Councillor Fitzpatrick, Chairman of Light and Social Welfare, reported that new lights are being installed on Dundas street. He also referred to several matters in connection with the Social Welfare relief. On motion the report was adopted.

Moved by Councillor Paul, seconded by Councillor Daly, that the matter of closing Church street be filed. Carried.

Capt. Harry Babcock, on behalf of "E" Co., Prontenac Regiment, extended an invitation to the members of the Council and all town officials to be present at a banquet to be given in the Armouries on Tuesday evening, February 26th, 1929.

Moved by Councillor Paul, seconded by Councillor Wiseman, that the Council write Mr. E. J. Judge, Reeve of Camden, re recompense for the members of the local fire brigade for services in attending a fire at Yarker last fall. Carried.

Councillor Paul presented an application from Thos. Killorin for position of streets foreman at a salary of $20.00 per week.

Councillor Paul moved that Mr. Killorin be appointed streets foreman at a salary of $20.00 per week from March 1st to December 31st, 1929, but could not get a seconder to his motion.

A lengthy discussion then ensued. The Streets Committee had recommended the same salary as last year, $25.00 per week, and the members of the Council were agreed that providing the efficiency of the work to be performed remained the same as in previous years. Several members were of the opinion that Mr. Killorin would make a very capable foreman. The discussion finally came to a sudden stop when one of the members called the attention of His Worship to the fact that like the whole discussion was out of order due to the motion having received no seconder.

TOWN COUNCIL

Council Chambers,
Napanee, Feb. 18th, 1929.

Council met in regular session on Monday evening, Mayor Howitt presiding.

Members present—Reeve Tustin, and Councillors Loucks, Daly, Paul, Fitzpatrick, Ungar and Wiseman.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read, and on motion were confirmed.

Communications

A communication was received from J. M. Simpson, enclosing plan designating Church street, which street he is asking to have closed.

On motion this communication was laid on the table until reports of committees were heard.

A communication was received from Ida and Asa Thompson, drawing the attention of the Council to the amount of taxes paid by them on their property adjacent to the West Ward school.

On motion this communication was referred to the Finance Committee to investigate and report.

Reports

Councillor Daly, Chairman of Finance, reported that the several committees were working splendidly, and if they can keep the expenditure down, as they are now doing, there will be a great difference in the taxes a year from now.

Councillor Ungar, Chairman of Streets, reported that the sum was left in the Streets Committee. Re Church street, referred to his committee at the last meeting, they could not recommend the closing of that street. Mr. Ungar then gave a summary of the wages paid the streets foreman for 1927, the present wage being $25.00 per week. On motion the report was adopted.

Mr. Grange, Town Clerk, explained to the Council the location of Church street on the west side of the Newburgh Road, and said the only thing to do, for the present at least, was to let it stand.

Councillor Loucks, Chairman of Fire and Water Committee, reported re Mr. Chambers, caretaker of the fire truck. In conjunction with the Town Property committee, they had met Mr. Chambers and offered him the position of caretaker of the Town Hall, at a salary of $300.00 per annum. He is already receiving $200.00, and free rent, light and water for looking after the fire truck, which would make $500.00 per annum. Mr. Chambers would not accept this offer, and is closing his report. Councillor Loucks said that they had agreed with Mr. Chambers to pay him the regular $2.00 per hour, plus 50c. per hour while engaged at a fire, and let him have the free confessions above referred to for looking after the truck. Mr. Chambers would then be free to take a position any place in town. On motion the report was adopted.

Councillor Wiseman, Chairman of Town Property, recommended that no change be made in the caretaker of the Town Hall at present. The town pump had been broken off by a runaway team and the committee had instructed a new one. The new floor in the lobby of the Town Hall was becoming badly marred, and asked the Council if they would advise putting in linoleum. On motion the report was adopted.

Mr. Tustin, Chairman of Market and Police, thought the by-law re carters should be amended or rescinded. He would have a new by-law to present to the Council at the next meeting. On motion the report was adopted.

Councillor Fitzpatrick, Chairman of Light and Social Welfare, reported that new lights are being installed on Dundas street. He also referred to several matters in connection with the Social Welfare relief. On motion the report was adopted.

Moved by Councillor Paul, seconded by Councillor Daly, that the matter of closing Church street be filed. Carried.

Capt. Harry Babcock, on behalf of "E" Co., Prontenac Regiment, extended an invitation to the members of the Council and all town officials to be present at a banquet to be given in the Armouries on Tuesday evening, February 26th, 1929.

Moved by Councillor Paul, seconded by Councillor Wiseman, that the Council write Mr. E. J. Judge, Reeve of Camden, re recompense for the members of the local fire brigade for services in attending a fire at Yarker last fall. Carried.

Councillor Paul presented an application from Thos. Killorin for position of streets foreman at a salary of $20.00 per week.

Councillor Paul moved that Mr. Killorin be appointed streets foreman at a salary of $20.00 per week from March 1st to December 31st, 1929, but could not get a seconder to his motion.

A lengthy discussion then ensued. NEWBURGH

Mrs. John S. Galbraith, of British Columbia, called on Mr. Peter Fairbairn, on Friday last.

Mrs. German Wager is in Napanee with her father, Mr. Brown, who has been very ill.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wright, of Odessa, were visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, recently.

Mrs. R. B. Price is a week end guest of Mr. W. S. Baker.

Miss May Wilde, of Selby, has been a few days visiting with her aunt, Mrs. T. I. Winters.

It is reported that the Camden East Ladies' Aid are going to give their play, "The Road Back", in the Village Hall, on Wednesday, the 27th.

Miss Cheetham Pero was called to Northbrooke, owing to the serious illness of her mother.

There will be services in the Free Methodist Church each evening, during next week.

Mr. Harold Peters, of Sillsville, was a Sunday visitor in the village.

Mrs. Marshall Peters is seriously ill with pleuro pneumonia. Mrs. Peters is 85 years of age, and her brother, Mr. Salter Brown, aged 89, who resides with Mrs. Peters, is also seriously ill.

Mr. J. F. Fraser, K.A.S., of Kemptville, was the special speaker on connection with the Short Course in Agriculture. On Friday, in the morning and in the afternoon, he gave a series of very practical talks on all phases of the commercial poultry business. Unfortunately there was not as many young men in attendance as could have been wished. This week, on Friday, Mr. Clarke Young, of Millgrove, will be the special speaker, taking for his subject "Flows and Ploughing". This should be of great interest, and a large number of the farmers, old and young, are cordially invited to attend. The lecture is free. Miss Shortreed's course in Home Economics continues to sustain the interest of a large group of both married women and young girls. Miss Taylor, who conducted the course in sewing, in place of Miss Ramage, had a large group. This week a course in Home Nursing and First Aid will be given by Miss M. McMillan, of Toronto. A worth while course.

Don't forget to send in your news items each week on Monday morning, to go in with the regular correspondence.

The Mission Circle held a very profitable and enjoyable entertainment on St. Valentine's night. The program was good, and every one had an enjoyable evening. Mrs. Wm. Wilson, Strathcona; Miss M. Wager, Enterprise, and Miss M. Brooks, Roblin, assisted very acceptably.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Doidge, Mount Pleasant, and Mrs. W. Doidge and daughter, Amy, of Selby, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ramsay.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wales, Selby, and Mrs. Arthur Vanalstine visited on Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wales, Wesley.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Baker visited with Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGarvey, on Friday last.

Mr. Christian Jorgensen returned recently from a trip to his native country, Denmark.

Mr. Wilbur Shortts and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Shortts, who recently moved here from Mountain Grove, have returned to the latter place on Monday. Mr. Wilson Shortts has been ill for some time.

Mrs. W. J. Ramsay spent a few days of last week with her daughter, Mrs. Russel Price.

Mrs. Ruttan, of Odessa, is the guest at the home of her son, Mr. Roy Ruttan.

By singing a hymn and repeating together of the 23rd Psalm by those present, the February meeting of the Woman's Missionary Auxiliary of the Newburgh United Church, was begun. After the reading of the minutes and roll call, the following committees were appointed to make arrangements with the other churches for the "World Day of Prayer" : Miss H. M. Paul, Mrs. Courtney and Mrs. Johnston. Mrs. Lucas and Mrs. Frost were named to arrange the program for the next regular meeting. Mrs. Johnston then conducted the "Second part of the questionaire on the "Blue Book", which was very interesting and instructive.

D. B. WILSON

LETTER RE THE DEED OF MACDONALD PLOT

49 Manor Road East, Toronto.
Feb. 7th, 1929.

Jess Johnson, Esq.,
Reeve, Township of Adolphustown, Ont.

Dear Sir :—

Replying to my letter to the County Council of Lennox and Addington, of Jan. 22nd, the County Clerk, Mr. W. G. Wilson, has written me that said Council at its recent meeting, fully approved of my offer to deed the Macdonald plot on Hay Bay, where stands the Cairn erected by the Dominion Government in 1927, in memory of the boyhood home of Sir John A. Macdonald, the first Prime Minister of Canada, in that Jubilee year of Confederation, to the Council of the Township of Adolphustown; and further, that said County Council having already made a grant of $100 to assist in fitting up Macdonald Park, stands ready to supplement that amount with an additional sum, when the Council of Adolphustown undertakes the work this Spring of beautifying Macdonald Park, and making it an attractive place to visit by our people, and all tourists passing through our country.

When I paid the Platt Estate fifty dollars in 1910 for the Macdonald plot, I thought that possibly in some further day the spot would be recognized, but it took me seventeen years pegging away at the changing Federal Governments before a suitable memorial was erected. The plot is now worth at least one hundred thousand dollars as a historical site alongside the first Methodist Church built in Canada in 1791-2, which solid frame structure still stands, and may endure for another century if the United Church of Canada will now come to its rescue. Possessing such an heritage the Council of Adolphustown should gladly make a contribution every year for the completion and maintenance of an attractive park between the roadway and Hay Bay, of the three acres embraced in these two properties stretching about 1,000 feet along the roadway, with no fences, but graded and levelled, and set out with trees, shrubbery and flowers. There should then be placed a respectable sign-board at the junction of the two properties with the inscription, "Macdonald Park", with the date of its erection. A pipe drain five or six feet in diameter would probably be sufficient under the roadway and Northerly through the frog-pond to the shore of Hay Bay, to provide an outlet for the farm drainage, and then the frog-pond can be filled in with material from the shore and embankment, and with some rich soil on top. This can be seeded and planted and made part of the level park.

I am glad to be able to make this gift to my native Adolphustown, and if you will send me an official acceptance of the gift by your Township Council, at your next meeting, I will have the deed to the Macdonald plot transferred to your Council, for you to register, and then to begin work in the Spring on the improvement of your own property.

Yours very truly,
A. R. DAVIS.

CANNOT SELL HER $65,000 FUR COAT

London—How a woman changed her mind to the tune of a fortune is related in connection with the proposed sale of one of the few chinchilla coats in the world.

She wanted a chinchilla coat and her husband bought her one, at a cost of $65,000. She wore it, thought at first she liked it, but then decided it did not suit her, and put it up for auction.

Its ultimate destination is unknown. At present it is lying unused, because the bidding failed to reach the reserve price of $15,000.

"This is only one of many stories which lie behind the "Going-Going-Gone" of the auctioneer.

"Behind almost all the articles for sale is a story, sometimes tragic and sometimes distinctly humorous," said a well-known auctioneer.

"Coats and Caps are brought to us by young men who have had them returned by ex-fiancees. Furs belonging to women, once rich, but who are forced by poverty to sell them. Officers who have lost their wives, home from abroad, come to us bringing the coats left behind by their wives in cold storage.

"The auction room is a scene of continual rivalry between the private buyer and the fur dealer. The fur dealer is the more patient.

"I have known a man to wait a whole day simply because there is one skin in the whole of a coat with which he wants to replace a damaged skin in a coat he already has.

"There is much disillusionment awaiting persons who imagine that their coats are always trimmed with new, furs many fur trimming are second-hand made in fact from fur coats sold in the various auction rooms."

"Do you ever work in the garden?" inquired a friend of a financier. "Well," remarked the latter reflectively, "I sometimes water my stocks."

WISE AND OTHER WISE

Father—"Betty, I want you to come from the party at a reasonable hour—and not with the milkman."

Betty—"But, father, how absurd! He won't be there."

It Will Prevent Ulcerated Throat.—At the first symptoms of sore throat, which presages ulceration and inflammation, take a spoonful of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Add a little sugar to it to make it palatable. It will allay the irritation and prevent the ulceration and swelling that are so painful. Those who were periodically subject to quinsy have thus made themselves immune to attack.

The Married Cat—Why, you haven't brains enough to cook a dinner.

The Gold Digger—Perhaps not, but I have brains enough to get one without having to cook it.

Rub It In For Lame Back.—A brisk rubbing with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil will relieve lame back. The skin will immediately absorb the oil and it will penetrate the tissues and bring speedy relief. Try it and be convinced. As the liniment sinks in, the pain comes out and there are ample grounds for saying that it is an excellent article.

Millie—"Grandma doesn't look like an old woman now that she's had her hair Eton-cropped, does she?"

Billie—"No, she looks like an old man."

Worms sap the strength and undermine the vitality of children. Strengthen them by using Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator to drive out the parasites.

Husband—I met a friend, you see, and, of course, we had to have a drink.

Wife (sarcastically)—Really! If one meets a friend must one go for a drink?

Husband—No, both must.

Hard and soft corns both yield to Holloway's Corn Remover, which is entirely safe to use, and certain and satisfactory in its action.

Norah—"Is your brother, who is so deaf, any better?"

Bridget—"Sure, he'll be all right in the morning."

Norah—"You don't say so?"

Bridget—"Yes, he was arrested yesterday, and he gets his hearing this morning."

It is usually safe to say that when a child is pale, sickly, peevish and restless, the cause is worms. These parasites range the stomach and intestines, causing serious disorders of the digestion and preventing the infant from deriving sustenance from food. Miller's Worm Powders, by destroying the worms, correct these faults of the digestion and serve to restore the organs to healthy action.

Asthma Is Torture. No one who hasn't gasped for breath in the power of asthma knows what such suffering is. Thousands do know, however, from experience how immeasurable is the relief provided by that marvellous preparation, Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. For years it has been relieving the most severe cases. If you are a sufferer do not delay a day in securing this remedy from your druggist.

Clerk—If you please, sir, I'd like to go to the funeral of my mother-in-law.

Manager—So would I.

TAMWORTH WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The meeting for the month of November was held at the home of Mrs. Bruce Richardson, with an attendance of seventeen, and was opened by the singing of the Ode, followed by the Creed. The roll call was answered by "Filling for Sandwiches". Secretary read several letters of importance, and are being particularly worthy of mention, a "New Years' Greeting" from our District President, Mrs. A. E. Huffman, Moorow, which was very much appreciated.

Steps were taken to organize a Garment Making Club, which we feel will be a very great success, owing to the fact that a number of capable women have agreed to supervise the work. It was decided to hold a joint meeting with neighbouring Institutes for the summer season, if possible.

Mrs. Bruce Richardson referred to the attention given to the piano by the caretaker, and moved that a small donation be given him.

It was decided to put a flag, the "Union Jack", on the Town Hall, in the near future.

Miss Helen Shier gave a piano solo, "Rain Whispers", which was very much enjoyed by all. The question of what we should charge the different parties when using the piano was discussed and agreed on.

Miss McLaughlin sang a colo, "Mate Oh Mine", making a very melodious addition to the evening's programme.

A couple of ladies were appointed to buy a stove for the Town Hall, as the money for that purpose had been kindly donated by the Council.

The meeting closed by singing the National Anthem.

CANADIAN GARDENING SERVICE

One should not be content with the same flowers and vegetables year after year. At least, one new variety should be tried each season and often in this way a certain previously unknown flower or vegetable will be found that is particularly suited to the local climate and soil. Of course those that have done especially well in the past should not be abandoned unless some much higher quality sort is wanted. In the flower list, among well known sorts as zinnias, marigolds, petunias and phlox, there are lesser known beauties like callopsis, godetia, calendula, lupins, annual larkspur, scabiosa, salpiglosais, California poppies, schizanthus or Butterfly flower, and several others now listed and fully described in the best catalogues. Some of these are worth trying in every garden. Among the vegetables, one would do well to experiment with the cos lettuce, a new spinach, asparagus, Brussels sprouts, cress, Swiss Chard, endive, kohl rabi, vegetable marrow, or some of the herbs.

Indoor Planting

Many tender bedding plants for the window box and hanging baskets can be grown by the amateur if started indoors this month, while the hardier sorts if given an earlier start in this way will come into bloom several weeks sooner than if planted directly in the open. The same is true of many vegetables such as tomatoes, cabbages, lettuce, melons, and even a few beets, carrots, and hills of corn. Starting these indoors will materially hasten the time when they will be ready for the table. A shallow cigar box or something similar is the best thing to grow these in where space is limited, or if there is plenty of room a florist's "flat"—a shallow box 10 inches by 18 —may be used. Punch a few holes in the bottom of the box to allow drainage, and add a layer of cinders or gravel to serve the same purpose. Get some fairly good soil, and break it up fine. Moisten the earth, then mark off the rows, which need only be one inch apart, sow the seed, and cover the top of the box tightly with a piece of sacking or burlap. This keeps the seeds in a warm, dark place, and when they have pushed up through the soil, remove the burlap, and give them full sunlight. Unless there is a storm window on outside, keep the box back at least eight inches from the glass to avoid drafts and low temperature.

How to Make a Hot Bed

Where one has a larger garden and wants to get off to an early start, it is better to build a hot bed than to try and grow the early plants indoors. Secure a supply of fresh horse manure, which has been turned every day or so to prevent burning, and store this in some sheltered spot until ready to use. The hot bed should be located where it will be convenient for the attendant, and it must be protected from the north and west winds by fences, buildings, or shrubbery. Make a pile of the manure eighteen inches deep, and be sure it is well pressed down. If drainage is good, a hole may be dug and the manure placed in this. On top of the manure place a light frame of wood any desired size and cover tightly with a window sash, sloping this a few inches towards the front which must be south. Cover the manure with three or four inches of fine soil. The bed will heat up rapidly at first, but by the fourth day will have cooled down sufficiently to allow planting. In cold weather water sparingly and only on bright days. Ventilate a little every day by raising the sash, keeping this open longer as the days grow warmer. Plants should be transplanted once, and hardened off in a cold frame, which is similar to the hot bed only without the manure, before being set outside.

Ontario Lady Found Relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills

Mrs. I. Essery Says They Have Been A Wonderful Help to Her

Alvinston, Ont., Feb. 19th, (Special)—Right to the point is the statement Mrs. I. Essery, R.R. No. 7, Alvinston, makes with regard to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I have used Dodd's Kidney Pills and found them splendid. I had been troubled with my back for several years but now it is quite all right and feels fine."

Dodd's Kidney Pills purify the blood, and pure blood carried to all parts of the body means new health and increased energy all over the body. Dodd's Kidney Pills are an excellent tonic, and now is the opportune time to take them. During the long, weary winter months the system becomes weakened and gets in a run-down condition. Dodd's Kidney Pills work with Nature by encouraging and assisting the kidneys—to cast out everything impure or diseased.

Obtainable from druggists everywhere, or The Dodds Medicine Co., Ltd., Toronto 2, Ont.

THE CULPRITS

When tees are green and smooth and nice,
Who waggles proudly once or twice—
And then commits a horrid slice?
My Driver !

Who helps me with my second shot,
And ought to biff it quite a lot—
But duffs the thing as oft as not?
My Brassie !

Who ought to make the ball abscond
High over bunkers and beyond—
But hooks it in the rank or pond?
My Mid-iron !

Who lays the chip-shot safe and dead—
Or makes me lift my silly head
And drop it in the sand instead?
My Mashie !

Who ought to add unto my score
Two tiny strokes, but never more—
And then takes three (or even four)?
My Putter !

In short, to close my little song,
If shots are short, or far too strong,
Who gets the blame when things go wrong?
My Golf clubs !

But when I'm fairly on my game,
Correct in strength and straight of aim,
Who gets the praise, devoid of blame?
Why, I do !

Moved by Messrs. Sexsmith and Magee, that minutes as read be confirmed. Carried.
Moved by Messrs. Chalmers and Humphrey, that the Auditors' report be received and adopted, and they receive $5.00 and $2.00 respectively for their services. Carried.
Moved by Messrs. Chalmers and Sexsmith, that Annabelle Magee be paid $22.80 interest, also $45.60 first payment on principal of $456.00. Carried.
Moved by Messrs. Magee and Humphrey, that the amount of $138.15 be paid the Dominion Bank for first installment on Town Creek Debenture. Carried.
Moved by Messrs. Chalmers and Magee, that the account, of $15.35 to the Municipal World, for supplies, be paid. Carried.
Moved by Messrs. Magee and Chalmers, that the following be a committee to inspect the following road accounts, with the Road Engineer :—Alfred Sexsmith, No. 4 and 5; Thos. Chalmers, 3rd Con.; Geo. Magee, No. 1; John Humphrey, No. 2. Carried.
Moved by Messrs. Sexsmith and Magee, that the Clerk be paid $5.50 for registration fees for the year 1928. Carried.
Moved by Messrs. Sexsmith and Humphrey, that James E. Robertson be appointed Collector of Taxes for the Township of Adolphustown, for the year 1929, in place of W. H. Miller, who refused to act. Salary $50.00. Carried.
Moved by Messrs. Sexsmith and Magee, that Geo. Chalmers be appointed Secretary of the Board of Health. Carried.
Moved by Messrs. Sexsmith and Magee, that James Prout's time as Collector be extended until the next meeting of the Council. Carried.
Moved by Messrs. Sexsmith and Magee, that whereas the burden of taxation has become so heavy on account of 20% payable to the Ontario Government by the County for the construction and maintenance of Provincial Highways, and whereas on account of this taxation, it is impossible for Township Councils to still further tax their ratepayers for the purpose of constructing and maintaining township roads, and whereas the Township Councils do not receive any grant or subsidy from the Government unless the Townships do construct Township Roads, and whereas the Township Roads are becoming almost impassable, thereby decreasing property values and increasing the movement of the country people to the cities, we, the members of the Township of Adolphustown, do hereby petition the Ontario Government through the Ontario Townships Roads Association, to not adopt any more Provincial Highways through the Townships unless the Govgrnments are prepared to pay the full cost of construction and maintenance of the same.
Moved by Messrs. Humphrey and Chalmers, that this Council adjourn till call of Reeve. Carried.

A CHRYSLER MOTORS PRODUCT

The most economical car in the lowest priced field

Now $820 AND UPWARDS F.O.B. WINDSOR, ONT.

PLYMOUTH'S exceptionally low operating cost is the direct result of Chrysler engineering, research and manufacturing experience which has produced vastly increased power and smoothness while retaining all its inherent economy and simplicity typical of the Chrysler high-compression engine.

Yet economy is merely the beginning of the greater value Chrysler has built in the Plymouth.

Plymouth is unique in the lowest-priced field in giving full-size seating capacity for all adult passengers—without crowding or discomfort.

Plymouth is the only car in its field giving the positive safety of Chrysler weatherproof internal-expanding hydraulic brakes on all four wheels.

It is the only car in this class providing the distinctive new Chrysler silhouette with slender-prefile radiator, "air-wing" fenders, arched windows, bowl-type headlamps and other striking features of style and beauty.

On every basis of comparison, the Plymouth earns your respect and the immediate conviction that it represents today's greatest dollar-for-dollar value in the field of lowest-priced cars. 304

Coupe, $820; Roadster (with rumble seat), $850; 2-Door Sedan, $860; Touring, $870; De Luxe Coupe (with rumble seat), $870; 4-Door Sedan, $890. All prices f. o. b. Windsor, Ontario, including standard factory equipment (freight and taxes extra.

THE ISLAND OF THE STAIRS

Being a True Account of Certain Strange and Wonderful Adventures of Master John Hampden, Seaman, and Mistress Lucy Wilberforce, Gentlewoman, In the Great South Seas.

By CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY

there was already light enough to extinguish land off to starboard. We had run quite near it in the night. It was still too gray to make out much more than the existence of the island itself, but I thought I saw, beyond the nearest island others rising. At any rate, there it was where it ought to be, and I didn't make any doubt but that it was the island which we had been seeking these weary months of sea.

The whole crew was on deck [illegible] of Captain Mat Thews' body, although I looked hastily about for it. Then later that they had fumbled him overboard without a prayer or word after they had knocked him on the head. Pimbolt, Glinby and one or two others of the older seamen were on the quarterdeck, the rest being strung along the bulwarks in the waist starting at the island. Two hands were at the wheel. The ship was pitching and laboring heavily, and it required two hands to hold her up to it.

During the night they had taken a second reef in the topsails. A whole gale was now blowing. Everything above the topsail yards had been furled, of course. The Rose of Devon was a wet ship in a seaway, and she was making heavy weather out of it.

I noticed one thing with satisfaction. They had evidently not thought it worth while to break open the arms chest or to force the key from the which they could easily have done, and none of them was armed.

"Well," I began, as I climbed over the match coaming and turned to aft, "I'm back for you Hampden," began Pimbolt insolently, and his failure to "mister" me or to give me any title indicated our present relations, "the cause of that," and he pointed to the leeward toward the island.

"It looks like land," I said.

"It is land. What land?"

"How can I tell?" I answered. "I have never been in these seas before."

"Well, you took an observation yesterday, didn't you?"

"Certainly."

"And where were we?"

I named a latitude and longitude, not exactly what I had worked out, but near enough. I didn't want these ruffians to know exactly where we were. He pulled out the chart as I spoke and compared its figures with what I had given them. He could read figures if not letters.

"At any rate," he said, after studying over the map for a little time, "that is not far from the point we are making for, is it?"

"No," I admitted, "not very."

"Do you think that can be it?"

"I can't tell for certain," I replied "until I get another shot at the sun I should think the latitude about right but as to the longitude"—

"And you can't get no shot at the sun until noon, can you?" uncermoniously put in Gibbie, casting a long look to the eastward where the sky was thick and cloudy already.

"I can't even get an observation then unless we have clear weather," I answered.

"There'll be no clear weather today. I take it," said an old seaman standing with the other two.

"I don't think it," I assented.

"Well, what do you advise then" asked Pimbolt.

"That we stand on slowly during the day and heave to at night, and if we can't get a shot at the sun stay here about as until the sky is clear and the sun visible, then we will know just exactly what course to take and just what's best to be done."

The advice was so self evidently good, in fact the only practicable advice that there was no hesitation in accepting it. The boatswain stepped up to the horseblock, grabbed the tiller jet and shouted his orders. "Presently the ship was hove to with the island well under her lee, distant perhaps a league and a half or maybe two leagues. Personally I should not have hove to so close on a lee shore. I should not have advised it, and indeed would have protested against it had I not suddenly developed a plan—a plan as desperate as ever came into man's head. But then the situation required desperate remedies. And for the accomplishment of the plan the ship was now in the very best position I could have put her in.

"That is not far from the point we are making for, is it?"

I was minded to desert the ship with my lady, get ashore and trust ourselves to the tender mercies of whatever natives there were rather than stay with the vessel. I took no stock in the sailors' promises and agreements. Once they got the treasure it would follow that they would kill me and take her.

When we got the Rose of Devon safely hove to the men all knocked off work at once, leaving the decks in a state of confusion. Indeed, save to clear up the gear, there was nothing to do but wait. Two or three men were stationed on watch, and the rest were given the freedom of the ship I was in doubt as to what to say about the cabin; but, strangely enough, nobody made any effort to take advantage of the ministery of the crew to quarter himself there. Indeed their quarters forward were almost as good as ours, and they evidently preferred to be together. The ship was generously provisioned, and the fare of the men had been unusually good They did, however, break into the lazarette and help themselves to whatever they liked out of the cabin stores, including a case of bottled spirits.

I brought out other liquor and let them have as much as they wanted A little liquor would make them ugly and intractable, I reasoned; a lot would make them drunk, and enough would render them completely helpless. I even joined them in their carousal. It was easy enough to spill my liquor and make a pretense at drinking, which soon deceived them They took to the liquor like ducks to water.

The men on watch kept reasonably sober for a time, but even they were not too abstemious. I saw to that. Later on the cook, who was not yet too drunk, fixed them up a regular banquet out of the cabin stores, and there was no objection to my taking a portion to my lady in the stateroom below, where she kept close and remained out of the way by my urgent entreaty.

My communications that long day with my sweet charge were necessarily intermitted and short. I did not dare to be long away from the men on deck. I still wore my sword, and I searched through the captain's cabin and found two heavy pistols, which I carefully charged, concealing them in the deep pockets of my pea jacket. I passed among the men freely, handing out the spirits, opening fresh bottles and handying rough jests, but took care never to be in any position where I could not command the companion hatch, which led to the cabin.

Our drift was slowly but surely in the direction of the island. Indeed, I think we had made half a league or more to leeward since we had been hove to. From time to time I searched the shore with a glass, seeing that the land was protected and completely

FIGURES CANNOT LIE

A Printer had in his employ an Irishman who braced his master for a raise in pay. The employer put it up to Pat like this:

"If you are worth it I will be pleased to give it to you. Now let us see what do you do in a year, Pat? We have 365 days in a year; you sleep 8 hours every day, which make 122 days you sleep, taken from 365 days, leaves 243 days. Now you have 8 hours' recreation every day, which makes 122 days, taken from 243 days leave 121 days. We have 52 Sundays in a year which you have off, leaving you 69 days. You have 14 days vacation, take this off and you have 55 days left. You don't work Saturday afternoons, this makes 26 days in a year. Take this off and you have 29 days left. Now Pat you allow one and one-half hours for meals, which total in a year 28 days. Take this off and you have one day left. I always give you St. Patrick's Day off, so I ask you, Pat, if you are entitled to a raise?"

Pat was a printer, not a professor in mathematics, but as he turned he was heard to murmur: Phwat the divil have I been doin'ter the past year?

FIRST EDITION IS WORTH THOUSANDS

After reposing for 25 years on a collecter's library in Toronto, a first edition of Walt Whitman's poems has shot higher in price in the last six months than International Nickel.

For years the owner cherished the volume with no thought of sale. Then he let a private individual he believed interested in Whitman have it for $20, the price he had paid years before. The next day it became the property of a New York bookseller for $50. It was placed on the shelves of the New York store with the price plainly marked—$350. It lay there six weeks before it was disposed of for $1,200 to a purchaser who had already contracted to sell it for $1,800. The last sale recorded was at $2,000— and it was in a dealer's hands.

NAPANEE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

On Tuesday, February 12th, an unusually interesting meeting was held. The President, Mrs. Ralph Ham, presided over the meeting, and Mrs. Frank Herrington gave a detailed statement of the receipts and expenses of the last banquet. The finances are in a very flourishing condition. The Institute are responsible for the teaching of singing in the Public Schools. As usual Mrs. Haggerty gave a splendid review of matters of world wide interest. Her bits of humor were much appreciated.

Rev. A. J. Wilson, of St. Andrew's United Church, who was abroad lately studying social conditions in European countries, gave a very graphic and interesting account of the operation of the League of Nations. He spoke of the social conditions of many countries and cities, with special mention of the fine educational and social housing system of Vienna, where the peasants are placed in sanitary homes of three rooms each in large apartment houses at the small rental of $1.50 a month. As a member of the League of Nations Society he expressed the hope that soon many people would become interested in its work, as only by creating public opinion can wars be made to cease. Since the League of Nations was first organized eight potential and many minor wars have been averted. Not only wars, but such matters as white slave traffic, refugees child welfare and disease are dealt with and recommendations made. The aim of the League is to transform the world as far as possible. It is composed of two bodies, namely, the Council which meets four times a year in the famous Wilson Memorial building in the Glass room with its crimson curtains. It has five permanent members from the following countries: Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy and Spain, and nine non-permanent members, of whom Canada's Premier has the honor of being one. The Assembly is composed of one member from each of fifty-five countries who have voting power, while three from each country may attend.

International justice is administered by a Supreme Council of fifteen members which meets once a year and settles all disputes between countries very satisfactory to both. It requires 500 civil servants to attend to all the documents. These have a permanent home in the Bureau of International Labor. By use of views of the many buildings where the League of Nations meets in Geneva, the ladies present were able to follow the address more efficiently. Every one felt they owed a debt of gratitude to the speaker for his clear and concise address.

After the "Flu" or grippe you require Cod Liver Oil in one form or another. The Pure Test Clear Norwegian Cod Liver Oil is highly recommended. For those who simply can't take the clear oil we suggest Malt Extract with Cod Liver Oil, such as Keplers (in $1.00 and $1.75 bottles), or the one made by the Ovaltine Company, which comes in a big two-pound jar at $1.50. Any of these for sale at Wallace's.

OBITUARY

At Deseronto, on Friday, February 1st, 1929, there passed to rest Frederick J. C. Robertson, in his 81st year.

Deceased was born in Manchester, Eng., on Dec. 10th, 1838. He is survived by his widow, formerly Catherine Ramsay, and ten children. The six sons are George, at home; Fred, of Napanee; Andrew, of St. Catharines; David, of Sutherland, Sask.; James, of Lindsay, and William, of Odessa. The daughters are Margaret Lyon, of Washington, U.S.A.; Mary Beecher, of Detroit, Mich.; Elsie Crerar, of Lindsay; Ella Nesdow, of New Liskeard. The funeral service was held at his late residence, on Monday, February 4th, 1929. The Rev. Mr. Pringle, of Christ Church, officiated. The remains were placed in the vault at Camden East, to await interment in the spring.

—Messrs. F. P. Smith & Son have taken over the old established Fire Insurance business of Harshaw & Son and D. L. Greene, recently held by A. T. Turnbull, and will conduct the same in future at the office in Harshaw Block, Dundas St. 20tf

—Rev. Dr. Marshone, one of Canada's leading astronomers, and recently from the far famed Bermudas, will give "A Night in the Heavens", with the greatest telescopes in the world, in Grace Church, under the auspices of the Napanee Salvation Army Corp, on Thursday evening, February 28th, at 8 p.m. Admission 25c. 8bp

—There passed to rest at the home of his son, William, at Mansion, Man., Jacob Rombough Moore, in his eighty-second year. The late Jacob Moore was born in the Township of Camden, County of Addington. He was the son of the late George Moore and Margaret Rombough, both of the Township of Camden. The remains were interred at Fleming, Sask.

"THE ROAD BACK"

Undoubtedly, one of the season's best plays, entitled "The Road Back", a comedy drama, was presented by the young people of the United Church, under the auspices of Ladies' Aid, on Feb. 8th, in the United Church Hall, Camden East. Despite the inclemency of the weather and bad condition of the roads, there was a large and appreciative audience. Every part was well taken and every member of the cast fitted into his or her individual role in a splendid manner. At no stage did interest lag, and the periods between acts were very short, which was a good asset. The plot was well worked out and contained pathos, showing the deep serious nature of the play as well as a great deal of humor.

An Orchestra, consisting of Mr. Fred Brown, Mrs. John Fairbairn, Mrs. Brown and Edith Williams, provided excellent music while the audience was being seated, and during the short periods between acts.

The cast of characters was as follows:—

Ma Fowler—Mrs. B. Yeomans.

Pa Fowler—Mr. A. Amey.

Jenny Fowler and Milly Fowler, their daughters—Miss G. Gallagher and Miss E. Williams.

George Fowler, the ne'er do well son —Mr. J. Russell.

Mrs. Blinders, the gossipy neighbour —Mrs. A. Amey.

Blake Chester, in love with Milly—Mr. E. Williams.

Mr. Harrison, Jenny's employer—Mr. R. Skinner.

Arthur McLeod, a friend of Jenny's —Mr. C. Hyland.

Ben Fowler, Pa's brother from Arizona—Mr. G. Jeffrey.

Mrs. Chester, Blake's mother—Miss H. Williams.

It is understood that upon request, the above play will be repeated again at Camden East, some time in April.

ROBLIN

We are still able to enjoy driving our cars, which is quite unusual at this time of year.—Several friends from here accompanied the remains of Mrs. Nelson Field, from Tamworth on Sunday, where the funeral service was held in the Anglican Church.—Mrs. Stewart Waddell is visiting her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Casswell in Kingston.—Miss Jean de Paul spent the week-end in Belleville.—Mrs. Chas. E. Kimmett is spending two weeks visiting her neice, Mrs. S. F. Smith and her daughter Miss Mary Kimmett in Toronto.—Mrs. Daniel Richmond is progressing as well as can be expected since her fall breaking her hip. We all hope she will soon be able to be around again.—The Mission Circle will meet on Friday evening, Feb. 22nd at the home of Miss Hazel Baker and the Ladies' Aid and W.M.S. meetings will be held at the home of Mrs. John H. Kimmett on Tuesday p.m. Feb. 26th.

HAYBURN

Last Tuesday evening was an occasion for much sociability and fun, when old and young gathered to celebrate the birthday of one of our veteran farmers, Mr. Chas. Brooks. A short programme given the young people, and Rev. Mr. Plant told in a very interesting manner of his trip to England last summer. Pictures of scenic and historic spots helped the listeners to picture more clearly this delightful holiday. A presentation of a pipe was made to Mr. Brooks, to which he responded in "smoke the health" of his friends. Besides the neighbors who came to celebrate, the following daughters and sons of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks were present: Mrs. B. Lloyd, Point Anne, Mrs. A. Wickett, Belleville; Flossie at home and Messrs. Wm. and Arthur Brooks of Hayburn.—Mr. Albert Magee spent a few days last week with friends in Prince Edward County.—Miss Doris Rickly was a recent caller at Mr. and Mrs. A. Parks', Hay Bay.—Miss M. Magee has been assisting Mr. Steve Mack with the hay pressing. — Mr. and Mrs. A. Magee spent a recent week-end at Mr. E. Magee's, Selby. — Among those who braved the element to attend the dance at Bethany last Thursday evening were Messrs. G. Dickson and Lewis Magee.—Miss Patterson spent the week-end in our midst.—Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Magee were supper guests at Mr. Fred Wright's, Conway last week.—Mr. Ross Lasher, Sillsville, is at Mr. Percy Sills'.—Mr. Everett Magee is holidaying with his grandmother Mrs. G. Lowe of Milford.—Everyone is delighted to hear of the continued improvement of Mr. Roy Milman, who was injured while sawing wood. — Messrs. A. Magee and Fred Dickson have disposed of all their hay at Mrs. A. E. Thompson's farm. They report a big demand and good prices. — Harding logs is the order of the day just now while Messrs. Murphy and are in the vicinity with their sawing outfit.

A Perfect Medicine For Little Ones

Baby's Own Tablets Should Be in Every Home Where There Are Children

The perfect medicine for little ones is found in Baby's Own Tablets. They are a gentle but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach, drive out constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fever and promote healthful and refreshing sleep. It is impossible for Baby's Own Tablets to harm even the new-born babe as they are absolutely guaranteed free from opiates or any other injurious drugs. Concerning them Mrs. Earl Taylor, Owen Sound, Ont., writes:—"I have four children and have always used Baby's Own Tablets. I am never without the Tablets in the house as they are the best medicine that I know of for little ones."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Home of Quality

MAPLE LEAF INSTITUTE

The regular meeting of the Maple Leaf Institute was held in North Fredericksburgh Hall, last Tuesday afternoon, and despite the fact of so much illness in many homes, the attendance was good. After a few well chosen remarks of welcome by the President, the regular business followed. Letters of appreciation from shut-in members were read. A unanimous invitation to the Department for a speaker during the Summer series, it was decided to change the date of our regular meeting until March 19th, in order to have our District President, Mrs. Fred Hamm, with us on that date. It was unanimously agreed the Maple Leaf Institute would be "At Home" to a St. Patrick's party on March 15th. Watch for further announcements. Two very excellent papers were then given by Mrs. Elmore Alcombrack and Mrs. J. R. Ackerman. The members were then favored by a piano solo by Miss Babcock, of Morven. Much credit is due Mrs. Bert Pretts for her interesting paper on "Current Events", which is always a pleasing feature of every meeting. Meeting adjourned till March 19th, 1929, after which lunch was served by the Committee in charge.

Announcing an

Amateur Dressmaking Prize Contest

$50 in Local Prizes. $200 in Grand Prizes.

As an inspiration and encouragement to those who sew at home, our Store has established this contest with an attractive list of cash prizes for the winners. Inasmuch as the time in which to submit entries is rather limited, you are urged to prepare for this event at once. If any details are not clear, come to the Store and anyone in the Piece Goods Department will be pleased to explain them.

Contest Closes March 18th. Local Awards March 21st.

1. Contest is open to all amateur dressmakers, except employees of the store, or members of their families.
2. Entries must be brought in not later than Monday afternoon, March 18th, 1929.
3. Entries must be made from goods purchased in our store since February 1st, costing 50c per yard or over, and sales check for the goods must be pinned to the entry.
4. Entries for local prizes will be judged by a committee of three, consisting of a leading Dressmaker of this Community, the head of our Piece Goods Department, and the head of our Apparel Department.
5. All entries, whether winning prizes or not, will be returned Contestants shall call for them or make arrangements for having them sent back.
6. Award of local prizes will be made in our Piece Goods Department on Thursday, March 21st. The dress winning first prize will then be sent to Toronto to compete for the grand prizes with the winners of first prize in other stores in our organization.
7. Entries will be judged on their merits, and the selection will be based on workmanship, good taste in fabrics and trimmings, and cleverness in design.
8. Entries may be cut from Butterick patterns, if desired. These patterns are obtainable in the store.
9. Be sure to have a slip with your name and address, as well as the sales check for your fabric purchases, pinned securely to your entry. If you mail your entry instead of bringing it in, be certain it is packed safely.
10. We reserve the right to display any entries during the contest, or for three days thereafter.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear father, who passed away February 14th, 1928.

To-day brings back sad memories
Of a loved one gone to rest.
And those who think of him to-day
Are those who loved him best.

Sleep on, dear father, your cares are ended,
Rest in peace your work is done;
You are gone where those who loved you,
Will some day meet you one by one.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear father, Mr. William McFarland, who departed this life Feb. 27th, 1928.

My father's voice is hushed,
His warm, true heart is still;
And on his pale and peaceful face,
Is resting death's cold chill.

I think of him in silence,
No eyes can see me weep,
But many tears are shed
When others are asleep.

Sadly missed by a loving daughter.

SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA

A TOWER OF STRENGTH

1928

Assurances in force (net) An Increase of $408,925,000	$1,896,915,000
New Assurances Paid for An Increase of $112,836,000	441,244,000
Total Income An Increase of $41,972,000	144,747,000
Surplus earned during the Year	40,264,000
Payments to Policyholders and Beneficiaries	49,920,000
Surplus and Contingency Reserve An Increase of $9,157,000	66,938,000
Total Liabilities (Including Paid up Capital)	422,020,000
Assets, at December 31st, 1928 An Increase of $87,652,000	488,958,000
Rate of Interest earned on mean invested assets (net)	6.58%

DIVIDENDS TO POLICYHOLDERS INCREASED FOR NINTH SUCCESSIVE YEAR

The Company has also inaugurated the practice of paying a special majority dividend on participating policies, ten or more years in force, terminating by death or maturity.

EXTRACTS FROM DIRECTORS' REPORT

... After deducting amounts re-assured, the total assurances in force now amount to $1,896,915,934.37, an increase of $408,925,254.18. Policies in force number 643,240, and in addition 136,293 certificates of assurance are held by employees of corporations and firms under the group plan.

While every field of operation contributed its full share to these impressive advances, the rapid development of our business in Great Britain and the United States is especially noteworthy. The generous reception of our Company in countries served by powerful domestic institutions is particularly gratifying, as testifying to widespread appreciation of our record and services.

... The amount paid to policyholders since organization, together with the amount at present held for their security or benefit, exceeds the total amount received from them in premiums by $111,370,229.10.

The strength and resources of the Company have been still further enhanced.

The net rate of interest earned on the mean invested assets, after making provision for investment expenses, has risen to 6.58 per cent. Dividend increases, bonuses and stock privileges, accruing on many of the Company's holdings, contributed substantially to this gratifying result.

A net profit of $11,028,854.59 has been realized from the redemption or sale of securities which had risen to high premiums.

The securities listed in the assets have been valued at figures substantially below the valued placed on them by the Government. This under-valuation of our securities represents an important safeguard against possible adverse market fluctuations, additional to the reserves specifically provided against that contingency.

We are again able to report that on the bonds and preferred stocks listed in the assets, not one dollar, due either as interest or as dividend, is in arrear for a single day; while the dividends accruing to common stocks exceed by several million dollars those payable on the same stocks at the time of purchase.

The surplus earned during the year, based on the values given in the accounts, amounted to $40,264,088.52.

$10,000,000. has been deducted from the already heavily marked-down value of securities, as additional provision against possible fluctuations, increasing the amount so set aside to $20,000,000.

The special amount set aside as a liability to provide for unforeseen contingencies has been maintained at $12,500,000.

$15,822,339.65 has been paid or allotted as profits to policyholders during the year.

After making all deductions and allocations, $9,157,966.34 has been added to the undivided surplus, bringing the total over liabilities, contingency accounts, and capital stock, to $74,438,862.48.

The continued prosperity of the Company enables your Directors to announce, for the ninth successive year, a substantial increase in the scale of profits to be distributed to participating policyholders during the ensuing year.

In addition, your Directors have inaugurated the principle of granting a Special Dividend on participating policies maturing after having been in force ten years or longer. This new bonus will enable policyholders or beneficiaries whose withdrawal is occasioned by the maturity of policy contracts, to participate in the accumulated surplus which it has not as yet been considered prudent to divide.

The effort to provide life assurance at the lowest net cost obtainable has been increasingly appreciated. Our policyholders will be gratified by this further evidence of our desire that the Company's prosperity shall be fully shared by its members.

some little remembrance of my rank, for no one yet counts made any objection. Pimbalt, lying supine on the deck, and Gilsby, who was in no better case, with drunken effusiveness assured me that they would take care of the ship, and I went below, having provided all of them with a fresh supply of drink just before.

I sometimes wonder if I would not have been justified in killing them all while they were rendered thus helpless. But I could not bring myself to such wholesale murder, richly as they deserved it and little as I was inclined to mercy. I also thought of clapping them in irons and stowing them below. But there were not irons enough aboard for that purpose, and Mistress Lucy and I could not work the ship unaided. We could not even feed and water our prisoners. Yet if I could have counted on three or four true men's assistance I would have risked it.

How Mistress Lucy had passed the dragging, anxious hours of that awful day you can better imagine than I can describe. And my occasional visits had scarcely reassured her greatly. Yet in an emergency I have never known a woman who had more spirit.

She had left her own meat practically untouched, and she was sitting there in the cabin nervously clutching the pistol, frightened half to death. Poor girl! I don't blame her. Whatever may have been the cause of it, she was genuinely glad to see me when I came in and lighted the cabin lanterns.

"Oh," she cried, "I have been in agony the whole day. Every sound has caused me to seize this weapon, and when I have not been watching the door I have been on my knees praying for you and for myself. I do not think I can stand another day like this."

"Please God, dear lady, you shall not," I said, smiling reassuringly at her.

"What do you mean? Have you a plan?"

"I have. The men are all drunk. I am going to leave the ship and take you with me."

"But how—when?"

For answer I threw open the stern window of her cabin. On a level with it swung a small boat, a whaleboat. Now I had taken occasion during the day to lower that boat little by little, a few inches at a time and then a few inches at another time, as I had opportunity to get near the falls and to manipulate them unobserved, but I had brought it down to the level of the cabin windows. Its sea lashings were cast off, and I had no doubt, if conditions on deck were as I expected them, I could lower it all the way later with impunity.

"What do you mean?" she asked, staring out of the window and into the empty boat.

"I mean that you and I are going to embark in that boat tonight and leave this ship."

"But where are we going?"

"There is land not a league and a half under our lee. It seems to be the most easterly of a cluster of islands."

"Is it the island we seek, do you think?"

"We are in exactly the latitude and the longitude of the chart if my calculations are correct."

"The island was uninhabited when my ancestor was cast away upon it."

"Yes," said I, "but there may be natives there now, but no savages of the south seas could be more cruel and ruthless than the men on this ship."

"Let us go," she said, shuddering. "What is your plan?"

"I suppose I'd dress yourself in your stoutest clothes, with your heaviest shoes, wrap yourself up in a heavy cloak and take with you a change of clothes and such few necessaries for your comfort. I will go and rummage the lazarette for provisions, and I will see if I can turn up any more weapons in the captain's room. I dare not go to the arms chest"—it was below in the hold anyway, and I could not waste the time to hunt it out—"we must hurry."

"Why, you said they were insensible."

"They'll recover their senses before we know it. I want as long a start as possible."

"Wait a moment," she said. She opened a drawer under her berth and drew out a leather case, which she opened and placed before me. There were two ivory handled silver mounted pistols in it. "They belonged to my father," she said. "With one of them he—he"— Her voice broke. I nodded. I knew what he had done with one of them. She rummaged further and drew out an exquisite sword, quite unlike my heavy one, but, if I could judge anything about weapons, of fine temper and strength and with its hilt studded with diamonds. "This was my father's too," she said. And I recognized it also. It was that I had taken from Arrester.

The pistols were smaller than my huge barkers, better suited for her hand, and to bind them from the flasks which accompanied them was the work of a few minutes. I thrust my own heavy weapon back into my belt. I then buckled her own pistols around her waist and bade her take the sword also. We might need all three weapons.

Then I left her and went out on deck. The men were in a profound drunken stupor. Pimbalt was sound asleep; Gilsby was nodding. He leered at me as I drew abreast of him.

"Everyth-th-ing s-all r-right?" he hiccoughed.

"Everything," I answered. "The old nark doesn't need much watching to night."

I yawned extravagantly. "I will go and turn in, I think. If you need me call me."

As I went below into the cabin I saw that in a few moments he would be like the rest.

CHAPTER X.

In Which We Pass the Barrier.

THE lazarette was well provided, and I stocked the boat handsomely, not forgetting an ax, a lantern and tinder box. There was not much water, but I emptied some bottles of wine and filled them, although I did not much worry on that account because there would be plenty of water undoubtedly on the island. The boat was provided with a compass and a mast and sail. I got into her as she swung at the davits and overhauled spar and gear. Then I shipped the tiller, and presently everything was ready. A final search brought to light a narrow locker in the captain's room, which I forced open and which I found to contain a fine rowing piece, a double barreled shotgun and a heavy musket with plenty of powder and ball. These I passed into the boat also.

"Have you got now what you wish to take?" I asked when all my preparations were completed.

"A change of linen, some toilet articles and necessaries, brush and comb, needles and thread," she answered, holding up her bundle.

"Good," said I. I judged it was about 10 o'clock at night. "Now, do you get into the boat, madam."

She had not been on the ship for six months without having learned something, and she instantly asked me:

"But how are you going to lower it away?"

"I will have to go up on deck for that," I said.

"But won't they see you?"

"I don't think so, but whether they do or not we must chance it, but if anything should happen to me I'll cut the boat adrift, and you will be in God's hands."

Silently I assisted her to take her place in the stern sheets. It was not a large boat. On the contrary, yet she made but a small figure sitting there. Then I went on deck. I had a can of oil with me to oil the blocks. It was as I fancied. By that time everybody on the ship was asleep in a drunken stupor. The ship was deserted so far as human supervision was concerned.

Still I didn't neglect any precaution. I oiled the shives of the block and lowered the boat away carefully, inch by inch, until it was water borne. I reassured my mistress by whispered words as I did so. She had had her instructions and right well she followed them. She had her boat hook out and fended off the stern the instant the boat touched the water. For me to belay the falls and slide down the forward one to cast off and take my place in the boat was but the work of an instant. The oars had been carefully muffled. Although the noise of the waves rendered conversation quite safe, we neither of us spoke a word until I had rowed some distance from the ship.

It was nearly midnight before we got everything shipshape, my lady bravely helping me with her best efforts, and the little vessel threshed gallantly through the big seas.

I had carefully taken my bearings during the day and as I had a good compass on the boat I knew exactly how to steer. Fortunately the wind held steady. I laid her course so as to clear the northeast end of the island, around which I intended to swing so as to be hidden from the ship at daybreak.

I told her after awhile that she was safe. No sound had come from the ship and the lights in the cabin which at first we could see dimly presently disappeared. Our escape had not been discovered. I suggested at last that she should go to sleep. I arranged the boat cloak and blankets and although she had to be much persuaded I finally prevailed upon her to lie down in the boat, her head by my knees, and thus we sailed on through the night.

When day broke I hauled aft the sheet and headed the boat to the southward, for I had now crossed the head of the island and could run down the other side. By the time it was fairly dawn I had made enough southing to place the north end of the island between ourselves and the ship. I steered the boat toward the land.

My heart was here high and I felt a kind of exhilaration at our escape, although I was by no means inclined to minimize the possibilities of peril we might yet be compelled to meet. The island was our destination, however, and for it therefore I determinedly headed my small craft with the precious and still peacefully sleeping cargo.

The island was unlike any I had ever looked upon. In the first place, like most Pacific islands, it was inclosed by a coral reef, over which the waves broke in whitecaps as far as I could see. I supposed that somewhere there would be an opening in the reef through which we could sail. That was invariably the case with all such islands that I had ever known or read about. But I could not see the opening from the boat yet. Toe lagoon enclosed by the barrier reef seemed to be a quarter or half a mile wide.

The strangest thing about the whole scene was that the island itself looked like a whitish gray wall rising straight up from the lagoon for, I suppose, from 150 feet in the lowest part to 200 feet or more without a break. Its top was covered with greenery. It stood up like a solid rampart of stone. Would You be a Magnate On $216 a Year?

The Bell Telephone Company is owned by 15,300 shareholders and 95 per cent of them live in Canada. Over 50 per cent of them are women.

The average shareholder has 27 shares and gets $216 a year on his money. The largest has 1,510 shares, which is less than one-quarter of one per cent of the total.

The company has grown from a few telephones to over 700,000, but it has never split its stock and never departed from its policy of the best service at lowest cost.

The monthly rates paid by telephone users in Ontario and Quebec today are the lowest rates in the world for comparable service.

CANADIAN GARDENING SERVICE

The sun is getting higher, the days longer, and soon the snow will disappear. The seed catalogues have been distributed and it is time to plan for the garden work ahead. A beautiful display of flowers and an abundance of crisp tender vegetables are within the reach of all although in too many cases, and particularly where there is plenty of room, as in the small town and on the farm, gardening is often neglected. But there is really no mystery about it and, very little work. Moreover, most of this work, even the cultivation, will really be a pleasure or, at all events, good healthy exercise. Only a small outlay of cash is required. A few tools, a little fertilizer, a plan and a couple of dollars worth of seeds will supply the table with flowers to please the eye and vegetables to gladden the palate from early June until November. The old-fashioned back-yard of chips, dust, and weeds is replaced with a smooth, velvety lawn, leading up to beds of flowers which in turn screen the less beautiful, but very practical, vegetable garden.

Planning the Garden

A garden plan is essential. It will save time, space, and worry. Now, while the evenings are still long and the ground is frozen under the snow, is the time to make this plan. Where the garden is large, a full year's supply of vegetables can be easily produced and the rows in this case should be wide enough to permit horse cultivation. This will mean that vegetables of ordinary size, such as carrots, beets, lettuce and spinach should be at least thirty inches apart, while the spreading sorts and taller ones, such as cucumbers, tomatoes, potatoes, and corn should have from three to four feet. On the farm, or in the village garden it will not be necessary to worry about conserving the space by inter or double cropping and narrow rows. When the early crops, such as lettuce, spinach, peas, radish, and the host of other delicacies which are ready in from three weeks to a couple of months after planting, are harvested, the best thing to do is to put in a crop of clover or some quick and close growing thing which will keep the weeds down and may be plowed under later on for fertilizer. Wherever possible, garden experts advise running the rows north and south so that the sunshine will be more evenly distributed. Melons, squash, cucumbers and other trailing plants are better grown along a fence or on sloping ground so that the fruits will be dry and mature evenly. Tomatoes should be staked. This staking is often considered too much trouble but it will repay labor and other expense many times over, not only in more northerly latitudes where there is risk of an early frost and tomatoes normally only ripen two or three years out of five, but also in the warmest districts of Canada where the staked fruit always ripens first and is, therefore, much more valuable, and it is always cleaner. The vegetable garden may be made more attractive by planting a few showy flowers, such as zinnias, portulacas, marigolds, and calliopsis around the edges. Here also should be grown those flowers for cutting purposes, like sweet peas, snapdragons and other plants, the foliage of which is not particularly attractive. The bright flowers will relieve the solid green of the vegetables, and those grown for filling the vases will do better under vegetable garden conditions.

Laying Out Flowers.

Straight rows, which are so essential in making an attractive vegetable garden, must be immediately abandoned when one starts laying our the space which will be devoted to flowers. It is only in the most elaborate and expensive formal gardens which were imported from Holland by the wealthy, years ago, that straight lines are approved. The amateur is warned against them and is urged wherever possible to use curves and plant in clumps. Of course, where space is limited and the straight lines forming the boundaries of a very rigid and very permanent concrete wall, house wall, or garage, it is a very difficult thing to have the back line of the flower-bed made in sweeping curves, but this can be disguised usually by a way from and irregular heights of flowers planted in clumps in front. To get best results, use clumps of one variety and color with the smaller sorts usually along the front, the medium heights toward the centre and taller flowers near the back. Just to prevent any hint of formality, bring a few of the taller clumps a little more forward than the others here and there. Among the smallest sorts, may be listed alyssum, ageratum, lobelia, tagotes and dwarf marigolds. There are hundreds of flowers which fall in the medium class, but if one wants advice along this line he can choose petunias, annual larkspur, calliopsis, asters, zinnias and corn flowers. At the back will be placed cosmos, large type zinnias and marigolds, hollyhocks, castor oil plant, dahlias, sun-flowers and similar plants.

The burglar's wife was in the witness-box, and the prosecuting counsel was conducting a vigorous cross-examination.

"Madam, you are the wife of this man?"

"Yes."

"You knew he was a burglar when you married him?"

"Yes."

"May I ask how you came to marry such an individual?"

"You may," returned the witness, sarcastically. "I was getting old and had to choose between a burglar and a lawyer."

The cross-examination ended at this point.

IS YOUR APPETITE POOR?

PERHAPS by dieting or other means, you have been treating the symptoms, rather than the cause. Loss of appetite, heartburn, sour stomach, are symptoms that the blood is impure. This explains the successful use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in all such cases. Here is a typical example:—

"I began to feel easily tired," writes Miss Margaret White, of Parry Sound, "and when I sat down to a meal I felt I did not want to eat. A doctor told me I was anaemic but I made little progress with his medicine. When I started taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I soon noticed that my appetite was improving, that the headaches came less frequently and that I was not so easily tired. Now my weight has increased, my cheeks are rosy and every ache and pain has vanished."

EMPEY HILL W.M.S.

The W. M. S. and Ladies' Aid held a joint meeting at the home of Mrs. Wilbert Winters, on February 5th, with a good attendance. The meeting, in charge of the President, was opened by singing Hymn 284, and the Rev. Foley offered prayer. After the business part of the meeting a couple of readings were given, one by Miss Mabel Stafford and one by Mrs. John Mowers. An invitation was extended to Selby Auxiliary to come to Empey Hill and take charge of the next meeting, which will be held in the church on the 5th of March. Refreshments will be served. Everybody welcome.

Mrs. O. Ashley had charge of the Ladies' Aid meeting, and after devotional exercises, the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The various ways of raising money for the society was discussed, deciding that each member donate one cent a day for the year to each Society. Collection amounting to $6.61, was taken. Refreshments were served by the hostess, and a social half hour was enjoyed by all.

about somewhat when I brought the dingy to the wind and changed her course, for presently my little mistress awoke. She sat up instantly, and after the briefest acknowledgment of my good morning and the briefest reply to my inquiry as to how she did she stared at the land toward which we were edging in so far as the wind would allow. It was a bleak, inhospitable looking place, that gray, rough wall, in spite of its infrequent crust ing of verdure, I will admit, and she, too, found it so. After she had stared hard at the land she cast an anxious glance to leeward, but, of course, could make nothing of the distant islands there.

"We must get ashore," said I, "as soon as possible. By the time that debauch will have worn off they will either bring the ship here or send the boat after us. Afloat we can do both ing, ashore we may find some cover ment and probably make some de fense."

"It is a bleak looking spot."

Indeed, not a curl of smoke any where betrayed the presence of man kind. Had it not been for depres sions in the walls of the cliff here and there which were filled with vegeta tion, one might have supposed the is land to be nothing but a desolate and arid rock, but this reassured me. I thought it strange that there was no mountain or hill rising from beyond the top of the wall, but I was yet to see how strange the island was.

But as it was full morning now I decided that first of all the creature comforts had to be thought of. I offer ed to relinquish the three ans, prepare something to eat, but Mistress Lucy took that upon herself. What we had was cold, but there was plenty of it, and at my urging she ate heartily. For myself I needed no stimulus but my raging hunger. I wanted her to be in fettle for whatever might hap pen.

We had not much conversation the while, but I do remember that she did say she had rather be here alone with me than on the ship, whereat my heart pounded, but I had sense enough to say nothing. Her loneliness and helplessness appealed to me. I might have been bold under other circum stances, but not now.

Well, we coasted along that barrier reef a good part of the morning until we reached the other end of the island and discovered to our dismay that there was absolutely no opening, no break in it through which we could make our way. When we reached the lower end my lady was for sailing around on the other side, but this I did not dare. We had heard nothing from the ship or her boats, and I didn't propose to answer any pursuit by coming within possible range of her glasses. I did not know where the Rose of De von lay.

"Madam," said I at last, "there is naught for us but to try to go over the reef in some fashion. As I examined the island yesterday through the glasses I couldn't see any opening in the reef on that side, and, although I never saw or heard of a reef like this before, I make up my mind that the reef is continuous and there is no ac cess to the island except over it. And come to think of it, Sir Philip's chart showed no opening either."

"I recall that the reef completely en circles the island in the map," assent ed my lady.

"Then we must even pass over it as we can. I have had some experience in taking a boat through the surf, and although it be a perilous ride I be lieve I can take this one over. I think we shall win through if you will sit perfectly quiet and trust to me."

"I will do whatever you tell me," she said with a most becoming and un usual meekness. "I think—I know—I trust you entirely, Master Herndon."

"Very well," said I quietly, "and may God help us!"

Fortunately the tide was making to ward the shore of the island. I select ed a spot where the large, rolling waves seemed to break more smoothly than elsewhere, which argued a greater depth of water over the barrier, less roughness and fewer possibilities of being wrecked on the jagged points of the coral reef. Donning the sail, I slipping the tiller and oar and put ting the oars with all my strength after an unuttered prayer I shot the boat di rectly toward the spot I had chosen. Just before I reached it I threw the oars inboard, seized one of them, which I wished to use as a steering oar, and stepped aft past my lady, who sat a little forward and well down in the bottom of the boat. I braced myself in the stern sheets and waited. We were racing toward that reef with dizzy speed rising with the uplift of the wave. I had just time for one word.

"If we die," I shouted, "remember that I have been your true servant always."

She nodded her head, her eyes glis tening, and then I lost sight of her. A huge roller overtook us. The little boat rose and rose and rose with a giddy furious motion. Suddenly it began to turn. If it went broadside to the reef and a wave caught it we were lost—for it was already lost, but I had foreseen the danger. I threw out my oar and with every pound of strength in me and body I fought against it. Inch by inch, against the thrust of the sea, it was an unequal combat, a man against the Pacific ocean. I reached it—I be lieved it for long. And yet it seemed hours. The strain was terrific.

The wave we were riding broke just as we reached the top. We sank down into what seemed a valley of water, the breakers roared in our ears, the spray fell over us like rain. We sank lower and lower, there was a sound ever growing along the keel. We had struck the coral evidently. I thought this was all, for another moment and the bottom would have been ripped out of her; but no, We were over in safety.

CANADIAN GARDENING SERVICE

The sun is getting higher, the days longer, and soon the snow will disappear. The seed catalogues have been distributed and it is time to plan for the garden work ahead. A beautiful display of flowers and an abundance of crisp tender vegetables are within the reach of all although in too many cases, and, particularly where there is plenty of room, as in the small town and on the farm, gardening is often neglected. But there is really no mystery about it and, very little work. Moreover most of this work, even the cultivation, will really be a pleasure or, at all events, good healthy exercise. Only a small outlay of cash is required. A few tools, a little fertilizer, a plan and a couple of dollars worth of seeds will supply the table with flowers to please the eye and vegetables to gladden the palate from early June until November. The old-fashioned back-yard of chips, dust, and weeds is replaced with a smooth, velvety lawn, leading up to beds of flowers which in turn screen the less beautiful, but very practical, vegetable garden.

Planning the Garden

A garden plan is essential. It will save time, space, and worry. Now, while the evenings are still long and the ground is frozen under the snow, is the time to make this plan. Where the garden is large, a full year's supply of vegetables can be easily produced and the rows in this case should be wide enough to permit horse cultivation. This will mean that vegetables of ordinary size, such as carrots, beets, lettuce and spinach should be at least thirty inches apart, while the spreading sorts and taller ones, such as cucumbers, tomatoes, potatoes, and corn should have from three to four feet. On the farm, or in the village garden it will not be necessary to worry about conserving of space by inter or double cropping and narrow rows. When the early crops, such as lettuce, spinach, peas, radish, and the host of other delicacies which are ready in from three weeks to a couple of months after planting, are harvested, the best thing to do is to put in a crop of clover or some quick and close growing thing which will keep the weeds down and may be plowed under later on for fertilizer. Wherever possible, garden experts advise running the rows north and south so that the sunshine will be more evenly distributed. Melons, squash, cucumbers and other trailing plants are better grown along a fence or on sloping ground so that the fruits will be dry and mature evenly. Tomatoes should be staked. This staking is often considered too much trouble but it will repay labor and other expense many times over, not only in more northerly latitudes where there is risk of an early frost and tomatoes normally ripen two or three years out of five, but also in the warmest districts of Canada where the staked fruit always ripens first and is, therefore, much more valuable, and it is always cleaner. The vegetable garden may be made more attractive by planting a few showy flowers, such as zinnias, poppies, marigolds, and calliopsis around the edges. Here also should be grown those flowers for cutting purposes, like sweet peas, salpiglossis and other plants, the foliage of which is not particularly attractive. The bright flowers will relieve the solid green of the vegetables, and those grown for filling the vases will do better under vegetable garden conditions.

Laying Out Flowers.

Straight rows, which are so essential in making an attractive vegetable garden, must be immediately abandoned when one starts laying our the space which will be devoted to flowers. It is only in the most elaborate and expensive formal gardens which were imported from Holland by the wealthy, years ago, that straight lines are approved. The amateur is warned against them and is urged wherever possible to use curves and plant in clumps. Of course, where space is limited and the straight lines forming the boundaries of a very rigid and very permanent concrete wall, house wall, or garage, it is a very difficult thing to have the back line of the flower-bed made in sweeping curves, but this can be disguised usually by a wavy front and irregular heights of flowers planted in clumps in front. To get best results, the clumps of one variety and color with the smaller sorts usually along the front, the medium heights toward the centre and taller flowers near the back. Just to prevent any hint of formality, bring a few of the taller clumps a little more forward than the others here and there. Among the smallest sorts, may be listed alyssum, ageratum, lobelia, tagotes and dwarf marigolds. There are hundreds of flowers which fall in the medium class, but if one wants advice along this line he can choose petunias, annual larkspur, calliopsis, asters, zinnias and corn flowers. At the back will be placed cosmos, large type zinnias and marigolds, hollyhocks, castor oil plant, dahlias, sun-flowers and similar plants.

The burglar's wife was in the witness-box, and the prosecuting counsel was conducting a vigorous cross-examination.

"Madam, you are the wife of this man?"

"Yes."

"You knew he was a burglar when you married him?"

"Yes."

"May I ask how you came to marry such an individual?"

"You may," returned the witness, sarcastically. "I was getting old and had to choose between a burglar and a lawyer."

The cross-examination ended at this point.

about somewhat when I brought the dingy to the wharf and changed her course, for presently my little mistress spoke. She sat up instantly, and after the briefest acknowledgment of my good morning and the briefest reply to my inquiry as to how she did she stared at the land toward which we were edging in so far as the wind would allow. It was a bleak, inhospitable looking place, that gray, rough wall, in spite of its infrequent crustings of verdure, I will admit, and she, too, found it so. After she had stared hard at the land she cast an anxious glance to leeward, but, of course, could make nothing of the distant islands there.

"We must get ashore," said I, "as soon as possible. By the time their debauch will have worn off they will either bring the ship here or send the boat after us. About we can do nothing ashore we may find some refreshment and probably make some sense."

"It is a bleak looking spot."

Indeed, not a curl of smoke any where betrayed the presence of man kind. Had it not been for depressions in the walls of the cliff here and there which were filled with vegetation, one might have supposed the island to be nothing but a desolate and arid rock, but this reassured me. I thought it strange that there was no mountain or hill rising from beyond the top of the wall, but I was yet to see how strange the island was.

Well, we coasted along that barrier reef a good part of the morning until we reached the other end of the island and discovered to our dismay that there was absolutely no opening, no break in it through which we could make our way. When we reached the lower end my lady was for sailing around on the other side, but this I did not dare. We had heard nothing from the ship or her hosts, and I didn't propose to expose any pursuit to coming within possible range of her glasses. I did not know where the Rose of Devonshire was.

"Madam," said I at last, "there is naught for us but to try to go over the reef in some fashion. As I examined the island yesterday through the glasses I couldn't see any opening in the reef on that side, and, although I never saw or heard of a case like this before, I make no doubt but what the reef is continuous and there is no access to the island except over it. And come to think of it, Sir Phillip's chart showed no opening either."

"I recall that the reef completely encircles the island in the map," assented my lady.

"Then we must even pass over it as we can. I have had some experience in taking a boat through the surf, and, although it is a prodigious risk, I believe I can take this one over. I think we shall win through if you will sit perfectly quiet and trust to me."

"I will do whatever you tell me," she said with a most becoming and unusual meekness. "I think—I know—I trust you entirely, Master Hampdon."

"Very well," said I quietly, "and may God help us!"

Fortunately the tide was making toward the shore of the island. I selected a spot where the ledge, rolling waves seemed to break more smoothly than elsewhere, which argued a greater depth of water over the barrier, less roughness and fewer possibilities of being wrecked on the jagged points of the coral reef. Loosing the sail, unshipping the tiller and rudder and pulling the oars with all my strength after an unuttered prayer I shot the boat directly toward the spot I had chosen. Just before I reached it I threw the oars inboard, seized one of them, which I wished to use as a steering oar, and stepped aft past my lady, who sat a little forward and well down in the bottom of the boat. I braced myself in the stern sheets and waited. We were racing toward that reef with dizzy speed, rising with the uplift of the wave. I had just time for one word.

"If we die," I shouted, "remember that I have been your true servant at all ways."

She nodded her head, her eyes glistening, and then I lost sight of her. A huge roller overtook us. The little boat rose and rose and rose with a giddy furious motion. Suddenly it began to turn. If it went broadside to the reef and a wave caught it we were undone; if we should be lost, but I had foreseen that danger. I threw out my oar and with every pound of strength in my arm and body I forced it, deeper and deeper, against the thrust of the sea. It was an unequal combat, a man against the Pacific ocean. I couldn't have realized it for long. And yet it seemed hours. The strain was terrific.

The wave we were riding broke just as we reached the top. We shot headlong into what seemed a gulf of water, the breakers roared in our ears, the spray fell over us like rain. We sank lower and lower, there was a sound as of grinding along the keel. We had struck the coral evidently. I thought this was all, for another moment and the bottom would have been ripped out of her; but no, we were over in safety.

As Mr. Duperron says: "After trying many remedies for Constipation, 'Fruit-a-tives' was recommended—and the results were marvellous. All the ill effects of this disease left me, and 'Fruit-a-tives' really made a new man of me." Try this great fruit medicine, 25c. and 50c. a box—at dealers everywhere.

Fill the Egg-o-Crate Fast

Every time a full egg crate goes out, the dollars come in. The faster the crates fill, the faster you make egg-money. The plan that fills egg crates fastest, is to feed your hens a daily dose of

Pratts POULTRY REGULATOR

A teaspoonful a day added to the feed is enough. It costs a month per hen, or a cent a day for three hens. One extra egg a month gives a nice profit. It pays to ask for PRATTS, the real egg maker, and take no other.

Choir Banquet.
On the evening of February 14th, the Ready Helpers Class of Trinity Sunday School tendered their annual banquet to the Choir. Supper was served at 6.30 p.m., to about 125 people, including choir members, music committee, class members and their families. The tables were particularly pleasing with their Valentine decorations, red carnations and red candles. Following the banquet, Mrs. T. M. Asselstine, as President of the class, gave a few well chosen remarks, and introduced the first speaker, Rev. Mr. Pawson, who spoke on the origin of Valentine Day. Mr. U. M. Wilson, chairman of the Music Committee, gave a talk on "Music", and Mr. J. E. Robinson, Superintendent of the Sunday School, spoke on "Loyalty". Mr. Kendall, the Choir leader and organist, led in community singing between the speeches. Mr. LaSalle, President of the Choir, tendered a vote of thanks and appreciation to the Ready Helpers Class, which was responded to by Mrs. Hannah, teacher of the class. Miss Laura Rockwell, the assistant teacher, also spoke on behalf of he class, urging all members to be present at the Sunday services of the future. After singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows", the banquet was brought to a close.

HORSEMEN HELD BANQUET

As a fitting climax to a very successful and enjoyable race meet in the afternoon, the Race Committee were hosts at a banquet held at the Paisley House, on Tuesday night. They had as their guests the several horsemen and adherents of the "Sport of Kings" from the surrounding districts.

Mr. Hugh Fitzpatrick, the proprietor of the Paisley House, as usual, had the banquet hall and dining room beautifully decorated for the occasion. About seventy-five admirers of the speedy steed sat down at 6.30 p.m., to satisfy the inner-man.

Mr. Cyril Waite had prepared a lengthy and appropriate toast list and entertainment for the occasion. Mr. W. H. Roe, the toastmaster, then took charge. Ex-Warden Johnson, S. Miller and Ed. Harrison, Department of Agriculture Representative A. D. Runions, President G. Paul and Secretary-Treasurer F. D. Marsh, gave appropriate addresses.

"Bob" Cunningham, a professional entertainer, assisted by Mr. G. Harmer (accordian) and G. Delyea, supplied the laughs and musical numbers. The National Anthem brought to a close one of the most successful gatherings of horsemen in Napanee.

ST. ANDREW'S SUPPER WITHDRAWN.
The annual St. Patrick's Supper of St. Andrew's Church, planned for March 18th, has been withdrawn on account of the Trinity Supper to be held that same week.

"The Road Back"
The play, "The Road Back", will be presented in the Municipal Hall, Newburgh, on Wednesday, Feb. 27th, 1929, at 8 p.m., under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid. Admission, 35c. and 25c. 8a

Play at Colebrook.
A comedy drama, "The Road Back", will be presented in the United Church at Colebrook, on Friday evening, March 1st, 1929, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid. Don't fail to see it. Admission, adults 35c., children 25c. 8b

Valentine Party.
On the evening of February 11th, the Young People's League of Trinity Church entertained the Leagues of St. Andrew's and Grace Churches to a Valentine party. The evening was spent in games, contests and stunts, after which refreshments were served from a tastefully decorated Valentine table in the spacious dining-room of the church.

"Absent Minded Bridegroom"
On Saturday evening, March 2nd, 1929, the play, "The Absent Minded Bridegroom", will be given in the Community Hall, at Enterprise, under the auspices of the United Church Ladies' Aid. A farce in three acts, in which Tim Shea, on the eve of his marriage with Widow Rooney, gets an acute attack of cold feet, and begs his crony, Pat Rooney, to rescue him from impending matrimony. Come and see how he saves the day for poor Tim. Not a dull moment from first to last. Admission 25c. for adults and children also. 8b

Tractor School.
A Tractor School was held in Napanee on Monday and Tuesday, by the International Harvester Co. Ltd., Eastern Ontario Branch, Ottawa, at the show rooms of their local dealers, Messrs. W. C. Loyst and Fred Carscallen. Mr. G. A. Gummett, of Ottawa, conducted the school, which was largely attended, and instructed the farmers on the care and handling of farm tractors. A moving picture was shown in Wonderland, called "Dominion Builders", which conveyed to the audience the possibilities of the tractor in seeding, cultivating and harvesting our crops, in the quickest possible time. A picture was also shown on the McCormack-Deering Cream Separater, manufactured by the same Company, of which Mr. Oscar Thompson is the local dealer.

Adult Bible Class Entertained.
The Helping Hand Bible Class of Grace Church spent a very delightful evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Sills, Adolphi St., on Wednesday night. One of the many social evenings this class has enjoyed during the past two or three years, none eclipsed the one held on Wednesday night. There was a large attendance of members, fully fifty being present, and a most enjoyable evening was spent in games, contests and music, after which delicious refreshments were served. The host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Sills, were the recipients of a handsome expression of appreciation from the class for their kind hospitality.

Congratulated Friend On 101st Birthday.
Joseph B. Allison is 90 years of age, and the oldest resident in the Village of Adolphustown. His old friend, Thomas Gurren, who lives at Sandhurst, South Fredericksburgh, has just celebrated his 101st birthday, and to mark the occasion, Mr. Allison called him up over the long-distance telephone and offered his congratulations. "The telephone is certainly a great convenience," was the comment of Mr. Allison, whose hearing is as good as many a man of 30 or 40. "It sure is," said Mr. Gurren, who, in spite of his years, has good hearing, and heard every word of the cheery message from his old pal. These two old men, whose ages total within twenty years of three times man's alloted span, have reen many modern miracles besides the telephone come into use.

OBITUARY

Mr. William Whiteman.
A well known and highly respected resident of Tyendinaga Township, in the person of Mr. William Whiteman, passed away on Monday, February 4th, after an illness of some months, aged 76 years and 7 months. Deceased was born at Lonsdale, the son of James and Ann Whiteman, and had lived on the farm where he died for fifty-one years. He was married in 1882 to Mary Jane Piper, of Camden, who predeceased him eight years ago. They had a family of twelve children, all living and all able to be near him in his last illness, and all present at his funeral. His six sons were pall bearers. His only brother, Mr. James Whiteman, of Stratford, was also present.

Mr. Whiteman was a member of Ebenezer United Church, a Conservative in politics, and a life long Orangeman, being an honorary member of L.O.L. 974.

The funeral, which was largely attended by numerous relatives and friends, was held in Ebenezer Church, on Wednesday, Feb. 6th, his Pastor, Rev. Mr. Olliver, officiating. Burial was made in the family plot at Lonsdale.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his twelve children, Jas. H., of Albert; Albert, of Marlbank; Mrs. Alfred Martin, of Albert; Mrs. Mac McCrae and Mrs. Jack McCrae, of Lonsdale; Frank, of Emsdale; Earl and Murrey of Shannonville; Mrs. W. H. Anderson, of Warkworth; Wm., Clarence and Maysel, at home; his brother, James, of Stratford, and sixteen grandchildren.

Mrs. M. Stewart Browne.
There passed away at the residence of her son, Robert G. Browne, Warsaw, N.Y., Mrs. M. Stewart Browne, formerly of Napanee, in her 86th year. She leaves to mourn the loss of a loving mother, two sons and two daughters, Robert G., Warsaw, N.Y.; J. Cline, of Toronto, Ont.; Mrs. C. P. Phelps, Bliss, N.Y., and Mrs. M. S. Raymond, Washington, D.C.

OBITUARY

Miss Ethel Roberts.

On Friday, February 15th, 1929, Miss Ethel Roberts, who resided a short distance north of Napanee, and daughter of the late Alexander Roberts, passed away in Kingston, in her fiftieth year.

Deceased had been in delicate health for some time, but was not considered serious until last fall, when owing to a weak condition of her heart, her relatives began to realize that she might not be spared much longer.

Her mother, Mrs. Esther (Thompson) Roberts, when only thirteen months old, Ethel resided with, and was cared for, by her grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Thompson, also an aunt and uncle, all of whom were very much attached to her. While a young granddaughter in the home, the sorrow and cares of life began to prize quite heavily upon her. One after another passed away from the old homestead to the Great Beyond, leaving her alone with her uncle, Mr. Manchester Thompson, with whom she spent the remainder of her life.

The late Miss Roberts had a very fine disposition. She was so unselfish and self-sacrificing, not only in the home, but also with her neighbours, being ever ready to help anyone in time of need.

Towards the close of life, she became more spiritually inclined, having come to realize that better "Home" which Jesus has prepared for those who love Him.

Besides an aged and sorrowing uncle, Mr. Manchester Thompson, she leaves one sister and two brothers, Mrs. S. Bell, of Port Arthur; Mr. Charles Roberts, of Seattle, Wash., and Mr. Geo. Roberts, residing in California; also several cousins, who deeply regret her passing.

The impressive funeral service, which was largely attended, and conducted by Rev. W. P. Woodger, was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler French, Napanee, intimate friends of the deceased. Mrs. Harold Denison sang by request a favorite solo, "Does Jesus Care?" The remains were laid to rest in Riverside vault to await interment in the spring.

Mrs. Jas. Arnold.

On Sunday, February 17th, 1923, at her late home, on Main St., Deseronto, in her 83rd year, there passed away a very highly respected lady, in the person of Nancy Jane Arnold, daughter of the late Charles and Deborah Pengle.

She gave her heart to God when very young, never tiring of the good work, following in her Master's footsteps. Although her paths were not always strewn with roses, she took all her troubles to God in prayer, and her last words were "Jesus is coming, I am going home".

She leaves to mourn her loss, one son and three daughters, Stewart Mowers, Selby; Mrs. Harold Miller, Kingston; Mrs. Andrew Bowen and Mrs. Wm. Marlin, both of Deseronto, all of whom were present at her death bed.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Harrison and Rev. Mr. Hoare, in the United Church, Deseronto, on Tuesday, Feb. 19th. The remains were placed in the Riverview cemetery vault, and will be interred in Westplain cemetery in the spring.

ODESSA

Last Friday night Mr. Cordick and Miss Jacques, of the Continuation School, treated their pupils to a sleigh driving party, which was made possible through the kindness of Mr. John Lawlor, who used his sleigh and team. They went to Wilton and were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Irvine Miller, who opened her lovely home for the occasion. Social games were indulged in, and the ladies served delicious refreshments. — Last Thursday evening the Home and School Club of the Public School, with Miss Leatherland, Principal, and Miss Anglin, teacher, served a fine oyster supper in their rooms. It was a decided success, and the attendance large. There was also a very interesting programme. The splendid oysters and everything that goes with them and the good concert that followed reflected great credit on the teachers, parents and pupils. Nearly fifty dollars were added to their treasury.—The Ladies' Aid Society met for a social evening last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Lewis Snider, Ferguson Ave. The attendance of members and visitors was unusually large. Contributions were $20. An excellent programme had been prepared, and a very enjoyable time spent throughout the entire evening. The dainty and delicious refreshments served were enjoyed by all.—Mrs. Ralph Benjamin returned last Wednesday from spending almost two months with her sister, Mrs. Arthur Bridden, Minneapolis. —Miss Vyola Jackson, who is attending Kingston Business College, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson.—Mrs. Elwell Emmons, Kingston, has been spending the past week with relatives and friends.—Through the kindness of Mr. J. H. Babcock, the main and side streets have been kept clear of snow. Mr. Babcock made a large snow plough and uses his own horse to do the work.—A baby boy arrived on Feb. 13th. To make his home with Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Pooke. — Mrs. (Rev.) Binstead is ill in the Kingston General Hospital.

How many different powders have you tried for lice on cattle? We sold pounds and pounds of Sabadilla Powder this and last season, and we have yet to learn of a single one who would use any other kind! Sold by the lb. 15c. at Wallace's Drug Store.

ERNESTTOWN

The weather is very cold just now. We are looking for a change soon. — Rev. H. Hamm attended the Institute Convention in Kingston on Saturday last. We are sorry to report that Mrs. Fred Hudson is quite ill at time of writing.—Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Hagerman entertained a number of their friends on Friday evening last.—Mrs. William Chaplin kindly offered her home for the February meeting of the Ladies' Aid. There were eighteen members and five visitors present. The meeting opened by the singing of our newly adopted hymn, "I Want to be a Worker for My Lord", followed by the Institute lesson by Mrs. Wilfred Spring. The roll call and minutes of the last meeting were read by the Secretary, Mrs. Elmore Amey. The meeting was then open for discussion. Several matters were discussed, one in particular being an entertainment to take the form of St. Patrick, in some way, to be held in the United Church some time early in March. Mrs. John Amey, Mrs. Homer Richmond and Mrs. Oscar Amey were invited in to be the judges of the next meeting of the Ladies' Aid. There were eighteen aprons entered. The ladies found it a very difficult task to judge them, as they then came in with the word find Spring's. She was then given a lovely box of linen corresponding cards, the prize donated by the Aid. Mrs. Geo. Spring then made a very hearty vote of thanks to the worthy judges, which was seconded by Mrs. Bert Smith. The travelling bag was then passed, a number of articles being sold. 96 cents was added to the Floral Fund, with the collection amounting to $19.65. The social half hour over, the tea cup was greatly enjoyed by all. Each member present found Mrs. Spring a charming hostess. Mrs. Bert Smith kindly offered her home for the March meeting.—Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Spring called at Mr. M. Hill's, on Friday last. — Miss Edna Glenn spent the week end at her home on Amherst Island.—Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Spring spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Smith.—Mr. and Mrs. Bert Smith took dinner on Sunday at Mr. Wm. Chaplin's. — Mrs. Joel Kellar has returned home after spending the General Hospital, Kingston, much improved.—Mrs. Oscar Amey spent a few days with Mrs. Elmore Amey.—A number of our young men took in the hockey game in Kingston on Monday night last. It was a good game, won by Toronto, 2-1.—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Spring had dinner on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thompson.

(For last week.)

The mild weather of the week end has been appreciated by all.—Mr. and Mrs. Martin Wiseman Sundayed at Mr. Roy Miller's.—Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Thompson and family spent Sunday in Morven.—Mr. Wilfred Irvine was ill attended on Sunday last. —Mr. Stephen Amey spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Sommerville.—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Spring and Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Spring and family had tea on Saturday evening at Mr. Wilson Thompson's. — Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler Smith, of Parrott's Bay, spent the week end at Mr. Joel Kellar's. — Mr. and Mrs. Damon Snider Sundayed at Mr. Ed. Smith's.—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Chaplin and Vera had tea on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Smith.—Our teacher, Miss Glenn, spent the week end at Amherst Island with her parents.—A number of our men folk attended the sale at Mr. Henry Clement's, on Thursday last.— Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hamm had dinner on Sunday with Mr. Thos. Creighton and family.

Ontario Legislature

Sovereignty of Canada over all territory within her borders should not be jeopardized, Premier Ferguson of the Legislature last week in formed again declaring his stand on the deep waterways question and the development of the St. Lawrence River.

"Everyone knows where I stand on the question of deepening and widening the St. Lawrence", stated the Premier. "We should not allow any country to have control of any part of the sovereignty of this country. We have sovereignty over our canal system now. Let us retain it."

The Premier's pronouncement followed the suggestion from Progressive benches that he had not declared his position on the issue.

The Premier pointed out that if the waterways were developed jointly by the United States and Canada, as has been suggested, and the United States given control of part of the canal system, it might result in Canada being deprived of the right to use the canals in the event of war between the United States and any other power.

Work of the Ontario Air Service in forest fire prevention and detection, came in for well merited approval in the Legislature during the week during the debate in reply to the Speech from the Throne. It was pointed out that during the year 1928 the service had made 4,170 flights without the loss of a single life and carried, during their prevention work, a total load of 4,258,584 pounds. Efficiency of the service had been raised at 95.2 per cent on the year's operations.

Suggestion put forward by Hon. James S. Lyons that the Ontario Government should take steps towards the passing of legislation that would provide for the bonusing of steel produced in Ontario from Ontario ore will likely receive the attention of the House before the conclusion of the Session. Mr. Lyons suggests that a bonus be paid on such production on the understanding that the ore be mined in Ontario and developed into the finished product. He pointed out that the bonus would result in increased activity in the industry which, in turn, would result in direct benefit to the farmers through the employment of a greater number of men. This stimulation, he said, would cause greater demand for farm produce. Stressing his contention he pointed out the recently the farm took out one million tons of iron ore. The payroll for this operation was $1,020,000 in wages in addition to $1,000,000 for supplies. Of this amount $700,000 went directly to the farmers of the province for the purchase of food supplies.

Maintenance of the Provincial Highway system costs the Province $1,417,124 per year. Honourable George S. Henry, Minister of Highways, has informed the Legislature. The average cost of maintenance per mile on each type of construction is as follows: cement concrete, $376.11; asphaltic concrete, $745.54; macadam, $403.90; bituminous penetration, $505.39; waterbound macadam, $668.94; tarvia-bound macadam, $415.87; gravel, $683.88. Some 228.5 miles of new pavement were laid during the year.

Honourable William Finlayson, Minister of Lands and Forests, has informed the Legislature that during the past year 219 miles of road had been cut in Northern Ontario in accordance with the Government's development plan for that section of the Province. Slightly over 410 miles of road had been graded during the period and 539 miles gravelled.

Attorney General Price has received first reading to his bill to amend the Evidence Act. The measure provides an opportunity for greater facilities providing bank books and ledgers in court. At present original books and ledgers must be produced. The proposed amendment to the two parties are engaged in civil action proper certified copies may be introduced, although if a bank is one of the parties the originals must be produced.

Standing Committee on Agriculture of the Legislature will undertake an extensive task in the interest of the farmers of the Province during this session of the Legislature. The Committee at its organization meeting decided to make even greater efforts to deal with many of the problems that confront the Ontario farmer. Colonization and immigration; co-operative marketing; chicken stealing; hydro for the farm; dairying; hog grading; tuberculosis eradication; women's institutes; junior farmers, and agricultural education in the schools were the subjects considered for consideration this year. The committee also approved the suggestion of the Premier that the members visit the Guelph Agricultural College in order to see for themselves the work that is being carried out to advance agriculture in the Province.

Sunday work for cheese factories was the basis of more discussion at the annual meeting of the Federated Dairy Associations of Ontario which is being held at the Parliament Buildings. General Secretary Huestis of the Canadian Cheesemakers attended the meeting. On being pressed on the subject as to whether he would ask the Attorney General for permission to prosecute if the cheesemakers took in milk on Sunday, he replied: "I would certainly not ask the Attorney General to give me power to act, if according to the law, it was a case of necessity." Members of the Associations took this to mean that there would be no interference by the Alliance unless it was absolutely necessary.

Premier Ferguson has announced in the Legislature that the Government is considering the establishment of a radio station in the central section of Ontario which will allow of the broadcasting of market reports and farm bulletins to the farmers of Ontario. Complaint has been made in the past by Progressive members that the market reports in the daily press arrive too late in the day to be of much benefit to the farmer in securing the best return on his produce. Negotiations are now being carried on and if they succeed then a definite announcement will be made in this connection within a few weeks.

Making the announcement the Premier stated that the Government was anxious and willing to undertake any thing of a reasonable nature which might assist the agricultural community. This, he stated, only followed the recognition that agriculture was the basic industry of the province.

The Legislative programme having been speeded up consistent with ample time being allowed for the discussion of important subjects, the House now enters on its third week of the present Session. Already one of the Private Committees is functioning and the debate in reply to the Speech from the Throne is in an advanced stage.

ELIMINATION SWIM DERBY LIKELY TO BE HELD AT DESERONTO

Irrespective of which city gets the Wrigley $50,000 marathon swim this year, it is assured that there will be several preliminary swims in various sections of the country. Elwood A. Hughes of the Wrigley Company has stated. These events will not be of the same length as the marathon, but the major prizes will be sufficiently large to defray the expenses of the winners to the "big swim" wherever it may be held.

It is almost certain that one of these preliminaries will be held in Deseronto Bay in connection with the United Empire Loyalists' celebration, held every five years. The last gathering was at Belleville, but this year it is scheduled for Deseronto, and the waters of Deseronto Bay, considered ideal for a distance swim, would be sufficiently warm in June.

Another preliminary is likely to be held at Baltimore, while Norman Rost is at present selecting a location for one which it is proposed to hold close to Chicago. Still another will probably take place farther down the Mississippi River, in the neighborhood of St. Louis. These are not in the nature of elimination events, but will be of value in maintaining interest in the main swim, and will serve to provide the swimmers with competition and provide funds for the winners.

OLD motor car standards are changing—old styles and old abilities giving way to new—and as everyone knows, the creator of the new trend is this new McLaughlin-Buick.

New body lines and contours—radiant new colors—new adjustable front seat, full-width rear seat and countless other refinements in Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher.

New and improved carburetion—new constant-pressure gas pump—increased bore and stroke — greater piston displacement — and other advancements in the famous McLaughlin-Buick sealed chassis and triple-sealed engine.

And a thrilling new order of performance—an entirely new kind and degree of car operation—with elements of virility, getaway, swiftness, smoothness and stamina undreamed-of a few months ago!

The new McLaughlin-Buick leads the new trend . . . in power and getaway—in style, luxury and beauty!

DIAMOND WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

A unique and pleasing event took place at Moscow, Ont., on Saturday, February 16th, when two of our most estimable citizens, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Huffman, celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary.

The weather during the day was most propitious, and the immediate relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Huffman and celebrated in a fitting manner, this important event.

There were present, two sons, Mr. Everett Huffman and family, of Hartington; Mr. Garnet Huffman and family, of Moscow; one daughter, Mrs. E. J. Judge, and Mr. Judge, Reeve of the Township of Camden, with their family; Mr. Neil Milnap, a son-in-law. Six grandchildren were present, including Mr. and Mrs. Lyall Hilsap and Mr. and Mrs. Silas Boyce. Two grandchildren were unable to be present, Dr. Wray Judge, of Parry Sound, and Floyd Judge, a student of Queen's University.

During the evening the neighbours and friends gathered in to convey personally their best wishes.

Many congratulatory messages were received during the day, including a telegram from Victoria Masonic Lodge, No. 299, Centreville, of which Mr. Huffman has been a member for 50 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Huffman were married in the Wesleyan Methodist Parsonage, Napanee, on February 16th, 1869, by Rev. William Scott, and settled on the Huffman homestead at Moscow, where they have resided continuously since that date.

They early in life connected themselves with the then Wesleyan Methodist Church at Moscow, and during the years have loyally supported every department of the Church's enterprise. Mr. Huffman has served for years on the Church Trustee Board, and at the present time is an honoured member of that body.

Mrs. Huffman is a daughter of the late William Hambly, of North Fredericksburgh, and a sister of Mr. George Hambly and Mr. Chas. Hambly, ex-M.P.P., of Napanee.

Mr. Huffman is the youngest son of the late Peter Huffman, one of the earliest settlers of Moscow, and of United Empire Loyalist decent.

UNUSUAL CAREER OF MISSIONARY ENDED IN DEATH

Dr. Rockwell Clancy Dies at Albion Home, on Furlough

An unusual career as a Christian missionary was ended for Dr. W. Rockwell Clancy, prominent Methodist clergyman, when his death occurred at his residence, 1202 Jackson street, at 1.30 Saturday afternoon, at the age of a year, on February 9th.

Dr. Clancy, who was 70 years old, left India, the scene of most of his years of missionary endeavor, in the spring of 1927 to come to Albion to spend what was to have been a year's furlough, one of several he had passed in this city, which for many years was the home of his parents, the late Rev. and Mrs. Jacob Clancy. Ill health made extension of the furlough necessary and a long struggle with illness finally resulted in his passing Saturday.

Few men in his line of work had accomplished as much. He had to his credit no less than 45 years of useful-ness as a missionary of the Methodist Episcopal Church in India and Burma, most of that time having been spent in the former country, where he was one of the best known ministers of the gospel of any faith. At the time of his final departure from India he was a district superintendent of the Methodist Church and treasurer of the Northwest Methodist Mission of India, with headquarters at Muttra.

William Rockwell Clancy was born at Napanee, Ont., in October, 1857. He received the ordinary school training but in the matter of higher education was what is termed self-educated, not having attended college. Albion College, however, honored him by bestowing upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity.

His parents were among the prominent residents of Albion for many years, being especially beloved in local church circles. His father, Rev. Jacob Clancy, was a local preacher of the Methodist faith, in which several of his children and grandchildren became active as missionaries.

He is survived by his widow; six children, Mrs. J. Morris Martin and Kathleen, Louise and Hugh Clancy, the last three being students in Albion College; Rockwell P. Clancy, Detroit realtor, and Mrs. Guy Stoppert, Flint; two brothers, Dr. F. Franklin Clancy and Dr. Marshall G. Clancy, both of Chicago; and four sisters, Mrs. C. F. Friend and Mrs. Laura Foote, of Chicago; Miss Adelaide Clancy, a missionary at Muttra, India, and Mrs. Charles Brockholm, Albion.

The funeral services will be held at the First Methodist Church, 2.30 Monday afternoon, with burial in Riverside cemetery. Dr. Robert E. Brown, pastor of the church, and Dr. F. S. Goodrick, of Albion College, will be in charge.—Albion Evening Recorder, Albion, Michigan, Feb. 11th, 1929.

FAREWELL GATHERING

On Wednesday evening, February 13th, the people of Sillsville community gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Young to spend a social evening with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Charters, and bid them farewell before their departure for their new home at Maple Creek, Alberta. The programme consisted of community singing, followed by a vocal duet by Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Charters were then called forward, and the following address was read by Mrs. D. W. Young:

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Charters and Family.—We, the people of Sillsville community have gathered here for the purpose of bidding you farewell before your departure for the far West.

We know you will like the people in your new home, because the community will like you. The fact that you all ways carry with you that spirit of good will and geniality, and that you are always ready to lend a helping hand to every good cause, will make friends for you in the future, even as it has done in the past. None could come in contact with your family without being the better for that association, and no greater tribute can be paid.

We felt that to allow you to leave our midst without carrying with you some tangible evidence of the esteem in which you are held by all, would have been to neglect a glorious opportunity. We ask you to accept this silver tea service, which may serve to ever remind you of your pleasant associations with the people of this community.

It is the heartfelt wish of all that in the future the same good fortune shall attend you as has been your lot in the past. Wishing you the very best of success, happiness and prosperity and God's blessing in your new home.

—Sillsville Community.

Mr. and Mrs. Charters, though completely taken by surprise, very feelingly and ably replied, thanking the people for their kindness and generosity, not that they needed any reminder of their associations with the people of this district.

Mr. Plant then favored with an instrumental solo. Then followed progressive Lost Heir, after which lunch was served. A last farewell and good wishes to these very popular and esteemed neighbors concluded a very pleasant evening.

CAPITOL THEATRE, KINGSTON

To Inaugurate Perfected Sound and Talking Pictures, Monday, March 4th.

In this age of progress, when everything seems possible, science has advanced by leaps and bounds to such an extent that everyone is wondering what next is going to happen. One of the latest discoveries is the Movitone and Vitaphone, by which the screen becomes human, and such is their appeal that their grip on the entire world is one that becomes firmer as the days go by.

Throughout America and England, and even "way down yonder in Australia", the "Talkies" are the vogue, and Canada has at last fallen prey to its magnetic appeal. No longer does the average theatre-goer crave the silent drama. Audiences now desire a more intimate knowledge of their favourite stars, who, formerly were but mere shadows flitting across the screen. To-day, however, it is possible for one not only to see these same shadows on the screen, but also to hear them sing, dance, talk or play as the occasion demands.

In order therefore, to keep abreast with the times, Manager Ernie Smithles, of the Capitol Theatre, Kingston, announces that, starting Monday, March 4th, the Capitol will inaugurate "Perfected Sound and Talking Pictures", and has selected for the opening picture "The Jazz Singer", featuring the famous blackfaced comedian, Al Jolson. Columns have been written about it—thousands have praised it—thousands more have raved over it—because it is the finest entertainment yet created for the screen—because Jolson is Jolson as in life, you will hear his magic voice singing eight of his latest successes. We will present three complete performances each day, starting the matinee at 2.30, and 7 and 9 in the evening.

SILLSVILLE W.M.S.

The February meeting of Sillsville W. M. S. met at the home of Mrs. Martin Hough, on Wednesday, the 22nd, the President, Mrs. M. B. White, presiding.

The meeting opened by singing Hymn 66, "How Sweet the Name of Jesus", after which all repeated the 23rd Psalm. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Hymn 376, "Oh, Master, Let Me Walk With Thee" after which sentence prayers were offered by each member. Some discussion about whether we should send a pair of blankets or a comforter to the Home Mission. Mrs. Bruce Robertson then gave us a splendid report of the Convention at Trenton, which was both helpful and interesting. Hymn 277, "Stand Up for Jesus, Christian Stand". Moved by Mrs. Harold Hough and seconded by Mrs. G. Phippen, that a hearty vote of thanks be tendered our delegate, Mrs. Robertson, for her report.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction. The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Phippen, Conway.

FARMERS HAVE GOOD REASON TO COMPLAIN

Canadian producers of vegetables and fruit have good reason to complain, as Mr. J. Lockie Wilson has done in his report as secretary of the Ontario Vegetable Growers' association, of the treatment they have received from the King government. The growers have appealed to the Ottawa government for protection against the dumping of surplus supplies of vegetables and fruit grown in the United States in Canada, especially during the season when like Canadians products are seeking markets. To this appeal the King government has turned a deaf ear with the result, in so far as the Ontario Vegetable Growers were concerned, that "when last year's "produce was ready for the market it was met "with train-load after train-load of vegetables "grown by our neighbour across the line."

As Mr. Wilson has said, Ontario vegetable growers are prevented by the high tariff of the United States from selling any considerable amount of their produce in the republic. On the other hand, vegetable growers in the United States, who have built up a great industry, are able to dump their surplus supplies in Canada over this country's comparatively low tariff on such commodities and, according to Mr. Wilson "are driving Canadian vegetable growers out of "business." The Meighen government, during its short term of office in 1926, took cognizance of this situation and conferred on the minister of customs power to fix the valuation for customs duties of fruit and vegetables imported into the dominion. In adopting this mode of procedure, the Meighen government took account of the difficulty of dealing with imports of fruits and vegetables, which are perishable and the prices of which fluctuate from day to day, under the existing anti-dumping clause in the tariff and imposing on such products special duties based on their fair market prices in the country of growth. The action of the Meighen government, Ontario fruit and vegetable growers have asserted, was not followed by a raising of the level of prices of the products above that of previous years and, on the other hand, the regulation benefited their industry tremendously.

The King government owes, perhaps, as Mr. Wilson has suggested, by "kindly consideration "of our neighbours," or, perhaps by the importunities of some of the free trade allies, on its return to office repealed the regulation that the Meighen government had promulgated. It has since declined to accede to the request of Canadian farmers the regulation be made operative again or that a seasonal tariff be imposed on fruit and vegetables. Why the government should take this position is not easy for any good Canadian to understand. The fruit and vegetable growers are not making any unreasonable request. They do not seek to prevent importation of fresh fruits and vegetables at a season when they are not grown in this country. On the other hand, the growers do ask for protection against unfair competition in their own home market at the season when fruits and vegetables are grown here and, most Canadians will admit, they are entitled to such protection.

CHRYSLER Performance

The very name of Chrysler spells a new and finer kind of performance—a sparkling, dashing, vivid road behavior that has eluded the best efforts of a whole industry to 'excel. ¶ No small part of the ever-growing popularity of Chrysler cars is due to that singular and significant leadership in performance. ¶ People recognized in the first Chrysler something entirely new—obsoleting the sluggish, heavy, bulky and cumbersome vehicles of its day. ¶ And they have continued to recognize—that Chrysler engineering has not only brilliantly maintained that lead but has actually widened its margin of superiority. ¶ Add to this superiority of performance, that original style and beauty all Chrysler's own, at prices hundreds of dollars under other cars which are compared with Chrysler. Then you will find it easy to understand the universal demand for Chrysler.

The Island of the Stairs

The last remainder of the wave broke fairly over us and struck me in the back as I stood aft with such force as to bring me to my knees. However, in that position I acted as a sort of breakwater and the dinghy was not completely filled. Although she had shipped quantities of sea, she still floated. The force with which we had been thrown over the crest of the wave drove us landward with tremendous speed. It was terrific. I was stunned for a moment, but the sweetest voice in the world recalled me to my senses.

"It was glorious, magnificent!" cried my mistress exultantly. "Are you hurt? Are we safe?"

Her clothes had been drenched, of course, but she was otherwise unharmed and there was a strange light in her eyes.

"I am not hurt," I answered. "God has preserved me thus far."

"For me," she said softly.

"For your service," I answered gravely, quite understanding that was what she meant.

And now to make the landing. The beach, while it had come to a stand-still, was filled with water, but I couldn't stop to bail it out then, so I stepped carefully forward, shipped the oars and rowed slowly forward across the lagoon.

The Strain Was Terrific.

CHAPTER XI.

How We Landed on the Wondrous Shore.

ALTHOUGH our progress in the water-laden boat was slow, it didn't take us long to reach the shore, which was there nothing more than a strip of sand perhaps a hundred yards across at the widest part. It was as bare of any thing as the palm of my hand. I hauled the boat up on it after we had disembarked and, fastened to the charge its precious cargo. The invaluable powder and shot had been kept in cans and flasks in air tight pockets forward and aft and were undamaged. The rest of her lading had been in the water too short a time to be much hurt. It was all water soaked, of course, but an hour's exposure in the warm sun on the dry sand would make it as good as new. Spreading all out to dry I pulled the plug from the boat, drained the water from her and hauled her up well on to the sand.

A hasty glance assured me that the cliff was of coral formation, jagged and broken with many a crevice and crany. After we had made every thing shipshape I suggested to Mistress Lucy that we start at once exploring. I proposed that we follow the course of the sandy strip and see if there was not some break in the cliffs whereby we could get to the top and learn what was within the wall. And so refreshing ourselves and taking with us some provisions, for we might have to go clear around the island, we presently started out.

I felt very easy in my mind regarding any present peril from the ship, for I knew that no boat she possessed could run the reef as I had done, and even if she had had another like the dinghy I was confident that there was no man aboard her that had the strength and skill, to say nothing of the courage, to bring her through. If there were no natives or wild beasts to be feared we were at least safe for the time being.

"Think you, Master Hampdon," said my little mistress, "this is the island of which my ancestor wrote?"

"I am sure of it," I replied.

"He referred to it, if I remember right, as the 'Island of the Stairs,' did he not?"

"Yes," was my answer. "You remember he indicated a stairway about the middle of the island."

"Surely, if we are to get to the top of yonder wall it must be by stairs of some sort."

"It would not be difficult to climb it," I assented, "for a man, that is, save for one thing."

"And what is that?"

"These pinnacles of rock are as sharp as needles. It would be like climbing broken glass. The climber would be cut to pieces before he had gone half way."

"Then if we find no stairs we are in a bad fix," she said thoughtfully, examining the towering wall.

"There must be stairs," I answered. "There must be a way. The latitude and longitude agree with your ancestor's description and I make no doubt we shall chance upon them."

So we trampled along, searching the shore and sea and finding nothing. After perhaps an hour's monotonous going, when we had traversed about a third of the distance of the island, we rounded a projection of the cliff and there before us rose the stairs!

What we saw was a gigantic stairway, irregular, but made of huge blocks of rough hewn stone, not coral rock, but harder stone of lesser face, like granite almost. I was not familiar with the stone either. There was no symmetry about it, some of the stones rose perhaps three feet and others not more than as many inches, but stairs they certainly were and they surely had been made by man, and the huge had up without mortar, the surfaces so close that I could scarce thrust a knife blade between. The huge blocks were of monstrous size, too, much too great in bulk and weight to be handled by any primitive mechanical means. I thought I never could conceive how artifices of primitive men could have shaped them, moved them and finally laid them up in the form of stairs.

Nor did the stairs alone awaken our amazement and quicken our curiosity. They ended in a circling belt of wall, here a little wider than elsewhere. At the bottom on either side, two gigantic statues or busts of stone had been erected. Their bases were buried in the sand, and they rose to quite twice my height above and I am good six feet and more tall. These stones were carved into the rough yet not unreal likenesses of human faces.

Why we had not discovered these stairs from seaward was because they didn't come squarely down to the water's edge at right angles to the wall, but lay, as it were, parallel to a niche within the wall so that they were somewhat sheltered from observation from the sea.

We broke upon them suddenly, therefore. Mistress Lucy cautioned my arm.

"The giant stairway!" she cried in amazement.

"It is indeed," I said. "Just as it was set forth in the parchment."

"And the great stone faces," she added in a tone in which there was a touch of awe.

"Let us go nearer and ascend the stairs," I said, taking her hand and leading the way, and she was so preoccupied that she did not notice.

I observed as we approached the stairs that the rock had been worn smooth by the wind and weather, or maybe by the passing of many feet and were quite practicable for ascent. The angle at which they rose was steep too.

The ascent was easy enough for me, but hard for her, and several times I made bold to lift her up the higher steps, which she suffered without complaining. She told me long afterward that my manner toward her then and thereafter had been perfect.

When we at last reached the top before us lay a broad pathway ruled paved with the same hard stone. This rond led straight into the interior of the island of which we could see as yet nothing, because the wall here was covered with dense, luxurious vegetation. Progress was difficult even in the pathway. It would have been impossible in some places but for my heavy cutlass with which I cut a path where the place had become overgrown by trees and bushes which had forced their way through the cracks, overturning and breaking the heavy flagstones and blocking up the path, which it was evident had not been traversed for generations, perhaps not since the old buccaneer himself had walked along it beneath the spreading trees.

For perhaps a mile we pursued our journey across the top of the wall, winding in and out among the trees through the jungle, the path evidently not the most level direction, for seeking the most level places.

At last we came to an open spot on the inner edge overlooking the whole island, and before us lay such a picture as few eyes, at least of our race, had ever looked upon. The wall ended abruptly and fell on the inner or landward side as precipitously as it rose seaward side and to seaward. Before us lay a most entrancing valley, perhaps three or four miles across and maybe half as long again in the other direction and which was walled about on every hand. It was sunk beneath the wall crest for perhaps 150 feet or more.

In the center of the valley the land rose a little higher than the island wall in a very considerable hill, thickly crowned on the slopes, but largely bare on the crest. Through the valley ran a brook, which ended in a little lake which I suspected had some subterranean connection with the ocean. As far as we could see—and the whole circuit of the island was now clearly visible to us—the inclosing wall was unbroken. The valley was filled with clusters of trees and alternating stretches of grassy meadow.

We should have been hard put to it to descend the wall to the valley were it not for the fact that the same person who built the stairs that gave us access to the wall from the sea had built a similar flight which led to the valley. Before we entered the descent of the stairs we drank our fill of the beauty and mysterious charm of it all. In truth, there was no sound that came to us except the twittering of the birds of which there were many, brilliantly plumaged, entering in the trees. All else was still, lonely, deserted, oppressively so in fact.

"What think you of this?" My lady broke the silence. "Is it not like the valley of volcano?"

"No," said I; "these are coral rocks, and there is no sign of lava about them, yet it has somewhat of the ap

Presentation and Address.

A surprise party was given Mr. Sidney Parks and family, at the home of his father, Mr. A. Parks, on Thursday, Feb. 21st, in honour of their departure for their new home at Picton. Mr. A. C. Baldwin read the following address, and Mr. C. Nugent and Mr. P. Purrs made the presentation.

To Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Parks and Family.

It was with deep regret that we learned of your intention to move from this community, and that regret has deepened as the time approaches for you to go, and to-night as we meet again in the old homestead where we have spent so many very happy times, there runs through it all a feeling of sadness, for this time we have met to say good-bye to some of our friends. There are times when happy memories of the past make the present and the future seem a bit painful, and one of these is when we have to say farewell to real friends and real neighbours. Yet we are happy in this that while we lose you as neighbours, we still have you as friends, for we assure you that you have won a place in the esteem of the people here that miles cannot erase.

We are very sorry, too, to lose from our community these five bright, healthy, happy boys and girls, who give promise of such fine things in the future. We hope that under the continued influence of a Christian home and church and community, those fine traits of Christian character so manifest now will develope into full grown manhood and womanhood to enrich the community to which you are going. We are sorry to lose you all from our church and Sunday School, and the whole community will feel keenly the sence of your departure. We most certainly hope and pray that in your new home and surroundings you will have the best of success.

We beg of you to accept as a token of esteem and remembrance this library table. It is but a token, not the measure of our esteem. We wish you God speed and all that is well. We know the old homestead will draw you back often. We will be glad to see you always.

Signed on behalf of the Anderson ... [illegible]

PERCY PURRS,
STEWART PERRY,
CLAUDE NUGENT,
ALLEN BALDWIN.

Mr. Parks replied in a few well chosen words on behalf of himself and family.

We take Trusses ranging in prices from $1.75 to $10.00. For most people, we find the $5.00 Truss with adjustable pad about the most satisfactory. If you need a new truss, or are having trouble with the one you now wear, we will gladly assist in selecting and fitting a new one, or adjusting your old one. Wallace's agents for all kinds of Trusses.

ERNESTTOWN WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The Ernesttown Women's Institute held their February meeting at the home of their President, Mrs. Fred Hamm, with a good attendance. It was quite a cold day, and a log fire burning in the drawing room, gave a cheery welcome to the members. The two outstanding answers to the roll call, "What makes a woman easy to live with?" were "Give her plenty of money to spend", and "Let her have her own way". Quite a lot of correspondence was dealt with, among which was a charming letter from an English Women's Institute, and a delightful one from Mrs. Gordon Young. A Sewing Class for girls from ten to eighteen years of age, was brought up for discussion. This would be a splendid thing for our girls. Our program consisted of a recitation, "Curfew Must Not Ring To-night", splendidly given by Mrs. Clarence Thompson. It is a pleasure to listen to her at any time. Mrs. Ralph Sexsmith delighted her hearers with a piano solo. The demonstration, "A Boiled Raisin Cake", given by Mrs. E. Wemp, was most instructive. The cake was indeed delicious. A dainty lunch was served by the hostesses.

The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. Chaplin. Roll call, "Dont's for the Sick Room".

After the "Flu" or grippe you require Cod Liver Oil in one form or another. The Pure Test Clear Norwegian Cod Liver Oil is highly recommended. For those who simply can't take the clear oil we suggest Malt Extract with Cod Liver Oil, such as Keplers (in $1.00 and $1.75 bottles), or the one made by the Ovaltine Company, which comes in a big two-pound jar, at $1.50. Any of these for sale at Wallace's.

Mrs. B. M. Charters and children left on Monday to join Mr. Charters in Streamstown, Alberta, where they will make their future home.

Mrs. Whittington, of Marysville, was in Napanee on Saturday.

Mrs. Walter Cranston is spending a few days in Sydenham with her daughter, Mrs. Victor McGreer.

Dr. C. P. Fitzpatrick, for a number of years Assistant Superintendent of the Provincial Hospital for Mental Diseases at Ponoka, Alberta, was in town on Saturday, Feb. 16th, for a few hours, visiting his uncle, Mr. Jas. McKeown, and renewing acquaintances. He has been on a three months' leave of absence, and has visited different hospitals in Canada and the Eastern States. It is ten years since Charlie was in Napanee, where he spent his boyhood days, and was much impressed with the beauty and improvement of the town. He left in the afternoon for Toronto, where he intended to meet his wife and continue their journey to Alberta.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Daly were host and hostess at a dinner given on Saturday evening in honor of their son and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Aldworth Daly. Mrs. Morris Daly was formerly Miss Dorothy McEachern, of Calgary. The hostess was charming in a black gown of Chantilly lace, and the bride was very lovely in an Amethyst Beauty chiffon over pink georgette, slippers to match her dress with Chanel buckles, Chanel necklace of rose, and sweet peas of the same perfect shade. Dinner was served at small tables, decorated with cut flowers in silver vases, and with each course, the guests of honor progressed. A toast to the bride and groom was proposed by Dr. Morden. During the evening the guests played Bridge until eleven o'clock. A number of dinner-bridges have been given in honor of the popular young couple, who will reside in Napanee.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Jean Doupe, who died March 3rd, 1928.

There is someone who misses you sadly
And finds the time long since you went;
There is someone who thinks of you always,
And tries to be brave and content.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent the voice we loved to hear;
'Tis sad, but true, we wonder why
The best are always the first to die.
Sadly missed by Father, Mother, and Family. 9a

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of John B. Shea, who passed away February 18th, 1924.

The rolling stream of time rolls on,
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile,
Of one who once sat there.
—Missed by Wife. 9ap

IN MEMORIAM.

In fond and loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Jas. B. Weese, who passed away February 29th, 1928.

Her charming ways and smiling face
Are a pleasure to recall;
She had a kindly word for each,
And died beloved by all.
She did not fail to do her best,
Her heart was true and tender,
She worked hard for those she left,
That's something to remember.
She bade no one a last farewell,
She said good-bye to none;
The heavenly gates were opened wide,
A loving voice said "come".
Forget her, no, I never will,
Although she's gone, I love her still;
Her memory is as fresh to-day,
As on the day she passed away.
—Ever remembered by her daughter, Mrs. J. Ross McKeown. 9ap

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of the late David William McFarland, who died February 27th, 1928.

One year has passed since that sad day,
God called "dear dad" we loved away;
One year has been with time and years,
The blow was hard, the shock severe
We little thought his death so near.
Sadly missed by a loving Wife and Family. 9ap

BOARD OF EDUCATION'S CLAIM UPHELD

His Honor Judge George E. Deroche, of Belleville, was in Napanee on Thursday and presided at a special hearing at the Court House to determine the requisition for the maintenance of county pupils attending Napanee Collegiate Institute. The Napanee Board of Education made a requisition on the County Council and as a result, a difference of opinion arose as to the amount, the differences being the sum of $830. W. S. Herrington, K.C., appeared on behalf of the Board, while the County was represented by W. G. Wilson. In passing it may be said that the County Council pays full costs for all county pupils attending the Napanee Collegiate Institute. The Board of Education contend that the term county pupils include pupils attending Continuation School and this view was upheld by the County Council. Judgment was given on Monday in favor of the Napanee Board of Education, allowing them $830.00.

OBITUARY

The death occurred on Friday, Feb. 15th, 1929, of Hattie Brown, widow of Nelson Richmond, who predeceased her some six months ago. Mrs. Richmond died on her fifty-ninth birthday. She leaves to mourn her loss three brothers, Gilbert, of Marlbank; Harry, of Port Colborne, and Jesse, of Watertown, N.Y.; also a niece, Mrs. Walter Scott, with whom she had resided since the death of her husband.

Mrs. Richmond, although of a frail constitution, always kept up her cheerful disposition, and her home was always filled with hospitality for all. She was a wonderful housekeeper, and her kindness as a neighbour and friend will never be forgotten in the vicinities in which she lived.

The funeral was held on Sunday, Feb. 17th, at Christ Church, Tamworth, Rev. Mr. Morgan officiating in the absence of her clergy, Rev. Mr. Gregory. The remains were put in the vault to await interment in the spring beside her husband.

Mrs. Richmond will be very much missed, and we extend sympathy to her near relatives, by whom she was very much beloved, and who kept a watch by her bedside all night awaiting her Saviour's call, which came at seven-thirty in the morning, with a sure and certain hope of a glorious resurrection.

Rev. Shelby Died at Ottawa.

Rev. Samuel Shelby, a retired minister of the former Methodist Church of Canada, died at Ottawa on Monday. He was born at Bath, Ont., in 1851, of United Empire Loyalist family of the Bay of Quinte. He served in a number of Ontario and Montreal Conference pulpits.

DORLAND

Our ideal winter weather continues, and it is a real treat to enjoy such good sleighing.—The men and teams engaged in hauling ballast for the Stover is gaining very nicely. — The County road have a large quantity banked ready to be spread in the spring. A most unfortunate accident happened as the last teams were being loaded on Wednesday evening. Mr. James McDonald went too far under the bank and a portion slid down, a large lump falling on his legs. He was extracted as speedily as possible, but one leg was broken. A short distance above the slide. He was taken to his home and Dr. Galbraith summoned. The Doctor reduced the fracture, but pronounced it of a serious type, and the injured man conveyed to Hotel Dieu, Kingston, in Martin's ambulance.—The Women's Missionary Society will hold their March meeting at the home of Mrs. G. A. Rutan, on Wednesday afternoon, March 6th. A good attendance is hoped for as the programme promises to be interesting.

Management

THROUGH good management the modern woman, just as the chatelaine of old, holds in her hands the keys to plenty: only to-day good measure comes through prudence in money matters.

The woman who says: "I can't afford it—I am saving," will say later on: "I can afford it—I have saved."

The Island of the Stairs

rearance, especially that flattened hillock in the center."

I have since talked with many men and studied the writings of the most learned geologists. They have fancied that perhaps the rocky projection in the middle of the valley, where we saw the great altar of sacrifice with its attendant idols later on, was the original island, which was once surrounded by a coral reef, which was now become a wall, and that some great upheaval had lifted the whole up out of the water in ages gone by and that the barrier reef over which we had passed was the second attempt of the busy little insects to surround the island again.

"What is to be done now?" asked my little mistress.

"I hardly know," I answered. "What is exercising me most now is, first of all, what is going on in that same mutinous ship, and, next, how we shall finally get away from here."

"You are impatient," returned my lady, smiling.

"Impatient for you, madam," I interrupted, checking myself from further self-revealing speech just in time.

"One thing at a time," she continued. "By the favor of God, we have escaped from the murderers and mutineers. We shall not starve upon this island, and I have no doubt that sooner or later you will devise some means of our escape."

It was past noon by this time. I made sure of it by looking at the sun and confirming it by my watch, which I most carefully kept running during all our sojourn on the island, which indicated close on two bells, 1 o'clock. Our talk of the ship recalled me to myself.

"I think," said I, "that we had better postpone the exploration of the island until another day and go back to our landing place. If I know the men on that ship they will guess that we have escaped to this island and they will bring her round to this side, where we may have them under view and they us."

"Think you that they can come at us?" she asked, in sudden alarm.

"I think not," I answered confidently, "but still to make sure I should like to have them under observation."

Well, to make a long story short, we retraced our steps over the broken path until we reached the stairs on the other side. The descent of them was much easier than the ascent, and by 2 of the clock we stepped on the sand again. There before us in the offing was the ship. We saw them quite plainly, and I doubt not they caught sight of us immediately also. They were scarcely a quarter of a mile away from the reef, perilously near, I thought, and we could mark them crowding the rail and staring landward. We could see them brandishing their weapons and we could imagine the yells which must have arisen from the decks when they caught sight of us.

The ruffians aboard the ship did not content themselves with simply staring at us, for presently they assembled on the port quarter—the ship was under all plain sail on the starboard tack at the time, the wind having fallen to a gentle breeze during the day—and clambered into the cutter, swinging at the davits. As she was lowered into the water, fully manned, Mistress Lucy drew closer to my side, seizing my arm with both hands.

"Let us fly! They are coming to take us!"

"But they are on a vain errand," I reassured her.

"But why? How can you know that?" said Master Bampdon, let us hasten away."

"We have a protector," I answered confidently enough.

"God?" asked she.

"His handiwork," I replied as I indicated with a gesture the barrier reef over which the waves were breaking.

"But or, passed it."

"Yes, in a light dinghy, and you remember the difficulty and danger. They will never surmount it in the heavy cutter. They will not attempt it, trust me."

"But if there should be an opening?"

"I don't believe there is one, was my reassuring reply. "I have no fear that they can get at us."

"And we can't get to them," she answered more composedly.

"I have my wish so to do," I laughed.

"You don't understand me," she persisted. "What keeps them out keeps us in."

"Yes," I admitted, "that is true, but for the present I don't mind being kept in so long as they are kept out."

She looked at me quickly and expressed afterward that my words begot some quick suspicion which she admitted was unworthy of her and unwarranted by any act of mine, but I looked so placid that it soon passed from her mind. As a matter of fact, I had not appreciated the significance of my words. I should have been perfectly willing, I should be still, to pass the rest of my life alone on that island or anywhere else with my little mistress only. I was happy then. I had got her to myself, she must look to me for everything. The haughty little queen of the quarterdeck was now the humble dependent by my side.

"Let us fly! They are coming to take us!"

CHAPTER XII.

Inside the Barrier.

We trudged along the sand parallel to the boat, which was following the course of the higher reef, seeking what I knew they would not find—an entrance to the lagoon and thence to the island. The lagoon narrowed in places, until had it not been for the roar of the waves in the reef a hail could easily have carried. I am ashamed to say that I used insulting gestures on occasion, whereat some of them stood up in the boat and shook their fists in our direction. Although I was sure they could not reach us, their presence was a menace and a barrier to us. After they had passed the length of the island they gave it up and went back to the ship, which had followed their course.

By this time the day was far spent. We retraced our steps and came to the place where I had hauled up the dinghy. We were hungry. The provisions we had taken with us we had eaten during the journey. The first faintness was slipped. I had noticed some cocoanut trees and other strange tropical fruits, so I had no fear of starvation. We could live on the island indefinitely, therefore I was not sparing with the provisions. We kindled a fire and made shift to boil some coffee. We had neither milk nor sugar, but the taste of civilization did us good.

For the night I rigged the boat and drew it close against the coral wall, spread the sail and beat down upon the clean, dry sand, gave her one blanket and bade her take her rest. It was snug, dry and comfortable.

"But you?" she asked.

"I shall do very well here with my boat cloak and one of the blankets, and I shall lie across the stern of the boat between it and the cliff, out of sight, but within touch or call if you need me."

"I am afraid," she said softly.

"Nothing can come to you except over my body, and I am a light sleeper. Anything will rouse me," I said reassuringly.

"I would not have you harmed, either," she persisted.

"I shall not be."

"There may be wild beasts."

"I do not think there is an animal on this island," I laughed, "and we have seen no signs of man. The ship certainly would have attracted the attention of some one had not the island been deserted."

"But those men out there?"

"You forget the rampart that God has flung about us. Now, madam, you can rudge sleep in safety. I assure you."

"Before that," she said, dropping down on her knees in the sand and motioning me to follow her example, which I did awkwardly enough—I hope I am not a mocker or disbeliever, but I confess that I didn't often bend the knee—"we will have a prayer together."

She had slipped a little prayer book within her dress, and she now drew it forth from her bosom and by the light of the fire read the Psalm of David, which begins: "Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord. Lord, hear my voice." And then she prayed, using some of the old collects of the church and adding one of her own making in which she besought God to care for us further, while she thanked him for having raised up a defense for her in my poor person, only she did not so describe it. I listened very humbly, saying a heartfelt "Amen" at the end.

There was a silence for a little space when she had finished, and in that silence I devoted myself before God to her service again, and then she rose and gave me her hand.

"You have been a true knight and gentleman," she said softly, her eyes shining, "and I thank you."

I could only take it dumbly and stare at her like the great fool I was, whereat she smiled brightly, although her eyes suddenly filled with tears.

"And now," she added: "God keep you. Good night."

I then kissed her extended hand, which she suffered without resistance, and for a long time before the fire, thinking and making plans for our escape. The ship didn't give me much concern, because I was sure she couldn't come at us and in the end she must go away and leave us.

A long time I sat there until I finally fell asleep. I must have slept some time and soundly for I was wearied. It was she who awakened me. When I opened my eyes and saw her sweet face bending over me and heard her dear voice calling me I declare I almost felt as if I had died and gone to heaven and was being welcomed by an angel.

Our first waking thought was for the ship. She was still there in the offing. She had been here in during the night. I could imagine what fierce debate and wrangling there were aboard her.

The day that passed was much like the afternoon before. Although we were by this time persuaded that the reef was an absolute protection, a vague possibility that they could devise means to pass it in some way kept us uneasy on the sand. We must have them under observation. We were eager to explore the beautiful vale inclosed by the huge rampart, but we did not dare to be where we could not watch the ship. We did walk along the shore and ascend the giant stairs in the afternoon, then, while she watched the sea within calling distance of me, I managed to penetrate the jungle with an ax in hand, so that finally I made shift to cut down a cocoa palm tree, and we gathered as many delicious nuts as we could carry and returned to the shore.

That night the sun set amid lowering clouds. With a sailor's weather sense, I was sure that we should have a storm. Pimbali and Gibbly sensed it too. We could see them making things snug above and aloft. They were good enough seamen, as far as that goes. The wind, if it came, would be off shore, and there would be no danger of the ship being driven upon our reef, but there were islands to leeward, which they seemed to have forgotten. which I remembered.

I explained all this to my little mistress as I made things snug for the night. She would be perfectly protected by the overhang of the cliff and the overturned boat, and I told her, although I left her alone in the boat, that the same overhang of the cliff would protect me from the wind and the rain if the storm broke. And so after prayers again and a long look seaward we went to sleep.

About midnight, so far as I could judge, I was awakened. The storm broke with all the suddenness and intensity of the tropics. Such peals of thunder and such flashes of lightning I have never witnessed, although I had been in many storms throughout the world. To sleep was impossible. Mistress Lucy came out from her boat and stood beside me as we leaned against the cliff while the storm drove harmlessly over our heads.

We could see the ship at intervals by the vivid flashes of lightning. She was making fearful weather of it. She was always a wet ship, and the huge waves fairly rolled over her. Once she went over nearly on her beam ends, and I thought she was gone. I didn't view her position with a great deal of

WHY SHOULD HE suffer from rheumatism like this?

If he would accept the advice of thousands of men and women, he would find relief by using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Rheumatism is not a surface ailment that can be banished by rubbing with liniments or oils. Watery, poison-laden blood must be built up and purified before there can be any progress toward permanent recovery.

Time and again, sufferers have proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the treatment of rheumatism. "For some years," writes Thomas Martin, of Novar, Ontario, "I was so badly troubled with rheumatism I could hardly walk and suffered great pain. I had medical treatment but did not get much relief. After taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for some time the trouble disappeared and has not since shown the least sign of returning."

SINCE 1925, Rogers-Batteryless Radio has provided thoroughly dependable entertainment in Canada's finest homes. Unsolicited letters from scores of these Rogers owners pay tribute to its consistently fine performance — in homes where inferior reception would not be tolerated.

For 1929, Rogers presents this distinguished Period Model Lowboy to match in beauty the furnishings of your home. Newspaper illustration can only suggest the rich beauty of the cabinet work. The famous Rogers-Batteryless Receiver affords the maximum in reception.

Unless you wish to order a custom-built set, there is nothing finer than this new Rogers Model. You can pay more for a new radio, of course, but no radio will give you more.

W. M. S. OF GRETNA AND ANDERSON

The W. M. S. of Gretna and Anderson met at the home of Mrs. Will Joyce, on Thursday, Feb. 14th, owing to the illness of Mrs. Arthur Dean.

The meeting opened by singing "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go", followed by prayer by the President, Mrs. Elmer Aikenbrack. After the business part of the meeting was concluded, Mrs. R. Card presided. It was moved and seconded, that our Secretary send letters of welcome to our new associate members. Mrs. Arthur Dean and Mrs. John Mellow were appointed to prepare the programme for the March meeting. The Scripture lesson, John 15 : 1-14, was read by Mr. A. C. Baldwin. The devotional leaflet "The Partnership", was read by Mrs. Will Joyce. The following readings were given : "Christian Stewardship" Mrs. R. Card; "Temperance", Mrs. Will Joyce; "Mrs. McDonald's Auxiliary Meeting", Mrs. A. C. Baldwin. Rev. J. E. Beckel explained the chapter, "The Blacksmith's Hammer", of our Mission Study Book, "Drums in the Darkness". After singing "There's a Wideness in God's Mercy", Mr. Beckel dismissed the meeting. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Joyce for serving a very dainty lunch and for opening her home.

Stormy Weather Hard on Baby

The stormy blustery weather which Canadians experience during February and March is extremely hard on babies and young children. Conditions make it necessary for the mother to keep them confined to the house, whose rooms may be overheated or badly ventilated. The little ones catch cold and their whole system becomes racked. To guard against this a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the home and an occasional dose given the baby to keep him fit, or if a cold suddenly grips him to restore him to health again and keep him in good condition till the brighter, warmer days come along again.

Baby's Own Tablets are just what the mother needs for her little ones. They are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach; break up colds and simple fevers; banish constipation and indigestion and make the cutting of teeth easy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

How Much Money a Year Makes a Melon?

The average shareholder in the Bell Telephone Company owns 27 shares, has paid full par value or more for every share, and gets $216 a year in dividends.

The man who bought his shares on the market 15 years ago and has since taken advantage of every offering, today is getting less than 7 per cent on the money he has paid.

This man is typical. The holders of 84 per cent of the company's total stock subscribe again to new shares as they are offered.

The telephone company has never split its stock nor exploited the public, though it has grown to one of the largest institutions in Canada.

Ontario Man Swears by Dodd's Kidney Pills

Mr. A. C. Cooper Suffered With Dreadful Kidney Attacks

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 26th, (Special)—"On different occasions I have had dreadful attacks from the Kidneys," writes Mr. A. C. Cooper, 22 Tennis Crescent, Toronto, Ont. "Sometimes the pain was almost unbearable. I remembered the remedy my Father used when Doctors said he could not live. Dodd's Kidney Pills pulled him through. They have pulled me through every time also."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are purely and simply a kidney remedy. They act directly on the kidneys, strengthening them and putting them in condition to do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have restored sound health to thousands of troubled men and women. Give them a trial at once.

The road to good health lies through the kidneys, so keep them in good condition with Dodd's Kidney Pills.

CONWAY WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The regular monthly meeting of Conway Women's Institute was held on Tuesday evening, Feb. 12th, at the home of Mrs. Alex. Sills. Owing to the bad condition of the roads and sickness in the community, the attendance was not as large as usual.

Meeting was opened by the President in the usual order. Secretary read the minutes of January meeting, which were approved. Letters of appreciation to the Institute ladies were read, for fruit and candy sent to the sick, the aged and shut-ins.

On motion it was decided not only to remember our members during illness, but all in the community. A brief time was taken in assisting the Secretary to plan her reports of our yearly Institute activities, which should be sent to the Chairman of the Standing Committees, so that they may be able to report at the annual Convention.

The roll call was answered by "My Favorite Salads". Mrs. Spearing read a most interesting paper on Current Events, and Mrs. A. F. Young, in her excellent paper on "Home Management", gave us many good hints which might easily be practised by all.

Dr. Northmore was to have been with us to give us a talk on "Health", but was unable to be present on account of his many medical duties. This was a disappointment, as his addresses to the Institute members have always been so interesting and instructive.

Mrs. W. Puckett and Mrs. Shetlor judged the candy and awarded the prize to Mrs. J. A. Young. The candy was afterwards sold to the gentlemen and a nice bit added to the treasury.

The Secretary mentioned the many excellent bulletins issued by the Department, which are free for the asking.

The next meeting, which will be held at Mrs. Geo. Philppen's, on March 12th, will be Thrift Day, and each will be expected to come prepared to have an example of thrift, "something from nothing".

Meeting closed with singing the National Anthem. A social half hour, during which lunch was served, brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

WHAT WILL IT DO?

Women are saying: "Pinkham's Compound keeps me fit to do my work." "I was nervous and all run down. Now I eat better and sleep better—". "It helped my thirteen year old daughter." "I took it before and after my baby was born." —"I am gaining every day."

New Stenog — Well, you see, sir, whenever I take dictation from a handsome man, I lose my "e's" and drop my "I's".

A Corrector of Pulmonary Troubles. —Many testimonials could be presented showing the great efficacy of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil in correcting disorders of the respiratory processes, but the best testimonial is experience and the Oil is recommended to all who suffer from these disorders with the certainty that they will find relief. It will allay inflammation in the bronchial tubes.

"Who's that behind us, Fred?" asked the man at the wheel as a car hooted. "Only a flapper in a roadster," Fred answered.

The driver hurled his wheel over, swerved the car off the road, crashed through a fence, and turned turtle.

"Thank heaven we escaped!" he muttered.

It Has Many Qualities. — The man who possesses a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is armed against many ills. It will relieve a cough, break a cold, prevent sore throat; it will reduce the swelling from a sprain, relieve the most persistent sores and will speedily heal cuts and contusions. It is a medicine chest in itself.

Day calls from golden Eastern skies,
"Sluggards, arise! Arise! Arise!
To fetch and carry.
The brooklet through the meadow flows
And cries, "A rose! A rose! A rose!
Would I might tarry."
The lover frantically prays,
"Please, sir, a raise! A raise! A raise!
I want to marry."

Worms in children, if they be not attended to, cause convulsions, and often death. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator will protect the children from these distressing afflictions.

Pretty Maisie Darrell, the well-known actress, told an amusing story a little while ago.

It was about a little boy, Jimmy, the son of a friend of hers.

Jimmy was in the habit of coming to the table with a dirty face, and, of course, had to be sent away.

At length his mother lost patience.

"Jimmy," she said severely, "why do you persist in coming to the table without washing? You know I always send you away."

"Well," said Jimmy meekly, "you forgot once."

Many have been relieved of corns by Holloway's Corn Remover. It has a power of its own that will be found effective.

The Scot was chatting to an Aussie on a visit to the Granite City.

"I'll tell ye what I observved when I was over in Melbourne and ither towns in ye country, wherever I went I found Scotsmen occupying all the high posseetions—heids o' businesses, heids o' departments, managing banks, owning the biggest sheep stations, and filling the chief places in the Government sairvices. I'm tellin' ye, the Scot is maist everywhere in Australia."

"That's so, maybe," replied the Aussie. "But our worst pest is the rabbit."

Painless and perfect in their action, Miller's Worm Powders are always a safe and reliable remedy for children who show symptoms of worms. These symptoms are readily cognizable in a feverish restlessness, frequently ending in convulsions. A point of notable importance is that after Miller's Worm Powders have expelled the worms, the stomach and bowels are toned up into a very healthy condition.

An Irishman and a Scot found themselves seated side by side at a certain Christmas club-dinner and each tried to impress the other with the distance he had travelled.

After much discussion the Irishman admitted that he had sailed the Seven Seas amongst other trifles, and that he had been to the end of the world.

"An' what did ye see there?" asked the Scot.

"Sure, and there was a great big wall reaching to the sky, me bhoy," replied the other.

"Ah, weel," said the Scot, "it's a peety ye didna look owre yon wall, for I was behind it fahin, ye ken."

MARCH ROD AND GUN

Featured in the March issue of Rod and Gun and Canadian Silver Fox News are several splendid stories and articles dealing with all kinds of outdoor life in Canada. Among these are yarns of the ever popular sports of angling and hunting dogs and big game written by men of long experience. The current article in the pages of this national sporting magazine by Robert James, "That Nelson River Trail" gives a wonderfully descriptive picture of the trials of a party of amateur trail breakers on a trip by dog team in the far north.

The regular departments on guns and ammunition, trapping, angling, dogs and the silver fox industry are full of authoritative material. J. W. Winson, popular writer on natural history, this month commences a new series of articles on the smaller mammals.

Rod and Gun and Canadian Silver Fox News is published monthly by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont.

Meeting, re Hydro.

A meeting of the Agriculturists from the Deseronto Road (Highway No. 2), was held Monday evening, at the Oliver School House, to hear the report of the deputation who interviewed the Minister, the Honourable Mr. J. R. Cook, re Hydro, Mr. Chas. Hamby, ex-M.P.P., Lennox and Addington, explained the feelings of the Government and their desire to assist the farmer in the matter. Mr. Hamby was appointed to go further into the question, and if possible make the necessary arrangements to have the Honourable Mr. Cook come to the Napanee and explain the Ontario Hydro programme to them in this vicinity.

Bible Classes' Social Evening.

Over seventy members, representing the Ladies' Senior Bible Class and the Men's Senior Bible Class of Trinity Church Sunday School, gathered in the Dining Hall of the Church on Tuesday evening, it being the occasion of the annual social evening of these two important classes of the Sunday School. A delightful two hours were spent in games and contests, the program being in charge of Mr. Chas. Garrison. At the conclusion of the program delicious refreshments were served by the ladies. Brief addresses were given by the Pastor, Rev. Harry Pawson; the Superintendent of Trinity Sunday School, Mr. J. E. Robinson; Mr. D. B. Wilson, Mr. Trenouth and Mr. Henry Creighton. It was agreed by all to have been one of the best social evenings of the many which have been held by these classes.

COLLEGIATE NEWS.

Basketball.

Belleville vs Napanee.—A definite ruling has been obtained on the goal claimed by Belleville Collegiate here a week ago Friday. At the conclusion of the game, on a toss-up, the Belleville player tapped the ball into the basket. The American interpreter of the rules, as well as the head referee of the Intercollegiate series, has ruled that the goal did not count. This gives the game to Napanee by a close score of 24-23. This game was perhaps the most exciting contest witnessed here for some time, and the local boys played a splendid game.

Trenton vs Napanee.—At Trenton on Friday evening, the Napanee boys were defeated on the Trenton gymnasium floor by a score of 22-19. The game was in doubt from start to finish, and proved an exciting one to the spectators. While the Napanee boys shot more frequently than the home team, they had more difficulty finding the baskets in the strange gymnasium. After the game, the Trenton boys entertained their visitors to luncheon, followed by a dance. The Napanee line-up was as follows:—Forwards, Merritt and Robinson; Centre, Howitt; Guards, Webster, Kinkley, and Asselstine.

Oratorical Contest and Concert.

The Public Speaking Club, the Glee Club, and the Orchestra will combine in presenting a program of oratory, music and singing, in the Town Hall, on Friday evening, March 8th. In oratory, the finalists of the school eliminations will compete for the Wallace Gold Medal, and the Taylor Challenge Cup, emblematic of the school championship. The present holder of the cup is Munro Beattie, who was also the district winner at Kingston last week. A silver medal presented by Mr. J. H. Moffat, will be presented to the runner-up in the contest, and a bronze medal will be given for third place. The Glee Club will present an operetta, entitled "The Pennant", a college story full of tuneful music with a humorous plot. Most of the seats in the hall will be reserved, and will be on sale before the end of the week. Further announcement will be made next week, but in the meantime, the pupils are asking the parents and friends to reserve Friday, March 8th, for this concert, which will be the best the pupils can put on in oratory and music.

Purchases Purebred Percheron.

Continued activity and rising prices in the draft horse market this year indicate that farmer interest in the horse remains great. Purchases of the big horses in this section include the recent importation of a Percheron stallion secured by John Herrington, of Napanee, from an Illinois breeder. The stallion is a purebred Percheron, the breed to which two-thirds of the registered draft horses of the United States belong. This horse is registered with the Percheron Society of America as Commander 198341. Secretary Ellis McFarland reports that the Percheron organization in the United States received more than 2,000 inquiries last year from persons who want to secure stallions and mares.

WILTON W. M. S.

The regular monthly meeting of the Wilton Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. J. E. Miller, on Wednesday, February 20th. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. W. Amey, Superintendent of Christian Stewardship.

With an attendance of approximately thirty ladies, the meeting was opened by singing the hymn "Take Time to be Holy". The Lord's Prayer was then repeated in unison. The Scripture passage was read by Miss Nellie McPherson. The business part of the meeting was in charge of our President, Mrs. A. W. Babcock. After reports from our various secretaries and our treasurer's report had been received, arrangements were made for the following Wednesday, February 27th. At this particular time our ladies are invited to visit the Odessa Auxiliary and to put on the afternoon's programme. The meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. W. Lake.

All enjoyed the splendid report of the Presbyterial held at Trenton, which was given by our delegates, Mrs. Earl Perry and Mrs. Stinson Carr; and also the musical selection given by Miss Eleanor Kimberley. The ladies then responded to the roll call with a verse of their most familiar hymn. Miss Gladys Wallace moved a vote of thanks to our delegates for their splendid reports, and also to Mrs. Amey. Mrs. R. Asselstine seconded the motion, and then at the suggestion of our President, all stood and sang one verse of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds". The meeting was closed by repeating the Mizpah benediction. We all felt very grateful to Mrs. Amey for the afternoon's programme, it being firmly based on her work in the Christian Stewardship department.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess, and all enjoyed the social half hour which followed.

Our next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. B. Mills, on March 20th.

STRATHCONA

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Asselstine, of Moecow, visited at Jas. Wilson's, on Sunday.—Mrs. Harold Hoare spent the week end at Moecow.—The stork has been very busy during this month. It has left a baby girl with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Patterson, and a baby boy with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Scott. Bob McCarvey is all smiles, too; it's a girl.—Mr. Cecil Roach returned last week from the Kingston General Hospital, where he was operated on for appendicitis. His many friends are glad to hear of his recovery. Mr. Ernest Rendell is a patient in the General Hospital, with blood poisoning in his hand. This brings the total number of patients who have gone to the hospital from Strathcona this year to ten. All are so far recovering nicely.—Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McGuire are visiting friends in Watertown, N.Y. and Flint, Mich.—Mrs. B. Finlay spent the past week with her mother, Mrs. W. J. Patterson, who has been ill.—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Pybus, of Trenton, were recent visitors at Mr. Arch Pybus'.—The March meeting of the Mission Circle will be held on Friday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Finlay.—Church service next Sunday will be at 10 o'clock; Sunday School immediately after.

TO MY FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS IN NAPANEE AND DISTRICT

This letter will inform you that I have taken over "MacGregor's"—the business in Napanee which bears my name and which, for the past two years, has been conducted by Mr. McFadden.

For fourteen years I owned and managed this business. In that time I won the confidence of the buying public, and acquired a reputation for fair prices and honest value, which I am going to maintain.

I have made arrangements to do my buying through one of the largest buying organizations in Canada. This advantage will be passed on to my customers, so that I will be able to give you better service and greater value than ever before. I intend carrying a first-class stock of Ladies' and Children's Wear, besides a wide range of general Dry Goods.

I will be in Toronto most of this week making heavy purchases for the Spring trade. I will have important goods news for you on my return.

Sincerely yours,

A. MacGREGOR.

OBITUARY

Mr. Joseph Woodcock.

The death occurred on Friday, Jan. 25th, 1929, of a well known and much respected resident of Bordenwood, Ont., in the person of Mr. Joseph Woodcock, who was born in 1861, and was a lifelong resident of this place. He is survived by one brother, Mr. D. W. Woodcock, of Mt. Hope, Ont., and one sister, Mrs. Sarah Jane Parks, of Bordenwood, Ont. His wife predeceased him twelve years ago. The late Mr. Woodcock was a man of fine personality and cheerful disposition. He made a host of friends throughout his life, which was marked by his kindness and friendliness at all times. He leaves to mourn his loss one son, Marshall Garfield, of Vancouver, B.C.; two daughters, Mrs. Evelyn Pretty, of Bordenwood, Ont., and Mrs. Leonard Fitchett, of Napanee, Ont. The funeral service will be conducted by the Rev. R. W. Paton in May, and interment at Bordenwood cemetery.

CANADIAN GARDENING SERVICE

Keep Plants Covered

This is the hardest season of the year on perennial plants. Just now when the sun is mounting higher and becoming warmer climbers and shrubbery on the south side of the house particularly are liable to start bringing sap up from the roots. After sundown there is an abrupt drop in temperature, and this sap may freeze and burst the tiny cells inside the stems. This damage is not noticed until later on when but weakly sprouts are sent out or perhaps none at all. On the shady side of the house there is less danger, but it is well in every case to make sure that roses, ivy, and shrubbery are well covered around the roots. The perennial border too may need some attention in this connection. Straw, old flower stocks, leaves, and snow make the best cover.

Suitable Vegetables.

While varieties of vegetables are very important, in these days of carefully prepared seed catalogues which only list the best and most suitable for growing under Canadian conditions, culture is even more important. It must be remembered that few but the most suitable varieties of garden vegetables have survived, and if one is careful to make his choice from a Canadian catalogue which only lists Government approved varieties, half the battle is won. The other half will also be won if the land is well prepared, cultivated thoroughly during the growing season and a quickly available fertilizer, such as nitrate of soda, applied in side dressings to hasten maturity. This is the secret of tender vegetables as the more quickly they are grown, the higher quality they will be. The following list of varieties is recommended:—Asparagus, Washington, satisfactory from the standpoint of disease resistance and a good cropper; Beans, Pencil Pod Wax, Round Pod Kidney Wax, Stringless Green Pod, with Kentucky Wonder Wax and Kentucky Green Pod as pole sorts; Beets, Flat Egyptian Early and Detroit Dark Red later. Cabbage, Golden Acre, Enkhuizen Willhead for an earlier storage. Cauliflower, Early Snowball and Early Dwarf Erfurt. Carrots, Chantenay and Danvers. Corn, of the early varieties Cory, Golden Bantam, Early Malsolm, and Crosby are recommended with Howell's Evergreen for later use. Cucumbers, Improved White Spine and Davis Perfect. Celery, Golden Plume is the Wonderful, White Plume which is good for Winter keeping. Lettuce, Grand Rapids is one of the most popular leaf varieties, with New York and Hanson where a head sort is wanted. Muskmelons, Montreal Market. Rockford, and Hackensack are all good varieties, as well as Hearts of Gold, Miller's Cream or Osage, Bender Surprise and Emerald Gem. Onion, Yellow Globe Danvers, Red Wethersfield, Prize Taker Yellow Globe and Red Globe. Peas, Thomas Laxton, Sutton Bush, Little Marvel, Laxton Progress and, of course, American Wonder. Parsnip, Hollow Crown. Radish, Scarlet Turnip White Tip, French Breakfast, and Scarlet Globe. Spinach, Bloomsdale and New Zealand. Swiss Chard, this vegetable is used as a spinach while the fleshy stem may be cooked as asparagus. It is available in white or red stem. Tomatoes, Canadian as first early, followed by Chalk's Early Jewel, Livingstone's Globe, Bonny Best and Baer. Bonny Best is one of the best fercing sorts.

Plant Sweet Peas Early.

Sweet peas should be planted just as soon as one can work up the ground. These will come along in first class shape no matter what the weather following planting is like. It is best to dig a trench about a foot or so deep. Place a layer of rich soil or rotted leaves or manure in the bottom, covering it with about six inches of fine soil. In this plant the sweet peas about three inches deep and an inch apart. The rains will gradually fill in the trench, and the plants will develop a very deep root growth as a result, which will protect them against possible droughts. Get the very best seed possible, and try some special shades. After the peas have come up an inch or so, thin out to four inches apart, and supply brush work, strings or poultry netting at least thirty inches high for the vines to climb on. Wire netting is the least desirable for this purpose, as it is liable to injure the growing plants.

Watch the Lawn.

A careful attention of the lawn is advisable as soon as the frost comes out of the ground. The past winter has been responsible for much browning grass and clover, some of the coldest weather occurring where there was little cover on the lawn. This browning has been a good deal of freezing and thawing, which alternately contracting and releasing the top layer of the soil breaks off many fine spots and thus kills the grass and clover. To correct this condition, it is advisable to go over the lawn in early spring with a heavy roller or pounder. Bare and thin spots should get some seed sown on them. Follow this over a late snowfall is a good plan, especially when the snow is melting and packing down on the lawn. The seed will work down into the soil and germinate in a few days.

Floor Wax at Wallace's.

We have Floor Wax in all prices, from 25c. a lb. up to 75c., but our special wax at 50c., is we believe equal to the most expensive, and undoubtedly superior to any cheap brand. We sell with the positive guarantee of satisfaction or money refunded. Wallace's agents for Floglaze, Enamel and Paint.

TOWN COUNCIL

Council Chamber, March 4th, 1929.

Council met in regular session, with Mayor Howitt presiding, and Councillors Ungar, Daly, Loucks, Wiseman, Fitzpatrick, Paul and Reeve Tustin present.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

Communications.

A communication was read in regard to the accident of Mrs. Rosa Vanalstine. Moved by Coun. Ungar, seconded by Coun. Wiseman, that it be filed. Carried.

A communication from J. M. Simpson in regard to the accident of Mrs. W. H. Smith, of Centreville, who fell and fractured both her wrists. Moved by Coun. Wiseman, and seconded by Coun. Loucks, that it be filed. Carried.

An application was received from Wm. Morris, for the position as caretaker of Harvey Warner Park. Moved by Coun. Fitzpatrick, seconded by Coun. Ungar, that it be left in the hands of Parks Committee. Carried.

An application was received for the position of caretaker of Town Hall. Moved by Coun. Wiseman, seconded by Coun. Ungar, that it be laid on the table. Carried.

Auditors' Report was received and referred to Finance Committee to report.

Councillor Paul entered and took his seat.

A letter from the Committee in charge of the U. E. L. celebration to be held in Deseronto in the near future, asking the co-operation of the Council and Town. Moved by Reeve Tustin, seconded by Coun. Daly, that the communication be received, and the Council do all in their power to assist. Carried.

Coun. Daly read a short report on the Finance Committee. This was moved by Coun. Daly, and seconded by Coun. Ungar, that this report be adopted.

Coun. Ungar reported in regard to Streets, and said the workmen are busy keeping the drains and sewers open. One or two sewers have given a little trouble but are being repaired. Moved by Coun. Ungar, that this report be adopted. Seconded by Coun. Loucks. Carried.

Coun. Loucks reported that a hydrant on Dundas St. was in bad shape, and that a new base was ordered for it. Moved by Coun. Loucks, seconded by Coun. Daly, that this report be adopted. Carried.

Council adjourned for fifteen minutes to allow Town Property and Fire and Water Committees to hold a conference.

Councillors re-entered and took their seats.

Mr. J. M. Simpson appeared on behalf of the V.O.N., asking for permission to hold their annual Tag Day the second day of the Fall Fair. Moved that this request be granted, by Coun. Wiseman, seconded by Reeve Tustin. Carried.

Moved by Coun. Loucks, seconded by Coun. Daly, that the contract with Mr. D. Chambers, drawn up last session, be re-considered and rescinded. Carried.

Councillor Wiseman recommended that Mr. Chambers be given the position of Fire Truck driver and caretaker of the Town Hall. Moved by Coun. Wiseman that this report be adopted, seconded by Coun. Daly. Carried.

Reeve Tustin brought forward a resolution in regard to the By-law of carters, that this by-law be rescinded, and a new one drawn up next session. Moved by Reeve Tustin, seconded by Coun. Paul, that this be adopted. Carried.

Reeve Tustin spoke on the enjoyable evening spent in the company of the "B" Co. Regiment. He also spoke on the Good Roads Convention he attended last week. Moved by Reeve Tustin, seconded by Councillor Fitzpatrick, that this report be adopted. Carried.

Coun. Fitzpatrick reported that the wires were going on Front St., and the lights would follow as soon as they arrived. Moved by Coun. Fitzpatrick, that this report be adopted, seconded by Coun. Loucks. Carried.

Reeve Tustin suggested that the Town hold an Old Boys' Re-union in 1930, and a Committee was formed to investigate the matter, and report.

CROYDON BOY KILLED

A shocking tragedy occurred near Croydon, which is about fourteen miles north of Napanee, on Saturday afternoon last as a result of which Master Claude Doupe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Doupe, was instantly killed.

The three brothers, consisting of Claude, aged 14; Arthur, aged 11, and Robert, aged 8, were playing in the shed at the rear of the house. Inside the shed were four gasoline drums which were empty and had not contained any gasoline since last fall.

The eldest boy, Claude, was sitting on one of the drums and asked his brother, Robert, for a match which the latter went in the house and procured. The unfortunate lad then lit the match and put it in one of the valves. A terrific explosion took place which completely severed the top of the drum and blew the lad with a terrible impact against the ceiling, he being instantly killed.

The explosion was so terrific that the side walls of the shed were completely demolished and several windows in the house were shattered.

On hearing of the tragedy Chief P. W. Barrett and Dr. M. Stratton hurriedly proceeded to Croydon and after hearing the particulars decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

TRIED TO SUICIDE IN THE NAPANEE JAIL

An attempted suicide in Napanee jail was frustrated on Friday night last, when Lucien Boisvert, a French-Canadian, who gave his address as Montreal, was caught attempting to crush his skull with a hammer. As it is believed that he is of unsound wind he is being removed to the Ontario Hospital for the Insane at Kingston, where he will be examined.

The man came to the office of Chief of Police Barrett on Friday, and said that he was wanted in Montreal for a criminal charge. He was immediately taken into custody and lodged in the local jail until the authorities at Montreal could be communicated with.

After the man had been discovered trying to do away with himself a special guard was placed over him. He is reported by police officials as mentally unbalanced.

BETHEL

We certainly had lovely weather during the whole month of February, with enough snow for sleighing, but not too much, as the autos have never had to lay up on account of conditions of the roads, except for a day at a time. March was ushered in with a bright sprightlike day, and it is to be hoped it will continue so.—The many friends of Mrs. Wilmot Shangraw are pleased to hear that her recent operation in the Kingston General Hospital was successful, and we hope for a speedy recovery.—Mrs. Edith Aikenbrack left last week to spend an unlimited time, nursing at Glenhow.—Mr. and Mrs. Arley Clark and family spent Wednesday of last week with their mother, Mrs. Eunice Babcock, Harrowsmith.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bell, of Desmond, accompanied by Mrs. John S. A number of friends and acquaintances attended the funeral of the late Chester Brown, in Napanee, on Saturday last.

On Wednesday evening last a good sized audience greeted the players from Camden East, when they put on "The Road Back", under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the United Church. The players were very apt in impersonating the cast of characters which they represented. This play was greatly enjoyed by all. It is a genuinely good play, splendidly executed, and points a moral lesson seasoned with humor.

The sum of twenty-six dollars was sent by the United Church to help the Globe Miners' Relief Fund. We congratulate Gwen Fluke and Ethel Vanderwater on their letters and returns of the "Just Kids Safety" Club column. Gwen's picture and her cat appeared in a recent issue of the Globe. This branch at Newburgh is sponsored by Mr. J. W. Courtney.

Mrs. and Mrs. Datus Denison spent Sunday in Selby.

The Courses in Household Science and Agriculture closed last Friday night, with a social evening. At this meeting the prizes were awarded and presentations made to Miss Sherrard and Miss McMillan. A very large class took advantage of the lectures and demonstrations made by Miss Sherrard, which were of excellent character, but it is to be regretted that more young men did not take advantage of the splendid course in Agriculture.

The March meeting of the W. M. S. of the United Church will be held at the home of Mrs. T. A. Dunwoody.

The Young People's League of the United Church is preparing for their annual banquet. This year the plan is to have a "Mother and Daughter" and "Father and Son" banquet early in April.

Ontario Legislature

On a division of 65 to 29 the Ontario Legislature, during the week, accepted the Speech from the Throne after a debate that lasted nearly three weeks. Liberal and Progressive amendments to the motion of acceptance were defeated by the same division.

During the course of the debate, contributions being made from all sides of the House, every phase of government activity was subjected to review. Efforts of the government to stimulate agriculture and the development of new markets receiving praise from opposition members of the House.

During the course of the debate Opposition members confined their remarks chiefly to agricultural problems and from time to time assured the Minister of their willingness to co-operate with the Government in its plans to better the condition of the Ontario farmer.

Following the division on the speech from the Throne Premier Ferguson announced to the House that the budget would be brought down for consideration on Tuesday. It is expected that the debate in this connection will be of about two-weeks' duration. There is every indication that the House, despite the fact that several important bills have yet to be brought down, will adjourn before Easter.

Co-operating with the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific Railways, the Ontario Department of Agriculture has arranged for a special seed cleaning demonstration train to tour the province. The train, which will be equipped with the latest seed cleaning equipment, will travel through cleaning equipment, will travel throughout Ontario in an effort to spread the knowledge of this important part of agriculture.

Members of the Legislature during the week paid a visit of inspection to the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph. The members motored from Toronto, the Legislature having been adjourned for the day to facilitate the visit. A visit was also paid to the Ontario Reformatory at Guelph and the work of both institutions detailed to the members by Hon. John S. Martin, Minister of Agriculture, and Hon. Lincoln Goldie, Provincial Secretary.

Standing Committee on Agriculture of the Legislature is advocating to the government that financial assistance be given to graduates of the Ontario Agricultural College to assist them in establishing themselves on the farms of the province. Passing a unanimous resolution on this point the committee also urged that the Department of Agriculture draft such legislation as was necessary to bring about consummation of the suggestion. The Resolution had its birth in the announcement of President Christie of the College that in many cases graduates were unable to establish themselves on farms owing to the fact that they usually owed money to their sponsors at the end of the tuition at the college.

"They go into some other line of work to earn this money and, as a result, are often lost to the farm," stated Dr. Christie. "It takes a considerable sum of money for a young man to equip himself for farming and I think the government should render some financial assistance."

The resolution will receive the attention of the Department of Education and efforts will be made to meet the situation.

Hon. George S. Henry, Minister of Highways, informed the Legislature that during the fiscal year of 1928 the sum of $23,630.88 was paid to townships by the government for the cutting of weeds under The Highway Improvement Act. Counties were paid to the extent of $24,854.68 while the cost of such work on provincial highways amounted to $111,772.36. No grants were withheld from any municipality by the Government.

Reviewing the work of his department in speaking in the debate in reply to the Speech from the Throne, Hon. J. S. Martin, Minister of Agriculture, made an announcement of particular importance to the fruit growers of Ontario.

Pointing out that in the past money had been lost, or the margin of profit very small, on shipments of fruit from Ontario to England, Mr. Martin stated that the government had decided to place a qualified man in London to handle all such shipments in the future. This official will be vested with full authority to re-direct such shipments to points where the market is most advantageous. Lack of such control in the past had resulted in fruit being placed on the market when there was little or no demand for the product. The Minister announced that the government was looking for a qualified man to handle such work in the interests of the farmers pointing out that it would greatly stimulate the sale of Ontario fruit and provide additional markets for the Ontario farmer.

Appointment of an expert to undertake the grading and classification of Ontario grown potatoes was also under consideration the Minister informed the House. Part of his duty will be that of finding additional markets for the Ontario potato crop.

Success of the Ontario Government's turkey farm experiment was announced to the Legislature during the course of the week by the Minister of Agriculture. Pointing out that the turkey to-day was worth as much as a sheep, Mr. Martin stated that the government farm had raised 998 birds which had sold for $4,803. Three acres of tobacco had also been grown on the farm which had sold for $1,000. The purchase price of the farm had been $5,000, and the government was now being offered twice the amount that they had paid for it.

Revenue produced from agriculture last year in Ontario is estimated at $500,000,000 by the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Of this amount $106,000,000 had its origin in the dairying industry.

"B" COMPANY FRONTENAC REGIMENT HOLDS ITS ANNUAL BANQUET

The annual banquet, under the auspices of the officers and members of "B" Co., Frontenac Regiment, was held in the Armories on Tuesday night last, and was one of the most successful of the many which have been held by this historic company.

Covers were laid for nearly one hundred and twenty-five guests and practically every seat was taken when the banquet started shortly after ten o'clock.

Among the invited guests were: the Mayor, members of the Town Council, Town Officials, Clergy, Napanee Citizens' Band and the Press.

The tables were appropriately arranged and decorated with colored candles and artificial flowers. The menu was all that could be desired, and to which all did full justice.

After the inner man had been thoroughly satisfied, the chairman, Major H. LeRoy Babcock, requested the assemblage to observe a two-minute silence in memory of the gallant heroes who paid the supreme sacrifice in the Great War.

Major Babcock then bespoke a hearty welcome to every one present, and called upon Mr. Evans Robeson to propose the toast to Canada, which was responded to by Rev. A. J. Wilson, of St. Andrew's Church.

Mr. Wilson in a very eloquent five-minute address, said that every one has a love for the country in which he or she was born. The speaker eulogized the Dominion of Canada, which was not only great in territory and foreign trade, but in its responsibilities, which, he said, were more important.

Canada has taken a prominent place in the League of Nations, having a seat both in the Senate and in the Council. To-day, many parts of the world are over-populated, while in Canada there are great areas of untilled land. Prosperity is abundant in Canada and no country in the world has enjoyed greater privileges than our Dominion.

Community singing was then taken up with Mr. A. R. Kendall at the piano, this being followed by a humorous sketch by Mr. Grant Paul and his assistant. The toast to the Frontenac Regiment was then proposed by Mr. C. Mills, which was to have been responded to by Col. Hanna, of Belleville, who, to the regret of every one, was unable to be present. However, the toast was very ably responded to by Major Babcock, who in his opening remarks, spoke of the traditions of this regiment.

Over sixty years ago a battalion was formed in the County of Frontenac, which was called the 47th, and in Lennox and Addington a battalion was also formed it being called the 48th.

In 1878, these two battalions were amalgamated which was changed later to the 47th Regiment. The first touch of active service was in the Fenian Raid of 1867, and again in the North West Rebellion of 1885. At this time the regiment was known as the Middlesex Regiment. In the Great War of 1914-1918, many of the soldiers had enlisted in the 146th Regiment, and of the large number who left for overseas the majority of them paid the supreme sacrifice. Of the 175 names on the Cenotaph at the Court House thirty per cent. were members of the 146th Regiment.

The speaker, in his closing remarks, said that not only was there honor serving God, King and Country on the battlefield, but also in serving civil powers. The members of the 146th Regiment stand to-day for the protection of Canada. At the close of his masterly address Major Babcock was accorded tumultuous applause.

Lieut.-Col. Peters of the Argyll Light Infantry of Belleville, was then introduced and he complimented "B" Co. on its very fine quarters and expressed his great pleasure at being present. The speaker strongly urged the young men to enter the militia, as one of the best trainings that can come to any young man is to spend a few years in the militia.

Messrs. Seymour and MacGillivray then gave a humorous sketch which was followed by the final toast—that to Napanee, proposed by Mr. G. Paul, and ably responded to by Reeve Geo. J. Tustin.

The singing of the National Anthem brought to a close a very delightful and profitable evening.

YARKER - COLEBROOK WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The regular meeting of the Yarker-Colebrook Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. B. H. Smith, on Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 20th, with forty members and two visitors present, and our President, Mrs. N. Boyce, in the chair.

The meeting opened by singing the Ode, followed by the Institute creed. After the Secretary's and Treasurer's reports, various matters of business were discussed. After such a splendid two weeks' course in nursing, the Institute decided to put a first aid kit in the schools. Miss Alexander says they are sure is one of the very best to be had by the splendid lectures she gave. The class was both very interesting and instructive. The roll call was then well responded to by the Xmas Present I enjoyed most. Alice Stover then favoured us with a solo, "Carolina Moon." Then Mrs. C. Smith and Mrs. McFarlane sang a duet, "Jeanine I Dream of Lilac Time".

Dr. Warner, our Dentist, then gave a very splendid lecture on "Teeth", which I am sure will be a benefit to all. The National Anthem was sung, and a very dainty lunch was served by the hostess and Lunch committee.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Geo. Lee, on March 20th.

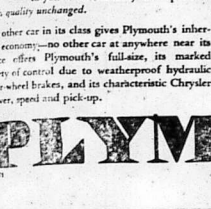
WHAT CHANCE AGAINST FIRE HAS A ROOF LIKE THIS?



MODERN BUILDING—for permanence, low-upkeep and appearance—sounds the death-knell of wooden roofs. The dangers of fire to the building itself, to other buildings and to human life is rapidly being banished by metal roofs of high quality.

RE-ROOF WITH RIB ROLL

The appearance of this roofing alone has sold thousands. Whenever a roof of this material is laid in any district, it immediately secures a preference, and others who are roofing any kind of building, whether it be barn, house, garage, shed or warehouse insist on Rib Roll. It is made to famous "Council Standard" specifications.

Old roofs like this are rapidly becoming things of the past. Fireproof, permanent, Rib Roll roofs mean lower insurance rates, banish upkeep trouble and give your building an attractive, up-to-date appearance.

EASY TO LAY ON NEW ROOFS OR OVER OLD ROOFS

The cost of laying Rib Roll is lower than that of nearly all other types of roofing. Any man who is handy with a hammer can put it on. Its handsome appearance adds many dollars to the value of your property.

Send ridge and rafter measurements of roof or roofs in question, for free estimate of cost.

A "close-up" of Rib Roll, showing the side-lap. When nailed this joint is so tight that it is quite invisible from even a short distance away. The illustration shows the neat and attractive pattern which is stamped into the sheets on huge presses of 40 tons capacity. Beware of substitutes. There is only one Rib Roll.

The Island of the Stairs

BY CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY

regret either. Presently she drove off before the wind with a rag of her foretops'l still showing, and that was the last we saw of her or her men, we thought.

Storm bound under the lee of the cliffs, we passed long and anxious hours the next day, although our only misfortune was the inclemency of the weather, for we were completely sheltered, and we had plenty of the refreshing milk of the cocoanut to vary our other food. The second day after it began the tempest finally blew itself out, although the great surging seas still broke tremendously over the barrier reef and the spray shot a score of feet or more above the crests of the highest waves." It was only the reflex of the storm, however, for during the night the wind had subsided into a gentle breeze.

When we scanned the sea next morning there was, of course, no sign of the ship. Our first inclination, and there was none to say us nay now, was to mount the stairs, cross the wall and look for that cave. We had neither chart nor record left, we had but our memories to trust to, but we were both agreed that the cave lay in the inner wall and that the parchment said it was the central one of three adjacent openings which gave entrance to the treasure chamber. And we could get a bearing on it from the central hill.

Now I had noticed that the coral wall both on the outer and inner sides was honeycombed with openings, rifts, fissures and caves which, by the way, were more frequent and deeper on the inside face, why I know not. We should have been compelled painfully and laboriously to search the whole face of the cliff in its extent of fifteen miles or so, but for the further direction of the parchment. I was thankful that, sailor like, old Sir Philip had given us the bearing. How did his words run? Something like this, my memory told me.

"Toe fyrste ye mouthe of ye treasure cave take ye bearings alonge ye southe of ye three Goddes on ye Altar of Skulls on ye middel hille. Wh. ye line strykes ye bigge knicke in ye walle with ye talle palmme, his tree, bee three hundes. Climbe ye stones. Enter ye centre. Yt is there."

Plainly our first duty was to descend into the inclosed valley and explore the hillock in the center. I made no doubt but that we should find some sort of an altar and more of those curious stone images there. If they still remained the rest of our task would be comparatively easy.

With this determination, therefore, we set out. As I did not know how long our exploration would require and as I rather thought we should have to make a day of it, we started betimes. Indeed, as we inevitably retired shortly after sunset we naturally rose at break of day. I took along food enough for the day, knowing that we could get water from the brooks and certain fruits which I judged would be good for us from the trees.

We went directly to the stairs and mounted them. Delaying but little or not at all, we crossed it rapidly and finally entered the valley. It was with a feeling of awe that we stood for the first time within the vast cup at the foot of the inner stairs, completely shut out from the world by the great towering ramparts of rock which encircled and inclosed us. I had never felt so far removed from the world as then. Outside, of course, the limitless ocean ran beyond the barrier reef, but one could follow it only to the dim, faroff distance with his vision. Within the cup the glance fell upon the rocky wall on every hand. It was almost like being in a prison for all its tropic loveliness.

Beneath the trees and quite invisible from above, a paved road or path barely wide enough for four to walk abreast upon, extended straight across the island to the hillock in the middle, while smaller paths seemed to follow the course of the walls on either side. The ground was gently rolling, and the road, though overgrown in places and badly broken, was in much better condition than the broader path on the top of the wall. I suppose the fact that it was sheltered protected it. We passed along it for a mile and a half without much difficulty.

Finally we landed at the foot of the hillock. As I had observed from the wall it was grass grown and tree clad. Indeed, we should have been hard put to it to have ascended it, so dense was the vegetation, had it not been for the fact that the path was continued around the hill constantly mounting. Where it ran the somewhat shallow earth had been cut away on the hillside and the rock surface laid bare. Of course this path was frightfully overgrown.

We ascended with the utmost care. I finally drew my little mistress, her face bedewed as well as my own, up the last step ascent and stood upon the crest.

We could now see why the top of the hill had seemed level when we first looked at it from the wall. Indeed, the coral rock rose in a sharp escarpment eight or ten feet above the highest treetops, making a sort of mesa land or platform. This level, probably artificial, had been paved with the huge, dark gray rock of the stairs and statues and pathways. I may say in passing that in all our exploration of the island, which however, was not very thorough or complete owing to the shortness of our stay upon it, we saw no quarry whence this rock could have been taken, and the only way of accounting for its presence was that it had been brought there across the seas by the makers of the monuments and stairs, whoever they might have been. They must have had large and worthy vessels and adequate means of land transportation, to say nothing of a most considerable engineering ability to accomplish these mighty works.

Well, the level top of the hillock was in shape a parallelogram, in extent perhaps an acre and a half. It was the most curious place I have ever seen. In the middle of it, with its four sides parallel to the sides of the plateau was a huge stone platform or altar perhaps ten feet long by 20 feet wide. Completely surrounding this altar, but some distance away from it so as to make an aisle perhaps ten feet in width, rose a line of huge statues carved, like those at the foot of the stairs, into the semblance of monstrous human faces. Not one of them was like another. There was variation in each as there is variation in human faces. All were ugly, but all were lifelike and were singularly enough European.

CHAPTER XIII.

In Which We Enter the Place of Horror

THE statues or images rose from a kind of terrace a foot or so above the level of the platform paved as before. They formed a sort of cloister, or colonnade, around the central platform, which rose twenty or twenty-five feet above. On the center of the raised platform or altar stood three or more of the same monster heads, placed one after another, the largest one being in the middle. They were in line, all looking in the same direction which my compass told me was due west. They were staring, therefore, toward the setting sun.

At the front end or west end the great platform was approached by a flight of steps. The stones of the pavement were so cunningly fitted together that only here and there had a seed lodged and grass grown. The stones of the platform or altar were also laid up without mortar and fitted in the same way. The altar was in perfect repair.

Standing so high, the fierce winds that swept over the plateau and platform had probably assisted in keeping it clear of vegetation, of anything in fact, for save for a few scattered lines of grass it was as bare as the palm of my hand.

Well, we stood upon the platform and surveyed the scene in silent awe. Nothing in the parchment had led us to suspect all this, although I recollect the stone "Goddes" looking toward the tall, fine, big palm tree, the spot in the wall by which we were to locate the treasure cave.

"Come!" said I at last, breaking the silence. "We will have a nearer look at these gentry."

"It seems like the temple of a vanished race," breathed my lady softly, staring about her in growing wonder.

"Aye, and of a vanished God!" I said, extending my hand.

There was something weird and eerie about the plateau. And we felt better for the touch of each other's hand, at least I did. I always felt happier when I touched her little hand, but in this instance the feeling was somewhat different. In a certain sense it seemed like profanation for us to be there, yet we went on steadily, if slowly. We passed by the colonnade of eases ended in death! So a recent Canadian investigation showed. These were not cases of infectious diseases — of consumption — of typhoid! They were cases where a person had sustained some slight injury—a cut, a burn, a wire-prick —and where the wound, being thought not serious enough for careful treatment, had been neglected. Blood-poisoning and death resulted.

TAMWORTH WOMAN'S INSTITUTE

The monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Smith Gilmore, on Tuesday evening, Feb. 26th. The meeting was opened with the Ode, after which the creed was repeated in unison. The roll call, to which 27 members responded, was answered by ways to use up odds of food. There were six visitors also present. A vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Alex. Hannah's group for their splendid success with the euchres. After a little business a very interesting debate was held, "Resolved that the women who attend local women's societies make better homemakers than those who do not". The affirmative side was upheld by Mrs. Beckstead and Mrs. Smith Gilmore, while the negative was taken by Mrs. Hunt and Mrs. Wells. After interesting arguments had been given, the judges, Mrs. Moss, Mrs. J. Donovan and Mrs. Reid announced that the affirmative side won.
A dainty lunch was then served, and the meeting closed by the National Anthem.

BAY CIRCUIT

A very unique birthday party was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Spencer on Wednesday last, in honor of Mr. Enos Spencer, who celebrated on that day, his eighty-fifth birthday. Mr. Spencer is still hale and hearty and able to continue his daily duties.—Mr. Earl Alkenbrack, who has been confined to his home, for a couple of weeks with illness, is improving and expects to be back at his work in a few days. — The Gretna Ladies Aid are holding their monthly meeting at the home Mrs Chas. Mellow, Thursday afternoon March 7th, at 2.30. — Mr. Walter Mullman has returned home after a successful operation in the Kingston Hospital.—The Hay Bay Ladies Aid are having a social evening at the home of Mrs. Leonard Parks, on Friday, March 8th at 8 o'clock.—Miss Hazel McCabe is still in Kingston Hospital, slowly recovering from a very serious operation.—What might have been a very serious affair, was narrowly averted when Mr. Sid. Parks, and family, who recently moved to their new home on Picton, where nearly overcome with gas escaping from the furnace.—Mr. Clarence Moore is still under the doctor's care.—The Ladies Aid of Sand Hill had a very successful social evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Morton, last Friday evening. — A number from our communities were in town last week to see the picture "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

TAMWORTH

A scientific temperance contest in Sunday Schools, has recently been held throughout Canada, and hundreds of schools in Ontario entered the contest. In the Tamworth United S. S. a senior prize of a handsomely illustrated copy of "Pilgrim's Progress" was awarded by the School to McLaren McLaughlin, for taking highest Senior standing. The next two highest Seniors were Marion Richmond and Marion Redden, who received certificates and books. The following received sobriety safety certificates, Ida Card and Borden Millican. Junior Division, Kenneth Currah, Lorena Currah, Keith Currah, Roy Milligan, Eldon Richmond, Eva York, Alan Junior Redden, Doreen Douglas York. Mrs. Floyd and Mr. Chas. Stevens presented books to the pupils in their classes who had taken honors. The better honor papers have been sent on to enter Provincial and Dominion competition. — The regular meeting of the Woman's Institute held at the home of Mrs. S. Gilmore, was well attended, thirty-three members being present. A most interesting item on the programme was a debate, "Resolved that the community women make the best home makers, which was sustained by five points. After the debate a dainty lunch was served and enjoyed by all.—Mrs. Booth, teacher, of Niagara Falls, who has been the guest of Mrs. Geo. Brimer, for the past five weeks, returned to her home this week.—Mrs. Turner and maby, of Napanee, are visiting their aunt, Miss Reid.—The Misses McLaughlin spent the week end in Kingston. — Mrs. Coxell returned home from Belleville, where she has been spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Reid.—Mr. and Mrs. Philip McKim are renting their home here and moving to Lakeview, to Mrs. McKim's former home.—Mrs. Burns, of Enterprise, paid a short visit last week to her daughter, Mrs. John Dowling.—The oratorical contest by pupils of the Consolidated School, under the auspices of the Toronto Star, took place on Friday, the 22nd. Misses Marion Redden and Teresa Harrison gave addresses. Both proved most creditable to the schools and to the contestants themselves. The judges awarded the decision to Teresa Harrison, who will now take part in a further contest to be held later at Napanee. — Rev. I. N. Beckstead attended a meeting of the Ministerial Association in Napanee on Monday last.—United Church services will be held on Sunday next, at Marlbank, Reidville and Tamworth, in the order named.

SELBY

We are having very mild weather at time of writing.—The Y. P. S. accepted the invitation of the Y. W. C. T. U. of Napanee, to visit them in St. Andrew's United Church on Tuesday evening last. Mr. Milford Mowers kindly lent his team and team for the occasion. Everything in the fine programme of music and readings also the fine report of the Temperance Convention. A good time was had by the crowd, and the ladies served tasty refreshments.—A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the United Church Parsonage, on Saturday, by Rev. H. W. COLLEGIATE NEWS.

Operetta.

The Operetta, "The Pennant", which the pupils of the Collegiate are presenting next Friday evening, March 8th, is rather a novel undertaking for them, but one which is being enjoyed by all taking part in it. The music which is of the kind especially written for High School and College Glee Clubs, is bright and attractive, and since it is presented in the operetta form, it lends itself to dramatic interpretation. The choruses, quartettes and duets afford those taking part excellent practice in part singing, and in spite of the lack, heretofore, of singing lessons in the public schools, there are a great many good voices being developed in the Collegiate Glee Club during the past five or six years. The parents will have an opportunity of hearing the pupils at their best on next Friday evening. The operetta is a story of college love and humour well blended and set to pleasing music and mirthful dialogue. The heroine, the foster daughter of a wealthy business man and his wife who is trying to get into high society, is really in love with the football captain of a rival college. The mother is trying to marry her to an English lord who is poor though titled. The lord is backed by a Jewish money lender who hopes to reap a large return in interest after the wedding. A country freshman, not so green as he looks, decides to defeat the plot of the Jew and the English lord, and by making use of the Merry Widow chaperon of the college girls, he accomplishes his plan. The hero and the heroine elope, and thus all ends happily except for the schemers. The story is told partly in dialogue, but mostly in song. From the opening boys' football chorus to the final curtain in the second act, the operetta is full of good music in the form of solos, duets, quartets and choruses, in which over forty pupils take part. All the seats in the Town Hall will be reserved, and are now on sale at Wallace's Drug Store, or may be secured by telephoning the Collegiate.

Oratorical Contest.

Preceding the operetta on Friday evening, and starting at eight o'clock, the oratorical contest to decide the school champion will take place. The winner will be awarded the T. B. Wallace gold medal and will hold the Taylor Challenge cup for one year, while the second prize will be the J. H. Metcalf silver medal. The winner will also represent Napanee Collegiate at the district meet at Kingston on Saturday evening. Napanee has the highest record in the district so far during the last two years that the Star Oratorical contests have been held. In 1927, Edith Hunter, Napanee, took first place, and in 1923, Munro Beattie won first place at Kingston. This three speakers this year are using different subjects, will speak for only ten minutes each, and will be well worth hearing. Dr. Mordoff, the high school principal, under whose regime oratory and debate has received such impetus, will present the medals to the winning orators. In order to hear the first oration of the evening, it will be necessary to be on time, as no one will be admitted while any one of the candidates are speaking.

Basketball.

The Collegiate boys completed their schedule last Friday at Belleville, both their juniors and seniors losing to the Belleville teams. Play was very close in both games, but the local boys seemed unable to make connection with the baskets. The seniors were defeated by a score of 28-11, while the junior game was 11-8. Mr. Armstrong, of the Y. M. C. A., made a very acceptable referee. The Napanee boys who composed the line-ups were: Seniors—Robinson, Merritt, Howitt, Kinkley, Asselstine, Webster.
Juniors—Herrington, Frink, Thomson, Deane, MacGregor, Oliver, Alkenbrack.
This game completes all the schedules for this year, and while from the standpoint of winning games the season has not been very successful, the benefit derived cannot be estimated by the number of points scored. In all the sports, the players have been beginners for the most part, and the way in which they have stuck through each schedule in spite of losses against heavier and more experienced players has been worthy of praise. Again, it is doubtful if there has been a year when so many boys, both juniors and seniors, have taken part in sport, and the playing of the games by the larger number has been more beneficial. One other thing stands to the credit of the Napanee boys, and that is the true spirit of sportsmanship which has been displayed. In no case this year has any Napanee player been guilty of intentional foul playing, and not one derogatory word has been addressed to any official during a game by the players or by the crowd. Winning or losing, the true value of sports lies in the development of strong bodies, initiative in action, unselfish team play and self control. Well regulated sports when assigned their fair place in the collegiate curriculum are proving one of the most valuable means of producing the right type of citizens and parents would be well advised to encourage their children in these school activities which form as well a good antidote against the habit of spending leisure after-school hours in undesirable resorts of the town.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear Father, John Gordon Prout, who died March 5th, 1928, at Adolphustown, Ont.
Sadly missed by his daughter,
10ap —Mrs. J. P. McDonough, Collins Bay, Ont.

IN MEMORIAM.

In fond and loving memory of our dear Husband and Father, William Munro Peters, who passed away on March 3rd, 1926.

March brings sad memories
Of a loved one gone to rest,
Who will always be remembered
By the ones who loved him best.

Days of sadness still come o'er us;
Tears in silence often flow;
Memories keep you ever near us,
Though you went three years ago.

Ever remembered by his Wife and Family. 10ap

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear mother, Margaret Walker, who entered into life eternal on March 10th, 1928.

Sadly missed in our home.
10ap —Her Son, William Walker.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear Mother and Grandmother, Mrs. Jas. B. Wesse, who passed away on February 29th, 1928.

She is gone, but not forgotten,
And as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking
Thoughts of her come very near.
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Friends may think we have forgot,
But they do not know how much we miss her,
Each and every day a part.

Sadly missed by Kenneth and Lucy and children, Laverne and Florabelle. 10b

CROYDON

What proved a serious accident occured here on Saturday evening, February 23rd, between the hour of four and five o'clock while Mr. T. Pringle was watering his horse below the mill dam in the river, when the ice gave way and Mr. Pringle must have gone under the ice as the horse was in the middle of the river when found about 8 o'clock that evening. The neighbours all turned out and brought the horse ashore and it none the worse after being in the cold water so long. On Sunday morning the community turned out and worked all day cutting ice and dragging the river but their work was in vain. — Mr. Pringle leaves to mourn his lost, a wife and one daughter, Mrs. Fred Bumhower who reside in Croydon.— Mrs. Will Hyland of Belleville is visiting her sister Mrs. Will Galbraith. — Miss Agnes Nolan and Mr. W. Coulter spent over Sunday at Mr. P. Dwyers Bethel St.— Miss Theressa Dewey, and brother John spent Thursday evening at W. B. Closes.—Mrs. J. Kring is spending a couple weeks with friends at Napanee —Mr. Will Lyman has returned home after spending the winter in the north.— Messers. Will and Wilbert Coulter and Misses Agnes and Elizabeth Nolan spent Thursday evening at Mr. Stewart Closes. Rumors say a couple of weddings soon. — Mr. A. Hart has finished sawing wood in this community and gone to Reidville.—Messers. W. McKeown and Dick Coulter spent a couple of days at Glenora with Mr. Coulters parents.—Don't forget the W.M.S. meets at Mrs. Adam Fingland's on Thursday, March 7th, at 2 p.m. — Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hughes and family spent Saturday evening of last week at Stewart Close's.

BATH

Mrs. Wm. Ross, who has been quite ill, is improving. — D. H. Robinson, Ralph Sexsmith and Charles Hoselton have had their respective ice houses filled.—Reeve G. M. Lays left on Tuesday for Toronto as delegate appointed to represent the village to accompany the other delegates in regard to the Bay Shore road. — Clayton Bell has been appointed assessor for the village. — The people of this village were profoundly shocked and grieved to hear of the passing of another highly esteemed resident on Sunday afternoon in the person of John C. Creighton. Deceased, who was 68 years of age, had been suffering from a foot trouble, which he had been having treated in the Kingston General Hospital for a few days before his death. In fact he had just arrived home from the residence of his son, T. D. Creighton, McIntyre's Corners, on his way home from the hospital, when he suddenly collapsed and passed peacefully away. He moved to this village from the Hawley community, where he was a well known farmer, about five years ago, and owing to his cheerful and gentle disposition he will be missed by all. He served as Reeve for one year. Funeral services were held in the United Church on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. S. F. Dixon officiating, the remains being afterwards taken to Morven. His wife, three daughters and one son survive. The sympathy of all is extended to them in their bereavement.

FARMER'S WIFE GETS STRENGTH

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Wilton, Ont.—"I am taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and thought I would write you a few lines to let you know what it has done for me. I was troubled with heart flashes and my abdomen was bloated so I could hardly walk to do my farm work. I saw in the newspaper about your ad about the Vegetable Compound and thought to give it a trial. The first bottle gave me relief and I have told others what it does for me. I am willing for you to use my letter if you choose."—Mrs. D. B. PETERS, Wilton, Ontario.

"THE ISLAND OF THE STAIRS"

statues around the inner platform and deliberately mounted the stairs.

Something, I know not what, made me bid my mistress pause before we reached the top, and I looked to my pistol and loosened my sword in its sheath as I did so, although why I did so and what I anticipated I cannot say. At any rate, I mounted to the top alone. There before me by a platform which was sunk beneath me for a depth of two feet and which was surrounded by a low wall, on the top of which I stood. The three ranges rose from a smaller platform on a level with the top of this wall in the midst, and the whole place was filled with a horrible and frightful mass of human bones. Skulls, legs, thighs and smaller bones, heaped in terrible confusion, lay bleaching before me, and the space between them was filled with a fine dust, doubtless the dust of earlier bones which had gouldered away through centuries. Those that still preserved their shape were the top layer and were bleached perfectly white. They lay in all directions, as if they had been cast about carelessly and at random, yet there were indications that there had been a path from where I stood to the platform of the three images, which I perceived was just about long enough to lay a human body on.

I stared apprehensively, I must confess, at this frightful charnel house of the centuries. The only evidences of humanity we had discovered were these frightful skeletons. I would have prevented it, but my mistress suddenly came and stood by my side. Then I thought she would have fainted as the full horror of the scene burst upon her.

"Men have been here," she faltered. "Horrible, cruel men."

"Yes," said I, "but centuries ago. Look, the bones are bleached white. You have naught to fear."

"Let us leave this frightful place," she said.

"Presently," I answered, "but you will remember the directions of the chart. I must stand upon that altar and get my bearings. The treasure cave should lie in line with the statues and a nick or depression in the wall on the farther side."

"Yes," she replied, "I remember."

"Well, then," I said, "will you go down to the platform out of sight of this horrible place and wait for me?"

"No," she answered nervously. "Master Hampden, wherever you go I must go. I can never be left alone."

I tried gently to dissuade her, but, as usual, she would have her way, so that at last I gave in.

"Well, then," said I, "at least let me go before."

I stepped down into the great receptacle intending to clear the way with my feet by kicking away the layer of bones, and then, extending my arm behind me with both her hands caught in mine, she followed me down into the recesure. Of course we had to walk upon the broken remnants of humanity, but I thrust aside as well as I could the larger pieces and skulls, and she, I afterward learned, followed with her eyes rigidly closed, trusting entirely to my guidance. Indeed, she clung to my hand with all the nervous strength and power she possessed.

So we finally reached the platform. I lifted her up on it and followed myself. I led my lady carefully around the platform until we could stand at the rear end by the side of the line of statues and look across the island. Sure enough, there was the nick or depression in the wall which Sir Philip had mentioned, although the "bigge palmme tree" was gone or else lost amid hundreds of trees like it. Beneath it careful scrutiny showed a rough pyramid of stone leading up to what seemed to be openings in the cliff wall.

So far every detail in the old buccaneer's parchment was absolutely correct. I was certain now that the treasure was there and that we could find it. And a certain exultation filled me. At least we had not come upon a fool's errand, though what good the treasure would do us I did not stop to consider.

"We have nothing more to do here," I answered as I led the way to the edge of the low altar.

I leaped down and then turned to help my little mistress. She was very white, and I thought she was going to faint. I don't blame her, the scene was so terrible. I acted promptly. I reached up and took her in my arms and carried her as if she had been a babe, and, indeed, she was a great burden for me. Her head dropped to my shoulder. I didn't know whether she had fainted or not. Her eyes were closed. I ran swiftly across the recesure, descended the steps and without hesitation turned to the edge of the cliff. I stopped there, cursing myself for not having brought any water, but as I stopped she opened her eyes.

"You are safe," said I gently. "The natives are all behind us. See, there is before you naught but the beautiful greenery of the island, and—"

An expression of gratitude came across her face.

"Let us go down," she replied. "We must never come near here again."

"Course God, no," I repeated as we retraced our steps down the cliff and along the winding path. Mistress Lucy gaining strength and color as we passed out of sight of the hideous platform.

It was necessary to go back along the path to the foot of the stairs. There were savages here and there in the way where we rested and a lower brook of cool, delicious water, where we broke our fast, though it was not yet noon, for the openings as stopped before they reached the foot of the wall, which was almost hidden in vegetation. I remembered the paths which had led off on either side from the stairs too. We followed one of them easily.

The wall to our left was dotted with openings to caves, but none of them seemed to fit the description we carried in our memories. The underbrush deepened and grew denser as we progressed, and finally I had to open a way with my ax. The tangled mesh soon gave way before my sturdy energy, and we entered a little clearing, which extended to the wall. There above us were the three openings between the depression in the crest sure enough, the one in the middle being greater than the others, the entrance high enough to admit me, who am much above the usual stature, without bending my head. It was elevated half way up the surface of the cliff and approach to it was by a pile of stones, not laid with the order and regularity of the giant stairs, but apparently piled together haphazard by people unskilled to make any other practical way of ascent.

It was difficult, enough for us to climb as it was. The heap of stones evidently had not been mounted for years, and the stones had broken and fallen away in many places. Indeed I had to rebuild the pile here and there.

When after minutes labor I peered within the cave I could see nothing but the blackness. When we got the cave we had taken a lantern and a few candles. I had thought of bringing with me that day. We now lighted it with the flint and steel and, Esther and stepped silently in. My lady followed me close, being, as she had said, unwilling to be left alone and ever ready to face any peril in my company.

Above the low entrance the cave wall rose to a height of perhaps twenty feet, making a vast vaulted chamber with gothic suggestions about it, for the coral before it hardened had been built into curious shapes and fantastic figures. We didn't notice this so much at first, for with a wild shriek, my gentle companion suddenly caught my arm and pointed downward.

The floor, like that of the central altar, was covered with human bones. It was unmistakable, for any one and certainly for a woman, and made more grewsome because of the dull lighting of the cave. The bones were bleached white also and had evidently been there a long time. We could scarcely take a step without treading upon them. I had a horror of the place and my mistress from running back toward the mouth and thence to the ground, and it was not until I had reassured her that she would consent to pass on.

As we had been compelled to pass on by our desire to get our bearings before, so if we were to get the treasure we would have to suffer this now. She summoned her courage and we went on.

As our eyes became accustomed to the light, for, wonderful, the candle lantern cast but a dim radiance over the vast apartment, the entrance was so small that little daylight came through, we saw the same kind of altar, built of the same stones as on the hill, though much smaller. Bones of human beings, men, women and children. I judged from the difference in sizes, lay upon it, and there were heaps of bones on the floor around it. It came across me that it was another altar of sacrifice and that the worshipers had been also eaters of flesh cannibals!

Turning away from the altar to the right we found the way clear, and with a sigh of relief, I drew Mistress Lucy reluctantly on. She clung to me and was so frightened that I finally slipped my arm about her waist, to which she made no objection. She has confessed since that she was indeed greatly pleased and that it was a comfort to her to feel the strength and power of my grasp.

Holding the lantern before me, we cautiously proceeded farther into the cave toward the inner wall. The cave wall opened out into rooms apparently. I didn't dare go any distance from the main entrance for fear that I should lose my way, so I stopped, undecided what to do, which opening to enter, that is.

"Oh, let's go back!" begged my mistress. "There is no treasure here. I am sure."

"Nay," I answered. "With your permission, Mistress Lucy, I intend to explore further into the matter. Let's see." I held the lantern high above

Presentation and Address

On Monday evening, February 25th, about fifty friends and neighbours gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Edgar, and presented them with a Coleman gasoline lamp, and the following address :—

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Edgar,—We, your friends and neighbours, have learned with real regret that you are about to remove from our neighbourhood, and while we are pleased to know you are not going far, we shall hope to see you often.

It is always the case that the time we say farewell is the time we realize most keenly the place our friends have filled in our hearts and lives. So we realize to-night, dear friends, that your kind neighbourliness and your hospitality have endeared you to all of us. We cannot permit your departure from us without expressing in some tangible way our sincere esteem and good will. Therefore, we ask you to accept this lamp as a token of our regard, and trust it will serve to keep us in remembrance.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbours.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kimmerly.
Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Winter.

Mr. Edgar replied briefly, thanking the neighbours for their kind remembrance.

The evening was very pleasantly spent by all, and after lunch the company dispersed, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Edgar every success in their new home on the Hamburg Road, Napanee.

After Using Two Boxes The Pains Have Gone

Ontario Man Used Dodd's Kidney Pills

Mr. Fred Jordan Suffered With Pains in His Back and Hips

Bolton, Ont., March 4th. (Special).—Mr. F. Jordan, of R.R. No. 3, Bolton, Ont., relates his experience with Dodd's Kidney Pills in the following letter. He states :—"I had pains in my back and hips, and for some time thought it was a cold and that it would leave me again. However, instead of doing so, it got worse, until I was badly crippled and had to clutch something to pull myself up out of a chair. Then it struck me that it was my kidneys. So I bought a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and soon got relief. After taking a second box the pains have all gone. Now I always keep a box in the house."

The best and most practical system of relief i nt heworld to-day, is the one in which the sufferer ascertains for himself the nature of his disease and then chooses the most certain means of healing; this has been known for the past thirty years as Dodd's Kidney Pill treatment.

GOOD HOPPER EQUIPMENT IS REAL ECONOMY

The annual waste of egg mash through the use of poor hopper equipment is enormous. Too many hoppers in use allow the birds to get into the mash with their feet and throw it on the floor or soil it so that they won't eat it.

A good egg mash costs money, so no one can afford to have the hens waste it. In the way of an investment there probably is not anything cheaper in the poultry yard than proper mash hopper equipment. Hens actually will waste very little feed when a good hopper is used.

There are in use two general types of hoppers — the wall and table types. The table hopper has no chance of clogging, is easy to clean and when properly constructed always very little mash to be wasted.

Not only is it important to have proper hopper equipment but also plenty of hopper space. Most of the hens want to eat at the same time, and it should be possible for them to do so. We want to give the hens a chance to eat all the mash they want.

On a good many poultry farms the egg production could easily be increased 10 to 25% by supplying more hopper space. We have all seen a 3 to 4 foot hopper supposedly accommodating 300 to 400 hens. When the birds have to wait their turn at the mash hopper, much of their time is wasted, and as a result they do not get enough of the mash for economical egg production.

To provide the right feeding conditions for your hens supply at least two running feet of hopper space for every ten hens. This may seem like a lot, but it is only giving the birds a fair chance to eat what mash they need. The more mash we can get our hens to eat the more eggs it will ordinarily mean, so let us not have the hopper space be a limiting factor in egg production.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

"Well," said Johnny, "if you'd been at our house last night when pop jammed his finger in the door, I guess you'd have froze to death."

Externally or Internally, It Is Good.—When applied externally by brisk rubbing, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil opens the pores and penetrates the tissues, touching the seat of the trouble and immediately affording relief. Administered internally, it will still the irritation in the throat which induces coughing and will relieve affections of the bronchial tubes and respiratory organs. Try it and be convinced.

The soothing and soporific effect of blue is extraordinary, says a scientific paper.

Your room is done in baby blue,
Your little crib is painted, too,
In that same soporific hue.
(But baby doesn't seem to mind—

A Household Medicine.—They that are acquainted with the sterling properties of Thomas' Eclectric Oil in the treatment of many ailments would not be without it in the house. It is truly a household medicine and as it is effective in dealing with many ordinary complaints it is an inexpensive medicine. So, keep it at hand, as the call for it may come most unexpectedly.

The Man With Asthma almost longs for death to end his suffering. He sees ahead only years of endless torment with intervals of rest which are themselves fraught with never ceasing fear of renewed attacks. Let him turn to Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy and "attack of nerves" it means that the body is in some way out of order and the nerves have become oversensitive, so that we get neuralgia, nervous headache, sciatica, or some other nerve trouble. Sometimes the nerves get too weak to do the will of the brain, and we get trembling hands or limbs, or perhaps St. Vitus dance. The whole nervous system is fed and kept healthy by your blood. If that is thin and poor, nervous weakness follows. In that case a tonic is needed to build up the blood, so that it may in turn feed the nerves, spine and brain. The very best medicine for enriching the blood is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You cannot help but feel a healthful uplift they give. Your appetite improves, your brain is clearer, you gain strength in every way, and you feel full of new life. One sufferer, Miss Margaret R. MacDonald, Catalone Head, N.S., tells what this medicine did for her. She says :—"I suffered for a long time from severe headaches and nervous exhaustion. I tried several kinds of medicine but got no relief until I used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and these, before long, gave me complete relief. From my own experience I feel that I cannot praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly, and would advise anyone who is suffering from headaches or nervous exhaustion, to give them a fair trial, as I feel sure their use cannot be anything but satisfactory."

Take these pills as a tonic if you are not in the best physical condition and cultivate a resistance that will keep you well and strong. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

About Your Nerves

Headaches and Other Troubles Follow When the Nerves Give Way.

Nerves are delicate fibres running from the brain to all parts of the body. Some of them give us the sense of touch and feeling; others convey the will to our muscles and enable us to move. When we have an "attack of nerves" it means that the body is in some way out of order and the nerves have become oversensitive, so that we get neuralgia, nervous headache, sciatica, or some other nerve trouble. Sometimes the nerves get too weak to do the will of the brain, and we get trembling hands or limbs, or perhaps St. Vitus dance. The whole nervous system is fed and kept healthy by your blood. EMPEY HILL WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

A Women's Institute was organized at Mrs. J. Gibson's, on the evening of February 12th, at which twenty names were given in for membership. Mrs. J. Haggerty, of the Napanee Branch, very kindly helped to organize the society. The following officers were elected :—Mrs. C. Akey, President; Mrs. J. H. Gibson, 1st Vice President; Mrs. E. Waddingham, 2nd Vice President; Mrs. Russell Withers, Secretary-Treasurer; Mrs. Roy McMath, Organist; Mrs. W. Waddingham, Correspondence Secretary. The business part of the meeting closed by singing the National Anthem. Lunch was served. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. F. German.

On February 21st a regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. F. German. This was the first meeting of the new branch of W. I. There were fifteen members present and one visitor. The meeting opened with the Ode. The roll call was answered by house cleaning hints. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Suggestions were given that we do our best to help in every way this organization, and to add to our numbers as many as we can. The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. M. Husband, on the evening of March 21st, at 8 o'clock.

Pruning.

This is the month for pruning in the garden and the orchard too. All of the dead canes should be removed from the raspberry patch as well as the spindly ones among the new growth. Some of the older wood should be cut away from the gooseberries and currants. Grapes must be pruned early to avoid excessive bleeding. These vines should be cut back to a mere skeleton as the fruit is borne on the wood given this year. Fruit trees should be opened up to let in sunlight and air.

Planting Shrubbery.

There are so many beautiful kinds of shrubs that it is impossible to go into varieties. A complete list will be found in any seed catalogue and there is also a special bulletin, on Ornamental Trees, Shrubs, and Woody Climbers by W. T. Macoun, Dominion Horticulturist, issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture. Generally speaking, place the largest shrubs at the back, from two to ten feet from house or wall. If at all possible, arrange in clumps. Avoid straight rows at all cost. Good clay loam is the most suitable for general purposes. If too much clay, add well rotted manure, and if sandy add humus (rotted vegetable matter, such as strawy manure, leaves, etc.). As a rule, the more tender shrubs should be planted on the north or west side of the house as there is less winter killing there from alternate freezing and thawing in early Spring. Shrubs will do fairly well on the north side, particularly if late bloomers are selected for this exposure so that they will get a fair amount of sunshine before blossom time. Shrubs should be planted as far apart as they will be high at maturity, unless a screen is desired or a hedge, when they may be crowded closer. In planting, bury an inch or so below they were in before transplanting. Most shrubs, especially those that bloom after the beginning of June, can be moved in the Spring without much loss of growth. This class should be pruned in the Spring, and the very early bloomers in the Fall.

Rotate Vegetable Crops.

It is well to rotate vegetables throughout the patch each year. In other words, do not grow the tomatoes this season where they were planted last year. Of course, it will be necessary to save the garden plans from year to year, but this should be done anyway. It is a good plan to have leguminous crops, such as peas, and beans, which add fertilizer to the soil, follow such gross feeders as corn, and the root crops. In planting vegetables, it is good business to put in a few extra early rows on the chance that they will escape frost, and produce a crop two or three weeks ahead of average, but save the bulk of the seed until the time specified in the seed catalogue. Have a sufficient supply also to replant any rows which may have been ruined by flood or frost or even by some small thought energetic young gardener who may have dug them up by mistake.

Making a Lawn.

One of the first jobs to be carried out after a new house is built is that of making the lawn. The soil must be put in fair condition, as grass requires food just the same as flowers. Make the place level. To do this, it is well to rake over as evenly as possible two or three times, giving rains and perhaps a freeze or two a chance to settle the soil in between hakings. Remove all broken bricks, stones, sticks and similar material just as soon as you can get on the soil in the spring without getting your shoes muddy. It is best to sow the seed in the evening or on a dull day when there is no wind. One pound of seed is required for every two hundred square feet, and where the place is shaded special seed should be used. Roll in thoroughly, or if no roller is available use a pounder. The grass should be cut with a sharp mower as soon as it is a few inches high. Barnyard manure and nitrate of soda make good lawn fertilizers, the latter applied several times throughout the season at the rate of one ounce to the square yard, either broadcast during a shower or dissolved in a gallon of water and sprinkled.

Nearly Overcome by Gas Fumes.

The family of Sidney Parks, who had just taken possession of the Herman Burr farm at Waring's Corners, were nearly asphyxiated in the early hours of Sunday morning. Coal gas from a furnace was said to be the cause. Mr. Parks arose early to attend to the chores and on returning to the house called his wife. Receiving no reply he investigated and found Mrs. Parks and the children overcome by the fumes. Prompt first aid measures brought all around so-by. — Picton Gazette, March 2nd, 1929.

OBITUARY

Death visited Newburgh, on Saturday, February 23rd, 1929, and took away one of its highly esteemed citizens, in the person of Mrs. Eliza O. Peters, widow of the late Marshall Peters. Deceased was formerly Miss Eliza Browne, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Browne, of Newburgh. She taught school in several places before her marriage. She was taken ill a week before her death with a slight chill, but not thinking it anything, it developed into double pneumonia and pleurisy. She was cared for by her niece, Miss M. E. Peters, nurse, of Syracuse. She leaves one brother, Mr. Saltern Browne, who is very ill at time of writing, as well as many nieces and nephews. A private service was held at the house, after which a public service was held in St. John's Church, of which she was a faithful member. The service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Spencer, who visited her frequently during her illness.

Successful Pupils.

The following pupils of Miss Williams were successful at the Toronto Conservatory Theory Exams. in February:—

Miss Helen Babcock—Elementary Theory, first class honours; Primary Theory, honours.

Miss Eleanor Emberley—Elementary Theory, first class honours; Primary Theory, first class honours.

Miss Gladys Wallace—Junior Harmony, honours.

Trinity Church Anniversary Preacher.

Trinity Church has been most fortunate in securing as preacher for its 70th Anniversary Service, on March 10th, Rev. J. E. Todd, B.A., minister of George St. Church, Peterborough. Mr. Todd has had a most successful pastorate in Peterborough, and recently accepted a call to Central Church, Calgary, one of the largest churches in Western Canada. He is reckoned a young minister of outstanding ability. 10a

OBITUARY

Mr. Chester Brown.

One of Napanee's oldest citizens, in the person of Mr. Chester Brown, passed away at his late residence, on Thursday, February 28th, in his 94th year.

For the past two or three years Mr. Brown has been in failing health, probably due to old age, and for the past few weeks his condition had grown steadily worse, he having lain in a state of coma for several days before his death. During his sickness he was tenderly cared for by his aged wife and daughters.

The late Mr. Brown, prior to coming to Napanee, twenty-seven years ago, was a well known farmer residing near Moscow, and deciding to take a well earned rest, came to Napanee in 1902 to reside.

He and his good wife transferred their membership from Moscow Church to Grace United Church and during all these years there were none more devoted to the church than Mr. and Mrs. Brown. In fine and unseasonable weather they were always in their accustomed seats on the Sabbath day. During the past few months however, Mr. Brown was unable to be present at any of the services.

Deceased leaves to mourn his loss, his aged life partner, five sons, Henry, Levi, George, Walter and Clayton, and five daughters, Mrs. German Wager, Mrs. Reuben Wager, Mrs. J. Lee, Mrs. C. J. Vannest and Mrs. Alfred Vanskiver.

The funeral was held on Saturday from the family residence to Grace United Church, in charge of Rev. W. P. Woodger, and burial took place at Moscow.

D. GILMOUR LAID TO REST

On Thursday afternoon, February 14, the body of Daniel Gilmour, pioneer of the Wood Bay district, was laid to rest in Pilot Mound cemetery, the burial services at the grave side being conducted by the Loyal Orange Lodges of La-Riviere and Pilot Mound, deceased having been a prominent Orangeman, and once County Master.

The late Daniel Gilmour, a son of Smith Gilmour, was born in Tamworth, Ont., and was in his 59th year when death called him, after a brief illness. In March, 1889, he heard the call of the west and followed the general trek, settling up the Wood Bay district, where he later established and built up one of the most valuable farming properties in the community.

In 1898 he married Ann Jane McCoy, and three sons were born of the union, all of whom, with their mother, survive. These are: Gordon, Harvey and James, all living in Wood Bay.

Starting with practically nothing in pioneer days, Mr. Gilmour and his life partner, by hard work and patient perseverance, built up a flourishing farm business, now comprising one and a half sections, equipped with fine modern buildings and stocked with fine herds of horses and cattle. In addition, they played their large part in the life of the community, being prominent in church work and social activities, and enjoyed the respect and esteem of all. Mr. Gilmour took a leading part in community betterment work, and was largely instrumental in organizing the Wood Bay Wheat Pool District, he being one of the original Directors.

He was a prominent Orangeman of both Local and County Lodges, being high in the offices of both. Some weeks ago he suffered an attack of the prevalent 'flu, from which septic poisoning resulted, causing death, which came as a distinct shock to sorrowing friends throughout the whole district.

Funeral services were held at the family residence, Revs. Wm. Bill and Wm. Reid being in charge, and a large turnout of friends was on hand. Numerous and beautiful were the floral tributes covering the casket. Interment was made in Pilot Mound cemetery, pall bearers being old friends and fellow members of the Orange Order: Messrs. Aaron McLean, James Morrow, J. C. Watson, Wm. Hughson (representing the local and County Lodges), and Messrs. McDonald and Sutherland, of the Lalliviere Lodge.

The Sentinel extends sincere condolences to the bereaved, so sorely stricken.

"Resolved that men spend more money on their pleasures than the women" will be debated on.

—A message from Croydon states that Thomas Pringle, an old resident of that village, was drowned while watering his horse just below the dam on the Salmon River. It is thought that the ice gave way suddenly. Relatives, having missed him, decided he had gone to water his horse. Having reached the stable and finding the door open and the horse gone, they went to the place where he usually watered the animal and found the horse standing in the river. A number of people, with axes, saws and ice tongs, tried to locate the body, but failed. It is thought that the swift current had carried the body some distance under the ice.

GRACE CHURCH W.M.S. RALLY SUPPER

The W. M. S. of Grace United ... Church held their Rally Supper Wed... nesday evening, February 27th. ... At ten-thirty, the women and girls ... took their places around tables beau... tifully decorated and bountifully sup... plied with good things to eat. ... The attendance was splendid des... pite bad roads and prevalence of the ... flu. The ladies felt honored in hav... ing Mrs. G. I. Perry with them as ... guest of the evening. ... The President, Mrs. F. L. Hooper, in ... fitting words, introduced the speaker, ... Mrs. M. S. Gordon. ... Mrs. Gordon, who is no stranger to ... the W. M. S. of Grace Church, having ... been the speaker at the Rally Supper ... a year ago, after expressing her ... pleasure at being with the ladies ... again, gave a most stirring address on ... the "Problem of the World, Woman ... and Child". We shall long remember ... the significance of her words as she ... said, "Homes are the foundation of the ... Nation, but the child's birthright is ... being sold to the brewer and the liq... uor". ... Ontario alone is spending one mil... lion dollars a week for drink; yet this ... week is a deficit of half a mil... lion dollars among the W. M. S. Aux... iliaries of the Dominion. Liquor is ... a missionary menace. ... Every minute of Mrs. Gordon's ad... dress was full of interesting and help... ful information. ... The evening was made further en... joyable by a vocal duet, feelingly ren... dered by Miss Hull and Mrs. Sey... mour; a piano duet by Mrs. Seymour ... and Mrs. Blain, and also a vocal solo ... by Mrs. H. Denison. ... As the evening drew to a close, the ... ladies felt it had been well worth ... while, and the W. M. S. would go ... forward with renewed courage. ... The following week, on March 7th, ... the regular monthly meeting of the ... W. M. S. was held in the basement of ... Grace United Church, and was well ... attended. The final arrangements ... concerning the "John Duxbury enter... tainment" to be held on Good Friday, ... were left in the hands of the execu... tive. ... The 3rd chapter of the Study Book, ... "Drums in Darkness", was reviewed by ... Miss V. Hall, Miss Mellow and Mrs. W. ... Russell. Readings bearing on mission... ary work were given by Mrs. Reddick, ... Mrs. S. Smith and Mrs. W. Vanalstyne. ... After a few words of encouragement ... from Mrs. Hooper, the meeting was ... closed by prayer.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES, BANQUET AND CONCERT

The seventy-ninth Anniversary Ser... vices of Trinity Church were held ... on Sunday, March 10th, the preacher ... being Rev. J. E. Judd, of George St., ... Peterboro'. Mr. Judd proved himself ... to be a thoughtful and forceful preach... er, whose vital and earnest messages ... were made more effective by a strong ... and attractive personality. There was ... a large congregation at the morning ... service and at the evening service the ... church auditorium was filled to its ... capacity. The Choir rendered special ... anthems at both services, the soloists be... ing Mrs. Smith and Mrs. W. S. Mont... gomery, of Ottawa. ... On Monday evening, the men of the ... church served the annual Anniversary ... Supper in the Dining Hall, which was ... followed by a splendid concert in the ... church auditorium. The following ... has appeared on the programme : Mr. ... Roy Kendal, L.R.A.M., at the organ; ... Mrs. Montgomery, Miss Bertha ... Misses May Hanley, and Beatrice ... Baughan, Pianists; Messrs. LaSalle, ... Caldwell, Eggleston, Waite, Shantz, ... Bell, Vandervoort and Daly, in Male ... Choruses. The programme received a ... most cordial reception, which should ... be very gratifying to Mr. Kendal, who ... supervised the concert. ... The financial outcome was $1100.00, ... but the returns which are still incom... plete, show a net result of $1400.00.

COLLEGIATE CONCERT AND OPERETTA

The Town Hall was filled to capacity ... on Friday evening, when the Collegiate ... Institute made their first appearance ... in light opera. The President of the ... Literary Society, Mr. Munro Beatty, ... acted as chairman, and introduced the ... various numbers in an interesting and ... capable manner. ... The Public Speaking Contest, in ... connection with the elimination, com... petition for the "Star" trophy, was held ... as a preliminary to the operetta. Two ... speakers, Laura Foley and Shirley ... Colclegh, battled for first place and ... the opportunity of going to Kingston ... to compete for the District Cup. Both ... young ladies acquitted themselves with ... honor, though they both showed signs ... of nervousness before the large aud... ience. Miss Colclegh won by a nar... row margin, and went to Kingston on ... Saturday, where she took second place ... in the district finals. ... The operetta was well done. The ... music was catchy and the interest was ... sustained to the very last. To mention ... any of those taking leading parts one ... would have to mention all, as each and ... every one excelled in his or her own ... part. The acting was good and was ... well received, while the solos and the ... chorus work showed not only an un... usual amount of musical ability in the ... Collegiate, but the effects of much ... sympathetic and efficient training ... under the Principal, Mr. Beattie. ... The Orchestra, under the leadership ... of Mrs. Kenneth Wilson, performed ... with its usual ability and musical ap... preciation. They rendered several ... numbers in addition to accompanying ... the operetta all the way through. ... During the intermission, Dr. Marden ... presented the medals for public speak... ing, and gave an address in which he ... spoke of the way in which he missed ... this contest with the young life of the ... Collegiate. He pointed out, too, that ... education was more than cramming ... for exams., and that the extra curri... cula activities such as music, public ... speaking and athletics, had much to ... do with character building, as much, ... perhaps, as the facts the pupils were ... taught in the class room. ... Altogether it was an evening of ... which any amateur organization ... should be proud, and reflects great ... credit on the Principal and staff, and ... on the kindly spirit of co-operation be... tween them and the student body.

A BEAUTIFUL NEW HIGHBOY

The Rogers-Batteryless Radio is now entering its 5th Year of Proven Performance.

An entirely new and very modern design in rich walnut. Door panels of matched butt veneer with raised outline moulding. Well-balanced base with stepped cross runner with medallion centre. All the latest technical features.

DUE to the remarkable development of chain broadcasting (not only of musical programs but of practically all important public and sporting events) radio has become a year 'round source of entertainment and education. And—as any owner will tell you—Rogers is the ideal year 'round radio.

The beautiful new Highboy Model illustrated above, will bring in stations near and far with wonderful clarity and richness of tone—without the nuisance of batteries, chemicals or attachments. And to match its tonal beauty, Receiver and Speaker are housed in a rich, walnut cabinet of true "highboy" design.

Own this newest Rogers-Batteryless Model—complete and always ready (because it uses the uniform power of electricity) to give you the same uniform performance day in and day out. At $260.00—it represents dollar-for-dollar value unapproached in electric radio. Convenient monthly payments, if desired.

ODESSA WOMAN'S INSTITUTE

The February meeting of Odessa Women's Institute was held in the Library, with thirty members and visitors present.

The meeting opened, with the President in the chair, by singing the Ode and repeating the Lord's Prayer. Roll call was answered by "Removing Stains". Many good ones were given, such as laundry starch for removing iodine and blood stains; yolk of egg and water for coffee stains, and many more such like.

Community singing was then enjoyed from the song sheets. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved. A letter was read from Mrs. Henderson, thanking the Institute for the lovely gift given her when leaving for her new home; also one from Mrs. Babcock, thanking also for a thoughtful gift received. A number of letters were read from the sick, thanking for flowers; also one from Mrs. Martin, thanking the Institute for lovely flowers sent them on their 50th wedding anniversary.

It was moved and seconded, that we have a play in the near future. Also that the Institute hold a Needlework course when Miss Powell could come. Carried.

A committee was appointed to look after the programme when on a visit to Wilton Institute, namely Miss W. Clark, Mrs. W. J. Snider, Mrs. Denyes and Mrs. C. Snider. Also a committee, namely Mrs. S. Sproule and Mrs. Elgin Parrott, to look about buying some new chairs for the Institute.

Mrs. Mabee, our member of Local Council, told of the Convention of Local Council to be held at La Salle Hotel, in Kingston, and delegates were named to go.

Community singing was enjoyed, then all were entertained by a very interesting debate, "Resolved that a home in the country is a more desirable place for a retired farmer to live than a home in the city". Affirmative, Mrs. S. Denyes, Mrs. Roy Hartman. Negative, Mrs. J. L. Clark, Mrs. H. Caton. Many good points were given, and the judges, Mrs. E. Wright, Miss H. Card and Miss Leatherland, found it a very difficult task to judge the winning side, the decision being only one point gained by the affirmative side.

This very interesting meeting was brought to a close by community singing, and a dainty lunch served by Mrs. Reel Hartman, Mrs. J. L. Clark and Mrs. H. Caton.

Presentation and Address.

To Mr. and Mrs. McFarlane,
Empey Hill.

We, your friends and neighbours, have gathered here this evening to express our regret at your departure from our midst.

You will be greatly missed in the district in which you have been residing. You have lived among us, and your leaving brings to mind the saying that our loss in this community is another's gain. We hope that as you leave you will have pleasant memories of your life here, and that you will return as often as is possible. Your many friends wish for you the greatest success in your new home.

We ask you to accept this token of remembrance, not for its intrinsic value, but for the spirit in which it is given.

REIDVILLE

(For last week).

Residents of Reidville and surrounding community were greatly shocked and saddened by the sudden and unexpected death of Claude Doupe, which took place on Saturday afternoon, at his home, from gas explosion. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon at his home church, and was largely attended. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The deepest sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. H. Doupe and family in their sad bereavement.—The W. M. S. meets at the home of Mrs. A. Pingland on Thursday afternoon.—Mrs. J. Hannah returned from London on Monday.—Miss Bernice Cousins spent the week end with Miss A. Hutchins.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

Husband—Is that woman I saw you talking to a fitting associate for you?
Wife—She's fitting all right; she's my dressmaker.

The Oil for the Farmer—A bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil in the farm house will save many a journey for the doctor. It is not only good for the children when taken with colds and croup, and for the mature who suffer from pains and aches, but there are directions for its use on sick cattle. There should always be a bottle of it in the house.

Doctor—After a conference with my three colleagues on this case, we each give you a year to live.

Patient—Is that sentence to run concurrently or consecutively?

The Poor Man's Friend—Put up in small bottles that are easily portable and sold for a very small sum, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil possesses power in concentrated form. Its cheapness and the varied uses to which it can be put make it the poor man's friend. No dealer's stock is complete without it.

"The man who gives in when he is wrong," said the orator, "is a wise man, but he who gives in when he is right is"—"Married," said a weak voice from the back.

For years Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator has ranked as a reliable worm preparation and it always maintains its reputation.

"What are you going to do on your vacation?"

"Going on a Roman holiday."

"What's that?"

"Oh, just going Roman around the country."

The ease with which corns and warts can be removed by Holloway's Corn Remover is its strongest recommendation. It seldom fails.

Sleep is the great nourisher of infants, and without peaceful sleep the child will not thrive. This cannot be got if the infant be troubled with worms. Miller's Worm Powders will destroy worms and drive them from the system, and afterwards the child's rest will be undisturbed. The powders cannot injure the most delicate baby, and there is nothing so effective for restoring the health of a wormworn infant.

Says Manitoba Man After Taking Dodd's Kidney Pills

Albert Green Suffered With Backache and Urinary Troubles.

Minnedosa, Man., Mar 11th. (Special)—"I was greatly troubled with Backache and Urinary troubles," writes Mr. A. Green, a well-known resident of this place. "I was told to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and to my surprise after taking the first box I was relieved of the pains in my back. From now onward I will always keep to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

That Mr. Green's trouble came from his kidneys is evidenced by the relief he got from Dodd's Kidney Pills. They are purely and simply a kidney remedy. Many men and women suffer periodically with backache, and, as middle age approaches, the pain increases in severity. Rest may give temporary relief, but Dodd's Kidney Pills do much more than this. They strengthen the weak kidneys and remove the cause of the pain.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have restored sound health to thousands of troubled men and women. Give them a trial at once.

The food problem, especially with regard to our children, is a trouble some one. (Daily paper).
How shall we feed the growing child
To make him good and great?
Too little protein makes him mild
And most effeminate.
Whilst too much carbo-hydrate food
Will make him quarrelsome and rude.
Ye fathers, watch the stripling's lunch;
For otherwise he'll go and punch
Some inoffensive head.
Whereas a lack of butcher's meat
Will render him too sickly sweet.
I sympathize with your distress,
Pond parents; for, you see,
While bread will cause faint-heartedness
And beef pugnacity,
Better do as the Spartans did—
Be warned in time and starve the kid.

Ontario Legislature

Particularly healthy condition of Ontario's finances was never more strikingly exemplified than through the medium of the budget tabled in the Legislature this week by Hon. Dr. J. D. Monteith, Provincial Treasurer.

As a result of careful administration and watchful economy the Provincial Treasurer was able to present to the House a budget showing a surplus of $228,000 for the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1928, and to forecast another surplus of about $198,000 for the fiscal year of 1929.

Ordinary revenue for the fiscal year of 1928 was $58,426,982.00 and ordinary expenditure $58,198,746.00.

To create the surplus estimated for 1929 the treasurer will make an estimated expenditure of $58,508,000, and will receive an estimated revenue of $58,426,982.

Increasing the gasoline tax from three to five cents a gallon—to follow up the principle that those who use the roads should pay for them—will net the government considerably more money to carry on the extension of the highway system of the province. It is estimated that the revenue to the Highways Department for the fiscal year of 1929 will reach $15,500,000, or some $2,700,000 more than last year.

Features of the budget were the payment of $1,300,000 into the Treasury by the T. & N. O. Railway; the Hydro's payments of some $8,000,000 in interest; and $8,000,000 worth of revenue from the sale of liquors under the Liquor Control Act. Surplus assets of the province were some $33,000,000 higher than its liabilities.

System of debt retirement instituted by the Conservative government has not been neglected. As a result some $3,000,000 (Three Million Dollars) was applied in this direction. This makes a total retirement of $6,000,000 since the plan was placed in operation.

Astounding the fact that the government was making every effort to reduce the debt of the province the Provincial Treasurer stated that the government had lived up to its undertaking in this connection. In addition, both short and long term financing had been carried out in splendid fashion, interest charges being kept well within control.

Interesting sidelight in the budget was the report that during the fiscal year 2,760,000 motor cars had entered Ontario to swell the tourist population. It was estimated that these tourists, in addition to the 11,144,000 estimated to have entered by other means, expended $103,000,000 during the year with great benefit to all classes of the community.

During the year the Department of Education, under the direction of Premier Ferguson, expended something over $10,000,000. Chief items of expenditure were grants to public and separate schools as well as Provincial Universities which amounted to more than $7,000,000. In addition over $1,000,000 was expended in advancing technical education.

Ordinary expenditure last year in the Department of Public Highways was upward of $4,500,000. Outstanding items of expenditure were: County Roads, $1,193,000; Township Roads, $850,000; Provincial Highways, $1,857,000. Revenue from the department was substantial being approximately $6,500,000 from the sale of automobile licenses; $4,600,000 from the gasoline tax, and $500,000 in refunds from counties and townships.

Presenting his budget Hon. Dr. Monteith pointed out that loans to farmers at the end of the fiscal year 1928 amounted to $19,500,000. Since the beginning of the service loans to the extent of $27,000,000 have been passed on. Number of loans passed in 1928 was 1,567 as compared with 7,254 during the existence of the law. In 1928 loans amounting to $5,670,000 were approved, on property valued at $13,000,000.

Position of the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission is reported as being exceptionally strong. Total indebtedness of the Commission is placed at $200,000,000. Of this amount the Commission is indebted directly to the province to the extent of $155,000,000 the balance being guaranteed by the province on bond issues. In addition to paying $2,000,000 to the government on interest the Commission has a reserve of $35,000,000.

During a period of years there has been a reduction of $2,000,000 in taxes which represents, practically, one per cent on the capital indebtedness of the province.

Gross debt of the province at the end of the fiscal year is $393,741,000. After deducting assets of an income-producing nature the net debt is rated at $173,793,000.

Supplementary Estimates for the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1929, tabled in the Legislature during the week amount to $15,071,001. Of this amount $10,337,175 is estimated as the expenditure of the Prime Minister's Department. This vote takes in the estimates of the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission for a period. Some of the other votes to be requested of the House are Education department, $1,346,752; Highways, $1,804,747, and $187,010 for the Department of Agriculture.

Estimates of the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission provide for the expenditure of $2,700,000 for the purpose of securing an adequate supply of power for Northern Ontario. The vote is to care for the expenditure made necessary in the taking over of the Wahnapitae Power Company and for the extension of service now given by this Company. It is the intention of the government to link up several power companies in the public ownership system in order that the settlers of the north may have the same advantages as the more densely settled sections of the province.

Estimated expenditure in connection with the Niagara System of the Commission is placed at $3,565,407 for the year ending 1929. This expenditure is necessary as the result of the constantly increasing demand for power. Some $300,000 will be expended on the Georgian Bay system; $518,800 on the St. Lawrence and Ottawa systems; $800,000 on the Thunder Bay system; $40,000 on the Central Ontario system; and $400,000 for general administration.

Of particular interest to the farmers of Ontario is an estimate of $3,000 brought down by the Department of Agriculture for the purpose of providing funds for the carrying on of the work in growing, exhibiting and advertising the fruit grown in Ontario. In addition to this sum $1,300 is to be set aside to encourage the use of better seed.

14,000,000 TREES FOR DISPOSAL IN 1929

Toronto, March 1st, 1929.

To the Editor of Napanee Beaver.

Dear Sir,—Readers of your paper will be interested in knowing that the Ontario Government, through the Ontario Forestry Branch, is continuing its offer of free trees for all residents in the Province who wish to plant up waste areas on their farms, or to establish a windbreak. For some time now this programme has been carried on with increasing interest on the part of landowners until last year nearly 5,000 persons accepted trees from the Government.

With the steady increase in applicants the number of trees has necessarily increased until this year there are 14,000,000 trees available for the various reforestation projects being carried on by the Forestry Branch.

In reminding your readers of this work it should be made clear that all such trees are sent out for the two purposes mentioned above, and are not intended for decorative work such as lawn and hedge planting or for planting along fences.

Each resident of the Province can get 4,000 trees each year by paying the express from the nearest Government nursery which are situated in Norfolk, Simcoe, Durham, Prince Edward and Grenville counties. Or, if a person prefers to do so, he may call and get the trees at the nursery.

In some cases men are planting more than the free allotment each year and for such work additional quantities are supplied at $4.00 per thousand.

It may be of interest to you and your readers to know that last year thirteen people in your county received trees from us, who, all told, planted 24,400 trees. It is to be hoped that even more residents of your county will this year become interested in this pleasant and profitable work.

Information pertaining to reforestation, either for private planters or for municipal work, as well as application forms for trees, may be had from the Ontario Forestry Branch, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

Yours very truly,
Arthur Herbert Richardson,
Forester in Charge of Reforestation.

The First Vegetables.

Radishes, spinach, lettuce, early peas, and onions are staple crops of the early gardener, and are the first fruits of his labor. The radish crop can be sown at one time now instead of the usual repetitions, with an extra early, early, mid-season and late variety, all going in together, but maturing in succession. The same varieties can be put in two weeks later and the work is done for the season. Head lettuce should be sprouting in boxes or hotbeds by this time to be ready to transplant into permanent quarters as soon as it is safe to do so. Many gardeners refuse to bother with headless head lettuce any longer and have taken to the cos variety. This grows upright, with long leaves which enclose the heart, and it is self blanching. A little tying up will hasten the process. The new spinaches, which will grow and grow without going to seed, are a big advance over the old types. They give a bigger and better supply of leaves and some can be cut down to within an inch of the ground and will grow up again. These new varieties are called King of Denmark and New Zealand. White Portugal and any of the Globe varieties are now popular. Onions and can be easily grown from seed. These may be used green or for pickling. There are half a dozen good early peas and any one of them will give satisfaction. All vegetables must be grown quickly if they are to be crisp when brought to the table. A check in growth makes them tough. To prevent such an occurrence, especially when the weather is inclined to be cool it is well to apply some quickly available fertilizer such as nitrate of soda. This may be raked in between the rows at the rate of a scant handful to the square yard, or it may be dissolved in water, a tablespoonful to the gallon and applied with the ordinary watering can. Care must be used when applying dry that none of the fertilizer is allowed to rest on the leaves of the plants as it is liable to burn. If the hose is turned on immediately after the nitrate has been sprinkled over the garden or if the job is carried out just before a rain or during one, there will be no chance of any injury.

Useful Information.

The gardener will find much useful and interesting information in one or two of the best seed catalogues and the Government bulletins. The Department of Agriculture at Ottawa has four of these which the writer has found indispensable. These are: "Annual Flowers", "Hardy Roses", "Herbaceous Perennials" and "Ornamental Trees, Shrubs and Woody Climbers". Vegetable problems will be answered by letter or put out by the Provincial Departments of Agriculture. The villager or farmer with a fair-sized piece of land or his city cousin will find the information in these special vegetable bulletins a great help as they go into the whole business in much detail. Little known vegetables which should be more popular are described with planting directions while special chapters are devoted to hotbeds, cold frames, fertilizers, insects, diseases, irrigation, soils, and location.

Roses.

Roses must have good drainage and it is best to give some protection in the form of fences, shrubbery or buildings on the north side. They should, however, be planted two or three feet in front of these wind breaks so that they will get full sun. Plant hybrid perpetuals three feet apart and hybrid teas two. The roots should be spread out when planting and the earth firmed well about the stocks. The point at which the roses are budded (union of stock and scion) should be buried two inches below the surface of the soil. They should be in their permanent position as soon as possible which will mean digging the soil eighteen inches deep, working in humus and well-rotted manure, preferably cow manure, just as soon as one can get on the land without the shoes getting muddy.

Asparagus.

Asparagus is easy to grow and once established furnishes a supply of delicious vegetable which is worth real money when one goes out to buy it. For a small bed, it is best to buy two-year old roots, but in the average-sized garden the most economical way is to start the plantation from seed. The Washington variety is generally conceded the best. A bed may be established in three years from seed and in two from roots. The seed should be soaked in warm water for twenty-four hours before planting and sown in drills outside as soon as the ground can be worked, as it is rather slow to germinate. The plants should be allowed to grow in the seed row for a season, and the following season the strongest and straightest shoots should be selected to form the bed. The plants should be spaced two feet apart, in rows four feet apart, or three feet each way.

ENTERPRISE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The Enterprise Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. H. Wagar, on February 22nd, with a goodly number of members in attendance. The meeting opened with the Lord's Prayer, the singing of the Ode and "O, Canada".

With the President, Mrs. V. H. Olliver, in the chair, much business was attended to, and committees appointed to carry out our activities for March. The roll call, your favorite author and book, was responded to heartily.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. Letters were read from shut-ins, thanking the Institute for the flowers and candy donated to them at Christmas time.

A helpful letter from our District President was read and appreciated; also one from the League of Nations, Mrs. Geo. Penwick, Sr., being selected to represent this branch of the Institute. It was decided to donate the sum of $2.00 for the benefit of the Welsh miners, also $5.00 towards a worthy local cause.

An excellent paper on "Current Events", was read by Mrs. J. McGregor, showing much care in the preparation, followed by a number of short but interesting items by different members of the Society.

Mrs. E. R. Wilson entertained with a vocal solo, "Old Pals Are the Best Pals After All", which was beautifully rendered and much enjoyed.

All entered heartily into the contest which followed, also in the Community singing, and the meeting closed with "The Maple Leaf", to meet again in March, at the home of Mrs. Byron Cronk.

Spring Makes Her Debut in the Store - -

The Newer Themes in Smart Apparel Make Official Bow on Thursday and following days

THE second floor salons invite your inspection on Thursday of the new coats, dresses and millinery for Spring. There are many things of interest that you will be anxious to discover.

Superbly unaffected by her importance, Spring whisks into the store in an effulgence of color—warm, soft pastels and brilliantly sophisticated higher tones, or perhaps clever combinations of the two. Never did Spring so lavishly endow apparel. New styles strike a new note in their charming individuality. Come Thursday and you will revel in the smart Spring modes!

SALESPEOPLE in the ready-to-wear departments have familiarized themselves with the highlights of the present vogue and are ready to disburse this knowledge to patrons of the store. Come Thursday and become acquainted with the styles for Spring.

Accessories that Imply Distinction

Hosiery Follows the Color Vogue

THE vogue for "sun-tan" has gathered momentum until it has become one of the most discussed style angles for Spring. Naturally, hosiery, seeking new channels for expression, has adopted this fascinating shade. A rich tone that harmonizes or contrasts beautifully. See it at the store.

Handbags Contrast and Harmonize

MODERNISM imparts a new distinction to handbags. Leathers cleverly worked in light and dark effects—cunningly intricate arrangements — in colors both bright and subdued.

Shoes Feature smart Sophisiry of Line

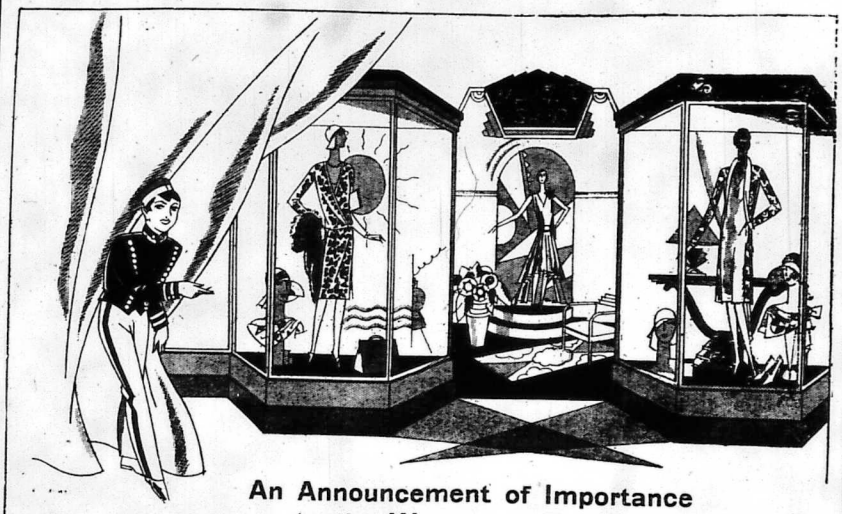
FOOTWEAR for Spring shows trim simplicity of design, keeping the pump still in high favor, though the strap and tie are prominently shown. See the newer models at the store on Thursday. Select the correct pair now to complete your Spring ensemble.

Scarves Can Add Materially to the Clever Tailleur

THERE'S something appealing and splendidly bizarre about the scarves for Spring. Modern patterns predominate in new and startlingly original effects that appear tremendously impressive with the new costume.

A Gay Flower Adds Jaunty Assurance

MOST spring coats require the enlivening influence of a pert little group of flowers, a boutonniere or spray. Delicate tones or richly wild shades vie with each other to adorn milady's spring coat.



An Announcement of Importance to the Woman of Fashion

Fashion Again Does Fascinating Things to Millinery

A veritable pageant is the Spring presentation of the new and smart in headwear. Fashion never tires of experimenting with millinery and her every effort seems to add more insouciant poise — more sophisticated chic — more becomingness. A slash in the brim — a smart off-the-face effect — a sudden dip — a flare at one side. Straws are used effectively. Of course, the shades are in keeping with the modern passion for color. See the display on Thursday!

The Ensemble

Rules the Fashion World This Spring

UNQUESTIONABLY a light of a vogue that has presented a magnificent selection of features..the ensemble, after constant endeavour, has finally reached a point when it will be carefully considered in choosing the Spring costume. Coat linings to match dress—novel scarf ties to match, etc., are but a few of the many ensemble effects featured for Spring.

The Tailored Suit

Is Emphatically Adopted by the Fashion Wise

IN high favor..in fact one of the really important highlights of the season..is the overwhelming demand for the tailored suit..of fine, light tweeds. This trig costume has taken on new properties that relieve its masculine severity of former years. Worn with the favored blouse, it is a costume that commends itself most fittingly for Spring.

Blouses

Strike a Sympathetic Chord With the Tailored Suit

IT was inevitable that the blouse should ascend to a high pedestal in fashion's favor —the common style of a few years past has given way to entrancing effects that add smart finish to the costume. In high shades, the effect is doubly convincing.

Coats

Favor the Princess Line

IT'S tweed this Spring..the smartest coat designers are choosing it to model coats that are swaggerishly beautiful. Of course the princess silhouette has made a profound impression — its slim, carefully moulded lines carry a certain debonair chic highly flattering to so many women.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Malcolm A. McQuaig, who died March 15th, 1921.
One beautiful morn at opening of day,
A voice was calling that seemed to say:
"Ye that are weary come and rest
Lay down thy head upon my breast.
Come follow me, and I will guide
Thy footsteps on the Jordan's side."
One loved one heard the sweet command,
And tenderly took the Saviour's hand.
God knows how much we miss him,
He counts the tears we shed.
And when we reach Heaven, he only sleeps
Your loved one is not dead."
In Heaven there was a vacant seat,
An empty crown was there,
The angels' eyes were turned to earth
In search of one the crown to wear.
They fell on one too good for earth,
Your loved one dear.
They took him home to Heaven
And left us lonely here.
Sadly missed by Father, Mother, Sister and Brother. 11ap

IN MEMORIAM.

In fond and loving memory of our dear husband and father, Jacob Clancy, who passed away on March 13th, 1927.
March brings and memories
Of a loved one gone to rest,
Who will always be remembered
By ones who loved him best.
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Tears in silence often flow;
Memories keep you ever near us
Though you went two years ago.
Ever remembered by his Wife and Family.

ERNESTTOWN

The March lamb has turned out to be a lion, judging by the severe cold weather we are having this week-end. — Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mott and family Sunday-ed at Mr. Joel Kellar's. — A number from here attended the funeral on Sunday of Mrs. Stewart Paul, who has been living in our community for a number of years before moving to Napanee. — Mr. and Mrs. Horace Denyes Sunday-ed with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Spring.—Our school is closed for a few weeks, owing to the illness of our teacher, Miss Dina Glenn. — Mrs. Fred Hamm attended the Local Council of Women in Kingston on Thursday last. — Mr. and Mrs. Claude Thompson had dinner on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. I. Robinson, Bath. — Don't forget the March meeting of the Ladies' Aid will be at the home of Mrs. Bert Smith on Wednesday, March 20th. — Miss Minnie Clark spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Norman Hamm.—A meeting of the Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. Wm. Chaplin on Thursday, March 14th — Mr. Wm. Amey, of Kingston, is spending a few days with Mr. Stephen Amey. — Much sympathy is extended to Mr. Thos. Creighton in his recent sad bereavement in the loss of his father. — Mr. Jim Pleatt has secured a position in Kingston. We wish him every success.

CROYDON

Two very sad deaths occured in our vicinity within a few hours, when death claimed Cloule, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Doupe on Saturday noon, March 2nd, and on Sunday night, March 3rd, death claimed Marion, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hughes. —Both families have the sympathy of the whole community in this, their sad bereavement.—Mrs. Kelusky and daughter, Leola of Bancroft attended the funeral of the late Marion Hughes and remained a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Hughes and family.— Mr. Kelusky, Mrs. Davey and Mrs. Fuller were visitors at Mr. Hughes' and Mr. Ed. Hamish's. — Mr. Raymond Campbell and Mrs. Vera Galbraith are visiting friends in Kingston. — Misses Agnes and Elizabeth Nolan entertained a few intimate friends to ice cream and cake on Saturday evening. — Mrs. John Kring has returned home from Napanee. — Mr. W. B. TAMWORTH

At time of writing the weather is very disagreeable in this part of the country. — Mrs. Jim Donovan is spending a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Alvin Smale, of Warkworth. — We are sorry to say there is very little improvement in Mr. W. G. Richmond's condition after being confined to his bed for the past week.—The formation of a Communicants' Class for the Confirmation was announced at the Sunday evening service in the United Church. — The Ladies' Aid met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. White, with a good attendance. It was decided to hold an apron shower at the April meeting at the home of Mrs. Clare Wagar. It was also decided to have the Enterprise Ladies' Aid bring their play "The Absent-Minded Bridegroom," here for March 20th, to be given in the town hall. — The W.M.S. is preparing an Easter Entertainment for Good Friday.

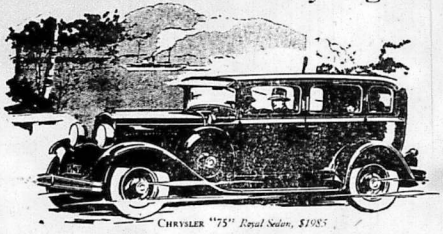
You'll be proud of the Chrysler "75"
—no matter where you go



CHRYSLER "75" Royal Sedan, $1085

THERE'S an air of consummate quality and distinction in the Chrysler "75" that no experienced motorist can fail to appreciate.

In style, the Chrysler "75" stands out as the fashion-plate of its field. It sparkles with an original and authentic type of beauty that is irresistible.

And in performance, the Chrysler "75" has a vigor and virility of action that place it as far ahead today as the original Chrysler was four years ago. And no car in all the world is easier to handle—with pivotal-steering—balanced front wheels—and the easy, positive action of weather-proof four-wheel hydraulic brakes, the safest brakes ever developed by engineers.

You will be proud of a Chrysler "75" anywhere you go—you'll be complimented for owning one. And mingled with your enjoyment will be the solid satisfaction of getting so much value for your investment.

New Chrysler "75"—Nine body styles, $1025 to $1095. New Chrysler "65"—Six body styles, $1325 to $1465. New Chrysler Imperial—Five custom body styles, $1545 to $1625. All prices f.o.b. Windsor, Ontario, including standard factory equipment (freight and taxes extra).

Minister—"I wish to announce that on Wednesday evening the Ladies' Aid will have a rummage sale. This is a chance for all the ladies of the congregation to get rid of anything that is not worth keeping, but is too good to be thrown away. Don't forget to bring your husbands."

I do not know whether the American universities have established a faculty of bridge, but in the schools of Cleveland the bridgemaster is now an established fact. Soon, I hope, we shall hear of a substantial decline in those harrowing American divorce cases in which ground for divorce has been trumping your wife's ace or overcalling your husband's bid!

PEER LOOKS IN AT CIRCUS IN LONDON

I have seen sheep in Bond street, cattle in Park street, and clubmen in their second childhood, but it is only just lately that I spied for the first time some elephants sauntering down Addison road, writes Lord Castlerose in the London Daily Express.

Ever since a damp afternoon some thirty years ago I have wanted to see how a circus looked from the inside. So I got on to my old friend, Serg.-Major Smythe, who used to be in the Irish Guards. I did not know it was he to start with, but when I found out I hurried away to Earl's Court.

"Where are the Clowns?" I asked Sergeant-Major Smythe.

"Pay-Day," he replied.

Rather dashed at this I asked if I could be shown around.

"I'm not really in the circus business," said the Sergeant-major. "I'm only lent—still, those are the bears in those wagons—they are kept outside because they like the cold."

Just then a stout man came along. "Mr. Ginnett—the ringmaster," said Smythe, and we introduced.

We turned the corner and nearly fell over the most dilapidated Ford that ever left Detroit.

Flaming Jack.

"That's Flaming Jack's," remarked Mr. Ginnett, "but let us look at the horses—my family have always been in the circus business but invariably in the horse line. Its Irish that we are. It isn't difficult to train a horse—you must watch him, talk to him, study him, see what he wants to do. My father bought a horse from Joe Widger that had taught itself to walk a plank across a ditch, and we brought him on till he could walk a tight rope."

I looked at the horses—two long rows of them. They were starting with some great Percherons and finishing with some tiny little shetland ponies, which tailed off to a foal the size of a retriever dog.

Suddenly Effektor, one of the Shetlands, seized Heinerie and bit him in the neck. One of the attendants rushed between them with a loud German expression, and crooned over his pet, I caught Effektor's eye, and I believe he was laughing.

As we stood up came a tall, dark, carnivorous-looking man, wearing a coat with a fur collar, and a check cap. Prieto was his name, a Mexican by birth, and a bear trainer by profession. He has travelled over the whole world—continent to continent, country to country, town to town, but always with a circus.

"My father counsellor, he die poor, me young—yes, often wounded. Six months hospital last year—frightened, no—frightened fatal—no fright-ened."

"Tell me, Mr. Preito."I said, "Is it true that you animal trainers fix a savage beast with your eye?" —for, in-deed, this remarkable-looking man had the appearance of an eagle.

"That eye business no good, may be animal no heard about it. Live with animals, understand, watch, sympathize, he always there—that's the secret."

Circus people Mr. Ginnett told me, are always travelling, but meet at Christmas for large shows like this. "We are a happy lot—very abstemious and proper—you can't afford a weak nerve with animals.

"There is an unwritten law that if a trainer is in a difficulty with an animal any real circus man goes straight to his assistance without thinking of his own safety. I have never known one to flinch, though sometimes it costs a man his life." With that Mr. Ginnett lifted a curtain, and we were with the elephants who were swaying backwards and forwards like pendulums.

Cheeky Elephants

"Couldn't they get away?" I asked.

"Certainly, if they knew their power, which they do not—but, anyway they are so sensible. That old fellow on the right keeps order. If one of the other elephants get cheeky we call him in, and he gives him a good hiding."

As we were talking there was a disturbance. I thought a lion had escaped, but it turned out to be Mr. Peterson, the lion tamer.

"Doze lights! Dey go out—I cannot feed my lions."

"All right!" said Sergeant Smythe—which, of course, means it was all right.

I watched the lions being fed—it was an exciting business—and then we looked at the two lion cubs.

"Dear little things," said Mr. Ginnett; "just handle them—they're weaker than any kitten."

Weaker Than Kittens.

I noticed Serg-Major Smythe did not handle them.

"I saw those fellers crack a bone the size of a piano leg yesterday, I'm thinking they might forget to be weaker than kittens," he explained.

We turned around, and there was Mr. Peterson having his tea with his wife—just like you and I might.

Hullo! here's Mr. Strassburger, who owns all the animals—he's a dark, quiet man.

"It could be that he had not time to make a noise," said Sergeant—Major Smythe.

Last year Mr. Strassburger went to Russia.

"Was business good there?" I asked.

"No!" —we hired pr the state —no body came except Sundays—the food good and cheap—houses terrible—just a corner a man.

"I arrive in tall hat and collar and man say to me, "All equal here," I say, "Fine," but make contractin dollars all the same.

"Men equal may be—paper money unequl certainly. Railways shocking twenty-one days from Odessa to Germany—all men equal, all very slow —75 kilometres a day—I in a hurry often walk."

I fancy Mr. Strassburger's animals will make a fine showing.

A Dangerous Month For The Baby

Mothers Always Dread the Blustery March Days

No month of the year is so dangerous to the welfare of little ones as is March — the month of quickly changing weather. One day is fine, the next cold and blustery. One day dry, the next wet and disagreeable. In spite of all precautions the little ones will take colds and these colds often lead to more serious troubles. Mothers, when the first symptoms appear—sneezing, redness of the eyes, running nose — Baby's Own Tablets should be given at once. They will rapidly break up the cold and prevent the more serious complications.

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house always feel safe — just like having a doctor in the house. The Tablets are a gentle but thorough laxative that sweetens the stomach and regulate the bowels, thus driving out constipation and indigestion and relieving the baby of the many childhood ailments which are the direct result of a clogged condition of the bowels or a sour stomach.

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Would not be Without Zutoo Tablets At Any Cost

Mr. A. O. Nortou, the millionaire Jack Manufacturer, of Boston, who recently died, was a great "booster" for Zutoo Tablets.

He suffered from headaches from childhood and when he found Zutoo Tablets stopped these headaches in a few minutes and left no bad effect, he began recommending them to his family and friends. In an unsolicited letter, Mr. Norton says in closing:

"My family use them when ever needed with equally good results. I have frequently given them to friends who were suffering from Headache and they never failed to give quick relief. I always carry Zutoo Tablets in my grip on the road and WOULD NOT BE WITHOUT THEM AT ANY COST."

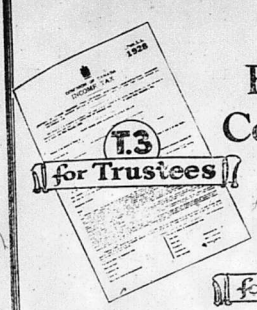
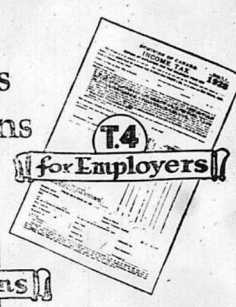
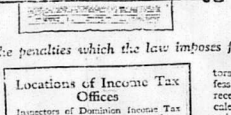
Are due March 31, 1929

This advertisement is directed to:

Trustees
Employers
Corporations







Do not incur the penalties which the law imposes for delay.

What is Required of Persons Acting as Trustees

All trustees, executors, administrators, assignees, receivers or persons acting in a fiduciary capacity are required to make a detailed return of the income of the estate or trust which they represent.

This return should be made on Form T3.

What is Required of Employers

Each employer in Canada must make a return giving particulars of salaries, wages, commissions, fees, bonuses and other remuneration of all directors, officials, agents, employees, professional men or other persons who received $1,000 or more during the calendar year 1928, and who were paid at a rate of wage or salary (including bonus) equal to $1,500 or more per annum during the same period.

Employers should ask for Form T4.

Locations of Income Tax Offices

Inspectors of Dominion Income Tax are located in convenient places throughout Canada. They will comply promptly with written requests for information. They will supply you with the proper forms upon which to make returns. Consult the Income Tax Office nearest to you. Address "Inspector of Dominion Income Tax." The offices are at:

The March meeting of the W. M. S. met on Wednesday afternoon, March 6th, at the home of Mrs. Geo. Ruttan, with an attendance of sixteen members and one visitor. The President was in charge of the meeting. The hymn, "Fight the Good Fight", was sung. Miss M. Magee as organist, after which Mrs. W. J. Magee offered Prayer. The Scripture lesson from St. John's Gospel, Chap. 6, was read by Mrs. Geo. Ruttan. All joined in singing the hymn, "I Gave My Life For Thee". The Secretary gave the minutes of the last meeting, after which the Treasurer gave an encouraging report. There are more paid members this early in the year than has been reported for some time. Miss A. Ruttan sang by request, "How the Old Account was Settled Long Ago". Miss L. Carr then gave an appropriate reading for the Lenten season. Miss A. Ruttan then favoured the meeting with another solo, "Where the Pure Leaded Clover Grows". The Heralds for China and the Indian work reported. Miss Lillian Carr read a fine paper on Christian Stewardship. The chapter in the Study Book, "Drums in the Darkness", was in charge of Mrs. W. J. Magee. Mrs. A. C. Davis was appointed Literature Secretary for our Society. It was decided that we should give a sacred drama at Easter. The roll call was responded to by a verse of Scripture, "A Missionary Command on Giving". The Easter thankoffering envelopes were distributed to the members present. The meeting adjourned to meet in April, at the home of Mrs. Robt. Cousins. The Mizpah benediction was repeated in unison. The hostess then served refreshments, and a social half hour was enjoyed by all.

SHOULD INCREASE BOUNTY ON WOLVES

A minister should settle the dispute over the merits of a bounty on wolves. In government circles there is now an impression that a bounty of $15 is sufficient. On the other hand, hunters, who, from their trips through the bush, should be in a position to know the facts, declare that wolves annually kill more deer than they do, while game wardens state that wolves are following deer further south out of the bush country than at any time within the past forty years. They insist that a drive upon wolves is necessary and that the bounty should be greatly increased. It would be a sad loss to the province if during argument and counter-argument the deer were depleted. A minister at the head of the department could settle the question before the province runs any such risk. Our fish and game resources can be made of much greater value through a minister responsible for their development.

A BOON TO SHOPPERS

How disastrous it is when you forget to buy sugar, tea, or some other important article and only discover your mistake after closing time!

A British firm has now brought out an automatic machine which will prevent such minor tragedies. The machine works on the principle of most slot-machines, but in this instance each article will have a small, glass-fronted cupboard, which can be opened by inserting a suitable coin in the slot.

The design makes the machine suitable for almost any type of business but it will be particularly useful for foodstuffs. During shop hours it can be used for goods in constant demand, thus saving the customer's time.

Those at business during the day will find the idea very useful, as very few can manage to arrive home before the shops close.

"Do you read all the health hints?" "Not all," answered Mr. Shuggins. "In my efforts to keep out of the hospital I limit myself to a study of the traffic regulations."

Gas Made Her Cross, Can't Eat or Sleep

"When I ate I would bloat up with gas. I couldn't sleep, was cross and nervous. Adlerika has given me real relief."—Mrs. M. Meyer.

Adlerika relieves stomach gas and sourness in TEN minutes. Acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, it removes old waste matter you never thought was in your system. Let Adlerika give your stomach and bowels a REAL cleansing and see how much better you feel. A surprise you! Wallace's Drug Store.

DOMINION RECORDS

The last Blue Book issued by the Dominion Government giving Criminal statistics, contains some interesting information up to and including 1927. Boys still continue to be greater offenders than girls. The report shows that 3,478 Boys and only 143 Girls were offenders during that year. From this it may be deduced that parents with girl children are less likely to have worries than if their children are boys.

Trials by Jury 1,087; trial by Judges without a Jury 2,997; trials by Magistrates of Indictable Offence (P. XI) 19,479; trials by Magistrates of non Indictable offences 193,240.

It would appear that trial by jury in criminal cases has become very infrequent.

Trials in Juvenile Courts (Convicted, acquitted or otherwise disposed of number 33,782. Only a small number were actually convicted).

At the end of 1927 there were 7,964 persons in the various penal institutions of the country.

There were 44,500 persons who actually underwent sentence during that year in these institutions.

79.94 per cent of all trials resulted in convictions.

Of the convictions for Indictable Offences only 10.7 per cent were women. So that women are still the better behaved of the two sexes.

Last Saturday evening the Women's Institute held the first of a series of progressive euchre parties that are planned for every two weeks. There were ten tables in play, and a very enjoyable time spent. Refreshments were served after the games were over. The prizes were won by Miss Bertha Graham and Frederick Vrooman. Last year the Institute took over the responsibility of the Library and it has been run very successfully. Very few villages have the number of high class books, and those parties are to raise money for its upkeep, a very worthy cause. They are held in the Library and reading room. The small sum of twenty-five cents gives you an evening's amusement, a chance to win a prize, and a very nice lunch.—James McLelland is moving on the Edward Hagerman farm on the Highway, near Morven, and Stanley Fraser is moving on his farm, vacated by Mr. McLelland.—Floyd Whitmarsh is moving from the Clark farm to the Kelly Haverman farm.—John Rogers, Glenvale, is moving on his farm recently purchased from Wilbur Metzler, and Mr. McCormack, who vacated the Metzler farm, is moving on the Irvine Snider place.—Chester Card has purchased the cottages on the Tourist Camp from Sherman Bond.—Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Gibson, Lynn, spent a few days last week the guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Hamm.—James Aylsworth, Madoc, also spent Sunday with them.—The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Smeathers were pleased to hear that their little three-year-old daughter, Jean, is recovering nicely from pneumonia.—The W. M. S. met at the home of Mrs. Wm. Lake, last Wednesday afternoon, and had a very large attendance, seventy-five members and visitors being present. The program given by the Wilton W. M. S., was very much enjoyed.—The Sunday School of the United Church held a banquet last Tuesday night in their rooms, which was very much enjoyed by all. About ninety were seated at the tables. Rev. Mr. Beckel, Napanee, gave a very interesting talk on Sunday School work. There was an excellent program prepared for the occasion.—Miss Minnie Clark has opened a dressmaking parlor at the home of Mrs. Wm. Calder.

Last Saturday night the Literary Society of the Continuation School gave a concert in the Town Hall. The programme consisted of choruses, Cadet drill by boys and club drill by girls, song by Doreen Valentine and Ford Lawlor, and a two-act comedy, entitled "Polly Wants a Cracker". The following artists presented the play in a very creditable manner: Mr. Wayne, Mr. Cordick, Mary Verna Benjamin, Nora Rita Hagerman, Mrs. Wayne, Miss Jacques, Miss Neville Doris McNeely, Tommy Pratt, Ernest Smeathers. Inspector George McQuade. Between the acts, Egnest Smeathers sang two solos, and Miss Verna Benjamin, and Miss Rita Hagerman gave a choice vocal selection. The entertainment was brought to a close by a chorus given by the girls, and all joined in singing "God Save the King".

Undoubtedly one of this season's best plays, entitled "The Absent Minded Bridegroom", a farce, in three acts, was presented by the young people of the United Church, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid, in the Community Hall, Enterprise, on March 2nd. Everything that could be desired was to be had in the beautiful weather and splendid roads, motoring and sleighing both being good. The largest audience in recent history greeted the caste, and splendid order prevailed throughout, showing the appreciation of the crowd, even a number had to remain standing.

Every part was well acted and every member of the caste fitted into his or her role in outstanding manner. At no interval did interest lag, and the periods between acts were very brief, which was a splendid asset. The plot was well worked out, and the audience roared with mirth when the pseudo wife arrived on the scene with three children, claiming the cold-footed bridegroom for the head of their family. Thus beleagured by the false Mrs. Peterson and the police and alternately scorned and courted by the outraged widow, Timothy Shea is a comedy figure, and his wily crony, Pat Rooney, runs him a close second. The rollicking youth who impersonates Mrs. Peterson, and the calamity howling maid nicknamed Poison Ivy, together with the hard-boiled plain-clothes detective, and the matchmaking lovers, all make the play of Irish-American life an outstanding comedy of mirth throughout.

The caste of characters are :—

Timothy Shea, the bridegroom, a widower—Allan Burgess.

Pat Rooney, his crony and brother-in-law of bride—Allen Jackson.

Daphany Rooney, the bride, a widow—Miss Detta Bell.

Jimmy Rooney, Daphany's son—Roy Hartman.

Fred Grady, Jimmy's friend—Wellington Slade, a plain-clothes detective —Miles Jackson.

Nora Shea, Tim's daughter—Mrs. M. G. Jackson.

Kathleen O'Connor, Nora's friend—Mrs. R. Spanton.

Tessie Connors, Mrs. Rooney's maid —Mrs. M. E. Jackson.

The three children were played by Jean Sparks, Douglas Carscallen and Lewis Wagar.

Great credit is due Mrs. Grover Wagar, who so ably trained the caste in their respective roles.

The play will be presented in Tamworth Town Hall, on March 26th; in Colebrook, on March 28th, and also in Napanee, in Prince Charles Church Sunday School room, under the auspices of the Men's Bible Class, in the near future. Watch for dates. If you enjoy a good laugh, don't miss this play.

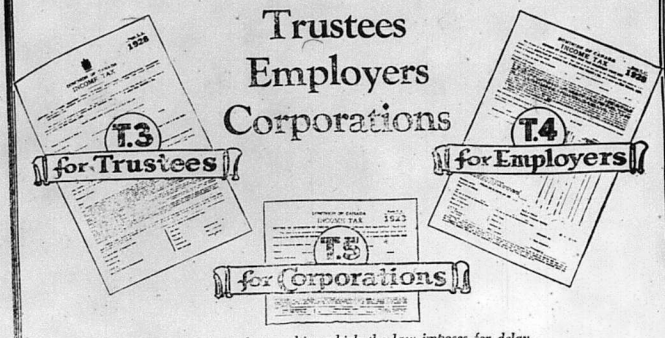
Dominion of Canada Income Tax Information Reports

Are due March 31, 1929

This advertisement is directed to:

Trustees
Employers
Corporations



Do not incur the penalties which the law imposes for delay.

What is Required of Persons Acting as Trustees

All trustees, executors, administrators, assignees, receivers or persons acting in a fiduciary capacity are required to make a detailed return of the income of the estate or trust which they represent.

This return should be made on Form T3.

What is Required of Employers

Each employer in Canada must make a return giving particulars of salaries, wages, commissions, fees, bonuses and other remuneration of all directors, officials, agents, employees, professional men or other persons who received $1,000 or more during the calendar year 1928, and who were paid at a rate of wage or salary (including bonus) equal to $1,500 or more per annum during the same period.

Employers should ask for Form T4.

Locations of Income Tax Offices

Inspectors of Dominion Income Tax are located in convenient places throughout Canada. They will gladly promptly with written requests for information. They will supply you with the proper forms upon which to make returns. Consult the Income Tax Office nearest to you. Address "Inspector of Dominion Income Tax."

The offices are at:

Halifax	Nova Scotia
Saint John	New Brunswick
Quebec City	Quebec
Montreal	Quebec
Ottawa	Ontario
Kingston	Ontario
Belleville	Ontario
Toronto	Ontario
Hamilton	Ontario
London	Ontario
Port William	Manitoba
Winnipeg	Manitoba
Regina	Saskatchewan
Prince Albert	Saskatchewan
Saskatoon	Saskatchewan
Calgary	Alberta
Edmonton	Alberta
Vancouver	British Columbia
Dawson	Yukon Territory

What is Required of Corporations

Every corporation in Canada is required to file a return of its dividends or shareholders' bonuses paid or credited during the calendar year 1928.

This return should be made on Form T5.

Get Your Forms at Once!

Blank forms may be obtained by writing your nearest Inspector of Dominion Income Tax, or Postmaster, or the Income Tax Division, Department of National Revenue, Ottawa. The addresses of inspectors are given herewith. Full instructions appear on each form.

Do not delay because of the absence of officials who generally sign such reports. Any responsible member of a firm or corporation, or any person acting as agent for the trustee, may sign these returns and so avoid the penalty.

March 31 is the last day for making information reports required under the Income War Tax Act.

The Income Tax Division respectfully asks for the fullest co-operation of taxpayers required by law to make these returns.

THE DEPARTMENT OF NATIONAL REVENUE
Income Tax Division

Honourable W. D. EULER, Minister of National Revenue.

C. S. WALTERS, Commissioner of Income Tax.

BOUNTY ON WOLVES

A minister should settle the dispute over the merits of a bounty on wolves. In government circles there is now an impression that a bounty of $15 is sufficient. On the other hand, hunters, who, from their trips through the bush, should be in a position to know the facts, declare that wolves annually kill more deer than they do, while game wardens state that wolves are following deer further south out of the bush country than at any time within the past forty years. They insist that a drive upon wolves is necessary and that the bounty should be greatly increased. It would be a sad loss to the province if during argument and counter-argument the deer were depleted. A minister at the head of the department could settle the question before the province runs any such risk. Our fish and game resources can be made of much greater value through a minister responsible for their development.

A BOON TO SHOPPERS

How disastrous it is when you forget to buy sugar, tea, or some other important article and only discover your mistake after closing time!

A British firm has now brought out an automatic machine which will prevent such minor tragedies. The machine works on the principle of most slot-machines, but in this instance each article will have a small, glass-fronted cupboard, which can be opened by inserting a suitable coin in the slot.

The design makes the machine suitable for almost any type of business but it will be particularly useful for foodstuffs. During shop hours it can be used for goods in constant demand, thus saving the customer's time.

Those at business during the day will find the idea very useful, as very few can manage to arrive home before the shops close.

"Do you read all the health hints?" "Not all," answered Mr. Shuggins. "In my efforts to keep out of the hospital I limit myself to a study of the traffic regulations."

Gas Made Her Cross, Can't Eat or Sleep

"When I ate I would bloat up with gas. I couldn't sleep, was cross and nervous. Adlerika has given me real relief."—Mrs. M. Meyer.

Adlerika relieves stomach gas and sourness in TEN minutes. Acting on BOTH upper and lower bowel, it removes old waste matter you never thought was in your system. Let Adlerika give your stomach and bowels a REAL cleansing and see how much better you feel. It will surprise you! Wallace's Drug Store.

DOMINION RECORDS

The last Blue Book issued by the Dominion Government giving Criminal statistics, contains some interesting information up to and including 1927. Boys still continue to be greater offenders than girls. The report shows that 3,478 Boys and only 143 Girls were offenders during that year. From this it may be deduced that parents with a girl children are less likely to have worries than if their children are boys.

Trials by Jury 1,087; trial by Judges without a Jury 2,997; trials by Magistrates of Indictable Offence (P. XI) 19,479; trials by Magistrates of non Indictable offences 193,240.

It would appear that trial by jury in criminal cases has become very infrequent.

Trials in Juvenile Courts (Convicted, acquitted or otherwise disposed of number 33,782. Only a small number were actually convicted).

At the end of 1927 there were 7,964 persons in the various penal institutions of the country.

There were 44,500 persons who actually underwent sentence during that year in these institutions.

79.94 per cent of all trials resulted in convictions.

Of the convictions for Indictable Offences only 10.7 per cent were women. So that women are still the better behaved of the two sexes.

Last Saturday evening the Women's Institute held the first of a series of progressive euchre parties that are planned for every two weeks. There were ten tables in play and a very enjoyable time spent. Refreshments were served after the games were over. The prizes were won by Miss Bertha Graham and Frederick Vrooman. Last year the Institute took over the responsibility of the Library and it has been run very successfully. Very few villages have the number of high class books and these parties are to raise money for its upkeep, a very worthy cause. They are held in the Library and reading room. The small sum of twenty-five cents gives you an evening's amusement, a chance to win a prize, and a very nice lunch.—James McLelland is moving on the Edward Hagerman farm on the Highway, near Morven, and Stanley Fraser is moving on his farm, vacated by Mr. McLelland.—Floyd Whitmarsh is moving from the Clark farm to the Kelly Hagerman farm.—John Rogers, Glenvale, is moving on his farm recently purchased from Wilbur Metzler, and Mr. McCormack, who vacated the Metzler farm, is moving on the Irvine Snider place.—Chester Card has purchased the cottages on the Tourist Camp from Sherman Bond.—Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Gibson, Lynn, spent a few days last week the guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. The March meeting of the W. M. S. met on Wednesday afternoon, March 6th, at the home of Mrs. Geo. Ruttan, with an attendance of sixteen members and one visitor. The President was in charge of the meeting. The hymn, "Fight the Good Fight", was sung. Miss M. Magee as organist, after which Mrs. W. J. Magee offered Prayer. The Scripture lesson from St. John's Gospel, Chap. 6, was read by Mrs. Geo. Ruttan. All joined in singing the hymn, "I Gave My Life For Thee". The Secretary gave the minutes of the last meeting, after which the Treasurer gave an encouraging report. There are more paid members thus early in the year than has been reported for some time. Miss A. Rowland sang by request, "How the Old Account was Settled Long Ago". Miss L. Carr then gave an appropriate reading for the Lenten season. Miss A. Ruttan then favoured the meeting with another solo, "Where the Pure-Leafed Clover Grows". The Heralds for China and the Indian work reported. Miss Lillian Carr read a fine paper on Christian Stewardship. The chapter in the Study Book, "Drums in the Darkness", was in charge of Mrs. W. J. Magee. Mrs. A. C. Davis was appointed Literature Secretary for our Society. It was decided that we should give a sacred drama at Easter. The roll call was responded to by a verse of Scripture. "A Missionary Command on Giving". The Easter thankoffering envelopes were distributed to the members present. The meeting adjourned to meet in April, at the home of Mrs. Robt. Cousins. The Mispah benediction was repeated in unison. The hostess then served refreshments, and a social half hour was enjoyed by all.

OBITUARY

The community of Croydon received another shock on Sunday night, March 3rd, when the news spread of the death of Miss Marion Hughes, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hughes. Although Marion had not been in the best of health the past few years, with Diabetes, her death came as a great shock, as she was feeling as well as usual up until Saturday morning, when she took a chill. Dr. Horton was called in, and all that loving hands could do was done, but of no avail.

Marion was a bright young girl of just sixteen years and nine months old, of fine personality and cheerful disposition. She made a host of friends throughout her life, which was marked by her kindness and friendliness at all times.

She leaves to mourn her loss, her heart-broken parents, two brothers, James and Harold.

The funeral service was held on Tuesday afternoon, at Reidville United Church, when Rev. Mr. Beckstead preached a very impressive sermon to a crowded church of friends and neighbours. The casket was covered with beautiful flowers, which showed the high esteem in which she was held. Parents and brothers, wheel with broken spoke, of roses and carnations; Mr. and Mrs. Kelusky and daughters, Vereen and Leola, Bancroft, wreath roses and narcisses; Annie Close, sheaf, of Easter lilies; L. O. L. and L. O. B. A., pillow, roses and carnations; Women's Institute, broken circle of roses. The pall bearers were Sidney Griffen, Leonard Sheltin, Geo. Sharpe, Glen Lochhead, Earl Teskey and Raymond Campbell.

The sympathy of the whole community goes out to the parents and brothers in their sad bereavement.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. George N. Wagar.

One of Camden's oldest citizens, in the person of Mrs. George N. Wagar, passed suddenly away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Lucas, Colebrook, on Friday, February 22nd in her 84th year.

For the past year and a half the late Mrs. Wagar has resided with her daughter, Mrs. Lucas, at Colebrook. Prior to this she spent most of her life at or near the home of her late husband on a farm near Enterprise, with the exception of six years which she lived in Napanee with her daughter, now Mrs. Herb White.

For the past month Mrs. Wagar has been declining in health, but never was to be around, and never failed to assist with the duties of the home, until the day before the call came, and was only sick for a few hours.

The deceased has been a member of the Methodist Church for over sixty years, marriage, sixty-five years ago, to George N. Wagar, who predeceased her nine years ago. She leaves to mourn her loss, three daughters, Mrs. W. J. Teeple, Detroit; Mrs. Herb. White, Sillsville; Mrs. G. Lucas, and one son, Gordon and Dan Wagar, of Enterprise; seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held on Sunday, Feb. 24th, in Colebrook United Church, in charge of Rev. Mr. McKenzie, and the remains were placed in the vault to await interment in the family plot at Centreville, later.

Floglaze Your Furniture, Chairs Woodwork or Floors!

Floglaze Enamel now made to dry hard in 4 hours, with the same brilliant gloss, comes in a striking variety of shades. There is Ocean Blue, Jonquil Yellow, Mission Mahogany, Waterford Red, Ivory—36 in all—priced at $1.60 a quart for most colors, a white Enamel and a few deeper shades, at $1.85, and by actual test 1 quart covers better, and looks infinitely better than 2 quarts of the cheaper kind. Wallace's are agents for Floglaze, Canada's finest paint.

Trinity Church W. M. S.

The March meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Trinity Church was held on Tuesday, the 5th inst., with over fifty ladies present. Mrs. Baughan was convener of the Programme Committee, and was congratulated by the President on the success of the meeting. Mrs. J. Rose, Mrs. Baughan, Mrs. S. McKim, Mrs. Jas. Miller, Mrs. O. Perry, Mrs. B. Gilbert and Mrs. P. Detlor took part in the programme, and Mrs. H. Pawson rendered the solo, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say". The quarterly envelopes were brought in, and showed a very satisfactory financial result. At the close of the meeting, tea was served by Mrs. Baughan and her Committee.

Literary and Musical Programme.

An unusually delightful evening is assured all those attending the concert programme given by Walter McRoy, Canadian Entertainer, Author and Traveller. Mr. McRoye, who was for years associated with the late Pauline Johnson, in concert work, has a wonderful program of the best in Canadian literature, both prose and poetry to offer you. Musical numbers will be supplied by Mr. Jack Caldwell, the Collegiate Chorus under the direction of Mr. Beattie and the Collegiate Orchestra. Proceeds in aid of the Free Dental Clinic for school children, in the Town Hall, Friday evening, March 22nd, under auspices of the I. O. D. E. Admission, 35c. 11a

Johnston vs. Lambert.

The jury empanelled at the Spring Assize of the Supreme Court, presided over by Mr. Justice Kelly, of Toronto, to hear the civil action brought by F. B. Johnston, of Napanee, against Leslie Lambert, of Welland, gave their finding after the noon hour and the Supreme Court was dismissed. The action brought was the result of a motor accident between cars owned by these parties near Napanee, on September 16th last. The verdict was that Johnston should receive the full amount of his claim, $2,000, while in the counter-suit of Lambert vs. Johnston, $500.00 should be awarded to Lambert. Before the court rose the grand jury reported and were then discharged.—Belleville Intelligencer, March 9th, 1929.

"Absent-Minded Bridegroom"

The play, "The Absent-Minded Bridegroom", a farce in three acts, will be presented in Grace Church Sunday School Room, on Tuesday evening next, March 19th, by members of the United Church, Enterprise. Ticket 25c. Following is the cast of characters:—

Tessie Connors, Mrs. Rooney's maid—Mrs. M. E. Jackson. 11a

Enterprise Women's Auxiliary.

On Wednesday afternoon of last week the Women's Auxiliary of the Anglican Church held a very successful "Afternoon Tea" at the home of Mrs. Guy Fenwick, Main street. About sixty guests were received by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. T. Fenwick. The living room was prettily decorated with plants and flowers. The ladies were invited to the tea room by Mrs. Chas. Graham, where a dainty buffet lunch was served by Mrs. Geo. Fenwick and Miss Freda Wagar, assisted by Mrs. Chas. Keech and Miss Clarke. Tea was poured by Mrs. (Rev.) Morgan and Mrs. Walter Fenwick. The tea table looked very pretty, decorated with roses and matching streamers of rose and green, and burning candles. During the afternoon a musical program was given, consisting of solos by Miss Freda Wagar; instrumental duets by Rev. and Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. Fenwick and Mrs. Oliver; vocal duet by Miss Wagar and Mrs. Bert Osburn, accompanied with instrumental and Victrola music.

Music by Mrs. Geo. Fralick, and a paper on "Storing Winter Clothes", by our hostess, Mrs. Milling. Also a hooked rug contest for members, for which a prize will be given. Roll call, "Suggestions for Removing Paper and Muresco".

Do you remember the Easter display at Stacey's last year? It was a good one, but it was like trying to make an impression with a new gown, worn under a coat that might have come out of the ark. What a change this year, with their new front and an assortment of Easter Novelties that has few equals between Toronto and Montreal! Don't wait until they are all picked over. Come in now, and, if you wish, they will hold your choice for you until Easter. 11b

BARRED ROCK HATCHING EGGS FOR SALE

Pen No. 1 is headed by 1 10068, a large, vigorous, well barred cockerel. This together with his dam's R.O.P. record of 247 eggs, granddam's official record of 333 eggs, and great granddam's Canadian champion of her year's record of 316 eggs, make him an exceptionally attractive heading for this wonderful pen.

Pen 2 is mated to ten carefully selected yearling and two-year-old hens, standard weight and showing good Hogan and Sleup type. Cockerels from this mating will improve most flocks.

A few selected 2 oz. Eggs at $4.50 per 15.

General flock consisting of yearling hens have been mated, with first consideration to productive type and quality, but not forgetting standard qualifications. The males in this mating are of splendid quality and full of pep.

Eggs $3.50 per 50, and $6.00 per 100.

BAY CIRCUIT

The mud, which is so typical of our communities, is much in evidence these days. Our mail driver and milk vendor have been having their own troubles. Things are evident as to the danger of crossing the ice either on river or bay. A team and driver narrowly escaped from drowning and a certain man received a bad "ducking". — Last Wednesday afternoon a group of missionary women gathered at the home of Mrs. Leonard Parks, Hay Bay, for their monthly meeting. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. A. C. Parks, the President, and a helpful programme was given. The business of the afternoon served a dainty lunch.—Several cases of mumps and one at least of chicken pox are affecting the attendance at school. We hope those who ill will quickly recover.—Mrs. Archie Parks' home is the place of meeting for the Bay East Women's Missionary Society last Thursday afternoon. A good programme, luncheon, and a fine social time were reported.—Miss Hazel McCabe is home from Kingston Hospital and is making rapid progress toward recovery.—The Young People's Union of Anderson, under the leadership of Mrs. Parks, has had a successful winter's activity. The meeting last Tuesday night was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Card. The special feature of the programme was a debate, "Resolved, that married life was preferable to single life". The decision will be held on March 26th.—Miss Purrs has been spending a couple couple of weeks visiting her brother, Mr. Percy Purrs, at Anderson. —Remember the two Ladies' Aid gatherings this week. Wednesday, Anderson Ladies' Aid, at Mrs. Barnhart's, and Thursday, Hay Bay Ladies' Aid at Mrs. Wilfred McCabe's. All ladies cordially invited.—Rev. J. E. Beckel was in Belleville last Thursday, attending the annual Presbytery meeting.—The Study Groups were well attended last week. They are being held as follows this week:—Tuesday, at Mr. S. Griffiths', Anderson; Wednesday, at Mr. B. Edgar's, Gretna; Thursday, at Mr. Wm. Goodman's, Sr., Hay Bay and at Mr. A. C. Parks', Hay Bay.—The Pastor of the Circuit will be at Sand Hill at 10.30 a.m., Hay Bay at 2.30 p.m., and at Gretna at 7.30 p.m. this coming Sunday, March 24th.

SELBY

The recent rain, followed by the snow storm on Saturday has made the roads in a very bad condition, but we are all glad to hear the cheery notes of the robin again.—Mrs. Ed. Reid is their Mock Parliament on Friday evening, with a fine attendance. Everyone enjoyed the interesting speeches given by the different Cabinet Ministers. The Government was sustained by a majority of three. — A number from here attended the meeting of the Ontario Prohibition Union, which was held in Napanee on Friday. — The variety shower, which was given on Tuesday evening last for Mr. and Mrs. George Williams was well attended.—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Anderson were recent visitors at Mr. Herb. Windover's. — Our school has been closed for a few days, owing to the illness of our teacher, Miss Joy Paul. We hope for a speedy recovery.—Mrs. John Gellinger and little daughter, Vera, spent Thursday at Mr. Edward Diddy's.—Mr. Hugh and Miss Enid Fingland, of Enterprise, spent Friday at Mr. Jos. Tate's.—Miss Marion Exley of Napanee, spent the week end with Miss Lucinda. Miss Flossie Windover. —Miss Chalmers Barrowman, of Kingston, spent Sunday at Mr. Adam Empey's.—Mrs. Frank McFarlane, of Forest Mills, spent one day recently at Mr. Jack McFarlane's.—Mrs. Orelia Dafoe, Napanee, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Dudgeon.—Mr. and Mrs. Dorland Outcheon were recent visitors at his brother's, Mr. Luman McCutcheon. — Miss May Wilde is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. George Robinson.

WHITE LAKE

The Spring birds and animals are all on the move, which indicates that Spring is over.—Mr. R. Stinson, of Maple Ridge, was through here buying cattle this week.—Our teacher, Mrs. Munds and family, made a trip to Napanee, on Wednesday. — Mr. G. Brown wears a broad smile; it's a boy.—Mrs. Herb. Palmer, of Hungerford, at Mr. G. Brown's, on Tuesday.—Mr. J. McAdam and family at Mr. G. Flynn's, Maple Ridge.—Mr. T. Smith made a flying trip to Roblin this week. —Mr. and Mrs. G. Brown called on Mrs. Munds and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Taylor at Maple Ridge one evening recently.—Mr. L. Sedore and Mrs. McKittrick, of Roblin, were calling on friends here and at Marlbank, this week.—Mr. and Mrs. W. Johnston and Mr. R. Pringle, and family, of Sharp's Corners, were the guests of Mr. Jos. H. Baker, one day recently.—Miss E. Yorke, of Erinsville, was Mrs. G. Brown's guest on Saturday last.

WILTON

Much gloom was cast over this vicinity on Tuesday last, when it was learned that a well known and respected resident, in the person of Mrs. John Carr, had passed away at the Kingston General Hospital. The funeral was held on Thursday from Wilton United Church. Rev. Mr. McQuade officiating. Besides her husband, she leaves to mourn the loss of a loving mother, one son, Stinson.—Mrs. W. G. Clark, of St. Catharines, attended the funeral of the late Mrs. John Carr. — Rev. W. L. MacDuffie, Boston, Mass., preached in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening.—Mr. Arthur Simmons, of Toronto, spent a few days last week with his cousin, Mr. Jas. Carr, attending the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. John Carr.—Mr. P. Phalen is on the sick list. Hope for a speedy recovery. —Miss Helen Ruttan, Napanee, spent the week end here.—The annual St. Patrick's concert of the Presbyterian Church was held on Monday evening.

ODESSA

Stanley Snider, Tweed, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Snider, for a couple of days last week.—Mr. Bernard Ladouceur has been a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Benjamin.—The many friends of Wesley Dawson are pleased to see him able to attend his store, after a six weeks' illness.—Mrs. S. J. Sproule is visiting friends in Kingston.—Mr. Isaac Watts celebrated his eighty-second birthday anniversary last Thursday, March 7th. His niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. John Watts, arranged for him a birthday tea in honor of the occasion, and a number of relatives were invited. All wished him many more years of health and happiness.—The funeral of the late Barnabus Wood, who passed away at his home last Thursday, after an illness of three months, was held from his daughter's home, Mrs. Overton Powley, on Saturday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Linstead officiated, and the remains were placed in Wilton vault to be interred in the family plot at Wilton cemetery, later. Mrs. Wood predeceased him about eighteen years ago, and since then their grandson, George A. Kenny, has been the deceased's companion and comfort, he having been brought up by his grandparents from childhood. Mr. Wood is survived by one son, Gilbert Wood, Wilton, and six daughters, Mrs. Thomas Mills and Mrs. Overton Powley, Odessa; Mrs. W. O. Herring and Mrs. George A. Young-ley, Watertown; Mrs. William Nixon, Belleville, and Mrs. John Veale, Kingston. The pall bearers were his six grandsons, Alfred Mills, Oakley Mills, Walter Wood, Harold Wood, Fred Powley and George Powley, Jr. Wood had reached his ninety-third year and practically all his life had been spent in this vicinity.—Monday night a very fine concert was held in the United Church, and the large auditorium was well filled. The Belleville entertainers, consisting of the John Street United Church Choir, of twenty-eight voices, and Miss Tuite, Elocutionist, of Albert College, under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society, delighted the audience with their choice choruses, vocal and instrumental selections. Miss Tuite was repeatedly encliored and her powerful talent and willingness to use it in her various numbers assures her of a welcome in the future.—The young people of the United Church of Camden East, in behalf of the Odessa Brass Band, will present their popular play, "The Road Back" in the Town Hall, Saturday evening, March 30th. A comedy drama, in four acts.

BAY VIEW

A sudden gloom was cast over this neighborhood on Friday last when the news reached here of the death of Arthur Acten Finley in the Kingston General Hospital. Although Mr. Finley was in a critical condition, a full recovery was expected, so that his death was a shock to all. Mr. Finley, with his father, mother and sister and her family, moved here from Amherst Island about twenty-one years ago and purchased the old Rothwell property. Mr. Finley has resided here until his death. Mr. Finley was a member of the United Church at Collin's Bay, and his funeral service was conducted by Rev. Dr. Cooper from the family residence on Monday, the remains being taken to Cataraqui vault. Interment at Amherst Island later. Mr. Finley leaves to mourn his loss, his wife and baby daughter, one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Lane, and one brother, Hermine, both of Collin's Bay, besides a host of friends. Mr. Finley's mother predeceased him but one short month ago.—A number from here attended the funeral of Mrs. Harvey Amey, in Kingston, on Monday.—Mrs. Thos. Miller, who has been seriously ill for some time, is improving slowly.

ENTERPRISE

The funeral of the late Mr. Elwood Kellar was held on Wednesday afternoon from the United Church, and was largely attended, the entire community is extended to the widow and family.—Mr. James Perry, of Napanee, has accepted a position in the Royal Bank of Canada.—Mrs. O. Clarke of Petworth, spent a few days in Enterprise this week, with her mother, Mrs. Ard. Jackson.—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fenwick spent a few days in Kingston recently. —The members of the I.O.O.F. paid a visit to Deseronto Lodge on Wednesday evening.—Don't forget the Pancake social on Saturday evening March 23rd. — Mr. Stanley Bell is spending a few days with his daughter, Mrs. Clarmen Peters, in Wilton.—In Don't forget the big dance to be held in the Community Hall, on Monday night, April 1st.

NEWBURGH

Miss Helen Ramsay, of the Bank of Commerce, is holidaying for a few weeks in Madoc and Kingston.

A number of friends attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Richard Lillie, of this place, whose death occurred at the General Hospital, Kingston. The funeral was held at Harrowsmith United Church. Mrs. Lillie was a highly esteemed resident of Newburgh for a number of years. Her Pastor, Rev. T. H. P. Anderson, conducted the services, assisted by Rev. Mr. Johnson, of Harrowsmith. About twenty of the friends motored to Harrowsmith, to show respect to the deceased and sympathy for the bereaved.

The March meeting of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary of the Newburgh United Church was held at the home of Mrs. Dunwoody, on Wednesday, the 13th inst. A hymn was sung, after which Mrs. Johnston read part of the 12th chapter of Romans. Mrs. Lucas read a paper on the preparation for Easter. The Easter thankoffering with its accompanying service has been to many an established fact, a love gift in appreciation of all we have received, for every good and perfect gift cometh from above. It is important that much prayer go with every gift, so that in God's hands it may do much good. The Easter meeting will be on April 3rd, the choosing of a speaker and all other arrangements to be left in the hands of the Executive. The Corresponding Secretary read the requirements for the supply work. Planning for aged people and children is asked of this Auxiliary. The President spoke of the amount of money asked of this Auxiliary, which is $5.00 higher than last year. This was accepted. Mrs. Frost read a devotional leaflet on budgeting in religious things as well as our income. Make a plan and work it out, budgeting our time, our talents, money, prayer and all spiritual resources. Mrs. Anderson led the women in prayer that our hearts be filled with good thoughts. Mrs. Jos. Paul sang a solo, which was a real gospel message, presented in an appealing way. Thoughts on our Oriental work in Canada were given by Miss Keough, Miss Welbanks and Miss Yeomans, and prayer was asked that these people be not strangers but fellow-citizens. Mrs. Anderson gave a report on Miss Weir's address at the Presbyterial meeting. Miss Weir has given thirty years of service to India, and Mrs. Anderson brought us message to us in a convincing way. The evils of child marriage and widowhood have been a terrible strain on the life of Indian womanhood, but slowly a better day is dawning. The meeting was then closed with a hymn, and prayer by Miss Keough, after which a few minutes of social intercourse were enjoyed by all.

Mr. Nelson Arnold, Mannville, Alta., spent a few days last week with his sister, Mrs. W. J. Bonter.

Mrs. Floyd Switzer and daughter, Frances, visited friends in Newburgh during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Paul, of Western Canada, left on Tuesday last for their home, leaving in Toronto and Detroit en route. While in Newburgh they were guests of Mr. Clare Paul and Mrs. Clancy, also Misses B. M., and Elsie Paul.

The Literary Society of Odessa Continuation School gave an entertainment in the Hall on Friday evening. All enjoyed the entertainment, and the Society are to be congratulated on their efforts.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Benn, of Sillsville, were at Mr. Bowerman's, on Sunday.

Mrs. Hanes received the sad news of the death of her eldest brother, Mr. Harper Reid, of Winnipeg, and has been in poor health for some time, and leaves, besides a grown up family, his wife, who was formerly Miss Brown, of Stockdale, daughter of the late Richardson Brown, of Enterprise.

The funeral of the late Mr. Salteen Brown was conducted by the Rev. T. H. P. Anderson, in the United Church, on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Brown had reached the age of 90 years. He resided with his sister, Mrs. Peterson, who passed away a few weeks previous. Since her death, his niece, Miss Peters, R.N., of Syracuse, has cared for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Price and Mrs. Lillie Price spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ramsay.

The special services in the Free Methodist Church will continue during this week, including Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frost visited in Napanee and Deseronto during the week end.

Mrs. Maud Kellar is visiting in Napanee with her daughter, Mrs. Ruttan.

Miss Estella Hinch, of Napanee, was a caller in the village during the week.

Reeve and Mrs. Aylesworth have returned from a visit to their sons', at Toronto and Windsor.

Miss Lela Loucks, of Kingston, visited her home for a few days.

Mrs. Hanes has been ill for the past few weeks. Miss Babe Clark, of which she is teacher, will be glad to welcome her to her accustomed place.

A number of the people motored to Napanee and enjoyed "Wings" at Wonderland.

Seven poultry men from this district, representing the County of Lennox and Addington, attended a Short Course in Poultry Keeping at the Wm. Davies Packing Plant, Montreal, on March 13th, 14th and 15th. Lectures were given by practical veterinarians and heads of the various packing industries, as well as representatives of the Ontario Department of Live Stock Branch. The boys were also instructed in judging and grading, and later competitions were held. The following boys represented the County: Harry Hinch, Delbert Craig, Harold Clarke, Reeve McQuay, Frank Ward, Percival Paul, Hubert Dewey. They all made a very creditable showing, the first four names being in the prize money. They were in competition with boys from nine other Counties in Eastern Ontario, there being fifty-six young men attending the classes. The local representative, Mr. A. D. Runions, is in charge of the Lennox and Addington boys.

Women and Asthma. Women are numbered among the sufferers from asthma by the countless thousands. In every climate they will be found, helpless in the grip of this relentless disease unless they have availed themselves of the proper remedy. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has brought new hope and life to many such. Testimonials, sent entirely without solicitation, show the enormous benefit it has wrought among women everywhere.

An Oil Without Alcohol.—Some oils and many medicines, have alcohol as a prominent ingredient. A judicious mingling of six essential oils compose Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and there is no alcohol in it, so that its effects are lasting.

"Vestibule" was too big a word for little Amy, so when her mother asked where her rubbers were, she said: "I know, mamma. They're in the place where the outdoors comes in."

The Oil of Power.—It is not claimed for Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil that it will remedy every ill, but its uses are so various that it may be looked upon as a general pain killer. It has achieved that greatness for itself and its excellence is known to all who have tested its virtues and learned by experience.

First Wife — "How long had you known your husband before you were married?"

Second Ditto—"I didn't know him at all. I only thought I did."

As a vermifuge an effective preparation is Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator, and it can be given to the most delicate child without fear of injury to the constitution.

District Visitor — "What are the morals of this village like?"

Resident—"Excellent! So good, in fact, that several of our sewing-parties have failed for want of scandal."

No one need endure the agony of corns with Holloway's Corn Remover at hand to remove them.

A romantic young man of Rangoon,
With a lute by the light of the moon,
Sang, "I'll die for you, love."
When a voice from above
Said, "You will if you don't shut up soon."

If Miller's Worm Powders needed the support of testimonials they could be got from mothers who know the great virtue of this excellent medicine. But the powders will speak for themselves and in such a way that there can be no question of them. They act speedily and thoroughly, and the child to whom they are administered will show improvement from the first dose.

"The beauty aids of to-day are as varied in their tints as the colors to be found on an artist's palate," says a writer.

I've always been fated when calling for Grace
To wait a long time while she makes up her face;
But now that the tints are so varied,
I find
It's still longer—the first has to make up her mind.

Presentation and Address

About 125 people of Moscow and Desmond met together at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lucas, on the evening of March 5th, to bid them farewell before leaving for their new home in Napanee. The following address was read, and a beautiful solid walnut china cabinet presented to them.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Lucas.—Your friends and neighbours of Moscow and Desmond have gathered here to spend together one more pleasant evening in the old home where we have enjoyed so many good times.

We are very sorry that circumstances over which we have no control are forcing you from our midst. We have always felt we could depend on you for real help whenever the call came, and the fact that you always gave so freely made it a pleasure to ask.

We feel that in the Church as well as in the community, there will be a vacancy which will be hard to fill.

We realize, too, that in your leaving we are losing the last one of the good old Lucas name, which has been so time honored in our neighborhood.

Will you please accept this cabinet as a remembrance from your old friends, whose best wishes are for all happiness, peace and contentment in your new home, and may God's richest blessing rest on you there.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Asselstine.
Mr. and Mrs. John Bell.
Mr. and Mrs. Morley Huffman.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Baker.
Mr. Fraser Bell.

Mr. Lucas made a very suitable reply, thanking their friends, and assuring them all that a warm welcome awaited them in their home in Napanee.

A bountiful lunch, consisting of sandwiches, cake, coffee, ice cream and candy, was served, after which "Blest Be the Tie That Binds", and "God Be With You Till We Meet Again", were sung.

IMPORTING ALFALFA TO MEET DEMANDS

Hardy Utah Seed Brought In To Supplement Domestic Supply.

Like most of the clovers, the alfalfa seed crop in Ontario last year was light, and, as a result, seed will have to be imported from outside to meet the demand. Seed merchants anticipate some swinging away from a fall toward red clover and other forage crops this Spring because alfalfa promises to be fairly expensive and owing to the fact that it has not done so well in certain parts of the country in recent years. However, it will still remain a very popular crop and when a few precautions are taken it should prove one of the most satisfactory for high quality hay production. "There need be no hesitation in recommending alfalfa," states J. B. Carroll, of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, "as it has a place on practically every farm. The best crops will be hit once in a while and alfalfa, in my opinion, is not as liable to fail as most others. Of course, it is important to secure clean hardy seed and it is also best to use an alfalfa culture. If the soil is very deficient in lime, an application of this may be advisable. It is well to avoid low, flat fields which will flood in the Spring, as alfalfa prefers a well-drained piece of land and if pastured it should have a chance to build up a growing top to take it through the Winter".

There will be two types of alfalfa seed offered this Spring, seed merchants state—the domestic and the imported. The latter, under Government regulations, must be stained 10 per cent. red. This staining is simply for the purpose of denoting that the seed is imported. Practically all of this stained seed will come from the State of Utah, or other districts where hardy alfalfa is grown, a seed merchant of any standing not being so foolish as to risk his whole reputation by bringing in something that was not suitable for sowing in Canada.

In regard to the Utah seed, for instance, this is produced on a plateau averaging about 5,000 feet above sea level where the climate ranges from 40 degrees below zero to 90 above, and where the rainfall is light and not generous. On this account, and also because this seed has been used here for close to fifty years without being mixed with any from an outside source, it has developed into a very pure type and is more free than usual from weeds. For many years, Canada has imported alfalfa seed from this source and other places in the United States from results fully as satisfactory as those obtained from domestic seed.

With sufficient hardy imported seed of this type added to the domestic supply to meet the demand this Spring it should not be necessary for prospective growers of alfalfa to reduce the acreage planned.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Kesler Find Dodd's Kidney Pills Very Beneficial

Ontario Lady Suffered Very Much With Her Back and Kidneys

Chatham, Ont., March 19th, (Special)—Thousands of women who seemed destined to a life of frequent suffering have been entirely freed from their ailments by using Dodd's Kidney Pills. Mrs. Chas. Kesley, 126 Wellington St. E., Chatham, writes:—"I have suffered very much with my back and kidneys. I hardly had any rest until I tried your Dodd's Kidney Pills. I can honestly say I felt a different woman after I had taken one box; but I continued with them. The Doctor said after my examination, that my kidneys were in good form. My husband also uses Dodd's Kidney Pills. His work calls for a lot of stooping and he always feels fine after taking them. They seem to strengthen his back and put new life into him. You are at liberty to publish this letter. My recommendation might be the means of benefitting others."

BOXING TOURNAMENT IN THE ARMOURIES

Under the auspices of "B" Company of the Prontenac Regiment, a boxing tournament was held in the Armouries, on Wednesday evening last.

A large crowd of local sportsmen were present to enjoy the finest entertainment of its kind seen here in many years. Eight bouts were scheduled in all, and most of them proved decidedly interesting.

Beau McNeill, ringside announcer, announced that the curtain raiser would be a three round argument between K. O. Stinson, 87 pounds, of Napanee, vs. Frenchy Lapointe, of Montreal. These novices proved to be exceedingly well matched, the local boy, Stinson, using a right swing with considerable effect. The Frenchman proved a two-fisted battler using both hands to advantage, and the judges were unable to pick the winner at the close of the third round. After an extra round the decision of the judges, calling for a draw, was well received by the large crowd.

The summary of the following bouts are as follows:—Slugger Wells, of Oklahoma, 140, stopped Dago Deshane, 134, local boy, in the second round, the referee giving the big oil man the decision by a technical knockout.

Brondway Prinzle, 133, faced Reven Ball Wheeler, both of Napanee, Reven Ball losing in the third round of a well contested four round bout. Wheeler received great applause on entering the ring, and seemed to be the favourite of the fans, the referee receiving a hearty booing when he was disqualified for using his knee in a clinch.

Cpl. Buddy Fraser, 125, of "B" Company, took on Pte. Sedore, 125, also of "B" Company in a scheduled four round bout. Sedore opened up like a sailing. The referee declared "No Contest" early in the second round, their exhibition not being up to the standard demanded in these tournaments.

An evenly matched pair were Wild Bill Alkenbrack, of Kaladar, 156, and Brick McTaggart, 158, of Arden, who fought for the inter-county middleweight championship. This was a real feature, both boys giving everything they had, showing that the north country supplies real two-fisted he-men. McTaggart missed many good opportunities, and the clever Kaladar boy's ring generalship and footwork proved to be too much for him. Alkenbrack was given the decision in the third round on a foul.

Handsome Bucky Barnes, 156, of Napanee, next opposed Sailor Bentley, another local product, at 152. This proved to be another interesting melee. A great ovation greeted Barnes as he entered the ring, to be followed by a greater one as the decision was awarded him. In the third round Barnes slipped as he missed with one of his heavy right crosses, and the sailor, who was leading on points at the time, was unfortunate enough to foul him.

The main bout of the evening proved to be an easy victory for Ted Bentley, 158, of Napanee, over Big Chief Bedford, 161, of Deseronto. The local battler's speed and cleverness combined with his terrific hitting ability, gave Bedford no chance. Bentley's exhibition was the most finished of the evening, and the Deseronto pugilist was outclassed. A terrific right to the jaw sent him spinning through the ropes in the first round, and a terrific bombardment of rights and lefts to the head had him in a dazed condition and practically out on his feet when his seconds tossed in the towel.

Referee: an ex-pugilist, One Round Charlie Cornwall gave full satisfaction in the preliminaries, and Gentleman Steve Watkinson handled the feature. Judges were Major Babcock and H. B. McNeill.

After the boxing, a basketball game was played between the Regiment and the Senior School teams. The Regiment, having an edge on the students, on account of their superior passing, and the shooting ability of Mickey McDonald, won by 23-16.

These tournaments will be held regularly in future, and aspirants to fistic fame are asked to get in touch with Major Babcock or Wallace Perry. The best facilities will be given for training in the Armouries.

KINGSFORD

A sad gloom was passed over the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Tulloch, when news reached them that Mr. Tulloch's mother had passed away on March 5th, at the Hospital in Stratford, after a few days' illness. Born in Scotland almost eighty years ago, she came to this country at an early age, settling in Lonsdale, where she married Wm. Tulloch, who predeceased her some twenty years ago, and one son, Gladstone, died a few years ago. The other seven sons survive them and were home for the funeral. Mrs. Tulloch spent some years with her brother at Mitchell. The body was brought from the undertaking rooms, Napanee, on Friday, on arrival from Stratford. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon from Mr. Arch Tulloch's, to Lonsdale church.—In the Village of Kingsford, on March 1st, there passed to her eternal reward, Mrs. John Jaynes. Although failing in health for some months, all that medical skill and loving care and kindness could do, did not prolong the life of Mrs. Jaynes, and in the midnight hours of March 1st her soul wafted its flight to the Great Beyond, there to await the arrival of those who mourn. The funeral service was in charge of Rev. Mr. Foley, Selby, and was largely attended. To mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother, are her husband and daughters, Mrs. Keene, and Mrs. Marshall. Her son predeceased her some years ago. The remains were placed in the vault, at Deseronto.—Messrs. Eddie, Alex. and Cameron Tulloch attended the funeral of their mother, the late Mrs. W. Tulloch, last week.—Miss J. McCormick has returned from a furlough with friends in the West and California.—Mr. and Mrs. L. Spencer, Napanee, were Sunday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. G. Provins.—Misses Irene and Wilma Marshall were home recently.—Miss Bessie Hewitt spent last week at Napanee, with friends.—Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hewitt visited on Tuesday with friends at Forest Mills.—W. J. Sexsmith has a new radio installed in his house and are having good satisfaction.—Mr. Steward Dafoe and mother visited with friends at Pleasant Valley, Napanee.—Mr. and Mrs. T. Dafoe and son attended the wedding of their granddaughter, Miss Hazel Dafoe, at Napanee, on Wednesday last.

SILLSVILLE

Mrs. Wm. Cranston left on Thursday of last week for Rochester, N.Y., to spend some time with her sister, Mrs. Clara Craven, who is ill in that city.—Miss Florence Gilbert is gaining, after her recent operation in Kingston General Hospital.—Miss Hilda Creighton is also gaining nicely.—Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. Wesley Young on Thursday last. A very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by all. It was decided to offer the Autograph Quilt by auction, after the play, Yimmie Yonson's Yob, given by Sillsville and Conway Young People, on Friday evening, March 22nd, in Sillsville Town Hall.—We were very pleased to see Mr. M. Shewman improved in health enough to drive out from town to his home, last week.

IN MEMORIAM.

In fond and loving memory of our brother, Alexander Davis, who passed away on March 23rd, 1927.

March brings sad memories
Of a loved one gone to rest,
Who will always be remembered
By the ones who loved him best.

Ever remembered by his Sisters and Brothers. 12ap

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Sager, who was laid to rest March 15th, 1927.

Dearest one, you're not forgotten,
Though on earth you are no more;
Loved in life, treasured in death,
A beautiful memory is all that is left.
When days are dark and friends are few,
Dear mother, how we long for you;
Friends are friends when they are true
But we lost our best friend when we lost you.
You have smoothed life's pathway
For our wandering, wayward feet;
And once more your smile will greet us
When in God's good time we meet.

—Very sadly missed by us all. 12ap

IN MEMORIAM

Beware the dangerous days of March

DOCTORS are busy during March. Illness is rampant. Long Winter months lower vitality, blood becomes watery and the body grows susceptible to colds and illness.

March, however, can be made a vigorous, happy month. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a genuine aid to health and stamina. Microscopic tests show a remarkable increase in the blood count after treatment.

This world-renowned remedy, discovered by a Canadian doctor, definitely enriches the blood and ensures more oxygen for the tissues.

Increase your resistance to disease — bring back your strength if run down. Buy a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today. At all druggists and dealers in medicine or by mail, postpaid, at 50 cents, from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ontario. 5-19

Ontario Legislature

With a view of curbing the wholesale chicken thieving now prevalent throughout Ontario the Standing Committee on Agriculture of the Legislature is forwarding a recommendation urging the introduction of legislation designed to cope with the situation. The proposed legislation would embody provisions that would make it necessary for all persons transporting fowl to have a license. In addition it is proposed that they carry records showing where the fowl was purchased and to whom it was sold.

During the sessions of the Committee they were informed that the theft of chickens was reaching serious proportions in Ontario and that some adequate check must be designed. The Department of Agriculture, which has been studying the question for some time, suggests that authority be given police officers to make a search of all trucks carrying poultry and, in addition, that they be given the right to examine the records of the transport company to ascertain where the fowl originated and their destination.

Addressing a deputation of women who recently visited the Parliament Buildings, Hon. George S. Henry, Minister of Highways, assured them that there would be some form of Old Age Pensions operating in Ontario before the end of the year. For some time the Government has been making a survey prior to the introduction of the necessary legislation. This survey, it is stated, is practically complete and a draft form of the law has been drawn up by the law clerks.

Total benefits awarded in February by the Workmen's Compensation Board were $626,149 which included $102,602 for medical aid. These figures are lower than in January when the total benefits were $673,776, including $100,399 for medical aid.

During February there were 6,640 accidents reported to the Board which included 43 fatal cases. Both of these figures are higher than those of January when 6,188 accidents with 37 fatalities were reported.

Following the representations of a deputation which waited on the government this week consideration is being given the suggestion that a 75 foot beacon tower be erected in the Caledon hills as a memorial to the late Sir Adam Beck, the founder of Hydro. Several of the original hydro municipalities, through their representatives, waited on the Cabinet urging that the location was extremely fitting as it overlooked Sir Adam's birthplace. Hon. George S. Henry assured the deputation that their suggestion would receive the serious attention of the government.

Work of the Ontario Department of Forestry in distributing free of charge trees to residents of the province for planting and windbreak purposes is receiving editorial support from many of the Ontario papers. According to the department 14,000,000 trees are available for free distribution this year. Last year nearly 5,000 persons accepted trees from the government.

Each resident of the province can get 4,000 trees each year by paying the express from the nearest forestry station which are situated in Norfolk, Simcoe, Durham, Prince Edward and Grenville Counties. If the trees are called for there is no expense attached.

According to statistics of the department some 431,793 trees were planted in York County last year. Free allotment of trees numbers 4,000 but additional quantities are supplied at $4 per thousand.

During 1928, or for the first time in history, Ontario's mineral production exceeded $100,000,000 in value according to a report of the Ontario Department of Mines. Jump of $11,000,000 in the production of nickel and copper went a long way to establish the record-breaking production figure. Total production for the year was $100,238,923 or an increase of eleven per cent. above production of 1927.

Due to a heavier demand for building material structural minerals showed a rise of more than $500,000, having a total value of $14,688,210. Non-metallic minerals with a total of $7,679,133 were only $30,000 higher than in 1927.

In an effort to check the further spread of silicosis Hon. Dr. Forbes Godfrey, Minister of Health, has introduced in the Legislature a bill to compell all granite workers to wear a mask while engaged in their occupation. In addition the bill, which has received first reading, will provide for the medical examination of all such workers as soon as possible after the bill becomes law. The disease is caused through inhaling stone dust into the lungs. The mask is an invention of Dr. Fred Bulmer of the Ontario Health Department and is operated on an air pressure basis. The mask is light and comfortable and can be worn with ease.

A Perfect Medicine For Little Ones

Baby's Own Tablets Should Be in Every Home Where There Are Children.

The perfect medicine for little ones is found in Baby's Own Tablets. They are a gentle but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach; drive out constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fever and promote healthful and refreshing sleep. It is impossible for Baby's Own Tablets to harm even the new-born babe as they are absolutely guaranteed free from opiates or any other injurious drugs. Concerning them Mrs. Earl Taylor, Owen Sound, Ont., writes:—"I have four children and have always used Baby's Own Tablets. I am never without the Tablets in the house as they are the best medicine that I know of for little ones."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CANADIAN GARDENING SERVICE

Easily Grown Annuals

Even the busy person who cannot afford to potter too much around the flower garden can have a brilliant display of bloom with very little trouble. In choosing his flowers he must make sure that they require little care, not much in the way of special location or soil; that they bloom freely, and last for a long time. They must not be too fussy in the matter of watering because the busy person has no time to spend in nursing them along during the dry weather. With these points in mind, one cannot go wrong in choosing all or some of the following: Snapdragon, Marigolds, Poppies, Annual Larkspurs, Nasturtiums, Scabiosa, Zinnias, Salpiglossis. These are all medium to large-sized plants, with the exception of the Nasturtiums which can be secured either as ordinary or trailing plants. For a hot, sunny and sandy spot, Portulaca will make an excellent flower and will thrive even when neglected. It is a low, spreading sort of plant with a bright flower. Mignonette should possibly be added for fragrance sake. Provided the flowers are kept removed and the weeds kept down early in the season, all these flowers should bloom from the first of July until Autumn, and with the exception of the Poppy and Portulaca all make good clipping material for decoration indoors. They can be planted in clumps or beds, depending on color and size.

Move the Vegetable Garden.

One would not think of growing wheat on the same land year after year, but in too many cases the garden is located in the same spot indefinitely and what is more serious there is little attempt to move the vegetables around from year to year in this garden. In the country there is more chance of moving the vegetable garden from one place to another and if this can be done it is a good plan as then there is no chance of the soil becoming depleted. But even in the smallest garden, it is advisable and possible to rotate the vegetables. One vegetable grown in exactly the same location each year will exhaust the particular fertilizer that that vegetable requires and may also fill the soil full of disease. Then, too, leguminous crops, like beans and peas which actually add fertilizer to the soil, must be moved around so that the whole garden will benefit. Such crops will help to compensate for the heavy feeders like corn, beets and carrots. It will soon be time to think of getting the first vegetables in. Hardy sorts, such as radish, lettuce, spinach, and even carrots, beets and turnips chard, can usually be planted just as soon as the soil is ready for cultivation. Sometimes this may occur for a few days in March or April, although the average date of seeding in most parts of Canada is far later than this. The gardener is not advised to risk his whole vegetable crop on the first seeding, but it is well worth while to put in a few rows of the earliest vegetables just as soon as possible. After all, the investment in time and seeds is negligible while extra early vegetables are worth about ten times as much as those that come in the regular season. To force these as well as the general crop along it is well to apply some quickly available fertilizer, like nitrate of soda, about every two weeks during the early part of the season. The best way to apply this is to dissolve about a tablespoonful in a gallon of water and soak the ground about the plants with a watering can.

Making a Lawn.

It is vitally important to get the soil in proper condition before the grass seed is sown in making a lawn. It is fairly simple matter to make the ground level before the seed is sown, but after that the job is one which requires years of patient work. Make sure that the surface is level. The easiest way to do this is to dig well, preferably of course in the Fall, but it is too late for that now. Clear out everything in the way of stones, sticks and roots, and rake level. Now, let the soil get a chance to settle; the rains will do this and a late frost will help. Rake level again and repeat two or three times. This may take a week or two but it is well worth while. In fact, unless one is in a great hurry it is best to put the space set aside for the lawn in some cultivated crop like potatoes for a season in order to have the earth settle properly. When everything is ready, apply the best seed obtainable. This is another very important point. Lawn seed can be secured at prices which vary widely. Sometimes, the beginner is tempted to purchase the lower-priced article but he will be disappointed when the lawn gets ragged and coarse after the first year. Cheap seeds make a fine showing very early but as they contain a high percentage of coarse grasses, they fade as quickly. Good seed from reputable merchants is cheap insurance. One pound of seed is needed for every 200 sq. feet. Sow during the evening or on a quiet day, roll or pound in thoroughly, and cut with a very sharp mower when the grass is a few inches high.

It is difficult to think of any cases to which the adage, "It's a poor rule that doesn't work both ways," does not apply.

"What? You want me to pay $35 for my room in this hotel?" asked an angry guest of the hotel clerk. "That is outrageous."

"But this is on the American plan; your meals are included in that price," replied the clerk.

"Well, but I didn't eat a meal here."

"Then you owe me $35."

"What for, may I ask?"

"For kissing my wife."

"But I didn't kiss your wife, I tell you."

"Well, that isn't my fault; she was right there for you."

ODESSA W. M. S.

The regular monthly meeting of the Odessa W. M. S. was held at the home of Mrs. W. Lake, on Wednesday, Feb. 27th, with seventy-five in attendance, including twenty-six of our Wilton ladies. The meeting was opened by singing a familiar hymn, after which Mrs. McQuade led in prayer. Miss Aylsworth, the Vice President, then gave the Wilton ladies charge of the remainder of the programme.

Mrs. Babcock, the President, then took charge of the meeting. "The Lord is My Shepherd, I Shall Not Want" was then repeated, followed by Hymn 183, "There is a Green Hill Far Away". Mrs. Babcock led in prayer, after which Miss Gladys Wallace gave us a splendid reading, "Overflowing Envelope". The Misses Eleanor Emberley and Helen Babcock then favored us with an instrumental duett, after which we enjoyed a very fine reading by Mrs. Parrott, "Hidden Springs". We were then favoured with a vocal solo by Mrs. Kenneth Babcock. Miss Helen Babcock told us a story about "Jesus and the Children", which was enjoyed by all, followed by one verse of singing.

Mrs. Earl Perry then gave us the first day's report of the Presbyterial which was held at Trenton. Mrs. Bernard Mills and Mrs. Kenneth Babcock favored us with a vocal duett, "Alone", which was very much appreciated. Mrs. Stinson Carr gave us the report of the second day's Presbyterial. Both of these reports were given in a splendid manner. They were "excellent and made us all feel we were there listening as it had taken place.

The closing hymn was sung, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds", after which Mrs. J. E. Mabee moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Carr for bringing us such a splendid report, and giving us so many good thoughts; also to all taking part in the programme, including the readings, singing and music; and lastly to Mrs. Lake, who so kindly offered her lovely home to make this occasion one of the best.

Mrs. Nelson Smith then seconded the motion of Mrs. Mabee, saying what a good thing it is to get together and to make each one think of the great work there is for each of us to do in the missionary welfare.

Mrs. Lake, the hostess, served a very dainty lunch, assisted by some of the W. M. S. workers. This brought a very pleasant afternoon to a close. Collection for the day amounted to $10.85.

Mr. G. Weston Beach, Managing Director of the Company, summarizes the following information:

THE COMPANY AND ITS BUSINESS

The Company, which is incorporated under the laws of the Province of Ontario, has purchased a modern furniture manufacturing plant in the town of DeBridge, Ontario. The buildings are of solid brick construction and have installed therein a complete and up-to-date manufacturing equipment. The location of the plant is unexcelled for economical production and distribution. The site is connected by siding with the line of the Canadian National Railroad and provides ample space for future expansion requirements. Staple lines of furniture will be manufactured.

ASSETS

Land, Buildings and Equipment have been appraised by Dominion Appraisal Company, Limited, as at January 10th, 1929, at replacement value of $209,328.50. On completion of the present financing the position of the Company, as certified to by Messrs. Fred Page Higgins and Co., Chartered Accountants, of Toronto, will show as follows:

Plant and Equipment, less Reserve for Depreciation of $46,964.22	$162,364.28
Cash on hand	71,000.00
	$233,364.28

Net assets for the Preferred Stock will therefore be equivalent to $155.57 per share, leaving a net surplus of $78,364.28, equivalent to $16.67 per share for the common, and no liabilities.

EARNINGS

Negotiations now in hand provide a volume of business, subject to approval of design and samples, to insure capacity operation. Initial production is placed at $200,000.00 per annum. Based on the past achievements of the management in furniture manufacture, it is conservatively estimated that a net profit of $30,000.00 will be earned during the first year of operation. Increasing proportionately as a larger figure of production is realized in ensuing years. It is expected that the Company's first year's earnings will equal approximately three times the annual preferred dividend, providing not only sinking fund requirements, but making available a substantial surplus for the Common Stock.

MANAGEMENT

The Directors have appointed Mr. G. Weston Beach General Manager of the Company. Mr. Beach is a son of the late M. F. Beach, well-known manufacturer of Iroquois and Winchester, Ontario, and since boyhood has been associated with the extensive business and manufacturing interests founded by his father. For many years the manufacture of furniture by the M. F. Beach Co. Ltd., has been directly under his supervision and management. Recently withdrawing to assume the direction of this Company, Mr. Beach brings with him a most valuable good will with Furniture dealers throughout the Dominion.

A policy of Life Assurance for a substantial amount has been placed on the life of Mr. Beach in favor of the Company.

ATTRACTIVENESS OF INVESTMENT

Of all Canadian industries none is enjoying greater prosperity than that of Furniture Manufacture. Plants are working at capacity and many at overtime to keep pace with demands.

General prosperity throughout the Dominion has created a market readily absorbing all production. The experienced and competent management of this Company, its low operating cost, favorable distributing location, and established marketing connections, make an investment in the shares of Weston Beach Manufactures, Limited, unusually attractive.

We recommend the purchase of these shares and offer them for delivery, if, as, and when issued and received by us and subject to the approval of our counsel, Mr. J. M. Burden, as to legal details.

Price $100.00

and accrued interest yielding 7%

carrying bonus of 1 share Common Stock with each preference share.

The by-laws of the Company provide that after the payment of the dividends on the preferred shares, and before any dividends are declared or paid on the Common Shares there shall be set aside annually a sum of not less than 15% of remaining net profits, which may be used or invested as from time to time directed by Board of Directors, and upon annual transfer shall be considered applicable to payment of such reserve account, shall always an amount equal to one full year's dividend on the outstanding preference shares.

BATH WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The March meeting of Bath Women's Institute was held at Mrs. C. Young's home. The roll call was answered by "Our Favourite Author and Why." Nine members and several visitors were present.

The minutes of last meeting were read and adopted. A letter from our Sewing instructor was read, and all were pleased to know that a course in sewing will be held in Bath Library, beginning Monday, April 1st, at 2 p.m. Everybody is welcome, and for further details see the announcements in the Library. Arrangements for our St. Patrick's Party were completed.

We were all pleased to hear that our member, Mrs. Creighton, is improving, and trust she will soon be well. Mrs. Galt gave a splendid review of the current events. A paper on "Canadian Authors and Their Message", was read by Mrs. Geo. Symington, which many interesting facts were derived.

Our hostess served lunch, collection was taken, and the meeting closed after singing the National Anthem.

The next meeting is Monday, April 8th, in the Library, at 1 p.m.

TOURISTS SPEND $103,000,000 IN ONTARIO

The value of tourist traffic to the province of Ontario for the year 1928 was placed at $103,000,000, a sum which represents an increase of 25 per cent over the figures for 1927. This became known for the first time recently when a report on tourist trade statistics was compiled and made public by Leon Fraser, secretary of the Oshawa Chamber of Commerce, and former Secretary of the Tourist Association of Ontario who has arranged the report for the Provincial Government.

In the year 1928 a total of 11,144,792 tourists visited Ontario, or four times the population of the Province. Of these 9,115,128 came by way of automobile transportation, and 2,029,664 by train, busses or boat. It was stated in the report that automobilists were estimated to have left $53,000,000 in Ontario during the year, while the others did Business to the value of $50,000,000.

Cantata in St. Andrew's Church
At St. Andrew's United Church, on Sunday evening next, March 24th, the Choir will render the Sacred Cantata "From Cross to Crown". The cantata takes about forty minutes, and is an attempt to portray in music the experience of our Lord during his last week on earth. The solo parts will be taken by Mrs. Eppett, Soprano; Miss Cassan, Soprano; Miss Kane, Contralto; Mr. Caldwell, Tenor. In addition Mr. Caldwell and Mrs. Valeman will sing as a duett, "The Hill of Calvary", and Mrs. Eppett will render "The Man of Sorrows", as a soprano solo. The whole service will be given over to music.

Napanee Chosen for Next Fair.
The Quinte Seed Fair was brought to a close on Saturday in Belleville, after the most successful three days in its short history. R. G. Crawford, of the Dominion Entomological Department, gave an address to the participants on Saturday morning, which was eagerly listened to by nearly a hundred farmers of the district. The Seed Fair next year will be held in Napanee. This was decided at a meeting held in the Armouries on Friday afternoon. A delegation from Napanee, including the Mayor, the President of the Rotary Club, the Secretary of the Agricultural Society, and several others, were present to issue the invitation.

Concert Programme.
Songs by Mr. Jack Caldwell, with Mr. Kendal at the piano; our own beloved "O Canada," "The Maple Leaf," "The Home Road," etc., sung by that chorus of fresh young voices, The Collegiate Glee Club; most enjoyable selections by the Collegiate Orchestra; with Rev. Mr. Wrodger as chairman of the evening, alone make up an attractive programme. Add to this the clever anecdotes, inspiring and instructive readings by Walter McHaffy, the eminent Canadian Entertainer, and you have a programme to interest and satisfy the most exacting taste. Proceeds for Free Dental Clinic. Town Hall, Friday evening, March 22nd, 8 o'clock. Admission, 35c. 12a

FATHER AND SON BANQUET IN GRACE CHURCH

On Wednesday evening last, the fathers and sons of Grace United Church assembled in the Sunday School rooms, to the number of over one hundred and fifty, for a Father and Son banquet. A very fine dinner was served by the Woman's Association of the church. During the first part of the meal, and as the guests were assembling, the Sunday School Orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. B. M. Black, furnished cheering and lively music. After the inner man was thoroughly satisfied, Mr. W. E. Vine assumed the position of toastmaster. Mr. Don. Scott was called on to lead in community singing, and received rousing support. Then every father was asked to introduce himself and his son to the gathering. A toast to the Sons was proposed by Mr. Stewart Shetler, and responded to by Roland Stalker. This was followed by solos by Mr. Reginald Wiseman. Next a toast to the Fathers was proposed by Gilbert Seymour, and response made by Mr. Chas. Stevens. Then a quartet composed of Messrs. C. A. and Reg. Wiseman, Bert Seymour and B. M. Black, was heard in a favorite number. These musical items were all accompanied by Mrs. B. M. Black at the piano. The final toast was to the Christian Church, with special reference to its work amongst men and boys. This was introduced by Rev. W. P. Woodger at the request of the Toastmaster, who called on Mr. Ernest Gibbard to propose it, and the guest speaker, Mr. Elmer Davis, of Kingston, to respond. Mr. Davis in his address, spoke of the place such social gatherings ought to have in the life of the church, and of the necessity for a well-rounded character amongst the men of the church, and also of the real place of the church in the life of the world. Mr. Bert Seymour then rendered a solo, which was followed by short addresses by Mr. Jas. Stalker, Superintendent of the Sunday School, and Mr. R. B. Allen, a veteran in the church. A vote of thanks was then proposed by Mr. C. N. Loucks, and seconded by Mr. F. B. Elliotts, to the ladies, the speaker of the evening and the other speakers, and to the musicians, and the Social Committee for the unqualified success of the banquet. With the singing of the National Anthem a very enthusiastic and helpful and encouraging event was concluded.

Basketball.

Great excitement reigned on Friday evening when the finals between the Athenians and the Spartans were played in the gymnasium. Each society had its chief leaders, and yells were the order of the night. In the games the Athenians were completely victorious, and won both the girls' and the boys' game easily. In the girls' game, the Athenians won by a score of 30-10, due to the superiority of combination and shooting. The boys' game was one-sided, owing to the fact that the Athenian team was largely the school senior team. The score at the finish was 22-10 for the Athenians. After the games both societies forget their rivalry for a couple of hours, and enjoyed themselves by dancing, although the dances were interrupted frequently by lusty yells.

OBITUARY.

Miss Catherine McGuire.

A very sad death occurred Thursday, March 7th, at the home of James McGuire, Strathcona, in the person of Miss Cathering McGuire, succumbed to a heart attack.

Deceased was enjoying her usual health, and her death came as a shock to her many friends, as her illness was only of a few hours' duration. She was known and respected for her gentle disposition and kindness, and her death is deeply regretted by all who knew her.

Solemn Requiem High Mass was sung by Rev. Father Mea at St. Anthony's Church, Centreville. The pall bearers were her six nephews.

She is survived by three sisters, Mrs. E. Cavanaugh, Wallstown; Mrs. M. Lawlor, Centreville; Mrs. W. B. Dunn, Terrace, and one brother, James McGuire, Strathcona.

The many spiritual and floral offerings bear testimony of the esteem in which the deceased was held.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to the land owners of South Fredericksburgh that the Weed Act is to be more rigidly enforced during 1929.

Farmers, therefore, are advised to exercise greater care in preparing the seed-bed, and to sow only clean seed.

Badly infested fields should not be sown to spring grains, but should be thoroughly worked the early part of the season and later sown to buckwheat, rape or a hoe crop; or in extreme cases, summer fallowed and worked throughout the season.

If these precautions are not taken, the Inspector may exercise his authority and have the menace removed before the weeds mature.

FRED SILLS,
Inspector.

THE RECALL

P. Hoole Jackson.
In Manchester Guardian.

I hadn't been "up" since 1918, and only once or twice then for joy trips with men who had shared dugouts with me before the lure of the air and the smartest uniform in the army drew them from my side in the Flanders mud. I envied them for a time; they had escaped that nasty-like life which was so unmartial, so foul and commonplace, to which I seemed doomed for ever. I often watched the planes going over into the pale blue sky, when the gold of the rising sun just glinted on their wings and made them flash like magnificent birds, the hum of the engines coming down to us in the trenches like a fighting song, though often enough it was a swan-song which they sang. Sometimes I saw them brought down, falling like flaming meteors; but death must have been mercifully swift, and it was crowned by a true Viking funeral—better than choking slowly in the slimy ooze of the line. Of those who left me only Rogers remained when the Armistice came, and he had been brought down, though not in flames.

Rogers Loses His Memory.

His memory had gone when they found him wandering about just behind our line. His eyes were pale and almost expressionless, seeming to give his face the appearance of being only a mask . . . with nothing behind. The doctors gave him up one by one—then one day I heard a psychologist friend talking about places and memory, and I drew him on to me and garnered all the knowledge I could. "I wouldn't build on it, Billy," he said when I had told him all, "but it might . . . you could try."

It took three months to arrange it all. But time went fast, for I had to make all the arrangements, besides persuading Rogers' relatives that it couldn't do any harm. Then we crossed the water and crawled up to the aerodrome on one of those slow trains which dawdle over the branch line of France.

The day was clear and crisp; the huts dotted round reminded me of days when huts in clusters meant decent quarters for a day or so. But Rogers took it without any sign in his pale face; even when we clambered in he had to be treated like a child, and then the engine roared and we were off.

Dots swaying under us were the huts, woods, and villages spread out as if by a map, and the roar of wind rushing by was like a memory of something from my past. Below us to the east gleamed the roofs of Cambrai, right and left stretched the hills along which our line had run in the days when to have walked in the open there meant death. We rose higher and higher; the pilot had his orders and we were nearing the place. Up into the sky we rushed, the cold numbing my brain; then we flattened, swooped, and swerved, and I saw that we were above where Havrincourt village used to be.

Drastic Treatment.

I have no clear recollection of the next few moments. We began to dive downwards, and then, without warning, the pilot imitated the falling leaf, stalled, sky, woods, everything seemed mixed up, whirling about us, my mind lost consciousness. I think that I cried out, but even of that I am not sure. The earth rushed nearer, sometimes appearing to be above us; but the sensation was over before my frightened senses had time to adjust themselves. We flattened out, missed a wood by what seemed feet, slid down a slope, and bumped and ratjed over a field which looked smooth but couldn't have been, to an undignified standstill in the farther ditch.

Rogers was out before either the pilot or myself, running for his life, half crouched up and dodging like a hare as he ran. He dived from our sight as we followed, almost falling over him in the remains of an old trench.

"Quick! This way," he called running toward a traverse, the sandbags of which were pale and rotten with age, but still holding together. We found him crouched in an old shelter, lighting a cigarette.

Old Scenes Restore Memory.

"Near go, that," he said. "I expected a bullet 'round my ears any minute. . . . Why . . . Billy . . . what luck . . . didn't know you were in this part of the line."

It was night when we left the dugout. It was hours before we dare break the thread of his words. We had supped food and drink in the plane, and we picnicked just as we had done so long before. Slowly we managed to bring home to him what had happened. Only when we walked out to the plane did the full realisation of it all dawn fully on his mind. A peasant was working in the field. I think the sight of him did more than anything to keep Rogers sane.

"I never thought I should see that again here," he said to me as we clambered into the machine. We slipped home under the stars, for sunset had flamed as we started the old bus. It was a wonderful journey for us . . . what it must have been for him I cannot imagine, rather like entering paradise after a spell in purgatory.

When we clambered out I thanked the pilot. "That falling-leaf stunt did the trick," I said. "It must have twisted his mind back to the fall . . . jolly smart of you to think of it."

Falling Leaf and Fading Flower.

For a moment he looked at me with uncomprehending eyes. Then he laughed, curiously, memorably. "Falling leaf," he said, "falling leaf. . . . D'ye mean to say you didn't know I'd lost control . . . it was only the luck of the engine starting again that saved us . . . what it must have been for him I cannot imagine, rather like entering paradise after a spell in purgatory.

It may have been fate playing a lone hand, it may have been luck, but the light in Rogers' eyes was restored. We didn't discuss it again, and we never told him; the shock might have been too much. As we entered the warm

ODESSA

Last Friday night the second of the series of euchre parties given by the Women's Institute, in the public reading room of the Library, was held, and it was a very enjoyable evening. The lunch prepared was very delicious and reflected great credit for the ladies who provided. The prizes donated by Mrs. Cunningham for ladies, and Mrs. Nelson Smith for gentlemen, were won by Mrs. Sidney Sproule and W. E. Topliff. The prizes for the first euchre party were donated by Mrs. J. L. Swift and D. O. Prink. The next euchre party to be held by the Library Board in the Library reading room, will be held on Easter Monday, April 1st. There are fifteen tables, and the Board hopes that all may be filled, as they are badly in need of money to carry on the good work. Then in the near future they are anticipating an "At Home", which will be held in the Town Hall. All are welcome, and remember the delightful evening, a chance to win a prize, and a very fine lunch, all for 25c. — The Continuation School staged their popular play, "Polly Wants a Cracker", in Newburgh, last Friday night. The Ladies' Aid Society met at the home of Mrs. William Frink, last Wednesday, for a social evening, and had a large attendance.—The annual cheese meeting was held in the Town Hall last Wednesday afternoon, and the patrons were well represented.—Miss Fern Sproule is visiting friends in Cobourg.—Mr. Anson Hughes, who has been living for some time in Newburgh, has returned to his home here. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes will be welcomed by their many friends.

BATH

The play put on in the Masonic Hall, on Friday evening, March 22nd, entitled "He's My Pal", under the auspices of the Young People's Society of the United Church, was a decided success.—Mrs. J. A. Tompkins and Mrs. Joseph Milligan are both seriously ill.—An interesting event took place a couple of miles east of the village, in the person of Mrs. James Young, died at the House of Providence, Kingston, last Sunday evening, to which she had been removed when her home was destroyed by fire. Her many friends of Mr. Arthur Finley, of Collins Bay, were sorry to learn of his death. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge here.—All regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Harvey Amey, in Kingston, on Wednesday last. She was well known here.—Mrs. L. Kellar, of Links Mills, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Mott.—Miss Margaret Rose left yesterday for Wellington, where she will spend a few days.—Mrs. Meggs, of Boston, Mass., and Mrs. Earl Walmsley, of Detroit, were recent visitors at Mrs. J. C. Creighton's.—The supper held in Osborne's Ice Cream Parlor, on March 16th, under the auspices of the United Church Ladies' Aid, was a decided success.—The Women's Institute held a St. Patrick's Day party in the Masonic Hall, on March 18th, which was largely attended.—Mr. H. D. Wemp, of Kingston, was home over the week end.

DEMONSTRATION CLASS IN THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

"A needle thin it be small and slender,
Is truly both a maker and a mender,
A needle is an instrument
Of profit, pleasure and ornament."

The Napanee Branch of Women's Institutes has been enjoying for the past week the most successful demonstration course ever held in that district under the able leadership of Miss M. V. Powell, of Whitby, Ont., a departmental demonstrator.

Miss Powell on Monday asked her class to read the 36th chapter of Exodus and found there what is needed to get the best results from the stitchery, namely wise hearted workers, knowledge and understanding, purpose or use, material in fabric, pattern, or design, colors and stitchery.

"They who bring sunshine to others Cannot keep it from themselves".

Miss Powell not only taught beautiful stitching, planning of work in colors, suitability, fitness of purpose, pattern and design, but brought out the beauty in so called common things and the power to express our love of the artistic. She wove into these practical things of life the beautiful thoughts of a poet and the love of expression by the color of a master painter. Her talk on the origin and beauty of color, its usefulness in expressing our own individuality and what can be found in the face of a flower and how to get the effect intended by the artist, and the value of old tapestry, will not be forgot by those fortunate enough to hear it.

Each day the class carried away new thoughts on character building worth the effort expended on the whole week's course.

The class closed on Friday with a very fitting vote of thanks moved by Mrs. Shore Lavery, who voiced the appreciation of the class for the splendid week that had been passed with Miss Powell, seconded by Mrs. T. W. Anderson.

Then Mrs. R. S. Ham, President of the Branch, in a few appropriate words, presented Miss Powell with a gift from the class as a tangible remembrance, to which Miss Powell answered, expressing her pleasure in being with the Napanee Class.

atmosphere of the canteen the man whose mind had returned linked arms with us.

"Do they still mix whiskies and sodas?" he asked.

They do . . . and they did.

NEWBURGH

Mr. and Mrs. George Stone entertained on the evening of March 19th, in honor of the birthdays of Mrs. Byron Holden and little George Herbert Stone. Fifteen sat down to the attractive tea table, which was presided over by Mrs. Stone. All enjoyed the few hours of entertainment provided by the host and hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Storring, of Sydenham, were guests with Mrs. Files over Sunday.

Examinations in all the classes of the High School are being conducted this week.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Percy Gerow on the gift of twin daughters.

Rev. T. H. P. Anderson visited the Public School on Friday and addressed the L. T. Legion.

The Wesley Mission Circle visited the parsonage on Thursday evening last. Although the storm prevented many from attending, those who were present however had an enjoyable evening.

Messrs. G. Wagar and L. Fox are busy making improvements in the S. S. room of the United Church and redecorating it.

On Wednesday, April 3rd, the W. M. S. will hold their Easter Thankoffering service in the United Church. Mrs. Wesley Wagar, of Centreville, will give the address.

Plans are under way for the Y. P. L. Father and Son, Mother and Daughter banquet, to be held April 9th.

Mrs. D. Vandervoort was called to Kingston recently to attend the funeral of her niece.

Mr. and Mrs. Garrett, of Toronto, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Denison, a few days last week, motoring down from the city.

Mrs. Hazen Ramsay has been holidaying at Madoc, visiting her sister, Miss Leah Ramsay.

Mrs. Allen, of Odessa, spent part of last week with Mrs. George Wartman.

Miss Maude Wagar, nurse-in-training at Kingston General Hospital, was with her parents on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Wartman attended a birthday party at Mrs. Bruce Finlay's on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Clarence Anderson, of Napanee, spent a few days with her aunt, Mrs. Farley.

Mrs. W. A. Ramsay is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Arnold, at Roblin.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Farley were callers on the latter's father, Mr. James Farley, on Sunday.

Mrs. Allen, of Odessa, visited friends in the village during the week.

Mr. Robert Tait, an aged resident, passed away at the General Hospital after a lingering illness. The remains were brought to Newburgh and after funeral conducted by the Rev. T. H. P. Anderson, of the United Church. He leaves to mourn his loss his aged widow, who is ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Carter.

Mrs. S. Shorey reached her eighty-seventh birthday on March 16th and was kindly remembered by her relatives and friends, many of whom sent flowers, while cards and letters were numerous. Mrs. Shorey enjoys good health and is one of the older residents of Newburgh. Many friends wish her continued health and happiness.

The service in the Free Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon was largely attended and a number of members of the church. Service will be held in the church on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Miss Dunwoody, of Ebenezer, was a recent guest with Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Dunwoody.

Mrs. Fred Wales, of Switzerville, called on his father, Mr. James Wales, on Saturday.

Mrs. Russel Craig called on her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wales, on Friday.

Mrs. Stone has started serving ice cream for the season.

Mrs. R. Nugent spent part of last week with her sister, Mrs. Baker.

Mrs. Gunter, of Politerville, is visiting her sister, Mrs. M. Vandervoort.

Mr. James Cameron, of Michigan, has arrived in Newburgh to stay for a while with his brother, Mr. John Cameron, and his sister, Miss E. Cameron.

Mrs. Joseph Tate, of Selby; Mrs. R. Bell, of Desmond, and Mrs. J. S. Galbraith, of Napanee, were recent visitors at the home of the late Robert Tate.

Mrs. Joseph Paul visited for a few days with Mrs. W. Allen, Yarker.

Miss Laura King, of Tweed, is spending her holidays at her home here.

Mrs. McGill has returned to Centreville, after a visit with her daughter, Mrs. F. Gerow.

Mrs. J. Warman and Mrs. G. Wagar were recent visitors at Enterprise.

Miss Edmere King is spending some time in Napanee.

Mr. and Mrs. Anson Hughes have moved to Odessa, where they will reside. Mrs. Hughes was formerly Mrs. Boyce, and has resided in Newburgh for a number of years. Her many friends and neighbors wish her many years of happiness in her new home.

The Young Peoples' Society of the United Church motored to Yarker on Monday evening, having been invited by the Yarker Society to enjoy a basket party with them. A short programme followed, in which Newburgh talent assisted. The Rev. Mr. McKenzie, of Yarker, and Rev. Mr. Anderson, of Newburgh, were present and assisted in making the evening a profitable and enjoyable one. The young people of Newburgh speak highly of the welcome accorded them at Yarker, and hope to have the pleasure of a return visit from the Yarker Society.

TAMWORTH

The village was glad to be wakened by the Hunter Factory whistle last Tuesday morning. Mr. Wallace has re-opened the factory and reports a good supply of cream to begin with.—Mr. Quinn is employed as butter-maker for the season.—Mrs. J. E. Huffman, Mistress of the L.O.B.A. here; Mrs. Stan Haggerty, County Master; Mr. Clarence Lochhead, delegate from R.B.P., Centreville, and Mr. Fred Parks, Master of L.O.I. here, all attended Grand Lodge last week at Carleton Place, Ont.—What proved to be a serious accident occurred here on Monday afternoon when Mrs. Wm. Brown fell and broke her hip. Dr. O'Connor was called at once and set the broken bone. Mrs. Brown has the sympathy of the whole community, as she is a very old and respected citizen. — We are sorry to know that Mr. John Finn is seriously ill with pleuro pneumonia.—Orval Richmond has hired with Mr. Finley Bell as cheesemaker for the season.—On Easter Sunday the United Church service will be held in Tamworth at 11 a.m.—An interesting Easter programme, including a play, is being prepared for Good Friday night by the United Church W. NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to the land owners of South Fredericksburgh that the Weed Act is to be more rigidly enforced during 1929.

Farmers, therefore, are advised to exercise greater care in preparing the seed-bed, and to sow only clean seed.

Badly infested fields should not be sown to Spring grains, but should be thoroughly worked the early part of the season and later sown to buckwheat, rape or a hoe crop; or in extreme cases, summer fallowed and worked throughout the season.

If these precautions are not taken, the Inspector may exercise his authority and have the menace removed before the weeds mature.

FRED SILLS,
13c Inspector.

THE RECALL

P. Hoole Jackson.
In Manchester Guardian.

I hadn't been "up" since 1918, and only once or twice then, on my trips with men who had shared dugouts with me before the lure of the air and the smartest uniform in the army took them from my side in the Flanders mud. I envied them for a time; they had escaped a nasty-like life which was so unmartial, so foul and commonplace, to which I seemed doomed for ever. I often wished I had been killed going over in the pale blue sky, when the gold of the rising sun just glinted on their wings and made them flash like magnificent birds, the hum of the engines coming down to us in the trenches like a fighting song, though often enough it was a swan-song which they sang. Sometimes I saw them brought down, falling like flaming meteors, but death must have been mercifully swift, and it was crowned by a true Viking funeral—better than going over in the slimy ooze of the line. Of those who left me only Rogers remained when the Armistice came, and he had been brought down, though not in flames.

Rogers Loses His Memory.

His memory had gone when they found him wandering about just behind our line. His eyes were pale and almost expressionless, seeming to give no hint of the apprehension of being only a mask with nothing behind. The doctors gave him up one by one—hopeless case. Then one day I heard a psychologist friend talking about places and memory, and I drew him on one side and garnered all the knowledge I could. "I wouldn't build on it, Billy," he said when I had told him all, "but it might . . . you could try."

It took three months to arrange it all. But time went fast, for I had to make all the arrangements, besides persuading Rogers' relatives that it couldn't do any harm. Then we crossed the water and crawled up to the aerodrome on one of those slow trains which dawdle over the branch lines of France.

The day was clear and crisp; the huts dotted round reminded me of days when huts in clusters meant decent quarters for a day or so. But Rogers took it without sign in his pallid eyes; even when we clambered in he had to be treated like a child, and then the engine roared and we were off.

Dots swaying under us were the huts, higher and higher spread out as if by magic, and the roar of wind rushing by was like a memory of something forgotten. Below us to the east gleamed the roofs of Cambrai, right and left stretched the hills along which our line had run in the days when to have walked in the open there meant death. We rose higher and higher still, and his orders and we were nearing the place. Up into the sky we rushed, the cold numbing my brain; then we flattened, seemed to hang over, whirling about us, my mind lost consciousness, I think that I cried out, but even of that I am not sure. The earth rushed nearer, sometimes appearing to be above us; but the sensation was over before my frightened senses had time to adjust themselves. We flattened out, missed a wood by what seemed feet, slid down a slope, and bumped and rattled over a field which looked smooth but couldn't have been, to an undignified standstill in the farther ditch.

Rogers was out before either the pilot or myself, running for his life, half doubled up and dodging like a hare as he ran. He dived from our sight as we followed, almost falling over him in the remains of an old trench.

"Quick! This way," he called, running round a traverse, the sandbags of which were pale and rotten with age, but still holding together. We found him protected in an old shelter, lighting a cigarette.

Old Scenes Restore Memory.

"Near go, that," he said. "I expected a bullet round my ears any minute. . . . Why . . . Billy . . . what luck . . . didn't know you were in this part of the line."

It was night when we left the dugout. It was hours before we dare break the silence of his words. We had brought food and drink in the plane, and we picnicked just as we had done so long before. Slowly we managed to bring home to him what had happened. Only when we walked out to the plane did the full realisation of it all come fully to his mind. A peasant was working in the field. I think the sight of him did more than anything to keep Rogers sane.

"I never thought I should see that again here," he said to me as we climbed into the machine. We slipped home under the stars, for sunset had flamed as we started the old bus. It was a wonderful journey for me . . . what it must have been for him I cannot imagine, rather like entering paradise after a spell in purgatory.

When we clambered out I thanked the pilot. "That falling-leaf stunt did the trick," I said. "It must have twisted his mind back to the fall . . . jolly smart of you to think of it."

Falling Leaf and Fading Flower.

For a moment he looked at me with uncomprehending eyes. Then he laughed, curiously, memorably. "Falling leaf," he said, "falling leaf. D'ye mean to say you didn't know I'd lost control . . . it was only the luck of the engine starting again that saved us."

It may have been fate playing a lone hand, it may have been luck, but the light in Rogers' eyes was restored. We didn't discuss it again, and we never told him; the shock might have been too much. As we entered the warm atmosphere of the canteen the man whose mind had returned linked arms with us.

"Do they still mix whiskies and sodas?" he asked.

They do . . . and they did.

ODESSA

Last Friday night the second of the series of euchre parties given by the Women's Institute, in the public reading room of the Library, was held, and it was a very enjoyable evening. The lunch prepared was very delicious and reflected great credit for the ladies who provided. The prizes donated by Mrs. Cunningham for ladies and Mrs. Nelson Smith for gentlemen, were won by Mrs. Sidney Sproule and W. E. Topliff. The prizes for the first January euchre party were donated by Mrs. J. L. Swift and D. O. Frink. The next euchre party to be held by the Library Board in the Library reading room, will be held on Easter Monday, April 1st. There are fifteen tables, and the Board hopes that all may be filled, as they are badly in need of money to carry on the good work. Then in the near future they are anticipating an "At Home", which will be held in the Town Hall. All are welcome, and remember the delightful evening, a chance to win a prize, and a very fine lunch, all for 25c. — The Continuation School staged their popular play, "Polly Wants a Cracker", in Newburgh, last Friday night. — The Ladies' Aid Society met at the home of Mrs. William Frink, last Wednesday, for a social afternoon and had a large attendance.—The annual chese meeting was held in the Town Hall last Wednesday afternoon and many patrons were well represented.—Miss Fern Sproule is visiting friends in Cobourg.—Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, who has been living for some time in Newburgh, has returned to his home here. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes will be welcomed by their many friends.

Wallace's Cow Pox Ointment, containing Eucalyptol Ammoniated Mercury, Sublimed Sulphur, etc., is splendid for cow pox, sore teats, and caked bag. A full ½-lb. tin 60c. at Wallace's Drug Store.

BATH

The play put on in the Masonic Hall, on Friday evening, March 22nd, entitled "He's My Pal", under the auspices of the Young People's Society of the United Church, was a decided success.—Mrs. J. A. Tompkins and Mrs. Joseph Milligan are both seriously ill.—An elderly resident re-siding a couple of miles east of the village, in the person of Mrs. James Young, died at the House of Providence, Kingston, last Sunday evening, to which she had been removed when her home was destroyed by fire, recently. — The many friends of Mr. Arthur Finley, of Collins Bay, were sorry to learn of his death. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge here.—All regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Harvey Amey, in Kingston, as she was well known here.—Mrs. L. Kellar, of Links Mills, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Mott.—Mrs. Margaret Rose left yesterday for Wellington, where she will spend a few days.—Mrs. Meagher, of Hamilton, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Walmsley, of Detroit, were recent visitors at Mrs. J. C. Creighton's.—The supper held in Osborne's Ice Cream Parlor, on March 16th, under the auspices of the United Church Ladies' Aid, was a decided success.—The Women's Institute held a St. Patrick's Day party in the Masonic Hall, on March 18th, which was very successful.—Mr. H. D. Wemp, of Kingston, was home over the week end.

DEMONSTRATION CLASS IN THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

"A needle tho it be small and slender,
Is truly both a maker and a mender.
A needle is an instrument
Of profit, pleasure and ornament."

The Napanee District of Women's Institutes has been enjoying for the past week the most successful demonstration course ever held in Napanee, under the able leadership of Miss M. V. Powell, of Whitby, Ont., a departmental demonstrator. Miss Powell, on Monday, asked her class to read the 36th chapter of Exodus and found there what is needed to get the best results from fine stitchery, namely wise hearted workers, knowledge and understanding, gumption or use matter-of-fact fabric, pattern, or design, colors and stitchery.

"They who bring sunshine to others Cannot keep it them from themselves"

Miss Powell not only taught beautiful stitching, planning of work in colors, suitability, fitness of purpose, pattern and design, but brought out the beauty in so called common things and the power to express our love of the aesthetic She wove into these practical things of life the beautiful thoughts of a poet and the love with expression by the color of a master painter. Her talk on the origin and beauty of color, its usefulness in expressing our own individual thoughts, what can be found in the face of a flower and how to use the effect so lended by the designer on a beautiful old tapestry, will not be forgot by those fortunate enough to hear it.

Each day the class carried away new thoughts on character building worth the effort expended on the whole week's course.

The class closed on Friday with a very fitting vote of thanks moved by Mrs. Shore Leyrea, who expressed the appreciation of the class for the splendid week that had been passed with Miss Powell, seconded by Mrs. T. V. Anderson.

Then Mrs. R. S. Ham, President of the Branch, in a few well chosen words, presented Miss Powell with a gift from the class as a tangible remembrance, to which Miss Powell answered, expressing her pleasure in being with the Napanee Class.

NEWBURGH

Mr. and Mrs. George Stone entertained on the evening of March 17th, it being the birthdays of Mr. Byron Holden and little George Herbert Stone. Fifteen sat down to the festive tea table, which was presided over by Mrs. Stone. All enjoyed the few hours of entertainment provided by the host and hostess.

Miss Marion Storey spent a few days with her cousin, Mrs. Jaynes, near Napanee.

Mr. Wilfred Gannon Sundayed in Kingston and reports roads bad in places.

Mr. Robert Hurd spent Sunday with Miss Verna Keller.

Mrs. W. Milligan is missed from her place in the grocery of R. Ross and Dougan. She had the misfortune to cut her hand and is in the care of Dr. Huxtable. We hope for a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Harry VanLuven, of Sydenham, called on his cousin, Mrs. Mary Vandewater, on Friday.

Mrs. W. Adams paid a business trip to Point Anne during last week.

Mr. William Pringle was a visitor to Burgh with Mr. Adams on Friday and spent a few days with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards, of Sydenham, were guests with Mrs. Piles over Sunday.

Examinations in all the classes of the High School are being conducted this week.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Percy Gerow on the gift of twin daughters.

Rev. T. H. P. Anderson visited the Public School on Friday and addressed the L. T. Legion.

The Wesley Mission Circle visited parsonage on Thursday evening last. Although the storm prevented many from attending, those who were present however had an enjoyable evening.

Messrs. G. Wagar and L. Fox are busy making improvements in the S. S. room of the United Church and redecorating it.

On Wednesday, April 3rd, the W. M. S. will hold their Easter Thankoffering service in the United Church. Everybody welcome.

Mrs. Helen Ramsay has been holidaying at Madoc, visiting her sister, Mrs. Leah Ramsay, evening.

Miss Revelle, of Odessa, spent part of last week with Mrs. George Wartman.

Miss Maude Wagar, nurse-in-training at Kingston General Hospital, was with her parents on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Wartman attended a birthday party at Mrs. Bruce Finlay's on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Clarence Denison, of Napanee, spent a few days with her aunt, Mrs. Farley.

Mrs. W. A. Ramsay is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Arnold, at Roblin.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Farley were callers on the latter's father, Mr. James Farley, on Sunday.

Mrs. Allen, of Odessa, visited friends in the village during the week.

Mrs. Ralph Wagar, an aged resident, passed away at the General Hospital after a lingering illness. The remains were brought to Newburgh and the funeral conducted by the Rev. T. H. P. Anderson, of the United Church. He leaves to mourn his loss his aged widow, who is ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Carter.

Mrs. S. Ray reached her eighty-seventh birthday on March 16th and was kindly remembered by her relatives and friends, many of whom sent flowers, while cards and letters were numerous. Mrs. Shorey enjoys good health and is one of the older residents of Newburgh. Many friends wish her continued health and happiness.

The service in the Free Methodist Church, on Sunday afternoon was largely attended and a number of members received into the church. Service will be held in the church on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Miss Dunwoody, of Ebenezer, was a recent guest with Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Dunwoody.

Mr. Fred Wales, of Switzerville, called on his father, Mr. James Wales, on Saturday.

Mrs. Russel Craig called on her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wales, on Friday.

Miss Grace King spent part of Sunday with Mrs. J. S. Yeomans.

Mrs. Stone has started serving ice cream for the season.

Mrs. R. Nugent spent part of last week with her sister, Mrs. Baker.

Mrs. Gunter, of Politerville, is visiting her sister, Mrs. M. Vandervoort.

Mr. James Cameron, of Michigan, has arrived in Newburgh to stay (for a while with his brother, Mr. John Cameron, and his sister, Miss E. Cameron.

Mr. Joseph Tate, of Selby; Mrs. R. Bell, of Desmond, and Mrs. J. Bell, of Bridge, of British Columbia, attended the funeral of the late Robert Tate.

Mrs. Joseph Paul visited for a few days with Mrs. W. Allen, Yarker.

Miss Laura King, of Tweed, is spending her holidays at her home here.

Mrs. McGill has returned to Centreville, after a visit with her daughter, Mrs. F. Gerow.

Mrs. J. Wartman and Mrs. G. Wagar were recent visitors at Enterprise.

Miss Edmere King is spending some time in Napanee.

Mr. and Mrs. Anson Hughes have moved to Odessa, where they have purchased a home. Mrs. Hughes was formerly Mrs. E. Boyce, and has resided in Newburgh for a number of years. Many friends and neighbors wish her many years of happiness in her new home.

The Young Peoples' Society of the United Church motored to Yarker on Monday evening, having been invited by the Yarker Society to enjoy a banquet with them. A short programme followed, in which Newburgh talent assisted. The Rev. Mr. McKenzie, of Yarker, and Rev. Mr. Anderson, of Newburgh, were present and assisted in making the evening a profitable and enjoyable one. The young people of Newburgh speak highly of the welcome accorded them at Yarker, and hope to have the pleasure of a return visit from the Yarker Society.

TAMWORTH

The village was glad to be wakened by the Butter Factory whistle last Tuesday morning. Mr. Wallace has re-opened the factory and reports a good supply of cream to begin with. Mr. Quinn is employed as butter-maker for the season.—Mrs. J. E. Huffman, Minstrel of the L.O.B.A. here; Mrs. Stan Haggerty, County Master; Mr. Clarence Lochhead, delegate from R.B.P., on Tuesday and Mr. Fred.
